Weapon 207

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON—The Army has a new nuclear tactical weapon in development for its atomic battlefield arsenal, it was learned Saturday.

Still wrapped tightly in official secrecy, the weapon carries only the designation "207."

For expert's report on feasibility of nuclear weapons in Viet Nam, see Page A-3.

A brief reference to "207" was made in a recently published document, but Army spokesmen declined to disclose any details.

The document indicates the weapon is intended for use by Army divisions.

Like other artillery, rocket and missile weapons of the Army, it presumably will be able to use either conventional or nuclear warheads.

At least two of these dual-purpose weapons—the 8-inch and 155 mm howitzers—now are used by Army and Marine forces in Viet Nam, although only with conventional explosive loads. They can be adapted quickly for atomic warheads if the need arises.

In addition to the two howitzers, the Army atomic arsenal includes three relatively short-range (up to about 10 or 12 miles) rockets—the Little John, Honest John and Davy Crockett—and two intermediate-range missiles, the Sergeant and the newer Pershing with a 300-mile range.

Also in the Army arsenal are atomic demolition

WELL OVER 'CEILING'

Steelworkers Win Nearly 50-Cent Boost in Contract

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The United Steelworkers union prepared Saturday night to seek ratification of the White House steel agreement which informed sources estimated is worth a shade under 50 cents an hour.

The figure, considerably higher than previous estimates, was confirmed by sources who took part in the five-day negotiations that ended Friday.

It also appeared considerably higher than White House wage guidelines that call for limiting wage hikes to 3.2% per year.

White House sources had said the agreement was within the guidelines.

The union will present the proposed 39-month contract agreement today to its 170-member wage policy committee.

* * * *

STEELWORKER officials worked late into the night preparing the proposed contract for presentation to the union's executive board at 9 a.m. EST and to the wage policy committee at 1 p.m.

A 3.2% settlement consistent with White House guidelines—which also imply no price hikes—would be about 44 cents.

The reported wage and fringe-benefits increase of nearly 50 cents would be closer to 3.6% over present average steelworker earnings of $4.40 per hour.

Steelworkers are already among the highest-paid industrial workers.

While the union could be expected to place the highest possible estimate on the settlement package in presenting it to its membership, the estimate of nearly 50 cents was confirmed by administration sources.

* * * *

THERE WAS no explanation of how the government reconciled this with the White House guidelines, unless President Johnson went along with the union's demand to make up for the past two contracts when it won only about a 2% hike.

The White House agreement was based on Johnson's specific suggestions.

The settlement figure previously had been estimated at between 44 and 48 cents.

The higher figure confirmed Saturday night gave rise to speculation that the administration might not frown on some selective price increases.

Top administration sources hedged on this point after the White House agreement, saying prices were not part of the discussions and would be a matter for later consideration if increases should occur.

Troopers Stop Riot in Virginia

AMHERST, Va. (AP)—Crowds of whites and Negroes scuffled in the streets of this central Virginia community Saturday night, and state police were called in to restore order.

Three Negroes and one white man were treated for facial injuries at a hospital in Lynchburg approximately 15 miles away. All but one were released. There were no arrests immediately.

Authorities refused to discuss the disorders, which began about 6 p.m. and continued in spurts for 1½ hours.

* * * *

STATE police and Amherst County deputies patrolled the town late Saturday night in an effort to avert further violence.

Witnesses told reporters the trouble apparently began when several white men riding in the back of a truck began swinging with chains at a group of Negroes standing on the sidewalk. Two or three Negroes were hit.

One of the men in the truck either fell or jumped from the vehicle and was set upon by a group of Negroes. A mixed crowd of 40 to 50 persons quickly gathered, and there was a brief period of scuffling and fighting.

* * * *

BOTH SIDES appeared to back off and wait reinforcements. Within a short time, a mixed crowd of 200 to 250 persons gathered, and the scuffling and fighting began again.

The disorders stopped when approximately 15 state troopers and about a dozen Amherst County deputies arrived on the scene.

Betsy Spins in Neutral Off Wary Coast

Southeast Waits, Wonders Where Blow Will Fall

MIAMI (AP)—Hurricane Betsy whirled to a stop Saturday night in the Atlantic 350 miles off Florida without a hint of where she would aim her sledgehammer winds.

"This is a large, severe hurricane and all interests along the Southeast coast should keep in continuous touch with advisories and bulletins," the Weather Bureau told thousands of persons worried about weekend outings.

"Many beaches from the Carolinas to northeast Florida will be awash Sunday," the Weather Bureau said. "Boating, surf-fishing and swimming will be extremely hazardous, if not foolhardy."

* * * *

DURING the day Betsy had turned slightly northward away from the Carolina coast, raising hopes that that state might escape the storm's peak winds of 135 miles an hour.

But then—caught in opposing steering currents that equalized each other—the storm stopped. The Weather Bureau said nothing was in sight that might cause Betsy to resume forward movement until today.

At the same time a hurricane hunter plane spotted a new disturbance far south in the tropical Atlantic, 650 miles east of Barbados.

* * * *

ITS TOP winds were only 30 mph, but the pilot said he found circulation, a necessary ingredient for another tropical storm. Residents of the Lesser Antilles were warned that the winds might increase.

Miami weather forecasters delayed from hour to hour the posting of a hurricane watch for Betsy along the vulnerable Carolina coast, which juts sharply into one of the historic paths of Atlantic hurricanes.

"We're sweating it out 'til the last minute, to see if Betsy will continue veering toward the north," said forecaster Robert McCaslin.

California Leads in Car Toll

By United Press International

The traffic toll for the long Labor Day holiday soared past 170 Saturday as rain-slick highways plagued drivers in many parts of the nation.

California led with 15 traffic deaths. Texas reported 11, North Carolina 10, and Pennsylvania and New Mexico each had nine.

Four persons died in a head-on collision in San Diego Saturday. They were identified as Phyllis E. Dahlinger, 20, and Phyllis Messina, 21, both of Chula Vista; John J. Linden, 19, and Gary Hathaway, 21, both sailors stationed aboard the attack transport Renville.

China Backs Pakistan in 'Just' Action

Foreign Minister Visits Karachi, Denounces India

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sunday (AP)—Marshal Chen-yi, Communist Chinese foreign minister said today that "Communist China fully supports Pakistan for her just action in Kashmir to repel Indian armed provocation."

He told a news conference his government condemned the "Indian provocation."

Chen-yi, accompanied by a team of 15 Red Chinese officials, arrived here Saturday morning in a special plane.

* * * *

CHEN-YI supported the "freedom fighters of Indian-held Kashmir and their just struggle against the tyrannical domination of India."

Chen-yi reaffirmed his government's stand that the question of Kashmir must be solved in accordance with the wishes of the people of the state.

Chen-yi's attention was drawn to Indian reports that freedom fighters and Azad Kashmir forces were being trained in guerrilla warfare by Chinese experts. He replied the Indian press habitually made such "slanders."

* * * *

CHEN-YI accused the Indian and Western press of always associating all liberation movements in the world with Communist China.

The new development created great concern in the Indian government at New Delhi.

Many Indians feared the talks between Pakistan's Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto and Chen-yi were aimed at joint action against India, New Delhi reports said.

CRISIS TALKS AT U.N.

India and Pakistan Protest U.N.'s Vote for Cease-Fire

UNITED NATIONS (UPI)—The Security Council voted unanimously Saturday night to call on India and Pakistan to end fighting and withdraw their armed forces to their own sides of a cease-fire line in Kashmir.

The resolution, which asks Secretary General Thant to report on the Kashmir situation within three days, drew objections from both India and Pakistan.

India called on the council to order Pakistan to withdraw completely from all parts of "the Indian state" of Kashmir, which has been disputed territory since the division of the subcontinent into two countries independent of Britain in 1946.

The United States, whose planes and tanks, supplied for Pakistan's defense, were reported backing a Pakistani thrust into the former princely state, strongly supported the cease-fire resolution which was sponsored by the six nonpermanent members of the council.

Indian Ambassador Gopalaswami Parthasarathi said there must be a guarantee from Pakistan that its infiltration of Kashmir would end. He noted that Pakistan had not responded to Thant's cease-fire appeal of last Wednesday and said in the absence of such a response, it was premature to vote a resolution.

Pakistani Ambassador Syed Amjad Ali said he had no instructions from his government and could not speak on the substance of the issue without them.

Following adoption of the resolution, U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, this month's president, adjourned the council until next Wednesday.

JAMMU, Kashmir (UPI)—Pakistan forces, using U.S.-supplied planes and tanks pushed into Indian-held Kashmir Saturday in their second major drive of the week.

(Pakistani officials said their forces gained 10 miles, the deepest penetration of the four-day undeclared border war between the two nations. They said "Indian troop concentrations also were attacked and heavy casualties inflicted on them.")

Indian officers in this city, the winter capital of Indian Kashmir, did not disclose how much progress the Pakistanis made. But they confirmed that fighting was "very heavy."

Chinese Ired at Furloughs, Warn British

SAIGON, Sunday (AP)—The United States has ordered a temporary suspension of holiday flights to Hong Kong for U.S. servicemen here, a military spokesman said today.

Communist China demanded last week that Britain, which rules the island off the Chinese coast, cut off the flights, called "rest and recreation." China coupled the demand with threats.

The spokesman said the official reason given here for the suspension was the rapid buildup of American military personnel in Viet Nam.

* * * *

IN THE past, troops stationed here became eligible for leave periods in Hong Kong and military flights went back and forth on a shuttle basis of one or two a day.

Military sources here said they understood British authorities in Hong Kong had discussed the Chinese demands with American officials in the island city.

It was not known how long the suspension would last nor whether it applied to personnel of the U.S. 7th Fleet which has also been using Hong Kong as a leave base.

* * * *

A MILITARY source said there was one rest and recreation flight to Hong Kong today but that it would be the last one.

The Chinese protest charged that the United States had been granted the use of the crown colony as "a base of operations for their war of aggression against Viet Nam."

It demanded that Britain "immediately adopt effective measures to stop all activities of U.S. aggressor forces in Hong Kong and cease turning Hong Kong into a base of operations for the United States."

LAMBARENE, Gabon (AP)—Dr. Albert Schweitzer lapsed into a coma again Saturday in the hospital he built for Africans on the jungle banks of the Ogooue River. A message sent abroad to relatives and close friends said: "He is dying."

"His circulation system is failing, his heart is weakening, the kidneys have stopped functioning," said Dr. Walter Munz, medical head of the legendary hospital founded by Schweitzer.

L.A.C. Says:

Lower Incomes Hit the Hardest

The lower and medium income families have the most to fear from inflation. This is because a larger portion of their income is spent for items that are most affected by rising prices. This is a good reason why wage earners should take a deeper interest in public spending and increased costs of production of consumer items. The higher income families have higher income taxes to pay. But even after these high taxes are paid, these families still pay a much smaller percentage of their income for essentials than do the smaller income families which make up more than 75% of the total. It is, therefore, important that the lower income groups understand the real burden inflation will be on them. They should be more interested in what is going on.

In a January Gallup Poll, a cross section of families were asked what they spent for food. It showed a family of four in the $3,000 family spent $20 a week for food including milk. It ranged upward to $35 a week for the $10,000 family. The $6,000 family cost was $28 a week. This means the lower income family spent 34% of its income for food while the $10,000 family paid out only 18% of its income for food.

The June BLS price index for this area shows the cost of living had gone up 2.9% over the preceding year. The average for the last 8 years has been only 1.4%. The cost of food had gone up 4%—housing was up 4%. This may seem like modest increases but it is a pattern that can quickly increase as costs of essentials are increased to take care of higher wages and fringe benefits to unions and higher taxes on gasoline and other items covered by increased sales taxes.

The reduced income taxes for all brackets have given relief the past two years. But starting January 1, increases in social security, Medicare, sales and property taxes will quickly wipe out the income tax savings. The ending of excise taxes has greatly helped in holding down the cost of items affected. But these items have a small effect on the lower income groups whose purchases of jewelry, country club dues, luggage, etc., are minor.

The largest price increase under the BLS index has been for food—vegetables, meat and grains. Now almost daily we read of price increases for containers, transportation costs and farm labor. The steel settlement may set off a spiral of wage and fringe benefit increases which must be reflected in higher costs of steel products. Other increases have occurred in tires, sulphuric acid, trucks, aluminum products—copper and other products.

Each of these products and services is a part of about everything the consumer buys. It is probable most families have had increased incomes greater than the 1.4% average increased cost of living over the last 8 years. But now they are seeing costs of living rising at more than double that figure—and they face even higher increases in the coming months and years.

The expanded spending for welfare and the Viet Nam war must call for higher income taxes—or larger federal debt. Experts question that we can continue on this road and escape spiraling inflation. That means the major burden will fall upon the lower income groups. It should cause them to question the many programs that are contributing to this trend. That means government and union contracts which raise the cost of about everything they buy.—L.A.C.

$25,000 Fire Hits 4 Firms

A stubborn two-alarm blaze caused damage estimated at $25,000 Saturday when it burned through a business complex at Atlantic Avenue and Carson Street.

Acting Battalion Chief Jeff Webb said the fire apparently started in the rear of a building housing a vacant dental office and New Century Enterprises at 4120 Atlantic. It was reported at 4:55 p.m.

A second alarm was sounded when fire fighters found flames had spread into the attics of adjoining buildings at 4100 and 4122 Atlantic as well as the Towne Laundry and Cleaners which faces on Carson.

* * *

WEBB SAID cause of the blaze was undetermined. However, he indicated it may have started in some newly paneled offices of New Century Enterprises.

The fire caused heat and smoke damage to the Lucille Young Beauty Salon and Ron's Liquor Store.

Firemen had to saw several openings in the roofs of the buildings to battle the smoky blaze.

Webb said the buildings are owned by Dr. Henry Tahl of 3283 E. Artesia Blvd., a member of the staff at Long Beach Memorial Hospital.

POLICE INVESTIGATE

Pellet-Gun Sniper Shoots Woman, 77

Long Beach Police Saturday were investigating the sniper shooting of a 77-year-old woman, wounded in the left leg.

Mrs. Martha F. Greenway of 1750 E. 15th St., told police the shooting occurred Friday while she was taking a neighbor's washing from a clothesline at 1483 Rose Ave. Mrs. Greenway said she felt a sharp pain in the rear of her left leg, but did not realize she had been shot. Later she walked to a nearby clinic where X-rays disclosed a lead pellet had lodged near the bone in her leg.

The woman, according to officer W. G. Trogden, then went to a drugstore where pharmacist Pat Horgan suggested she call police.

A doctor said the wound was not serious and added that the pellet can be removed from Mrs. Greenway's leg later.

Officer Trogden said the slug apparently came from a pellet gun fired by a sniper hidden in an open area behind Mrs. Greenway's home.

Two Killed in Crash at High Speed

A San Pedro man was killed Friday night at Camp Irwin, north of Barstow, when the car he was driving went out of control at an estimated 120 mph.

Dead were Charles F. Randall, 42, of 2125 Trudie Drive, and one of three passengers, Bruce R. Vance, 22, of Seattle, Wash. The men were undergoing National Guard summer training.

Highway Patrol investigators said Randall's auto was traveling about 120 miles an hour when it went off the road, entered a sandy wash, and overturned twice, ejecting both Randall and Vance. The other two men were not critically injured.

An 81-year-old retired Long Beach electrician was beaten and robbed in his home Saturday by two prowlers.

John P. Bowker told police he awakened shortly before dawn and found two men ransacking the bedroom of his apartment at 924½ E. 19th St.

The elderly man told officer W. G. Trogden one of the prowlers slugged him with a cloth-wrapped club and the other grabbed his billfold containing $40 and a small radio.

Officer Trogden said the two assailants had entered the apartment by prying open a window.

Tornado Unroofs Illinois Buildings

SAVANNAH, Ill. (UPI)—A tornado ripped through this old Mississippi River town Saturday night, unroofing buildings and injuring at least one person.

Savanna police said the twister went across the one-street downtown area, knocking a wall from the bank and lifting roofs from buildings in a two-block area. Store windows were smashed.

LBJ Intent on Economic Gain for All

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson in a labor statement Saturday night listed some of the many triumphs of the American economy but said "a large segment of our citizens remains untouched by our prosperity.

Among the nation's economic blessings, Johnson noted record employment of 75 million, almost 2.5 million above last year; per-capita spendable income at a record high of $2,343, up 3% from 1964; average weekly take-home pay for factory workers at a record peak of $108.21 in June, and unemployment down substantially from 1964 with the economy in "the longest unbroken peacetime expansion in more than a century."

* * *

THE PRESIDENT noted that since Labor Day of 1964 Congress has enacted such landmark legislation as medicare, voting rights, aid to education and various measures to help the economically disadvantaged.

But he went on to say:

"Our promise of a better America will become fact only when all citizens—not just most—have the opportunity to enjoy the benefits of our free society.

"To accomplish these goals, our national purpose must be to:

"—Expand the employment opportunities of the impoverished and the undereducated.

"—Open more job opportunities for minorities and older citizens.

"—Expand the opportunities of our young people for education, training and constructive work experience necessary for our highly specialized society.

"—Lessen the impact of technological change for displaced workers and disrupted communities:

"—Develop and fill new jobs and continue measures to spur our economic growth."

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz struck a similar note in his Labor Day statement and said. "The worst mistake would be to rest on the victories of the past. Each step forward is only encouragement to take the next one."

L.A.-Bound Ship Collides With Japan Freighter

TOKYO (AP)—The 8,263-ton U.S. freighter Empire State collided with a Japanese vessel at the mouth of Tokyo Bay Saturday night, the maritime safety agency said.

The agency reported the 4,323-ton Japanese freighter Toei Maru run aground and was taking water in her No. 1 and 2 holds, but that there was no report of casualties among her 30 crewmen and 2 passengers.

The Los Angeles-bound American ship, with 44 crewmen aboard, was damaged slightly, the agency said, but returned under her own power to Yokohama. She carried a cargo of general merchandise.

No. 2 Viet Envoy Named by LBJ; Lodge's Choice

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson was off to a busy start on his Labor Day weekend with announcement Saturday of several appointments including that of career diplomat William J. Porter as deputy ambassador to South Viet Nam.

Porter, 49, was the personal choice of Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge. He will replace another veteran career diplomat, U. Alexis Johnson, who, the White House said, is returning to his former No. 4 post in the State Department as deputy undersecretary for political affairs.

The President, acting from his ranch office, also moved to strengthen his program on education and the war on poverty.

* * *

HE NAMED Commissioner of Education Francis Keppel to the newly created post of assistant secretary for education in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

He named four new regional directors for the Office of Economic Opportunity to push antipoverty programs on the local level.

Presidential Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers said Johnson had spent the morning and part of the afternoon in his office but probably would do some lake boating in the warm, sunny weather on his three-day holiday visit.

Johnson cautioned Americans of the dangers of highway accidents this weekend and in a statement urging safe driving noted:

"Last year alone, Americans killed some 47,000 of their fellow citizens in traffic accidents . . . more than 300 times as many Americans as our enemies were able to kill in all the fighting in South Viet Nam during that same year."

In the shift of second-line diplomats in Saigon, Moyers said Johnson feels he is providing "the best possible support" for Lodge.

It was Lodge who picked Porter, a fellow resident of Massachusetts whom he had met while head of the U.S. delegation at the United Nations during the Eisenhower administration.

Porter, a native of England who was naturalized 22 years ago, has been a foreign service officer since 1937. He has served in Africa and the Middle East, but never in Southeast Asia.

PORTER had been nominated recently to be ambassador to Saudi Arabia, but this appointment will be withdrawn, Moyers said.

Alexis Johnson, a foreign service officer since 1935 and experienced in Far East and Asian posts, was sent to Saigon in July 1964 when Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor became ambassador. He served as a civilian deputy to the diplomat-general.

In another diplomatic shift in Southeast Asia, Johnson named Joseph A. Mendenhall, who has served in Viet Nam three years, to be U.S. aid director in Laos. He succeeds Charles Man, recently named aid director for South Viet Nam.

2 Cool Stars Found by Astrophysicists

PASADENA (AP) — Astrophysicists have found two really "cool" stars, one of them with a surface no hotter than that of the planet Venus.

But if they are true stars like our sun, they may have internal temperatures of more than 25 million degrees Fahrenheit—high enough to start nuclear processes.

The stars, one with a surface temperature of 800 degrees, the other with 1,200 degrees, were discovered in a sky survey made with a new 62-inch telescope at nearby Mt. Wilson observatory. The telescope is sensitive only to infrared "heat" waves, not visible light.

Scientists don't know yet whether the stars are very young or very old, or how far away they may be. The cooler one is in the constellation Cygnus, the other in Aurus. Both are barely visible in large optical telescopes.

* * *

THE SURVEY is being carried out for the national aeronautics and space administration by Dr. Gerry Neugebauer and Dr. Robert Leighton of the California Institute of Technology. Leighton also is chief of the scientific team analyzing photographs of Mars taken by the Mariner 4 spacecraft July 14.

Ten cool stars have been found so far and Dr. Neugebauer believes thousands will be detected eventually.

"Viewed in the infrared range, the sky shows a far greater proportion of red stars than appears to the eye. If our eyes were sensitive to this wave length of radiation, we would see that the sky is well populated with them," he said.

The infrared telescope has a 62-inch-diameter concave aluminum "dish" at its base which reflects the tiny amount of heat from distant stars onto heat-sensitive detectors of lead sulphide.

The faint heat slightly alters the electrical resistance of the detectors. Resultant changes in electric current flowing through the detectors are amplified and recorded.

L.A.C. Says:

Lower Incomes Hit the Hardest

The lower and medium income families have the most to fear from inflation. This is because a larger portion of their income is spent for items that are most affected by rising prices. This is a good reason why wage earners should take a deeper interest in public spending and increased costs of production of consumer items. The higher income families have higher income taxes to pay. But even after these high taxes are paid, these families still pay a much smaller percentage of their income for essentials than do the smaller income families which make up more than 75% of the total. It is, therefore, important that the lower income groups understand the real burden inflation will be on them. They should be more interested in what is going on.

In a January Gallup Poll, a cross section of families were asked what they spent for food. It showed a family of four in the $3,000 family spent $20 a week for food including milk. It ranged upward to $35 a week for the $10,000 family. The $6,000 family cost was $28 a week. This means the lower income family spent 34% of its income for food while the $10,000 family paid out only 18% of its income for food.

The June BLS price index for this area shows the cost of living had gone up 2.9% over the preceding year. The average for the last 8 years has been only 1.4%. The cost of food had gone up 4%—housing was up 4%. This may seem like modest increases but it is a pattern that can quickly increase as costs of essentials are increased to take care of higher wages and fringe benefits to unions and higher taxes on gasoline and other items covered by increased sales taxes.

The reduced income taxes for all brackets have given relief the past two years. But starting January 1, increases in social security, Medicare, sales and property taxes will quickly wipe out the income tax savings. The ending of excise taxes has greatly helped in holding down the cost of items affected. But these items have a small effect on the lower income groups whose purchases of jewelry, country club dues, luggage, etc., are minor.

The largest price increase under the BLS index has been for food—vegetables, meat and grains. Now almost daily we read of price increases for containers, transportation costs and farm labor. The steel settlement may set off a spiral of wage and fringe benefit increases which must be reflected in higher costs of steel products. Other increases have occurred in tires, sulphuric acid, trucks, aluminum products—copper and other products.

Each of these products and services is a part of about everything the consumer buys. It is probable most families have had increased incomes greater than the 1.4% average increased cost of living over the last 8 years. But now they are seeing costs of living rising at more than double that figure—and they face even higher increases in the coming months and years.

The expanded spending for welfare and the Viet Nam war must call for higher income taxes—or larger federal debt. Experts question that we can continue on this road and escape spiraling inflation. That means the major burden will fall upon the lower income groups. It should cause them to question the many programs that are contributing to this trend. That means government and union contracts which raise the cost of about everything they buy.—L.A.C.

$25,000 Fire Hits 4 Firms

A stubborn two-alarm blaze caused damage estimated at $25,000 Saturday when it burned through a business complex at Atlantic Avenue and Carson Street.

Acting Battalion Chief Jeff Webb said the fire apparently started in the rear of a building housing a vacant dental office and New Century Enterprises at 4120 Atlantic. It was reported at 4:55 p.m.

A second alarm was sounded when fire fighters found flames had spread into the attics of adjoining buildings at 4100 and 4122 Atlantic as well as the Towne Laundry and Cleaners which faces on Carson.

* * * *

WEBB SAID cause of the blaze was undetermined. However, he indicated it may have started in some newly paneled offices of New Century Enterprises.

The fire caused heat and smoke damage to the Lucille Young Beauty Salon and Ron's Liquor Store.

Firemen had to saw several openings in the roofs of the buildings to battle the smoky blaze.

Pellet-Gun Sniper Shoots Woman, 77

Long Beach Police Saturday were investigating the sniper shooting of a 77-year-old woman, wounded in the left leg.

Mrs. Martha F. Greenway of 1750 E. 15th St., told police the shooting occurred Friday while she was taking a neighbor's washing from a clothesline at 1483 Rose Ave. Mrs. Greenway said she felt a sharp pain in the rear of her left leg, but did not realize she had been shot. Later she walked to a nearby clinic where X-rays disclosed a lead pellet had lodged near the bone in her leg.

The woman, according to officer W. G. Trogden, then went to a drugstore where pharmacist Pat Horgan suggested she call police.

A doctor said the wound was not serious and added that the pellet can be removed from Mrs. Greenway's leg later.

Officer Trogden said the slug apparently came from a pellet gun fired by a sniper hidden in an open area behind Mrs. Greenway's home.

Two Killed in Crash at High Speed

A San Pedro man was killed Friday night at Camp Irwin, north of Barstow, when the car he was driving went out of control at an estimated 120 mph.

Dead were Charles F. Randall, 42, of 2125 Trudie Drive, and one of three passengers, Bruce R. Vance, 22, of Seattle, Wash. The men were undergoing National Guard summer training.

Highway Patrol investigators said Randall's auto was traveling about 120 miles an hour when it went off the road, entered a sandy wash and overturned twice, ejecting both Randall and Vance. The other two men were not critically injured.

FEAR OF PSYCHIC RECOIL EXPENSIVE

World Opinion Bars A-Bomb

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, 47, is one of the foremost authorities on nuclear subjects. He was a physicist assigned to the supersecret Manhattan Project in World War II. Later, he was a consulting scientist attached to the bomb test at Bikini.)

WASHINGTON — B52 bombers hammer Viet Cong hideouts with tons of high-explosive bombs. Jets bombard missile sites near Hanoi.

But the added cost of firepower is high, and its effectiveness must be rated low by the McNamara cost-effectiveness yardstick.

The step-up in the air war raises anew the question of how nuclear firepower might be employed in Viet Nam. In general there are three ways to use nuclear weapons:

First—High-power nuclear weapons might be used for strategic bombardment in the same way A-bombs were dropped on Hiroshima.

Second — Medium-power bombs might be used on the battlefield.

Third—Low and medium-power bombs might be aimed at semistrategic targets such as bridges, storage depots and command - comunications centers.

Today's H-bombs are a thousand times more potent than the "Model T" atomic bombs that obliterated the Japanese cities in World War II. The largest city-target in North Viet Nam is Hanoi, but it could not "take" an H-bomb. A powerful A-bomb would devastate Hanoi.

But the blast wave would travel around the world and never stop reverberating. The political repercussions would outweigh any strategic advantage. Hanoi would become a second Hiroshima.

How about medium-power bombs? The United States has developed a whole family of these weapons which can be delivered by aircraft or missile. The power of 100,000 tons of TNT can be crammed into a package weighing no more than a Vietnamese soldier.

A single weapon of this power has a kill radius of 2,000 yards for soldiers stretched prone on the ground. This lethal distance may seem small especially if one recalls pictures of Hiroshima where the explosion was the equal of 14,000 tons of TNT.

However, an infantryman burrowed into the earth is much less vulnerable than were the unsuspecting city dwelers of Hiroshima. Fire and flying debris from shattered houses make cities much more hazardous than a jungle under nuclear attack.

Men crouched in the protection of dense foliage need not fear the searing heat-death of nuclear explosions unless they are very close to a surface-burst bomb, in which they would be dead from other bomb effects.

The human body is remarkably resistant to blast, even from A-bombs. The body can withstand fearful pressure from the bomb but it is relatively easily punctured by flying glass or broken by falling debris. This means that on the battlefields the soldier's worst enemy may be invisisble radiation emitted by the explosion.

When a soldier absorbs a certain critical amount of radiation, he is fated to die within a few weeks, but for a few days he can carry on and be a combatant. In fact, he may become a "radiation zombi" condemned to death but still capable of battle.

At Hiroshima, for example, some soldiers went on full-pack hikes the day after the bombing, even though they were fully irradiated and subsequently died.

The capacity of a single nuclear weapon to imprint a death circle 4,000 yards wide on a battle area is staggering. This embraces an area of four square miles. Were the Vietcong to congregate in massed battalion strength, they would offer vulnerable targets to such battlefield bombs.

The whole pattern of war in Viet Nam is of a fluid nature in which the enemy flits from one zone to another. Such tactics mock the lethality of the battlefield A-bomb. Even enemy transportation, storage and communications centers may be "hardened" with protective construction to resist all but bull's-eye explosions with TNT or "iron" bombs.

For example, surface-to-air (SAM) missile sites may be so protected and require attack with scores of low-level bombers. Yet a single low-yield nuclear weapon could knock out a SAM site. It could be lobbed in by ballistic missile or air-launched at safe distance from the target. Such a knockout could be scored by nuclear weapons which pack the punch of 1,000 tons of TNT.

On a cost - effectiveness basis, attacking SAM sites with low-yield nuclear weapons is far superior to the use of scores of bombers armed with TNT.

These small or low-yield weapons, in a sense, are the most dangerous of all nuclear weapons. They appear to be limited in power compared to a Hiroshima explosion, and thus it might seem that the decision to use them is not as critical as would be the case of more powerful warheads.

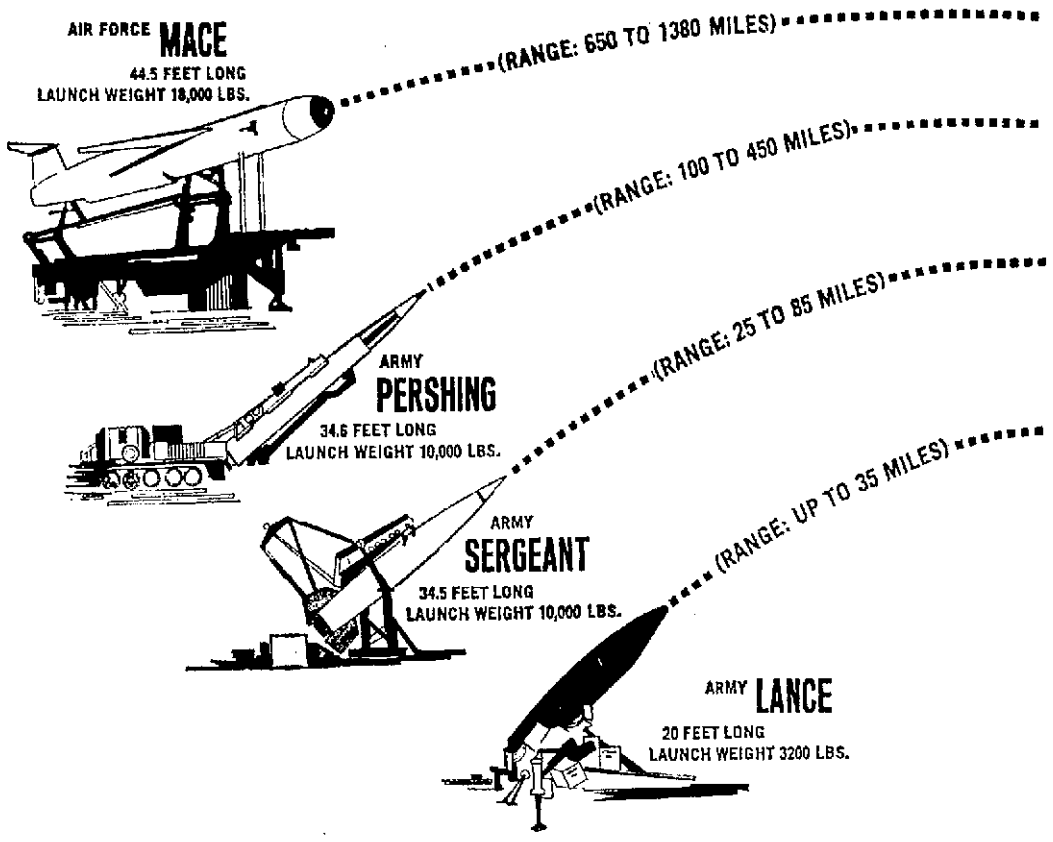

Yet these weapons are nuclear and carry the same potent propaganda impact or boomerang as bigger weapons. Furthermore they may lead to escalation of the war and a resort to more powerful bombs.

No nuclear weapons have been committed to combat since Nagasaki. The United States came close to using them in Korea in the dark days when the Pusan perimeter was shrinking. Had they been used, the reason would have been to save American lives—the same underlying rationale for Hiroshima.

Vietnam thus far has not presented U. S. officials with a Pusan-type situation. But if it does, the saving of American lives would have to be balanced against chances that a nuclear spark might bring Red China into the war and might touch off World War III.

If such circumstances were to develop, then our President would face a momentous decision.

charges for destroying fortifications or underground installations.

The reference to the "207" appears in connection with mention of the 155 mm howitzer. However, the 207 figure may not necessarily mean the millimeter measurement of the weapon diameter. The 8-inch howitzer is only slightly larger than that and it would appear unlikely the Army would need two tube weapons so close together in size.

The new weapons could be a rocket-launched device or some form of short-range guided missile.

SOME military men believe tactical nuclear weapons could be used to advantage in the Viet Nam war. But there has been nothing to suggest that the policymakers in Washington have done any more than to put the idea into contingency planning.

If field commanders wanted to use small or medium atomic weapons against Viet Cong personnel and supply concentrations in South Viet Nam or in aerial bombing of North Viet Nam targets, they would have to receive approval of the President. Under law, only he can authorize the use of nuclear weapons, either tactically or strategically.

Washington officialdom deliberately leaves open the question of whether nuclear weapons ever would be used in any conflict of less than global proportions.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, in testifying before congressional committees, has been asked about the possibility of escalation if nuclear weapons were used on the battlefield. His answer has been:

"I think there is a great risk that the use of tactical nuclear weapons will lead to general nuclear war, but I do not believe it is inevitable."

* * * *

McNAMARA then was talking in the context of general use of tactical weapons, not referring specifically to Viet Nam.

North Viet Nam and the Viet Cong presumably have no nuclear weapons of their own. But Russia possesses both tactical and strategic weapons. And bellicose Red China is attempting to develop weapons from atomic test devices, of which she detonated two.

Poverty-War 'Flubs' Few, Says Shriver

WASHINGTON (AP)—Anti-poverty Chief Sargent Shriver, battered by critics and congressional investigators, insisted Saturday "the war on poverty is doing extremely well—over all," but conceded that "we flubbed some."

Shriver, director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, said his job is somewhat like "living in a goldfish bowl."

"If there is something wrong," he said, "one side or the other will tell you about it. You can't get away with doing anything wrong."

* * * *

ASKED about charges the program has become bogged down in politics in many areas, Shriver said:

"That's life. You can't run the program in a vacuum. You must deal with realities as they are. It's true that in some local programs there has been discussion between politicians, and between politicians and others."

He said this was one thing that kept the community action program in Los Angeles from getting rolling.

When the riots hit in the largely Negro district of Watts, Shriver said, "there were 1,000 job billets open in the neighborhood Youth Corps. They had not been filled because of political pulling and tugging between political people, and between political people and the poor and the established welfare agencies."

* * * *

AFTER some controversy and bickering, Shriver said, the program in Harlem now is rolling smoothly. He added: "The people up there tell me the difference between New York this summer and last summer (when there were fatal riots in Harlem) is the war on poverty . . . It is far from perfect, but it has made a noticeable dent."

In a wide-ranging news conference, Shriver said:

—It is true that staff turnover is high in the OEO compared to most other government agencies, "but compared to the Peace Corps it's very low."

—As a result of early experiences the Job Corps has tightened its screening and now is experimenting with three reception centers where new corpsmen spend a month before being assigned.

I, P-T to Publish New State Poll

The most accurate and up-to-date political poll available in California will be published by The Independent, Press-Telegram next Sunday.

The sampling of public opinion will show how actor Ronald Reagan is faring in his bid for party support in the Republican gubernatorial campaign, how much hold Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel has on California Republicans and how former Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco rates with his fellow GOPers at this time.

The poll also will rate the comparative standings of other Republicans mentioned as possible candidates for governor in next year's race.

Subsequent reports based on the poll will reflect current public opinion about Democratic Gov. Brown, how he rates against possible challengers.

The reports, first in a continuing series of public opinion sampling, mark the statewide debut of the State Poll, an affiliate of Opinion Research of California.

THE PARENT organization for more than 15 years has predicted elections with such accuracy that its reporting error has averaged only 2.5%.

In the Los Angeles mayoral election last April, the State Poll predicted the outcome within one-tenth of 1%.

In the 1964 presidential election, the poll came within six-tenths of 1% of predicting the exact percentage of President Johnson's triumph in California.

In the race for governor in the state of Washington last year, the poll called the turn with only a two-tenths of 1% error.

In the California presidential race between Republican Richard Nixon and Democrat John F. Kennedy in 1960, the poll predicted the Nixon razor-thin triumph with less than a 1% error.

In the 1964 Democratic senatorial primary battle, the poll was the only one active in California to forecast Pierre Salinger's win over State Controller Alan Cranston.

Higher 1966 Car Prices Seen Nullifying Tax Cut

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said Saturday that most new-car buyers are going to pay more for 1966 cars than they did for 1965 models in the first general price increase in seven years.

"Everything auto buyers gained from the recent cut in excise taxes—and much more in some instances — will be wiped out when the new models appear late this month and early in October," the newspaper said.

Industry sources were reported to have disclosed that price increases will occur several ways, including:

—Higher base prices on some models because of increased costs of labor and material.

—Switching of many items of present standard equipment to an optional basis, with persons wanting the options forced to pay more for the car.

'OH, HE WAS A STUBBORN MAN!'

Yank Captive of Viet Cong Defied Them, Was Executed

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. Army Sgt. Harold George Bennett, whose "execution" was announced by a Communist radio broadcast in June, apparently was killed because he continued fighting the Viet Cong even after his capture.

According to a fellow prisoner later freed, the 25-year-old Perryville, Ark., soldier was threatened with death and beaten repeatedly because he refused to cooperate with his Communist captors.

"The VC were very mad about Bennett—so mad that many times they wanted to shoot him," Vietnamese Army Sgt. Nong Na Vi said Saturday. He was held in the same prison camp as Bennett for three days.

Some months after Bennett was led away by the Viet Cong, Radio Hanoi announced that the sergeant had ben "executed." It was interpreted as revenge for the Saigon execution of condemned Communist terrorist Tran Van Dang.

Sgt. Vi witnessed one beating that Bennett was given by the Viet Cong because he refused to cooperate in the making of a Communist propaganda film.

Vi was himself captured by the Viet Cong 12 days before Bennett and another American were taken prisoner by the Communists in the battle of Binh Gia on Dec. 29, 1964.

Recalling his own experience, Vi told UPI:

"We were tied up, blindfolded and left hungry the whole first day. We walked for three days and nights. The blindfolds only taken off at mealtimes and at night.

"Finally, we arrived at the prison camp, where we were fed rice mixed with manioc or rotten fish.

"At first they wanted to kill us because we were all armor soldiers. We really don't know why they didn't.

"Later they brought in two American prisoners from the Binh Gia battles," Vi said.

Vi said the two captured Americans were "one a ranger captain, and one a sergeant whose name I learned was Bennett."

"The Americans couldn't take the food and rarely drank the dirty water, but they nibbled little bits to keep on living, especially Sergeant Bennett.

"Oh, he was a stubborn man," Vi said.

He said Bennett "refused to do anything, even eating or drinking or answering the Viet Cong's questions," noting that "some of the Viet Cong spoke English."

Whenever Bennett would refuse to answer questions during brainwashing sessions, Vi said, "the Viet Cong would hit him hard."

"One day," he said, "a Viet Cong movie team arrived at the camp to film a scene where U.S. officers lead Vietnamese soldiers to fight, but finally have to surrender to the Viet Cong.

Bennett refused to participate and was severely beaten. Afterward, the ranger captain advised him to obey the Viet Cong or they would beat him to death.

"Yes, the Viet Cong were very mad about Bennett—so mad that many times they wanted to shoot him."

Grain-Poor Russians Selling Much Gold

LONDON (UPI) — Russia has begun massive gold sales in Europe for grain buying amid indications it may have to unload $500 million worth in the West to meet wheat needs this season.

Russia is at least 10 million tons of wheat short because of another bad harvest and farmers' slackness. This year's harvest will produce some 60 million tons of wheat, but at least 70 million are required.

At the same time Russia also is stepping up purchases of machinery abroad because of industrial shortcomings at home.

Authoritative estimates said Russia will have to sell at least $450 million worth of gold to meet the agricultural requirements alone. Most of it will be sold in Europe.

Russia has sold gold in excess of $100 million this week, according to latest reports.

Communist China, too, has turned up again as a purchaser of Western wheat, despite an improvement in its agriculture. China already is committed to buy 4 million tons in the West and is likely to look for several million more.

Total Communist wheat purchases in the West—chiefly Canada, Australia, Argentina and France — are expected to total about 17 million tons this season.

Cyprus OKs Turkish Rotation of Soldiers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The Cypriot government has told the Turkish embassy in Nicosia it will not oppose the rotation of the Turkish army contingent based on Cyprus.

A total of 650 Turkish and 1,000 Greek army troops are based on the island under the terms of the 1960 treaty alliance. Half the strength of each contingent is rotated every six months. Cyprus has stated it no longer considers the treaty alliance valid.

Grain-Poor Russians Selling Much Gold

LONDON (UPI) — Russia has begun massive gold sales in Europe for grain buying amid indications it may have to unload $500 million worth in the West to meet wheat needs this season.

Russia is at least 10 million tons of wheat short because of another bad harvest and farmers' slackness. This year's harvest will produce some 60 million tons of wheat, but at least 70 million are required.

At the same time Russia also is stepping up purchases of machinery abroad because of industrial shortcomings at home.

Authoritative estimates said Russia will have to sell at least $450 million worth of gold to meet the agricultural requirements alone. Most of it will be sold in Europe.

Russia has sold gold in excess of $100 million this week, according to latest reports.

Communist China, too, has turned up again as a purchaser of Western wheat, despite an improvement in its agriculture. China already is committed to buy 4 million tons in the West and is likely to look for several million more.

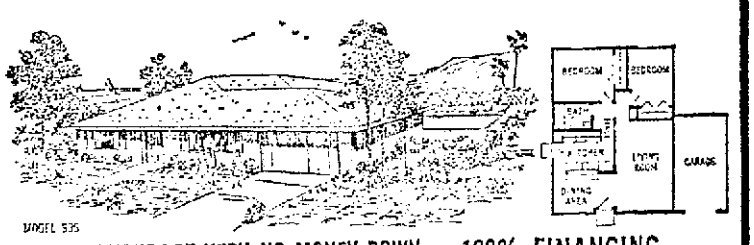

Total Communist wheat purchases in the West—chiefly Canada, Australia, Argentina and France — are expected to total about 17 million tons this season.

Cyprus OKs Turkish Rotation of Soldiers

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—The Cypriot government has told the Turkish embassy in Nicosia it will not oppose the rotation of the Turkish army contingent based on Cyprus.

A total of 650 Turkish and 1,000 Greek army troops are based on the island under the terms of the 1960 treaty alliance. Half the strength of each contingent is rotated every six months. Cyprus has stated it no longer considers the treaty alliance valid.

U.S. Recognizes Domingo Regime

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced Saturday U.S. recognition of the new government in Santo Domingo, thus closing one chapter in the Dominican story which began with a bloody revolt in April.

Johnson called the next chapter a "beginning a new road to peace, freedom and hope for the Dominican people." And to help it on its way he pledged $20 million in U.S. aid.

Much more U.S. assistance is planned in the long process of reconstructing the Dominican economy. Administration sources said they do not know yet how much the tab will come to.

Mom Jumps on 90-Foot Jumper

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A teen-aged boy jumped 90 feet from a bridge and swam from the murky waters of the Cumberland River Friday to win a $3 bet and satisfy a 10-year ambition.

TOMMY HOLLIS
'No More This Summer'

Tommy Hollis, 16, of Nashville, made the spectacular jump because he wanted to see what it felt like to high dive. And his schoolmates had bet he wouldn't do it.

"I said I would do it when I was sixteen years old," Hollis said after his success.

The boy's jump prompted another one, by his mother.

"She jumped all over me when she heard that I had jumped from the bridge, and I had to promise her I wouldn't do it again this summer," he said.

Hollis is recuperating from some ruptured blood vessels in his leg and a sprained wrist.

Green River Dam Believed Saved

GREEN RIVER, Wyo. (UPI)—Engineers began a "crash operation" Saturday to plug up a 40-foot hole in Fontenelle Dam. A Bureau of Reclamation official said there no longer was a threat of the dam bursting and flooding the Green River Valley of southwestern Wyoming.

B. P. Bellport, chief BLM engineer, said the leak in the mile-wide dam became stabilized Saturday at about 20 cubic feet per second after flood-control gates were opened. The dam had threatened to burst and drive thousands of residents along the river from their homes.

B52s Blast Viet Cong Again

SAIGON (UPI) — Strategic Air Command B52 bombers from Guam blasted a suspected Viet Cong concentration 320 miles northeast of Saigon Saturday in their 18th long-distance raid of the war. In North Viet Nam, a U.S. F4C jet crashed amid heavy antiaircraft fire and its pilot was feared killed.

In heavy ground fighting, South Vietnamese land, air and river assault troops struck 75 miles southwest of Saigon in Vinh Binh province in a combined attack that killed 53 Communist troops and resulted in capture of 24 other Viet Cong.

Pope Comforts Flood Victims

ROME (AP)—Pope Paul VI waded through knee-deep mud in his white robes and red slippers Saturday to comfort flood victims in Rome's working class suburbs, but he encountered open hostility from some residents.

"We dont' need your blessing. We need money," some greeted the 67-year-old pontiff.

The Pope traveled by military truck to Prima Porta, an area of about 4,000 persons, where the Communist Party is strong, and the neighboring suburb of Labaro.

Wichita Tornado Damage in Millions

WICHITA, Kan. (UPI) — City workers labored under a warm sun removing huge trees and debris from northeast Wichita streets Saturday, and the police department estimated damage from Friday night's tornado would run "several million dollars."

The twister whirled out of a heavy thunderstorm and skipped throught three sections of the city, flattening expensive homes, uprooting trees and injuring at least 27 persons.

The injured were treated and released. None was hurt seriously.

Grenade Kills GI in Santo Domingo

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Army Saturday identified Sgt. Raymond Randall of Blythdale, Pa., as the soldier killed in Santo Domingo a few hours before Hector Garcia-Godoy was installed as provisional president of the Dominican Republic.

Randall, who is survived by his wife Rose Marie, was a member of the Inter-American Peacekeeping Force in the Dominican capital. He was killed when a grenade was thrown into his command post.

He was the 28th U.S. casualty since U.S. intervention in the Caribbean republic began nearly four months ago.

Quake Jolts Kodiak, No Damage

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A sharp, rolling earthquake shook this south central Alaska fishing town early Saturday, but apparently caused little if any damage.

Bids Called on Last Grove Freeway Job

I. P-T State Bureau

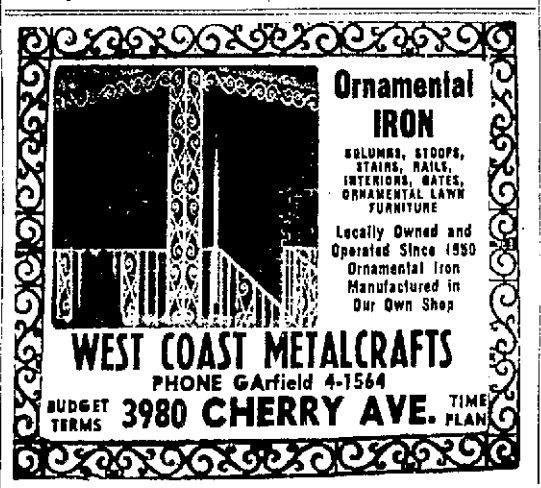

SACRAMENTO—The state Friday announced a pending bid call on completing Garden Grove Freeway from San Diego Freeway to Newport Freeway.

Budgeted is $4.4 million.

The state Highways Division said the final 2.5-mile phase of the 13-mile project involves constructing six-lane freeway from .3 of a mile east of Santa Ana's Main Street to the intersection with Newport Freeway in Orange and Santa Ana.

Bids will be opened Oct. 28 in Los Angeles.

Construction includes bridges over the Santiago Creek; undercrossings at Parker and Glassell streets and Tustin Avenue; overcrossings at South Orange and Cambridge Street, plus an interchange with Newport Freeway.

It Could Happen Here, City Warned by Negro Leaders

By CHARLES SUTTON

A number of informal meetings between city officials and groups of Long Beach Negroes in recent days appears to mark the start of an unprecedented dialogue between the Negro community and local officialdom.

Ever since the Watts riots, and perhaps even because of them, the Negro community here has begun to assert itself with increasing militancy.

Negro leaders have listed a number of grievances and bluntly warned the city that it can ignore the Negroes' needs here only at its peril. Far from being happy with their lot, they contend, Long Beach Negroes are chafing under a system that has kept them in humiliating and depressed isolation.

* * * *

YOUNG Negroes, meeting almost regularly since the Los Angeles riots, appear to be giving the movement its force and vitality, but old-line organiation like the NAACP have become involved, too.

Primarily, the dialogue has taken the form of private appearances by city officials at Negro meetings. Perhaps its most significant expression to date took place Aug. 18 in City Hall, where 10 Negro leaders met informally with Mayor Wade, City Manager John R. Mansell, City Councilman Emmet Sullivan, Assistant Police Chief William Kummer and Jack O'Neil, assistant to the city manager.

* * * *

AMONG the Negro delegates present were Ernest Campbell, local head of the NAACP; Ernest C. Preacely, an official of the Neighborhood Adult Participation Project in Long Beach, part of the antipoverty program; Rev. N. J. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the New Hope Baptist Church; Richard Harris, NAACP member; Ronald Alexander; Huey Shephard, attorney; Ernie Clark, director of the Community Improvement League in Long Beach; Miss Evelyn Knight, social worker, and Ronald Lunceford, businessman.

The meeting produced no joint recommendations, but a city official said the two sides appeared to reach sort of understanding in principle. Some complaints were answered on the spot, the official said, and "some we said we'd check on."

* * * *

AT THE END of the session, the Negro group was asked to prepare a budget of its requirements and submit it to the city manager's office.

Whether the developing dialogue will produce the results desired by the Negroes remains to be seen. Some of the group's recommendations will be considered radical in some quarters and, if carried out, could bring a dramatic rearrangement of Negro-white relations in the city. But that is precisely what the Negroes want. Their message clearly implies they want a partnership role in the city's development, and are tired of being kept on the "outside" looking in, as one of them acknowledged.

* * * *

THUS FAR, said one Negro leader, "the city people are talking. But, "he added, "they seem to go off on tangents so often. They're always bringing up the budget, offering platitudes," he said.

He said the most urgent need now is to provide a constructive outlet for the energies of young Negroes, and said the city could help by offering assistance in construction of a recreation center for young men between the ages of 18 and 20.

In a report submitted to the city officials at the Aug. 18 meeting in City Hall, the Negroes warned that Long Beach is not immune to Watts-type riots.

"If for the moment the city of Long Beach has not experienced the extremes of violence seen in Los Angeles," it said, "it is no doubt a consequence of a higher frustration tolerance among underprivileged people in this community.

* * * *

"HOW LONG the balance will favor an uneasy peace remains, however, for the official representatives of the people of this city to decide."

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Gov. Brown's commission investigating the rioting in south-central Los Angeles Saturday opened "information reception" offices in the riot area in efforts to obtain valuable information.

Commission vice chairman Warren Christopher said the purpose of the Watts branch offices is to give citizens of the area an opportunity to help the investigation by offering first-hand details of the riots.

The report went on to say that the conditions that gave birth to the Los Angeles riots are present in Long Beach. And while local Negro leaders have long pointed them out, "very little" has been done to correct them.

The document listed four areas requiring remedial action, including law enforcement, recreation, employment and housing.

Beneath the specifics, however, lay what one Negro leader agreed was a sense of irritation over what the Negro regard as white indifference to their needs, and white rejection of them simply as people.

* * * *

THIS WAS particularly evident in the statement on the Poly High School canteens. "Let the Hutch be the only school canteen . . . and declare the California Recreation Center (the second canteen) to be a community center in no way connected with Poly High," the report urged.

As both Preacely and Campbell later remarked, "if there are going to be two canteens, then let's have two football teams."

The two men said Negro students at Poly feel the two canteens are an obvious expression of de facto segregation.

If neither of the canteens by itself is large enough to accommodate the students, "then officials should tear both of them down and build a big one for all the students rather than allow an essentially segregated situation to continue," they said.

* * * *

ON THE subject of law enforcement, the report cited what it said was "police harassment of juveniles, especially of racially mixed couples." It said "threats of violence, intrusions into peaceful gatherings and verbal insults to the Negro race are common enough to have made the uniformed officer appear to be an enemy of Negro youth."

In addition to calling for an end to such practices, the report urged a stepped-up effort to obtain more Negroe policemen and increased police department instruction in race relations. (The report referred to both the Long Beach and Signal Hill police departments.)

The report also said the city wasn't doing all it should in seeking the advice of church groups, community organizations and civil-rights committees.

* * * *

REFERRING to the brief disturbance in Long Beach during the Watts riots, the report criticized the police for "manhandling" a number of "law-abiding citizens." (On this point there appears to be some disagreement among Negro leaders: some claim the police handled the job well, others assert there also were some irregularities.)

The report recommended that the police department "seek the advice of Negro representatives before fixing police policy or directing police activities" in the Negro district.

It called, in addition, for the appointment of Negroes to planning commissions and the launching of police-sponsored athletic programs to stimulate better relations between the department and the Negro community.

* * * *

DISCUSSING Negro employment, the report took the city to task for being insufficiently active in hiring Negroes. Except in the sanitation department, it indicated, there are few Negro jobholders.

To correct the situation, it called for improved promotional opportunities for Negroes already employed by the city, adding that this would attract other qualified Negro applicants.

It also asked the city to "look harder" for Negroes to fill high-level posts, where Negroes occupy few if any positions.

On housing, the report recommended city-subsidized, low-cost housing, greater attention to neighborhood needs in the Negro district, such as streetlighting and sanitation, and passage of a fair housing ordinance.

Finally, it said, the city should add a full-time staff to its Human Relations Committee to handle complaints and maintain records for research purposes.

Booze-Cancer Link Indicated in New Study

NEW YORK (AP) — A new study indicates heavy drinking of alcoholic beverages is linked to the development of mouth and throat cancers, a doctor said Saturday.

Dr. Milton Terris, professor of preventive medicine at the New York Medical College, said his study found that heavy drinking is more than twice as prevalent among cancer patients as among people without cancer.

Terris said he arbitrarily defined "heavy drinking" as four or more drinks a day.

The study, he said, was based on a study of 598 cancer patients at three veterans hospitals, and 598 people without cancer.

Housewife Victor in Argument With Students

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Twenty students at St. Petersburg Junior College who tangled with a housewife over parking in her front yard found two tires flat on each of their cars last week.

Mrs. Alma Slonim and her 10-year-old son, Mark, let the air out on the parked cars "as a last resort" after repeated warnings, she said.

The students had to roll the tires to the nearest filling station and stand in line in 90-degree heat.

Her lawn was clear the next day.

Ice Follies Sets L.A., L.B. Runs

Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1966 will be coming to the Long Beach Arena following its Los Angeles Sports Arena engagement scheduled for Sept. 9 through Sept. 23.

The Long Beach premiere will be held Sept. 24. The world's original ice revue, considered by skating experts as tops in entertainment, will hold 15 performances at the Rainbow Pier facility, closing Sunday, Oct. 3.

Many of the famous stars who for the past several years have become favorites of audiences from coast to coast, will be appearing at the ocean front arena.

These include Richard Dwyer, Dorothyann Nelson, Jill Shipstad, Mr. Frick, Patsy Cook, Ina Bauer, The Beattys, Istvan Szenes and Inge and Willi Schilling.

Mary Wills, the Ice Follies Academy Award winning designer, has again turned on new tricks and talent to bring breathtaking beauty to the show.

THE WILLIAMS family: Johnny, Pat, Debbie, 11, and Robbie, 8, do a wild, wild western turn in the Ice Follies of 1966.

Ginger Isn't Leg Shy

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Ginger Rogers is likely to become the last word on everything n B'way since going into "Hello, Dolly!"—her dress of autumn color was so high above her knees the other day at the Bennett Cerfs' apartment that I said, "You like those above-the-knees fashions evidently?"

"Yes, I find they're quite attractive . . . I think they're kind of fun." Ginger didn't pull her dress down as girls have been known to do.

"Freedom in clothes is necessary nowadays . . . with the ability to get in and out of those cars that are built as they are . . . You really need clothes that will work in getting in and out of different kinds of transporation," Ginger said.

Again she didn't pull down her skirt. In fact, I thing it was inching up. And I didn't have the nerve to mention to Ginger that she wasn't getting out of a compact cab now . . . she was just sitting on a divan . . . showing her knees . . . which were and are beautiful.

* * * *

"HOW HIGH above the dress do you wear your knees?" I said, as her knees had me flustered.

Laughing, she said, "Three inches above the knees when I'm sitting down . . ."

"More like five," I wrote in my notebook.

"When I'm standing at the center of the kneecap."

"You wouldn't recommend this for all women . . . say, for, oh . . . a woman shaped like the late Elsa Maxwell?"

"Well, there are women who shouldn't wear their hair behind their ears, either, and some men shouldn't have their hair cut so short that their ears stick out!"

* * * *

GINGER, who's a shade above the magic age of 50 now, exchanged smiles and quips with her husband, movie producer William Marshall, her fifth, as we sat in the Cerfs' living room. Ginger is a cousin of Mrs. Cerf.

Ginger and her husband have produced a picture in Jamaica, "The Confession," in which a young girl is heard praying for forgiveness for making preparations for killing herself.

"And do you play the young girl?"

Ginger leaped up and cried, "Shall we dance?"

GINGER ROGERS

Actually, she plays the proprietress of a bawdy house, Madame Renault. "Don't I Sam??" she asked Marshall.

"'Sam?'" I said. He's "Sam," and she's "Little Sam"—and it's because he's a Sam Spade fan that they have those love nicknames for each other.

* * * *

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's Phyllis Diller's description of a zany neighbor: "She makes pea soup by boiling Green Stamps."

* * * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Glenda Grainger saw the new bathing suits, and decided: "The girls who complain they have nothing to wear are wearing it."

* * * *

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "'Justice' is what we get when the decision is in our favor."—John W. Raper.

* * * *

EARL'S PEARLS: Shelby Friedman complained about his new apartment: "It's so small that they used it to train astronauts for life in a capsule."

Jackie Vernon, who's excellent at the Persian Rm., reports on his weight problem: "I gained so much I had to have my shower curtain let out." . . . That's earl, brother.

'DIE FLEDERMAUS'

Laguna Beach's Opera Sparkles

By DANIEL CARIAGA

A sparkling production of "Die Fledermaus," sung in witty, understandable English, was the final offering of Laguna Beach's fourth annual Festival of Opera, as it opened its third weekend Friday night in Irvine Bowl.

Two factors indispensable to the growth of opera appreciation in this country were much in evidence — a clear delineation of the text, both through sensible translation and appropriate diction, and effective, believable acting.

Guiding force in this "Fledermaus" was again Eugene Ober, who led singers and orchestra through a quickly paced but warm-hearted account of Johann Strauss' evergreen score.

* * * *

MEETING THE standard set in the pit, director Emile Renan and designer Homer Greathouse did their finest work in this production. Greathouse's sets were, not seemingly, but actually, spacious, and allowed Renan's actors both freedom and variety. Principals and chorus moved easily, therefore, and gave everyone in the audience a chance to see their lovely costumes.

If the sets were roomy, the details of their decoration were sometimes questionable, however. Since the costumes were (with the exception of one lone bustle) clearly in the style of Vienna, 1874, it seemed odd that the furniture, not to mention the countless little decorator's touches which cluttered a lot of the stage, was so flagrantly Laguna, 1965.

* * * *

THE THREE principals, Carol Bayard, Leona Gordon and Davis Cunningham, musically impeccable and unfaltering in their acting, gave smooth, professional performances.

The ladies, truth to tell, might have been better had their roles been reversed, since Miss Gordon's deeper, more dramatic voice, and elegant, sophisticated good looks are more suited to Rosalinda than to Adele. Yet, what they did, they did well, their separate arias highlighting the second act.

Cunningham's Eisenstein, artistocratic, well-articulated, believable, is that rare mixture of acting and singing in which neither element dominates, yet both triumph.

Raymond Gagan and Brian Turner, as Dr. Blind, and Frank, made large vocal and comedic contributions in small parts. Effective also were Howard Chitjian as Falke, Charles D'Arvo as Alfred and Margot Blum as Orlofsky.

Hans Lampl's good-looking chorus sang better in this performance than previously. As noted, they also moved better.

Making a brief but remarkable appearance in the Ball scene were dancers Karel Shimoff and Alexander Nigodoff, principals of the Ballet of Los Angeles. For me, they could have continued their elegant pas de deux for another 10 minutes.

THE STARS

What They're Doing . . .

By M. E. GEORGE

Basil Rathbone will play Reggie Ripper in American International Pictures' terror, "Slumber Party in a Haunted House" which also employs Deborah Walley, Harvey Lembeck, Nancy Sinatra and Claudia Martin.

Melina Mercouri and Romy Schneider star with Peter Finch in "10:30 of a Summer's Evening" . . . The Old Model A Ford Mickey Rooney drove around in as "Andy Hardy" 25 years ago is still running—it's driven in "Once a Thief," starring Alain Delon, Ann-Margret, Van Heflin and Jack Palance . . . "The Hill," set for October release in the U.S. co-stars Ossie Davis, Harry Andres, Ian Bannen and Michael Redgrave . . . Ed Sullivan will play himself in "The Singing Nun."

ROMY KRISTIN

MELINA BASIL

Jerry Lewis has signed Janet Leigh to co-star with him in "Three on a Couch" . . . James Mason has signed a multiple-picture contract with Columbia . . . Yves Montand, who sang the liberation song of the French people when the allies freed Paris from the Germans in 1944, will recreate his real life role in "Is Paris Burning?" . . . Kristin Nelson, wife of Rick, team up as newlyweds in their first movie together, "Love and Kisses."

Clive Revill, British actor who scored on Broadway in "Irma La Douce" and "Oliver!" has his first U.S. film role in "A Fine Madness" for Warners, joining Sean Connery, Joanne Woodward and Jean Seberg in the cast.

Backus Crack Golfer

Jim Backus of "Gilligan's Island" was such a crack golfer as a youngster that he considered becoming a golf pro.

Ice Follies Sets L.A., L.B. Runs

Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies of 1966 will be coming to the Long Beach Arena following its Los Angeles Sports Arena engagement scheduled for Sept. 9 through Sept. 23.

The Long Beach premiere will be held Sept. 24. The world's original ice revue, considered by skating experts as tops in entertainment, will hold 15 performances at the Rainbow Pier facility, closing Sunday, Oct. 3.

Many of the famous stars who for the past several years have become favorites of audiences from coast to coast, will be appearing at the ocean front arena.

These include Richard Dwyer, Dorothyann Nelson, Jill Shipstad, Mr. Frick, Patsy Cook, Ina Bauer, The Beattys, Istvan Szenes and Inge and Willi Schilling.

Mary Wills, the Ice Follies Academy Award winning designer, has again turned on new tricks and talent to bring breathtaking beauty to the show.

THE WILLIAMS family: Johnny, Pat, Debbie, 11, and Robbie, 8, do a wild, wild western turn in the Ice Follies of 1966.

NEW SHOW

Cat Ballou

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Ginger Rogers is likely to become the last word on everything n B'way since going into "Hello, Dolly!"—her dress of autumn color was so high above her knees the other day at the Bennett Cerfs' apartment that I said, "You like those above-the-knees fashions evidently?"

"Yes, I find they're quite attractive . . . I think they're kind of fun." Ginger didn't pull her dress down as girls have been known to do.

"Freedom in clothes is necessary nowadays . . . with the ability to get in and out of those cars that are built as they are . . . You really need clothes that will work in getting in and out of different kinds of transporation," Ginger said.

Again she didn't pull down her skirt. In fact, I thing it was inching up. And I didn't have the nerve to mention to Ginger that she wasn't getting out of a compact cab now . . . she was just sitting on a divan . . . . showing her knees . . . which were and are beautiful.

* * * *

"HOW HIGH above the dress do you wear your knees?" I said, as her knees had me flustered.

Laughing, she said, "Three inches above the knees when I'm sitting down . . ."

"More like five," I wrote in my notebook.

"When I'm standing at the center of the kneecap."

"You wouldn't recommend this for all women . . . say, for, oh . . . a woman shaped like the late Elsa Maxwell?"

"Well, there are women who shouldn't wear their hair behind their ears, either, and some men shouldn't have their hair cut so short that their ears stick out!"

* * * *

GINGER, who's a shade above the magic age of 50 now, exchanged smiles and quips with her husband, movie producer William Marshall, her fifth, as we sat in the Cerfs' living room. Ginger is a cousin of Mrs. Cerf.

Ginger and her husband have produced a picture in Jamaica, "The Confession," in which a young girl is heard praying for forgiveness for making preparations for killing herself.

"And do you play the young girl?"

Ginger leaped up and cried, "Shall we dance?"

GINGER ROGERS

Actually, she plays the proprietress of a bawdy house, Madame Renault. "Don't I Sam??" she asked Marshall.

"'Sam?'" I said. He's "Sam," and she's "Little Sam"—and it's because he's a Sam Spade fan that they have those love nicknames for each other.

* * * *

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's Phyllis Diller's description of a zany neighbor: "She makes pea soup by boiling Green Stamps."

* * * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Glenda Grainger saw the new bathing suits, and decided: "The girls who complain they have nothing to wear are wearing it."

* * * *

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "'Justice' is what we get when the decision is in our favor."—John W. Raper.

* * * *

EARL'S PEARLS: Shelby Friedman complained about his new apartment: "It's so small that they used it to train astronauts for life in a capsule."

Jackie Vernon, who's excellent at the Persian Rm., reports on his weight problem: "I gained so much I had to have my shower curtain let out." . . . That's earl, brother.

'DIE FLEDERMAUS'

Laguna Beach's Opera Sparkles

By DANIEL CARIAGA

A sparkling production of "Die Fledermaus," sung in witty, understandable English, was the final offering of Laguna Beach's fourth annual Festival of Opera, as it opened its third weekend Friday night in Irvine Bowl.

Two factors indispensable to the growth of opera appreciation in this country were much in evidence — a clear delineation of the text, both through sensible translation and appropriate diction, and effective, believable acting.

Guiding force in this "Fledermaus" was again Eugene Ober, who led singers and orchestra through a quickly paced but warm-hearted account of Johann Strauss' evergreen score.

* * * *

MEETING THE standard set in the pit, director Emile Renan and designer Homer Greathouse did their finest work in this production. Greathouse's sets were, not seemingly, but actually, spacious, and allowed Renan's actors both freedom and variety. Principals and chorus moved easily, therefore, and gave everyone in the audience a chance to see their lovely costumes.

If the sets were roomy, the details of their decoration were sometimes questionable, however. Since the costumes were (with the exception of one lone bustle) clearly in the style of Vienna, 1874, it seemed odd that the furniture, not to mention the countless little decorator's touches which cluttered a lot of the stage, was so flagrantly Laguna, 1965.

* * * *

THE THREE principals, Carol Bayard, Leona Gordon and Davis Cunningham, musically impeccable and unfaltering in their acting, gave smooth, professional performances.

The ladies, truth to tell, might have been better had their roles been reversed, since Miss Gordon's deeper, more dramatic voice, and elegant, sophisticated good looks are more suited to Rosalinda than to Adele. Yet, what they did, they did well, their separate arias highlighting the second act.

Cunningham's Eisenstein, artistocratic, well-articulated, believable, is that rare mixture of acting and singing in which neither element dominates, yet both triumph.

Raymond Gagan and Brian Turner, as Dr. Blind, and Frank, made large vocal and comedic contributions in small parts. Effective also were Howard Chitjian as Falke, Charles D'Arvo as Alfred and Margot Blum as Orlofsky.

Hans Lampl's good-looking chorus sang better in this performance than previously. As noted, they also moved better.

Making a brief but remarkable appearance in the Ball scene were dancers Karel Shimoff and Alexander Nigodoff, principals of the Ballet of Los Angeles. For me, they could have continued their elegant pas de deux for another 10 minutes.

THE WEEK IN REVIEW

Bitter India-Pakistan Feud Nearing Full-Scale War

Compiled From The I. P-T's Wire Services

For the moment, the eyes of the world shifted from Viet Nam to Kashmir; full-scale war between India and Pakistan seemed imminent.

Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan have feuded for years over the tiny mountain state of Kashmir. A cease-fire line, hammered out 17 years ago by the United Nations, gave two-thirds of Kashmir to India, one-third to Pakistan. Border incidents have been common, and three weeks ago activity began to pick up.

Last week the Pakistan army invaded the Indian-held part of Kashmir, their columns spearheaded with American-gift Patton tanks and F86 Sabrejets.

This, said Pakistan, was "a defensive measure forced upon Pakistan by Indian bellicosity." The Indians fought back with British Vampire jets, aging British Centurion tanks and American Shermans.

PAKISTAN quickly claimed penetrations of 6 to 8 miles into India, said it had "severely mauled" several Indian army brigades, captured 15 tanks and taken at least 150 prisoners of war.

At week's end appeals to both sides, by world governments and by U. N. Secretary General Thant, had gone unheeded. If fighting could not be checked, the whole sub-continent might soon be aflame. There were rumors that India, crossing the border at another spot, might soon aim a column directly at the major Pakistan city of Lahore.

In Viet Nam, the American and South Vietnamese forces closed out August with one of the best records yet. Air attacks against the Communists, in both South and North Viet Nam, were at an all-time high.

THE VIET Cong sustained record losses, in one big encirclement at Chu Lai and in many minor engagements. The South Viet Nam army morale rose, defections dropped. The long-awaited monsoon-season offensive of the Viet Cong obviously had been crippled, if not crushed.

For a summer week, there was intense activity on the industry-labor front. One of the longest-costliest strikes in maritime history ended, a steel strike threat was erased, and one of the biggest rail mergers in history was proposed.

After 78 days, and at presidential prodding, ship officer unions made peace one by one with the industry and at last the ships began to move.

THE STRIKE, idling hundreds of freighters and cutting the luxury liners out of the lucrative summer tourist trade, cost losses of at least $150 million. The settlement brought four-year, no-strike contracts, pay increases and agreements on the key issues—job security, manning levels and automation.

In steel, the 10 major companies and the United Steel Workers Union, representing 350,000 employes, came down to the Sept. 1 deadline with no agreement. Monday morning President Johnson had them in the White House and, with a bit of his famous arm twisting told them, "You fellows really get down to business." It was plain the President would tolerate no steel strike.

Late Tuesday night, at a hastily-called news conference in New York, the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway and the Norfolk & Western announced they had agreed to merge. They said they hoped to bring in five other rail systems with them—Erie-Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson, Boston & Maine, Reading, and Central of New Jersey.

The vast deal, if successful, would create a system of 26,000 miles, with annual revenues of $1.8 billion. It was complicated, it was exciting and it was full of road blocks. Management stockholders of at least some of the proposed partners immediately raised obstacles. If it came off at all, the merger was years off.

WITH virtually no dissent, Congress completed action on creation of an 11th cabinet post, the Department of Housing and Urban Development, giving new status to such problems as urban renewal, mass transportation and community planning.

The action, first proposed in the Kennedy regime, carried with it the strong possibility that Robert C. Weaver would head the new department, thus becoming the first Negro cabinet member in history. Weaver now heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency, which will be the core of the new department.

President Johnson is expected to name Weaver, though the name of Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, who will be job-hunting come Jan. 1, has been mentioned.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a $787 million program aimed at increasing the quality and quantity of the nation's medical manpower. Through loans, it was would educate medical and dental students and finance construction, repair and replacement of schools to train doctors, dentists, optometrists, pharmacists and podiatrists.

* * * *

THE SENATE passed a House-approved $4.7 billion, long-range measure to provide help for hard-pressed college students and colleges hard-pressed to accommodate them. The program also would improve teaching in elementary and secondary schools and set up a "national teachers' corps."

The Social Security Administration began mailing $885 million in retroactive paychecks to more than 20 million persons who got a 7% pension hike under the recently enacted medicare for the elderly bill. The raise dates back to last Jan. 1.

The Senate put on its calendar for action next week a House-passed bill to nullify right-to-work laws in 19 states. Supported by President Johnson, the legislation holds priority on the AFL-CIO's legislative list. But it may head into a Republican-Southern Democratic filibuster.

The House approved its own $90 million version of a Senate-passed bill to authorize a federal "fast train" research program pointed at getting persons traveling between major cities off the highways and on the railroad track. The three-year project sponsored by Johnson calls for 150-mile-an-hour trains along the densely populated northeast corridor from Washington to Boston. Senate-House conferees must now work out a compromise.

* * * *

A MAJORITY of House members—218—signed a petition to discharge the hostile House Rules Committee from consideration of a Senate-passed bill to give the heavily Negro District of Columbia, seat of the nation's capital, home rule. Johnson hailed the development as "a decisive step toward full partnership in the American union." He had used his personal influence—arm-twisting, some politicians call it—to win the necessary signatures.

The southern states desegregated schools on a massive scale as the fall term opened, either in compliance with the old Supreme Court edict or to prevent a cutoff of federal funds to schools which refuse to integrate.

* * * *

MEANTIME, the President continued the rearrangement of his official family by appointing Lawrence Francis O'Brien as postmaster general. He succeeded John A. Gronouski, grandson of a Polish immigrant, who will become ambassador to Poland.

O'Brien, 48, a Massachusetts public relations expert, had a prominent part in the election of John F. Kennedy as President. Kennedy brought him into the White House as a special assistant to lobby administration proposals through Congress.

At his famed African hospital in Lambarene, Gabon, Dr. Albert Schweitzer lay ill of exhaustion, his condition "gradually deteriorating." The 90-year-old Nobel Prize winner, under treatment since last Sunday, was receiving messages of encouragement from all over the world, including one from President Johnson.

Moscow's loss may be Saigon's gain. The Russians, apparently upset over Viet Nam, canceled a tour of "Hello Dolly," starring Mary Martin. Producer David Merrick immediately offered to take the show to American troops in Viet Nam instead, right after a three-week engagement in Tokyo, ending Sept. 29.

"We could do it on platforms, if necessary," said Merrick. His Viet Nam offer, he said, is for "as many shows as they'd want." At that rate, the war might never end.

Nasser Home From Red Tour

CAIRO (AP)—Thousands of Egyptians welcomed President Gamal Abdel Nasser home Saturday from talks with officials in the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

In both countries Nasser presented what was described here as a peace plan for Viet Nam. Details have not been disclosed.

In a communique ending his visit to Yugoslavia, Nasser joined President Tito in calling for an end to the U.S. bombing attacks on Communist North Viet Nam.

THE BUSINESS WEEK

Best Advance in Month Due to Optimistic View

by JAMES T. McCAUSLAND

NEW YORK (UPI)—An optimistic economic outlook overcame hesitancy created by the steel crisis and allowed the market to make its best and broadest advance in a month. Trading was fairly active.

President Johnson's personal attempts to arrive at a swift and peaceful settlement of steel negotiations stimulated these issues and the merger announcement between Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western and five smaller lines depressed rails, but neither had much effect on the rest of the market.

* * * *

ON THE technical side the experts were pleased by the breakthrough in the psychological 900 resistance level in the Dow-Jones average. The six-point upswing which put the indicator through the 900 mark Thursday apparently lifted some traders' apprehensions—a fact substantiated by a 7.57 advance Friday, a preholiday session usually marked by profit-taking.

Dow-Jones Industrial average soared 12.01 to 907.97 on the week, its best advance since it jumped more than 17 points in the week ending July 29. The rail component slipped 1.43 to 217.75, reflecting the poor performance of most of these issues following the merger announcement. Utilities gained only 1.36 at 156.66. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index climbed 0.86 to 88.06.

Volume rose to 27,976,200 shares compared with 27,056,000 shares the week before and 21,310,154 shares in the same week of 1964.

* * * *

OF THE 1,533 issues to cross the tape, 960 advanced, 418 declined and 155 remained unchanged. There were 129 new 1965 highs and 32 touched new lows.

Great Western Financial topped the active list with a turnover of 691,100 shares. The issue closed out the week at 13¾, up 1⅜.

Other big savings and loans gainers included First Charter Financial, advancing 3⅜, Financial Federation up 3⅞ and Wesco Financial up 2⅝.

Control Data advanced 4½ to 361/2 on 533,800 shares to take second place.

KLM Royal Dutch airlines moved into third place on the list. It climbed only ½ point at 62¾ on 354,600 shares.

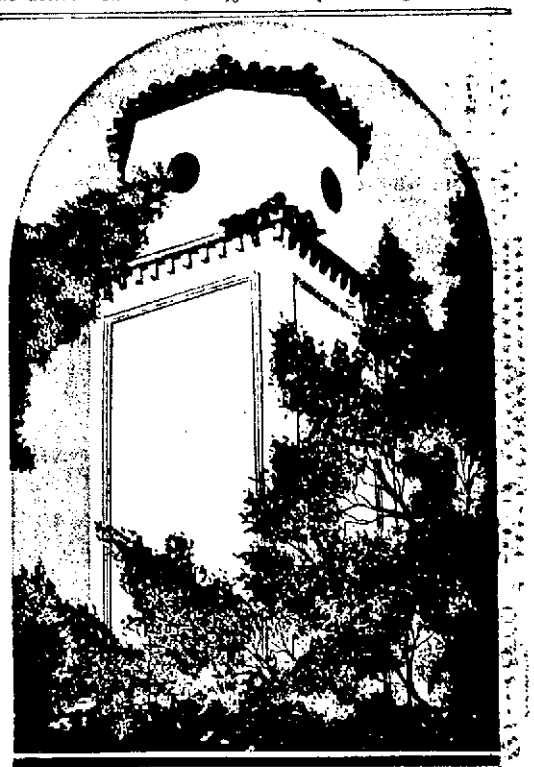

Westinghouse Electric also was among the actives, advancing 1⅛ to 55½ on sales of 302,500, despite a price-fixing assessment against the company early in the week. The suit also included General Electric which gained 3½ for the week.

A king size block also pushed Union Carbide onto the active list. It rose 3⅝. The block, worth approximately $600,000 was sold by a broker who purchased more than $17 million worth of the stock several months ago.

* * * *

CHESAPEAKE & Ohio advanced 3½ for the week and Norfolk slid 1¾. Baltimore & Ohio, 90% owned by the C&O, rose 1⅜. Erie Lackawanna fell 2 points and Erie preferred dropped 5¾. Reading dipped ¾, Boston & Maine 4⅝ and Delaware & Hudson 3¼.

In steels, Lukens rose 4, Jones and Laughlin 2½, McLouth 2¾, Wheeling 1⅝, U.S. Steel 1¼ and Bethlehem and Republic large fractions.

Bitter India-Pakistan Feud Nearing Full-Scale War

Compiled From The I. P-T's Wire Services

For the moment, the eyes of the world shifted from Viet Nam to Kashmir; full-scale war between India and Pakistan seemed imminent.

Hindu India and Moslem Pakistan have feuded for years over the tiny mountain state of Kashmir. A cease-fire line, hammered out 17 years ago by the United Nations, gave two-thirds of Kashmir to India, one-third to Pakistan. Border incidents have been common, and three weeks ago activity began to pick up.

Last week the Pakistan army invaded the Indian-held part of Kashmir, their columns spearheaded with American-gift Patton tanks and F86 Sabrejets.

This, said Pakistan, was "a defensive measure forced upon Pakistan by Indian bellicosity." The Indians fought back with British Vampire jets, aging British Centurion tanks and American Shermans.

* * * *

PAKISTAN quickly claimed penetrations of 6 to 8 miles into India, said it had "severely mauled" several Indian army brigades, captured 15 tanks and taken at least 150 prisoners of war.

Nasser Home From Red Tour

CAIRO (AP)—Thousands of Egyptians welcomed President Gamal Abdel Nasser home Saturday from talks with officials in the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia.

In both countries Nasser presented what was described here as a peace plan for Viet Nam. Details have not been disclosed.

In a communique ending his visit to Yugoslavia, Nasser joined President Tito in calling for an end to the U.S. bombing attacks on Communist North Viet Nam.

* * * *

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for Aquarius, Pisces. Special word to LIBRA: Gain cooperation of individual who expresses sincere concern. Display sense of humor.

THE BUSINESS WEEK

Best Advance in Month Due to Optimistic View

by JAMES T. McCAUSLAND

NEW YORK (UPI)—An optimistic economic outlook overcame hesitancy created by the steel crisis and allowed the market to make its best and broadest advance in a month. Trading was fairly active.

President Johnson's personal attempts to arrive at a swift and peaceful settlement of steel negotiations stimulated these issues and the merger announcement between Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western and five smaller lines depressed rails, but neither had much effect on the rest of the market.

* * * *

ON THE technical side the experts were pleased by the breakthrough in the psychological 900 resistance level in the Dow-Jones average. The six-point upswing which put the indicator through the 900 mark Thursday apparently lifted some traders' apprehensions—a fact substantiated by a 7.57 advance Friday, a preholiday session usually marked by profit-taking.

Dow-Jones Industrial average soared 12.01 to 907.97 on the week, its best advance since it jumped more than 17 points in the week ending July 29. The rail component slipped 1.43 to 217.75, reflecting the poor performance of most of these issues following the merger announcement. Utilities gained only 1.36 at 156.66. Standard & Poor's 500 stock index climbed 0.86 to 88.06.

Volume rose to 27,976,200 shares compared with 27,056,000 shares the week before and 21,310,154 shares in the same week of 1964.

* * * *

OF THE 1,533 issues to cross the tape, 960 advanced, 418 declined and 155 remained unchanged. There were 129 new 1965 highs and 32 touched new lows.

Great Western Financial topped the active list with a turnover of 691,100 shares. The issue closed out the week at 13¾, up 1⅝.

Other big savings and loans gainers included First Charter Financial, advancing 3⅜, Financial Federation up 3⅞ and Westco Financial up 2⅝.

Control Data advanced 4½ to 38½ on 532,800 shares to take second place.

KLM Royal Dutch airlines moved into third place on the list. It climbed only ½ point at 62¼ on 354,600 shares.

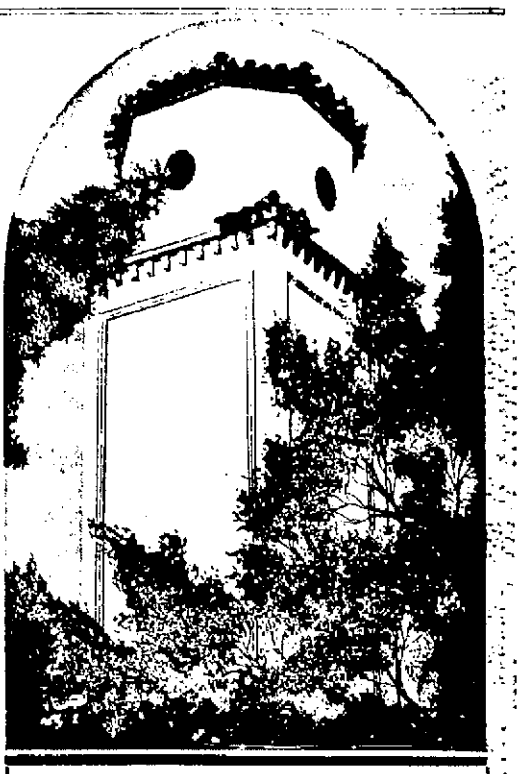

Westinghouse Electric also was among the actives, advancing 1⅛ to 53½ on sales of 302,500, despite a price-fixing assessment against the company early in the week. The suit also included General Electric which gained 3½ for the week.

A king size block also pushed Union Carbide onto the active list. It rose 3⅝. The block, worth approximately $600,000 was sold by a broker who purchased more than $17 million worth of the stock several months ago.

* * * *

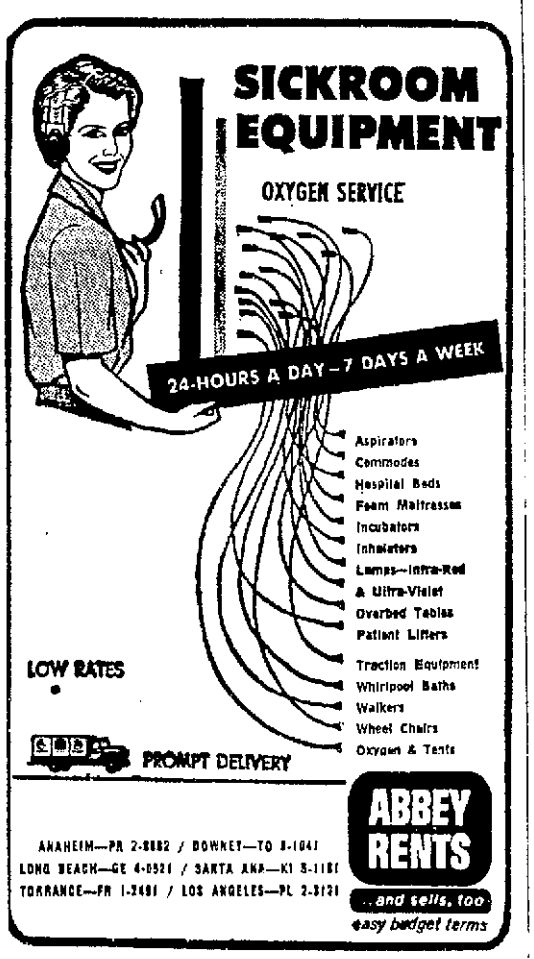

CHESAPEAKE & Ohio advanced 3½ for the week and Norfolk slid 1⅞. Baltimore & Ohio, 90% owned by the C&O, rose 1⅜. Erie Lackawanna fell 2 points and Erie preferred dropped 5¾. Reading dipped ¾. Boston & Maine 4⅝ and Delaware & Hudson 3¼.

In steels, Lukens rose 4, Jones and Laughlin 2⅛, McLouth 2¾, Wheeling 1⅝, U.S. Steel 1¼ and Bethlehem and Republic large fractions.

DOWNTOWN LONG BEACH ASSOCIATES
601 PACIFIC AVENUE • LONG BEACH 12, CALIFORNIA • HEmlock 5-7377 OR DIAL "HELPERS"

August-September 3, 1965

Dear Teacher:

We're delighted that you have chosen the Long Beach area as the place in which to work for the coming year.

Our welcome is most sincere . . . and as a result, the Downtown Long Beach Associates and the Long Beach Public Transportation Company have declared September 7-11 as Teachers Recognition Week.

Moreover, the Downtown Associates have made available $500 in merchandise certificates, and you could be a winner.

Clip the coupon below and deposit it in any of the Downtown stores or businesses which display the Teachers Recognition Week banner on their windows, and you will be eligible for the following prizes:

First Prize, $100 . . . Second Prize, $50 . . . Third Prize, $25 . . . Fourth Prize, $10 . . . The Next Eleven Recognition Prizes, $5 each . . . The next 130 Recognition Prizes, $2 each . . . A grand total of 145 prizes worth $500 in merchandise certificates! The drawing will be held on September 17, and you will be notified by mail and through the Teacher's Bulletin if you win.

As a get-acquainted gesture, the Long Beach Public Transportation Company is making it possible for all NEW teachers, with the identification card below, to ride the 63 all-new big, blue buses free anywhere, at any time, as often as you wish, on the entire day of September 9th.

Any business that is a member of Downtown Long Beach Associates always will be pleased to serve you on a cash or charge basis. You may dial HE 5-7377 (H-E-L-P-E-R-S) for shopping information.

We are proud of our fine local school system. We know that it is the perennially high calibre of our dedicated teachers who make it so. We want the teachers to know about the friendly service and depth and variety of merchandise to be found in our shopping district . . . the largest and longest established in the area . . . Downtown Long Beach.

We wish you a happy and most successful school year.

August-September 3, 1965

Dear Teacher:

We're delighted that you have chosen the Long Beach area as the place in which to work for the coming year.

Our welcome is most sincere . . . and as a result, the Downtown Long Beach Associates and the Long Beach Public Transportation Company have declared September 7-11 as Teachers Recognition Week.

Moreover, the Downtown Associates have made available $500 in merchandise certificates, and you could be a winner.

Clip the coupon below and deposit it in any of the Downtown stores or businesses which display the Teachers Recognition Week banner on their windows, and you will be eligible for the following prizes:

First Prize, $100 . . . Second Prize, $50 . . . Third Prize, $25 . . . Fourth Prize, $10 . . . The Next Eleven Recognition Prizes, $5 each . . . The next 130 Recognition Prizes, $2 each . . . A grand total of 145 prizes worth $500 in merchandise certificates! The drawing will be held on September 17, and you will be notified by mail and through the Teacher's Bulletin if you win.

As a get-acquainted gesture, the Long Beach Public Transportation Company is making it possible for all NEW teachers, with the identification card below, to ride the 63 all-new big, blue buses free anywhere, at any time, as often as you wish, on the entire day of September 9th.

Any business that is a member of Downtown Long Beach Associates always will be pleased to serve you on a cash or charge basis. You may dial HE 5-7377 (H-E-L-P-E-R-S) for shopping information.

We are proud of our fine local school system. We know that it is the perennially high calibre of our dedicated teachers who make it so. We want the teachers to know about the friendly service and depth and variety of merchandise to be found in our shopping district . . . the largest and longest established in the area . . . Downtown Long Beach.

We wish you a happy and most successful school year.

THERE'S nothing like old trains to produce nostalgia. People who talk and write about "the old days" experiences of their youth, or the places where they once lived—are always mentioning the trains that went through their town or by their farm, the town depot, travel experiences on "the cars."

The subject has such a wistful pull that there is a cult of old train enthusiasts who collect and preserve information about old trains and old railroads, and organize special trips for themselves and their kind.

One reason why trains have such a prominent place in yearning memories is that there aren't so many of them any more. The railroads are steadily abandoning passenger runs. Old station houses, once busy are boarded up or dismantled.

* * * *

USUALLY the discontinuance of a train is accompanied by howls of protest. City councils and chambers of commerce resolve and plead. Objectors appear before the utility commissions. But one by one the trains go. At the moment there's a ruckus about discontinuing another train on the Santa Fe between L.A. and San Diego. L.A.'s Mayor Yorty says they're trying to abandon the wrong train. But sooner or later, it will go.

Long Beach's regular train service lies so far in history that not many people here now even know about it. But there are still many who remember the big interurban Red Cars wistfully. They provided the last L.B. passenger train service. Just the other day one of the city's prominent old-timers was recalling how he met his wife some decades ago on one of the Red Cars. Many people here saw this city the first time from the window of one of those high-built coaches.

They are gone now and so far as I know there isn't the vestige of a passenger station left in the Long Beach area. The last to go, I think, was the old station on E. Anaheim, which was on the now abandoned Newport line of the P.E. It was dismantled a couple of years ago after years of sitting idle.

* * * *

VENTURING a little relevant personal reference, I came full circle on a train situation the other day.

I saw an item where the Southern Pacific is proposing to abandon the Shasta Daylight, a beautiful train that plies between San Francisco and Portland. People along the line are protesting, but it is going out of business.

Now I was living on the Southern Pacific in Oregon when they started the Shasta Daylight in the late 'forties. It was a project we'd worked on for several years. It seems such a short time ago that we proudly watched the brightly painted Shasta Daylight roll into town, make a quick stop, and hustle out again on the fastest rail run ever made between S.F. and Portland.

Soon the Shasta Daylight will be no more and I like others get a nostalgic twinge about an old passenger train.

* * * *

THIS SORT of reminiscing will pass entirely in another generation or so. There are any number of children or even teen-agers that have never been on a train and many have never seen one. Give a few years and there won't be anyone around to fondly remember old trains.

There may be, of course, new trains — fast, fancy, commuter types of the kind they're always talking about in connection with rapid transit dreams in this area. But they would be nothing like the old-timers, nor even like the relatively modern Shasta Daylight.

COAST GUARD'S P.V. STATION

Where Every Call's an SOS

By STEVE GIBSON

A pleasure boat develops engine trouble in the San Pedro Channel and radios for assistance.

"Calling the Coast Guard . . ."

The call for help is received at the 11th Coast Guard District's radio station at Point Vicente on the Palos Verdes Peninsula and relayed to the Coast Guard Rescue Control Center in Long Beach.

Receiving and relaying messages for the 11th District, which stretches from the Central California coast south to Guatemala, is the job of the two Coast Guard officers and 27 enlisted men who operate the radio station and lighthouse at Point Vicente.

* * * *

LAST YEAR THE station handled more than 49,000 written messages, an increase of 4,000 over the previous year.

"We're primarily interested in the safety of boats and ships off the Southern California coast," explains Chief Warrant Officer Kenneth L. Heinzen, commanding officer of the facility.

"To help insure the safety of these craft," he says, "we have men on watch 24 hours a day listening to our radios for boats and ships in distress."

* * * *

MOST OF THE thousands of visitors who tour the Point Vicente lighthouse each year are unaware that in the Spanish-style buildings a few yards away young Coast Guard radiomen sit hunched over radios listening for distress signals.

The facility occupies a grassy, 11-acre promontory dotted with palm trees, radio aerials and white stucco buildings with red tile roofs. The buildings look more like middle-class homes than military housing.

Most of the distress signals received by the station are from pleasure boats. "They're either out of gas, the engine has quit or they're lost," explains Heinzen. "The boating public relies on this station a tremendous amount."

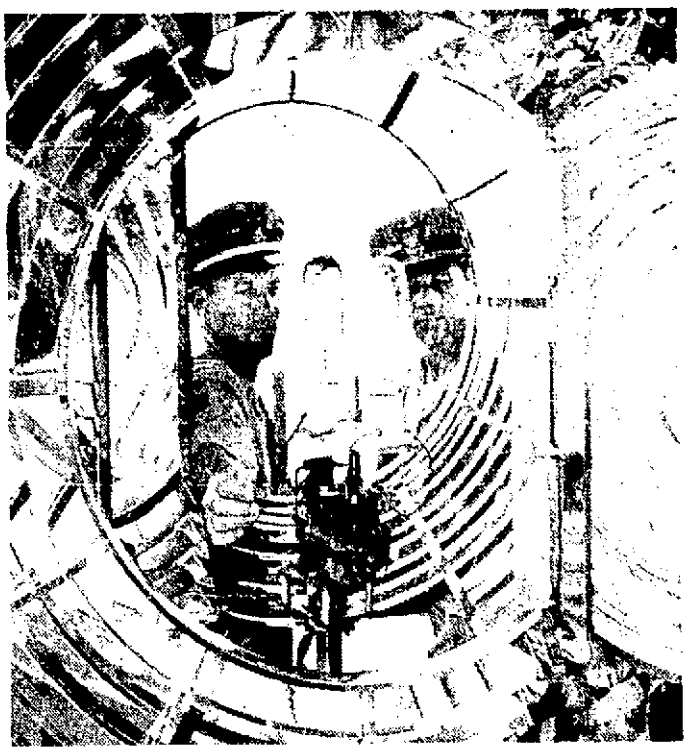

* * * *

TWO MONTHS AGO the station was linked up to the Coast Guard's automated merchant vessel reporting system in New York. This system enables the Coast Guard to determine, through the use of an IBM computer, the location of any merchant ship in distress.

Merchant ships voluntarily participate in the system, informing the Coast Guard of their departures, destinations, routes and arrivals.

"Using this system," says station executive officer, Chief Warrant Officer Eugene Ockrassa, "all we have to have is the name of the vessel in distress and New York can tell us its approximate location and which ships are near it."

The radio station is 30 years old. Construction is scheduled to begin this month on new barracks and radio facilities.

Starlight Serenade Sept. 14

RALPH GARI
Soloist

Ralph Gari, clarinet and saxophone virtuoso, will be the featured soloist with the Long Beach Symphony for the final free Starlight Serenade of the 1965 season at 8 p.m. Sept. 14 in Bixby Park.

Gari is widely acclaimed as a soloist, teacher, and lecturer. He is currently soloist with the Disneyland Band.

For the Bixby Park concert, Gari will play Concertino for Clarinet, by von Weber, and two saxophone numbers, Dance Episode, by John Rarig, and Concertina, by Jack Hayes. The latter was written especially for Gari by the Hollywood composer.

Lauris Jones, conductor of the Long Beach Symphony, returns to conduct the orchestra after a brief vacation. He will lead the orchestra in selections by Tchaikovsky, Benjamin Britten, Jerome Kern, Irving Berlin, Leroy Anderson, and Richard Rodgers.

There will also be a salute to the centennial anniversary of the Salvation Army.

Hosking in SAC News Post

MAJOR E. W. HOSKING
To SAC Post

Maj. Everett W. Hosking, editor of the Independent, Press-Telegram's Sunday Department, and Air Force Reservist, has been chosen to head the Strategic Air Command's news division for the annual SAC Bombing Navigation Competition.

Maj. Hosking has been temporarily recalled to active duty with the Air Force for the event, which will be held at Fairchild Air Force Base, Wash., this month.

Top bomber crews from all 44 of SAC's worldwide wings will take part in the exercises.

The Air Force news staff handling the event has been assembled from all SAC bases in the United States.

Fifteenth Air Force, headquartered at nearby March Air Force Base and which has jurisdiction over SAC bases in the western United States. Alaska and Guam, is host to this year's event. Maj. Hosking has been attached to the Directorate of Information at 15th as a Reservist for some time.

Maj. Hosking and his wife, Harriet, reside in Long Beach. Their son, Bill, is a Navy lieutenant on sea duty in the western Pacific.

Advance Enrollment Deadlines Set at CC

Advance registration for the fall semester will end Tuesday for day classes and Wednesday for evening classes at two campuses of Long Beach City College.

At the Business and Technology Campus, 1305 E. Pacific Coast Highway, day students may register without appointment from 10 a.m. to noon and 1-3 p.m. Tuesday in the gymnasium. Evening students will be registered from 6-8:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

At the Liberal Arts Campus, 4901 E. Carson Street, day registration will be held from 1-4 p.m. Tuesday in the women's gymnasium. Evening registration, for both new and continuing students, is scheduled from 6-8:30 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

Students enrolling in courses numbered 1-55 should bring a diploma or other proof of high school graduation at the time of registration. Returning City College students are advised to bring their student registration numbers.

Enrollment in all other City College courses, including all Adult Center classes, will begin with the start of the fall term on September 13.

All States Picnic Sept. 12

The forty-first annual picnic of The All States Society of Long Beach to be held at Recreation Park next Sunday will mark the 100th anniversary of the founding of The Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army Long Beach Temple Band will give a concert at 1 p.m., and the invocation will be offered by Mrs. Kenneth E. Anderson.

Kyle Piercy, prominent in Salvation Army activities for many years, will discuss the organization's century of service and will introduce Roland R. Bach, retired manager of the Long Beach Chapter of the American Cross.

The Parade of Fifty Flags, the Posting of the Colors, and the Pledge of Allegiance will be conducted by the Boy Scouts of America.

Roller Coaster

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE is based on the belief that a citizen has the right to disobey a law he considers unjust if he is willing to face the consequences.

Civil disobedience has been a factor in America since the beginning. Our Revolution, from the viewpoint of King George, was civil disobedience.

Perhaps the worst upsurge of civil disobedience was the prohibition era. Many Americans believed they had a right to drink, so the law be damned.

THE REV. DR. ROBERT B. WATTS, an Episcopal pastor in La Jolla, made a significant point about civil disobedience: "Of course, the worst thing about this doctrine is that there are no dividing lines in it. If it is valid in a small violation, it applies equally to a more serious one.

"Once you start this approach there is no stopping. It is like a roller coaster which nears the top of the track. Once you push it over a little bit, it plunges down all the way."

Prohibition is a perfect example. Many respectable people bought booze from bootleggers. Because they disobeyed what they held to be an unjust law, America was wracked by gang wars.

MANY CLERGYMEN disagree with Dr. Watts and have openly flouted laws they consider unjust in civil rights demonstrations. There can be no doubt of their idealistic motives but their good judgment is certainly in question.

Didn't South Los Angeles go over the top of the roller coaster?

New Holy War

"THERE IS NO GOD BUT ALLAH."

Inspired by this battle slogan, the troops of Pakistan are hurling themselves against Indian forces in Kashmir. Whether it is a military adventure or the beginning of a showdown, this is a religious war.

Religious wars are the worst kind because they are fanatical, furious, utterly ruthless.

ONCE THE CONQUERING hordes of Arabia terrorized three continents, establishing Islam from Spain to Malaya.

Moslems are not alone in the experience of holy wars. Christians, whose doctrine teaches love for all men, have had their share. They poured into Palestine during the Crusades. They reduced Europe to a slaughterhouse in the terrible wars of the Protestant Reformation.

And then the princes and prelates learned a measure of wisdom after their ordeal. When Protestant Prince Henry became heir to the throne of France on condition he become a Catholic, he said. "I think Paris is worth a Mass."

AND KING CHARLES II, when he succeeded the fanatical Cromwell in England, devoted his career to healing the wounds inflicted by the sectarians. Since then Christians have had many wars, but they never again attempted to establish the nature of God on the battlefield.

The Pakistanis have not achieved such moderation, and India has its fanatics. To the north of both is a nation of quite different fanatics, the hordes of Red China. This could become a big war.

Charity by Compulsion New Idea Inserted In Labor Bill

WASHINGTON—A strange thing has been introduced in free America — charity by compulsion. The committee in labor and public welfare of the United States Senate has just approved a bill containing a provision which would compel a worker to pay dues to a labor union he does not wish to join or else put up an equivalent sum of money to be given to a charitable organization designated by the union.

LAWRENCE

The amendment voted by the senate committee is attached to a bill which would take away from the states their power to enact or retain "right to work" laws. Under this amendment, if a worker has conscientious objections to joining a union, he would have to go before the National Labor Relations Board and ask for a certificate. To get it, he must prove that he is honest in his beliefs. He must establish beyond doubt that "he holds conscientious objections to membership in any labor organization based upon his religious training and beliefs in relation to a supreme being involving duties superior to those arising from any human relation."

Once the worker has been granted such a certificate—and presumably paid the expense of an attorney to help him through the complicated legal process — then there has to be a designation by the union or an agreement on the charity to which he will be compelled to contribute money equivalent to the "periodic dues and initiation fees" of the union. The new amendment says the charity must be "non-religious." The labor union is to control what kind of charity the worker selects, and a government agency will be able to review the choice to see whether or not the organization is religious or non-religious.

THE CONSTITUTION, of course, forbids Congress to enact any law prohibiting the "free exercise" of religion. This means that no law can permit discrimination by setting up barriers to contributions to religious funds as contrasted with non-religious charities.

Assuming that the bill is passed and that the labor union and the worker agree upon an approved organization to which the charitable contribution may be made, there is no certainty that the arrangement will continue indefinitely. For evidently a labor union, though it may have waived objection to such payments, can change its mind and still operate within this provision of the proposed law.

The simple truth is that the amendment, in effect, gives the labor union the right to keep a man out of a job unless he contributes to charity money equal to dues and initiation fees.

THE AMENDMENT was inserted in the proposed law with the consent of national labor-union leaders, who have been trying to emphasize that anyone who doesn't join a union is somehow getting a "free" service. The theory is that the union bears the expense of collective bargaining. But so does the employer. Nobody has proposed that the workers pay a fair share of the expenses of management in dealing with unions, but all the employees nevertheless get the benefit of the money spent by the employer in carrying on negotiations with the unions. If the "free riders" are to be abolished, maybe Congress should impose a tax upon employers and unions requiring each to pay half of the expenses of the National Labor Relations Board.

Nineteen states have laws forbidding compulsory unionization. But labor-union power—due to heavy contributions by union members to political campaigns —is so far-reaching today that it is seeking to pressure congress to nullify all state laws that permit the worker to have freedom of choice in joining or not joining a union.

It is surprising that any of the United States senators insist, in effect, that a man must prove his religious beliefs and do so to the satisfaction of a governmental agency. This applies whether he happens to be a member of a particular sect or simply declares he has conscientious objections to joining any organization of which he does not approve.

But even if the worker is generous about it all and is willing to put up an equivalent of dues and initiation fees, it may be wondered why he is not allowed to contribute to any charity he chooses — whether religious or non-religious—and why any labor union or any governmental agency should have anything to say about it. Since compulsory membership in labor unions is sincerely regarded by some citizens as a species of human bondage, it is unprecedented to find members of congress seeking to utilize the coercive power of government to require a man to pay a specific sum to charity as the price of immunity from labor-union rule.

Polish Hospital Ticklish Issue

By Washington Bureau Staff

WASHINGTON — One of John A. Gronouski's first tasks when he becomes ambassador to Poland will be to solve the ticklish problem of what to do about an American-funded research hospital for children in Cracow.

The hospital — the U.S.'s first people to people project —until recently was scheduled to be dedicated and handed over to the University of Cracow's school of medicine next month.

The ceremony was planned as a big show of American-Polish friendship. Forty congressmen and the vice president were expected to attend.

But when the United States Vietnam commitment got hotter, Polish enthusiasm for a widely-publicized friendship ceremony began to cool and the Poles put off the dedication.

Ambassador Gronouski's task will be two-fold: 1. To convince about half of the prospective congressional delegates to forget it. 2. To convince the Poles that a small ceremony would not compromise the Polish position on Vietnam.

Whether or not Vice President Humphrey would still go is up in the air. He reportedly wants to visit Poland, since he and Rep. Clement Zablocki, D., Wis., authorized the 1959 bill authorizing Agency for International Development funds to build the hospital.

The hospital cost about $10 million in currency that the U.S. receives from foreign countries for American commodities purchased under the Marshall Plan.

The Poles are delighted with the 300-bed hospital and are not resentful that it was built with "capitalist" funds. Unfortunately the hospital cannot legally be operated until after the dedication ceremony.

WHAT'S SAUCE for the legislative goose isn't sauce for the judicial gander, a member of the House judiciary committee observed last week.

William M. McCulloch, R-Ohio, was sitting with the committee to consider proposed changes in federal court districts. He noted that one district had a judge for every half million persons while an adjacent district had a judge for 1½ million persons.

"That doesn't seem to square with the one-man, one-vote principle the judiciary has foisted on us," said McCulloch.

JESSE UNRUH, speaker of the California assembly, visited here last week and made it clear he has no intention of leaving his powerful position in state politics for a federal elective office.

"I'd rather be second among the barbarians than 535th among the Romans," said Jesse.

THE VICE president admitted last week that he was mildly upset when various news media began referring to him as HUBERT HORATIO Humphrey. But HUBERT HORATIO allowed as how it worked out all right.

"I got the sympathy vote on that," he told a political gathering.

CAPITOL HILL observers are convinced that the Senate will amend the immigration bill to set a limit on the number of persons that can enter the U.S. from the western hemisphere — but not without a hard fight from the State Department.

"But my amendment will win," said Rep. Clark MacGregor, D., Minn. who authorized the amendment in the House, "because there is no justifiable reason for opposing it.

"We have a numerical concept for the rest of the world, why not in our own hemisphere?" he asked.

Constitutional Bill Aims to Throw Odds Against Crime

(Editor's Note: Rep. Hosmer of Long Beach-Lakewood has introduced a constitutional amendment bearing on the problems of criminal justice currently disturbing many Americans. At our request, he has written the following explanation of his bill and its background.)

LAST NIGHT 28 DEAD and many hundred wounded were added to U.S. casualty lists —not in Vietnam—but here at home in America.

The victims were honest, law abiding citizens. They were murdered, mugged, raped and robbed. In the process almost $100 million was taken from them forcibly. They will pay their own hospital bills and stand little chance to recover the possessions they have lost.

HOSMER

The criminals who assaulted them are enjoying their tax-free loot and stand an even smaller chance of being brought to justice for their crimes.

Such are the sad statistics brought to light by the FBI's recent crime report.

IN NO OTHER civilized country is the "law and order gap" as wide as in the United States. At practically no time in our history has the American citizens been less secure in his person and proprty.

What has brought our society to the brink of savagery and jungle law?

Apologists explain it in psychological terms of "anxiety" created by living under a threat of atomic destruction. Or, in terms of "disparity" of income and opportunity which "permits" disobedience of law "to make things equal."

This is pure nonsense.

No other country has gone on a crime binge worrying about a nuclear catastrophe and no other people in history have shared more equally or more abundantly in the good things of life.

FBI CHIEF J. EDGAR HOOVER lays the blame squarely where most of his fellow citizens believe it belongs—on the heavy odds favoring the criminal getting away with his crimes stemming from recent court decisions interpreting Constitutional "rights."

These rights guard us against "unreasonable searches and seizures" by public authorities, against "cruel and unusual punishments," against being compelled to "incriminate" one's self and against other abuses. These rights were violated by harsh led to the Revolution of 1776.
and heavy-handed English monarchs. It

The new nation framed its Constitution to avoid despotism by rulers and to secure man certain inalienable rights.

RECENT SUPREME COURT decisions interpreting these Constitutional rights have so greatly enlarged their scope that the arrest and conviction of persons accused of crimes is extremely difficult. When convictions are obtained the interpretation of what might be a "cruel" punishment often has been so generous the criminal suffers far less than his innocent victim.

The cumulative effect of these decisions has ben to turn these shields against tyranny into swords in the hands of criminals. Over emphasis on protecting the accused against arbitrary actions by law enforcers has left us with too little protection against law breakers.

IT HAS COME time to restore a balance in our attitude about "rights." It has come time to restore respect for law and authority.

The right of law-abiding citizens to be protected from crimes against their persons and property should be superior to the right of the accused to escape punishment through legal loopholes.

I have proposed a Constitutional amendment saying so—that your right and mine so to be protected from crime is "paramount" to other rights. Its enactment would cancel the effect of the court decisions overprotecting criminals. It would tell law enforcement officers and trial judges to keep first in mind closing the law and order gap.

Accused persons still will have fair trials. But the policemen on the beat who arrest them and the judges who try them will have both orders and authority to protect the vast majority of law-abiding citizens as first order of business. Anyone who falls into the toils of the law will have his "rights." However, the public's right not to be victimized by lawbreakers is going to be the one "right" that comes first.

SUCH AN AMENDMENT will throw the odds against the criminal. It will put to rest the insidious idea that anyone can pick and choose what laws he will obey. It will foster the certainty of swift, sure and suitable punishment which makes crime unprofitable and deters potential lawbreakers.

Then it will be that honest Americans once again can be safe in their land, on their streets and in their homes.

Marriage Isn't a Draft-Dodge Game

EDITOR:

I would like to comment upon the article by Walter T. Ridder, which appeared in the August 29 edition of The Independent, Press-Telegram, "Draft-Dodging Marriages Offer a Sorry Spectacle."

Yes, on the surface, this did, indeed, seem to present a "sorry spectacle"; but, to me, it presented far deeper implication of our failures in training our young people in the duties and moralities inherent in marriage itself, than in its abortive use as a "draft dodge."

I, personally, have faith enough in even the fuzziest-minded of our present crop of the "very young" to believe that if our country faced invasion and destruction, every man-jack of them and their "girl friends" would get in and pitch—without the draft! Witness the block-long lines of enlistees the day Pearl Harbor was struck! And then let us not forget that, today, our entire nation is divided in opinion as to the "yes" and "no" of Viet Nam!

Why was marriage ever dangled in front of our young men, as a possible "way out" of service? Therein lies the wrong! (Not in the acceptance of this bait leading into the most difficult of human relationships.) Married men with children—yes—but ONLY because of the children. In point of fact, thousands of young unmarried men are helping to support ill and unemployed parents, and keeping younger sisters and brothers in school.

Before we continue our easy branding of our young people with catch phrases (which we deserve far more than they, far too often)—or question their patrintism, let's be a little more sure that the "America" we present to them is worthy of their risk of "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

'Police Brutality' Very Poor Excuse

EDITOR:

I can't help applauding Negro reporter George S. Schuyler in his article on Sunday, Aug. 22. It has hit the nail on the head as well as being accurate and to the point.

The continual cry of police brutality is mostly a deliberate lie and a very poor excuse for rioting, looting and killing. It is the job of every policeman to enforce the law and the cry of "police brutality" is an old one because criminal lawbreakers are unable to get sympathy any other way.

Top Negro civil rights leaders beginning with Dr. Martin Luther King, have overstepped their bounds, by over-indulgence in their beliefs. Their civil disobedience tactics, sit-ins, etc., have certainly caused a breakdown of law and order which helped set the stage for those Negro hoodlums in Watts and elsewhere in the country to commit their acts of vandalism and killings.

Undoubtedly we are in dire need of more public officials who will act quickly to suppress crime and violence regardless of color and in so doing uphold the laws of the land and discourage loss of lives and property.

What's wrong with the United States today? Rioting, protests, demonstrations, etc. seem to be the order of the day.

If my husband were drafted today he'd go proudly. We believe in the cause being fought for overseas. But I suppose there's a difference. His hair is cut, he works six days a week, believes in his responsibility to his family and also to his country.

We've worked for the Democratic Club, registered voters, walked door to door, etc. We are 26 years old and our children are four and six.

President Kennedy proved one man made a difference. He gave up a life of luxury for the responsibility of the President and was killed senselessly. The assassin also made a difference, but which path are the 20-year-olds taking? We believe in our country, in civil and equal rights but we also believe in assuming certain responsibilities for the privilege of saying that we are Americans. Roller Coaster

CIVIL DISOBEDIENCE is based on the belief that a citizen has the right to disobey a law he considers unjust if he is willing to face the consequences.

Civil disobedience has been a factor in America since the beginning. Our Revolution, from the viewpoint of King George, was civil disobedience.

Perhaps the worst upsurge of civil disobedience was the prohibition era. Many Americans believed they had a right to drink, so the law be damned.

THE REV. DR. ROBERT B. WATTS, an Episcopal pastor in La Jolla, made a significant point about civil disobedience: "Of course, the worst thing about this doctrine is that there are no dividing lines in it. If it is valid in a small violation, it applies equally to a more serious one.

"Once you start this approach there is no stopping. It is like a roller coaster which nears the top of the track. Once you push it over a little bit, it plunges down all the way."

Prohibition is a perfect example. Many respectable people bought booze from bootleggers. Because they disobeyed what they held to be an unjust law, America was wracked by gang wars.

MANY CLERGYMEN disagree with Dr. Watts and have openly flouted laws they consider unjust in civil rights demonstrations. There can be no doubt of their idealistic motives but their good judgment is certainly in question.

Didn't South Los Angeles go over the top of the roller coaster?

New Holy War

"THERE IS NO GOD BUT ALLAH."

Inspired by this battle slogan, the troops of Pakistan are hurling themselves against Indian forces in Kashmir. Whether it is a military adventure or the beginning of a showdown, this is a religious war.

Religious wars are the worst kind because they are fanatical, furious, utterly ruthless.

ONCE THE CONQUERING hordes of Arabia terrorized three continents, establishing Islam from Spain to Malaya.

Moslems are not alone in the experience of holy wars. Christians, whose doctrine teaches love for all men, have had their share. They poured into Palestine during the Crusades. They reduced Europe to a slaughterhouse in the terrible wars of the Protestant Reformation.

And then the princes and prelates learned a measure of wisdom after their ordeal. When Protestant Prince Henry became heir to the throne of France on condition he become a Catholic, he said. "I think Paris is worth a Mass."

AND KING CHARLES II, when he succeeded the fanatical Cromwell in England, devoted his career to healing the wounds inflicted by the sectarians. Since then Christians have had many wars, but they never again attempted to establish the nature of God on the battlefield.

The Pakistanis have not achieved such moderation, and India has its fanatics. To the north of both is a nation of quite different fanatics, the hordes of Red China. This could become a big war.

Charity by Compulsion New Idea Inserted In Labor Bill

WASHINGTON—A strange thing has been introduced in free America — charity by compulsion. The committee in labor and public welfare of the United States Senate has just approved a bill containing a provision which would compel a worker to pay dues to a labor union he does not wish to join or else put up an equivalent sum of money to be given to a charitable organization designated by the union.

LAWRENCE

The amendment voted by the senate committee is attached to a bill which would take away from the states their power to enact or retain "right to work" laws. Under this amendment, if a worker has conscientious objections to joining a union, he would have to go before the National Labor Relations Board and ask for a certificate. To get it, he must prove that he is honest in his beliefs. He must establish beyond doubt that "he holds conscientious objections to membership in any labor organization based upon his religious training and beliefs in relation to a supreme being involving duties superior to those arising from any human relation."

Once the worker has been granted such a certificate—and presumably paid the expense of an attorney to help him through the complicated legal process — then there has to be a designation by the union or an agreement on the charity to which he will be compelled to contribute money equivalent to the "periodic dues and initiation fees" of the union. The new amendment says the charity must be "non-religious." The labor union is to control what kind of charity the worker selects, and a government agency will be able to review the choice to see whether or not the organization is religious or non-religious.

THE CONSTITUTION, of course, forbids Congress to enact any law prohibiting the "free exercise" of religion. This means that no law can permit discrimination by setting up barriers to contributions to religious funds as contrasted with non-religious charities.

Assuming that the bill is passed and that the labor union and the worker agree upon an approved organization to which the charitable contribution may be made, there is no certainty that the arrangement will continue indefinitely. For evidently a labor union, though it may have waived objection to such payments, can change its mind and still operate within this provision of the proposed law.

The simple truth is that the amendment, in effect, gives the labor union the right to keep a man out of a job unless he contributes to charity money equal to dues and initiation fees.

THE AMENDMENT was inserted in the proposed law with the consent of national labor-union leaders, who have been trying to emphasize that anyone who doesn't join a union is somehow getting a "free" service. The theory is that the union bears the expense of collective bargaining. But so does the employer. Nobody has proposed that the workers pay a fair share of the expenses of management in dealing with unions, but all the employees nevertheless get the benefit of the money spent by the employer in carrying on negotiations with the unions. If the "free riders" are to be abolished, maybe Congress should impose a tax upon employers and unions requiring each to pay half of the expenses of the National Labor Relations Board.

Nineteen states have laws forbidding compulsory unionization. But labor-union power—due to heavy contributions by union members to political campaigns —is so far-reaching today that it is seeking to pressure congress to nullify all state laws that permit the worker to have freedom of choice in joining or not joining a union.

It is surprising that any of the United States senators insist, in effect, that a man must prove his religious beliefs and do so to the satisfaction of a governmental agency. This applies whether he happens to be a member of a particular sect or simply declares he has conscientious objections to joining any organization of which he does not approve.

But even if the worker is generous about it all and is willing to put up an equivalent of dues and initiation fees, it may he wondered why he is not allowed to contribute to any charity he chooses — whether religious or non-religious—and why any labor union or any governmental agency should have anything to say about it. Since compulsory membership in labor unions is sincerely regarded by some citizens as a species of human bondage, it is unprecedented to find members of congress seeking to utilize the coercive power of government to require a man to pay a specific sum to charity as the price of immunity from labor-union rule.

Polish Hospital Ticklish Issue

Udall Blasts New York for Water Leakage

During Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall's recent water trip to philadelphia, Newark and New York, he praised Philadelphia's water system and blasted New York's.

PEARSON

"Philadelphia has put its water system to the best possible use," Udall said. "New York has the leakiest water system in the nation."

Philadelphia, incidentally, was for several years governed by two efficient mayors, Joseph Clark, now a U.S. senator, and Richardson Dilworth.

Privately, Udall reported to the White House that government in New York City had just about broken down, he considered the situation scandalous.

N.Y. Water Commissioner D'Angelo did not hear the latter remark. He did hear the accusation about leaks and got so sore at Udall that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D.N.Y., who was present at the New York hearings, admonished him to "smile a little."

D'Angelo, however, was in no smiling mood. He claimed that New York had been "indicted" before it could be heard, that it had 6,000 miles of underground water mains, fifty well-trained men with modern gadgets to search for leaks, and that New York lost only two to three per cent through leakage or between 25 to 30 million gallons a day.

Udall claimed, however, that New York was losing 30 per cent of its water daily or about 300 million gallons a day. He pointed out that the city of London, with the same population as New York, uses only one-fourth as much water. One of the chief reasons was New York's preposterous leakage. Privately Udall reported in Washington that New York discovered its leaks not through trained experts, but when trucks caved through the street or pavements disappeared.

* * *

ONE DAY after Udall's argument with Commissioner D'Angelo, the latter was embarrassed to learn that a leak had been discovered on Staten Island which had been wasting a million gallons a day for one year.

Two days later a leak developed in Brooklyn which put the Brooklyn subway out of commission for more than two days and knocked out the telephones in one section of the city. This was detected, just as Secretary Udall indicated, when a crane fell through the street.

One day later congressman William Fitz Ryan, the Democrat now running for mayor of New York, discovered a leak in Central Park which had been gushing so merrily and steadily that most people thought it was a natural spring. The Congressmen, however, demonstrated that spring is not spiked with chlorine. Commissioner D'Angelo finally admitted it was a leak.

One day later Congressman Ryan discovered another leak which D'Angelo's water experts had simply hooked up to a sewer so it could leak more efficiently. Commissioner D'Angelo promptly fired the two engineers charged with wasting this water, but their union is now appealing their discharge.

This is the record of the former head of Local 3 of the IBEW, now turned Commissioner of New York's water supply.

NOTE: Commissioner D'Angelo did, however, crack down vigorously on his fellow city official, Parks Commissioner Newbold Morris, ficial,for having his groundskeepers on the city's golf links sneak out after dark to water the greens in violation of a municipal ruling.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING—

Grease Paint Career Opens Way for Budding Politicos

I. P-T State Bureau

SACRAMENTO—If you want your son to be president some day, you no longer must pack him off to law school—the former cradle of White House occupants.

Drama classes will do just as well, thank you.

And a stint behind stage grease paint probably better will equip your son for public life. With the impact of modern television, lawyers - turned-politicos in both parties have been accused to becoming rather poor ham actors. They read ghost-written speeches—like a script.

M'CAULEY

Some of them stink up the video screen—a positive indication that they would have gotten more out of a key role in Hamlet than they did from their torts class.

ENTERTAINER pros increasingly have proved they are just as well equipped to turn statesmen as refugees from the bench. They read their political speeches better, and their acting profession does not represent the same potential conflict of interest as that which can arise between a law firm and a lawmaking position.

This isn't to degrade the noble profession of law. Some of California's greatest public officials have graduated from law school. But the new trend toward Hollywood increasingly is tapping a new source for public servants.

National attention on Hollywood political personalities has broken out anew, spurred by the election of U.S. Sen. George Murphy and the possible gubernatorial candidacy of Ronald Reagan.

SOME DEMOCRATS gleefully have lit into Republicans for upgrading Hollywood to the level of Washington and Sacramento. But every one in both parties should read the full script. Actually, the Hollywood political thriller has been tested as a box-office success long before—by both parties.

Helen Gahagan Douglas, a Democratic actress, several decades ago parlayed her Hollywood screen career into a Congressional seat. Democrat Pierre Salinger, former senator and presidential press secretary, couldn't beat 'em so he joined them. Salinger has done a minor role in a TV film and now works as a top executive for a theater chain.

And Steve Allen, television and movie personality, is mentioned as a likely Democratic contender for the 26th Congressional District seat being vacated by Rep. James Roosevelt.

IN THE 1962 California gubernatorial campaign, out the window went the political custom of parading one's running mates before the public. Instead, on the TV screen came leading Hollywood personalities.

Actor Dick Powell, they dying, made an 11th-hour pitch for Republican Richard Nixon. Pat Brown Democrats answered with a taped Brown endorsement by Eddie Cantor, also dying. Some political cynics speculate that the only way a third party could compete would be to revive an already dead actor.

In Salinger's losing Senate campaign, Democrats ripped into Sen. Murphy's experience as a movie great. Who did Salinger use to carry the brunt of the Salinger message in filmed political commercials? Movie Great Gregory Peck.

IN THE 1940s, Democrat Albert Dekker of Hollywood and Broadway served in the Assembly. Later, Republican Charles Conrad of Sherman Oaks succeeded Dekker. Conrad, who makes his living on the stage, served for a while as Assembly minority leader.

Political realists say one should not vote for or against a candidate just because he happens to be an actor, lawyer, merchant or chief. In all job classifications, the qualifications of potential candidates range from excellent to pooor.

Any voter who marks his ballot according to the occupation of the candidates is being politically naive.

Manned Space Lab to Rush Warning in Missile Attacks

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The eight-day Gemini V flight proved that space has a strong military capability.

The uncertain factor after Gemini IV was whether man could operate efficiently in a satellite for extended periods.

Medical reports on astronauts Gordon Cooper and Pete Conrad have proved that men can.

This makes possible the hurry-up program on the Manned Orbiting Laboratory announced by Defense Secretary Robert McNamara.

The story behind this hurry-up is simple. There's new evidence the Russians are bearing down hard on building a manned military satellite laboratory of their own.

* * *

WHY THIS RACE? As Soviet intercontinental ballistic missiles get better, some way must be found to get an earlier warning of Russian ICBM attack.

Practical warning time at best now is considerably less than 15 minutes.

As the Soviet Union builds a fleet of Polaris-type missile submarines, there will be less warning time. Any missile fired a few hundred miles off the U.S. coastline may well get to target before defenses can be alerted and operating.

Manned satellites high enough in space and armed with infrared sensors should be able to continuously scan the Soviet Union and the oceans, thus increase the warning time for defense against both Soviet ICBMs and submarine-fired, Polaris-type missiles.

Such a manned - satellite, early-warning system could be operational before 1975, now that it's known man can operate in space for extended periods.

Soviet military men have the same problem of early detection. They aim at quicker knowledge of any U.S. Polaris missile firings.

IT MAY BE TOO RISKY to let the perfected, decoy-loaded, zigzagging Russian ICBMs of the 1970s get close enough to vital U.S. targets to be knocked out by Nike X.

It may well be safer to develop a defensive anti-missile - missile, based on a space platform, that would blast out Russian missiles before they crossed the Atlantic or Pacific.

Some missile men believe it will be essential eventually to put attack missiles similar to Polaris or Minutemen on manned space platforms. They believe that, properly constructed and fired, such missiles would have a better chance than ground-based Minutemen of getting through the Soviet antimissile defenses of the mid-1970s.

Some competent space scientists privately say it would be wise to explore the possibility of some day establishing missile bases on the moon.

Udall Blasts New York for Water Leakage

During Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall's recent water trip to philadelphia, Newark and New York, he praised Philadelphia's water system and blasted New York's.

PEARSON

"Philadelphia has put its water system to the best possible use," Udall said. "New York has the leakiest water system in the nation."

Philadelphia, incidentally, was for several years governed by two efficient mayors, Joseph Clark, now a U.S. senator, and Richardson Dilworth.

Privately, Udall reported to the White House that government in New York City had just about broken down, he considered the situation scandalous.

N.Y. Water Commissioner D'Angelo did not hear the latter remark. He did hear the accusation about leaks and got so sore at Udall that Sen. Robert Kennedy, D.N.Y., who was present at the New York hearings, admonished him to "smile a little."

D'Angelo, however, was in no smiling mood. He claimed that New York had been "indicted" before it could be heard, that it had 6,000 miles of underground water mains, fifty well-trained men with modern gadgets to search for leaks, and that New York lost only two to three per cent through leakage or between 25 to 30 million gallons a day.

Udall claimed, however, that New York was losing 30 per cent of its water daily or about 300 million gallons a day. He pointed out that the city of London, with the same population as New York, uses only one-fourth as much water. One of the chief reasons was New York's preposterous leakage. Privately Udall reported in Washington that New York discovered its leaks not through trained experts, but when trucks caved through the street or pavements disappeared.

* * *

ONE DAY after Udall's argument with Commissioner D'Angelo, the latter was embarrassed to learn that a leak had been discovered on Staten Island which had been wasting a million gallons a day for one year.

Two days later a leak developed in Brooklyn which put the Brooklyn subway out of commission for more than two days and knocked out the telephones in one section of the city. This was detected, just as Secretary Udall indicated, when a crane fell through the street.

One day later congressman William Fitz Ryan, the Democrat now running for mayor of New York, discovered a leak in Central Park which had been gushing so merrily and steadily that most people thought it was a natural spring. The Congressmen, however, demonstrated that spring is not spiked with chlorine. Commissioner D'Angelo finally admitted it was a leak.

One day later Congressman Ryan discovered another leak which D'Angelo's water experts had simply hooked up to a sewer so it could leak more efficiently. Commissioner D'Angelo promptly fired the two engineers charged with wasting this water, but their union is now appealing their discharge.

This is the record of the former head of Local 3 of the IBEW, now turned Commissioner of New York's water supply.

NOTE: Commissioner D'Angelo did, however, crack down vigorously on his fellow city official, Parks Commissioner Newbold Morris, ficial,for having his groundskeepers on the city's golf links sneak out after dark to water the greens in violation of a municipal ruling.

MARTHA PEARSON . . . Stays on Back Side of Camera Lens

SENSITIVE PORTRAITS ON DISPLAY

Camera-Shy Coed Proves Skillful Photographer

A camera-shy Fullerton coed parlayed a childhood hobby into a growing reputation as a sensitive portrait photographer.

Martha Pearson, 19, of 1044 Cerritos Drive, says the exacting skills of the trade are nothing compared to the discomfort of posing.

"I'd rather work all day in the darkroom than have my picture taken."

Results of her skill and artistry behind the shutter—a collection of 30 prints—are on display at the Fullerton Library, Hunt branch, this month.

Many of them she photographed at a recent two-month stay in Japan as a student at the Jesuits' Sophia University in Tokyo.

* * * *

"JAPAN WAS a field day—I was excited by the wealth of material. The faces were wonderful, the settings unique. I loved the quiet and serenity, the emphasis on nature," says Martha.

Between classes at Cal State Fullerton Martha does portrait photography in her home, printing and enlarging in an improvised bathroom-darkroom.

"I look for shadow, texture, simplicity, no gimmicks. In a portrait I strive to catch the person's essential character or a mood," she says.

The photography, in combination with languages studies—Russian, Japanese, French, Hebrew and Spanish—will be stepping stones to a career as roving photographer, she hopes.

For two years, examples of her work have been displayed at the Laguna Beach Festival of Arts.

Credit Union League Meets on Tuesday

Wil W. Wyatt, managing director of the statewide California Credit Union League, will speak at the league's Long Beach chapter meeting at Lakewood Country Club, Tuesday, 7 p.m.

Chapter officers and league directors will be elected and Long Beach's entry in the state Miss Credit Union Contest will be named.

Wyatt is administrative head of the CCUL and has served as managing director since 1964.

J. F. Webb of 3270 Chestnut Ave., Long Beach, is president of the local chapter.

WIL W. WYATT
Speaks Tuesday

TO ENTERTAIN

Miss Chile, Annette Beam; Master Ecuador, Eric Cottrell, and Miss Brazil, Nancy Rinearson, all members of the International Childrens Choir of Long Beach, will entertain at the Chilean National Independence Day luncheon Sept. 17 at the Edgewater Inn.

Chilean Luncheon Slated

A Chilean national independence day luncheon, to be held in the Empire Room of the Edgewater Inn September 17, has been announced by Claire Johnson, chairman of the Long Beach-Valparaiso Sister City Committee.

Honored guests will be Consul General and Mrs. Miguel Bravo of Chile and Lucio Villegas, honorary consul to Long Beach. Other guests will include members of the consular corps of other Latin American countries, Mayor Edwin W. Wade and Vice Mayor James Hayes of Long Beach. Bravo and Wade will present a Chilean flag to the city.

Songs will be presented by members of the International Children's Choir of Long Beach under the direction of Mrs. Esther N. Beekly and Richard A. Grainger. Chilean Club members will offer songs and dances.

A social hour at 11:30 will be followed by lunch at 12:30.

7% Hike in Aerospace Jobs Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The aerospace industry probably will increase its employment of scientists and engineers more than 7% this year, industry spokesman Karl G. Harr Jr. said Saturday night.

Harr, president of the Aerospace Industries Association, made public a study indicating that employment of scientists and engineers in aircraft, missile and space fields would increase by about 13,000 from March to December, reaching a total of 190,000 by the end of the year.

He said total aerospace employment would increase by 9,000, from 1,123,000 in March to 1,132,000 in December.

The study also indicated substantial stability in the geographic distribution of aerospace employment.

It indicated that employment in the Pacific area — California, Oregon, Washington, Hawaii and Alaska—will decline by about 1.5%. This decline will be offset by small increases in the west-north central, south central, New England and middle Atlantic areas, it said.

Harbor Area Group Will Go to L.A. Birthday Fete at Bowl

A caravan of buses will form up from all parts of Los Angeles and head for Hollywood Bowl today for a birthday concert honoring the 184th birthday of Los Angeles.

One of the buses will leave the Ports O'Call parking lot at 7 p.m. for the 8:30 p.m. concert—winding up San Pedro-Wilmington's celebration of the city's week-long birthday.

The harbor area's birthday participation begins at 4:30 p.m. when Mayor Sam Yorty arrives at San Pedro to launch the cerebration.

* * * *

TODAY'S ceremonies will begin when Yorty comes ashore from a whaleboat at the seaplane landing of the new Catalina Terminal, Berth 96, under the Vincent Thomas Bridge.

Rowing the mayor ashore will be eight Sea Scouts. Trailing the whale boat will be a city fireboat which will send a spray of water which will officially open the activities.

Included in the San Pedro-Wilmington ceremonies are a band concert, tree planting at Goleta Point, a manual-of-oars demonstration by Sea Scouts of Explorer Ship No. 922, Palos Verdes Peninsula, a public fish fry and free boat rides.

Conference Set Oct. 28 Orange Co. Development

ANAHEIM—Orange County will put its best foot forward Oct. 28 for the Fifth Orange County Economic Development conference.

With a theme of "Orange County—Today," the county will be toured by more than 1,000 leaders of business and industry expected to attend the one-day conference at the Disneyland Hotel.

The meeting is designed to promote Orange County as a place where out-of-state industry can re-locate and settle.

Following a series of seminars and discussion sessions, delegates will lunch and then tour the county by helicopter.

Conference chairmen are County Supervisor Alton Allen and Newport Beach Planning Director Jerry Drawdy.

Council Calendar

City Council agenda items for Tuesday:

MARTHA PEARSON . . . Stays on Back Side of Camera Lens

SENSITIVE PORTRAITS ON DISPLAY

Camera-Shy Coed Proves Skillful Photographer

A camera-shy Fullerton coed parlayed a childhood hobby into a growing reputation as a sensitive portrait photographer.

Martha Pearson, 19, of 1044 Cerritos Drive, says the exacting skills of the trade are nothing compared to the discomfort of posing.

"I'd rather work all day in the darkroom than have my picture taken."

Results of her skill and artistry behind the shutter—a collection of 30 prints—are on display at the Fullerton Library, Hunt branch, this month.

Many of them she photographed at a recent two-month stay in Japan as a student at the Jesuits' Sophia University in Tokyo.

* * * *

"JAPAN WAS a field day—I was excited by the wealth of material. The faces were wonderful, the settings unique. I loved the quiet and serenity, the emphasis on nature," says Martha.

Between classes at Cal State Fullerton Martha ddes portrait photography in her home, printing and enlarging in an improvised bathroom-darkroom.

"I look for shadow, texture, simplicity, no gimmicks. In a portrait I strive to catch the person's essential character or a mood," she says.

The photography, in combination with languages studies—Russian, Japanese, French, Hebrew and Spanish—will be stepping stones to a career as roving photographer, she hopes.

For two years, examples of her work have been displayed at the Laguna Beach Festival of Arts.

Credit Union League Meets on Tuesday

Wil W. Wyatt, managing director of the statewide California Credit Union League, will speak at the league's Long Beach chapter meeting at Lakewood Country Club, Tuesday, 7 p.m.

Chapter officers and league directors will be elected and Long Beach's entry in the state Miss Credit Union Contest will be named.

Wyatt is administrative head of the CCUL and has served as managing director since 1964.

J. F. Webb of 3270 Chestnut Ave., Long Beach, is president of the local chapter.

WIL W. WYATT

TO ENTERTAIN

Miss Chile, Annette Beam; Master Ecuador, Eric Cottrell, and Miss Brazil, Nancy Rinearson, all members of the International Childrens Choir of Long Beach, will entertain at the Chilean National Independence Day luncheon Sept. 17 at the Edgewater Inn.

7% Hike in Aerospace Jobs Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The aerospace industry probably will increase its employment of scientists and engineers more than 7% this year, industry spokesman Karl G. Harr Jr. said Saturday night.

Harr, president of the Aerospace Industries Association, made public a study indicating that employment of scientists and engineers in aircraft, missile and space fields would increase by about 13,000 from March to December, reaching a total of 190,000 by the end of the year.

He said total aerospace employment would increase by 9,000, from 1,123,000 in March to 1,132,000 in December.

The study also indicated substantial stability in the geographic distribution of aerospace employment.

It indicated that employment in the Pacific area — California, Oregon, Washington, Hawaii and Alaska—will decline by about 1.5%. This decline will be offset by small increases in the west-north central, south central, New England and middle Atlantic areas, it said.

Chilean Luncheon Slated

A Chilean national independence day luncheon, to be held in the Empire Room of the Edgewater Inn September 17, has been announced by Claire Johnson, chairman of the Long Beach-Valparaiso Sister City Committee.

Honored guests will be Consul General and Mrs. Miguel Bravo of Chile and Lucio Villegas, honorary consul to Long Beach. Other guests will include members of the consular corps of other Latin American countries, Mayor Edwin W. Wade and Vice Mayor James Hayes of Long Beach. Bravo and Wade will present a Chilean flag to the city.

Songs will be presented by members of the International Children's Choir of Long Beach under the direction of Mrs. Esther N. Beekly and Richard A. Grainger. Chilean Club members will offer songs and dances.

A social hour at 11:30 will be followed by lunch at 12:30.

Harbor Area Group Will Go to L.A. Birthday Fete at Bowl

A caravan of buses will form up from all parts of Los Angeles and head for Hollywood Bowl today for a birthday concert honoring the 184th birthday of Los Angeles.

One of the buses will leave the Ports O'Call parking lot at 7 p.m. for the 8:30 p.m. concert—winding up San Pedro-Wilmington's celebration of the city's week-long birthday.

The harbor area's birthday participation begins at 4:30 p.m. when Mayor Sam Yorty arrives at San Pedro to launch the cerebration.

* * * *

TODAY'S ceremonies will begin when Yorty comes ashore from a whaleboat at the seaplane landing of the new Catalina Terminal, Berth 96, under the Vincent Thomas Bridge.

Rowing the mayor ashore will be eight Sea Scouts. Trailing the whale boat will be a city fireboat which will send a spray of water which will officially open the activities.

Included in the San Pedro-Wilmington ceremonies are a band concert, tree planting at Goleta Point, a manual-of-oars demonstration by Sea Scouts of Explorer Ship No. 922, Palos Verdes Peninsula, a public fish fry and free boat rides.

Conference Set Oct. 28 Orange Co. Development

ANAHEIM—Orange County will put its best foot forward Oct. 28 for the Fifth Orange County Economic Development conference.

With a theme of "Orange County—Today," the county will be toured by more than 1,000 leaders of business and industry expected to attend the one-day conference at the Disneyland Hotel.

The meeting is designed to promote Orange County as a place where out-of-state industry can re-locate and settle.

Following a series of seminars and discussion sessions, delegates will lunch and then tour the county by helicopter.

Conference chairmen are County Supervisor Alton Allen and Newport Beach Planning Director Jerry Drawdy.

Services for Ernest E. Ladd, counselor on the Business and Technology Campus of Long Beach City College since 1962, have been set for Monday and Tuesday.

Rosary will be at 8 p.m. Monday at Dilday Family Funeral Directors, and Requiem Mass at 10 a.m. Tuesday in St. Joseph's Church.

Ladd, 55, of 6431 Rendina St., died Friday.

He is survived by his wife, Ursula A.; daughters, Mrs. Miriam A. Chalker, Mrs. Marjorie A. Lane; mother, Hanna; brother, Col. Jack; sister, Mrs. Betty Swander.

Ladd received his Ph.D. in counseling and guidance at the University of Indiana, and came to Long Beach in 1957.

He was head counselor at Poly High School from 1958 to 1962.

P&O Orient Lines' Chief in Visit Here

By STEVE GIBSON

Southern California provides more business for P&O Orient Lines passenger ships than any other area, top officials of P&O said Saturday in a visit to the port of Los Angeles.

"Southern California is our largest market," P&O president Warren S. Titus revealed at a news conference aboard the 42,000-ton P&O liner SS Oriana.

"We have our highest incidence of repeat business out of this market."

Titus appeared at the conference with the P&O group's chairman and director, Sir Donald Anderson, here on his first visit since 1961.

* * * *

"WE'VE GOT a fair volume of business here," admitted Sir Donald, who, as chairman of the P&O group, heads the world's largest merchant fleet. The P&O steamship companies have combined fleets totaling 299 ships of 2.3 million gross tons.

"We used to carry only a few Americans," Sir Donald said. "We relied on the Australians and New Zealanders with a smattering of Canadians. Now a situation has developed where a very great number of our passengers are Americans."

In reply to questions, he said that the war in Viet Nam thus far has not affected passenger-ship travel in Southeast Asia.

"It is likely to affect it, though," he observed, "because people don't like to go to areas where there is the likelihood of war."

Sir Donald observed also that most passengers aboard ships today are traveling "not to get somewhere, but because it is a way of life they've never experienced before . . . Many of them board ships for a holiday instead of going somewhere like Las Vegas or Florida."

THE ORIANA docked in Berth 90, Consolidated Marine Terminals Inc., at 8 a.m. and sailed Saturday evening for San Francisco. She is carrying an around-the-world exhibit of children's art. The collection of 40 paintings from many countries has been shown in Honolulu, Aden, Hong Kong, Auckland and London.

A showing of the paintings was held Saturday for travel agents and the press. The paintings will be presented to the International Child Art Center of Chirardelli Square in San Francisco.

State Hiring Crop Hands at L.B. Office

Grape pickers, tomato pickers and citrus pickers are being recruited by the local State Employment Service for jobs throughout the state.

The Cucamonga area needs grape pickers, the tomato crop is ready throughout the state and citrus pickers are needed chiefly in Southern California.

The citrus and grape pickers will be paid on a piecework basis, and growers offer $1.40 an hour for tomato pickers.

An official also said trucks leave daily from Los Angeles carrying workers to day-haul jobs weeding and thinning lettuce at $1.25 an hour or topping onions at 20 cents a sack.

He urged applicants to apply at the Casual Labor office at 125 W. Anaheim St., at 6:30 a.m. Monday through Friday.

Park Foreman Receives Award

A Torrance man, the principal park foreman of the Los Angeles Recreation and Parks Department's south area, Friday received a 30-year service pin and a certificate of merit from the Park Commission.

Bernard D. Mott, of 1429 219th St., began work with the department as a gardener-caretaker in July 1935.

He was particularly commended for dependability and diligence "in the performance of emergency duties in connection with the many park facilities" in his area.

Dodger Pitchers Gang Up on Astros

By GEORGE LEDERER
I. P-T Staff Writer

HOUSTON — What is as rare as a steak cooked on a bunson burner or a baseball game indoors?

A four-pitcher shutout, preceded by a three-pitcher shutout—that's what.

And the Dodgers, who have a lot at stake in this goofy pennant race, supplied all of the unusual fireworks the last two days.

Jim Brewer, Johnny Podres, Don Drysdale and Ron Perranoski kept the Astros on the launching pad Saturday with a five-hit, 5-0 victory. Friday night, Nick Willhite, Howie Reed and Perranoski combined for a 3-0 win.

There were extenuating circumstances for manager Walter Alston to bring out his harmonious quartet Saturday.

Brewer, plagued by arm trouble all season, had to retire for the second time in a week because he pulled a nerve in his left elbow.

Drysdale, merely limbering up between starts, bailed Podres out off a bases-full situation in the eighth. And Perranoski, working for the fourth day in a row, pitched the ninth to run his scoreless streak to 10 games and 17 innings.

Podres (6-6) picked up his second victory of the trip and gave indication that he may of help during the stretch run, after all. He is not listed as a starter in the remaining 25 games, but the writing in pitching coach Lefty Phillips' book is not indelible.

Brewer, after pitching 3⅓ no-hit innings, injured his elbow as Joe Morgan singled in the fourth and he decided to call it quits with the count 2-and-1 on Jim Wynn, the next hitter.

"It was a very wise decision," said team physician Dr. Robert Woods, here on a weekend vacation.

"I believe the injury is not serious, although it's in the same area as the last one. He pulled a nerve, but did not injure a muscle. We packed the elbow in ice to keep down the swelling, and it will be at least a day or so before we can determine how long he will be out."

Podres, who gave up four hits, lasted until singles by Morgan and pinch-hitter Bobby Lillis and a walk to Eddie Kasko filled the bases with one out in the eighth.

Drysdale's second appearance against the Astros was as successful as his first. He struck out Wynn and got Bob Aspromonte out a force to end the inning.

With a five-run lead, Alston did not even allow Drysdale to bat for fear that his right-handed ace might want to complete the game.

Willie Crawford fanned for Drysdale and Perranoski completed the unusual whitewash.

The Dodgers, who evened their trip record at 8-8, scored all their runs against loser Bob Bruce in a comical fourth inning. Only Bruce wasn't laughing.

The scene resembled Camp Runamuck and the Dodgers all but ran the Astros outdoors. Errors by Joe Gaines and Wynn made it even easier.

Maury Wills led off with a single and stole his 84th base. Jim Gilliam followed with a pop fly down the left field line, which kept Wills hovering between second and third, waiting for Gaines' reaction. It was poor, at best.

Gaines failed to reach the ball, then held it and dared Wills to proceed. Wills didn't need to be coaxed. He dashed to the plate and Gilliam made it to third.

A single by Willie Davis, running his hitting streak to 17 games, made it 2-0, and Willie scored from first on a single by Ron Fairly and Wynn's bobble of the ball in center. The Dodgers had three runs and only one rbi.

Bruce (9-17) was so unnerved that he hit Lou Johnson with a pitch and walked Wes Parker to fill the bases. John Roseboro's bloop single completed the five-run inning and convinced Astros' manager Lum Harris to make a pitching change.

Mike Cuellar and Ron Taylor held the Dodgers to two singles the rest of the afternoon.

Reds Rally in 9th to Stay 1 Game Back

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Deron Johnson's bases-filled single climaxed a three-run ninth inning which gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies Saturday night.

Rookie shortstop Tommy Helms, who has banged out 11 hits in 18 tries since being recalled from San Diego last week, touched off the winning rally by singling off loser Jim Bunning to open the ninth.

Gordie Coleman, pinch-hitting for Joey Jay, singled Helms to second. After a sacrifice by Tommy Harper, Pete Rose singled home Helms with the first run of the inning.

Chris Short replaced Bunning. Vada Pinson hit a ground ball to shortstop Bobby Wine, who threw too late to third in an attempt for a forceout, and the bases were filled.

JAY, last of four Red pitchers, blanked the Phillies without a hit for the last two innings and gained the victory.

Bunning had a 2-0 no-hitter going when singles by Harper and Rose and Pinson tied the score in the sixth inning. The Phillies took a 4-2 lead in the seventh on consecutive homers by Richie Allen and Alex Johnson off rookie Ted Davidson.

WILL THEY RENAME MAURY THE MOUSE 'STRETCH'?

Dodger shortstop Maury Wills looks like first baseman as he stretches for throw from Ron Fairly in seventh inning Saturday. Houston's Jim Wynn, who had to hold up to see whether Fairly would catch Walt Bond's liner, slips in ahead of throw.

Packers Rip Browns, 30-14

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Bart Starr passed for one touchdown and set up two others Saturday night to lead the Green Bay Packers to 30-14 National Football League exhibition victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Starr cracked over from the one to put Green Bay ahead to stay.

The Packer touchdown drive, that included two key completions to Max McGee, started after Herb Adderley intercepted a Ryan pass on the Green Bay 38.

In the opening game, Watkins' punt return late in the final period gave Detroit a 25-14 lead and enabled the Lions to survive a late rally by the Giants.

Newly acquired quarterback Earl Morrall hit Aaron Thomas with a 10-yard scoring pass to cut the Lions' lead to four points, and, after the following kickoff, Dick Lynch recovered a fumble on the Detroit 26 with less than two minutes left.

The Giants were unable to score, however, as the Lions held on to record their first victory of the exhibition season after three losses.

Plum's 26-yard scoring pass to Jim Gibbons early in the fourth period had given the Lions an 18-14 lead, after the Giants scored two touchdowns late in the third period to go ahead, 14-11.

Morrall teamed with Thomas on an 82-yard scoring play and Ernie Koy bulled over for the Giants' second score after a 37-yard run by Smith Reed and a pass interference penalty had moved the ball to the Detroit one.

The Lions led 11-0 at halftime, scoring all the points in the first period on Plum's five-yard scoring pass to Terry Barr, Wayne Walker's 19-yard field goal and a safety.

The touchdown came after Darris McCord recovered Morrall's fumble on the New York six. Morrall, back to pass, was brought down by Roger Brown and the ball was jarred loose. Walker's field goal, one of the three he attempted during the first half, was set up by a 30-yard punt return by rookie Tom Vaughn.

TOO COLD FOR LEONORE, 15; QUITS SWIM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Just too tired to go on, a tearful 15-year-old Leonore Modell Saturday gave up her attempt to become the first to swim 27 chilly miles from the Farallon Islands to San Francisco after covering more than half the distance.

The skipper of an accompanying boat, Dick Smith of Sacramento, said Leonore collapsed in the water and was pulled into an open dory at 4:40 p.m. after swimming 15½ miles in about 16½ hours.

Smith said the Sacramento high school girl, who swam the English Channel a year ago, was defeated by high waves and water temperature around 54 degrees, three degrees colder than the swimmer and her coach had expected.

Leonore was transferred to her mother ship, the 110-foot cruiser Nevada Lady, for a shower and bed rest.

She entered the water at 12:05 a.m. at the fogbound Farallones due west of the Golden Gate.

She maintained a steady beat of 65 strokes per minute until fatigue caught up with her.

* * * *

LEONORE USED a strong modified American crawl with flutter kick. She drank hot soup several times before pre-dawn. About 9 a.m. she ate two chocolate bars.

The sea was fairly smooth, with long rolling swells 8 to 9 feet high and little wind. Leonore was accompanied by the 110-foot cruiser Nevada Lady, with coach Herron, scuba divers and others aboard.

The 136 pound, 5-feet-4¾ girl was not allowed, under endurance swimming rules, to touch the boat or another person.

Wholesale Shakeup in Yanks?

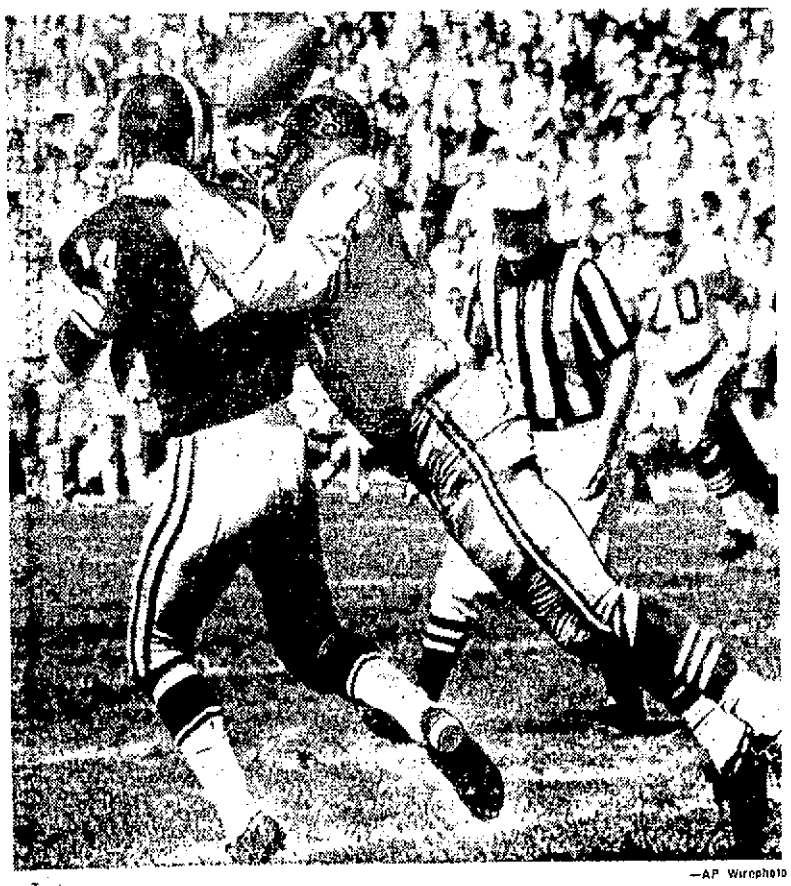

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A New York Yankee player "whose name is being withheld for obvious reasons," predicts extensive changes in the club's managing and playing staff next season, the Courier-Journal said in Sunday's editions.

Reporter Dave Whitaker quotes the player as saying: "Ralph Houk will go back to managing the Yankees next year. The report we hear is that Johnny Keane will go to the New York Mets . . . there's talk that Lee MacPhail will come over from Baltimore to succeed Houk as general manager of the Yankees.

* * * *

"A LOT of us will be traded—outside of Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, not many of us are sure to be around next year. There'll be all kinds of changes . . . the shakeup may be one of the biggest in baseball history."

Whitaker said he talked with the player in Kansas City last week.

WILL THEY RENAME MAURY THE MOUSE 'STRETCH'?

Dodger shortstop Maury Wills looks like first baseman as he stretches for throw from Ron Fairly in seventh inning Saturday. Houston's Jim Wynn, who had to hold up to see whether Fairly would catch Walt Bond's liner, slips in ahead of throw.

Packers Rip Browns, 30-14

CLEVELAND (UPI) — Bart Starr passed for one touchdown and set up two others Saturday night to lead the Green Bay Packers to 30-14 National Football League exhibition victory over the Cleveland Browns in the second half of the fourth annual pre-season doubleheader.

	Packers	Browns
First downs	23	12
Rushing yardage	164	115
Passing yardage	182	117
Passes	12-25	12-25
Passes intercepted by	0	0
Punts	2-37	5-39
Fumbles lost	0	1
Yards penalized	41	97

The Detroit Lions edged the New York Giants, 25-21, in the first game of the twin bill, witnessed by 83,118 fans.

Milt Plum fired two touchdown passes for the Lions and Tom Watkins scored on a 63-yard punt return.

Starr, who hit on 13 of 19 pass attempts for 202 yards, connected on a 10-yarder to Boyd Dowler late in the third period to give the Packers an unsurmountable 24-7 lead.

Earlier, Starr's pin-point passing set up touchdowns by Paul Hornung and Elijah Pitts. The Packers' other points came on field goals of 19, 32 and 14 yards by Don Chandler.

The Cleveland touchdown came on a 10-yard scoring pass from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins and a seven-yard rush by Jim Brown.

Starr's passing enabled the Packers to lead 14-7 at half time. Hornung plunged over from the five in the first period to give Green Bay a 7-0 lead. The TD climaxed a 73-yard drive that included a 44-yard pass from Starr to Dowler.

After the Browns tied the score at 7-7 on Ryan's scoring pass to Collins, Pitts cracked over from the one to put Green Bay ahead to stay.

The Packer touchdown drive, that included two key completions to Max McGee, started after Herb Adderley intercepted a Ryan pass on the Green Bay 38.

In the opening game, Watkins' punt return late in the final period gave Detroit a 25-14 lead and enabled the Lions to survive a late rally by the Giants.

Newly acquired quarterback Earl Morrall hit Aaron Thomas with a 10-yard scoring pass to cut the Lions' lead to four points, and, after the following kickoff, Dick Lynch recovered a fumble on the Detroit 26 with less than two minutes left.

The Giants were unable to score, however, as the Lions held on to record their first victory of the exhibition season after three losses.

Plum's 26-yard scoring pass to Jim Gibbons early in the fourth period had given the Lions an 18-14 lead, after the Giants scored two touchdowns late in the third period to go ahead, 14-11.

Morrall teamed with Thomas on an 82-yard scoring play and Ernie Koy bulled over for the Giants' second score after a 37-yard run by Smith Reed and a pass interference penalty had moved the ball to the Detroit one.

The Lions led 11-0 at halftime, scoring all the points in the first period on Plum's five-yard scoring pass to Terry Barr, Wayne Walker's 19-yard field goal and a safety.

The touchdown came after Darris McCord recovered Morrall's fumble on the New York six. Morrall, back to pass, was brought down by Roger Brown and the ball was jarred loose. Walker's field goal, one of the three he attempted during the first half, was set up by a 30-yard punt return by rookie Tom Vaughn.

TOO COLD FOR LEONORE, 15; QUITS SWIM

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Just too tired to go on, a tearful 15-year-old Leonore Modell Saturday gave up her attempt to become the first to swim 27 chilly miles from the Farallon Islands to San Francisco after covering more than half the distance.

The skipper of an accompanying boat, Dick Smith of Sacramento, said Leonore collapsed in the water and was pulled into an open dory at 4:10 p.m. after swimming 15½ miles in about 16½ hours.

Smith said the Sacramento high school girl, who swam the English Channel a year ago, was defeated by high waves and water temperature around 54 degrees, three degrees colder than the swimmer and her coach had expected.

Leonore was transferred to her mother ship, the 110-foot cruiser Nevada Lady, for a shower and bed rest.

She entered the water at 12:05 a.m. at the fogbound Farallones due west of the Golden Gate.

She maintained a steady beat of 65 strokes per minute until fatigue caught up with her.

LEONORE USED a strong modified American crawl with flutter kick. She drank hot soup several times before pre-dawn. About 9 a.m. she ate two chocolate bars.

The sea was fairly smooth, with long rolling swells 8 to 9 feet high and little wind. Leonore was accompanied by the 110-foot cruiser Nevada Lady, with coach Herron, scuba divers and others aboard.

The 136 pound, 5-feet-4½ girl was not allowed, under endurance swimming rules, to touch the boat or another person.

Wholesale Shakeup in Yanks?

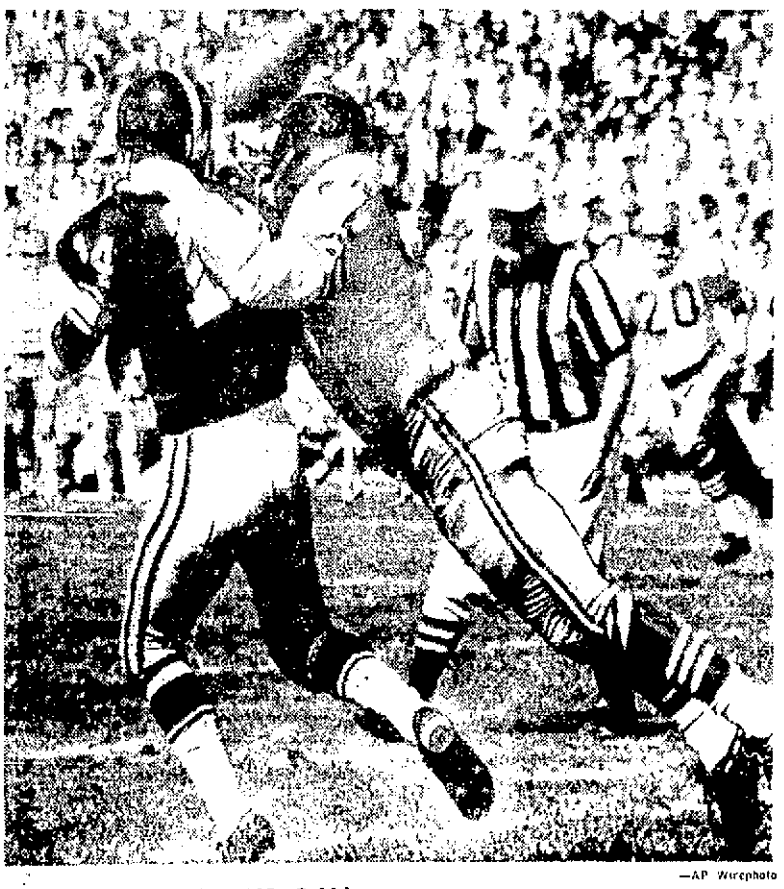

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A New York Yankee player "whose name is being withheld for obvious reasons," predicts extensive changes in the club's managing and playing staff next season, the Courier-Journal said in Sunday's editions.

Reporter Dave Whitaker quotes the player as saying:

"Ralph Houk will go back to managing the Yankees next year. The report we hear is that Johnny Keane will go to the New York Mets . . . there's talk that Lee MacPhail will come over from Baltimore to succeed Houk as general manager of the Yankees.

"A LOT of us will be traded —outside of Mickey Mantle and Whitey Ford, not many of us are sure to be around next year. There'll be all kinds of changes . . . the shakeup may be one of the biggest in baseball history."

Whitaker said he talked with the player in Kansas City last week.

Sports Merry-Go-Round

The Ghost Neighborhood

Somewhere around midsummer 1966 the vicinity of Busch Stadium—home of the St. Louis Cardinals—is due to become a commercial ghost neighborhood.

The ghosts will be those of Hornsby and Frisch, Alexander and Medwick, Martin and Dean and Musial, and even of Eddie Gaedel, Bill Veeck's famous midget.

But for small-business proprietors, the real ghosts will be the more than 1,500,000 sports fans a year who WON'T be coming and going around Busch Stadium.

For Busch Stadium will be vacated late next spring and the summer and autumn Cardinals will switch the site of their playtime activities to the city's spanking new palace on the Mississippi riverfront.

HANK HOLLINGWORTH

In that city during the past week, we asked St. Louis newspapermen what about those left behind—the bartenders, parking lot owners, waiters, waitresses, and hotel clerks who have made a buck or two over the decades?

What of those small businesses and businessmen to whom Busch Stadium has been a rich resource for so long?

The examples cited by newsmen were interesting. Surprisingly, not all the proprietors will miss either the baseball or football Cardinals.

FOR INSTANCE, a fellow who operates Marion's Lounge will be glad to see the stadium go.

(Depending on which bar you visit, there are mixed emotions over the demise of Busch Stadium.)

Anyway, at Marion's the man claims the ball park hurts his business!

His reason: "They park their buses in front of my door and my regular customers have no place to park. So they just don't stop. My business is better when the Cardinals are away."

ON THE OTHER HAND, the concessions manager of the nearby Fairgrounds Hotel claims loss of the Cardinals will make a big difference in another way!

"When the Cardinals are in town, our business increases by about 33%—both in the bar and coffee shop. And, of course, on weekends and during big series, the hotel is full of fans."

ANOTHER SHELTER in the area is the House That Ruth May Have Hit, the Northside YMCA, of all places. Commented the desk clerk there:

"It'll sure make a difference here. When the Cardinals are at home, there's seldom a night we don't turn people away. We're always full by dinner time.

"Besides the ordinary fans, we frequently put up out-of-town church groups on cots in the basement. We'll be way down next year."

PARISSI BAR and Restaurant also admits business will be hurt.

"The boss there told me he gets a pretty good trade from the ball park, depending on what the Cardinals do," said one writer. "But I've seen nights when they lose and the bar gets only one or two customers out of a crowd of 18,000.

"There's no doubt it will hurt that place. It's very busy when the Cardinals are going good. And the restaurant will suffer because of the loss of the football games. The football crowd spends more, but, of course, St. Louis has no liquor sale on Sunday."

FINALLY, there's the chap who has the closest restaurant and cocktail lounge to the stadium, the operator of Molina's.

His reaction: "Sure, I make money off of baseball, but I don't make a living off of it. And I'm the closest to the stadium. You can fall out of my place and you're on first base. It helps, but I don't make a living out of baseball.

"I'm staying. There are 3,000 people working just a few feet from my door. I've pledged my allegiance to them. And I'm gambling that something good will come of Busch Stadium."

At Molina's I saw a unique sign framed behind the bar. It read:

"Question: What are you going to do when Busch Stadium moves downtown?

"Answer: We are going to stay right here."

There are 9-million stories in the naked city . . . and almost as many in a forthcoming commercial ghost neighborhood.

There's always sadness in death . . . even that of a ball park.

Irked Haney Says Rigney Will Return

By ROSS NEWHAN

Fred Haney made it clear Saturday that he will have the last word on the Angels' manager in 1966 and he made it equally as clear that Bill Rigney has his word that he will be the manager.

"I have not signed Bill yet, but he has nothing to worry about and he knows it, he's known it for three months," said the Angels' angry general manager.

* * * *

DEAN Chance calmed the A's cellar-bray-tion with a four-hit, 14-strikeout, 4-1 victory which returned the basement lease to Kansas City.

However, there was no calming the irate Haney, reacting to the I, P-T's week-long series of stories dealing with chaos and contradictions in the Angels' executive offices and frustration and futility in the manager's office.

As reported by the writer, the situation festered Friday when Gene Autry first admitted and then denied a San Francisco TV statement: "You will be reading about Rigney's re-hiring within a few days." Then Haney accused the press of attempting to run his club, noting "I will make a decision when I'm ready to make one."

In Saturday's twilight, prior to Dean's dazzler, Haney made the following fiery, exclusive statement to The I, P-T.

"This has been an attempt by the press to create sensationalism where there is none.

"Bill has no reason to say we haven't talked with him about the situation and I said the same thing to his face this afternoon when we met.

"I gave him my word three months ago that he would go to Anaheim as the manager. Just last Tuesday Bob Reynolds, Rig and myself met and agreed upon everything.

"He doesn't have a contract, but we have been busy with player personnel matters and he knows damn well he'll get one. If I were going to fire him why would I include him in our discussions of next year's personnel?"

Rigney confirmed the Saturday afternoon meeting with Haney.

"Yes, we met and everything seems to be all right," said Rigney, who moments later took his own anger out on his players.

During a pre-game clubhouse meeting described by a veteran as the liveliest hell session I've ever heard," Rigney demanded 100 percent hustle on the field during the final month or "some of you won't be going to Anaheim if, indeed, I go myself."

Chance required no pep talk. Salary discussions take place within 30 days.

His 14 strikeouts, one shy of his own club record, included Ken Harrelson four times and Jim Landis three times. The mag-whiff-icent performance produced his sixth consecutive win and eighth in his last nine decisions.

Chance (13-9) lowered his ERA to 3.27 via his ninth complete game and he has now won seven straight at Dodger Stadium.

The Angels made the most of seven hits, debiting $75,000 bonus baby Catfish Hunter (5-6) with the defeat. A two-run seventh on singles by Tom Satriano, Paul Schaal and Jim Piersall sealed the debate, with a perfectly executed squeeze bunt by Chance significant in the California Angels' first win.

Meanwhile, Haney has called a press conference for this morning. Who's telling who what to do.

ANGEL ANGLES: Paul O'Boynick of the Kansas City Star is positive that Alvin Dark will be manager within two years . . . "Haywood (Sullivan) has done a great job, but knowing Mr. Finley's whims I've got to believe that Alvin will be the manager." . . . Dark has remained in seclusion during the A's visit here. . . . "I still don't know what Dark's capacity will be," said Charles Finley. "Currently, he's just taking a look at the league's personnel." . . . Rudy May (4-9) faces Fred Talbot (10-9) in the home stand finale this afternoon. . . . Jack Sanford and Marcelino Lopez will fly to Chicago today for a sufficient night's sleep prior to the Angels' Labor Day date with the White Sox. . . . Angels leave immediately following today's game, arriving in Windy City 2 p.m. Monday morning or eight hours after the two hurlers. . . . Road trip consists of seven games—2 in Chicago, 2 in Kansas City, 3 in Washington.

Hart's 2 Homers, Mays's 42nd Lead Giants, 7-3

CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of home runs by Jim Hart and Willie Mays' 42nd with a mate aboard carried the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

Rain delayed the start of the game and additional showers interrupted play in the third and fifth innings, threatening to wash out the 4-0 Giant lead.

The Giants jumped on starter Bob Buhl in the first inning when Dick Schofield beat out an infield hit and, with two outs, Willie McCovey doubled home a run, Hart slammed his 18th homer and Hal Lanier doubled in another run.

Mays blasted his homer in the sixth after Len Gabrielson walked, and Hart clouted his 19th in the ninth as the first batter to face Ken Holtzman in the pitcher's first major league appearance.

Cloninger Joins Sandy in '20' Circle

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tony Cloninger became the major league's second 20-game winner Saturday as the Milwaukee Braves, sparked by Felipe Alou's three-run home run, sloshed their way to a rain-splattered 8-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The game was finally called after 7⅓ innings.

The victory kept the Braves two games behind the National League-leading Dodgers. The fifth-place Pirates fell 5½ back.

Cloninger, who joined Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers in the select 20-game circle, was touched for 10 hits and two runs in pitching six innings plus.

TEXAS STYLE FOR OLDTIMERS

HOUSTON (UPI) — Two teams whose rosters read like the "who's who" of baseball will play each other and exchange reminiscences Monday at the Houston Astros' old timers' day game.

Twelve of baseball's Hall of Famers will be in the game or related activities. The game will put the "Baseball Immortals" against the "Texas All-Stars," players who got their start in Texas.

The game will precede Houston's game with Chicago Monday night.

Hall of Famers who accepted invitations to the game are pitchers Dizzy Dean, Bob Feller, Burleigh Grimes, Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Ted Lyons; catcher Bill Dickey; infielders Luke Appling, Jimmie Foxx and Frankie Frisch; and outfielders Joe DiMaggio and Heinie Manush.

* * * *

SIX OF THE PITCHERS on the two squads have pitched no-hit games in their careers.

Frankie Frisch, manager of the 1934 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, will manage the immortals in McKechnie's place and Paul Richards of the Astros will manage the Texas All-Stars.

Rain Delays L.B. Title Drive Again

Nitehawks Meet Downey in Tilt This Morning

By CHUCK MEDICK

ROCK ISLAND — Once again, as it has so many times this week, rain forced postponement of four games in the ISC World Softball tournament Saturday.

Among the victims of the latest cloudburst were the Long Beach Nitehawks and Downey Impalas, who will now meet at 10 a.m. today, weather permitting.

Saturday's session began early with the sprinkles coming down and wind chilling the hearts of the 600 fans in attendance. However, the sun came out, then disappeared, then reappeared, playing hide-and-seek along with the raindrops through four games.

The host Rock Island Argus eliminated Phoenix in a 1-0, nine-inning thriller. Phoenix' Jerry Wells pitched 60 innings of softball in the tournament though playing only five games. Phoenix had only one regulation seven-inning contest, the rest being 9, 13, 15 and 16-inning marathons.

* * * *

MOLINE'S Harrelson Motors eliminated the Rock Falls Bombers, 2-1. Nevada Test Site and Fort Worth, Tex., won easy victories over their opponents, Byan, Tex., and Dubuque, Iowa, 5-1 and 6-0.

Today's many-times-revised slate pits Moline and Nevada in the 9 a.m. opener. The Nitehawks and Downey, both undefeated, meet in the 10 a.m. game with Pomona battling the Allentown, Pa., Patriots at 11.

The last game in the daytime session brings Rock Island and Fort Worth together for the second time. Three games are on tap for tonight with two more scheduled Monday afternoon and the championship tentatively set for 7 p.m. Monday.

At the moment, the skies have cleared but the field is wet.

Duckworth on 'K' Tear as Nats Win

DETROIT (AP)—Don Lock's two-out single in the eighth inning scored Ken McMullen with the only run of the game, giving the Washington Senators a 1-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday.

Washington pitcher Jim Duckworth struck out eight of Detroit's first nine batters, giving his catcher, Mike Brumley, an American League record for consecutive put-outs at the start of a game.

Orioles Post 1-0 Win Over Tribe on Aparicio's Hit

BALTIMORE (AP) — Luis Aparicio's single in the 11th inning, only the fourth Baltimore hit, drove in Dave Johnson and gave the Orioles a 1-0 victory over Cleveland Saturday night.

The Orioles broke through immediately after Cleveland manager Birdie Tebbetts took out starter Sam McDowell at the start of the inning. McDowell had allowed only two hits and had struck out 16 when Tebbetts decided he had gone far enough.

Chisox Tip Twins, Cut Lead

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Chicago cracked four extra-base hits off Jim Grant and got tight pitching from John Buzhardt and Hoyt Wilhelm Saturday, trimming Minnesota, 5-4 and slicing the American League leaders' margin to 6½ games.

The second-place White Sox collected only six hits, but four were doubles by Pete Ward, Tom McCraw, Ron Hansen and Don Buford and another was Ken Berry's 10th home run.

Berry's two-out homer in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie. The White Sox added a run in the eighth when Buford singled off reliever Bill Pleis, moved to second on a ground out, to third on a passed ball and stole home.

That turned out to be the margin of victory after the Twins rallied for a run in the ninth on a double by Rich Rollins, Frank Quilici's single and a sacrifice fly by Zoilo Versalles. But with Quilici at third and two out, Wilhelm struck out Sandy Valdespino, ending the game.

Grant, the league's top winner with 17 victories, left for a pinch hitter after giving up four runs in seven innings.

Buzhardt, unruffled by two unearned Minnesota runs in the first inning when shortstop Hansen committed two errors, held the Twins to five hits before giving way to Wilhelm in the eighth.

Bennett started the second game but was hit on the right ankle by a pitch in the sixth inning. He recovered enough to take first base and to start the bottom of the inning on the mound.

But, with one out Mickey Mantle hit a 425-foot home run. Elston Howard followed with a line drive that hit Bennett's right thigh and the lefthander was unable to continue. Radatz closed out the pitching for the Red Sox.

Sports Merry-Go-Round

By HANK HOLLINGWORTH
Executive Sports Editor

The Ghost Neighborhood

Somewhere around midsummer 1966 the vicinity of Busch Stadium—home of the St. Louis Cardinals—is due to become a commercial ghost neighborhood.

The ghosts will be those of Hornsby and Frisch, Alexander and Medwick, Martin and Dean and Musial, and even of Eddie Gaedel, Bill Veeck's famous midget.

But for small-business proprietors, the real ghosts will be the more than 1,500,000 sports fans a year who WON'T be coming and going around Busch Stadium.

For Busch Stadium will be vacated late next spring and the summer and autumn Cardinals will switch the site of their playtime activities to the city's spanking new palace on the Mississippi riverfront.

HANK HOLLINGWORTH

In that city during the past week, we asked St. Louis newspapermen what about those left behind—the bartenders, parking lot owners, waiters, waitresses, and hotel clerks who have made a buck or two over the decades?

What of those small businesses and businessmen to whom Busch Stadium has been a rich resource for so long?

The examples cited by newsmen were interesting. Surprisingly, not all the proprietors will miss either the baseball or football Cardinals.

FOR INSTANCE, a fellow who operates Marion's Lounge will be glad to see the stadium go.

(Depending on which bar you visit, there are mixed emotions over the demise of Busch Stadium.)

Anyway, at Marion's the man claims the ball park hurts his business!

His reason: "They park their buses in front of my door and my regular customers have no place to park. So they just don't stop. My business is better when the Cardinals are away."

ON THE OTHER HAND, the concessions manager of the nearby Fairgrounds Hotel claims loss of the Cardinals will make a big difference in another way!

"When the Cardinals are in town, our business increases by about 33%—both in the bar and coffee shop. And, of course, on weekends and during big series, the hotel is full of fans."

ANOTHER SHELTER in the area is the House That Ruth May Have Hit, the Northside YMCA, of all places. Commented the desk clerk there:

"It'll sure make a difference here. When the Cardinals are at home, there's seldom a night we don't turn people away. We're always full by dinner time.

"Besides the ordinary fans, we frequently put up out-of-town church groups on cots in the basement. We'll be way down next year."

PARISSI BAR and Restaurant also admits business will be hurt.

"The boss there told me he gets a pretty good trade from the ball park, depending on what the Cardinals do," said one writer. "But I've seen nights when they lose and the bar gets only one or two customers out of a crowd of 18,000.

"There's no doubt it will hurt that place. It's very busy when the Cardinals are going good. And the restaurant will suffer because of the loss of the football games. The football crowd spends more, but, of course, St. Louis has no liquor sale on Sunday."

FINALLY, there's the chap who has the closest restaurant and cocktail lounge to the stadium, the operator of Molina's.

His reaction: "Sure, I make money off of baseball, but I don't make a living off of it. And I'm the closest to the stadium. You can fall out of my place and you're on first base. It helps, but I don't make a living out of baseball.

"I'm staying. There are 3,000 people working just a few feet from my door. I've pledged my allegiance to them. And I'm gambling that something good will come of Busch Stadium."

At Molina's I saw a unique sign framed behind the bar. It read:

"Question: What are you going to do when Busch Stadium moves downtown?

"Answer: We are going to stay right here."

There are 9-million stories in the naked city . . . and almost as many in a forthcoming commercial ghost neighborhood.

There's always sadness in death . . . even that of a ball park.

Irked Haney Says Rigney Will Return

By ROSS NEWHAN

Fred Haney made it clear Saturday that he will have the last word on the Angels' manager in 1966 and he made it equally as clear that Bill Rigney has his word that he will be the manager.

"I have not signed Bill yet, but he has nothing to worry about and he knows it, he's known it for three months," said the Angels' angry general manager.

DEAN Chance calmed the A's cellar-bray-tion with a four-hit, 14-strikeout, 4-1 victory which returned the basement lease to Kansas City.

However, there was no calming the irate Haney, reacting to the I, P-T's week-long series of stories dealing with chaos and contradictions in the Angels' executive offices and frustration and futility in the manager's office.

As reported by the writer, the situation festered Friday when Gene Autry first admitted and then denied a San Francisco TV statement: "You will be reading about Rigney's re-hiring within a few days." Then Haney accused the press of attempting to run his club, noting "I will make a decision when I'm ready to make one."

In Saturday's twilight, prior to Dean's dazzler, Haney made the following fiery, exclusive statement to The I, P-T.

"This has been an attempt by the press to create sensationalism where there is none.

"Bill has no reason to say we haven't talked with him about the situation and I said the same thing to his face this afternoon when we met.

"I gave him my word three months ago that he would go to Anaheim as the manager. Just last Tuesday Bob Reynolds, Rig and myself met and agreed upon everything.

"He doesn't have a contract, but we have been busy with player personnel matters and he knows damn well he'll get one. If I were going to fire him why would I include him in our discussions of next year's personnel?"

Rigney confirmed the Saturday afternoon meeting with Haney.

"Yes, we met and everything seems to be all right," said Rigney, who moments later took his own anger out on his players.

During a pre-game clubhouse meeting described by a veteran as the liveliest hell session I've ever heard," Rigney demanded 100 percent hustle on the field during the final month or "some of you won't be going to Anaheim if, indeed, I go myself."

Chance required no pep talk. Salary discussions take place within 30 days.

His 14 strikeouts, one shy of his own club record, included Ken Harrelson four times and Jim Landis three times. The mag-whiff-icent performance produced his sixth consecutive win and eighth in his last nine decisions.

Chance (13-9) lowered his ERA to 3.27 via his ninth complete game and he has now won seven straight at Dodger Stadium.

The Angels made the most of seven hits, debiting $75,000 bonus baby Catfish Hunter (5-6) with the defeat. A two-run seventh on singles by Tom Satriano, Paul Schaal and Jim Piersall sealed the debate, with a perfectly executed squeeze bunt by Chance significant in the California Angels' first win.

Meanwhile, Haney has called a press conference for this morning. Who's telling who what to do.

* * *

ANGEL ANGLES: Paul O'Connick of the Kansas City Star is positive that Alvin Dark will be manager within two years . . . "Heywood (Sullivan) has done a great job, but knowing Mr. Finley's whims I've got to believe that Alvin will be the manager." . . . Dark has remained in seclusion during the A's visit here. . . . "I still don't know what Dark's capacity will be," said Charles Finley. "Currently, he's just taking a look at the league's personnel."

Rudy May (4-2) faces Fred Talbot (10-9) in the home stand finale this afternoon . . . Jack Sanford and Marceline Lopez will fly to Chicago today for a sufficient night's sleep prior to the Angels' Labor Day date with the White Sox. . . . Angels leave immediately following today's game, arriving in Windy City 2 a.m. Monday morning or eight hours after the two hurlers. . . . Road trip consists of seven games—2 in Chicago, 2 in Kansas City, 3 in Washington.

JOHNNY PODRES pitched four innings and won in relief as Dodgers shut out Houston, 5-0.

FINLEY SIGNS POMONA ACE

Charles O. Finley, owner of the Kansas City Athletics, announced Saturday that he had signed Joe Keough, brother of Cincinnati Reds outfielder Marty Keough, to a bonus contract.

Keough, who lives in Pomona, starred as an outfielder the past two years on Mt. San Antonio College's Eastern Conference champions. In 1963, Keough was the EC's top quarterback and the following spring he led the Mounties to the state junior college baseball championship.

Hart's 2 Homers, Mays's 42nd Lead Giants, 7-3

CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of home runs by Jim Hart and Willie Mays' 42nd with a mate aboard carried the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

Rain delayed the start of the game and additional showers interrupted play in the third and fifth innings, threatening to wash out the 4-0 Giant lead.

The Giants jumped on starter Bob Buhl in the first inning when Dick Schofield beat out an infield hit and, with two outs, Willie McCovey doubled home a run, Hart slammed his 18th homer and Hal Lanier doubled in another run.

Mays blasted his homer in the sixth after Len Gabrielson walked, and Hart clouted his 19th in the ninth as the first batter to face Ken Holtzman in the pitcher's first major league appearance.

Cloninger Joins Sandy in '20' Circle

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Tony Cloninger became the major league's second 20-game winner Saturday as the Milwaukee Braves, sparked by Felipe Alou's three-run home run, sloshed their way to a rain-splattered 8-3 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The game was finally called after 7⅓ innings.

The victory kept the Braves two games behind the National League-leading Dodgers. The fifth-place Pirates fell 5½ back.

Cloninger, who joined Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers in the select 20-game circle, was touched for 10 hits and two runs in pitching six innings plus.

TEXAS STYLE FOR OLDTIMERS

HOUSTON (UPI) — Two teams whose rosters read like the "who's who" of baseball will play each other and exchange reminiscences Monday at the Houston Astros' old timers' day game.

Twelve of baseball's Hall of Famers will be in the game or related activities. The game will put the "Baseball Immortals" against the "Texas All-Stars," players who got their start in Texas.

The game will precede Houston's game with Chicago Monday night.

Hall of Famers who accepted invitations to the game are pitchers Dizzy Dean, Bob Feller, Burleigh Grimes, Lefty Grove, Carl Hubbell, Ted Lyons; catcher Bill Dickey; infielders Luke Appling, Jimmie Foxx and Frankie Frisch; and outfielders Joe DiMaggio and Heinie Manush.

* * * *

SIX OF THE PITCHERS on the two squads have pitched no-hit games in their careers.

Frankie Frisch, manager of the 1934 world champion St. Louis Cardinals, will manage the immortals in McKechnie's place and Paul Richards of the Astros will manage the Texas All-Stars.

Rain Delays L.B. Title Drive Again

Nitehawks Meet Downey in Tilt This Morning

By CHUCK MEDICK

ROCK ISLAND — Once again, as it has so many times this week, rain forced postponement of four games in the ISC World Softball tournament Saturday.

Among the victims of the latest cloudburst were the Long Beach Nitehawks and Downey Impalas, who will now meet at 10 a.m. today, weather permitting.

Saturday's session began early with the sprinkles coming down and wind chilling the hearts of the 600 fans in attendance. However, the sun came out, then disappeared, then reappeared, playing hide and-seek along with the raindrops through four games.

The host Rock Island Argus eliminated Phoenix in a 1-0, nine-inning thriller. Phoenix' Jerry Wells pitched 60 innings of softball in the tournament though playing only five games. Phoenix had only one regulation seven-inning contest, the rest being 9, 13, 15 and 16-inning marathons.

* * * *

MOLINE'S Harrelson Motors eliminated the Rock Falls Bombers, 2-1. Nevada Test Site and Fort Worth, Tex., won easy victories over their opponents, Byan, Tex., and Dubuque, Iowa, 5-1 and 6-0.

Today's many-times-revised slate pits Moline and Nevada in the 9 a.m. opener. The Nitehawks and Downey, both undefeated, meet in the 10 a.m. game with Pomona battling the Allentown, Pa., Patriots at 11.

The last game in the daytime session brings Rock Island and Fort Worth together for the second time. Three games are on tap for tonight with two more scheduled Monday afternoon and the championship tentatively set for 7 p.m. Monday.

At the moment, the skies have cleared but the field is wet.

Duckworth on 'K' Tear as Nats Win

DETROIT (AP)—Don Lock's two-out single in the eighth inning scored Ken McMullen with the only run of the game, giving the Washington Senators a 1-0 victory over the Detroit Tigers Saturday.

Washington pitcher Jim Duckworth struck out eight of Detroit's first nine batters, giving his catcher, Mike Brumley, an American League record for consecutive putouts at the start of a game.

Orioles Post 1-0 Win Over Tribe on Aparicio's Hit

BALTIMORE (AP) — Luis Aparicio's single in the 11th inning, only the fourth Baltimore hit, drove in Dave Johnson and gave the Orioles a 1-0 victory over Cleveland Saturday night.

The Orioles broke through immediately after Cleveland manager Birdie Tebbetts took out starter Sam McDowell at the start of the inning. McDowell had allowed only two hits and had struck out 16 when Tebbetts decided he had gone far enough.

Chisox Tip Twins, Cut Lead

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Chicago cracked four extra-base hits off Jim Grant and got tight pitching from John Buzhardt and Hoyt Wilhelm Saturday, trimming Minnesota, 5-4 and slicing the American League leaders' margin to 6½ games.

The second-place White Sox collected only six hits, but four were doubles by Pete Ward, Tom McCraw, Ron Hansen and Don Buford and another was Ken Berry's 10th home run.

Berry's two-out homer in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie. The White Sox added a run in the eighth when Buford singled off reliever Bill Pleis, moved to second on a ground out, to third on a passed ball and stole home.

That turned out to be the margin of victory after the Twins rallied for a run in the ninth on a double by Rich Rollins, Frank Quilici's single and a sacrifice fly by Zoilo Versalles. But with Quilici at third and two out, Wilhelm struck out Sandy Valdespino, ending the game.

Grant, the league's top winner with 17 victories, left for a pinch hitter after giving up four runs in seven innings.

Buzhardt, unruffled by two unearned Minnesota runs in the first inning when shortstop Hansen committed two errors, held the Twins to five hits before giving way to Wilhelm in the eighth.

Red Sox Sweep Yankees

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Boston Red Sox climbed out of the American League cellar Saturday night with a 1-0, 7-2 sweep of a twi-night doubleheader from the New York Yankees.

Dave Morehead pitched a three-hit shutout in the first game and Dennis Bennett and Dick Radatz combined for an eight-hit performance in the nightcap.

Bennett started the second game but was hit on the right ankle by a pitch in the sixth inning. He recovered enough to take first base and to start the bottom of the inning on the mound.

But, with one out Mickey Mantle hit a 425-foot home run. Elston Howard followed with a line drive that hit Bennett's right thigh and the lefthander was unable to continue. Radatz closed out the pitching for the Red Sox.

DAVIS

Torment of Tommy

By RICH ROBERTS

"I'm more depressed now than ever. The season's almost over and they're fighting for a pennant and I still can't get out there and help the team."

Flash back to May 1, Dodger Stadium, the Dodgers versus the Giants.

Tommy Davis is on first base—yes, son, the Dodgers really did have a man on first base once—Tommy Davis is on first and there's a ground ball to the infield.

Davis streaks for second with a head on the Giants' Hal Lanier and intentions of breaking up the double play. But Lanier is standing wide of the bag and the throw isn't coming so Davis changes his mind—right in the middle of his slide.

"I broke for the bag instead, and when I made that change of direction my spikes stayed in the ground."

TOMMY STILL HASN'T reached second base, and probably won't until sometime next spring. When your foot stays in one place and the rest of you goes someplace else, something's gotta give. With Tommy, it was his right ankle, a fracture and dislocation that also described the Dodgers' pennant chances at the moment.

Sandy Koufax had arthritis, Willie Davis had wrecked a leg on opening day a couple of weeks earlier and Walt Alston was asking a couple of Little Leaguers to impersonate big leaguers in the infield. And now the National League batting champion of 1962 and '63 was writhing in the dirt with one foot screwed halfway off his leg.

A pennant? Sure, right after the next Russian election.

"It felt unnatural when I turned over," Davis says, "I realized something was wrong. And when I looked at my foot, I knew it. But there wasn't really any pain. I was more shocked than anything."

FIRST TO ARRIVE at Tommy's side was Giant pitcher Gaylord Perry, whose mission was not one of mercy. Perry, who had wound up with the ball on the play, leaned over and apologetically tagged Tommy out. Next to arrive was Dodger trainer Wayne Anderson.

"He twisted my foot back to normal then when we got inside he put it in a balloon splint. It was beautiful. With pressure all around it, I didn't feel a thing. I felt pretty good then"... or at least as good as a fellow can feel with one foot broken off.

"It swelled the night after and they had to cut the cast," Davis adds. "I went through a couple of days of pain, but I still thought I'd be playing by the 15th of August."

TO HIS TEAMMATES' credit, without Davis the Dodgers haven't experienced a single batting slump. They just play that way all the time.

"It's fantastic how they've stayed up there," Tommy says. "I've never heard of a team with so many injuries and all still fighting for a pennant this late in the season. That's why I think they're going to hang on. They've hung on all this time with nothing going right for them."

Obviously, the Dodgers don't think Davis can do them any good this season. They didn't bother to list him on their roster of World Series eligibles by deadline at midnight last Wednesday.

"I wasn't holding my breath," Tommy says, admitting that he isn't knocking himself out staying in shape, either. He takes regular whirlpool treatments on the ankle, does tippy-toe exercises to strengthen it and plays a little golf.

"I ride a cart and get out to hit. I've had good nines but can't put two of them together. I shot 50-39 at Montebello. That's really consistent."

HE'S HARDLY TOUCHED a baseball or bat. "I don't do nothing, I'm so discouraged," he says, "although I have played a little pepper when I'm out at the ball field. You don't lose that knack of hitting right away."

He hopes the ankle is strong enough that he can play in the Arizona Winter Instructional League. In the meantime, he frets along with Scully and Doget when the Dodgers are travelling and watches the home games from the press box or a secluded corner of the dugout. Sometimes it's hard to take, in a way only a ballplayer can understand.

"I turned it off in the ninth inning," he said the night Koufax lost to the Pirates in the first game of that dandy doubleheader.

The injury has given him a ballplayer's rare opportunity to lead the life of a family man—he has three young children, "all broads"—but his wife is becoming more disenchanted by the moment with a loose-ends husband underfoot.

"She wants me to get the hell out of here," Tommy says. "I'm breaking up the routine."

Eagles to Ogle New Set of Rams

By AL LARSON

HOYEM

Nobody will ever be able to accuse Harland Svare of playing reckless football, but the Philadelphia Eagles may be in for a surprise or two today when they meet the Rams at the Coliseum. Kickoff time for the pre-season tussle is 1 o'clock.

In order to juice up the Rams' running attack, Svare has switched Clancy Williams over to offense. Clancy, who went both ways in college, had played exclusively on defense in the Rams' first three games.

"It wasn't that the coaching staff was dissatisfied with Clancy because he already had intercepted three passes in three games, but because we needed more speed," a Ram spokesman said Saturday.

With Dick Bass biding his time until the league campaign, the Rams' running game has been virtually grounded. In three games the Rams had moved the ball only 210 yards.

Clancy won't start, but he'll get ample chances before the afternoon's over. Playing with a 3-6-1 Washington State team, he carried 147 times for 783 net yards while compiling his 5.3 average last year. The Rams' No. 1 draft choice ran the 100 in 9.6 as a sophomore.

Terry Baker, the legend of Oregon State, will join quarterback Bill Munson and fullback Les Josephson in the starting backfield today.

Although Joe Kuharich's Eagles are fresh from chopping down the New York Giants 34-13 last weekend, the Rams still rate as five-point choices.

The Eagles, with a 2-2 record, are anxious to reverse last year's 20-10 defeat administered during the regular season here. The Rams are 1-2 this summer, with losses to Chicago and Cleveland and a victory over Dallas.

Rejuvenated Timmy Brown, running like the gazelle of a few seasons back, heads the current Eagles' attack with 136 yards and two touchdowns on 24 carries. Timmy also is the Birds' top receiver with eight catches for 177 yards, including a 51-yard play for a touchdown.

OVERTIME TRIUMPH

Ash Surprises Sanders for L.B. Jr. Golf Crown

By JOHN CASH

Brian Ash staged another of his heart-stopping rallies Saturday at Recreation Park to upset Gary Sanders on the 20th hole and win the Long Beach City Junior Golf Championship in an all Buena Park final.

Poly High's Bill Kesler came from behind to tumble Bellflower's Terry Fiero, 3 and 2, for his second successive consolation championship.

Ash of Buena Park High School pitched three feet from the pin on the first hole for a birdie to lead 1-up, but his high school teammate evened the match on the next hole and Ash never led again.

Sanders, rated the best in the nation in his age group, won the third, fourth and fifth holes for what looked like a substantial lead after five holes.

Ash appeared to find his putting touch on the eighth hole when he dropped a 20-footer for a birdie to narrow the deficit. But the always steady Sanders rammed in an 18-footer for a birdie-2 on the 12th.

When Ash pushed his drive into the trees on the 13th and lost two strokes on the hole for a lost ball, it appeared Sanders had the match in his hip pocket. Gary was 3 up with only five holes to play.

However, Ash shrugged off his previous errors and mustered another birdie barrage much like the one that brought him from the brink of defeat to a 1-up win over Wilson's Fred Good in the semifinals Friday.

Brian won the 14th when Sanders hooked his drive out of bounds and took a bogey. He knocked in an 18-foot birdie putt on the 15th and dropped a 4-footer for a birdie-4 on the 17th to erase Snaders' lead.

After both players parred the 18th on short putts, Sanders coolly canned a seven-foot pressure putt for a par to half the 19th. But Gary couldn't duplicate that performance on the 20th.

U.S. Golfers Rally for Tie in Cup Play

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The United States won six of the final eight singles matches and halved one to tie Great Britain 11-11 Saturday, the first time in Walker Cup competition that the teams have tied.

Officials said the Cup would remain in the United States for a year and Britain would have possession for a year. The cup matches are held biannually.

Clive Clark saved the British from a humiliating defeat with a 34-foot putt on the 18th hole of his match with Mark Hopkins of High Point, N.C., which allowed him to halve the match. Britain won only one singles encounter.

Billie Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., scored the points that gave the United States a tie when he defeated Michael Lunt 4 and 2 in the final match of the day.

Possibly the most important match victory for the U.S. team came when Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., sunk a 12-footer on the 18th green to defeat Sandy Saddler one-up in the second match.

Rodgers Leads as Bo Fades

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Phil Rodgers, a stocky ex-Marine and former national collegiate champion, jumped into a one-stroke lead in the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open at the 54-hole mark Saturday while Bo Wininger faded rapidly on the final three holes.

Rodgers shot a 69 for a third-round score of 212, four strokes under par for the tournament and one shot better than Randy Glover and Jack Rule.

Wininger, who led the first two rounds but was bothered by a pulled muscle in his side, bogeyed the last three holes and wound up with a four-over-par 76 and a 215, three strokes off the pace.

Arnold Palmer, defending champion in the tournament, blew to a 78 and three-round total of 223, 11 strokes off the pace going into the final day.

* * * *

PLAYING in the same threesome with Wininger, Rodgers staged a head-to-head duel with the dapper Las Vegas, Nev., pro, but was unable to catch up until he sank a 15-inch birdie putt on the 15th and Wininger took a par. A 10-footer on the 16th shot Rodgers ahead when Wininger bogeyed.

Rodgers said he almost stayed home on doctor's orders because of an automobile accident in San Diego, in which he suffered a cut on his nose and bruises on his legs.

"I'm in good position now," he said. "I like to have them chasing me."

McKay Unhappy With Trojan Drills

The University of Southern California football team scrimmaged Saturday, but coach John McKay was unhappy with the results.

The Trojan offense worked against reserves in the morning session, and the defense and reserves played in the afternoon.

"The offense looked better," said McKay, "but we still need a lot of work."

Quarterback Pat Mills completed six of 10 passes for 90 yards, and halfback Don McCall gained 50 yards in six carries. Halfback Mike Garrett played about half the scrimmage and picked up 32 yards in three runs.

Among the linemen, guard Frank Lopez and end John Thomas were impressive.

USC will hold just one session today and will resume two-a-day drills Monday. Double sessions will continue through next week. The following week the Trojans will practice just once a day in preparation for the opener Sept. 17 against Minnesota at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

UCLA senior fullback Paul Horgan starred Saturday as the Bruin football squad scrimmaged for the second time in two days.

Horgan carried the ball five times for 36 yards to lead the running attack. Quarterback Gary Beban completed two passes in as many attempts for 30 yards, but was held to nine yards on the ground.

On defense left linebacker Dallas Grider was outstanding.

Coach Tommy Prothro plans one workout today, with double drills resuming Monday. The Bruins open Sept. 18 at Michigan State.

Senior defensive tackle Dave Urrea told Golden Bears coach Ray Willsey Saturday he would be unable to play football this year for the University of California.

Urrea, 6-foot-2, 220-pound two-year letterman from San Francisco, gave no reason for dropping off the squad. Urrea was not a starter, but saw plenty of action.

He, John Cantlon, Larry Lathrop and junior college transfer Dan Goich from Colinga were the team's top tackle prospects.

Willsey filmed offensive and defensive plays. He was particularly pleased by the scrimmage performance of sophomore halfback Ted Parks of Santa Ana. Parks was a freshman letterman last year.

DAVIS

Torment of Tommy

By RICH ROBERTS

"I'm more depressed now than ever. The season's almost over and they're fighting for a pennant and I still can't get out there and help the team."

Flash back to May 1, Dodger Stadium, the Dodgers versus the Giants.

Tommy Davis is on first base—yes, son, the Dodgers really did have a man on first base once—Tommy Davis is on first and there's a ground ball to the infield

Davis streaks for second with a bead on the Giants' Hal Lanier and intentions of breaking up the double play. But Lanier is standing wide of the bag and the throw isn't coming so Davis changes his mind—right in the middle of his slide.

"I broke for the bag instead, and when I made that change of direction my spikes stayed in the ground."

TOMMY STILL HASN'T reached second base, and probably won't until sometime next spring. When your foot stays in one place and the rest of you goes someplace else, something's gotta give. With Tommy, it was his right ankle, a fracture and dislocation that also described the Dodgers' pennant chances at the moment.

Sandy Koufax had arthritis, Willie Davis had wrecked a leg on opening day a couple of weeks earlier and Walt Alston was asking a couple of Little Leaguers to impersonate big leaguers in the infield. And now the National League batting champion of 1962 and '63 was writhing in the dirt with one foot screwed halfway off his leg.

A pennant? Sure, right after the next Russian election.

"It felt unnatural when I turned over," Davis says. "I realized something was wrong. And when I looked at my foot, I knew it. But there wasn't really any pain. I was more shocked than anything."

FIRST TO ARRIVE at Tommy's side was Giant pitcher Gaylord Perry, whose mission was not one of mercy. Perry, who had wound up with the ball on the play, leaned over and apologetically tagged Tommy out. Next to arrive was Dodger trainer Wayne Anderson.

"He twisted my foot back to normal then when we got inside he put it in a balloon splint. It was beautiful. With pressure all around it, I didn't feel a thing. I felt pretty good then". . . or at least as good as a fellow can feel with one foot broken off.

"It swelled the night after and they had to cut the cast," Davis adds. "I went through a couple of days of pain, but I still thought I'd be playing by the 15th of August."

TO HIS TEAMMATES' credit, without Davis the Dodgers haven't experienced a single batting slump. They just play that way all the time.

"It's fantastic how they've stayed up there," Tommy says. "I've never heard of a team with so many injuries and all still fighting for a pennant this late in the season. That's why I think they're going to hang on. They've hung on all this time with nothing going right for them."

Obviously, the Dodgers don't think Davis can do them any good this season. They didn't bother to list him on their roster of World Series eligibles by deadline at midnight last Wednesday.

"I wasn't holding my breath," Tommy says, admitting that he isn't knocking himself out slaving in shape, either. He takes regular whirlpool treatments on the ankle, does tippy-toe exercises to strengthen it and plays a little golf.

"I ride a cart and get out to hit. I've had good nines but can't put two of them together. I shot 50-39 at Montebello. That's really consistent."

HE'S HARDLY TOUCHED a baseball or bat. "I don't do nothing, I'm so discouraged," he says, "although I have played a little pepper when I'm out at the ball field. You don't lose that knack of hitting right away."

He hopes the ankle is strong enough that he can play in the Arizona Winter Instructional League. In the meantime, he frets along with Scully and Dogget when the Dodgers are travelling and watches the home games from the press box or a secluded corner of the dugout. Sometimes it's hard to take, in a way only a ballplayer can understand.

"I turned it off in the ninth inning," he said the night Koufax lost to the Pirates in the first game of that dandy doubleheader.

The injury has given him a ballplayer's rare opportunity to lead the life of a family man—he has three young children, "all broads"—but his wife is becoming more disenchanted by the moment with a loose-ends husband underfoot.

"She wants me to get the hell out of here," Tommy says. "I'm breaking up the routine."

Eagles to Ogle New Set of Rams

By AL LARSON

HOYEM

Nobody will ever be able to accuse Harland Svare of playing reckless football, but the Philadelphia Eagles may be in for a surprise or two today when they meet the Rams at the Coliseum. Kickoff time for the pre-season tussle is 1 o'clock.

In order to juice up the Rams' running attack, Svare has switched Clancy Williams over to offense. Clancy, who went both ways in college, had played exclusively on defense in the Rams' first three games.

"It wasn't that the coaching staff was dissatisfied with Clancy because he already had intercepted three passes in three games, but because we needed more speed," a Ram spokesman said Saturday.

With Dick Bass hiding his time until the league campaign, the Rams' running game has been virtually grounded, In three games the Rams had moved the ball only 210 yards.

Clancy won't start, but he'll get ample chances before the afternoon's over. Playing with a 3-6-1 Washington State team, he carried 147 times for 783 net yards while compiling his 5.3 average last year. The Rams' No. 1 draft choice ran the 100 in 9.6 as a sophomore.

Although Joe Kuharich's Eagles are fresh from chopping down the New York Giants 34-13 last weekend, the Rams still rate as five-point choices.

The Eagles, with a 2-2 record, are anxious to reverse last year's 20-10 defeat administered during the regular season here. The Rams are 1-2 this summer, with losses to Chicago and Cleveland and a victory over Dallas.

After both players parred the 18th on short putts, Sanders coolly canned a seven-foot pressure putt for a par to half the 19th. But Gary couldn't duplicate that performance on the 20th.

U.S. Golfers Rally for Tie in Cup Play

BALTIMORE (UPI)—The United States won six of the final eight singles matches and halved one to tie Great Britain 11-11 Saturday, the first time in Walker Cup competition that the teams have tied.

Officials said the Cup would remain in the United States for a year and Britain would have possession for a year. The cup matches are held biannually.

Clive Clark saved the British from a humiliating defeat with a 34-foot putt on the 18th hole of his match with Mark Hopkins of High Point, N.C., which allowed him to halve the match. Britain won only one singles encounter.

Billie Joe Patton of Morganton, N.C., scored the points that gave the United States a tie when he defeated Michael Lunt 4 and 2 in the final match of the day.

Possibly the most important match victory for the U.S. team came when Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., sunk a 12-footer on the 18th green to defeat Sandy Saddler one-up in the second match.

Sellery, Montgomery Share Virginia Honors

Bob Sellery (71-8-63) and Bill Montgomery (72-8-64) took top honors in the weekly Virginia Country Club Class A low net tournament Saturday.

Buena Park's Brian Ash strokes putt toward cup on 9th hole at Recreation Park Saturday in Long Beach City Junior Golf Championship. Ash rallied to upset Gary Sanders on the 20th hole in final match.

Rodgers Leads as Bo Fades

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Phil Rodgers, a stocky ex-Marine and former national collegiate champion, jumped into a one-stroke lead in the $65,000 Oklahoma City Open at the 54-hole mark Saturday while Bo Wininger faded rapidly on the final three holes.

Rodgers shot a 69 for a third-round score of 212, four strokes under par for the tournament and one shot better than Randy Glover and Jack Rule.

Wininger, who led the first two rounds but was bothered by a pulled muscle in his side, bogeyed the last three holes and wound up with a four-over-par 76 and a 215, three strokes off the pace.

Arnold Palmer, defending champion in the tournament, blew to a 78 and three-round total of 223, 11 strokes off the pace going into the final day.

PLAYING in the same threesome with Wininger, Rodgers staged a head-to-head duel with the dapper Las Vegas, Nev., pro, but was unable to catch up until he sank a 15-inch birdie putt on the 15th and Wininger took a par. A 10-footer on the 16th shot Rodgers ahead when Wininger bogeyed.

Rodgers said he almost stayed home on doctor's orders because of an automobile accident in San Diego, in which he suffered a cut on his nose and bruises on his legs.

"I'm in good position now," he said. "I like to have them chasing me."

Dawson passed 63 yards to Chris Burford for one touchdown and was instrumental in setting up the other two. The outburst, which featured two touchdowns within 42 seconds, pulled the Chiefs from a 7-0 deficit to a commanding 21-7 halftime lead.

MILLS SHINES

McKay Unhappy With Trojan Drills

The University of Southern California football team scrimmaged Saturday, but coach John McKay was unhappy with the results.

The Trojan offense worked against reserves in the morning session, and the defense and reserves played in the afternoon.

"The offense looked better," said McKay, "but we still need a lot of work."

Quarterback Pat Mills completed six of 10 passes for 90 yards, and halfback Don McCall gained 50 yards in six carries. Halfback Mike Garrett played about half the scrimmage and picked up 32 yards in three runs.

Among the linemen, guard Frank Lopez and end John Thomas were impressive.

USC will hold just one session today and will resume two-a-day drills Monday. Double sessions will continue through next week. The following week the Trojans will practice just once a day in preparation for the opener Sept. 17 against Minnesota at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

UCLA senior fullback Paul Horgan starred Saturday as the Bruin football squad scrimmaged for the second time in two days.

Horgan carried the ball five times for 36 yards to lead the running attack. Quarterback Gary Beban completed two passes in as many attempts for 30 yards, but was held to nine yards on the ground.

On defense left linebacker Dallas Grider was outstanding.

Coach Tommy Prothro plans one workout today, with double drills resuming Monday. The Bruins open Sept. 18 at Michigan State.

Senior defensive tackle Dave Urrea told Golden Bears coach Ray Willsey Saturday he would be unable to play football this year for the University of California.

Urrea, 6-foot-2, 220-pound two-year letterman from San Francisco, gave no reason for dropping off the squad. Urrea was not a starter, but saw plenty of action.

He, John Cantlon, Larry Lathrop and junior college transfer Dan Goich from Colinga were the team's top tackle prospects.

Willsey filmed offensive and defensive plays. He was particularly pleased by the scrimmage performance of sophomore halfback Ted Parks of Santa Ana. Parks was a freshman letterman last year.

Once Over Lightly

Mays Just Missed York's Great 18

The big reason why the Giants were able to fight their way back into contention in the National League pennant race during August was the great hitting streak of "Wonderful Willie" Mays, who hammered out 17 home runs during the month.

He bettered the National League record . . . and equalled the former mark of 17 set by Babe Ruth in September of 1927 when he was en route to his record 60 homers.

RUDY YORK
Unbelievable August

But Willie fell one short of matching one of the most remarkable hitting streaks in baseball history—Rudy York's 18 home runs during the month of August in 1937.

Mays' streak emphasized once again the tremendous job turned in by York, the part Cherokee Indian from Cartersville, Georgia.

York, strangely enough, was still trying to win a regular job with the Detroit Tigers as the '37 season rolled into August.

Rudy had been tried at second base, third base, in the outfield and even caught a few games. First base, of course, was his normal position, but the Tigers already had a pretty fair ballplayer holding down that spot—Hank Greenberg.

Thus, it was obvious that if York was to play daily, he had to perform at another position.

York was sitting on the bench through the first three days of August as the Tigers staggered through a five-game losing streak that dropped them to fourth place. After the game, reports began circulating that manager Mickey Cochrane was due to make some changes.

When the Tigers arrived at the Philadelphia ball park the next day—August 4—they were met by a rumor that York was being traded to the A's.

The report grew stronger as the club took batting practice when Cochrane suddenly called York into the dressing room.

MICKEY HIMSELF HAD STARTED the season as Detroit's regular catcher in addition to handling the managerial chores. However, on May 25 he suffered a fractured skull when beaned by Yankee pitcher Bump Hadley.

Ray Hayworth, Cliff Bolton and even Birdie Tebbetts had been tried by replacements. But Cochrane needed more hitting.

Thus, as York walked into the clubhouse expecting to be told he had been traded, Cochrane tossed him a catcher's mitt. "Starting now, you're the No. 1 catcher," he said.

When Cochrane made out the batting order, York was in the No. 7 spot behind the likes of Gee Walker, Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer, Greenberg, Chet Laabs and Marv Owen. It didn't take long for him to work his way up to a more prominent place in the order.

He doubled on his first trip to the plate, and then hit his first home run of the month and 14th of the season his second time up.

Three days later, his three-run homer in the ninth was good for a 3-2 win over Washington.

And on August 17, Rudy celebrated his 24th birthday in Chicago with four hits, including his sixth homer of the month.

WITHIN TWO WEEKS AFTER BEING inserted into the lineup, York's hitting had carried the Tigers into second place . . . although the Yankees were still 11 games on top.

On the 24th, Rudy hit his high point of the month with three homers in a twin bill with the A's.

Time began running out on the streaking York and on Monday, August 30, he still needed two home runs to tie Ruth.

Rudy hit No. 16 against Yankee pitcher Lefty Gomez in the first inning.

That brought him up to the last day of the month, Tuesday, the 31st.

The opponent was Washington, the pitcher Pete Appleton. And Rudy had a field day. In the first inning, he cleared the scoreboard with No. 17, and in the sixth he again hit one over the scoreboard for the record. He wound up with a perfect 4-for-4 that day, also getting two singles as he drove in seven runs.

Starting on the 4th, York batted .360 in 30 games and in addition to the 18 homers, he rapped out five doubles and two triples and accounted for 50 RBI's.

ALTHOUGH ONE DOESN'T REMEMBER York filling such a role, Red Jones, the old umpire, often said in later years that his favorite comic among the ballplayers was the big Indian. He was quite a wit.

"I remember one time very distinctly," he revealed one day. "Steve Gromek was pitching to York. He had a motion that was almost underhanded. The ball would rise at the plate. It bothered Rudy . . . and in this one game, I called him out on strikes the first two times he was up.

"York objected the second time. 'That was no strike,' he growled. 'Perhaps you don't understand the principle,' I explained. 'Gromek throws almost underhanded and that's why there is so much deception.'

" 'Yeah,' York snapped, 'but who is being deceived? You or me?'

"Well, I almost ran him then, but I let him stay in and the next time he came up, he announced his feelings immediately.

" 'You know,' he said to me. 'A bunch of us fellows in the dugout have been talking about you. And we like you. I want you to know that.

" 'Furthermore, we think you've got a great eye. Now why don't you get it out of your pocket and use it?'

"Exit one Indian!"

Ugly Spectre of New Bowl Hassle Seen

Cougars Play Only 3 Games, Could Scramble Selection

By JEROME HALL
Staff Writer
(Second in a Series)

SPOKANE—The ugly spectre of another Rose Bowl hassle was raised here Saturday as the Washington State football coach put in an early bid for the nomination to the Pasadena classic.

The odds against Washington State are long, but it is a good bet that there is going to be another noisy squabble this season. The AAWU rulers have not succeeded in their attempt to unscramble the confusion over the Rose Bowl selection.

With an unbalanced conference schedule again for 1965, with some schools playing three and four league games and some playing six and seven.

AAWU commissioner Tom Hamilton predicted an even closer race for the championship than the one that a year ago found Oregon State and USC finishing in a tie for the title, which ignited a name-calling dispute when the Trojans were voted a New Year's Day vacation.

Hamilton says there will, in his personal and unofficial opinion, be more than two teams in the running this year. "I see more balance from top to bottom," he says.

As the touring West Coast sportswriters made a one-day stopover here to watch a scrimmage of the distant-cousin Cougars, the athletic director at Washington State, Stan Bates, revealed that his special committee that was commissioned to unscramble the muddle has come up with few answers.

* * * *

THE committee worked diligently on the problem. It studied a proposal that would have awarded, say, three points for beating a real good team, two for beating a pretty good team and one for beating Idaho; then at the end of the season the team with the most points would go to the Rose Bowl. That plan was judged unfeasable.

"We even looked into the possiblity of using a computer," confessed Bates.

As it stands now, the athletic directors at the direction of the university presidents will vote after Nov. 20. They need not vote for the conference champion. Just the most representative, a term which still has not been defined.

Clark, the Washington State coach who bussed his team 60 miles from Pullman to put on a scrimmage for the touring sportswriters here Saturday, says he would not expect to make it to the Rose Bowl merely on the strength of winning the conference championship, which he would do by beating Washington, Oregon and Oregon State, his only league opponents.

"But," he added, "I'd expect to go if we also beat Inwa, Minnesota and Indiana. That would make us champions of both conferences, and I'm not sure which one we should represent. I guess what we would do," he said with a grin, "is go to Pasadena and play an intra-squad game."

Clark, hired a year ago off Owens' staff at Seattle on a four-year trial to revive the Cougars, says his rebuilding is on schedule. This year's good-looking sophomores will be seniors when Washington State dives headlong into a full league schedule in 1967.

But there remains the unnerving realization that if the Cougars win their three league games and knock off a couple of lower-eschelon teams from the Big Ten, there will be howling from this part of the country for a Rose Bowl invitation.

Reed Optimistic, Sees Good Year for 49ers

By DOUG IVES

Like the actor who just received a standing ovation, Long Beach State football coach Don Reed is wondering what to do for an encore.

Coming off the greatest act in school history—an 8-2 record with over 30 school records broken—Reed now is asked, in fact expected, to stage another four-star performance.

Like the good showman knows, once you whet the audience's appetite for excellence, they won't accept less. And 49er football fans are enamored with success after so many lean years.

"We don't expect to give them less," Reed said confidently Saturday at his team's Terminal Island training base. "We would be unhappy with anything worse than another 8-2 record."

As for outlasting powerhouses Los Angeles and San Diego for the CCAA title, Reed maintained "we've got as good a shot as anybody; I know we're thinking about winning and I'm sure the kids are too."

With 17 lettermen and a bumper crop of recruits, Reed has plenty of reason to be optimistic, but the 49ers face major obstacles in their drive for the CCAA championship.

First, by Reed's own admission, both Los Angeles and San Diego should be equally as strong as last year—and in 1964 the Diablos were ranked No. 1 in the country and the Aztecs No. 3.

Secondly, Reed must replace 17 lettermen who were with him two years, players like Dick Degen, Jerry Otterson and Pat Brosnan.

Reed expects to have the best passing attack in the conference with Jack Reilly throwing to the likes of Jack Tucker, Shelley Novack and Steve Newell, but only Les Shy makes the running game respectable.

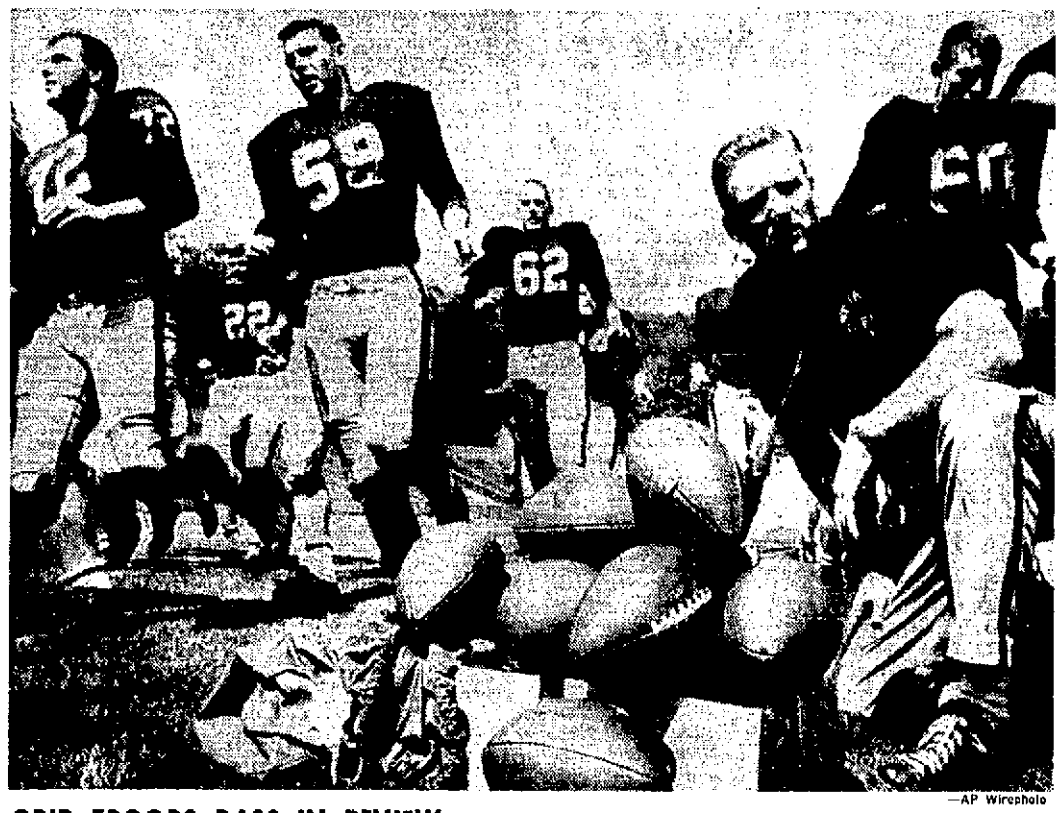

All-CCAA guard Roy Schmidt, already drafted by Green Bay, mighty Joe Young and newcomer Ron Ogle should anchor the line which still has many question marks.

"Sure we've got holes to fill, but in size, speed and morale we're equal of last year, if not better. The passing will hold its own and Shy will have to carry our running attack," said Reed.

Despite the pressure to improve on 1964's successful season, Reed and his players, like the showman, much prefer the sound of two hands clapping as opposed to one. And they fully intend to win that applause again this season!

DON'T TOUCH THAT DIAL . . .

Lakers Caught in Station Break

By DOUG IVES

An embattled Bob Short is hunting for a new sponsor, a new radio station and perhaps a new announcer to handle his Laker broadcasts this season.

In an interview from Minneapolis, the Laker owner told the I,P-T that all negotiations with Union Oil as a half-sponsor have "led nowhere" and that "I don't expect we can resolve our differences."

In short, Mr. Short thinks he's being fleeced . . . and, indeed, his profit from 80 regular-season games (radio only) would be less than he is paying his present broadcaster, Chick Hearn. Such a situation is, of course, unheard of in the sports world.

Hearn's salary is estimated at $50,000. Last year, Union Oil paid Short only $24,000 for its half-sponsorship. Enoch Chevrolet matched that figure for the other half of each contest.

The popular Hearn was under contract to the Lakers last season, but Short has not signed him this time. "I want him in the worst way, but you can see my position. Have you ever heard of a club owner making less than the game announcer?"

In the strictest sense, of course, Short makes more profit via gate receipts and a $600,000 television package with channel 11, but his radio contract with Union Oil is abnormally low in comparison to the baseball Dodgers.

"I don't know the Dodgers' exact contract, but it's astronomical. I would guess they make 20 times more than we do," Short surmised.

The Dodger pact has been placed at $1.3 million for 162 games. The Lakers, as mentioned earlier, play 80 games. Their post-season activity is dealt with separately.

"I'm just flabbergasted at their offer," Short continued. "I've been dealing with them all summer and we are world's apart. We're going to have to go elsewhere, I'm positive of that."

And where is "elsewhere."

"We can't stay with KFI because Union Oil has bought most of their time. We go to that station, and they say see Union Oil . . . we're right back where we started.

"But I want our fans to know that we'll be on radio somewhere, even if it is an FM station."

Short, who has been criticized for being an absentee owner (he lives in Minneapolis), says, ". . . and I'm tired of people saying part of the problem stems from me not being in Los Angeles to handle my affairs.

"I have Lou Mohs (Laker GM) and Tom S. Gallery (former NBC sports director now an administrator with nationally televised sports coverage) working for me and they've been battling this subject for a long time."

Gallery, contacted at his Van Nuys home, was as miffed as Short over the Laker predicament.

"I nearly fell off my chair when they (Union Oil) made the offer they did. I know baseball brings higher fees, but the difference is unbelievable between us and the Dodgers."

Gallery cited other examples.

"NBA teams like Boston, New York and St. Louis have contracts somewhere in the neighborhood of $150,000. No team gets as low as our $24,000.

"The University of Washington, for some 30 football and basketball games, makes $100,000 from their sponsor, and USC and UCLA, for about the same number of games, receives around $25,000.

"Probably the biggest reason I'm so shocked is that we (the Lakers) have the second best product on the West Coast (the Dodgers are first) and we get such a piddling sum," Gallery concluded.

Hot Fuel Duel Set at Lions

By BRUCE YOUNG

No matter how you pronounce it—Barracuda or Baccaruda, Tom McEwen's 1965 Plymouth Barracuda spells excitement at Lions Drag Strip today.

McEwen will be the featured attraction when he pits his "Hemi-Cuda" against Dickie Harrell's Chevy II in a best-of-three match race, which is an added attraction to the 11th annual American Hot Rod Assn. World Championships. Gates open at 8 a.m. and the strip closes at 5:30.

The much-publicized match race, however, could take a back seat to the first round of top fuel eliminations, which could produce a world's record with the world record holder entered in the event.

Long Beach's McEwen, who is also pilot of the "Yeakel Plymouth Special" rail, unveiled his 426-cubic inch rear engine Barracuda last week at Lions and sizzled to a best clocking at 160.71 mph.

The "Mongoose" was running only a 60% blend of exoctic nitro methane fuel and will boost the mixture to almost 85% this week.

* * * *

HARRELL, who hails from Carlsbad, N.M., will throw everything but the kitchen sink into his 427-cubic inch Chevy engine to try to equal McEwen's capacity. The car is billed as the "world's fastest super stock Chevrolet."

Last weekend, Dickie stole the show despite losing three straight to Hayden Proffitt in a match race. Harrell thrilled the crowd when he nearly traveled the length of the strip with his front end five to ten feet in the air and his license plate scraping. This was all done at speeds in excess of 100 mph.

In the first day action Saturday, James Warren of Bakersfield topped qualifying with a 207.81 miles per hour run. A fine first day crowd of 10,151 saw Warren and Ken Safford of North Hollywood tie for low elapsed time honors at 7.70 seconds.

Junior Fuel Eliminator—John Noland, Highland, 179.86 mph, 8.66 et.
Competition Eliminator — Gary Cagle, Compton, 181.44 mph, 8.80 et.
Top Altered—Jerry Andrews, Baldwin Park, 148.02 mph, 9.64 et.

PASS CATCHER DELUXE PASSES BAR EXAM

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Boy, am I relieved."

That was the word Saturday from Christopher William Burford III, pass receiving end for the Kansas City Chiefs, when he was informed he had passed the Missouri bar examination.

The list of the 173 new lawyers was released Saturday in Jefferson City.

Burford, former star with Stanford University, studied law two years at Southern Methodist University at Dallas and then two years at the University of Missouri at Kansas City School of Law here. He has played a split-end position with the Chiefs since he joined the American League club six years ago.

LBCC Booster Club to Meet Wednesday

The Long Beach City College Booster Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 in the Student Lounge. All current members and prospective members are urged to attend.

Because of the large response to season tickets sold at last week's meeting, the sale will continue Wednesday. The entire Viking coaching staff will also be in attendance.

Simmons Nabs First Ascot Cycle Main

Jack Simmons of Artesia led all the way to win his first main event of the season in the AMA motorcycle feature at Ascot Park Saturday night before 2,900 fans.

Expert Main (15 laps)—Jack Simmons, Artesia, Dave Palmer, Bakersfield, Eddie Mulder, Burbank, Skip VanLeeuwen, La Habra, Dick Dorresteyn, San Pablo, 11:53.35.
Amateur Main (10 laps)—Gene Romero, San Luis Obispo, Steve Scott, North Hollywood, Mike Knole, Granada Hills, Paul Conserrie, Redondo Beach, 7:58.48.
Novice Main (8 laps)—Rich Thorwatson, Los Angeles, Miller Harper, Fullerton, Dick Mercier, Culver City, George McCarty, Red Bluff, 6:42.20.
Trophy Dash (2 laps)—Dick Hammer, Lakewood, Dorresteyn, Mulder, Simmons, 1:35.50.

Once Over Lightly

Mays Just Missed York's Great 18

The big reason why the Giants were able to fight their way back into contention in the National League pennant race during August was the great hitting streak of "Wonderful Willie" Mays, who hammered out 17 home runs during the month.

He bettered the National League record . . . and equalled the former mark of 17 set by Babe Ruth in September of 1927 when he was en route to his record 60 homers.

RUDY YORK
Unbelievable August

But Willie fell one short of matching one of the most remarkable hitting streaks in baseball history—Rudy York's 18 home runs during the month of August in 1937.

Mays' streak emphasized once again the tremendous job turned in by York, the part Cherokee Indian from Carlersville, Georgia.

York, strangely enough, was still trying to win a regular job with the Detroit Tigers as the '37 season rolled into August.

Rudy had been tried at second base, third base, in the outfield and even caught a few games. First base, of course, was his normal position, but the Tigers already had a pretty fair ballplayer holding down that spot—Hank Greenberg.

Thus, it was obvious that if York was to play daily, he had to perform at another position.

York was sitting on the bench through the first three days of August as the Tigers staggered through a five-game losing streak that dropped them to fourth place. After the game, reports began circulating that manager Mickey Cochrane was due to make some changes.

When the Tigers arrived at the Philadelphia ball park the next day—August 4—they were met by a rumor that York was being traded to the A's.

The report grew stronger as the club took batting practice when Cochrane suddenly called York into the dressing room.

MICKEY HIMSELF HAD STARTED the season as Detroit's regular catcher in addition to handling the managerial chores. However, on May 25 he suffered a fractured skull when beaned by Yankee pitcher Bump Hadley.

Ray Hayworth, Cliff Bolton and even Birdie Tebbetts had been tried by replacements. But Cochrane needed more hitting.

Thus, as York walked into the clubhouse expecting to be told he had been traded, Cochrane tossed him a catcher's mitt. "Starting now, you're the No. 1 catcher," he said.

When Cochrane made out the batting order, York was in the No. 7 spot behind the likes of Gee Walker, Pete Fox, Charley Gehringer, Greenberg, Chet Laabs and Marv Owen. It didn't take long for him to work his way up to a more prominent place in the order.

He doubled on his first trip to the plate, and then hit his first home run of the month and 14th of the season his second time up.

Three days later, his three-run homer in the ninth was good for a 3-2 win over Washington.

And on August 17, Rudy celebrated his 24th birthday in Chicago with four hits, including his sixth homer of the month.

WITHIN TWO WEEKS AFTER BEING inserted into the lineup, York's hitting had carried the Tigers into second place . . . although the Yankees were still 11 games on top.

On the 24th, Rudy hit his high point of the month with three homers in a twin bill with the A's.

Time began running out on the streaking York and on Monday, August 30, he still needed two home runs to tie Ruth.

Rudy hit No. 16 against Yankee pitcher Lefty Gomez in the first inning.

That brought him up to the last day of the month, Tuesday, the 31st.

The opponent was Washington, the pitcher Pete Appleton. And Rudy had a field day. In the first inning, he cleared the scoreboard with No. 17, and in the sixth he again hit one over the scoreboard for the record. He wound up with a perfect 4-for-4 that day, also getting two singles as he drove in seven runs.

Starting on the 4th, York batted .360 in 30 games and in addition to the 18 homers, he rapped out five doubles and two triples and accounted for 50 RBI's.

ALTHOUGH ONE DOESN'T REMEMBER York filling such a role, Red Jones, the old umpire, often said in later years that his favorite comic among the ballplayers was the big Indian. He was quite a wit.

"I remember one time very distinctly," he revealed one day. "Steve Gromek was pitching to York. He had a motion that was almost underhanded. The ball would rise at the plate. It bothered Rudy . . . and in this one game, I called him out on strikes the first two times he was up.

"York objected the second time. 'That was no strike,' he growled. 'Perhaps you don't understand the principle,' I explained. 'Gromek throws almost underhanded and that's why there is so much deception.'

"'Yeah,' York snapped, 'but who is being deceived? You or me?'

"Well, I almost ran him then, but I let him stay in and the next time he came up, he announced his feelings immediately.

"'You know,' he said to me. 'A bunch of us fellows in the dugout have been talking about you. And we like you. I want you to know that.

"'Furthermore, we think you've got a great eye. Now why don't you get it out of your pocket and use it?'

"Exit one Indian!"

Ugly Spectre of New Bowl Hassle Seen

Cougars Play Only 3 Games, Could Scramble Selection

By JEROME HALL
Staff Writer
(Second in a Series)

SPOKANE—The ugly spectre of another Rose Bowl hassle was raised here Saturday as the Washington State football coach put in an early bid for the nomination to the Pasadena classic.

The odds against Washington State are long, but it is a good bet that there is going to be another noisy squabble this season. The AAWU rulers have not succeeded in their attempt to unscramble the confusion over the Rose Bowl selection.

With an unbalanced conference schedule again for 1965, with some schools playing three and four league games and some playing six and seven.

AAWU commissioner Tom Hamilton predicted an even closer race for the championship than the one that a year ago found Oregon State and USC finishing in a tie for the title, which ignited a name-calling dispute when the Trojans were voted a New Year's Day vacation.

Hamilton says there will, in his personal and unofficial opinion, be more than two teams in the running this year. "I see more balance from top to bottom," he says.

As the touring West Coast sportswriters made a one-day stopover here to watch a scrimmage of the distant-cousin Cougars, the athletic director at Washington State, Stan Bates, revealed that his special committee that was commissioned to unscramble the muddle has come up with few answers.

* * * *

THE committee worked diligently on the problem. It studied a proposal that would have awarded, say, three points for beating a real good team, two for beating a pretty good team and one for beating Idaho; then at the end of the season the team with the most points would go to the Rose Bowl. That plan was judged unfeasable.

"We even looked into the possiblity of using a computer," confessed Bates.

As it stands now, the athletic directors at the direction of the university presidents will vote after Nov. 20. They need not vote for the conference champion. Just the most representative, a term which still has not been defined.

Clark, the Washington State coach who bussed his team 60 miles from Pullman to put on a scrimmage for the touring sportswriters here Saturday, says he would not expect to make it to the Rose Bowl merely on the strength of winning the conference championship, which he would do by beating Washington, Oregon and Oregon State, his only league opponents.

"But," he added, "I'd expect to go if we also beat Iowa, Minnesota and Indiana. That would make us champions of both conferences, and I'm not sure which one we should represent. I guess what we would do," he said with a grin, "is go to Pasadena and play an intra-squad game."

Clark, hired a year ago off Owens' staff at Seattle on a four-year trial to revive the Cougars, says his rebuilding is on schedule. This year's good-looking sophomores will be seniors when Washington State dives headlong into a full league schedule in 1967.

But there remains the unnerving realization that if the Cougars win their three league games and knock off a couple of lower-eschelon teams from the Big Ten, there will be howling from this part of the country for a Rose Bowl invitation.

Reed Optimistic, Sees Good Year for 49ers

By DOUG IVES

Like the actor who just received a standing ovation, Long Beach State football coach Don Reed is wondering what to do for an encore.

Coming off the greatest act in school history—an 8-2 record with over 30 school records broken—Reed now is asked, in fact expected, to stage another four-star performance.

Like the good showman knows, once you whet the audience's appetite for excellence, they won't accept less. And 49er football fans are enamored with success after so many lean years.

"We don't expect to give them less," Reed said confidently Saturday at his team's Terminal Island training base. "We would be unhappy with anything worse than another 8-2 record."

As for outlasting powerhouses Los Angeles and San Diego for the CCAA title, Reed maintained "we've got as good a shot as anybody; I know we're thinking about winning and I'm sure the kids are too."

With 17 lettermen and a bumper crop of recruits, Reed has plenty of reason to be optimistic, but the 49ers face major obstacles in their drive for the CCAA championship.

First, by Reed's own admission, both Los Angeles and San Diego should be equally as strong as last year—and in 1964 the Diablos were ranked No. 1 in the country and the Aztecs No. 3.

Secondly, Reed must replace 17 lettermen who were with him two years, players like Dick Degen, Jerry Otterson and Pat Brosnan.

Reed expects to have the best passing attack in the conference with Jack Reilly throwing to the likes of Jack Tucker, Shelley Novack and Steve Newell, but only Les Shy makes the running game respectable.

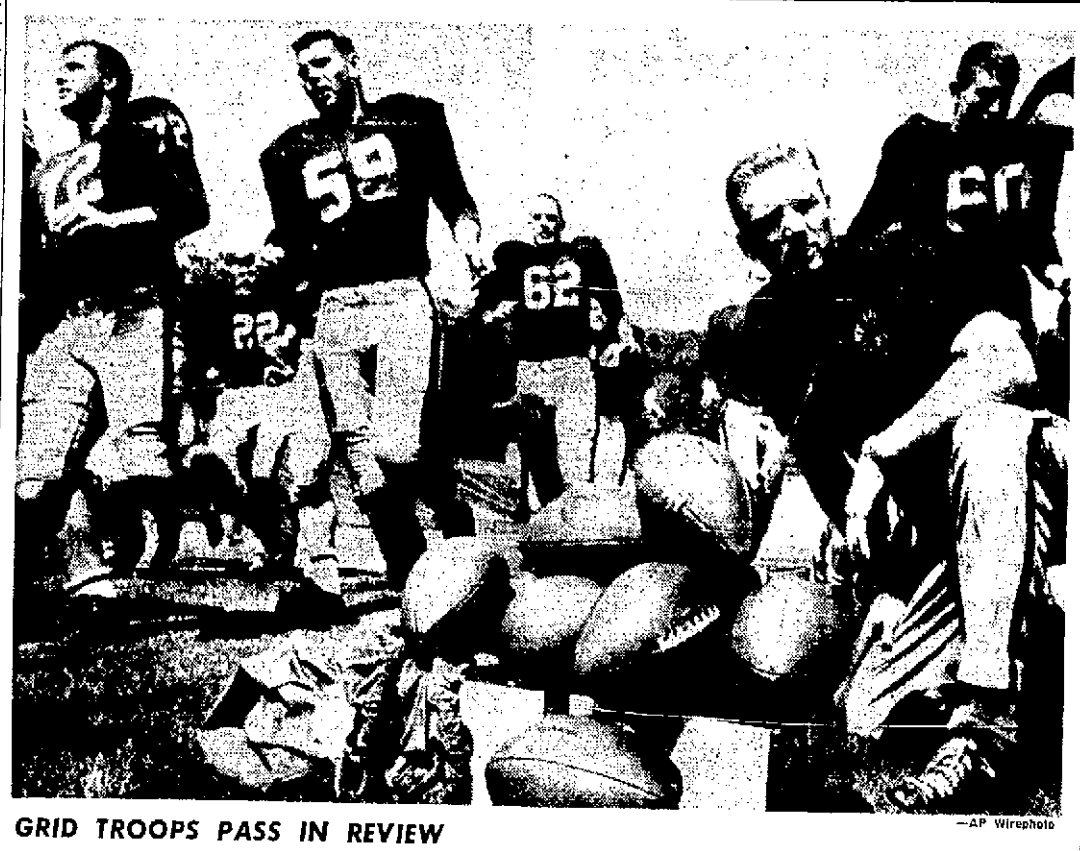

All-CCAA guard Roy Schmidt, already drafted by Green Bay, mighty Joe Young and newcomer Ron Ogle should anchor the line which still has many question marks.

"Sure we've got holes to fill, but in size, speed and morale we're equal of last year, if not better. The passing will hold its own and Shy will have to carry our running attack," said Reed.

DON REED

Despite the pressure to improve on 1964's successful season, Reed and his players, like the showman, much prefer the sound of two hands clapping as opposed to one. And they fully intend to win that applause again this season!

GRID TROOPS PASS IN REVIEW

Army's head football coach, Paul Dietzel, watches squad go through paces during first workout Saturday at West Point in New York. Identifiable players are tackle Bud Stann (72), guard Frank Fabish (69), guard Pat Mente (62) and guard Jim Walden (60). Army opens season against Tennessee Sept. 18.

Hot Fuel Duel Set at Lions

By BRUCE YOUNG

No matter how you pronounce it—Barracuda or Baccaruda, Tom McEwen's 1965 Plymouth Barracuda spells excitement at Lions Drag Strip today.

McEwen will be the featured attraction when he pits his "Hemi-Cuda" against Dickie Harrell's Chevy II in a best-of-three match race, which is an added attraction to the 11th annual American Hot Rod Assn. World Championships. Gates open at 8 a.m. and the strip closes at 5:30.

The much-publicized match race, however, could take a back seat to the first round of top fuel eliminations, which could produce a world's record with the world record holder entered in the event.

Long Beach's McEwen, who is also pilot of the "Yeakel Plymouth Special" rail, unveiled his 426-cubic inch rear engine Barracuda last week at Lions and sizzled to a best clocking at 160.71 mph.

The "Mongoose" was running only a 60% blend of exoctic nitro methane fuel and will boost the mixture to almost 85% this week.

* * * *

HARRELL, who hails from Carlsbad, N.M., will throw everything but the kitchen sink into his 427-cubic inch Chevy engine to try to equal McEwen's capacity. The car is billed as the "world's fastest super stock Chevrolet."

Last weekend, Dickie stole the show despite losing three straight to Hayden Proffitt in a match race. Harrell thrilled the crowd when he nearly traveled the length of the strip with his front end five to ten feet in the air and his license plate scraping. This was all done at speeds in excess of 100 mph.

In the first day action Saturday, James Warren of Bakersfield topped qualifying with a 207.81 miles per hour run. A fine first day crowd of 10,151 saw Warren and Ken Safford of North Hollywood tie for low elapsed time honors at 7.70 seconds.

Junior Fuel Eliminator—John Noland, Highland, 179.86 mph, 8.66 et.
Competition Eliminator — Gary Caple, Compton, 161.44 mph, 8.80 et.
Top Altered—Jerry Andrews, Baldwin Park, 148.02 mph, 9.64 et.

By DOUG IVES

An embattled Bob Short is hunting for a new sponsor, a new radio station and perhaps a new announcer to handle his Laker broadcasts this season.

In an interview from Minneapolis, the Laker owner told the I,P-T that all negotiations with Union Oil as a half-sponsor have "led nowhere" and that "I don't expect we can resolve our differences."

In short, Mr. Short thinks he's being fleeced . . . and, indeed, his profit from 80 regular-season games (radio only) would be less than he is paying his present broadcaster, Chick Hearn. Such a situation is, of course, unheard of in the sports world.

Hearn's salary is estimated at $50,000. Last year, Union Oil paid Short only $24,000 for its half-sponsorship. Enoch Chevrolet matched that figure for the other half of each contest.

The popular Hearn was under contract to the Lakers last season, but Short has not signed him this time. "I want him in the worst way, but you can see my position. Have you ever heard of a club owner making less than the game announcer?"

In the strictest sense, of course, Short makes more profit via gate receipts and a $600,000 television package with channel 11, but his radio contract with Union Oil is abnormally low in comparison to the baseball Dodgers.

"I don't know the Dodgers' exact contract, but it's astronomical. I would guess they make 20 times more than we do," Short surmised.

The Dodger pact has been placed at $1.3 million for 162 games. The Lakers, as mentioned earlier, play 80 games. Their post-season activity is dealt with separately.

"I'm just flabbergasted at their offer," Short continued. "I've been dealing with them all summer and we are world's apart. We're going to have to go elsewhere, I'm positive of that."

And where is "elsewhere."

"We can't stay with KFI because Union Oil has bought most of their time. We go to that station, and they say see Union Oil . . . we're right back where we started.

"But I want our fans to know that we'll be on radio somewhere, even if it is an FM station."

Short, who has been criticized for being an absentee owner (he lives in Minneapolis), says, ". . . and I'm tired of people saying part of the problem stems from me not being in Los Angeles to handle my affairs.

"I have Lou Mohs (Laker GM) and Tom S. Gallery (former NBC sports director now an administrator with nationally televised sports coverage) working for me and they've been battling this subject for a long time."

Gallery, contacted at his Van Nuys home, was as miffed as Short over the Laker predicament.

"I nearly fell off my chair when they (Union Oil) made the offer they did. I know baseball brings higher fees, but the difference is unbelievable between us and the Dodgers."

Gallery cited other examples.

"NBA teams like Boston, New York and St. Louis have contracts somewhere in the neighborhood of $150,000. No team gets as low as our $24,000.

"The University of Washington, for some 30 football and basketball games, makes $100,000 from their sponsor, and USC and UCLA, for about the same number of games, receives around $25,000.

"Probably the biggest reason I'm so shocked is that we (the Lakers) have the second best product on the West Coast (the Dodgers are first) and we get such a piddling sum," Gallery concluded.

PASS CATCHER DELUXE PASSES BAR EXAM

KANSAS CITY (AP)—"Boy, am I relieved."

That was the word Saturday from Christopher William Burford III, pass receiving end for the Kansas City Chiefs, when he was informed he had passed the Missouri bar examination.

The list of the 173 new lawyers was released Saturday in Jefferson City.

Burford, former star with Stanford University, studied law two years at Southern Methodist University at Dallas and then two years at the University of Missouri at Kansas City School of Law here. He has played a split-end position with the Chiefs since he joined the American League club six years ago.

LBCC Booster Club to Meet Wednesday

The Long Beach City College Booster Club will meet Wednesday at 7:30 in the Student Lounge. All current members and prospective members are urged to attend.

Because of the large response to season tickets sold at last week's meeting, the sale will continue Wednesday. The entire Viking coaching staff will also be in attendance.

Fewer Accidents But More Deaths

The number of boating accidents in the first half of 1965 was lower than in a similar period of the previous year, but the death rate went up sharply. Statistics assembled by the Division of Small Craft Harbors showed 56 deaths and 44 injuries in 165 accidents. The first half of 1964 had 35 deaths and 89 injuries in 239 accidents.

The statistics also revealed more multiple deaths; seven lives were lost when a 35-foot vessel disappeared betwen here and Catalina Island. Also, a 15-foot open motorboat capsized in the same area, resulting in a loss of five lives.

Four persons lost their lives in the Salton Sea in two accidents. The Salton Sea presents a different problem than any other in the state. It is an enormous body of water and shallow and when a wind starts blowing in that area, the only thing to do is head for the nearest shore in a hurry. Never mind where your car is parked; just get off the Sea as quickly as possible.

Thirty accidents involving capsizing resulted in a total of 17 deaths on various waters of the state. Collisions resulted in two deaths, eight injuries and an estimated property loss of $30,275. Thirteen accidents involving explosion and fire resulted in one death, critical injuries to nine persons and property loss of $42,725.

THE DIVISION'S RECORDS show that 342,870 boats were registered in California as of June 30, 1965, an increase of 34,270 over the 308,260 shown for June 30, 1964. Lachlan M. Richards, chief of the DSCH, points out that the state is faced with a continuing problem of education for the constantly increasing number of boat operators.

There is one way to reduce the number of deaths and the amount of damage, he said, and that is to have all new operators enroll in boating safety courses given each fall by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the U.S. Power Squadron.

Richards also stressed the need for particular caution at the present time because of the reduction of the number of Coast Guard vessels available for search and rescue for small boats due to transfer of Coast Guard vessels for service in the Viet Nam war. He complimented the Coast Guard Auxiliary membership for willingness to contribute time to make up, in part, the loss of that coverage.

George Askelund, state boating regulation officer, has compiled information on the worst danger spots in the state and this will be inserted in posters and leaflets that have been, or will be, distributed to boaters, marinas, restaurants, or to interested persons in those areas. One area is the Salton Sea.

HUNTING FOR DOVES and rabbits will be allowed this year on a permit basis at the state-operated Imperial Waterfowl Management Area at the southeast end of the Saltodn Sea. All three units of the IWMA will he open to public hunting for the remainder of the dove and rabbit seasons. Permits are free on a self-serve basis at the Wister and Ramer check stations.

Some areas within the Wister, Hazard and Finney-Ramer units will be closed to all hunting and so posted. Any one hunting without a permit will be guilty of trespassing.

The dove season which opened Wednesday north of the Tehachapis and along the Colorado River strip was red-hot in some areas, rather por in others. There were lots of whitewings and mourning doves in the maize fields south of Blythe.

Capt. George Werden, DFG warden at Blythe, reported that there were many birds on fields west of Blythe, but few hunters. Reports from Porterville and Delano were to the effect that shooting was excellent.

After the opening weekend, hunters in the Southland will find that they have to walk more than usual to get their game. The same thing will happen when the other upland game seasons begin. Harold Harper, DFG expert on upland game, says it's all because of the record rainfall year. When there is plenty of water, birds are not so heavily concentrated.

OUTDOOR PERSONALS—The Department of Fish and Game has applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for permits to install artificial reefs around the seaward ends of fishing piers at Los Angeles (Venice), Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach, San Clemente and Oceanside.

The reefs would be similar in most respects, made of quarry stone, placed in piles 100 feet long by 20 feet wide, spaced 40 feet apart and at a distance of 65 to 85 feet from the piers. Minimum depth to the top of the stone at the reefs would be 10 feet at mean low water.

Bill Turner, Ventura, caught a 57-pound yellowtail while fishing on a Port Hueneme boat last week. It may prove to be the largest yellowtail taken on the west coast this year. The largest yellowtail ever caught weighed 111 pounds and was caught off New Zealand.

Les Thomas, Tucson mechanic, has invented the Sea Spider, which he and his fishing friends say virtually ends the problem of losing terminal tackle. It looks like a badminton birdie with wires instead of feathers.

The weight is attached behind the spider and as the rig is draged on the bottom, the wires bounce the weight over rocks rather than allowing it to hang up. It is manufactured in two sizes, one for ocean use, the other for fresh water. For more information write to Sea Spider, 245 E. Alturas, Tucson.

Ashe, Susman Cause Confusion; Cromwell Gains

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Davis Cupper Arthur Ashe weathered the sternest threat to seeded ranks by knocking off veteran Gene Scott Saturday, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7, in the second day of the National Tennis Championships marked by a note of acrimony.

Scott, a former Yale University ace overlooked recently in Davis Cup selections, had to warm his heels for nearly an hour waiting for the fifth-seeded Ashe, delayed in traffic.

Earlier, Karen Hantze Susman, the 22-year-old housewife from St. Louis who won the Wimbledon title three years ago, withdrew from the tournament in a huff because she wasn't seeded. She was matched against Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round.

"It wasn't meeting Margaret that bothered me so much," said Karen, America's No. 4 woman player. "I thought my record was better than that of players placed above me. Besides, I wanted and deserved the expense allowance given seeded players."

Seeded players are granted $28 a day living expenses.

TOP-SEEDED Roy Emerson of Australia, who appears a shoo-in for his third U.S. men's title, toyed with Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador 6-1, 6-3, 8-6.

Chuck McKinley, the former No. 1 U.S. star now semi-retired to a Wall Street brokerage job, carried his No. 7 seeding past bespectacled Steve Wilkinson of Sioux City, Iowa, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

"It's a lot looser playing out there when you don't have to win," said McKinley.

Jerry Cromwell of Long Beach, Calif., a Southern California senior who upset Emerson earlier this season, beat Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 2-6, 8-6.

Inboard Adieu to Old Stadium

By DAVE TAYLOR

About 100 of the hottest racing inboard speedboats in the country will have their final shot at chopping up the waters of Marine Stadium before the narrow tidal channel is closed for a year-long face-lifting Monday in Long Beach Pilot Club's 20th Labor Day Sweepstakes classic.

Going from 11 a.m., the regatta will feature 18 heats of inboard racing in popular hydroplane and runabout classes including two SK-Runabout heats in which two-time national SK champion Tony Maricich will face 14 of his top competitors.

A field of 15 of the $10,000 SK's are scheduled on the Labor Day starting line and national champion Maricich will be facing the likes of Ed Olsen, Don Towle, Rudy Ramus, Dick Jones and Ladd Penfold, all of whom were staring up his tail pipes when Tony won the national title at Lake Maggiori, Fla., two weeks ago.

Also in the runabout racing will be a full field of Crackerbox hot dogs including new national champion Fred Miller in his "Orangoutang" and Leroy Penhall in "Hot Cinders." In the E-Racing Runabout competition, defending Labor Day Sweepstakes champion Joe Poty in "Daddy's Baby," will face national champ Roger Stull in "Scrambler."

Hydroplane classes copping a piece of the action will include the 48 hydros, the 145's, the 150's, the 280's, 225's and 266's.

In a special feature, the eight fastest hydroplane jockeys of the day will compete in a Celebrity Cup heat, including the popular monza-star from the beach.

The 20th annual Labor Day meet, sponsored by Long Beach Pilot Club and put on by Southern California Speedboat Assn., has been billed "Last Fling" because of the upcoming $1,383,000 construction program which will close Marine Stadium to racing for at least a year.

Racing will get underway at 11 a.m. Monday, but late comers may catch the featured SK class competition heats at 1:45 p.m. and at 4:30.

HAMMER MARK: 241-11

BUDAPEST (AP)—Gyula Zsivotzky of Hungary bettered the world hammer throw record Saturday when he heaved the 16-pound weight 241 feet, 11 inches in a meet at Debrecen.

Hal Connolly of Culver City, Calif., holds the listed record of 231-10 but bettered that mark with a 233-2 at Modesto, Calif., on May 31.

Zsivotzky was silver medalist behind Romuald Klim of Russia in the Olympics at Tokyo last year.

Salta Falls in Playoff Game, 5-3

Ocean Beach erupted for four runs in the seventh inning Saturday at Long Beach City College to defeat Salta Pontiac, 5-3, and take a one-game lead in the best-of-three play-off for the California Collegiate Baseball League championship.

The teams meet today at San Diego State in a 1 p.m. game as coach Joe Hicks's team trys to even the series. Gary (Doc) Johnson will hurl for Long Beach. A second game, if necessary, will follow, and Jim Henderson will get the starting nod.

Salta broke a 1-1 deadlock in the sixth inning as John Gonsalves singled, went to second on John Shaw's sacrifice, and after Bob Schellenberg fanned for the second nut, scored on pitcher Buster Mann's single. Mann scored on Rod Gaspar's triple.

* * * *

THE LEAD was short-lived, however, as Tom Whelan's two-run single broke a 3-3 tie.

Salta had runners on base in every inning, but the Long Beach team couldn't muster a winning rally against 5-9, 145-pound Jim Allen. The Ocean Beach southpaw picked up his 14th win of the season against two losses.

Whelan, who won the CCBL runs batted in championship with 32, was one of four Ocean Beach batters to tag loser Mann (5-2) for two hits as the Border City club pounded out 11.

Latin Champ in Line for Big Payday

LONDON (AP)—Vicente Saldivar, Mexican holder of the world featherweight title, is rated only an even money chance to retain his crown against British champion Howard Winstone in London Tuesday night.

Saldivar has looked impressive in training but lots of money from Wales, the home country of Winstone made the bookies revise earlier odds which made Saldivar a clear favorite.

Earl's Court — the London stadium where the fight will take place — has a sellout crowd of 18,000.

* * * *

PROMOTER Harry Levene contends the fight is the most expensive world featherweight contest in history. Saldivar is reported getting $70,000 with Winstone collecting about $19,000.

Saldivar, fighting in Europe for the first time, may find the changeable British weather against him. In training it appeared that he was trying to get down to the featherweight limit. The temperature of the gymnasium was raised and Saldivar trained in long woolen pants and vest.

Covelli Records Best in Javelin

Frank Covelli of the Pasadena Athletic Assn. got off his best javelin throw Saturday for 273-5½, fifth best in the world, during an all-comers invitational meet at Long Beach State College.

The record heave was the third time since 1960 that the 270 mark has been surpassed, twice by Covelli. Ed Red, also representing the PAA, was second in the competition with a 243-7½ throw in the final meet of the summer series at state college.

Javelin—Covelli (PAA) 273-5½; Ed Red, (PAA) 243-7½; Frank Frye (USMC) 236-2½.

LBCC STAR HAS LEG INJURY

Motley to Miss Opener

By GARY RAUSCH

All-America and Junior Rose Bowl player of the game Marv Motley may miss Long Beach City College's opening game with Everett, Sept. 17.

The shifty little speedster pulled a hamstring muscle in his right leg working out two weeks ago and complications have set in.

Blood vessels were broken and heavy hemmorrhaging resulted. Now Motley sports a bruise the size of a hand that prevents any running and no date can be set on his return.

Meanwhile Al Nichols, Poly High's all-CIF back, has taken over the left halfback slot with surprising progress.

It now figures that Motley and Nichols will be rated dead-even when Marv returns. This also poses a problem for head coach Rollie Eilerts but he'll suffer through it — with a smile, no less.

For Eilerts and his staff, the first five days of practice were anything but normal.

They were astounded when 102 hopefuls showed up for pictures Tuesday. But instead of dropping, the figure continued to rise, to a high of 110 before discretion won out over valor Thursday.

For a time, Eilerts worried he might have to break policy and post a cut list of those players whose value to the team would be negligible because of too little talent or prior experience.

The Vikings hadn't cut a player since World War II ended when the rush of veterans back to college produced turnouts of 135 in 1947 and 120 in 1948.

In the past 10 years, opening day squads had always been between 80-85 players. What, then, was the reason for this explosion?

It had to be the 1964 national championship and JRB victory. Simple facts showed a lot of kids thought they had the makings of junior college-caliber football players.

By Saturday, however, the ranks had thinned to 90 and players and coaches began pointing toward opening night with Everett.

Fewer Accidents But More Deaths

The number of boating accidents in the first half of 1965 was lower than in a similar period of the previous year, but the death rate went up sharply. Statistics assembled by the Division of Small Craft Harbors showed 56 deaths and 44 injuries in 165 accidents. The first half of 1964 had 35 deaths and 89 injuries in 239 accidents.

The statistics also revealed more multiple deaths; seven lives were lost when a 35-foot vessel disappeared betwen here and Catalina Island. Also, a 15-foot open motorboat capsized in the same area, resulting in a loss of five lives.

Four persons lost their lives in the Salton Sea in two accidents. The Salton Sea presents a different problem than any other in the state. It is an enormous body of water and shallow and when a wind starts blowing in that area, the only thing to do is head for the nearest shore in a hurry. Never mind where your car is parked; just get off the Sea as quickly as possible.

Thirty accidents involving capsizing resulted in a total of 17 deaths on various waters of the state. Collisions resulted in two deaths, eight injuries and an estimated property loss of $30,275. Thirteen accidents involving explosion and fire resulted in one death, critical injuries to nine persons and property loss of $42,725.

THE DIVISION'S RECORDS show that 342,870 boats were registered in California as of June 30, 1965, an increase of 34,270 over the 308,260 shown for June 30, 1964. Lachlan M. Richards, chief of the DSCH, points out that the state is faced with a continuing problem of education for the constantly increasing number of boat operators.

There is one way to reduce the number of deaths and the amount of damage, he said, and that is to have all new operators enroll in boating safety courses given each fall by the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary and the U.S. Power Squadron.

Richards also stressed the need for particular caution at the present time because of the reduction of the number of Coast Guard vessels available for search and rescue for small boats due to transfer of Coast Guard vessels for service in the Viet Nam war. He complimented the Coast Guard Auxiliary membership for willingness to contribute time to make up, in part, the loss of that coverage.

George Askelund, state boating regulation officer, has compiled information on the worst danger spots in the state and this will be inserted in posters and leaflets that have been, or will be, distributed to boaters, marinas, restaurants, or to interested persons in those areas. One area is the Salton Sea.

HUNTING FOR DOVES and rabbits will be allowed this year on a permit basis at the state-operated Imperial Waterfowl Management Area at the southeast end of the Saltodn Sea. All three units of the IWMA will be open to public hunting for the remainder of the dove and rabbit seasons. Permits are free on a self-serve basis at the Wister and Ramer check stations.

Some areas within the Wister, Hazard and Finney-Ramer units will be closed to all hunting and so posted. Any one hunting without a permit will be guilty of trespassing.

The dove season which opened Wednesday north of the Tehachapis and along the Colorado River strip was red-hot in some areas, rather por in others. There were lots of whitewings and mourning doves in the maize fields south of Blythe.

Capt. George Werden, DFG warden at Blythe, reported that there were many birds on fields west of Blythe, but few hunters. Reports from Porterville and Delano were to the effect that shooting was excellent.

After the opening weekend, hunters in the Southland will find that they have to walk more than usual to get their game. The same thing will happen when the other upland game seasons begin. Harold Harper, DFG expert on upland game, says it's all because of the record rainfall year. When there is plenty of water, birds are not so heavily concentrated.

OUTDOOR PERSONALS—The Department of Fish and Game has applied to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for permits to install artificial reefs around the seaward ends of fishing piers at Los Angeles (Venice), Manhattan Beach, Hermosa Beach, Seal Beach, Huntington Beach, San Clemente and Oceanside.

The reefs would be similar in most respects, made of quarry stone, placed in piles 100 feet long by 20 feet wide, spaced 40 feet apart and at a distance of 65 to 85 feet from the piers. Minimum depth to the top of the stone at the reefs would be 10 feet at mean low water.

Bill Turner, Ventura, caught a 57-pound yellowtail while fishing on a Port Hueneme boat last week. It may prove to be the largest yellowtail taken on the west coast this year. The largest yellowtail ever caught weighed 111 pounds and was caught off New Zealand.

Les Thomas, Tucson mechanic, has invented the Sea Spider, which he and his fishing friends say virtually ends the problem of losing terminal tackle. It looks like a badminton birdie with wires instead of feathers.

The weight is attached behind the spider and as the rig is draged on the bottom, the wires bounce the weight over rocks rather than allowing it to hang up. It is manufactured in two sizes, one for ocean use, the other for fresh water. For more information write to Sea Spider, 245 E. Alturas, Tucson.

Ashe, Susman Cause Confusion; Cromwell Gains

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—Davis Cupper Arthur Ashe weathered the sternest threat to seeded ranks by knocking off veteran Gene Scott Saturday, 6-3, 6-4, 9-7, in the second day of the National Tennis Championships marked by a note of acrimony.

Scott, a former Yale University ace overlooked recently in Davis Cup selections, had to warm his heels for nearly an hour waiting for the fifth-seeded Ashe, delayed in traffic.

Earlier, Karen Hantze Susman, the 22-year-old housewife from St. Louis who won the Wimbledon title three years ago, withdrew from the tournament in a huff because she wasn't seeded. She was matched against Margaret Smith of Australia in the first round.

"It wasn't meeting Margaret that bothered me so much," said Karen, America's No. 4 woman player. "I thought my record was better than that of players placed above me. Besides, I wanted and deserved the expense allowance given seeded players."

Seeded players are granted $28 a day living expenses.

TOP-SEEDED Roy Emerson of Australia, who appears a shoo-in for his third U.S. men's title, toyed with Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador 6-1, 6-3, 8-6.

Chuck McKinley, the former No. 1 U.S. star now semi-retired to a Wall Street brokerage job, carried his No. 7 seeding past bespectacled Steve Wilkinson of Sioux City, Iowa, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0.

"It's a lot looser playing out there when you don't have to win," said McKinley.

Jerry Cromwell of Long Beach, Calif., a Southern California senior who upset Emerson earlier this season, beat Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, 2-6, 8-6.

CLOSE QUARTERS AT THE CORNER

Spray flies and engines whine as 266-cubic inch hydroplanes wash around turn at Marine Stadium. Big boats, capable of 150 mph, return to Long Beach lagoon Labor Day Monday for last time in a year. Stadium will be remodeled.

LABOR DAY RACES AT MARINE

Inboard Adieu to Old Stadium

By DAVE TAYLOR

About 100 of the hottest racing inboard speedboats in the country will have their final shot at chopping up the waters of Marine Stadium before the narrow tidal channel is closed for a year-long face-lifting Monday in Long Beach Pilot Club's 20th Labor Day Sweepstakes classic.

Going from 11 a.m., the regatta will feature 18 heats of inboard racing in popular hydroplane and runabout classes including two SK-Runabout heats in which two-time national SK champion Tony Maricich will face 14 of his top competitors.

A field of 15 of the $10,000 SK's are scheduled on the Labor Day starting line and national champion Maricich will be facing the likes of Ed Olsen, Don Towle, Rudy Ramos, Dick Jones and Ladd Penfold, all of whom were staring up his tail pipes when Tony won the national title at Lake Maggiori, Fla., two weeks ago.

Also in the runabout racing will be a full field of Crackerbox hot dogs including new national champion Fred Miller in his "Orangoutang" and Leroy Penhall in "Hot Cinders." In the E-Racing Runabout competition, defending Labor Day Sweepstakes champion Joe Poty in "Daddy's Baby," will face national champ Roger Stull in "Scrambler."

Hydroplane classes topping a piece of the action will include the 48 hydros, the 145's, the 150's, the 280's, 225's and 266's.

In a special feature, the eight fastest hydroplane jockeys of the day will compete in a Celebrity Cup heat, including the popular monza-star from the beach.

The 20th annual Labor Day meet, sponsored by Long Beach Pilot Club and put on by Southern California Speedboat Assn., has been billed "Last Fling" because of the upcoming $1,383,000 construction program which will close Marine Stadium to racing for at least a year.

Racing will get underway at 11 a.m. Monday, but late comers may catch the featured SK class competition heats at 1:45 p.m. and at 4:30.

HAMMER MARK: 241-11

BUDAPEST (AP)—Gyula Zsivotzky of Hungary bettered the world hammer throw record Saturday when he heaved the 16-pound weight 241 feet, 11 inches in a meet at Debrecen.

Hal Connolly of Culver City, Calif., holds the listed record of 231-10 but bettered that mark with a 233-2 at Modesto, Calif., on May 31.

Zsivotzky was silver medalist behind Romuald Klim of Russia in the Olympics at Tokyo last year.

Salta Falls in Playoff Game, 5-3

Ocean Beach erupted for four runs in the seventh inning Saturday at Long Beach City College to defeat Salta Pontiac, 5-3, and take a one-game lead in the best-of-three play-off for the California Collegiate Baseball League championship.

The teams meet today at San Diego State in a 1 p.m. game as coach Joe Hicks's team trys to even the series. Gary (Doc) Johnson will hurl for Long Beach. A second game, if necessary, will follow, and Jim Henderson will get the starting nod.

Salta broke a 1-1 deadlock in the sixth inning as John Gonsalves singled, went to second on John Shaw's sacrifice, and after Bob Schellenberg fanned for the second out, scored on pitcher Buster Mann's single. Mann scored on Rod Gaspar's triple.

* * * *

THE LEAD was short-lived, however, as Tom Whelan's two-run single broke a 3-3 tie.

Salta had runners on base in every inning, but the Long Beach team couldn't muster a winning rally against 5-9, 145-pound Jim Allen. The Ocean Beach southpaw picked up his 14th win of the season against two losses.

Whelan, who won the CCBL runs batted in championship with 32, was one of four Ocean Beach batters to tag loser Mann (5-2) for two hits as the Border City club pounded out 11.

Red Smith's Views of Sports—

Casey Stengel, Never Another Like Him

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, who owns the New York Mets, spoke with simple sincerity. "He is the greatest man I ever met." She dabbed at a tear. So did Mrs. Edna Stengel.

This was in the Colonnade Room off the lobby of the Essex House where Charles Dillon Stengel limped to the end of a journey he began 55 years ago in Kankakee, Ill. Well, not exactly the end. Though Casey Stengel announced his retirement as manager of the Mets yesterday, he's too young to quit baseball altogether.

In his 76th year he will serve the team as vice-president in charge of West Coast operations, meaning that he'll operate from his home in Glendale, Calif., employing his fame and personality and persuasive eloquency to influence boys who can run fast and throw hard.

"I'm probably going to be the highest priced scout you ever heard of," he told the press.

He looked across at Mrs. Stengel, who was toying with a replica of the steel ball in her husband's broken hip.

"She's gonna like it," Casey said, "I guess."

The announcement was not unexpected, for when Casey had the fall that put him in the hospital a few weeks ago, everybody realized that the injury could mean no more activity for him in the dugout and on the field. Yet when it came it seemed sudden. It is not easy to imagine the baseball scene without that gnarled figure in the middle of it.

The Mets fielded their first team for the occasion—Don Grant, chairman of the board, Mrs. Payson, Casey, Edna, George Weiss, president, and Wes Westrum, the interim manager who will continue in that capacity for the rest of the season, at least.

Casey arrived leaning on a metal cane. His face looked drawn at first, perhaps reflecting the boredom of his convalescence in the Essex House where his audiences are smaller than those he is accustomed to.

After he'd been talking for a while—about baseball and the astronauts Cooper and Conrad and the young players he is leaving behind and the fellas with the microphones that come around maybe one game a year and tell you how to run a ball club—there was color in his face and the voice had its old ring of authority.

First, Harold Weissman, the club's publicity chief, read brief statements by Stengel and the club officials. Mr. Peter LaMotte, the team physician who operated on Casey, said recovery was progressing satisfactorily, but in view of Casey's age he "could not recommend" a return to the job.

When Casey had accepted this advice, Weiss brought his decision to the board of directors who went along unanimously. "Their only thought," Weiss said, "was to have Casey happy."

* * * *

SO IT was done, and it was impossible not to contrast it with another meeting held five years ago. At that one Dan Topping read a statement that Casey was retiring after 12 spectacular years as manager of the Yankees.

"They told me my services were no longer required," was the way Casey confirmed the announcement then.

Now it seemed clear that if it weren't for his accident Casey would have wanted to continue and would have been welcome. In spite of the adverse criticism that has come Stengel's way in the last two seasons, the stories about his dozing on the bench and abusing his players, his employers have had no doubts.

They are aware of his matchless record of success. They have been exposed not only to his crotchets but also to his keen perception, flashing wit, and profound understanding of the game. They realize more than most what a tremendous figure he is in baseball.

When Mrs. Payson spoke she was speaking for all of them.

There is no need to catalogue the man's achievements and contributions, to attempt an evaluation of his skills or assess his place in baseball history. These are all public property, and perhaps no two men reviewing the record would arrive at the same final judgment.

On one point, there can be no disagreement. Casey Stengel is authentic original. No man who ever played with or under him and no person who ever knew him can ever forget him.

Sagacious, funny, impatient, warm, obstinate, considerate, loud, understanding, oracular, angry, or courtly, he is Charles Dillon Stengel, lefthanded toothpuller turned square, the one and only. Never another like him.

Century Bids for National Turf Honors

Hartack Steers Filly to 4-Length Romp at Del Mar

By ERNIE MASON

DEL MAR—Century lodged a strong bid for national honors and stamped herself as a filly of usually fine quality by romping to a brilliant victory in the 15th running of the $60,625 Del Mar Debutante before 19,637 impressed observers Saturday.

Responding generously to a strong ride by Bill Hartack, the flashy daughter of Fleet Nasrullah charged to a resounding four-length triumph in Del Mar's prestige-laden Debutante.

Teton Holiday rallied from last place in the field of 13 two-year-old fillies to garner runnerup honors, a length before Premise, who led fourth-place Hidden Secret by the same margin.

The victory was Century's sixth in seven lifetime starts, the only blemish on an otherwise perfect record being a fourth-place finish in the Hollywood Lassie Stakes when she was forced extremely wide on the stretch turn.

* * * *

HOWEVER, there was no doubt concerning the identity of the best filly in Saturday's six-furlong Debutante.

As the favorite, Century returned $5.80, $4 and $2.80 after racing home in 1:10 flat. Teton Holiday, a 25-1 outsider, paid $17.20 and $7.40 and Premise paid $3.

Hartack, who broke a tie with Donald Ross for the top spot in the jockey standings with his triumph aboard Century, said, "I started riding her from the time the man said 'go' today, not all out, but I was riding for position. She was the best horse, but the best horse can get beat and I didn't want to be shuffled back.

"Once we moved up to the leaders around the turn, I was able to sit still on her and maintain my position for about a sixteenth of a mile and after that we went on."

FRIDAY NIGHT

Women's Softball All-Stars at Park

Park Avenue Field has been selected by the Huntington Park Blues as the site for the Pacific Coast Women's Softball League All-Star game Friday night.

The first game of the scheduled doubleheader will begin at 7:15.

The Blues will be playing an all-star aggregation dominated by the Orange Lionettes, who will hold down six of the nine starting positions as best in the league.

The only posts to elude the Orange team are second base, where Gerry Murphy of Fresno will take over and two outfield spots nailed by Lela Burns of Huntington Park and Dee Everhart of Phoenix.

THE LIONETTES to be named to the all-star squad are: Joan Joyce (pitcher), Nancy Ito (catcher), Shirley Topley (first base), Shirley Smith (third base), Carol Spanks (short stop), and Sharon Backus (outfield).

Barbara Prather of Buena Park was named as utility player.

Louise Mazzuca of Huntington Park was also named to the first team as pitcher.

Pass the Word Sweeps to Win

Compiled from Wire Reports

Pass the Word, a 5-1 shot, beat favored Hail to All Saturday in the second running of the $280,000 New Hampshire Sweepstakes Classic—the climax to the nation's only legal lottery.

Jockey Eddie Belmonte, who delayed the start of the race five minutes in order to make repairs on Pass the Word's blinders, kept the brown colt in front despite a spectacular bid by Hail to All in the home stretch.

Pass the Word, owned by Gedney Farms, collected $182,143 as its share of the purse in the world's richest race for three-year-olds.

Under the light weight of 112 pounds, the son of Landing-Ready Room covered the nearly 1¼ miles in 1:59 4-5, a track record.

Not entirely overlooked by the crowd of 29,980 persons, Pass the Word paid $12.60, $4.80 and $3.20. Hail to All, who earned $56,044 for second money, returned $3.20 and $2.20. Naturalist paid $3.80.

SILVER BRIGHT, a 13-1 shot, galloped 6½ furlongs on a swampy track to win the world's richest race for 2-year-old fillies, the $208,765 Arlington-Washington Lassie, in a stretch struggle against Ole Liz.

It was only the fourth start for the roan fillie, owned by C. V. Whitney, and her second win, in 1:18-1/5, three seconds slower than the track record for the distance despite the sloppy footing.

Silver Bright, second in its only other stake start, the Lassie Trial, paid $28.60, $7.80, and $5.20. Ole Liz, a supplementary nomination for which $15,000 was paid to enter the race, went off at 9-5 and paid $3.80 and $3.20. Prides Profile returned $5.40.

* * * *

GEORGE D. Widener's What A Treat moved a step closer to the 3-year-old filly championship with an impressive victory in the 70th running of the Gazelle Handicap before 49,282 at Aqueduct.

She paid $9, $4 and $2.80. Terentia paid $5.20 and $2.80 and Discipline $3. What A Treat's time was a slow 1:51.

SMARTY ridden by Walter Blum, Pelican Stable's Parka won the $35,150 Kelly-Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City. The winner paid $5, $3 and $2.60. Indoctrinate returned $4.80 and $3.80 and Twice As Gay was worth $5 to show.

10-under—50-free—Johnston (SLSS) 32.0; 50-back—Webb (SLSS) 44.2; 200-medley relay—Sammy Lee Swim School 2:33.2 (National Junior Olympics and SPAAAU record, previous JO record, 2:38.5 by Hialeah FSC, 1964, previous SPAAAU record, 2:35.6 by Encino Swim Club). 11-12—100-fly—Shawver (RLSC) 1:13.7; 50-free—Sorensen

Casey Stengel, Never Another Like Him

Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, who owns the New York Mets, spoke with simple sincerity. "He is the greatest man I ever met." She dabbed at a tear. So did Mrs. Edna Stengel.

This was in the Colonnade Room off the lobby of the Essex House where Charles Dillon Stengel limped to the end of a journey he began 55 years ago in Kankakee, Ill. Well, not exactly the end. Though Casey Stengel announced his retirement as manager of the Mets yesterday, he's too young to quit baseball altogether.

In his 76th year he will serve the team as vice-president in charge of West Coast operations, meaning that he'll operate from his home in Glendale, Calif., employing his fame and personality and persuasive eloquency to influence boys who can run fast and throw hard.

"I'm probably going to be the highest priced scout you ever heard of," he told the press.

He looked across at Mrs. Stengel, who was toying with a replica of the steel ball in her husband's broken hip.

"She's gonna like it," Casey said, "I guess."

The announcement was not unexpected, for when Casey had the fall that put him in the hospital a few weeks ago, everybody realized that the injury could mean no more activity for him in the dugout and on the field. Yet when it came it seemed sudden. It is not easy to imagine the baseball scene without that gnarled figure in the middle of it.

The Mets fielded their first team for the occasion —Don Grant, chairman of the board, Mrs. Payson, Casey, Edna, George Weiss, president, and Wes Westrum, the interim manager who will continue in that capacity for the rest of the season, at least.

Casey arrived leaning on a metal cane. His face looked drawn at first, perhaps reflecting the boredom of his convalescence in the Essex House where his audiences are smaller than those he is accustomed to.

—AP Wirephoto

Ex-manager Stengel Watches Mets from afar

After he'd been talking for a while—about baseball and the astronauts Cooper and Conrad and the young players he is leaving behind and the fellas with the microphones that come around maybe one game a year and tell you how to run a ball club—there was color in his face and the voice had its old ring of authority.

First, Harold Weissman, the club's publicity chief, read brief statements by Stengel and the club officials. Mr. Peter LaMotte, the team physician who operated on Casey, said recovery was progressing satisfactorily, but in view of Casey's age he "could not recommend" a return to the job.

When Casey had accepted this advice, Weiss brought his decision to the board of directors who went along unanimously. "Their only thought," Weiss said, "was to have Casey happy."

* * * *

SO IT was done, and it was impossible not to contrast it with another meeting held five years ago. At that one Dan Topping read a statement that Casey was retiring after 12 spectacular years as manager of the Yankees.

"They told me my services were no longer required," was the way Casey confirmed the announcement then.

Now it seemed clear that if it weren't for his accident Casey would have wanted to continue and would have been welcome. In spite of the adverse criticism that has come Stengel's way in the last two seasons, the stories about his dozing on the bench and abusing his players, his employers have had no doubts.

They are aware of his matchless record of success. They have been exposed not only to his crotchets but also to his keen perception, flashing wit, and profound understanding of the game. They realize more than most what a tremendous figure he is in baseball.

When Mrs. Payson spoke she was speaking for all of them.

There is no need to catalogue the man's achievements and contributions, to attempt an evaluation of his skills or assess his place in baseball history. These are all public property, and perhaps no two men reviewing the record would arrive at the same final judgment.

On one point, there can be no disagreement. Casey Stengel is authentic original. No man who ever played with or under him and no person who ever knew him can ever forget him.

Sagacious, funny, impatient, warm, obstinate, considerate, loud, understanding, oracular, angry, or courtly, he is Charles Dillon Stengel, lefthanded toothpuller turned square, the one and only. Never an other like him.

Century Bids for National Turf Honors

Hartack Steers Filly to 4-Length Romp at Del Mar

By ERNIE MASON

DEL MAR—Century lodged a strong bid for national honors and stamped herself as a filly of usually fine quality by romping to a brilliant victory in the 15th running of the $60,625 Del Mar Debutante before 19,637 impressed observers Saturday.

Responding generously to a strong ride by Bill Hartack, the flashy daughter of Fleet Nasrullah charged to a resounding four-length triumph in Del Mar's prestige-laden Debutante.

Teton Holiday rallied from last place in the field of 13 two-year-old fillies to garner runnerup honors, a length before Premise, who led fourth-place Hidden Secret by the same margin.

The victory was Century's sixth in seven lifetime starts, the only blemish on an otherwise perfect record being a fourth-place finish in the Hollywood Lassie Stakes when she was forced extremely wide on the stretch turn.

* * * *

HOWEVER, there was no doubt concerning the identity of the best filly in Saturday's six-furlong Debutante.

As the favorite, Century returned $5.80, $4 and $2.80 after racing home in 1:10 flat. Teton Holiday, a 25-1 outsider, paid $17.20 and $7.40 and Premise paid $3.

Hartack, who broke a tie with Donald Ross for the top spot in the jockey standings with his triumph aboard Century, said, "I started riding her from the time the man said 'go' today, not all out, but I was riding for position. She was the best horse, but the best horse can get beat and I didn't want to be shuffled back.

"Once we moved up to the leaders around the turn, I was able to sit still on her and maintain my position for about a sixteenth of a mile and after that we went on."

FRIDAY NIGHT
Women's Softball All-Stars at Park

Park Avenue Field has been selected by the Huntington Park Blues as the site for the Pacific Coast Women's Softball League All-Star game Friday night.

The first game of the scheduled doubleheader will begin at 7:45.

The Blues will be playing an all-star aggregation dominated by the Orange Lionettes, who will hold down six of the nine starting positions as best in the league.

The only posts to elude the Orange team are second base, where Gerry Murphy of Fresno will take over and two outfield spots nailed by Lela Burns of Huntington Park and Dee Everhart of Phoenix.

THE LIONETTES to be named to the all-star squad are: Joan Joyce (pitcher), Nancy Ito (catcher), Shirley Topley (first base), Shirley Smith (third base), Carol Spanks (short stop), and Sharon Backus (outfield).

Barbara Prather of Buena Park was named as utility player.

Louise Mazzuca of Huntington Park was also named to the first team as pitcher.

Pass the Word Sweeps to Win

Compiled from Wire Reports

Pass the Word, a 5-1 shot, beat favored Hail to All Saturday in the second running of the $280,000 New Hampshire Sweepstakes Classic — the climax to the nation's only legal lottery.

Jockey Eddie Belmonte, who delayed the start of the race five minutes in order to make repairs on Pass the Word's blinders, kept the brown colt in front despite a spectacular bid by Hail to All in the home stretch.

Pass the Word, owned by Gedney Farms, collected $182,143 as its share of the purse in the world's richest race for three-year-olds.

Under the light weight of 112 pounds, the son of Landing-Ready Room covered the nearly 1¼ miles in 1:59 4-5, a track record.

Not entirely overlooked by the crowd of 29,980 persons, Pass the Word paid $12.60, $4.80 and $3.20. Hail to All, who earned $56,044 for second money, returned $3.20 and $2.20. Naturalist paid $3.80.

SILVER BRIGHT, a 13-1 shot, galloped 6½ furlongs on a swampy track to win the world's richest race for 2-year-old fillies, the $208,765 Arlington-Washington Lassie, in a stretch struggle against Ole Liz.

It was only the fourth start for the roan fillie, owned by C. V. Whitney, and her second win, in 1:18-1-5, three seconds slower than the track record for the distance despite the sloppy footing.

Silver Bright, second in its only other stake start, the Lassie Trial, paid $28.60, $7.80 and $5.20. Ole Liz, a supplementary nomination for which $15,000 was paid to enter the race, went off at 9-5 and paid $3.80 and $3.20. Prides Profile returned $5.40.

GEORGE D. Widener's What A Treat moved a step closer to the 3-year-old filly championship with an impressive victory in the 70th running of the Gazelle Handicap before 49,282 at Aqueduct.

She paid $9, $4 and $2.80. Terentia paid $5.20 and $2.80 and Discipline $3. What A Treat's time was a slow 1:51.

SMARTY ridden by Walter Blum, Pelican Stable's Parka won the $35,150 Kelly-Olympic Handicap at Atlantic City.

The winner paid $5, $3 and $2.60. Indoctrinate returned $4.80 and $3.80 and Twice As Gay was worth $5 to show.

FOR 21 Good Men
NO FEE

This is our first ad for 21 men & we hope 21 good men will answer this to fill good jobs. It doesn't matter what your past work has been if you can qualify. All we ask is study & learn as you will be selected to an

Unbiased Scientific Aptitude Test

which will tell whether you possess the fundamental ability necessary for success in our electrical industry. You will enjoy taking this test, it is free & upon completion you will be given an interview. Our work is not hard & we are not the type of a company to stand over a man & drive him. We do, however, expect an honest day's work for an honest day's pay. Your earnings may start from per week plus bonus & cash advance commission. If you are sincere, clean cut, ambitious, willing to work & can start immediately.

PIER J, UPPER LEFT, WILL BE LINKED TO DOWNTOWN LONG BEACH BY NEW MAGNOLIA AVENUE BRIDGE

'Future Look' at Long Beach

By GEORGE WEEKS

Plans and scheduling for shoreline development projects to cost $30 million—one already under construction, others reaching years into the future—are outlined in a public works report just issued at Long Beach City Hall.

The 14 improvements amount to a gradual transformation of the city's coastline profile along a six-mile expanse from the harbor district on the west to the Marine Stadium area on the east.

THEY WILL TAKE major outlays from the early tideland oil trust revenues anticipated to reach $100 million within five years and $250 million within 35 years.

City Engineer Jess D. Gilkerson, who prepared the report, said the development is the most comprehensive series of public works ever undertaken under the direction of his office.

Largest of the projects are the $12.4-million land fill, extending the city's beach and recreational area south into what is now the ocean, and the $11-million bridge linking Magnolia Avenue with the harbor district.

The fill will create 113 acres of new land. It will reach eastward from the tip of Navy Landing to the beach at Third Place, passing a quarter of a mile south of Pine Avenue in a huge arc encompassing the existing Rainbow Pier.

The fill will obliterate the pier, leaving a site and a small harbor for the projected maritime museum.

In addition, Gilkerson explained, it will supply a base for a new shoreline access roadway, a plaza and beach center in the east section of the fill near Alamitos Avenue and a huge parking lot and possible building site in the same area.

FIRST STAGE will consist of the installation of 550,000 cubic yards of rock perimeter. Later 11 million cubic yards of material will be dredged from the ocean, constituting the city's second biggest ocean fill. Pier J is is the biggest, with 320 acres.

In general, the new land level will be 15 feet above mean low water. At some points the bottom of the fill will be 78 feet below the water surface.

The estimated $12.4-million contract is scheduled to be awarded not later than November, 1965. Besides the huge fill, it will provide for restoring the Rainbow Lagoon. Completion may require 18 months.

THE MAGNOLIA BRIDGE will reach from the Navy Landing to the intersection of Harbor Plaza and Scenic Drive on Pier A. Its main span will be 1,400 feet long, with two three-lane barrels and a dividing island. Connecting structures will increase the over-all length to nearly three quarters of a mile.

Harbor officials last week approved a design for the separation structure at Scenic Drive. There also will be a separation with the shoreline drive on the beach side, along with underpasses at the Navy Landing and swimming lagoon parking lots.

Scheduling of the project calls for an early application to the State Lands Commission for funds, the selection of a consulting engineer within 60 days and completion of plans within a year.

Construction is due to start early in 1967. The big span is expected to be ready for traffic in 1968.

GILKERSON'S SUMMARY of other projects in the shoreline series includes:

—BELMONT PIER, $1,295,000. Design has been completed by the firm of Adams, Latham, Kripp & Wright. Plans for the 1,450-foot-long structure will be submitted to the City Council in mid-September, with a request for an authorization to award a contract. Completion is scheduled for September, 1966.

—BELMONT PLAZA BEACH CENTER, $1,403,700. An application for the use of tideland oil funds has been filed with the State Lands Commission. Six months will be required for planning work for this project encompassing a two-story recreation building, a fresh-water swimming pool and parking facilities. Construction will take a year.

—BIXBY PLAZA BEACH PARKING LOT, $330,000. Bids for the 430-car facility will be opened September 15. Completion is scheduled for the 1966 beach season.

GIRL SCOUT BUILDING, $40,000. Plans for this facility in the marina area will go to the council within 90 days, with completion early next year.

—LEEWAY SAILING CLUB remodeling, $45,000. Plans for modernization of the clubhouse at Ocean Boulevard and 54th Place will be submitted to the council within 10 days. The building is expected to be ready for use next summer.

—MARINE PARK, $254,000. This 6.5-acre recreational area on the south side of the Marine Stadium will be improved in late 1965 and early 1966.

—MARINE STADIUM WEST, $1,790,000. Plans for this improvement of undeveloped areas of the stadium are due for completion in November. Most of the work will be completed by next summer.

—MARITIME MUSEUM, $335,000. The cost figure here includes only the design. Total cost of the building is estimated at $4.8 million. Construction will be delayed for about two years, however, while the new fill compacts.

—NAPLES AREA BULKHEAD, $486,000. An application will be filed this month with the Lands Commission. Work is scheduled for summer of 1966. Existing seawalls in the Naples area will be capped with a 15-inch parapet for protection against tidal flooding.

—NAVY LANDING CONCESSION BUILDING, $50,000. Scheduling of this small structure is still undetermined.

—SEA EXPLORER BASE, $230,000. First in point of time, this facility for Sea Scouts is already under construction in the marina area.

—MAINE AVENUE and shoreline drive separation, $300,000. This link between the West Beach urban renewal area and the heart of the shoreline depends on the timing of the renewal program.

Industrial Leasing Instead of Buying Advised, to Free Capital for Growth

By VERN ANTHONY
Progress Section Editor

"Leasing land and buildings, instead of buying them, can spell the difference between getting ahead of your competition and falling behind it. In many cases, the economics are just that simple."

That's the judgment of William T. Huston, Los Angeles attorney and president of Watson Land Co., one of Southern California's major land developers. The company leases sites, and will lease improvements as well, in the 600-acre Watson Industrial Center and the 150-acre Watson Industrial Center-East, both located between Long Beach and Torrance.

* * * *

HUSTON ASSERTS that leasing:

1. Retains capital for more profitable business use elsewhere;

2. Offers substantial after-tax savings;

3. May represent the only way a company can acquire new plant and equipment.

He says "the one most important question a company should raise when choosing between leasing and buying is: can the company make more money on the capital it retains by leasing than it can on the appreciation of the land and buildings it buys? If the answer is yes, leasing should be the only choice."

Huston readily acknowledges, however, that leasing "is not a cure-all for every company that needs new facilities. Each company has to decide on leasing or purchasing according to its own particular circumstances."

* * * *

MOST OBVIOUS advantage of leasing, Huston says, is that it keeps capital free for other uses.

"Take, for example, a company that's in a dynamic and highly competitive market. It needs new machinery, more inventory — possibly also diversified plant locations — to maintain its competitive position. But this means new buildings.

"Unless it has more liquid asset than most companies, it seldom can afford to tie

Colored Slides Take Club on Plant 'Tours'

By BOB SHIBLEY

Rotary Club members recently took guided tours of five Long Beach businesses without leaving their seats.

The "tours," an idea of Rotarian Phil T. Clock, consisted of colored slides lasting about five minutes and displaying the major points of the businesses, all owned by Rotary Club members.

"I thought this would be a good idea," Clock said, "because probably 95% of the people don't know much about the many small businesses that exist in the area."

* * * *

CLOCK, owner of Sevenstrand Tackle Mfg. Co., 1207 Euclid Ave., revealed he first thought of the plan over a year ago, "but this is the first time I've had a chance to use it."

The tours also included the Long Beach Iron Works, 2100 W. Anaheim St.; Buchanan Products, Inc., 2840 Gundry Ave.; Invalid Walker & Wheel Chair Co., 2410 Ridgeland Road, Torrance, and Wavell Showcase & Fixture, Inc., 1395 Coronado Ave.

NEW FHA PROGRAM FOR VETS

Down Payment Covering Closing Costs Required

Although the new housing law signed July 10 by President Lyndon Johnson specifies no down payment is necessary for a $15,000 mortgage for veterans, federal regulations require a minimum payment of $200 to cover closing costs, it was explained last week by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

The new law extends liberal home loan benefits to millions of post-Korean War veterans, hitherto uncovered by any program, and to older veterans who have not used up their eligibility under a Veterans Administration program.

IT DIRECTS the Federal Housing Administration to insure 100% of the first $15,000 of a home mortgage, 90% of the value in excess of $15,000 to $20,000, and 85% of the value in excess of $20,000 to $30,000.

Information received from NAREB reveals that FHA will insist upon a minimum down payment of not less than $200 in lieu of closing costs.

* * * *

THE $200 figure will enable FHA to continue to include closing costs in its estimate of a property's value, instead of making a distinction between veteran and non-veteran mortgagors. Under the VA program, GI buyers are required to pay closing costs in cash.

In other words, FHA will require the veteran to make a minimum down payment of not less than $200 on the first $15,000 of appraised value, plus 10% between $15,000 and 10% between $15,000, and value above $20,000.

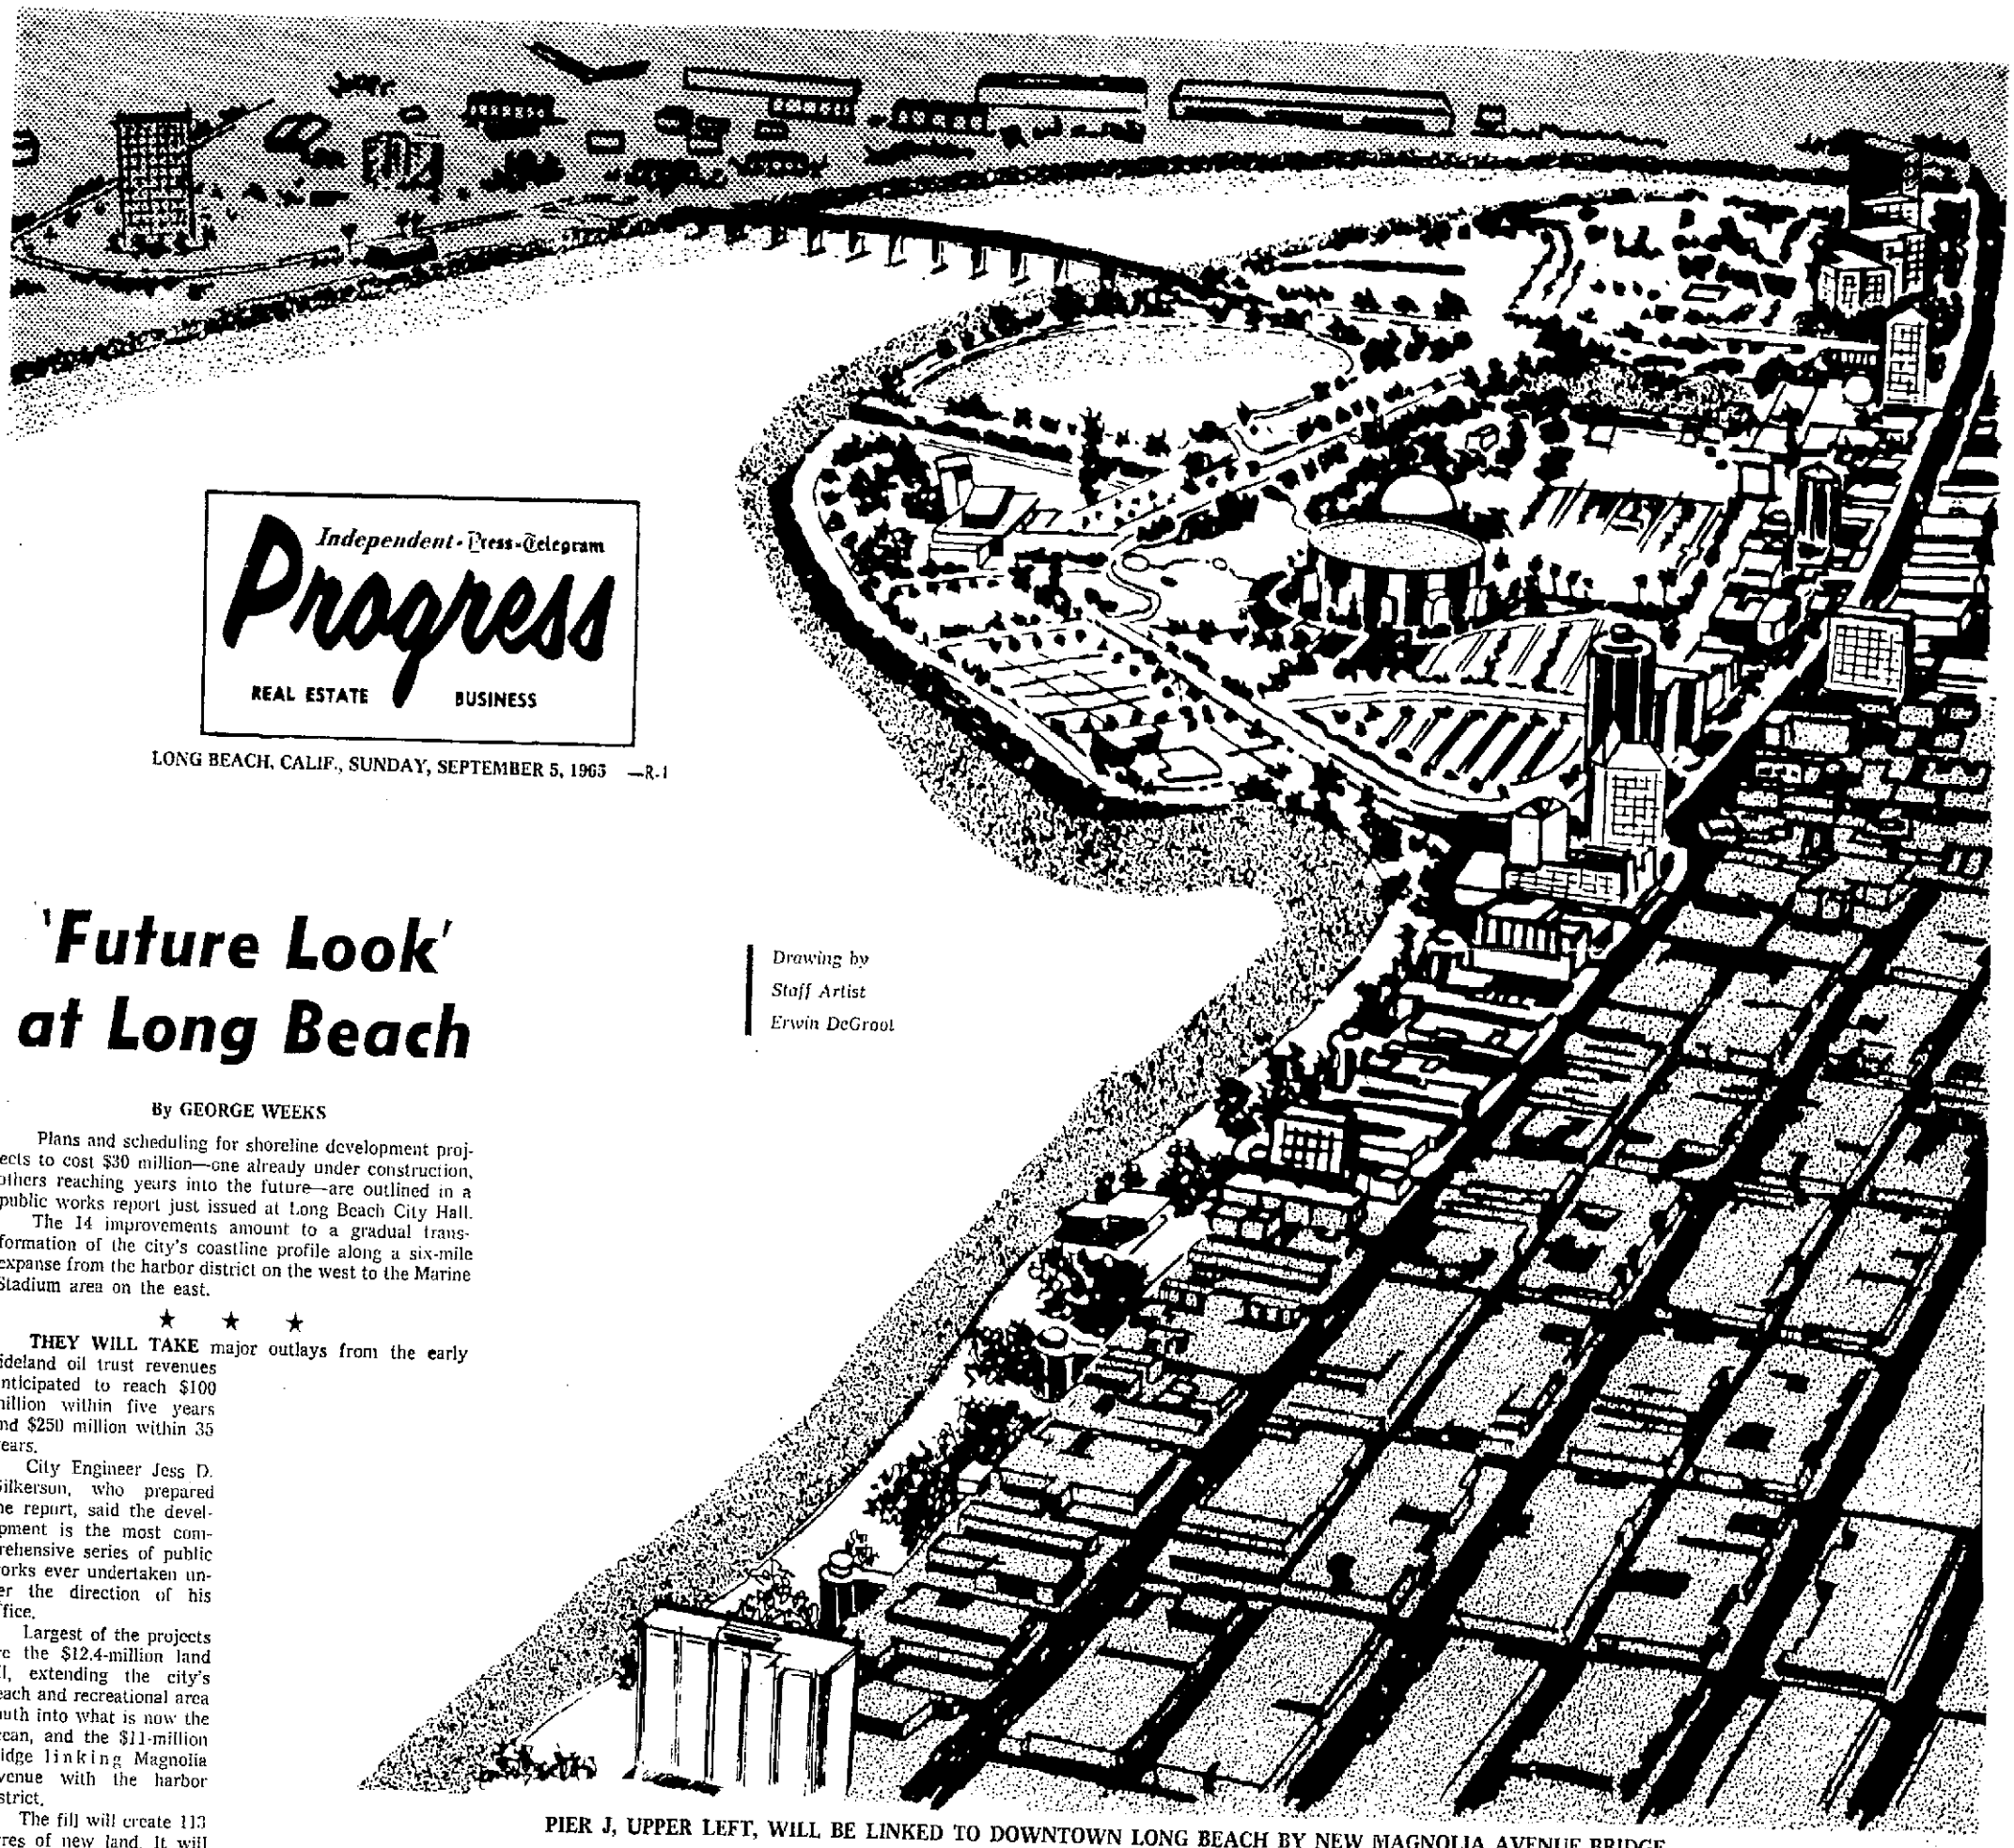

These mortgage terms apply to both existing and new homes, and the standard FHA interest rate of 5¼% will apply, plus an additional one-half of 1% to cover the cost of government insurance.

Any veteran who served 90 days on active duty in the armed forces and was discharged on conditions other than dishonorable is eligible for these terms, provided he has not received any direct, guaranteed, or insured loan through the VA program for the purchase or repair of his home.

* * * *

INTERESTED veterans should obtain VA Form Number 26-8261, "Certificate of Veteran Status," from his local VA office for attachment to the FHA application form.

PIER J, UPPER LEFT, WILL BE LINKED TO DOWNTOWN LONG BEACH BY NEW MAGNOLIA AVENUE BRIDGE

'Future Look' at Long Beach

By GEORGE WEEKS

Plans and scheduling for shoreline development projects to cost $30 million—one already under construction, others reaching years into the future—are outlined in a public works report just issued at Long Beach City Hall.

The 14 improvements amount to a gradual transformation of the city's coastline profile along a six-mile expanse from the harbor district on the west to the Marine Stadium area on the east.

THEY WILL TAKE major outlays from the early tideland oil trust revenues anticipated to reach $100 million within five years and $250 million within 35 years.

City Engineer Jess D. Gilkerson, who prepared the report, said the development is the most comprehensive series of public works ever undertaken under the direction of his office.

Largest of the projects are the $12.4-million land fill, extending the city's beach and recreational area south into what is now the ocean, and the $11-million bridge linking Magnolia Avenue with the harbor district.

The fill will create 113 acres of new land. It will reach eastward from the tip of Navy Landing to the beach at Third Place, passing a quarter of a mile south of Pine Avenue in a huge arc encompassing the existing Rainbow Pier.

The fill will obliterate the pier, leaving a site and a small harbor for the projected maritime museum.

In addition, Gilkerson explained, it will supply a base for a new shoreline access roadway, a plaza and beach center in the east section of the fill near Alamitos Avenue and a huge parking lot and possible building site in the same area.

FIRST STAGE will consist of the installation of 550,000 cubic yards of rock perimeter. Later 11 million cubic yards of material will be dredged from the ocean, constituting the city's second biggest ocean fill. Pier J is is the biggest, with 320 acres.

In general, the new land level will be 15 feet above mean low water. At some points the bottom of the fill will be 78 feet below the water surface.

The estimated $12.4-million contract is scheduled to be awarded not later than November, 1965. Besides the huge fill, it will provide for restoring the Rainbow Lagoon. Completion may require 18 months.

THE MAGNOLIA BRIDGE will reach from the Navy Landing to the intersection of Harbor Plaza and Scenic Drive on Pier A. Its main span will be 1,400 feet long, with two three-lane barrels and a dividing island. Connecting structures will increase the over-all length to nearly three quarters of a mile.

Harbor officials last week approved a design for the separation structure at Scenic Drive. There also will be a separation with the shoreline drive on the beach side, along with underpasses at the Navy Landing and swimming lagoon parking lots.

Scheduling of the project calls for an early application to the State Lands Commission for funds, the selection of a consulting engineer within 60 days and completion of plans within a year.

Construction is due to start early in 1967. The big span is expected to be ready for traffic in 1968.

GILKERSON'S SUMMARY of other projects in the shoreline series includes:

—BELMONT PIER, $1,295,000. Design has been completed by the firm of Adams, Latham, Kripp & Wright. Plans for the 1,450-foot long structure will be submitted to the City Council in mid-September, with a request for an authorization to award a contract. Completion is scheduled for September, 1966.

—BELMONT PLAZA BEACH CENTER, $1,403,700. An application for the use of tideland oil funds has been filed with the State Lands Commission. Six months will be required for planning work for this project encompassing a two-story recreation building, a fresh-water swimming pool and parking facilities. Construction will take a year.

—BIXBY PLAZA BEACH PARKING LOT, $330,000. Bids for the 430-car facility will be opened September 15. Completion is scheduled for the 1966 beach season.

GIRL SCOUT BUILDING, $40,000. Plans for this facility in the marina area will go to the council within 90 days, with completion early next year.

—LEEWAY SAILING CLUB remodeling, $45,000. Plans for modernization of the clubhouse at Ocean Boulevard and 54th Place will be submitted to the council within 10 days. The building is expected to be ready for use next summer.

—MARINE PARK, $254,000. This 6.5-acre recreational area on the south side of the Marine Stadium will be improved in late 1965 and early 1966.

—MARINE STADIUM WEST, $1,790,000. Plans for this improvement of undeveloped areas of the stadium are due for completion in November. Most of the work will be completed by next summer.

—MARITIME MUSEUM, $335,000. The cost figure here includes only the design. Total cost of the building is estimated at $4.8 million. Construction will be delayed for about two years, however, while the new fill compacts.

—NAPLES AREA BULKHEAD, $486,000. An application will be filed this month with the Lands Commission. Work is scheduled for summer of 1966. Existing seawalls in the Naples area will be capped with a 15-inch parapet for protection against tidal flooding.

—NAVY LANDING CONCESSION BUILDING, $50,000. Scheduling of this small structure is still undetermined.

—SEA EXPLORER BASE, $230,000. First in point of time, this facility for Sea Scouts is already under construction in the marina area.

—MAINE AVENUE and shoreline drive separation, $300,000. This link between the West Beach urban renewal area and the heart of the shoreline depends on the timing of the renewal program.

Industrial Leasing Instead of Buying Advised, to Free Capital for Growth

By VERN ANTHONY
Progress Section Editor

"Leasing land and buildings, instead of buying them, can spell the difference between getting ahead of your competition and falling behind it. In many cases, the economics are just that simple."

That's the judgment of William T. Huston, Los Angeles attorney and president of Watson Land Co., one of Southern California's major land developers. The company leases sites, and will lease improvements as well, in the 600-acre Watson Industrial Center and the 150-acre Watson Industrial Center-East, both located between Long Beach and Torrance.

* * * *

HUSTON ASSERTS that leasing:

1. Retains capital for more profitable business use elsewhere;

2. Offers substantial after-tax savings;

3. May represent the only way a company can acquire new plant and equipment.

He says "the one most important question a company should raise when choosing between leasing and buying is: can the company make more money on the capital it retains by leasing than it can on the appreciation of the land and buildings it buys? If the answer is yes, leasing should be the only choice."

Huston readily acknowledges, however, that leasing "is not a cure-all for every company that needs new facilities. Each company has to decide on leasing or purchasing according to its own particular circumstances."

* * * *

MOST OBVIOUS advantage of leasing, Huston says, is that it keeps capital free for other uses.

"Take, for example, a company that's in a dynamic and highly competitive market. It needs new machinery, more inventory — possibly also diversified plant locations — to maintain its competitive position. But this means new buildings.

"Unless it has more liquid asset than most companies, it seldom can afford to tie

Colored Slides Take Club on Plant 'Tours'

By BOB SHIBLEY

Rotary Club members recently took guided tours of five Long Beach businesses without leaving their seats.

The "tours," an idea of Rotarian Phil T. Clock, consisted of colored slides lasting about five minutes and displaying the major points of the businesses, all owned by Rotary Club members.

"I thought this would be a good idea," Clock said, "because probably 95% of the people don't know much about the many small businesses that exist in the area."

* * * *

CLOCK, owner of Sevenstrand Tackle Mfg. Co., 1207 Euclid Ave., revealed he first thought of the plan over a year ago, "but this is the first time I've had a chance to use it."

The tours also included the Long Beach Iron Works, 2100 W. Anaheim St.; Buchanan Products, Inc., 2840 Gundry Ave.; Invalid Walker & Wheel Chair Co., 2410 Ridgeland Road, Torrance, and Wavell Showcase & Fixture, Inc., 1395 Coronado Ave.

'MAD' ABOUT BARGAINS

De Kelly, Downtown Long Beach Associates secretary, shown standing between mannequins, says she is "simply mad" about prospective bargains in downtown stores for "Mad-Nite Sale' from 7 to 11 p. m. Tuesday.

FREE PARKING, TOO

Tuesday Mad-Nite Sale Starts at 7 p.m. Downtown

Tuesday night will be a "night to remember" in Long Beach, according to Ken Daleiden, chairman of the fifth annual Downtown Mad-Nite Sale in which most stores will participate with late summer "super-value" sales.

The sales start promptly at 7 p.m., and not before. Searchlights in the street will beckon customers to the downtown area.

* * * *

MANY of the bargains will be advertised in The Independent and The Press-Telegram, Daleiden said, adding:

"The people of Long Beach and neighboring cities should make plans to shop during the mad-nite sale because not only will they find that severe markdowns have been taken but most parking lots will be free and unattended. Also, there will be entertainment in the street by three of the top local rock 'n' roll bands in Los Angeles and Orange counties."

* * * *

THE "SAINTS" band will be playing at 5th and Pine; the "Valiant Six" at Broadway and Pine; and the "Twilighters" at 4th and Pine.

"We have sifted through at least 100 band units in order to find the three which will be orderly and acceptable to the downtown customers," Daleiden said.

Paint Group Picks Davis

William I. Davis, Davis Paint Co., Long Beach, became the sixth president of the Paint and Wallpaper Association of Southern California at a recent election of officers.

WM. DAVIS

Davis was born in Detroit and received his education in Vancouver, British Columbia. In 1939 he moved to California.

He served as a first lieutenant in the infantry for four and one-half years, and after being discharged from service tried his hand at several occupations before entering the paint business.

He has been associated in our industry for 18 years and has contributed his time and his knowledge to association affairs ever since its formation in 1959.

Davis is married and has four children. His son-in-law is working with him in the business in Long Beach as store manager.

Davis and his new slate of officers and board members will be intsalled at the installation dinner dance Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Hyatt House, Los Angeles.

Realtors to Hear Vet Loan Talk

A new federal housing loan program for veterans who have not received loans under the Veterans Administration program will be the topic at the Thursday meeting of the North Long Beach Real Estate Club.

Guest speaker will be Roger Gertz, senior loan officer with United Mortgagee Servicing Corp, Los Angeles.

The club meets at 8 a.m. in the Crown Bowl, 1301 Artesia Blvd.

27,000-Acre Ranch South of Reno Sold

In a million dollar deal, the 27,000-acre Winters Ranch south of Reno was sold recently by Edward W. Scripps II of New York to John Casey of Dillon, Mont.

Scripps, vice president of Scripps-Howard Newspapers, purchased the ranch in 1957 from an estate.

Casey said he plans to stock the ranch with black angus cattle.

Landscaping Leaders to Hear LBJ Message

Leaders of the landscaping and horticultural fraternity throughout the Southern California area will meet Sept. 13 a 7 p.m. in the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles, auspices of the Associated Landscape Contractors of America in support of the aim and purposes of the White House Conference on Natural Beauty, it was announced last week by John Moulder, Glendale, banquet chairman.

HENRY SOTO

Addressing the meeting will be Henry C. Soto, San Pedro, chairman and past president of the California body of landscape contracting professionals, who will bring a special message from President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Regional experts also will participate in a panel discussion at the banquet on the problems facing Southern California in light of the aims of the White House Conference.

Speakers will be Sanford R. Goodkin (Northridge), president, Sanford R. Goodkin Corp.; Mrs. Valley Knudsen, Glendale, chairman, Los Angeles Beautiful; Garrett Eckbo (South Pasadena), new chairman, Department of Landscape Architecture, University of California builder-developer.

Those attending will include members of the landscape contractors organization, landscape architects, industry suppliers, builders, irrigation contractors, municipal and civic officials.

Tickets and further information for the banquet may be secured by contact with John Moulder, 511 Western Avenue, Glendale.

Navy Officer Homes Built at San Pedro

There will be 78 additional housing units for Navy families in about four months.

Construction is nearly 60% completed on the Navy Married Officers Housing at White's Point in San Pedro.

These three and four bedroom houses are part of the extensive Navy housing project currently under way. They are a 15-minute drive from Long Beach Naval Station.

* * * *

THESE UNITS are for Navy and Marine officers stationed at shore activities and aboard ships in the Long Beach area.

The single and duplex units will be unfurnished except for major appliances. Payment for the modern units will be covered by the basic allowance for quarters.

Construction is supervised by Cmdr. C. Curione, resident officer-in-charge, Bureau of Yards and Docks, Southwest Division, San Diego.

Sales Ahead at Buffums'

Sales at Buffums' Stores the first half of 1965 were $11,176,549, compared to $10,918,130 for the comparable period last year, reports Vaile G. Young, president. This was a gain of 2.36%.

Earnings before federal income taxes were $371,448, compared to $514,481 the previous year.

Buffums' seventh store at Lakewood was opened Aug. 2. Ground was broken for another Buffums' Specialty Store at Newport Center on Aug. 20, completion of this unit to be mid-year of 1967.

On National Accountant Committee

Kenneth H. Kerr, supervisor of cost accounting, Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., Aircraft Division, has been appointed to the accounting development committee of the National Association of Accounts. This is the largest association in the world. The accounting development committee's activities are devoted to the furtherance of education in accounting through the use of monthly publications, savings and research and development programs at the college and business level.

K. H. Kerr

Kerr is currently a member of the board of directors, of the national association, is a past president of the Long Beach Chapter and has received the Outstanding Member Award from the chapter.

Tile Seminar Planned

The Seminar Committee of the Ceramic Tile Institute has announced that "Kaleidoscope '66" was selected as the theme for the 11th annual Educational Conference and Seminar of the CTI, Feb. 10 to 12, 1966, at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

Planning is under way for the largest annual meeting of the tile industry in the United States.

THIS AREA HEADQUARTERS UNDER CONSTRUCTION BY REPUBLIC SUPPLY CO.

$ Million Plant Started by Republic Supply Co.

Republic Supply Co. of California has started construction of a new million dollar plant in the Greater Long Beach industrial area, at 20101 S. Santa Fe Ave.

Due for completion in December, it will be the Southland headquarters for the firm, a pioneer distributor of oil field supplies, pipes, valves, fittings and general industrial equipment.

Republic has an oil field service and machinery center plus administrative offices on a five-acre plot at 3460 Cherry Ave., Long Beach.

"ACTUALLY, the firm has operated in Long Beach for more than 40 years," commented J. C. "Bud" Russell, area vice president and sales manager.

Russell will move his offices to the new building, as will Ed Long, executive vice president who will move from the City of Commerce.

The Cherry Avenue operations will continue, Russell emphasized.

The Santa Fe Avenue facility is on a 9.1-acre site and will include office and warehouse structures, a 12,300-square-rail loading dock area and seven acres of paved exterior storage area.

* * * *

REPUBLIC recently sold its former Southland headquarters in the City of Commerce and moved its corporate offices to the Wilshire-Hope Building in Los Angeles.

The firm also maintains a major northern California headquarters in San Leandro and has a network of branch warehouse-sales offices including one at Santa Fe Springs.

Killingsworth, Brady Receive Edison Trophy

The Long Beach architectural firm of Killingsworth-Brady & Associate has received Southern California Edison Company's "Award of Excellence in Electrical Design."

H. G. Hanawalt, Edison district manager, presented the trophy to Edward A. Killingsworth, FAIA, and Jules Brady, AIR, for their design of Buffums' new department store in Lakewood.

The two-story all-electric structure contains 45,000 square feet and has earned the "Award for Electrical Excellence" by meeting specific and rigid electrical standards, Hanawalt said.

Industrial Park to Add Building

EL SEGUNDO — Ground will be broken on a 1.3-acre site this month at El Segundo Industrial Park for a 22,500-square-foot general purpose building, similar to one acquired last month by Polaroid Corp., according to John E. Murphy, resident manager, Utah Construction & Mining Co., owner-developer of the 200-acre industrial community.

The one-story reinforced concrete structure, which will be sold or leased to a qualified tenant, will be at 606 Hawaii St. at Alaska Avenue and adjacent to Xerox Corp.'s sales and service branch, said Murphy, based at 611 Hawaii St.

Broadway Sales Up

Sales and earnings of Broadway-Hale Stores, Inc., reached new peaks during the first half of 1965. Sales for the period ended July 21, amounted to $96,036,649 compared with $90,462,370 the previous year. Earnings were reported at $2,096,361 or 56 cents per share in 1965 compared with $1,839,413 for the 1964 period or 53 cents per share. Not included in these 1965 earnings is a $1,318,000 gain on the sale of Broadway-Hale's investment in First Colony Life Insurance Co.

For the fifty-two week period ended July 31, 1965 sales were $224,866,964 and earnings were $8,473,395 or $2.34 per share. In the comparable period last year sales amounted to $208,390,547 and earnings were $7,416,355 or $2.14 per share.

MOTOR CENTER BRANCH

Bank of America plans to build this $645,000 branch at Dayman Street and Long Beach Boulevard. Designed by Kenneth S. Wing, FAIA, it will be called the Long Beach Motor Branch Center. Date for start of construction has not been set, according to Frank Naughton, vice president. Branch is to be B of A's area center for handling of automotive loans. B of A earlier announced plans for $650,000 remodeling and expansion of Long Beach Main Office at 4th and Pine. Sale of site for Motor Branch was handled by Charles H. Blaylock of Garden Grove, who has a RE office in Long Beach.

Tile Seminar Planned

The Seminar Committee of the Ceramic Tile Institute has announced that "Kaleidoscope '66" was selected as the theme for the 11th annual Educational Conference and Seminar of the CTI, Feb. 10 to 12, 1966, at the Biltmore Hotel, Los Angeles.

Planning is under way for the largest annual meeting of the tile industry in the United States.

THIS AREA HEADQUARTERS UNDER CONSTRUCTION BY REPUBLIC SUPPLY CO.

$ Million Plant Started by Republic Supply Co.

Republic Supply Co. of California has started construction of a new million dollar plant in the Greater Long Beach industrial area, at 20101 S. Santa Fe Ave.

Due for completion in December, it will be the Southland headquarters for the firm, a pioneer distributor of oil field supplies, pipes, valves, fittings and general industrial equipment.

Republic has an oil field service and machinery center plus administrative offices on a five-acre plot at 3460 Cherry Ave., Long Beach.

"ACTUALLY, the firm has operated in Long Beach for more than 40 years," commented J. C. "Bud" Russell, area vice president and sales manager.

Russell will move his offices to the new building, as will Ed Long, executive vice president who will move from the City of Commerce.

The Cherry Avenue operations will continue, Russell emphasized.

The Santa Fe Avenue facility is on a 9.1-acre site and will include office and warehouse structures, a 12,300-square-rail loading dock area and seven acres of paved exterior storage area.

* * * *

REPUBLIC recently sold its former Southland headquarters in the City of Commerce and moved its corporate offices to the Wilshire-Hope Building in Los Angeles.

The firm also maintains a major northern California headquarters in San Leandro and has a network of branch warehouse-sales offices including one at Santa Fe Springs.

Killingsworth, Brady Receive Edison Trophy

The Long Beach architectural firm of Killingsworth-Brady & Associate has received Southern California Edison Company's "Award of Excellence in Electrical Design."

H. G. Hanawalt, Edison district manager, presented the trophy to Edward A. Killingsworth, FAIA, and Jules Brady, AIR, for their design of Buffums' new department store in Lakewood.

The two-story all-electric structure contains 45,000 square feet and has earned the "Award for Electrical Excellence" by meeting specific and rigid electrical standards, Hanawalt said.

Industrial Park to Add Building

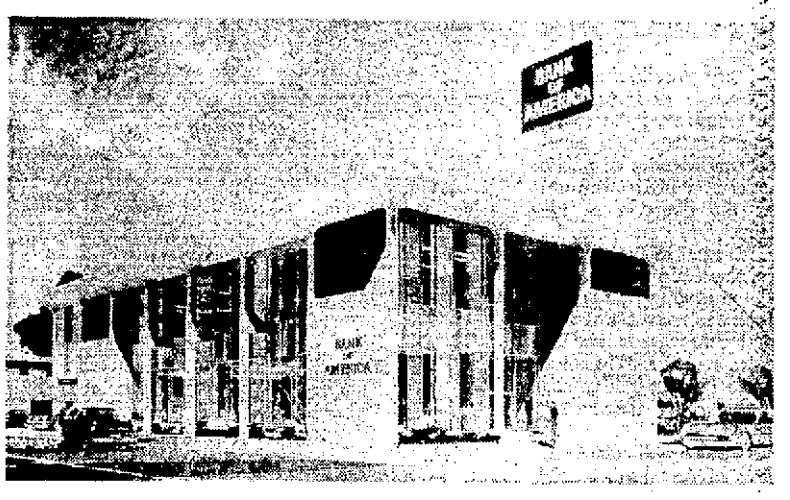

EL SEGUNDO — Ground will be broken on a 1.3-acre site this month at El Segundo Industrial Park for a 22,500-square-foot general purpose building, similar to one acquired last month by Polaroid Corp., according to John E. Murphy, resident manager, Utah Construction & Mining Co., owner-developer of the 200-acre industrial community.

The one-story reinforced concrete structure, which will be sold or leased to a qualified tenant, will be at 606 Hawaii St. at Alaska Avenue and adjacent to Xerox Corp.'s sales and service branch, said Murphy, based at 611 Hawaii St.

Broadway Sales Up

Sales and earnings of Broadway - Hale Stores, Inc., reached new peaks during the first half of 1965. Sales for the period ended July 21, amounted to $96,036,649 compared with $90,462,370 the previous year. Earnings were reported at $2,096,361 or 56 cents per share in 1965 compared with $1,839,413 for the 1964 period or 53 cents per share. Not included in these 1965 earnings is a $1,318,000 gain on the sale of Broadway-Hale's investment in First Colony Life Insurance Co.

For the fifty-two week period ended July 31, 1965 sales were $224,866,964 and earnings were $8,473,395 or $2.34 per share. In the comparable period last year sales amounted to $208,390,547 and earnings were $7,416,355 or $2.14 per share.

MOTOR CENTER BRANCH

Bank of America plans to build this $645,000 branch at Dayman Street and Long Beach Boulevard. Designed by Kenneth S. Wing, FAIA, it will be called the Long Beach Motor Branch Center. Date for start of construction has not been set, according to Frank Naughton, vice president. Branch is to be B of A's area center for handling of automotive loans. B of A earlier announced plans for $650,000 remodeling and expansion of Long Beach Main Office at 4th and Pine. Sale of site for Motor Branch was handled by Charles H. Blaylock of Garden Grove, who has a RE office in Long Beach.

Industrial Leasing Seen Freeing Growth Capital

up its capital in both new equipment and new buildings. By leasing its new facilities, that company can use its available capital to expand sales without borrowing or without incurring exorbitant factoring costs."

Huston adds that leasing generally provides greater tax savings than ownership.

* * * *

AS AN EXAMPLE (see accompanying chart), he cites a hypothetical case in which a company plans to acquire land valued at $400,000 and to erect buildings that will cost $1,000,000.

A 20-year lease on this $1.4 million package might call for a rental of about $126,000 a year.

The entire $126,000 rental is a deduction for income tax purposes.

If the company elected to buy the land and buildings — and obtained a 20-year mortgage for $980,000—the debt service would total more than $84,000 a year.

The interest charges, however, and the normal depreciation write-off on the building (the land, of course, is not depreciable) would total only about $60,000 a year.

* * * *

LEASING, therefore, would increase the company's deductible expenses by approximately $66,000 per year. Assuming a 50% corporate tax rate, Huston notes, "that's a cash saving after taxes of $660,000 over the 20-year period."

Huston acknowledges that some companies would obtain loans for the full cost of the land and buildings — $1,400,000 — "but if they did, their debt service would be higher than their rental, and their cost after taxes would still be $460,000 more than if they had leased."

* * * *

EITHER WAY, he emphasizes, "leasing saves them considerably more tax money!"

Huston points out that loans—especially loans for the entire cost of land and buildings—often are difficult or costly to obtain.

"Since banks normally are more conservative than lessors, many fine companies may not get a full loan at all. They might not have a record of corporate growth over a long time or they may not meet the bank's capital requirements.

"Even if a company can meet all the bank's requirements, the provisions of existing debt may specifically prohibit additional borrowing to acquire land or facilities. Leasing, therefore, is the obvious alternative."

* * * *

HUSTON ALSO notes that banks generally require their borrowers to maintain compensating balances—frequently as much as 10% of the amount of the loan. This increases the effective interest rate the borrower pays by from one-half to 1%.

Lessors, naturally, do not impose any such requirements.

Moreover, leasing in most cases does not restrict the lessee's future financing activities, "and it permits the lessee to keep bank credit lines open for the acquisition of new equipment or inventory or for additions to working capital."

As Huston also points out, "you don't realize any money from land appreciation until you sell the land."

* * * *

OTHER considerations he deems important include:

1. The predictability of future expenses and income;

2. The potential value of improvements at the end of their useful life, which will vary considerably, depending upon the type of facility constructed and the type of construction utilized.

3. The comparative costs of leasing or borrowing in relation to their effect on the company's ability to pay dividends.

CHART SHOWS TAX SAVINGS OF LEASING OVER BUYING

In this illustration, Watson Land Company shows how leasing land and facilities, instead of buying them, can provide nearly $660,000 in net tax savings over a 20-year period....as well as return capital for better use elsewhere.

(In this example, the total cost of new facilities was assumed to be $1,400,000—of which $400,000 was for the land and $1,000,000 was for improvements)

	LEASE	BUY
Required capital	NONE	$420,000
Capital available for other use	$1,400,000	$980,000
Annual debt service (on 6% for 20 years) or lease payments (on 9% for 20 years)	$126,000	$84,280
Deductible for tax purposes, per year	$126,000	$60,280
Total Tax Benefits Over term of loan or lease	$1,260,000	$602,800

NOTE: If the purchaser were willing to take out a second loan for the $420,000 his total annual debt service would increase to $147,000 — and his total tax savings over the 20-year period would be $660,000 less than the savings allowed by leasing.

Evaluation Service Aims to Fix Fair Market Prices

Barbara Moss, Multiple Listing chairman of the Long Beach District Board of Realtors, last week announced a new service by the committee which will benefit the general public.

All multiple listings as of Sept. 1 are being evaluated by the committee — this service aimed at assisting the owners or the property to establish a fair market price.

BARBARA MOSS

The following evaluating committee has been named: District 1 will have Sherill Muntz as representative and Isabel Patterson as chairman. District 2, Leslie Vaughn representative and John C. Foster chairman. District 3, George Astenius representative and Gilbert Johnson chairman. District 4, Clyde Brown representative and Dave DeMoss chairman. District 5, Mildred Stanley representative and Eunice Stolp chairman. District 6, Chester Jackson representative and Jack Colmar chairman.

In District 7, representative is Hilbert Adema and chairmen are Mickey Bemis and Ed Ratajack. In District 8, representative is W. F. Alexander and chairman Bob Lyons. District 9 finds Fay Stineas representative and Ray Hazlet chairman. Ralph Bick is representative of District 10 and the chairmen are Lou Harmatz and Marie Kale. District 11 will have Della Brigham as representative and Elmer Goss chairman.

Parsons Co. Has New Engineer

The Ralph M. Parsons Company, Los Angeles headquartered engineering-construction firm, has announced appointment of David K. Beavon as director, Process Operations, Petroleum-Chemical Engineering.

Beacon has had 27 years experience in process engineering and refinery operations with the Texas Company and served as assistant plant manager, Operations, for that company's Lockport, Ill., plant before joining Parsons. He holds 20 petroleum processing patents.

U.P. to Add 4,670 Cars

Union Pacific railroad's 1966 rolling stock program will be the largest in the history of the company, according to Edd H. Bailey, president.

The program will add 4,670 new cars to U.P.'s freight car fleet of 56,240 cars and calls for the reconstruction to new car standards of an additional 1,486 box cars.

Total cost of the program will be $119 million, which includes purchase of 25 new diesel-electric locomotives.

All cars will be equipped with roller bearings for high speed service and all box and flat cars will have cushioning devices for the protection of lading in transit.

Occidental Buys Eastern Firm

BOATEL FOR OCEANSIDE HARBOR

Construction of this 61-unit facility will provide weekly, monthly and seasonal rental units to boaters and motorists visiting the harbor area. The Villa Marina Boatel is being built on Oceanside Harbor land at the northwest entrance to the marina by Dominick Sfregola of Orange.

$1 Million Boatel Launched Inside Harbor At Oceanside

Construction has started on a $1 million Villa Marina boatel at the Oceanside Harbor and is scheduled to be open by March of next year.

The 61-unit facility, catering to the transient boating and motoring public, is being built by Dominick Sfregola of Orange.

Sfregola built the Villa Roma Garden Apartments in Palm Springs and a number of shopping centers and commercial buildings throughout Orange Country and Los Angeles. This is his first venture in San Diego County.

* * * *

Featuring modern Spanish architecture, the boatel will offer one, two and three-bedroom accommodations, each with cooking facilities and separate sitting room. Individual fireplaces and private patios will complete each unit.

* * * *

IN ADDITION to completely modern and luxurious furnishings throughout, guests will enjoy a cabana-style clubhouse and heated swimming pool, a 9-hole putting green, two sauna baths and use of the channel entrance.

Future plans call for construction of special berthing facilities for boats up to 50 feet in length. These slips, which will be for exclusive use of Villa Marina guests, are expected to be constructed by Sfregola after the present slips at the Oceanside harbor have been fully rented.

* * * *

NEGOTIATIONS for the lease of harbor land was handled by Edward W. Schuler of Star Realty in Oceanside through Prudential Savings & Loan Association in San Gabriel.

The Villa Marina will be located on the Northwest corner of the harbor, adjacent to the channel entrance. It will have a commanding view of the harbor and the ocean.

Shell Exec Retires

E. L. Rougny, plant superintendent at Shell Oil Company's Signal Hill plant, is retiring after 42 years of service, all of them spent in the Los Angeles Basin. Rougny was honored recently at the Long Beach Elks Club by his Shell friends.

Realtors to Hear LBCC Panelists

A panel discussion featuring a group from Long Beach City College Business and Technology Division will highlight the Tuesday breakfast program of the Long Beach District Board of Realtors.

MRS. LIVINGSTONE

This has been announced by Lolly Livingstone, program chairman for September.

Panel members will include Dick Jones, instructor, moderator; Dr. Keith James, business educator; Larry Lackman, attorney; and Ollie Speraw, Realtor-instructor. There also will be induction of new members.

The board meets in the Crown cafeteria, at 7:15 a.m.

REEVE'S LOCATES AT 515 PINE

More Honors Sought by Board at Bellflower

BELLFLOWER — Ray T. Smith, president of the Bellflower District Board of Realtors, announced Friday that the board again had entered an Achievement Book in the annual competition of the California Real Estate Association.

MRS. JOHNSON

Mrs. Mary Johnson, chairman of the Achievement Book Committee, has completed the 57-page book covering activities of the board from Sept. 1, 1964, to Aug. 30, 1965.

Achievement books entered by the Bellflower board have been consistent winners in the past years. In 1955, it was awarded the "Queen of Victory" award for the best book from boards with 100 or less Realtor members and again garnered this trophy in 1956, 1960, 1962, 1963 and 1964.

The coveted "Winged Victory" trophy for the best book in the state, regardless of size of the board, was won by the local board in 1957 and 1958.

Assisting Mrs. Johnson in the compiling of the latest book were Dorothy Grimm, Rosemary Cleek, Marion Jones, May Fletcher and Esta Rodgers.

Reeve's Shoe Store Opens on Pine Ave.

In a new expansion move, the Reeve's chain of more than 30 stores has opened a new shoe store at 515 Pine Ave.

Manager of the shoe salon is Harold Nathan, with many years of retail experience in the Southland. He noted that his store puts emphasis on high fashion styles for women and girls at moderate prices.

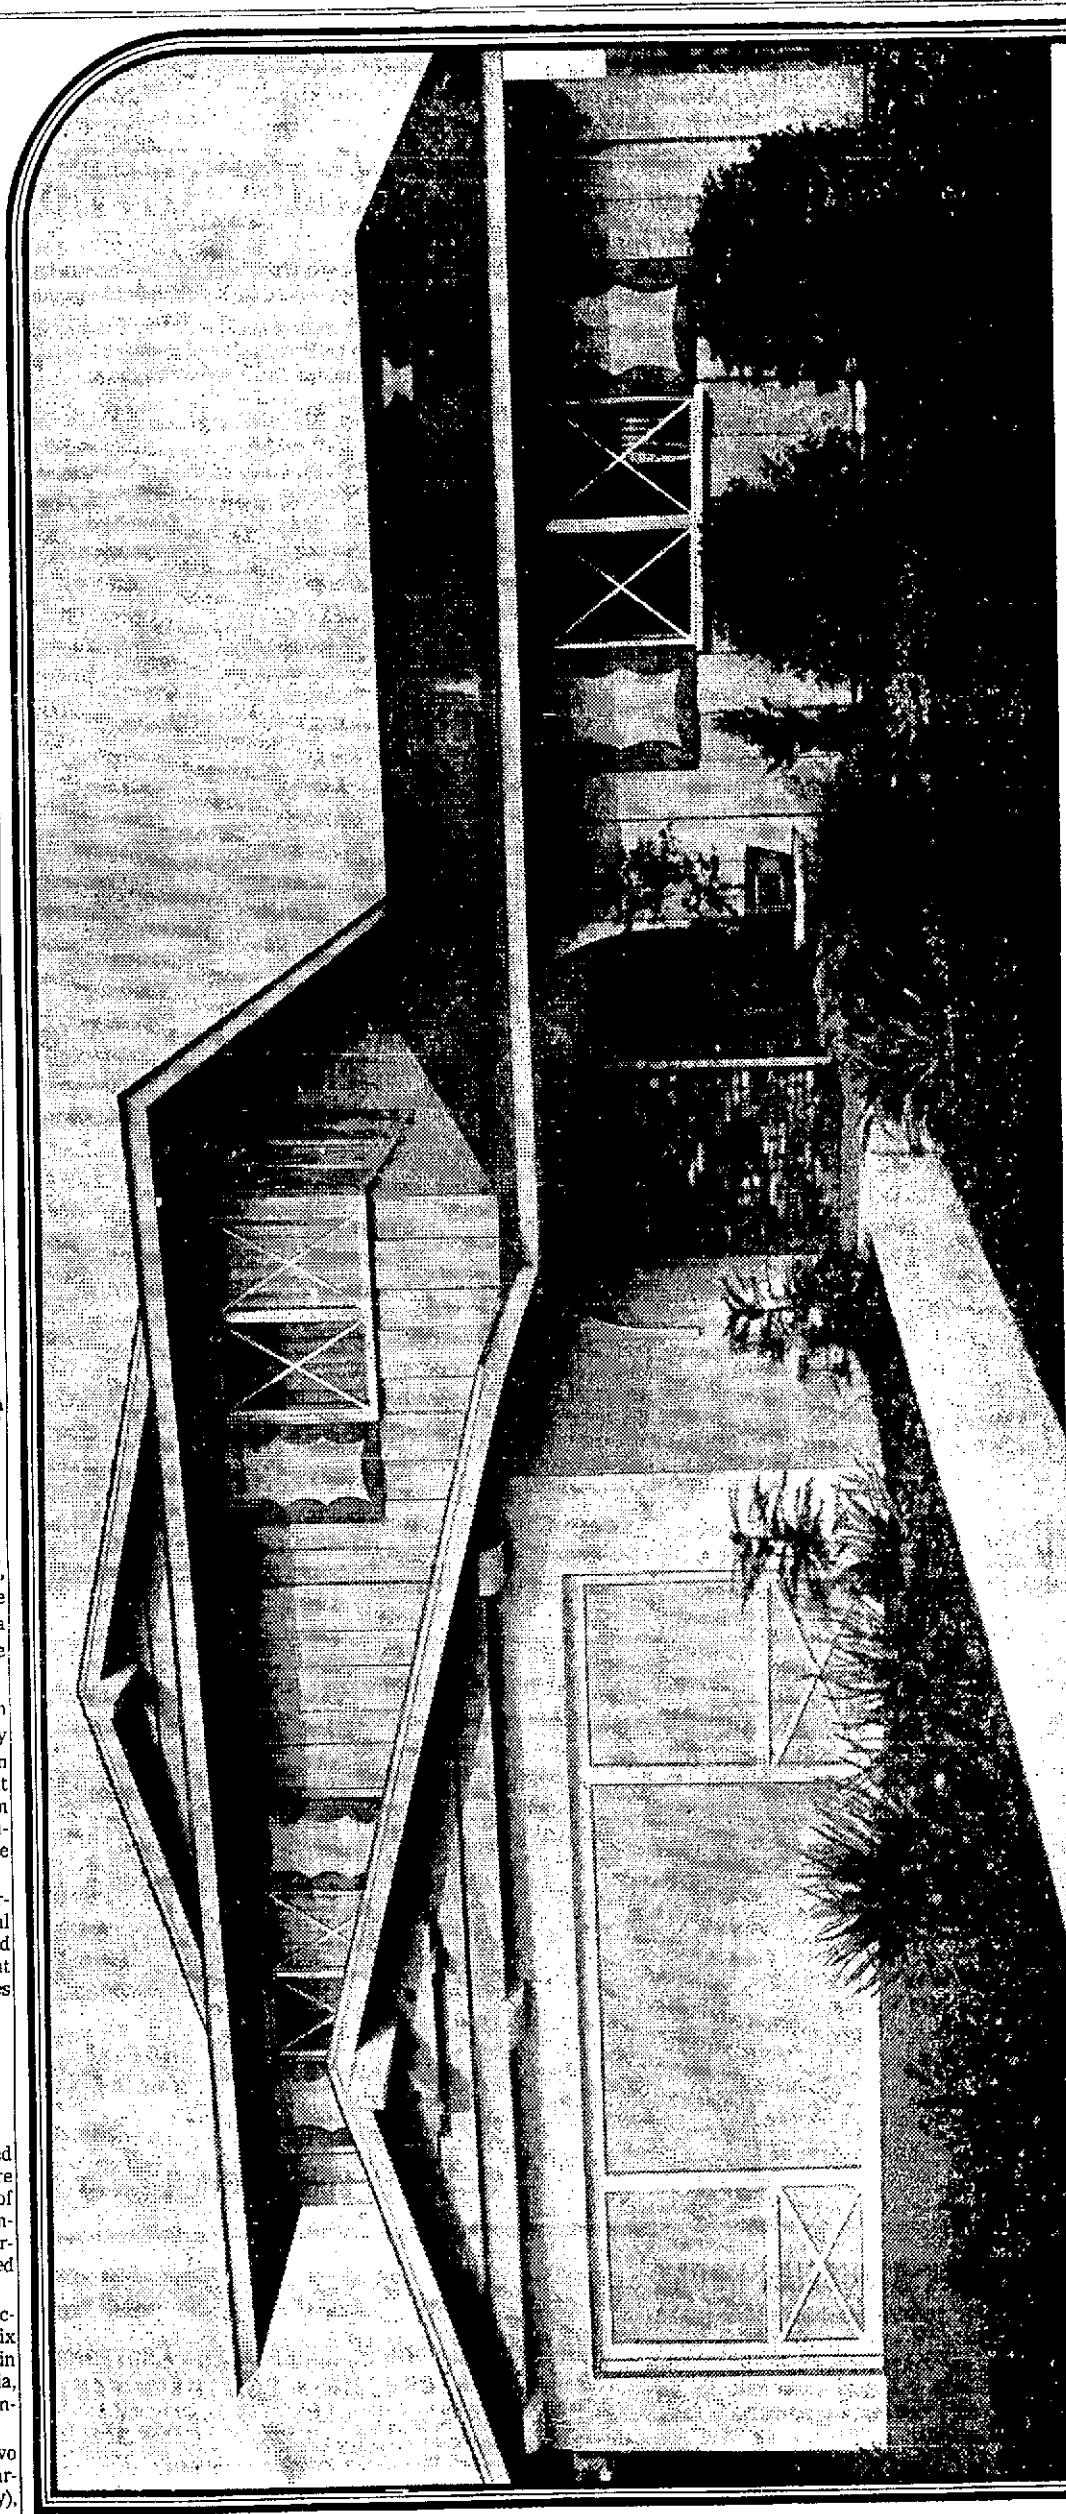

The store decor was arranged by the architectural team of Alfred V. Chaix and Walter Johnson, prominent designers of stores, churches and other public buildings.

Penney Opens New Quake Area Store

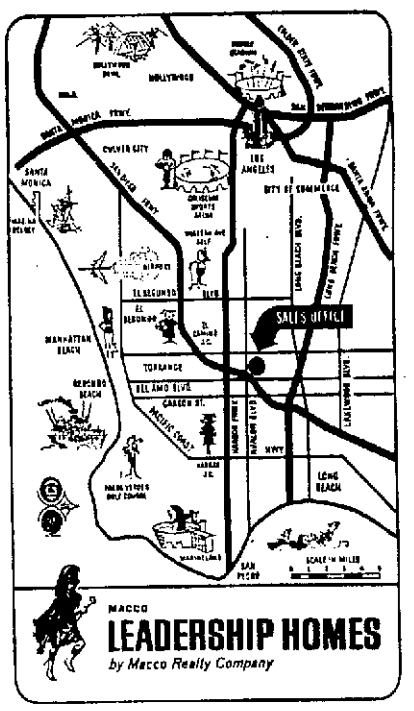

J. C. Penney Co. announced last week it would open more than 660,000 square feet of store space in September, including a new unit in Anchorage, Alaska, which opened Sept. 1.

The month's opening activity centers around six stores and six auto centers in Alaska, Colorado, Georgia, Missouri, Oklahoma and Tennessee.

Among the stores are two new units (serving new market areas for the company), relocations of three existing stores, as well as a new Anchorage plant replacing the building destroyed in 1964 in the Good Friday earthquake.

$5 Million Home Sales In College Park Unit

OFFERED IN COLLEGE PARK

Distinctive fireplace blending into the decor of the room is one of the reasons why College Park unit of Garden Park homes in the Rossmoor-Seal Beach area have built a record $5 million sales in a few weeks.

Close proximity to the beaches and marinas, nearness to markets and industry, and freeways-to-everywhere adjacent to the walled-in community, are some of the neighborhood desirability factors that have set sales records at College Park unit of Garden Park Estates, in the Rossmoor-Seal Beach area.

"More than $5 million in sales have been made here in a few weeks without a single house being finished on the premises, proof that S & S Construction Co. has another success to add to the 15,000 homes they already have built and sold in the Southland," said Mark Bader, sales manager.

* * * *

THE HOMES, to be ready for occupany about school time, feature five, four and three bedrooms, three and two baths, and formal dining room, Lath and plaster walls, concrete driveways, distinctive fireplaces blending into the decor, custom electrical fixtures, and forced-air heating with summer cooling switch, are among the quality features.

College Park prices start from $25,300, with no down payment for vets, new low FHA down payments for both non-vets and vets whose eligibility has expired; 30 and 35-year financing, Cal-Vet, and excellent conventional terms, available.

Furnished models are located at Knott St. and Garden Grove Blvd. and may be reached via San Diego Freeway to Garden Grove, or via Seventh St. to Knott, then north at Knott to Garden Park and the new College Park Unit display.

Plaza Townhouses Great Attraction

Fountain Plaza, the first "planned unit" development in Fountain Valley, is stirring interest in this new ownership concept, judging by crowds at the project and comment in Southland newspapers.

"Visitors want to know exactly how 'planned units' differ from condominiums, and it's really quite simple," said a spokesman for the project. "In a planned unit, you receive titled deed to your lot as well as your home. In a condominium, you get titled deed to your home only."

* * * *

HOMEBUYERS are further intrigued by the variety of architectural styles offered at Fountain Plaza. Separate streets are treated in Spanish, Hawaiian, Olde English and New Orleans motifs with two versions of each available. Extensive landscaping is keyed to the theme of each street.

The homes have three or four bedrooms and two baths, formal living rooms with separate dining areas, family rooms, patios and oversized two-car garages. All homes face pedestrian streets and malls. Service roads lead to the rear of the homes.

* * * *

FOUNTAIN PLAZA offers residents outstanding recreational facilities, including 55-foot swimming pool, clubhouse, tennis court and putting green. Separate facilities for children include a wading pool, playground and modern nursery.

Prices start under $20,000 for three-bedroom townhouses, on FHA and Conventional Terms, Fountain Plaza has a liberal trade-in program which will accept second trust deeds.

The homes may be seen by taking the Santa Ana Freeway to the Brookhurst St. turnoff and continuing south to 18250 Brookhurst.

HAWAIIAN EXTERIOR ON HOME

Shown is one of two Hawaiian exteriors featured at Fountain Plaza "planned unit" development in Fountain Valley. Note how landscaping harmonizes with the architecture.

Salsman Grand Prize Winner in Listing Contest

Grand prize winner in the Multiple Listing Contest held recently by the Long Beach District Board of Realtors Multiple Listing Committee was announced at the Aug. 31 breakfast meeting by President James Hoffman. Winner was Mel Salsman who associated with D. Van Lizzen Realty, 2170 Pacific Ave.

MEL SALSMAN

Salsman was the monthly winner in both listings and sales except for the month of June, which found Charles Haynes, Realtor, winner in sales.

Salsman was presented trophies as monthly winner; and as the grand prize winner was presented marble book-ends, a silver platter and was given a check for $100.

Women's Council Nominees Listed

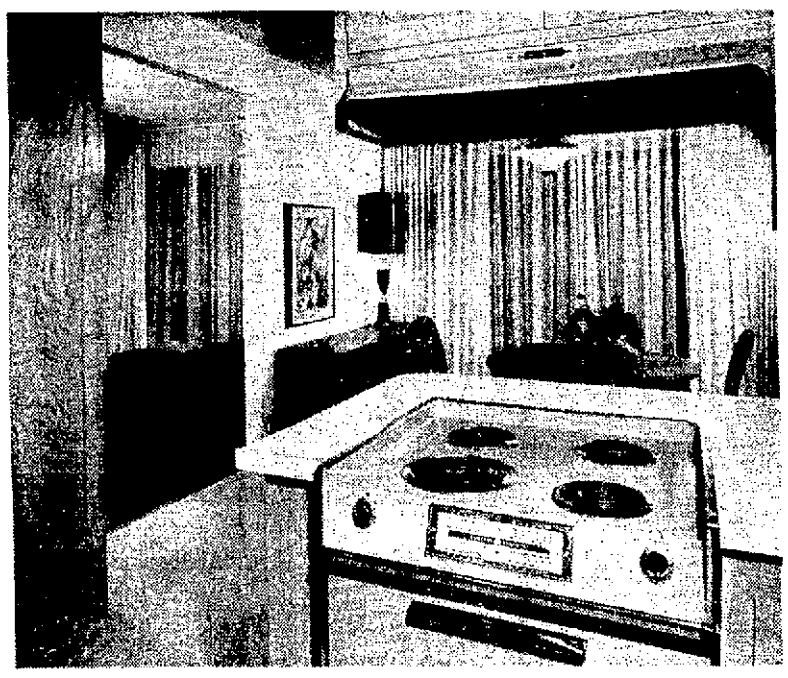

BELLFLOWER — Mrs. Gladys Leahy, president of the Women's Council, Bellflower District Board of Realtors, has announced the slate of nominees for officers for the Women's Council, 1966, as selected by the Nominating Committee.

Nominees are Francis Parker, president; Vesta Anderson, vice-president, Jo Ann Fahrenkrug, secretary and Orva Ashmore, treasurer.

Members of the committee are Frankie Harrel, chairman; Rosemary Cleek, May Fletcher, Lena Jenkins and Braunell Price.

Election will be held Wednesday at the next regular luncheon of the group in the new offices of the board, 10140 E. Alondra.

Home Demonstrations for South Bay Viewers

CHARM IN INTERIOR

Kitchen features offered in Macco Leadership Homes New South Bay Series include built-in all-electric range and oven with pushbutton burner controls, formica counter tops, natural wood cabinetry and separate dining area. Prices range from $21,600 to $29,500.

Demonstrations conducted by Shirley Collins, home economist for Macco Leadership Homes New South Bay Series, have proven successful and have drawn housewives, working wives and mothers from all parts of the development to see cooking and homemaking programs of special interest to women, according to Bill Walker, sales manager of the development.

"Homeowners within the New South Bay Series community and potential homeowners are showing great interest in these demonstrations," says Walker. "They take place in Macco's Hospitality House; a model home with furnishings and various types of displays, located at 1829 East Helmick St. within the Macco Leadership Homes New South Bay Series development. They are conducted each Wednesday and Thursday from 10:30 a.m. to 12 noon and 1:30 p.m. to 3 p.m."

* * * *

THE DEMONSTRATIONS at the Hospitality House give the housewives an opportunity to become familiar with the uses and services of their new home appliances, to witness the success of new recipes, and to learn various aspects related to meal-planning and household organization.

Other highlights of the demonstrations include refreshments prepared in the Hospitality House kitchen, a gift from Macco, eligibility for various door prizes, recipes furnished upon request, and an opportunity to ask questions about the facilities of the Macco Leadership Homes.

* * * *

HOMEBUYERS may view other model homes within the New South Bay Series development and become familiar with various features included in the purchase price of the Macco Leadership Homes. Some of these features are wall-to-wall carpeting, all electric kitchen with built-in range and oven, tile entries, central hall plan, landscaped front lawn with underground sprinkler system, side and rear-yard fencing with gate and double garage.

The New South Bay Series offers two, three, four and five bedroom, one and two-story homes priced from $21,600 to $29,500 with low down payments and long-term financing.

Furnished model homes may be seen via the San Diego freeway, turning off at Avalon Blvd. and following Macco Leadership Home signs to the development.

Retiring Military Men Buy In El Dorado Park

Military men scattered around the globe and as far away as Singapore, have been making inquiries to El Dorado Park Estates, Long Beach, regarding their approaching retirement plans.

"They like the homes, this location near everything, including the new burgeoning research industry, and the climate," said Doreen Smith, project sales manager for S & S Construction Co. "They have shown considerable interest in the four models with wet bar in the family or rumpus room, because of its superb facilities for entertaining."

* * * *

"TWO EXCITING new 1966 models have been added at El Dorado Park Estates utilizing complete design departure in the exteriors, and in the interior layouts," she added. "They offer completely new and exquisite furnishings, and a new concept in landscaping."

The City of Long Beach has now completed the new Douglas A. Newcomb elementary school, accommodating kindergarten to the 8th grade. Located within the walls of El Dorado Park Estates, it will be open for the new season.

Closing Sale Today for Rainbow Homes

Remaining homes in the one and two-story development of Rainbow Homes, Ball Road at Hwy. 39 in West Anaheim, will be sold this weekend in a closeout sale, stated a spokesman. The luxurious homes, to be sold for $95 down plus costs, are priced at $26,900 and $27,500, with four bedrooms and two or two and one-half baths.

Functional floor plans, with family rooms, and an abundance of exterior masonry-define the architectural styles, with each home designed for family living.

Features include wall-to-wall carpeting of 100% continuous filament nylon, an important savings for new homeowners; redwood fencing completely enclosing rear and side yards and including a gate.

* * * *

ALL-ELECTRIC kitchens have Roper built-in range and oven and dishwasher, all engineered to perform at top level. Ventilating hoods and fans are over the range and there is an abundance of cabinets.

Massive fireplaces in living rooms provide focal points of decorator interest with mantels and distinctive ash paneling adding to the handsomeness of the rooms. There are separate family rooms adjacent to the kitchens and separate service and utility rooms.

Baths are equipped with ceramic tiled showers, Pullmans and mirror with medicine cabinets. There are 70,000 BTU forced air heat furnaces, weatherstripped doors, used brick planters, sliding glass doors and folding wardrobe doors.

Features of construction include spacious two-car garages large enough for hobby space, special bandsaw detail, shake shingle roofs and 2x8 facia board. Models are open on Ball Road at Hwy. 39, reached from Long Beach by way of Seventh St. or Katella to Hwy. 39, left to Ball Road then left to homes.

Prestige Homes Offer Buyer Broad Variety of Stylings

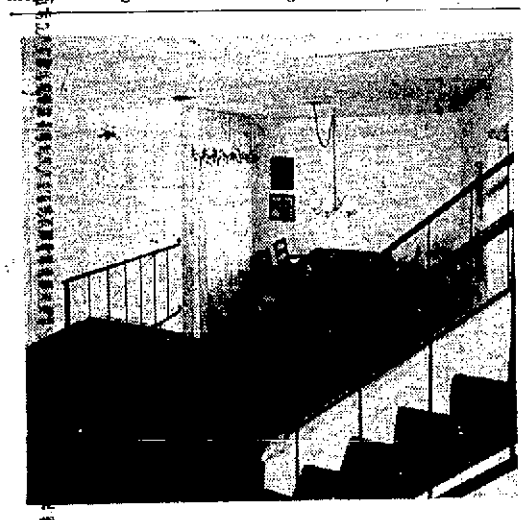

The outstanding Prestige Home community, in Huntington Beach, offers the home buying public an impressive array of center hall floor plans and exterior elevations. The eight plans and 34 different exteriors available is one of the largest selections in Southern California.

Ranging from about 1,500 sq. ft. to almost 2,400 sq. ft., Prestige Homes' one and two-story, three, four and five-bedroom; two and three-bathroom homes are priced from $25,500 with several excellent conventional, FHA and Cal-Vet financing plans.

Frank M. Doyle of the Doyle Development Co., Inc. points out that almost every type of school is within walking distance of Prestige homeowner's children. A new grade school is within the development, a high school and Lutheran school are adjacent; Golden West College (open in 1966) is within one mile; and a Catholic parish, to include a school and church, has recently been established immediately adjacent to the community.

Special features include an atrium in one plan; two or three car garages; pantrys in many models; formal dining areas and sunken living rooms in three newer homes; Tappan all-electric kitchens with built-in range, oven and dishwasher; large wardrobe or walk-in closets; and many others.

Furnished model homes are open daily. Refreshments are served on Sunday from 12 to 5 p.m. From the Long Beach area: take the San Diego Freeway east to Bolsa Chica Road; south on Bolsa Chica to Edinger Avenue, left on Edinger one mile to Springdale Street, right on Springdale a short distance to Prestige Homes in Huntington Beach.

IN PREMIER HOME

Premier Homes North and South feature "step-down" living room styling in most models. Tiled entry has wrought iron railing in this model. Prices start at $24,750.

Premier's Premium Area Draws Buyers

Premier Homes in Huntington Beach offers a "Premium Fun Area" in most of its models, reports sales agent Frank McFarland who attributes the more than 100 sales to this and similar "buyer-oriented" features.

The Realtor emphasized that among the more prominent needs of today's homebuyer is flexibility in interior arrangements. He said the fun area had many and varied uses — depending upon individual homebuyer needs and family interests. Buyers to date used the areas for everything from a studio to a rumpus room.

The area is fully finished, with a tiled floor and plumbing is roughed in for either a wet bar or a third bath at the owner's option.

* * * *

PREMIER HOMES North and South are offered in three and four bedroom models, in a range of stylings extending from Contemporary to Mediterranean, and including Polynesian and Traditional exteriors. Immediate move-in is available on some.

"Total Convenience" kitchens, which include double oven, range, dishwasher and a built-in mixer-blender combination, feature lavish use of ceramic tile and top quality cabinetry.

Buyers have their choice of three separate financing plans. VA No down, FHA minimum down and conventional financing with good loans are all available. Prices start at $24,750.

The model home display includes a typical Russian house built from actual Soviet plans.

Visitors take Bolsa Chica road south from San Diego Freeway to Warner, and turn left on Warner to Hwy. 39 (Beach Blvd) Turn left on Beach Blvd, two blocks to Premier's model display.

Harbor Traffic Division Moves

The Traffic Division of Los Angeles Harbor Department has been authorized by the Board of Harbor Commissioners to move its offices from the City Hall to the new Occidental Tower Building, effective Tuesday.

The move is necesary because of a shortage of space in City Hall, according to George D. Watson, Commission president.

The new address for the division, headed by Kermit R. Sadler, will be Room 1412, Occidental Center, 12th and Olive Streets, Los Angeles 90054.

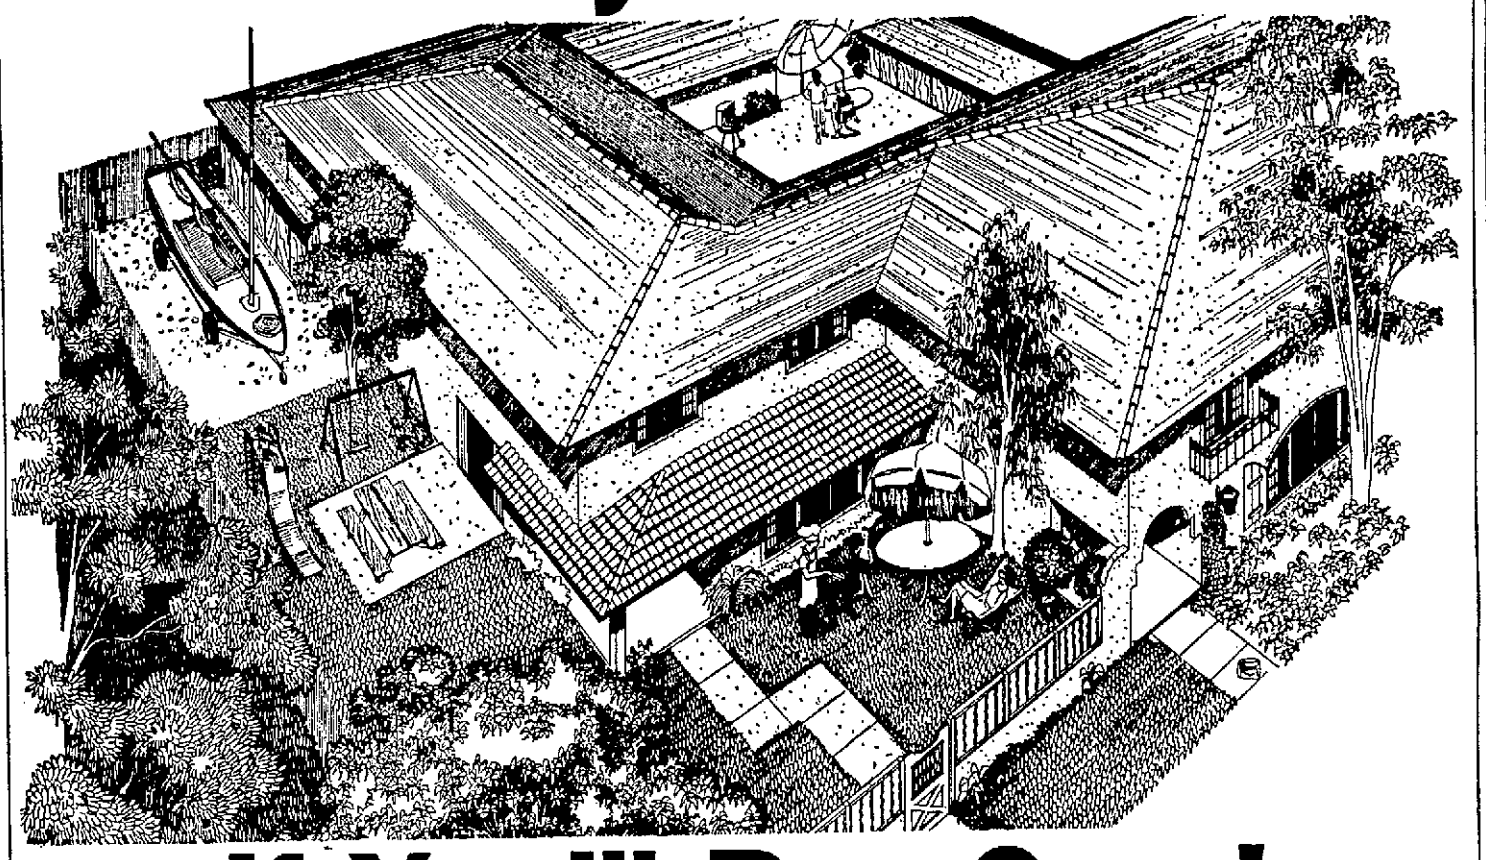

Jerusalem to Have Its First Film Studio

Jerusalem's first motion picture studio is under construction following recent laying of the cornerstone of the Zuron Studios and Laboratories Ltd. in Israel's capital city.

The studios will go up on an 8-acre plot in the Givat Shaul Bet quarter in western Jerusalem.

Israel's two existing major film studios are in the Tel Aviv area.

Grant's New Stardust Homes Are Appealing

LUNCH READY MOM?
Food center areas in this Stardust Park "Crestline" home features the "dual service" kitchen. Sliding glass windows over the kitchen bar open onto an exterior ceramic tiled bar which services the patio, permitting passing refreshments to guests outside without walking to-and-fro.

A new concept, called the "dual-service" kitchen is responsible for creating buyer volume at Stardust Park, according to W. Dean Hanson, vice-president of marketing and sales for Robert H. Grant & Co., the builder-developer.

As introduced in models at the $70 million, 1,600-home development, the kitchen has a ceramic tile counter outside its sliding window and adjoining patio. This permits passing refreshments to patio guests from the kitchen without walking to-and-fro.

This feature, plus the home's twin patios, is finding wide acceptance by homeowners who like to entertain.

* * * *

LOCATED on the boundary between Los Angeles and Orange Counties, the development is 30 minutes from downtown Los Angeles, 20 minutes to downtown Long Beach and 10 minutes from the heart of Orange County's industrial area.

Designed by architect Earl G. Kaltenbach, Jr., AIA, four models at Stardust Park offer 12 differing elevations and four floor plans. They are one and two-story homes, with three to five bedrooms and as many as three baths, with prices from $24,950. All utilities are underground at the project.

Quality construction, a hallmark of the Grant firm, is illustrated by the oak floors on raised pier foundation, concrete driveways and wood-shingled roofs.

* * * *

ALSO PRESENT in the homes are cedar floors in wardrobes, wrought iron interior railings, woodburning fireplaces, oversize mirrors, extensive use of sliding glass doors and modern forced air heating systems.

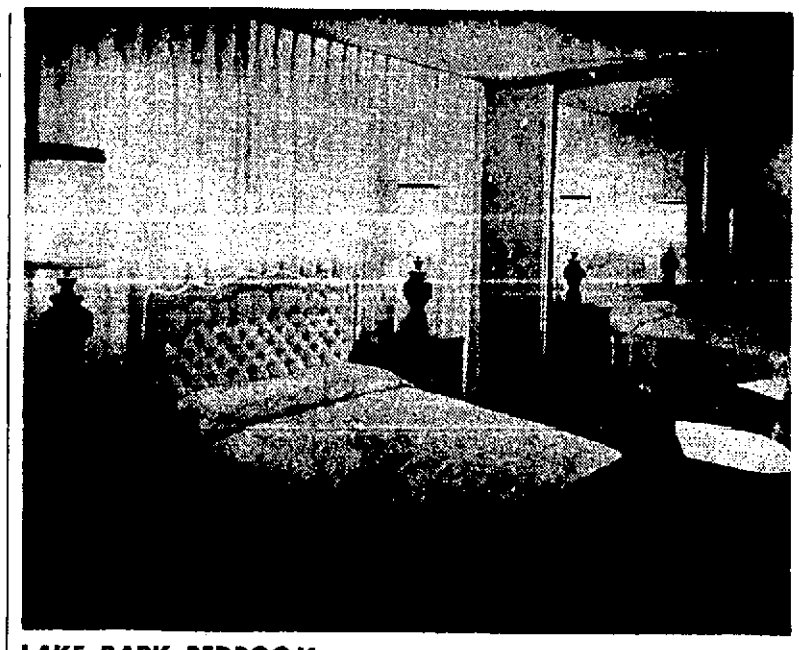

Furnished models at Stardust park will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The community can be reached by driving south on the Santa Ana Freeway to the Valley View Blvd offramp, following Valley View to Orangethorpe, then turning right to the site at the Orangethorpe intersection.

Kaiser Dividend

Kaiser Steel Corporation's board of directors last week declared the regular quarterly dividend of 36½ cents per share on the preferred stock, and a dividend of $1.4375 per share on the 5¾% convertible preference stock, both payable on Sept. 30, to stockholders of record at the close of business on Sept. 15.

THREE GENERATIONS
Frank McFarland Sr. (center) is joined by son Frank (left) and grandson Jack in formation of new real estate sales firm. The senior McFarland, for 11 years president of McFarland & Mattocks, sales agents, announced the new company's offices will be at 10568 Magnolia, Anaheim. Staffed by 11 "Million-Dollar" salesmen and a full complement of administrative personnel, the McFarland Co. lists many well-known builders among its clientele. McFarland Sr. has figured in the sale of more than 20,000 homes.

LAKE PARK BEDROOM
Bedrooms in many Lake Park models take on extra depth and dimension, thanks to sliding floor-to-ceiling panels of mirrored plate glass.

Mirrored Doors Are Among Features in Lake Park Home

Among the newest of custom extras offered to homebuyers at Larwin's Lake Park in Cypress, are floor-to-ceiling bedroom wardrobe mirrors, reports Michael L. Tenzer, vice president and marketing director of Larwin Co.

"These huge plate glass mirrors are mounted on sliding wardrobe doors and cover virtually one entire bedroom wall in several of our models," Tenzer stated.

* * * *

"THIS IS JUST one of 17 custom extras we have just introduced at Lake Park," Tenzer continued. "These include full lifetime concrete driveways, automatic dishwashers, and ceramic tile in and around showers and bathtubs."

In addition to these new features, "Larwin's Lake Park homes continue to offer wood-burning fireplaces, family-height snack bars, sliding glass patio doors, decorative woodgrained wall paneling, and are built on a full size lot," Tenzer added.

Five distinctive floor plans are available, providing three, four or five bedrooms with either two or three baths, plus family rooms and oversize two-car garages.

* * * *

PRICE START at $22,350, and homes may be purchased under FHA, VA, Cal-Vet or conventional finance plans.

From the Long Beach-Lakewood area, Lake Park is reached by driving east on Carson to the model homes east of Moody.

Aid Offered on Realty Studies

Long Beach District Board of Realtors, 3747 Long Beach Blvd., announced last week that its Education Committee will assist persons wishing to enroll in real estate classes offered by Long Beach City College.

A list of all courses and program cards will be available. There must be a minimum of 20 at the second session or the class will be dropped.

In view of recent legislation, it would be most important to those anticipating the broker's license examination to avail themselves of the required courses "Legal Aspects" and "Real Estate Practices." Also "Business Opportunity" classes should be well attended due to the fact that Jan. 1, 1966, all real estate brokers are authorized to consummate this type of sale, a board spokesman said.

L.B. Escrow Group to Meet Wednesday

The Long Beach Escrow Association will meet Wednesday at the Petroleum Club, 3636 Linden Ave. Dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. following the social hour.

Speaker for the evening will be Harold Arman of National Title Division of Title Insurance & Trust Co. His topic will be new legislation which affects escrows.

Reservations should be forwarded to Enice Hallock, 9828 E. Flower, Bellflower.

Grand Opening Is Today in Eastwood

Eastwood Park Homes in Artesia, offering quality features at moderate prices, will stage its grand opening today, reports the Jackson Realty Co., sales agent for the Artval Land Co. Development.

"Dollar for dollar we feel the excellent features of these homes cannot be matched in the price range," said a spokesman.

The homes will be ready to occupy by the time school opens.

Eastwood Park offers two, three and four-bedroom homes and two or three baths with some models in tri-level designs. They are priced from $31,900 to $35,950.

AMONG THE quality features provided in all designs and models are: Fireplaces in a variety of materials, Westinghouse all-electric kitchens, vinyl floors in kitchens and baths and in some family rooms; ash cabinets and interior doors, forced-air furnace, concrete driveways, walks and patios, shake and wood shingle roofs, electric heaters in all baths, and lath and plaster walls.

MEMBERS OF the Artval Land Co., are John H. Gates, John W. Jackson and R. D. Hungerford.

To see the homes, drive east on Artesia Blvd. from Long Beach to Gridley Road just east of Studebaker Road.

This four-bedroom, two-bath model is one of four floor plans available at Sunshine Homes-Fountain Valley where more than 65% of homebuyers have traded in their former residences.

Home Trade-In Plan Attracts

More than 65% of homebuyers at Sunshine Homes-Fountain Valley traded in their former residences, reports Wayne Hampton, community manager for builder-developer S. V. Hunsaker & Sons Inc.

"Many homebuyers find a new home of their choice and want to move in as soon as possible but are delayed or frustrated because they can't sell their old home," said Hampton.

"Under the Hunsaker home trade-in plan, the builder assumes responsibility for re-selling the buyer's former home."

THE $3 MILLION 86-unit Orange County development features four floor plans: The two-story four-bedroom Sunnydale and five-bedroom Foxcroft, and two single-level models, the three-bedroom Mapleton and the four-bedroom Greenbriar.

Available in 14 exterior stylings, homes are priced from $23,150 on conventional terms. Total move-in costs start at $595 with the builder paying all closing and escrow fees.

Features include walnut paneling in the living room, walk-in bedroom closets, laundry room, two-car garages and two baths.

Most models include complete front yard landscaping with underground sprinkler system and rear yard fencing, noted Hampton.

Furnished models are open daily from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. They may be reached from the Santa Ana or San Diego Freeways, south on Beach Blvd. (Hwy. 39) to Ellis Ave., and west to the community.

Schirner Heads New PF Office

Pacific Fiance Loans has announced appointment of John A. Schirner as the manager of its new office at 5474 E. Del Amo Blvd.

Shirmer formerly was credit manager at the company's office at 1750 Long Beach Blvd.

"In placing a branch in this community our company has indicated an interest in the continuing growth and development of the Lakewood-Long Beach area," Schirner said.

He joined Pacific Finance in 1962 as field representative at the Long Beach-Los Altos branch.

TERRA CASA HOMES APPEALING

Quiet, Luxury at Moderate Price

Planned to provide luxury and privacy, yet in a convenient location, the homes of Terra Casa are finding a ready market, reports George E. Sanderson, sales agent.

Quiet suburban living is offered in the Placentia development and discriminating families are finding gracious living is the keynote in each home.

Designed in one or two-story structures with three, four or five bedrooms and up to three baths, the large Terra Casa homes are priced from only $26,900 with just $1,500 down.

Within walking distance of churches, shopping and all primary schools, the homes are only a mile from the new State College.

Balanced Power kitchens in all Terra Casa homes are equipped with built-in O'Keefe & Merritt gas ranges and ovens, automatic dishwashers, double sinks with disposers, formica counter tops, distinctive wood vent hoods.

Luxury features found throughout all homes include enclosed entry patios and atriums, double entry doors, brick or stone fireplaces with gas log lighters, thermostatically controlled gas forced-air heating systems, 100% continuous filament nylon carpeting, and extra large closets with abundant storage space.

All utilities in the project are underground.

Terra Casa is located on Palm Drive just west of Bradford in Placentia.

GAME ROOM INCLUDED
This Terra Casa home in Placentia has three bedrooms, three baths and a large game room on the second floor. This is one of the many stylings designed to provide luxury at a moderate price.

"There's so much to enjoy here–it's like living at a country club"

says Homeowner, Miss Francis Braddock

"Living in Sunshine Village is like belonging to a country club," said Miss Braddock, "There's so much to enjoy—and, what a marvelous buy I got on my new home."

Like so many Sunshine Villagers you'll find that this new carefree way of life makes real sense to busy people.

You can take a dip in the pool—play tennis—shuffleboard—basketball—or, if you prefer, laze around the Clubhouse chatting with new friends. Relax! There's no yard work, no maintenance, no lawns to mow—the Homeowners Association takes care of all that for you.

And here are the features that make it such a great value:

Magic Triangle Kitchen with the latest in modern built-ins—oven, range, disposer, automatic dishwasher and washer/dryer—plus a full complement of hand-rubbed walnut finish cabinets.

Wall-to-wall carpeting in a choice of 9 dramatic colors.

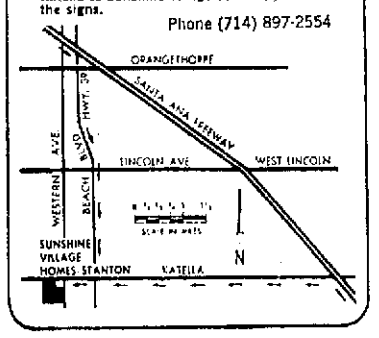

Pullman baths with decorative murals on tubs and showers.

A completely private patio.

Your own lockable double garage, with an extra room for storage.

Country club atmosphere, choice central location, convenience to schools and shopping, proximity to Knott's Berry Farm and Disneyland—all these are yours at a price that makes these new townhouse homes the finest buys in Stanton. Only $19,995. Come out for a look and a swim.

DRIVING DIRECTIONS:
Take Santa Ana Freeway. Take Beach Blvd. (Highway 39) South to Katella. Turn West on Katella to Sunshine Village Stanton, you'll see the signs.

Speed, beauty headline regatta

View facelifting plans:

Members of the Pilot Club take time out from planning the "Last Fling" Regatta to give their approval of plans for Marine Stadium's redecorating project. Pictured are Eva (Mrs. Mark) Miner, regatta chairman (L.), Miss Hope Case, club president; and Lorene (Mrs. Harold) Yett, governor of District 18, Pilot Club International.

High-powered speedboats . . . pretty girls . . . nationally known boat racers . . . and more pretty girls will star in the Pilot Club's "Last Fling" Regatta Labor Day in Marine Stadium.

Boat enthusiasts from 6 to 60 will begin gathering at 8 a.m. Monday for the qualifying time trials of the event which will include 10 heats (three winners each) involving more than 40 boats and racers.

Trophies will be presented to heat winners by three young beauties . . . Anita Driggs, Miss Pilot Regatta Queen; Barbara Henry, Miss Runabout; and Claudette Saathoff, Hiss Mydroplane.

National records are expected to be broken as the boats race toward the finish line at speeds in excess of 150 miles an hour.

Tony Maricich of San Pedro, new record holder of the SK racing runabout tangle, will be on hand to defend his title in "Suddenly." Another well-known racer, Roger Stull of Anaheim, will speed through the waterways in his E-racing runabout, "Scrambler."

A CAPACITY crowd is expected to attend the annual holiday event. The first race will get under way at 11 a.m. . . . the final heat scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

Competition will be conducted by the Southern California Speedboat Club, sometimes known as the "Club of Champions."

Highlight of the regatta will be the Le Mans Celebrity Cup Race with the eight fastest hydroplanes of the day competing for the title. Tom Fransen, Southern California television personality, will award the Celebrity Cup to the winner.

When the final heat of the regatta is completed, racing activities will end at Marine Stadium for several months and a $1,383,000 facelifting project will begin. (See detailed story in today's Southland Magazine).

According to Eva (Mrs. Mark) Miner, regatta chairman, proceeds from the event will aid a variety of charities, including (among others) Crippled Children's Society, Exceptional Children's Foundation and Community Rehabilitation Industry.

Tickets, on sale at the stadium gate, are $2 per person—children under 12 years of age are free.

ANITA DRIGGS, Miss Pilot Regatta, will present awards to winning speedboat racers during the "Last Fling" Regatta Monday. An aerial view of Marine Stadium provides a backdrop for the Long Beach State College beauty showing areas which will be affected by the $1,383,000 facelifting project to begin soon.

On the Inside

- Happiness of little Laurie Taylor (above) is result of labor of love by her parents, and of the staff at famed John Tracy Clinic of Los Angeles. For her story and why it is so important to Long Beach see page W-4.
- That today's women are an integral part of the American labor force is undisputable. You find them everywhere; doing all types of "man-sized" work. For story about woman with unusual and definitely driving job see story on Page W-3.

There are adjustments to be made

When women go to work---

By ELISE EMERY

Trim, meticulously groomed brunette Laura Tondreault is too attractive to be considered merely as a statistic.

But when she went to work a month ago as secretary to public relations director Ted Krec at Memorial Hospital she was added to the data tabulated by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Women are a major part of the nation's labor force. One worker out of three is a woman. More than 30 million women held paid jobs during 1963, according to Jean A. Wells, deputy chief of the economic status and opportunities division of the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

In any average month, more than 23 million women are at work, 17 million of them in full-time jobs.

Three out of five working women are married, and according to the Department of Labor, 8.8 million working mothers have children under 18 years of age. This compares with 4.6 million working mothers in 1950 and 1.5 million in 1940.

THE FORECAST is for 30 million women workers per month by 1970. Trends indicate that more than half the women 45 to 54 years of age and almost half of those 35 to 44 will be working at that time. About 30 years ago the average working woman was 28 and single; today she is 41 and the mother of two children.

All of which paints a picture of changing home conditions in this country—and indeed, in much of Europe. In Great Britain, France and Germany women make up one-third of the total labor force and in Denmark more than a third are women. In Belgium, Norway, Sweden, The Netherlands and Italy women account for one-fourth of the labor total.

If she is to successfully fulfill the challenges of three major roles — wife, mother and worker — a woman must appraise her situation realistically.

"THE NUMBER one problem of the working mother is child care," says George Toll, manager of the Long Beach office of California State Employment Service, 1352 Locust Ave.

This was Laura Tondreault's first consideration when she decided to return to work. With her husband, Leo, principal draughtsman in the city engineer's office; sons Philip, 19, Long Beach State College sophomore, and Timothy, 13; and daughter, Mary, 8, she lives at 5617 Lime Ave. The two younger children attend St. Athanasius School.

Speed, beauty headline regatta

View facelifting plans:

Members of the Pilot Club take time out from planning the "Last Fling" Regatta to give their approval of plans for Marine Stadium's redecorating project. Pictured are Eva (Mrs. Mark) Miner, regatta chairman (L.), Miss Hope Case, club president; and Lorene (Mrs. Harold) Yett, governor of District 18, Pilot Club International.

High-powered speedboats . . . pretty girls . . . nationally known boat racers . . . and more pretty girls will star in the Pilot Club's "Last Fling" Regatta Labor Day in Marine Stadium.

Boat enthusiasts from 6 to 60 will begin gathering at 8 a.m. Monday for the qualifying time trials of the event which will include 10 heats (three winners each) involving more than 40 boats and racers.

Trophies will be presented to heat winners by three young beauties . . . Anita Driggs, Miss Pilot Regatta Queen; Barbara Henry, Miss Runabout; and Claudette Saathoff, Hiss Mydroplane.

National records are expected to be broken as the boats race toward the finish line at speeds in excess of 150 miles an hour.

Tony Maricich of San Pedro, new record holder of the SK racing runabout tangle, will be on hand to defend his title in "Suddenly." Another well-known racer, Roger Stull of Anaheim, will speed through the waterways in his E-racing runabout, "Scrambler."

A CAPACITY crowd is expected to attend the annual holiday event. The first race will get under way at 11 a.m. . . . the final heat scheduled for 4:30 p.m.

Competition will be conducted by the Southern California Speedboat Club, sometimes known as the "Club of Champions."

Highlight of the regatta will be the Le Mans Celebrity Cup Race with the eight fastest hydroplanes of the day competing for the title. Tom Fransen, Southern California television personality, will award the Celebrity Cup to the winner.

When the final heat of the regatta is completed, racing activities will end at Marine Stadium for several months and a $1,383,000 facelifting project will begin. (See detailed story in today's Southland Magazine).

According to Eva (Mrs. Mark) Miner, regatta chairman, proceeds from the event will aid a variety of charities, including (among others) Crippled Children's Society, Exceptional Children's Foundation and Community Rehabilitation Industry.

Tickets, on sale at the stadium gate, are $2 per person—children under 12 years of age are free.

ANITA DRIGGS, Miss Pilot Regatta, will present awards to winning speedboat racers during the "Last Fling" Regatta Monday. An aerial view of Marine Stadium provides a backdrop for the Long Beach State College beauty showing areas which will be affected by the $1,383,000 facelifting project to begin soon.

On the Inside

- Happiness of little Laurie Taylor (above) is result of labor of love by her parents, and of the staff at famed John Tracy Clinic of Los Angeles. For her story and why it is so important to Long Beach see page W-1.
- That today's women are an integral part of the American labor force is undisputable. You find them everywhere; doing all types of "man-sized" work. For story about woman with unusual and definitely driving job see story on Page W-3.

There are adjustments to be made

When women go to work---

By ELISE EMERY

Trim, meticulously groomed brunette Laura Tondreault is too attractive to be considered merely as a statistic.

But when she went to work a month ago as secretary to public relations director Ted Krec at Memorial Hospital she was added to the data tabulated by the U.S. Department of Labor.

Women are a major part of the nation's labor force. One worker out of three is a woman. More than 30 million women held paid jobs during 1963, according to Jean A. Wells, deputy chief of the economic status and opportunities division of the Women's Bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor.

In any average month, more than 23 million women are at work, 17 million of them in full-time jobs.

Three out of five working women are married, and according to the Department of Labor, 8.8 million working mothers have children under 18 years of age. This compares with 4.6 million working mothers in 1950 and 1.5 million in 1940.

WILD WAVES SAY

The who, what, where and the why of things

By Iola Masterson
I, P-T Society Editor

SWISHY AFFAIR, yet blessed with the merriment of total informality, was the poolside and garden buffet given by Lucille and Jack Hamilton at their Park Estates home on La Perla. "It was a party just for a party's sake—just for the fun of it," said Lucille. She, Jack and a couple of guests are camera-caught in photo right during the night's gay "action."

Assisting were Lucille's cousin, Irene Trepani, and the Hamilton's son and daughter-in-law, John and Betty. A few in the tres gai throng of guests were Betsy and George Taubman, Elaine and Leo Malco, Bob and Irene Ziebarth, Chris and Florence Douglas, Marvin and Lucille Garvin, Lloyd and Evelyn Whaley, Dr. John and Millie McGill, Don and Bee Wilson and Wally and Lorraine Leininger.

YOU KNOW what? Elva Lawson is playing with a doll again. Nope, she isn't anywhere near being in her dotage—just doting. The doll is her granddaughter, Kim, 5-months old, here with her mama, Kate, from Alameda while Dow Lawson is on a business trip to Seattle. Kate and Kim are dividing their time between Elva and Dick's house and with Kate's parents, Davy and Mildred Crockett in Anaheim.

Grandpa Dick will miss part of the visit because he leaves Wednesday for a two or three-week flying business trip to cities all over the East Coast.

AS TAN as roasted coffee beans (the kind from the high country) are Dick and Verla Browning since their two weeks' worth of vacation at a chalet they share on the shores of Lake Arrowhead.

With them were son and daughter-in-law, Roger and Kathy, also daughter, Karen, and other son, Kent. Lots of guests helped keep the days agleam with talk and laughter. Of course, they had their powerful ski boat for skiing on the lake or cruising in the sun.

BON VOYAGE festivities, informal picnicky style and day-long party, will be on tap today in honor of Julius and Ella Linde. Hosting affair will be their daughters and sons-in-law, Lucille and Tom Crosby, Mil and Sam Cameron, Lois and Max Boyer, Betty and Sam Hoyt plus grandson and wife, Tom and Sharon Crosby.

The Lindes are all set to go on a 45-day vacation trip to Europe, sailing on the Rotterdam Sept. 13. Julius has waited 75 years to make this trip but then, shucks, look at all the daughters he had to stick around to keep an eye on.

The Hoyts and their five children, by the way, haven't been back long from a year and a half's living and traveling in Spain.

DIVIDED vacation trips to widely separated places, both with the pull of a gigantic magnet, are George and Bernice Cubbison's ways to go this year.

First half is over. They flew to Hawaii to visit son and daughter-in-law, Jim and Barbara. Jim is chief of the Staffing Validation Team, Federal Aviation Agency for the Hawaii area.

Now, in a couple of weeks (as soon as they are assured the leaves are in their fall glory) they'll take off for Norfolk, Va., to visit daughter and son-in-law, Janet and Cmdr. William Small. Bill is skipper of the attack squadron on USS Enterprise.

ALTHOUGH they made no attempt to keep it a secret, a lot of their friends still aren't aware that Claire Pillsbury and George Sterling were married last month.

They're living at his home on Nieto and with their combined family, her three and his four sons and daughters, it is as plain as Grand Central Station at rush hour that that house must be enlarged.

It used to take two cars to take the group out to dinner. George has solved that problem already. He bought a Cadillac limousine to accommodate all.

GETTING set to move again (it's an old Navy custom) are Capt. Fred and Betty Clarke, who are being transferred from Hawaii to Japan about Oct. 1. They live currently at Kailua, Oahu. Nephew, Reed Clarke, returned not long ago from vacation visit with them.

b●

FOUR DAYS, as vacations go, isn't long but Jerry and Nadine Horsefall and son, Greg, had a ball in that limited time on a camping trip to Lahaton Lake, Fallon, Nev. It was hot but they played it cool, in every sense of the word, by water skiing, swimming and fishing.

In the meantime, their daughter, Colette, has been in Mexico with grandparents, Gordon and Thelma Woodman of San Pedro. They planned to concentrate on out of the way places in Yucatan, visiting quaint off-shore islands.

PERFECT TIME FOR A PARTY . . . BALMY NIGHT IN LATE SUMMER . . . Toting a delicious (you better believe it) dip to the hors d'oeuvres table, Lucille Hamilton (left) pauses to chat with guests Lorraine Leininger, Rosemarie Dietz and her hosting husband, Jack Hamilton

Why such a short vacation for Nadine and Jerry? Well that's the way time off falls for the Horsefalls who grab a few days at a time throughout the year as work permits.

●

CATALINA is swarming with local boaters right now, many of whom I'll spot myself this weekend or will be hearing about in a day or two. For instance, Noreen and Fred Singer, with guests Virginia and Carl Healy, left Tuesday on the Singers' cruiser, Neenee Nono, to stay over the weekend.

●

THIS Labor Day weekend, Barbara and Don Davis deserted their San Francisco town house for a week-end here. Well, not quite here. They're in Catalina, too, with Ellie and Frank Person on the Persons' Ole.

THERE'S nothing like the end of summer (except Christmas) that inspires people to have parties. Long Beach Pharmacy Association got into the act with a husbands and wives poolside cocktail, buffet and swim fest at Cameron and Audrey Paschell's home out there on Cerritos Ave.

A few in the crowd, the gals in cool, comfortable muu muus and the men in relaxed sports attire, were Floyd and Sandy Savoie, Emmett and Madeline Dixon, Ed and Alice Wagner, Don and Chris Walters, Harry and Sue Brown and Don and June Salvatori.

The couple will reside in San Diego on their return from a wedding trip to Las Vegas.

Brown-Arnold

A reception in the Pacific Coast Club followed the Friday marriage of Susan Louise Arnold and Gary Gilbert Brown in Lakewood Village Community Church Chapel.

A white silk brocade gown with Watteau train was worn by the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buck Arnold, 2279 Albury Ave.

Lynn Arnold was her sister's attendant. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Brown, 3315 Knoxville Ave., asked Phil Snyder to be his best man.

USHERING the 100 guests to their places were Monty Arnold and Al Verdun.

The couple graduated from Millikan High School and attended Long Beach City College. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Long Beach State College.

After a wedding trip to Las Vegas, the newlyweds will reside in Avalon, Catalina, where the bridegroom is a physical education teacher.

Richardson-Corbin

Judge Robert Wenke officiated at Friday nuptials in Long Beach Elks Club Dome Room for Elizabeth Susan Corbin and Donald Walter Richardson.

More than 200 guests were on hand for the 7:30 p.m. ceremony and reception which followed in the club Toast Room.

The daughter of Mrs. Barney Corbin, 229 Quincy Ave., the bride was attired in a sheath gown of imported Alencon lace and silk alpaca styled with a bouffant skirt which extended into a chapel-length train.

A pillbox headpiece detailed with seed pearls caught her veil of silk illusion.

BRIDAL ATTENDANTS were Joy Fitzgerald, maid of honor; Mrs. Cherial Kramer and Mrs. William Thomas, bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Richardson, 5531 La Pasada, asked Richard Lindgren to stand as his best man. Ushers were Stanley Knight and John Hampton.

After a wedding trip to Jamaica, the Bahama Islands and Washington, D.C., the couple will be at home in Long Beach.

Poly Girls' League issues bids to annual orientation picnic

Girls' League of Poly High School has extended an invitation to all sophomore girls to its annual orientation picnic Wednesday.

A fashion show in the school auditorium will launch the 10:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. program. A tour will be made of the campus.

Girls planning to attend have been asked to take a sack lunch.

Each Thursday

A series of Thursday card parties has been scheduled in the Parish Hall of Holy Innocents Church.

Couples are married in formal ceremonies

Imbler-Bird

A princess style gown of chantilly lace and peau de soie, fashioned with a cathedral-length train, was worn by Kollette K. Bird when she recited nuptial vows Friday with Wolf R. Imbler.

Belmont Heights Church was setting for the 8 p.m. ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Doris N. Bird and Harold D. Bird, Long Beach. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Imbler of Long Beach.

Attending the bride were Virginia Wilson, maid of honor; Sandra Cook and Regine Imbler, bridesmaids.

* * * *

BEST MAN duties were performed by Donald E. Weifel. Ushers were Travis Brannen and Walte Kuhne.

Kimmy Foster was flower girl.

After a reception in the Garden Room, the newlyweds departed on a trip to Carmel.

They will be at home in Long Beach after Sept. 15.

Agan-Coffelt

June Winona Coffelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coffelt, 1446 Neptune Ave., and James Edmond Agan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Agan, 1647 Neptune Ave., Wilmington, married Saturday evening at Calvary Presbyterian Church.

Honor attendants for the couple were Janet Coffelt, sister of the bride, and Robert Trinkel, the bridegroom's cousin.

* * * *

The newlyweds graduated from Banning High School and Long Beach State College, where the bride affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta and the bridegroom with Acacia.

After a reception in the Garden Room, the newlyweds departed on a trip to Carmel.

They will be at home in Long Beach after Sept. 15.

Agan-Coffelt

June Winona Coffelt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Coffelt, 1446 Neptune Ave., and James Edmond Agan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Agan, 1647 Neptune Ave., Wilmington, married Saturday evening at Calvary Presbyterian Church.

Honor attendants for the couple were Janet Coffelt, sister of the bride, and Robert Trinkel, the bridegroom's cousin.

* * * *

The newlyweds graduated from Banning High School and Long Beach State College, where the bride affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta and the bridegroom with Acacia.

Running a bus is driving job . . . but this petite miss enjoys it

AT THE WHEEL . . . Mary remains unflustered, calm. A keen, but sympathetic observer of human nature, she notes, "Chivalry has not completely disappeared—men and teen-agers still offer seats to women and girls on a crowded bus."

By JEAN SANDERS

Who ever heard of a woman driver with an even disposition and extraordinary coordination, one who is not shattered by other motorists despite the fact she drives 150 miles every day?

No such person? Oh yes there is, and to top it off, pint-size Mary Denson operates a king size vehicle daily through the streets of Long Beach and Bellflower.

Mary, you see, is a driver for the Long Beach Transportation Company, and has been for going on to 15 years.

She likes the new uniforms which complement the new fleet of blue buses brought into the city two years ago. "I feel better in these than in the gray."

Getting used to the new buses took some doing, she admits. They're 40 feet long, five feet longer than the average bus, and they are 102 inches wide, half a foot wider than the old ones. For a person 5' 4" tall and weighing a slight 120 pounds, that's a lot of bus.

"Driving a bus isn't as easy as it looks," she concedes. "You've got to have good coordination. At first I thought I'd never learn to do all these things at once, but it comes automatically now."

She began her fairly unusual career by driving a school bus in Paramount. During the Korean War she applied for a driving job in Long Beach and was hired the same day. After a test and a required six weeks schooling, she was ready.

FOR YEARS Mary drove nights. Seniority has gradually given her a choice of work days and routes. She thinks her current run—out Seventh St., up Bellflower Blvd. into the City of Bellflower and back to downtown Long Beach—is one of the best.

Perhaps a maternal feeling wells up for customers on this route, for she says comfortingly, "You have to be so patient with the older people. You know—they can't see and hear too well sometimes. Then, some of them are women from out of town visiting patients at the VA Hospital and don't know the city. I enjoy helping them."

She dismisses all motorists, even those in the wee compacts who have an unintentional tendency to sneak up on a bus, with "I don't let them bother me."

Occasionally, when driving her own car from her home in Paramount to the bus barn on Cherry Ave., she finds herself pulling into a bus stop or coming to a dead stop at a railroad crossing, trains or no trains.

"Force of habit," she grins.

Days off for Mary are not a signal to jump in the car and go somewhere. Not after driving eight hours a day all week. She relaxes around the pool, tries to add a shade to her tan, catches up on housework.

Vacation time never finds her whipping along the highways or even the biways. She likes Las Vegas and San Francisco, and to get to either she flies.

BOARDING A BUS for work means being on job for red-haired Mary Denson. She's one of city's dozen feminine bus drivers—has been at it for 15 years. She likes job — and "the people of Long Beach." Says, "Treat the public like you want to be treated, and everything comes out all right.

Medical Auxiliary sets brunch date

Arrangements are being completed by Long Beach Auxiliary to Los Angeles County Medical Association for its annual membership brunch Friday.

In keeping with the theme, "Come Join the Bunch," decorations will feature clusters of grapes, leaves and flowers.

Setting for the 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. social, which will honor new members, will be the home of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hartstein, 4210 California Ave.

Members and guests will be greeted by Mmes. Arthur Evelev, president; Paul Smith, president-elect; Gilbert Lapid, vice president. Also on hand to receive arrivals will be county board members Mmes. Paul Travis, president; Henry Botzbach, president-elect; and Earl Thee.

* * * *

AN INVITATION has been extended to all wives of doctors holding or anticipating memberships in the county association.

Overall purpose of the auxiliary is to serve as a link between physician-husbands of members and the public.

Projects of the group include nursing scholarships and organization and staffing of Para-Medical clubs in area high schools.

Welfare committee of the auxiliary provides layettes, children's clothes and toys for distribution through the Long Beach Juvenile Bureau.

The membership also collects and donates drug supplies and samples to Long Beach Children's Clinic.

THE STORY THEY TELL...

About a little girl named Laurie

TOM TAYLOR watches as daughter, Laurie, takes time out for favorite game—throw the ball. Story of this little blonde pixie has particular significance in Long Beach this month.

Staff photos by Kent Henderson

By IOLA MASTERSON
I, P-T Society Editor

Her hazel eyes sparkling, blonde Laurie Taylor, 3, meets every exciting thing that happens in her young life with exuberant enthusiasm. She romps with her sisters, Julie, 5, Carrie, 23 months, and children of the neighborhood with no more supervision than most 3-year-olds. She loves learning new words and squeals with delight at those that tickle her funny bone.

All this despite the fact that Laurie is deaf. The miracle of this little girl, locked in a world of silence, is that she has been given the gift of communication and, with it, the ability to understand what is happening around her. This is the secret of her adjustment.

Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 3928 Lemon Ave., and when it became evident to the Taylors that she was deaf they made arrangements to enroll her and themselves in the famous John Tracy Clinic in Los Angeles, founded by Mrs. Spencer Tracy.

THEIR STORY is especially important right now because a branch of the Tracy Clinic will open soon in Long Beach. Details are provided in the accompanying story, below.

Laurie's deafness was the result of meningitis, incurred when she was just two days old. Deafness is one of many physical impairments the disease can cause but, until she was a little over a year old, her parents couldn't be sure—although they were suspicious—that she was deaf. The reason, her dad explained, is that most deaf babies, in compensating for their deafness, are extra alert. They are constantly on the lookout and they are more aware of vibrations than hearing children.

THEY "FEEL" footsteps, doors being opened, the hum of machinery and, because of this, they appear to be hearing.

The John Tracy Clinic is unique in that both children and parents are simultaneously taught. Also, parents attend additional classes to learn fundamentals of teaching and receive psychological training so that they understand the basic principle; deaf children are, first of all, normal children, and secondly they are deaf.

Parents must teach their child through every waking hour, not just in class. They must talk constantly to them at every opportunity.

I watched Madalyn and Tom Taylor communicate with Laurie and this, simplified, is the way they do it:

They always talk to her at eye level. Laurie has been taught to place her hand alongside her mother's or dad's cheek to feel the vibration as she watches the formation of a word. How does she know what the word is and learn how to lip read?

EVERY NEW word is demonstrated at the same time it is spoken. This is done with an object, like a toy dog, or by action, like opening a door or throwing a ball.

It took Laurie nine months to learn her first word (ball), only two weeks to learn her second word (open) and within days she added the third (airplane) to her vocabulary.

Laurie, who was enrolled at the clinic in April of last year, is now so well advanced in speech she is in nursery school. When the time comes, she will be ready to attend public school in classes geared to her needs.

Said Tom, "Praise must accompany all instruction because without it constant correction can become too frustrating." Another important teaching technique is that the parent must not be doing anything distracting while teaching, such as smoking or chewing gum.

BY 5, MOST children have learned 90% of their lifelong vocabulary. So the Tracy Clinic urges that parents enroll deaf children in babyhood. When training is started early, frustrations of being deaf are nipped in the bud.

Tom Taylor, an estimator for a Long Beach construction firm, is a dedicated man who spends hours of his leisure time in work for the clinic. He is president of the Parents' Auxiliary to the clinic for all of Southern California. Parents meet once a month to compare experiences, hear speakers well versed in newest medical advances and newest equipment. The auxiliary members do maintenance work in the clinic and raise funds to assist the non-profit organization which charges no fee for enrollment of students.

For the Taylors their work is a labor of love. Their inspiration to help others is bubbly, lovely little Laurie.

LEARNING IS A GAME AND JOYOUS EXPERIENCE
... Laurie and mother, Madalyn, practice with words

Famed clinic to open here

Parents of profoundly deaf and hard of hearing children in this area have cause to rejoice. A branch of the famous John Tracy Clinic for the preschool deaf and hard of hearing children and their parents will be established in Long Beach at 1440 Pacific Ave. It will be the first branch ever founded by the parent unit in Los Angeles and will be sponsored by Children's Benefit League of Long Beach.

Open house at the Pacific Avenue facility will take place from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Thursday and is open to the public. Mrs. Spencer Tracy, founder, will be present with city officials and members of CBL in the morning.

The school will be operated for children from infancy to 6-years-old. Classes, which begin Sept. 13, are free, but only a limited number of students can be accepted. Inquiries are invited at the open house or by mail or phone call to Tracy Clinic, 1440 Pacific Ave.

Hand has points in play

The hands in Edgar Kaplan's fine book, "Winning Contract Bridge Complete," are likely to illustrate several points in bidding and play.

Thus Edgar does not approve at all of South's bid of four hearts. He points out that North's three no-trump bid guarantees stoppers in all suits and that South should let his partner play the hand where he is sure to make at least one overtrick.

West decides on a desperate queen of spades opening and right away South wishes he had passed at three no-trump. Wishes are worthless and he has to play the hand out. He sees no reason not to rise with dummy's king, whereupon East takes his ace and leads a second spade.

* * * *

EVERYONE follows and now East can actually defeat the contract. He must start by cashing his ace of clubs and continue by leading a third spade. This will give South a choice of losing plays. If South ruffs high, West will eventually collect a trick with the jack of trumps. If South ruffs with the 10, West will make his jack of trumps right away.

Why must East take his ace of clubs before leading out the third spade? The reason is that if he doesn't take it he won't get it. South has a seven of clubs that he is going to have to lose sometime or other. "Eventually, why not now?" South discards his losing club on East's good spade. East can play a third spade or anything else that strikes his fancy but he is not going to beat the hand because dummy now is also able to ruff spades and there will be no way for West to make his jack.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD

Home ruled by brutality

---such a man doesn't deserve a family

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

How much should a wife and children take in order to keep a home together?

I've been married 14 years, and if I stay until the children are through school, it will mean another 10 years at least.

My husband cusses me and the children. He hits us, too. The children get terribly upset when he strikes me and the oldest refuses to call him "father" any more. He is also quite a drinker which doesn't help matters.

Do you suppose the children and I are too much for him? Friends and relatives tell me to leave before something terrible happens but I have no job and no money. I'm not sure I could provide a home and food for my kids.

Is this something I must endure for the next 10 years or would it be better to make a break now — better for the children, I mean? L.M.

DEAR L.M.:

I can't see why any wife should put up with a man who mistreats his family as yours does. I'm sure the courts would give you separate maintenance and make him pay support for the children.

If a talk with a family counselor doesn't better conditions, I believe the children would be better off away from their father. M.M.

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

For two years I've been going with a guy who is kind, respectable and considerate. He has no bad habits and I enjoy being with him. He's a real lover.

But he's the original Alibi Ike—always has an excuse when he needs one. Sometimes they don't make sense but it's an excuse! He's a little on the smart-alecky side, too, but I do believe he loves me.

The other day he said if I loved him, I'd "prove it." I was shocked and confused but I did "prove" my love. It didn't make the slightest difference in our feelings for each other but I'm sure I did the wrong thing.

What should I have done? And, what should I do now? We are both 17. IN LOVE

DEAR IN LOVE:

You're kidding yourself. A respectable and considerate boy wouldn't have asked you to "prove" your love.

You are trying to see in this boy all the things you want in a boy friend, and he just doesn't have it. On one hand, you build him up while, on the other, you list his bad habits.

Need I say, "You shouldn't have done it?" Need I say, "Don't let it happen again?" I don't think so. Deep down, you know the answers. N.M.

* * * *

DEAR MRS. MAYFIELD:

Johnny and I went together for two years. I really loved the guy and when he dropped me, I thought it was the end of the world.

Then Paul fell in love with me. He kept coming around for months but I was cool and indifferent, always pining for the love I had lost.

Finally, he'd had enough and now he's gone. Too late, I realize what his love meant and that I loved him even though I couldn't see it until he left me. If I hadn't been so blind we would be together but he's very cool now. I hurt him but I hurt myself more.

Am I doomed to spend my life losing the men I love? DIANE

DEAR DIANE:

You will have to stop brooding for lost loves and live for today. A little self-pity goes a long way, and after a while that shoulder to cry on becomes a bit soggy.

If it is impossible to make up to Paul for the hurt you caused, forget it but don't burden your next boy friend with your problems. M.M.

THE STORY THEY TELL...

About a little girl named Laurie

TOM TAYLOR watches as daughter, Laurie, takes time out for favorite game—throw the ball. Story of this little blonde pixie has particular significance in Long Beach this month.

Staff photos by Kent Henderson

By IOLA MASTERSON
L. P-T Society Editor

Her hazel eyes sparkling, blonde Laurie Taylor, 3, meets every exciting thing that happens in her young life with exuberant enthusiasm. She romps with her sisters, Julie, 5, Carrie, 23 months, and children of the neighborhood with no more supervision than most 3-year-olds. She loves learning new words and squeals with delight at those that tickle her funny bone.

All this despite the fact that Laurie is deaf. The miracle of this little girl, locked in a world of silence, is that she has been given the gift of communication and, with it, the ability to understand what is happening around her. This is the secret of her adjustment.

Laurie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Taylor, 3928 Lemon Ave., and when it became evident to the Taylors that she was deaf they made arrangements to enroll her and themselves in the famous John Tracy Clinic in Los Angeles, founded by Mrs. Spencer Tracy.

THEIR STORY is especially important right now because a branch of the Tracy Clinic will open soon in Long Beach. Details are provided in the accompanying story, below.

Laurie's deafness was the result of meningitis, incurred when she was just two days old. Deafness is one of many physical impairments the disease can cause but, until she was a little over a year old, her parents couldn't be sure—although they were suspicious—that she was deaf. The reason, her dad explained, is that most deaf babies, in compensating for their deafness, are extra alert. They are constantly on the lookout and they are more aware of vibrations than hearing children.

THEY "FEEL" footsteps, doors being opened, the hum of machinery and, because of this, they appear to be hearing.

The John Tracy Clinic is unique in that both children and parents are simultaneously taught. Also, parents attend additional classes to learn fundamentals of teaching and receive psychological training so that they understand the basic principle; deaf children are, first of all, normal children, and secondly they are deaf.

Parents must teach their child through every waking hour, not just in class. They must talk constantly to them at every opportunity.

I watched Madalyn and Tom Taylor communicate with Laurie and this, simplified, is the way they do it:

They always talk to her at eye level. Laurie has been taught to place her hand alongside her mother's or dad's cheek to feel the vibration as she watches the formation of a word. How does she know what the word is and learn how to lip read?

EVERY NEW word is demonstrated at the same time it is spoken. This is done with an object, like a toy dog, or by action, like opening a door or throwing a ball.

It took Laurie nine months to learn her first word (ball), only two weeks to learn her second word (open) and within days she added the third (airplane) to her vocabulary.

Laurie, who was enrolled at the clinic in April of last year, is now so well advanced in speech she is in nursery school. When the time comes, she will be ready to attend public school in classes geared to her needs.

Said Tom, "Praise must accompany all instruction because without it constant correction can become too frustrating." Another important teaching technique is that the parent must not be doing anything distracting while teaching, such as smoking or chewing gum.

BY 5, MOST children have learned 90% of their lifelong vocabulary. So the Tracy Clinic urges that parents enroll deaf children in babyhood. When training is started early, frustrations of being deaf are nipped in the bud.

Tom Taylor, an estimator for a Long Beach construction firm, is a dedicated man who spends hours of his leisure time in work for the clinic. He is president of the Parents' Auxiliary to the clinic for all of Southern California. Parents meet once a month to compare experiences, hear speakers well versed in newest medical advances and newest equipment. The auxiliary members do maintenance work in the clinic and raise funds to assist the non-profit organization which charges no fee for enrollment of students.

For the Taylors their work is a labor of love. Their inspiration to help others is bubbly, lovely little Laurie.

LEARNING IS A GAME AND JOYOUS EXPERIENCE

Iran exhibit is lavish and splendid

By VIRGINIA LADDEY

A many-splendored exhibit is "7,000 Years of Iranian Art". The series of civilizations, built one on top of the other, go back to prehistory. Continuing at Los Angeles County Museum of Art, 5905 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, through Sept. 26, the collection of more than 700 objects is on view from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Monday, and on Tuesday and Friday until 10 p.m. There is an admission fee of $1 for adults and 25 cents for children.

Much has been made of the fabulous gold and silver objects, particularly the great Hasanlu Gold Bowl of the 9th century B.C. The superb metalworking skills of the nomadic horseman of this area can be found in the Luristan bronzes of the 8th and 7th centuries B.C. These small objects, usually of opposing animal figures, were made for bits, bridles, and other equine equippage.

* * * *

THE EARLIEST works, as in most cultures, are ceramic, pointed vessels (for setting in the sand) with geometric painted designs. Unlike analagous pieces from ancient China, Crete and the Americas, the painting is of sinuous delicacy. The curved horns of the ibex appear early, in the fourth millenium B.C. There is sepculation that the elegant curve of these horns followed through in the decorative devices of succeeding cultures to provide the curving vine forms of the iconoclastic art of the Moslems.

* * * *

ANIMAL FORMS, life-like as well as conventionalized, tigers, lions, horses, and oxen appear in metal working as well as in ceramic pieces. The level of skill and observation is very high. The vivid depiction of the king at the hunt is a recurring theme.

As the exhibit comes to the historic period, there are more elegant objects. Every woman's eye must be caught by the gold net mitt which is held by two finger rings and a bracelet. Gold, carnelian, and "Egyptian paste" are fashioned into wondrous earrings, necklaces, bracelets. Forks and spoons date from this period. Beautiful glass bowls from the Parthian period (1st to 3rd centuries A.D.) have gold and colors in their decoration.

* * * *

AFTER THE 13th century, the influence is Moslem, that of the Seljuk Turks with Damascene (bronze inlaid with copper, silver, and pewter) lustre-glazed pottery, and the handsome white bowls with bold blue.

There are, as well, sumptuous tapestries, pages from the Koran in Kufic characters, exquisite miniature painting, and astounding 19th century oil portraits of dancing girls.

This exhibit is of tremendous historic interest as well as artistic, breathing as it does of dynamic warrior cultures and softer Middle Eastern mysteries.

When Maj. Wallace C. Marley was stationed in Korea with the Public Affairs Office of the Department of Defense, he put his professional skill as a photographer to work filming the people of this ancient Land of the Morning Calm.

Earlier, he had soundly established his reputation as a photographer with his renowned series on the Mexican muralist, Diego Rivera.

"The Character of Korea," an exhibit of 55 black and white prints, opens today at Long Beach Museum of Art, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd., with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. It will be on view through Sept. 26.

A creation of the American-Korean Foundation, an organization to aid refugees and orphans of the Korean War, the exhibit is intended to strgenthen cultural bonds between people of the two countries.

During September, the museum's downstairs galleries will be closed for remodeling but the upstairs galleries, sales desk, art rental gallery and other facilities will be open.

Museum hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays, 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, closed Mondays. Special hours Thursday, Admission Day, will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

PALOS VERDES Community Arts Association will ponsor two exhibits at Palos Verdes Library Art Gallery this month.

Opening today and continuing through Sept. 15 will be a display of work by students—adults and children—who are taking part in the association's workshops. Media include drawing, painting, papier mache, sculpture, ceramics and stitchery.

From Sept. 19 through Oct. 1, the 19th annual exhibition by South Bay Camera Club will be on view.

Refreshments will be served on both opening days. Hours are 3 to 5 p.m. Sundays and 1 to 4 p.m. weekdays.

"THE WORLD of William Spratling" is the current show at Otis Art Institute, 2401 Wilshire Blvd. It may be seen through Sept. 14.

Spratling was an archaeologist, collector, author, columnist, illustrator and silversmith who began as an architect and in 1922 was assistant professor at Tulane University in New Orleans.

His interest in colonial architecture took him to Mexico in 1925 and he went to Taxco two years before the National Highway reached the little town. Back in New Orleans, he published "Sherwood Anderson and Other Creoles (1926) with William Faulkner and in 1927 brought out "Old Plantation Houses in Louisiana." Both volumes were illustrated with his drawings.

In 1928, he returned to Mexico to lecture at the National University and in 1930 assembled a small group of silversmiths in Taxco, providing them with designs and standards that have made his name famous. He is credited with creating the silver industry of Taxco and at one time had 400 workers under his direction.

The Otis exhibit includes pre - Columbian, primitive African, Northwest Coast and New Guinea sculpture, Chinese objects, handcrafted silver, sketches for designs, drawings and lithographs by Spartling, Diego Rivera, Covarrubias and Siqueiros.

HOLLYWOOD Bowl Art Mart—an outdoor gallery established to give unknown artists an opportunity to display their work—will display more than 200 oil and watercolor paintings by Southland artists today, Sept. 19 and 26 and Sundays through October.

Sponsored by Hollywood Bowl Association and Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation, the exhibits will take place in Peppertree Lane from 10 a.m. to dusk. Admission and parking will be free and all paintings will be for sale.

DR. RICHARD Ettinghausen, head curator of Near Eastern art at the Freer Gallery and editor of Ars Islamica, will give an illustrated slide lecture Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in Leo S. Bing Theater, Los Angees County Museum of Art. Scheduled in conjunction with the current show, "7,000 Years of Iranian Art," the lecture will be on "Iranian Art in the Islamic Period: Tradition and Change."

Dr. Ettinghausen organized the Iranian exhibition on behalf of the State Department and the Smithsonian Institution. He selected objects from the National Museum in Tehran and wrote the Islamic section of the extensive catalog.

Tickets for the lecture—$1 for members, $2 for nonmembers—are available at the information desk in the Ahmanson Gallery and will be for sale at the box office Tuesday evening.

Soul for sale?

In scene from "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" Matt Bond (left) as shy reporter is about to sell his soul to win Hollywood queen Rita Marlowe (Linda Hummel) without objection from cynical playwright Mike Freeman (Ron Bradford). Comedy will play Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Ports of Call Players' tent theater, San Pedro. Production concludes the company's summer series.

Comedy to open Friday

"The Captain's Paradise," by Alec Coppel, will open Friday at Long Beach Community Playhouse, 5021 E. Anaheim St., with John Williams as guest director.

The comedy concerns an adventurous sea captain who lives a double life. On the Gibraltar coast he has a dutiful and domestic wife, who seems content to prepare his favorite meals and bow to his wishes when he comes into port. On the Ivory Coast he has a wife who greets him with champagne, gaiety and passion, with whom he periodically has a period of high life.

The wives become weary of the sameness of their existence. The domestic wife would like to kick up her heels now and then, and the gay wife would welcome some quiet domestic life.

* * * *

EVENTUALLY the wives discover they have the same husband and each seeks revenge.

The comedy, with a cast of 11, will be presented Saturday night, then on Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays through Oct. 23.

Women workers fill three roles

are older a mother has more time. I think she should keep active and going to work is the best way, providing — and this is the major factor — her working doesn't injure the family in any way."

LAURA'S working hours are 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The children leave for school at 7:30 a.m. and are out at 3:15 p.m. A neighbor supervises them until Laura returns. Grandparents who live in Leisure World are ready to come in in case of illness.

"The children carry a fair share of the work load—the whole family works as a unit. I post a daily schedule on the bulletin board. Everything is there in black and white so the youngsters can't say 'you didn't tell me to do it.' They're good about picking up their things and my husband is meticulously neat."

After meals each person rinses his dishes and puts them in the dishwasher. Laura cleans on Saturdays and does her own laundry—including ironing 27 shirts a week.

"Everything—and I mean everything — I buy is drip dry. It makes a lot of difference with the laundry."

Laura takes a practical attitude toward adjustments that she has to make.

"I REALIZE it's necessary to overlook some things, to put first things first. I can't fret because the kitchen needs mopping. It just has to wait until Saturday.

"The main thing is to get organized at home. I could not work without my family's complete cooperation. I had to give up some outside interests but if you take on too much you can't do three big jobs. If you come to work exhausted, your work suffers; if you scream at the children, that's no good."

Many women, returning to work, or working for the first time find it necessary to take special training or brush-up courses.

For many years, Laura was a medical secretary and office nurse in the Long Beach area. Then for 12 years she was out of an office. However, she kept up her typing skill and business techniques as a volunteer with the Catholic Welfare Board, United Way, Red Cross and as senior sponsor for Chi Rho, youth group at St. Athansius.

The principal rewards of working again, she says, are monetary and the mental stimulus the job provides.

A DIFFERENT view of working women's problems is provided by Edna Myers, employment consultant with the Bureau of Public Assistance, 1917 Long Beach Blvd. She works closely with Jean Ford, placement supervisor at California State Employment Service.

Their goal is to help women receiving public assistance to become self-emporting.

"We don't ask a mother to work until the youngest child can go to a child care center—usually when he is about 2½ years old—and until we know that the child is happily adjusted there," says Mrs. Myers.

If, after the child care problem is satisfactorily solved, the mother refuses to work or take job training, aid may be discontinued but each case closed must be carefully documented. In July, 63 persons (both men and women) who had been receiving aid from the Long Beach Bureau of Public Assistance District were placed in jobs and 25 cases were closed for refusing jobs. This represents a saving of $21,171.72 to the taxpayers.

UNLIKE the woman who is motivated to return to work for personal or family advantages, many BPA recipients are actively reluctant.

"For some, welfare is a way of life—there are third generation families on aid at this office. Aid is all they know and they're afraid to try anything else," Mrs. Myers points out.

But there is ample help at hand for the mother on assistance who enters the working world. In addition to her aid to needy children check she receives child care and transportation allowances and $25 personal allowance while she is on job training.

"This is for clothes, getting her hair done and—first of all, usually, a girdle," says Mrs. Myers.

Women may be trained in 45 categories ranging from accounting clerk to welder, depending on aptitude and interest.

"OUR FIRST job is to help the girls feel at home," explains Miss Ford. "Many are so scared they would never get past an employer's door. We teach them how to dress and speak and act so they can hold a job. If they need schooling we help them get their high school diplomas. We train them to be efficient workers.

"There's a sort of group therapy about it, too. When one girl is placed the others ask, 'Why can't I get a job?'

"It's 99% psychological," adds Toll. Most of them think they can't get a job. When they find out what it's all about they want to work, they regain their dignity and self respect."

"It's like a miracle," Mrs. Myers believes. "After the first couple of weeks in training their personalities change, their appearance picks up, they regain their pride."

SHE IS DELIGHTED by a recent letter from a woman who resisted working until BPA forced her to train for a job. She has been working for a year now and wrote, "Why don't you make those people get off relief? My taxes are too high!"

"No one else has as punitive an attitude toward aid recipients as the mother who was once on welfare," Mrs. Myers says.

Whether in the professions, skilled or semi-skilled labor force, one thing is certain — women are flocking back to work and there's no limit to the horizons they see.

Sellers in Thurber story opens series

Peter Sellers gets help from the late James Thurber when he matches wits with a lady efficiency expert in "The Battle of the Sexes" at Long Beach State College's Little Theater next Sunday, Sept. 12.

The movie, first of six imports for the fall series of Long Beach Film Society, will be shown at 5 and 7:30 p.m. A short film will precede the main feature.

* * * *

FEATURED with Sellers in the script based on Thurber's short story, "The Catbird Seat," (a baseball term meaning sitting pretty), are Constance Cummings and Robert Morely. The plot concerns the fight of a Mrs. Barrows to modernize an old, established Scottish firm of tweed manufacturers by applying new methods and psychology. Sellers, chief accountant with the firm for 35 years, decides that she, like a bad entry, must be rubbed out.

* * * *

OTHER FILMS on the fall series will be "The Virgin Spring," (Sweden), Sept. 26; "The Suitor," (France), Oct. 17; "Joan of the Angels," (Poland), Nov. 1; "Hand in the Trap," (Argentina) Nov. 21; and "Mafioso." (Italy) Nov. 28.

Series subscriptions are $5 and may be purchased at the box office on opening night. Single admission tickets are $1.25. For brochures and additional information write to Film Society, P.O. Box 8091, Long Beach 90808.

Iran exhibit is lavish and splendid

By VIRGINIA LADDEY

A many-splendored exhibit is "7,000 Years of Iranian Art". The series of civilizations, built one on top of the other, go back to prehistory. Continuing at Los Angeles County Museum of Art, 5905 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, through Sept. 26, the collection of more than 700 objects is on view from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily, except Monday, and on Tuesday and Friday until 10 p.m. There is an admission fee of $1 for adults and 25 cents for children.

Much has been made of the fabulous gold and silver objects, particularly the great Hasanlu Gold Bowl of the 9th century B.C. The superb metalworking skills of the nomadic horseman of this area can be found in the Luristan bronzes of the 8th and 7th centuries B.C. These small objects, usually of opposing animal figures, were made for bits, bridles, and other equine equippage.

* * * *

THE EARLIEST works, as in most cultures, are ceramic, pointed vessels (for setting in the sand) with geometric painted designs. Unlike analagous pieces from ancient China, Crete and the Americas, the painting is of sinuous delicacy. The curved horns of the ibex appear early, in the fourth millenium B.C. There is sepculation that the elegant curve of these horns followed through in the decorative devices of succeeding cultures to provide the curving vine forms of the iconoclastic art of the Moslems.

* * * *

ANIMAL FORMS, life-like as well as conventionalized, tigers, lions, horses, and oxen appear in metal working as well as in ceramic pieces. The level of skill and observation is very high. The vivid depiction of the king at the hunt is a recurring theme.

As the exhibit comes to the historic period, there are more elegant objects. Every woman's eye must be caught by the gold net mitt which is held by two finger rings and a bracelet. Gold, carnelian, and "Egyptian paste" are fashioned into wondrous earrings, necklaces, bracelets. Forks and spoons date from this period. Beautiful glass bowls from the Parthian period (1st to 3rd centuries A.D.) have gold and colors in their decoration.

* * * *

AFTER THE 13th century, the influence is Moslem, that of the Seljuk Turks with Damascene (bronze inlaid with copper, silver, and pewter) lustre-glazed pottery, and the handsome white bowls with bold blue.

There are, as well, sumptuous tapestries, pages from the Koran in Kufic characters, exquisite miniature painting, and astounding 19th century oil portraits of dancing girls.

This exhibit is of tremendous historic interest as well as artistic, breathing as it does of dynamic warrior cultures and softer Middle Eastern mysteries.

When Maj. Wallace C. Marley was stationed in Korea with the Public Affairs Office of the Department of Defense, he put his professional skill as a photographer to work filming the people of this ancient Land of the Morning Calm.

Earlier, he had soundly established his reputation as a photographer with his renowned series on the Mexican muralist, Diego Rivera.

"The Character of Korea," an exhibit of 55 black and white prints, opens today at Long Beach Museum of Art, 2300 E. Ocean Blvd., with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. It will be on view through Sept. 26.

A creation of the American-Korean Foundation, an organization to aid refugees and orphans of the Korean War, the exhibit is intended to strgenthen cultural bonds between people of the two countries.

During September, the museum's downstairs galleries will be closed for remodeling but the upstairs galleries, sales desk, art rental gallery and other facilities will be open.

Museum hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays through Fridays, 1 to 5 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays, closed Mondays. Special hours Thursday, Admission Day, will be from 1 to 5 p.m.

PALOS VERDES Community Arts Association will ponsor two exhibits at Palos Verdes Library Art Gallery this month.

Opening today and continuing through Sept. 15 will be a display of work by students—adults and children—who are taking part in the association's workshops. Media include drawing, painting, papier mache, sculpture, ceramics and stitchery.

From Sept. 19 through Oct. 1, the 19th annual exhibition by South Bay Camera Club will be on view.

Refreshments will be served on both opening days. Hours are 3 to 5 p.m. Sundays and 1 to 4 p.m. weekdays.

"THE WORLD of William Spratling" is .the current show at Otis Art Institute, 2401 Wilshire Blvd. It may be seen through Sept. 14.

Spratling was an archaeologist, collector, author, columnist, illustrator and silversmith who began as an architect and in 1922 was assistant professor at Tulane University in New Orleans.

His interest in colonial architecture took him to Mexico in 1925 and he went to Taxco two years before the National Highway reached the little town. Back in New Orleans, he published "Sherwood Anderson and Other Creoles (1926) with William Faulkner and in 1927 brought out "Old Plantation Houses in Louisiana." Both volumes were illustrated with his drawings.

In 1928, he returned to Mexico to lecture at the National University and in 1930 assembled a small group of silversmiths in Taxco, providing them with designs and standards that have made his name famous. He is credited with creating the silver industry of Taxco and at one time had 400 workers under his direction.

The Otis exhibit includes pre - Columbian, primitive African, Northwest Coast and New Guinea sculpture, Chinese objects, handcrafted silver, sketches for designs, drawings and lithographs by Spartling, Diego Rivera, Covarrubias and Siqueiros.

OBSERVATIONS OF TWO LONG BEACH TRAVELERS

Not all in Russia is 'greatestinworldski'

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Travel Editor

Would you like to visit Russia on your vacation?

Harry Frishman, director of publications of the Long Beach Unified School District, and his wife, Juanita, wanted to — and did. They'd like to go back but not for six or eight years, and then through curiosity, to see what changes may or may not have taken place in the land referred to by Winston Churchill as "a riddle wrapped up in a mystery inside an enigma."

"But one thing is certain," says Frishman, "if you go with an objective mind, as we did, you will be reassured that no system in the world by which man lives can compare with freedom. We are more appreciative of America for having gone."

The Frishmans traveled over a rather wide area of Russia, including visits to more than a score of cities. Here are some of their experiences and observations, and their reactions.

* * * *

THE ONE THING that Russia has to offer the U.S. is friendship. To win that goal, we must impress the leaders of the Communist dictatorship of our strength.

"It would be folly to look to the Russian people for what we want and need most from their country. The people, outside of the aristocracy of communism, know little or nothing of what's going on outside the U.S.S.R. because they are permitted to read nothing but party propaganda. They have less to say about how their government operates, and yet they appear to be content with their lot. After all, they had even less under the old czarist regime.

Travelers find the Soviet common people friendly, especially in the larger cities. In the villages and rural districts they are suspicious of foreigners, and less sophisticated than their urban cousins. In these village areas, two out of three houses are log cabins.

"You don't get the idea that these people will revolt. You'll probably get the opposite reaction."

The masses have a low standard of living compared with the U. S. The average worker makes roughly $125 a month and, although his rent is cheap (4% to 7% of his salary) and he gets free medical care, there are definite food shortages and available clothing is of inferior quality. Most of all, he gets a continuous diet of propaganda. Even tourists are not permited to bring a newspaper or a book into the country that isn't propaganda, nor can they buy a a paper or bonk that isn't propaganda.

* * * *

"SOME THINK of Russians as a super race. There is a handful of people who can do wonderful things.

"Take the Palace of Congresses (see photo), built inside the Kremlin wall by Khrushchev — some say as a monument to himself. It is magnificient, but two blocks away are other recently completed structures with nets over the sidewalks to protect pedestrians from bricks which are falling from the already crumbling walls.

"Three words tourists hear most often are 'greatestintheworldski,' 'firstintheworldski' and biggestintheworldski.' "

"For example, the Russians claim that one of them, and not Edison, invented the electric light. They still must be using his system. Moscow is so dimly lighted that you need a miner's cap to get around at night."

* * * *

THE IDEA some Americans have that all Russians are studying English is a hoax. Very few people — "a few thousand" said one English-speaking Russian professor — can speak our language fluently. And this creates a language barrier more often than not.

"You have to go through a charade to get a towel, and it's best to write down the number of your room when picking up your room key."

Allowing for foods Americans are accustomed to, Frishman still rates meals in first class hotels as "average-minus." Food in the stores is expensive. Fresh vegetables, fruits and fresh meats are in very sparse supply.

Although the situation could change with the wind, tourists now can travel freely within the areas to which foreigners are limited. All are warned not to take pictures of airports, railroads, factories, subways, military personnel or installations, and bridges.

* * * *

VISITORS may not bring in, or take out, rubles, the Russian standard of currency. You buy them at the border for $1.11, and the Russians buy back what you have left when you leave at $1.11. You are not permitted to take a single ruble out with you.

Coming and going across the border calls for statements of money, travelers checks and all other valuable belongings you have with you.

"Treatment by customs and other officials varies from average to good."

Getting around in Russia is comparatively easy, inasmuch as Intourist, the one and only Soviet travel organization, has you in tow most of the time. Through Intourist your hotel is even selected for you, and the kind of hotel you get depends on whether you are traveling deluxe, first class or tourist. The Frishmans traveled first class. The cost was around $25 a day each for hotel, three meals, the tours, and transportation.

But sightseeing is rewarding, particularly in Moscow. The Kremlin and Moscow's Red Square are musts, but only a starter. There are the Moscow University, Lenin Stadium, the Soviet Union's largest department store, Gum, and many other sights of interest to the Westerner. And one should not miss the spacious and lavishly decorated Moscow subway, called "Metro."

Shopping is disappointing because merchandise is invariably shoddy and at the same time expensive. The exceptions are vodka and caviar.

Just recently, government-owned "foreign stores" were opened to visitors because tourists were not spending their money on the inferior goods in the regular stores. In these establishments, only foreign money is accepted. Savings over regular store prices are 30% to 50%.

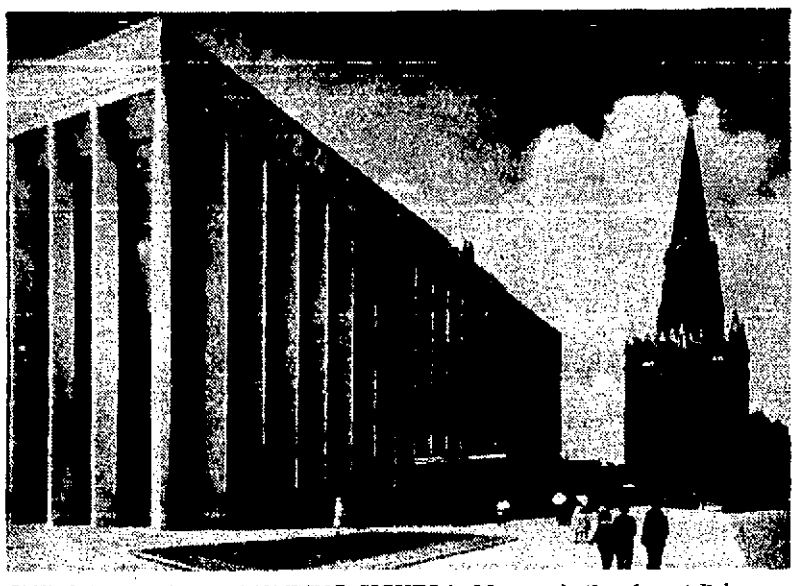

* * * *

EVEN the Soviet guides eye Americans with distrust when told the facts about the U.S. and its economy. One of them confided to Frishman that he had heard American school teachers receive $600 a month and asked if this were true.

"Not true. Beginning teachers get $600 in my home town. Experienced teachers get much more."

The guide stared at him in utter disbelief.

The average Russian teacher gets $150 to $175 a month.

ONE OF MANY OUTSTANDING SIGHTS in Moscow is the elegant Palace of Congresses, built inside the Kremlin Wall by Khrushchev—some say as a monument to himself. National meetings often are held in this theater hall.

PATA to hold board meeting

Committee activities and marketing programs of the Pacific Area Travel Association will be explained at a meeting of its members at 4:30 p.m. Friday in Statler Hilton Hotel, Los Angeles. Interested representatives of Southland firms doing business in the Pacific area are invited.

The board meeting will be followed by a 7 p.m. dinner of exotic Pacific delicacies and a "Show of the Pacific" featuring authentic entertainment direct from 12 Pacific countries. Bill Burrud will be emcee.

Apple harvest on soon at Oak Glen

Mid-September marks the beginning of the harvest of apples on 600 acres of apples in Oak Glen, above Beaumont and Banning and, says the All-Year Club of Southern California, there will be a heavy crop.

Apple picking time at Oak Glen brings families on weekends to pick their own, take the Oak Glen loop tour, picnic, and enjoy cider and hot apple pie purchased in the area.

The main crop of Rome Beauty apples ripens in October.

On tap next Sunday is Newport Harbor's Sand Castle Contest. When the sand is best wet and the tide receding at 1 p.m. a flare will start the castle building on the Corona Del Mar beach. A cannon shot from the cliffs ends the competition at 2:30 o'clock.

Open to "anybody who is an expert at nothing," the castle building contest offers prizes for the most artistic, most modernistic, best contemporary pagoda castle, most avante guard, and best tourist type castle.

Also scheduled next Sunday is La Jolla's 35th annual Ocean Swim and Aqua Fiesta. More than 300 swimmers will race over a triangular mile out from the swimming cove. On the program, too, are the Pacific Coast Paddleboard Championships, a junior swimming race, and a water rescue demonstration.

Covered stadium

Construction of Germany's first covered stadium soon will begin in Cologne. Sheltered by a waving, ribbon-like roof, the arena will seat 75,000. Construction cost is estimated at $4¼ million.

TRAVEL and RESORTS

Travels with Delaplane

"We plan to do a little leisurely traveling around Mexico, searching for a place to live permanently. Can we do this on $400 a month for two? Where?"

I THINK you can. And there are several lovely old towns — flowers, warm weather and more things now that Americans want. (Supermarkets for instance.) The July-August issue of Mexico This Month magazine has first-hand reports. Send for it—at Calle Atenas 42-601, Mexico 6, D.F. Send 60 cents, money order or personal check. NOT cash. (It's against Mexican law to send cash in the mail.) And allow three weeks for the magazine to get to you.

* * * *

"What other countries are good for retired Americans with modest incomes?"

AN AMERICAN couple in Portugal writes to me: "Thank you for sending us to Portugal. We are in a small pensao (hotel with meals). Our room with full board is less than $40 a week for two. Excellent food, fine fish, garden fresh vegetables. My husband is within walking distance of a golf course, a fine lending library and we discovered a good doctor.

"Actually, we could live cheaper than we do. (They are in Estoril, the fashionable suburb of Lisbon.) Brandy is $1.70 a liter. Good cigarettes are 14 cents. Haircuts 20 cents. Maids 10 cents an hour."

* * * *

"Are youth hostels open to adults? In all countries?"

THEY ARE. You join American Youth Hostel—it's inexpensive. Get a pass. You want a bike, canoe, horse, skis or boots. They can be rented and they'll tell you where. Scooters and motorbikes are not allowed in SOME hostels. You need a sheet sewn up like a sleeping bag. Knife, fork, spoon, cup, plate and dishcloth.

* * * *

"What are the advantages and disadvantages of the hostel?"

IT'S CHEAP. You buy and cook your own food and help clean up. There's usually a curfew—about 11 p.m. You can't smoke or have a drink. A friend of mine who tried it in Europe found them too much on the teenage side. He said: "They sat around all evening eating cherries and throwing the seeds at each other."

WHY TRAVEL IN THE FALL?

Because nature is most inviting in the Fall—weather marvelously mild but in transition, full of lingering delights of summer months now past but rich in hints of the new season around the corner. If your travel plans take you South of the Equator, surprise, it's Spring.

Because fewer people do—because planes and ships and trains and hotels are less crowded, better able to provide the luxurious accommodations and attentive services you demand. And, because they are less crowded, you can take advantage of budget-broadening between season rates.

Because it is more sophisticated—people who travel between seasons have an added air of worldliness and wisdom. Sociability is enhanced because between season travelers recognize each other as superior travelers.

Because of all the reasons that you travel, Summer, Winter, or Spring—adventure, romance, curiosity, an inability to resist the pulse-quickening feeling that comes with new, different, exotic, enchanting places and people, the rich tapestry of travel.

OBSERVATIONS OF TWO LONG BEACH TRAVELERS

Not all in Russia is 'greatestinworldski'

By Fred Taylor Kraft
Travel Editor

Would you like to visit Russia on your vacation?

Harry Frishman, director of publications of the Long Beach Unified School District, and his wife, Juanita, wanted to — and did. They'd like to go back but not for six or eight years, and then through curiosity, to see what changes may or may not have taken place in the land referred to by Winston Churchill as "a riddle wrapped up in a mystery inside an enigma."

"But one thing is certain," says Frishman, "if you go with an objective mind, as we did, you will be reassured that no system in the world by which man lives can compare with freedom. We are more appreciative of America for having gone."

The Frishmans traveled over a rather wide area of Russia, including visits to more than a score of cities. Here are some of their experiences and observations, and their reactions.

* * * *

THE ONE THING that Russia has to offer the U.S. is friendship. To win that goal, we must impress the leaders of the Communist dictatorship of our strength.

"It would be folly to look to the Russian people for what we want and need most from their country. The people, outside of the aristocracy of communism, know little or nothing of what's going on outside the U.S.S.R. because they are permitted to read nothing but party propaganda. They have less to say about how their government operates, and yet they appear to be content with their lot. After all, they had even less under the old czarist regime.

Travelers find the Soviet common people friendly, especially in the larger cities. In the villages and rural districts they are suspicious of foreigners, and less sophisticated than their urban cousins. In these village areas, two out of three houses are log cabins.

"You don't get the idea that these people will revolt. You'll probably get the opposite reaction."

The masses have a low standard of living compared with the U. S. The average worker makes roughly $125 a month and, although his rent is cheap (4% to 7% of his salary) and he gets free medical care, there are definite food shortages and available clothing is of inferior quality. Most of all, he gets a continuous diet of propaganda. Even tourists are not permited to bring a newspaper or a book into the country that isn't propaganda, nor can they buy a a paper or book that isn't propaganda.

"SOME THINK of Russians as a super race. There is a handful of people who can do wonderful things.

"Take the Palace of Congresses (see photo), built inside the Kremlin wall by Khrushchev — some say as a monument to himself. It is magnificient, but two blocks away are other recently completed structures with nets over the sidewalks to protect pedestrians from bricks which are falling from the already crumbling walls.

"Three words tourists hear most often are 'greatestintheworldski,' 'firstintheworldski' and biggestintheworldski.'"

"For example, the Russians claim that one of them, and not Edison, invented the electric light. They still must be using his system. Moscow is so dimly lighted that you need a miner's cap to get around at night."

Conquest of Everest

WILLIAM F. UNSOELD, of the American Mount Everest Expedition, who climbed up one side and down the other of the earth's mightiest peak, unfurls banner of Oregon State College Mountain Club on Everest's summit.

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

Bill Unsoeld lost nine toes in the conquest of Mt. Everest. But the other day he strapped his climbing shoes on for the first time since he nearly froze to death on the roof of the world and took his two children to the top of Mount Hood and down again.

And although his feet were understandably tender after more than two years of resting—except the loyal little toe of his right foot—he took the time to disclose that an American expedition is planning perhaps the most perilous feat in mountaineering history.

It is asking the Nepalese Government for permission to try the "impossible" south face of the world's highest mountain — a breath-taking effort that will involve spending at least one night suspended from spikes driven into the sheer 8,000-foot wall of rock below the freezing summit.

"It will make the kind of climbing we have been doing look like kid stuff," Unsoeld said.

BUT although he meant it sincerely Dr. Unsoeld, deputy Peace Corps administrator of Nepal, is being modest as the nation will be able to see for itself when CBS-TV screens "Americans On Everest," an hour-long color special presented by the National Gengraphic Society at 7:30 p.m. on channel 2.

This first of four National Geographical programs of exploration and discovery is the story of the selection, training and achievements of the great expedition of 1963 in which five Americans reached the 29,028 foot summit at the cost of one life and agonizing injuries to three other climbers.

Dr. Unsoeld was one of the three who suffered frostbite when they had to spend an unprotected night in 18 degrees below zero weather on the way down and whose lives were saved only because the savage winds suddenly died away. As it was they had to be carried down to lower altitudes on the backs of Sherpa porters and flown out by helicopter to Katmandu where a new drug rushed from the National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md. helped avoid more severe amputations.

DICK VAN DYKE: 'Call Me Square'

By DICK VAN DYKE
Written for United Press International

HOLLYWOOD — You sometimes read in fan magazines that actors don't read what's written about them. Well, that isn't necessarily true.

I know, because occasionally I see articles about myself. And naturally I read 'em—if only to see if they spelled my name right.

And I want to speak up right now about something that turns up in a lot of those stories. Sometimes they hint at it and sometimes they come right out and say it: Dick Van Dyke is a square.

They explain this unusual state of affairs by pointing out I'm still married to my first wife, Marjorie. (We celebrated our 16th wedding anniversary in February). We have four children and we live in the suburbs in a rambling ranch type house.

* * * *

WE GO to church regularly. I spend most of my spare time with the family. We don't go to big Hollywood parties and we don't give them either. My oldest boy Chris, who's 15, enjoys surfing and I've tried it too. My wife and I play tennis. All this, the articles say, makes me a square.

And you know what? I admit it—and don't mind it. For one thing, "square" has a nicer meaning than it used to have. It once meant someone who didn't know what was going on around him.

Today it means a person who lives by the rules. And I've never found following a certain standard of conduct was any handicap. That's why when someone calls me a square, I take it as a compliment.

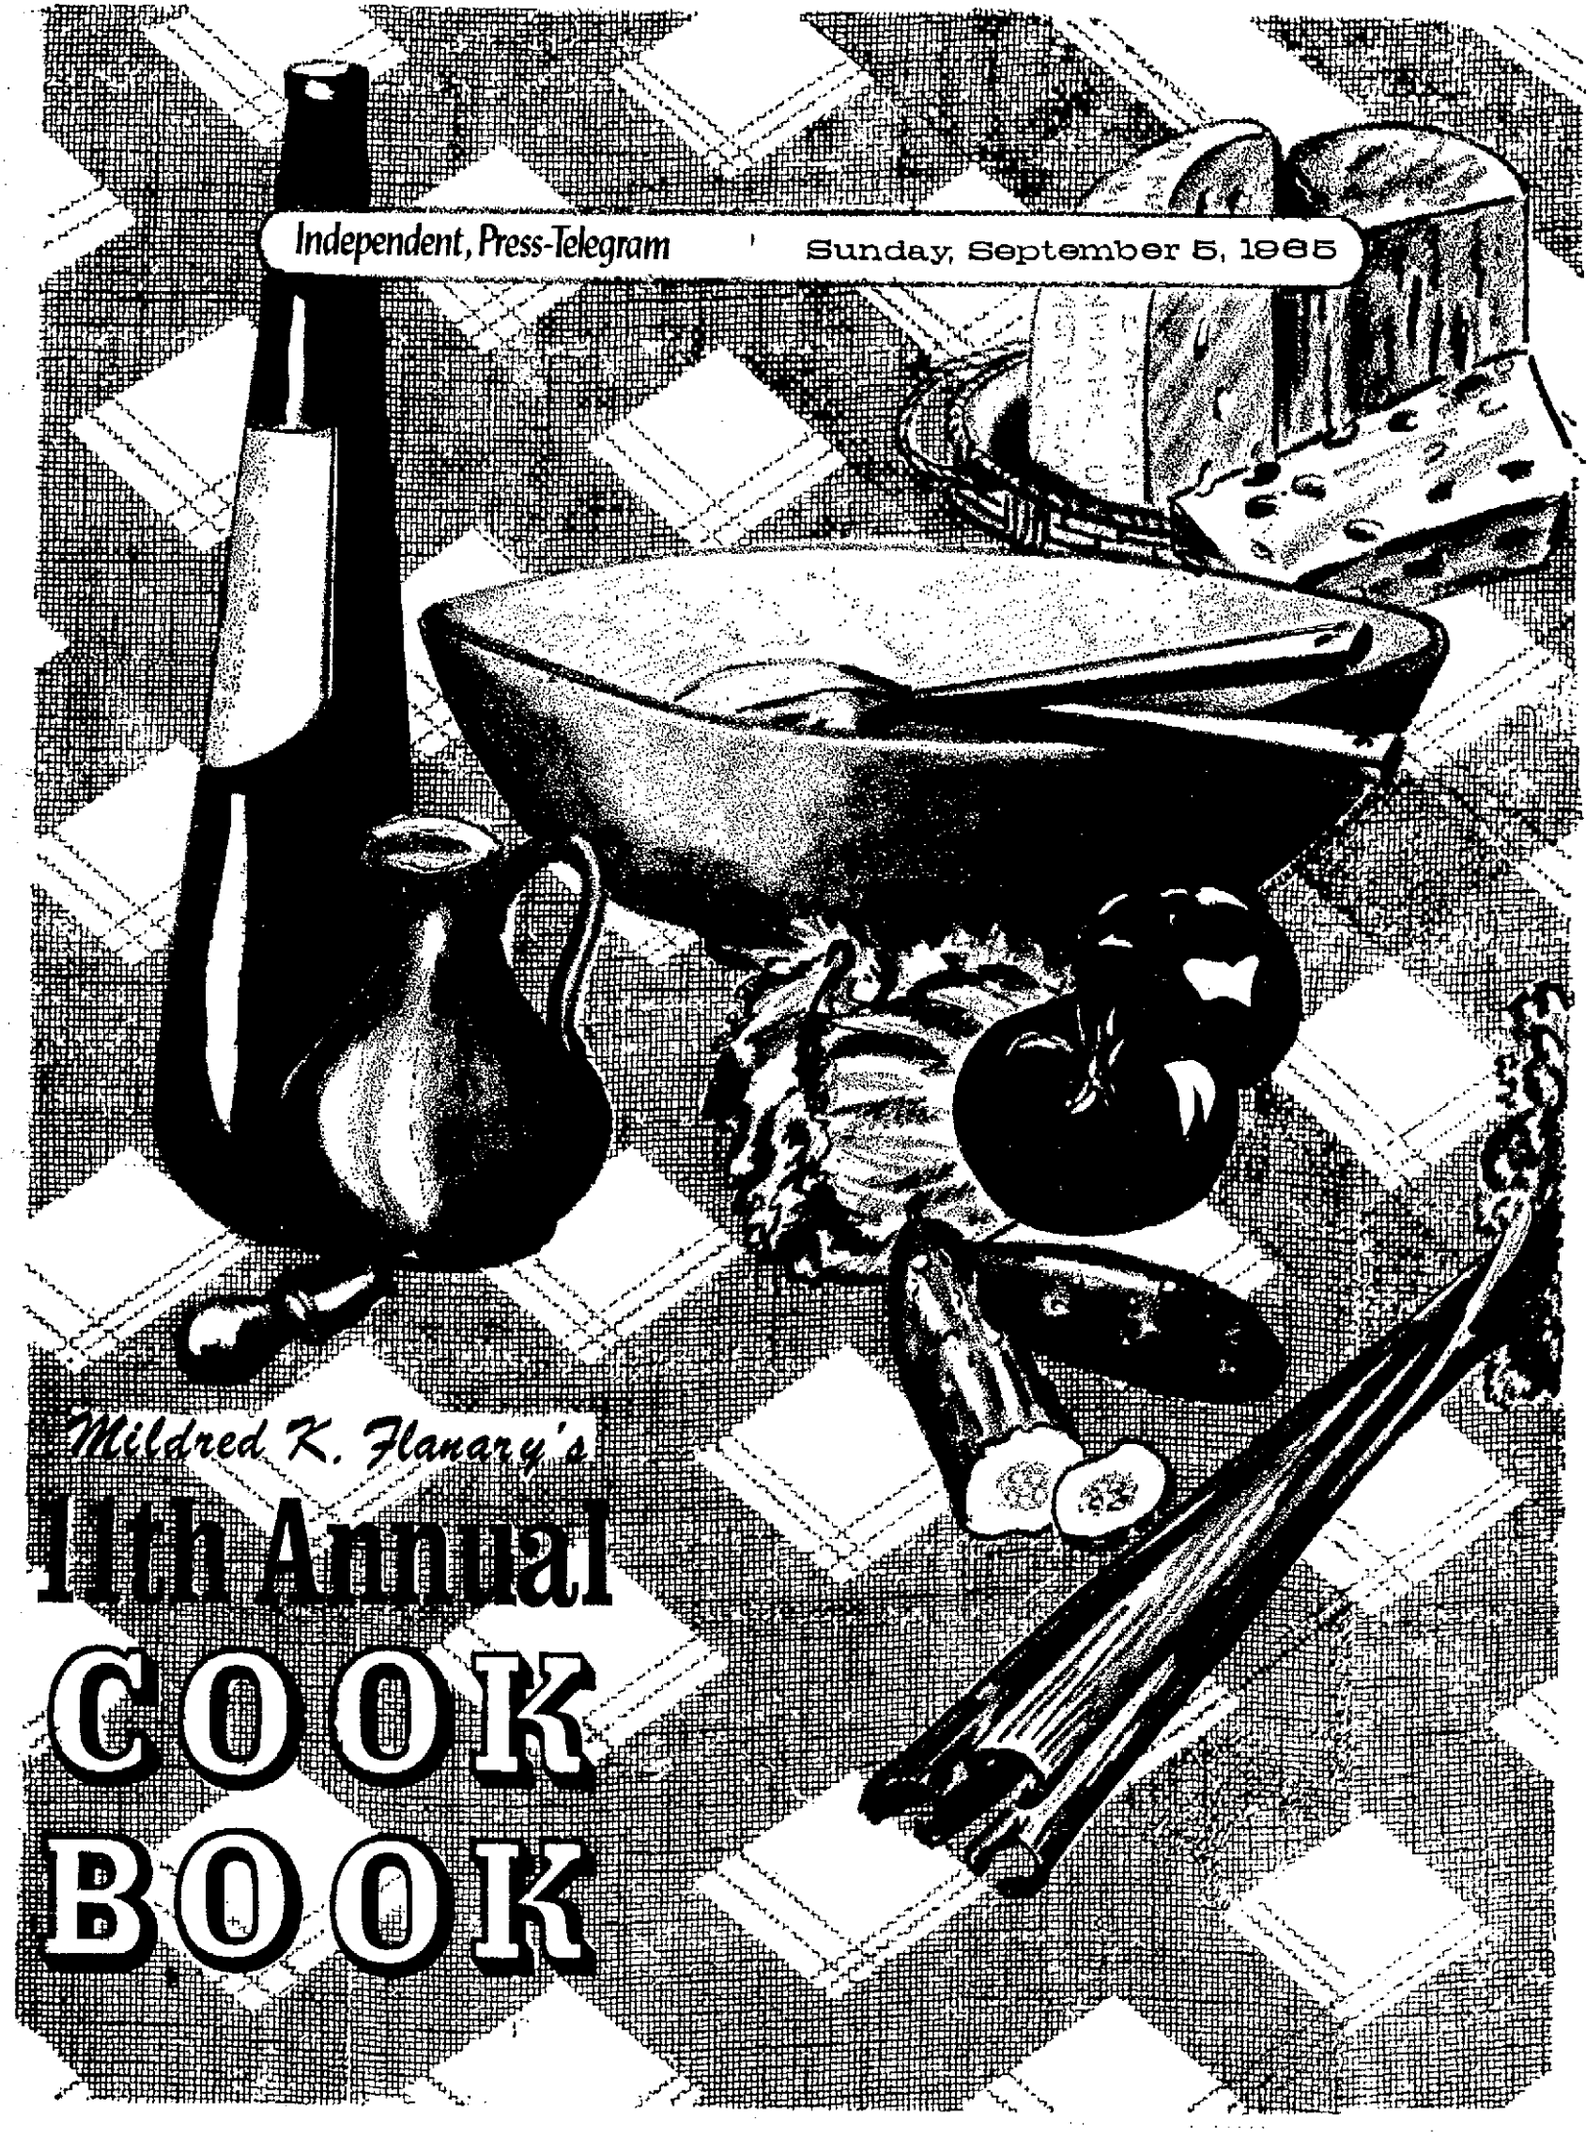

* * * *

ANYONE WHO looks at my random wanderings before I arrived in television might think I was anything but a square. I certainly didn't get where I am by any straight line up the ladder of success.

In fact, anyone who saw me peeling potatoes in the Army would never have picked me out as anything

Seafood Recipe Wins Cook Book Prize

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
I, P-T Food Editor

Our readers—both women AND men — have done it again . . . contributed several thousand recipes to our Eleventh Annual Cook Book. We put this edition to bed with a big sigh of relief . . . yet with a great deal of satisfaction, due entirely to your great response. Recipes came from afar this year, the States of Washington, Indiana and Florida included. Several of our first prize winners represent neighboring cities.

To Mrs. Robert J. Fair, 256 Lindero Ave., goes the grand prize. Her recipe for Seafood a la Newburg, using a variety of seafoods, serves 24 or 4. Entered under the "Quantity Cooking" classification, it can easily be reduced to "family size."

The mother of six children, ranging in ages from 11 to two, Mrs. Fair predicts some real "tall" cooking both in, and on, her new O'Keefe & Merritt Contempo Gas Range.

* * * *

MRS. LEIF LANDER, 13922 El Dorado, Seal Beach, was the recipient of an 8-speed Osterizer, second grand prize, for her Nut Torte with Fabulous Frosting recipe. Our sincerest congratulations to each of you, and to the first, second and third place winners in each category.

MILDRED FLANARY

We feel certain that many of our readers will want to keep this combination of outstanding recipes, for few cook books will provide them with such a wide variety.

This year we have added for your convenience, a "Table of Equivalents and Measurements"—"Can Sizes Servings"—"Oven Temperatures" and "Substitutes."

* * * *

AND, MAY WE ALSO call your attention to the many food advertisements that are carried in this Cook Book, all of them from outstanding firms who are helping make life in the kitchen much easier for the American housewife.

To each of you who entered the contest, may we say thanks for your remarkable and timely cooperation.

And to the clubwoman and those stalwart males who assisted in judging, a warmhearted thank-you for a job well done. The judging was entirely impersonal, with 37 women's clubs and three men's clubs of the city perusing them all, preparing, testing and tasting many.

We want to especially express our thanks to the Rossmoor Women's Club. We inadvertently failed to make either word or pictorial mention of this fine club in our Sunday, August 1 edition. We do humbly apologize.

* * * *

THE HOME ECONOMISTS who selected the final winners did a noteworthy job, for we assure you it wasn't easy. They, the following, deserve a big vote of gratitude.

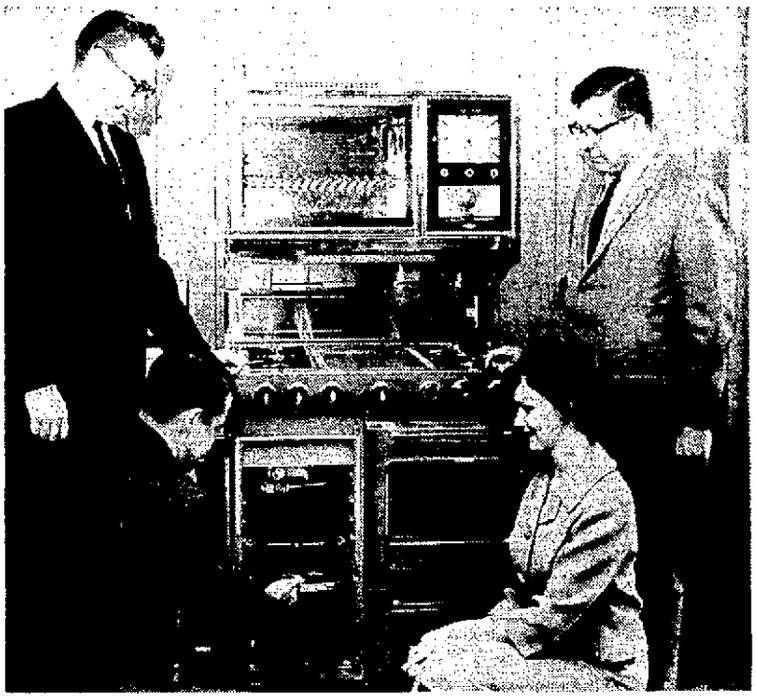

Miss Barbara K. Duffy, director of home economics, Southern California Edison Co.

Miss Marilyn Vandewarf, associate professor of home economics, California State College, Long Beach.

Mrs. Ruth Conrad Bateman, writer, food consultant and author "I Love to Cook Cookbook," Whittier.

Mrs. Beatrice Erickson, head of the department of home economics, Stephen White Jr. High School, Torance.

Mrs. Martha Kimball, supervisor of home economics, Western Research Kitchen, Los Angeles.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER

SEA FOOD a la NEWBURG

(Recipe as given serves 24. For family size, cut recipe by thirds.)

- 3 No. ½ cans lobster meat, drained, boned and "bite-sized"
- 3 No. ½ cans crab meat, drained, boned and "bite-sized"
- 3 5-oz. cans shrimp, drained and cleaned
- ¾ cup butter
- 4 cans frozen shrimp soup
- 4 cans cream of tomato soup
- 3 3-oz. cans sliced broiled mushrooms
- 3 cups milk
- 3 tblsp. brown sugar
- 1½ tsp. paprika
- ¾ tsp. nutmeg
- ¾ cup Sherry wine
- Water cress
- 1 cup Macadamia nut bits (if you're feeling real expansive.)

Saute lobster, crab meat and half the shrimp (reserve remaining shrimp for garnish) in butter in large frying pan until golden. Blend in tomato and shrimp soup, mushrooms and liquid in can, milk, sugar, paprika and nutmet. Heat slowly to boiling; reduce heat, simmer 10 minutes. Stir in Sherry wine and sprinkle with nuts, JUST BEFORE SERVING. Spoon in center of pimiento-rice ring. Garnish with water cross and reserved shrimp.

PIMIENTO-RICE RING

(Serves 24)

- 6 cups raw rice
- ¾ cup melted butter
- ¾ cup chopped parsley
- ¾ cup diced pimientos (about 2)
- Salt and pepper to taste

Heavily grease two 2-quart ring molds. Cook rice in large amount of boiling salted water (you will need two large kettles for this) cooking half the rice in about 6 quarts of water, without stirring for 20 to 25 minutes: drain. Season with butter, parsley, salt and pepper and pimiento. Place cooked, seasoned rice into ring molds. Bake 350° oven for 20 minutes. Loosen around edges with knife and turn out into heated platter.

'Emmy' Awards Next Sunday

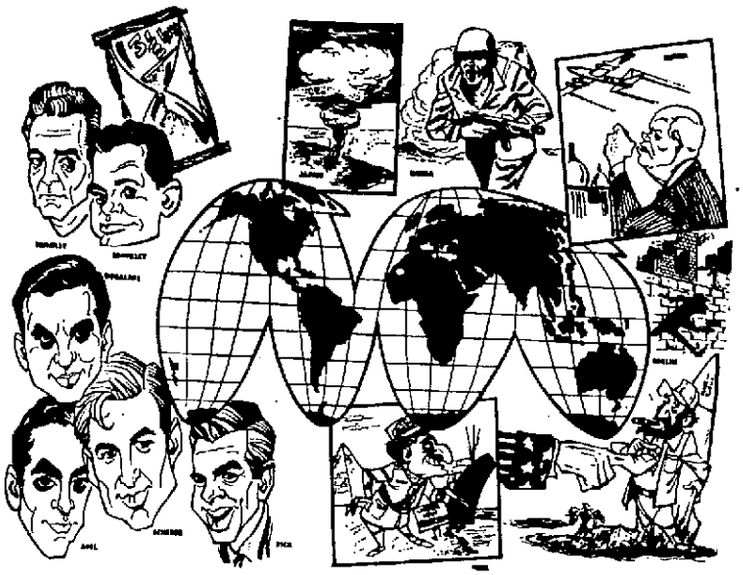

Four television stars whose programs will not be on the 1965-66 network roster will join in a special quartet, during the entertainment portion of the 'Emmy Awards Show," next Sunday at 10 p.m. on channel 4.

The quartet will include Robert Coote of "The Rogues," James Franciscus of "Mr. Novak," Robert Reed of "The Defenders" and Shirl Conway of "The Doctors and the Nurses."

Musical accompaniment for the special number will be provided in New York by Skitch Henderson and the NBC orchestra. Other musical features of the award show will include Gary Lewis and the Playboys who will be in California, and the Ray Charles Singers in New York.

Additional presenters who will appear on the 90 minute program include Jimmy Durante, Dick Van Dyke, the King Family, Bert Lahr and John Forsythe. Previously announced presenters are Johnny Carson, Carol Burnett, Danny Kaye, Andy Williams, Garry Moore, Inger Stevens, Robert Vaughn, David McCallum and Mary Tyler Moore.

Sammy Davis will be the host at the New York Hilton and Danny Thomas will serve in the same capacity in the portion of the origination from the Hollywood Palladium.

"AMERICAN WHITE PAPER," a 3½-hour program discussing America's foreign policy and actions from 1945 to 1965, airs at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday on channel 4. Commentators include Chet Huntley, David Brinkley, Robert Goralski, Elie Abel, Ray Scherer and John Rich.

U.S. Policy 3½ Hour Show

NBC News White House Correspondent Ray Scherer will talk with President Johnson and will report the President's views on "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy," NBC News' three and one-half hour special which will be telecast at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on Channel 4.

* * * *

U.S. GOVERNMENT officials already interviewed for the examination of America's Foreign Policy include Dean Rusk, Secretary of State; George W. Ball, Under Secretary of State; Walt Whitman Rostow, Chairman of the State Department Policy Planning Council; and David E. Bell, Director of the State Department's agency for International Development.

Chet Huntley will narrate "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy." Special commentary will be supplied by David Brinkley. The unprecedented program will examine the development of America's Foreign Policy since the end of World War II and trace the sequence of events that has led to our active participation in the Vietnamese War.

Week's Top Shows

Sunday — "Sports in Action" looks at pro football's two most publicized freshman quarterbacks, Joe Namath and John Huarte of the New York Jets, and their one-year-veteran rival, Mike Taliaferro. Then at 6:30 p.m., ch. 4, in color, coach Weeb Ewbank names his number one choice for the job.

Monday—"Viet Nam Perspective: A Day of War" spends 24 hours in action with American and South Vietnamese units, condensed into a color hour at 10 p.m., channel 2.

Tuesday — "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy" preempts all channel 4 programming from 7:30 until 11 p.m.

Wednesday—"ABC Scope" asks the question "How Goes the GOP?" of Sen. Hugh Scott (Pa.), Rep. Gerald R. Ford (Mich.) and Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.). Host William H. Lawrence gets several answers at 10:30 p.m., channel 7.

Thursday—"Once Upon a Tractor" is an hour-long comedy-drama based on a theme suggested by United Nations files. Alan Bates, Buddy Hackett and Melvyn Douglas are among the stars at 8 p.m., channel 7.

Friday — "Americans on Everest" tells of 19 Americans who challenged danger to carry the U.S. flag to the top of the world's highest mountain. Color hour at 7:30 p.m., channel 2.

Saturday—"Miss America Pageant" comes live from Atlantic City's Convention Hall for a 2-hour telecast of the finals at 7 p.m., channel 2. Bert Parks is on-stage emcee with Bess Myerson TV hostess.

TV IN 1966

You'll See More Drama

(Editor's Note: Edgar J. Scherick is American Broadcasting Co. vice president in charge of TV network program. In this column, distributed by United Press International, he discusses thoughts about the 1966 season).

By EDGAR J. SCHERICK

NEW YORK—As everyone knows, the season beginning this month has been set since early February. We're thinking now in terms of September 1966 and even beyond. So to us, trend really is the question of what kind of show has a good chance of being popular when it debuts on the network more than a year from now.

The answer here again is always the same—the popular shows will be the good shows, the ones well conceived, well cast and well produced.

"THE MAN from U.N.C.L.E." was a big success for one of our competitors this year. It started slowly then really came into it own when it was moved from Tuesday to Monday night. It began what you could call a trend in way-out spy stories. After all, won't our Amos Burke become a secret agent this month?

But actually, Napoleon Solo and Amos Burke, and even James Bond, are really no different from Sam Spade. They only live in a different world just as Sam Spade's world differed from Nick Carter's.

This form of action programming, and a definite move to color programming are the two most evident trends for this coming season. But other movements are discernible which we think will make for more obvious trends in the seasons ahead.

SEPTEMBER 1966 will see more dramatic series on television. There will not be an overload of drama but there will be fewer situation comedies and some more dramatic hours or halfhours.

You can also expect, we think, the larger than life themes (such as the James Bond-type action) to diminish somewhat and be replaced by stories closer to reality. A pace-setter for that could be ABC-TV's "The Long Hot Summer" which has given us very high hopes for success.

A change also will take place in comedy. The past several years have seen this area dominated by what we call hard-comedies. "Comer Pyle" and "Bewitched" are newer hard comedies, shows which have as their base broad, outlandish situations. Before this form of comedy emerged as the major television comedy form, which probably began with "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "McHale's Navy," comedies were pretty much based around families and grew out of the characters of the members of the family. Examples would be "Donna Reed" and "Ozzie and Harriet."

It is probable that the future will see a greater number of "slice of life" comedies and a reduction in the number of hard comedies.

THERE ARE, of course, always exceptions to any rule. Lucille Ball was successful for years before the hard comedy developed as the dominant comedy form in video, and nobody ever called her comedy soft. The lesson she points out is that a great star sets his own trend or makes his own hits.

We think we have a chance for that happening with "O.K. Crackerby," an unusual comedy which we premiere this month starring Burl Ives. We are high on it because of the quality of the star and the uniqueness of the comedy.

★ ★ ★

THAT BRINGS us to a closing point.

No matter what you do, and let us assume that it is done well, uniqueness or at least a touch of singularity is an important requisite for the success of any new product.

Even if you are going to do something that has been done before, like a detective story or a Western, be sure that it is done from a different point of view, that it is current in today's American thinking and that it offers the viewer a new kind of entertainment excitement.

DON ADAMS, as Secret Agent 86, and his canine agent, K-13 (also known as Fang), will spy out the NBC programs for 1965-66 season at 7:30 p. m. Monday on channel 4. Adams will star as the dedicated but bungling agent Maxwell Smart in the series "Get Smart!" starting Sept. 18.

Skelton Began at 10

Comedian Red Skelton began his career at the age of 10, with a medicine show. He sang and played the ukulele.

OLD PROS Still Hold Shows Together

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The juvenile audience and the juvenile-minded are the chief target of television entertainment in the new season, but the networks haven't forgotten that old pros often hold the show together.

ABC - TV's "Hollywood Palace," for instance, has Bing Crosby as host of eight outings, and Fred Astaire of four. Other hosts throughout the season include Joan Crawford, Frank Sinatra, Milton Berle, Kate Smith, Victor Borge, Ray Bolger, Phil Harris, Alice Faye and Judy Garland (Nov. 13).

Astaire, in addition, is reported set for a four-part story on NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" series, in which he would portray a pool shark whose daughter is a young nun with a dangerous illness.

Jack Benny, whose weekly series came to an end last season, will have several specials on NBC-TV, the first Nov. 3, with Bob Hope and Elke Sommer among the scheduled guests.

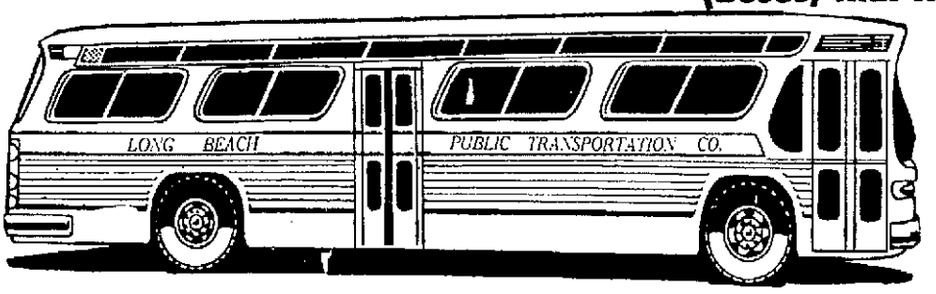

And Perry Como's pre-Thanksgiving broadcast on NBC-TV Nov. 22 will feature not only young pro Patty Duke but old pro Gertrude Berg.

There is talk that another old pro, Edgar Allan Poe, may have his works adapted for an hour-long 1966-67 series.

WHO RIDES THE BIG BLUE...?

(Buses, that is!)

The ONLY Way To Go . . .

40,000 DAILY PASSENGERS DO . . . THAT'S WHO . . .

AND TO NAME ONLY A FEW . . .

BANKERS DO . . .

Mr. C. O. KUYKENDALL, Assistant Manager of the Bank of America, Cherry and Anaheim branch says: "I ride the Cherry Ave. Rt. No. 2 every morning to my bank and back home again in the evening . . . those beautiful new dreamliners are quiet, comfortable and easy riding . . . it makes my whole day go better . . . "

STOCKBROKERS DO...

MR. BRUCE T. KERR, dynamic stockbroker with E. F. Hutton & Co. at 219 E. Broadway, states: "My stock has gone way up in those new blue Dreamliners, and I really look forward to my daily round trip on the No. 1 Line . . . it gives me a chance to read the Wall St. Journal and to chat with friends and business associates enroute."

OUTSTANDING COOKS DO . . .

MRS. ROBERT J. FAIR, grand prize winner of the Independent, Press-Telegram Cook Book, says: "Our public transportation system is one of the many reasons why I love living in Long Beach. It's efficient, convenient and very well managed."

TEACHERS DO . . .

MISS JAN BLEMING, vivacious teacher at the Lowell Elementary School says. "I love riding those beautiful new dreamliners . . . they are A-plus in my book, and I meet the nicest people on board . . . need I say more?"

SECRETARIES DO . . .

MISS PAT VOTE, charming secretary at the Chamber of Commerce is a regular bus rider, and says Pat: "The people of Long Beach are very fortunate to have so many new Dreamliners in service, and this new service is causing many new residents to choose Long Beach for their future home—I ride them everyday and love it!"

STUDENTS DO . . .

MISS JULIE MARKHAM, student at Long Beach City College, not only rides the new blue Dreamliners to school, but on shopping trips as well . . . says Julie: "Those big new Dreamliners are beautiful and fun to ride — I meet a lot of new friends this way . . . and most of the kids agree that it's the only way to go . . . "

HOW ABOUT YOU . . .?

Are you still fighting your way through traffic each day, arriving at work all unstrung, and back home the same way?

WHY DON'T YOU JOIN THE NEW CLUB

. . . AND JOIN THE BIG SWING TO THE BIG BLUE BUSES

Sports Today

BASEBALL, 10 a.m., ch. 8 (San Diego), has the New York Yankees hosting the Boston Red Sox, Dizzy Dean mikeside.

OKLAHOMA CITY Open Invitational Golf Tournament, 1:30 p.m., ch. 9, has the last four holes in the $65,000 tourney from Quail Creek Country Club. Arnold Palmer is defending champion.

NBC SPORTS in Action, 6:30 p.m., in color, ch. 4, takes a pre-season close-up look at three young quarterbacks for the New York Jets —Joe Namath, John Huarte and Mike Taliaferro—one of whom will be named on the show by coach Weeb Ewbank as starter for next week's season opener (NBC colorcast) with the Houston Oilers. (Last show until after the World Series, when series moves to Saturdays.)

ASTRO DOME Story, 8:30 p.m., ch. 11, in color, repeats its tour of the new Houston stadium, where the Dodgers play today.

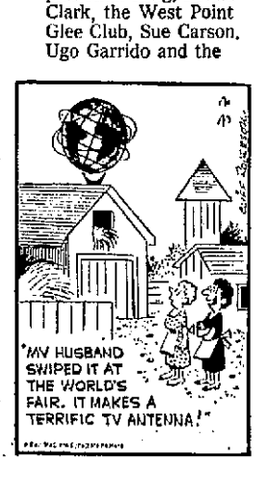

TROJAN HUDDLE, 9 p.m., ch. 11, has USC head coach John McKay and his seven coaches, introducing the entire Trojan varsity squad, in return of weekly series.

SPECIAL

LABOR DAY SPECIALS—In special programming for the occasion, "Opinion in the Capital" debates the controversial repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law at 9:30 p.m., ch. 11. Earlier ch. 7 at 2 p.m. airs a repeat of the AFL-CIO's film "When the Day's Work Is Done." NBC's "Meet the Press" at 6 p.m., in color, ch. 4, has George Romney, governor of one of the nation's leading labor states.

OUR MAN IN HONG KONG—David Brinkley looks at the British Crown Colony as a city of contrasts where luxurious merchant palaces overlook refugee hovels, and where grocers and doctors of the landbound community make their living on a floating city of sampans, seldom touching land. Reuven Frank-produced color hour is repeated at 5 p.m., ch. 4, during summer's final "Sunday Encore."

ICE FOLLIES: 30 Years & 65 Million People Later—An exploration of the world of the Ice Follies looks to its first show in 1936, and follows the backstage preparations for today's shows, the moving from city to city, auditions for the chorus line and films of the film stars in attendance at last year's L.A. opening night. Hour is in color at 7:30 p.m., channel 5.

SECOND PRIZE WINNER

Mrs. Leif Lander, winner of the second grand prize, is learning the virtues of her new Imperial VIII Osterizer, being presented to her by John A. Smith, west coast representative of the John Oster Manufacturing Co. A Nut Torte with Fabulous Frosting was her winning recipe.

This Nut Torte Is Winner of Second

NUT TORTE WITH FABULOUS FROSTING

2 cups finely ground pecans
4 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
2 tblsp. flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
1 tblsp. orange juice or jamaica rum
4 egg whites
½ cup whipped cream with bit of grated orange rind

Fabulous Frosting

1 6 oz. pkg. semisweet chocolate pieces
½ cup commercial sour cream
Pinch of salt

Grind the pecans very fine. Beat the egg yolks until thick and light. Add sugar to eggs and then stir the flour, salt and baking powder into the eggs and sugar. Add the orange juice or rum, then the pecans. Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold into the above ingredients.

Grease two 8-inch layer pans and line with wax paper. Pour batter into pans and bake in 350° oven 25 minutes or until light pressure on cake leaves no dent. Remove from pan and remove wax paper. When cool put the two layers together with the whipped cream between. Melt the semisweet chocolate pieces over hot water but not boiling. Stir in the sour cream and a pinch of salt. Mix and spread over the cake and garnish with nuts.

BONANZA'S BIG DADDY

Lorne's Happy in 'Rut'

By LORNE GREENE

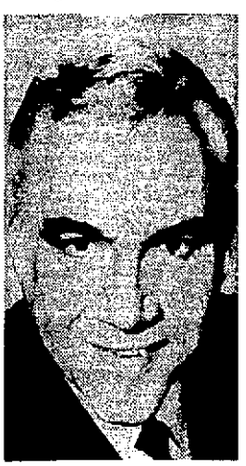

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"How can you go on playing the same role year in and year out without getting bored?"

I know I'm usually expected to answer that I'm going nuts. It seems people expect me to admit, "of course it's great that 'Bonanza' is still such a great success, but you know how artistically frustrating and on and on."

In other words, I'm supposed to moan and groan and yearn for more freedom.

★ ★ ★

WELL, TO BE perfectly honest, I can't indulge in griping sessions because for me they'd be completely phony. The truth is I can still play Ben Cartwright with enthusiasm and I still find myself trying to experiment with the role to find something new.

LORNE GREENE

I must admit, of course, there are many factors that make this possible for me which are not always enjoyed by members of the cast of many long running TV shows.

To begin with, we have a happy set. The relationship between Hoss, Little Joe and me has developed into a warm, closely-knit one. As evidence, we have the same business manager; we share quite a few investments.

I'm lucky that the success of "Bonanza" has opened a continuing series of doors to me.

When I first started making personal appearances at rodeos and state fairs, I enjoyed the challenge of winning an audience and then holding it.

Then I found myself recording and this in turn gave me a wholly new and satisfying experience. I was fortunate enough to come up with a hit like "Ringo."

I faced a new challenge last spring when I made my debut in a supper club. They kept asking me what I could possibly gain.

Well, I played the Nugget at Reno, Nevada, for two weeks and with all modesty the offer they made me to play a return engagement next year must show that it came off prety well.

It's the sum of these activities which permits me to return to the "Bonanza" set with batteries recharged just as though 'Ole Ben' himself had enjoyed a vacation.

Dick Van Dyke

but a troublemaker. Still, I never did anything wrong on purpose in the service.

* * * *

PEOPLE who read about my quiet home life and see me as a suburban commuter on "The Dick Van Dyke Show" are always a little surprised to learn that Marjorie and I were married on the "Bride and Groom" radio show.

To some, that's a prime example of being a square. But it made sense to us because we were so broke. Actually we were married in a little chapel on the grounds of the Los Angeles hotel where the show was broadcast. They didn't start holding actual weddings on the show until it went on television.

"Bride and Groom" paid for our license, wedding ring, furniture, silverware and appliances, as well as our honeymoon at a ski lodge at Mt. Hood, Ore.

* * * *

BY THE time our daughter Stacy was on the way, we'd had enough gypsy life and I went to work as host of a television variety show in Atlanta, Ga. I was doing a similar show in New Orleans in 1955 when I was called to New York for a CBS audition.

From the network I went into "Bye Bye Birdie" on Broadway, then into the Van Dyke Show, and then into movies, where I've done "Bye, Bye, Birdie," "What A Way To Go," and "Mary Poppins."

So if this is what you get for being square, I can only say: Be one. It's the only way to go.

Flag on the highest spot on earth. The program includes the first motion pictures ever taken from the summit.

Unsoeld who climbed Mount Hood (11,245 feet) with his son Regon, 13, ("I was homesick for Oregon when he was born") and Nanda Devi, 11, ("named for a Himulayan peak") said that he was gradually breaking them in to the physical and philosophic pleasures of climbing.

They were in the Alps recently, he said, and while there he stopped off to see John Harlan, the only American ever to climb the dangerous north face of the Eiger Peak. Harlan, who makes his home in France, revealed his desire to tackle the south face of Everest and Unsoeld agreed to seek the necessary permissions from the Nepalese government.

* * * *

HE SAID the daring of the idea awed him at first. And he asked:

"But, John — where are you going to put your camp?"

Harlan replied coolly:

"We've simply got to get over thinking about traditional camps. We can hang from pitons (spikes) in hammocks."

Dr. Unsoeld, whose home is in Corvallis, Wash., is the first man to climb the west ridge of Everest (with Dr. Thomas Hornbein of San Diego) and the first to make a traverse of any Himalayan peak. He recognizes that man—because of his nature—will not rest with the conquest of Everest but will try to humble the mighty peak as the Matterhorn has been turned into a picnic jaunt in the 100 years since it was first climbed.

Pan and Fan

Why didn't the talented, 17-year-old Bruce Scott make his scheduled appearance on the Friday, Aug. 13 segment of "The Merv Griffin Show?"

He is a talented rock-and-roll singer who sets a good example for his profession as he was originally trained in the opera.

Linda L. Mino,
Los Alamitos

Bruce just couldn't make the Friday the 13th engagement and I don't know if it was true because he's superstitious or had another engagement to sing "Madame Butterfly" or either.

I do know he'll be appearing in the show within a week or so.

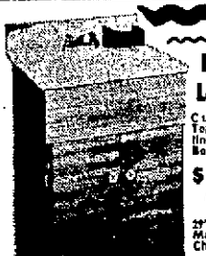

* * * *

What happened to "The Chucko the Clown Show?" He had a daily show on weekday mornings (channel 11).

My children liked him very much and were heartsick when he went off the air.

Mrs. Judy Kollen,
Lakewood

An increased schedule of personal appearances, including frequent performances at "Jungleland," made it difficult for Chuko to maintain a daily TV program.

SPECIAL

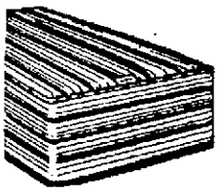

THE YOUNG SET — Premiere. Phyllis Kirk moderates a new daily hour-long discussion series at 11 a.m., ch. 7, with Sybil Burton Christopher as guest throughout the first week. Joining in today's show are Peter Lawford, with whom Phyllis co-starred in "The Thin Man," Helen Gurley Brown and Woody Allen.

NBC PREVIEW — Don Adams, in his role as Secret Agent 86 of the new "Get Smart!" series, has a hush-hush assignment at 7:30 p.m., in color, ch. 4—to get the lowdown on all the new and returning NBC programs for the season that begins next week. The mission is accomplished in his own unpredictable way.

SOUPY SALES — Premiere. Comedy in the grand slapstick style debuts in Soupy's new daily series to air at 7:30 p.m., ch. 11. Opener includes a 12-min. encounter between Soupy and Frank Sinatra, taped last season and shown only on WNEW-TV, New York, which includes one of the pie-throwing duels which have become Soupy's trademark.

VIET NAM: A Day of War — For the last hour in its 4-part series, five CBS news teams spent a 24-hour day of action with American and South Vietnamese units at Da Nang, Kinh Binh, Ton San Nhut Air Base and aboard the U.S.S. Oriskany, with Charles Collingwood recording the day of Gen. William Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam. Filmed in color, hour is at 10 p.m., ch. 2.

FAWORKI
(Swedish Crullers)

2 Whole eggs
2 egg yolks
2 tsp. melted butter
1 tblsp. brandy
1 tblsp. grated lemon peel
¾ cup powdered sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
Powdered sugar

Beat eggs and yolks until light and fluffy. Add butter, brandy and lemon rind and beat again. Add sifted flour gradually, beating after each addition. Then add sugar. Turn onto floured board and knead to light elasticity. Allow dough to rest for 10 minutes. Roll dough as thin as is possible to handle. Cut into strips 2x1". Twist strip in center to give bow-know effect. Fry in deep fat turning until brown on all sides. Place on brown paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

(Third Prize)
ZUCCHINI ITALIANO

6 tblsp. olive oil
1 small onion, chopped
6 med. zucchini (Italian Squash)
½ tsp. salt
1 lge. can, 2½ Italian tomatoes (pear-shaped)
Parmesan cheese grated

Pour oil into frying pan when hot, add chopped onion and fry until golden brown. Slice unpeeled zucchini crosswise approximately ¼ inch thick, sprinkle slices with salt and add to frying oil. Using spatula, stir mixture to prevent sticking to pan and fry for five minutes. Drain juice from canned tomatoes, add to zucchini, cover pan, and cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Sprinkle parmesan cheese generously over entire top of mixture allowing it to melt before serving. Serves 4-6.

IRISH CASSEROLE

2 tblsp. margarine
1 lb. stewing beef, cut into 1 inch cubes
1 pkg. beef soup mix
2 cups water
1 9 oz. pkg. green beans
1½ lbs. small potatoes, pared and cooked
2 tblsp. margarine
⅔ cup shredded American cheese (3-4 oz.)

Melt margarine in skillet and add meat. Cook until browned. Remove from heat. Sprinkle soup mix over meat. Stir in water. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer until meat is tender, stirring occasionally, for about 45 minutes. Add beans, bring to a boil then simmer for 5 minutes. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine. Dip potatoes into melted margarine, then roll in shredded cheese. Pour meat mixture into 1½ quart casserole. Arrange potatoes around edge. Bake in 375 degree oven until cheese is lightly browned, 15 to 20 minutes. Serves 4.

HUNGARIAN NUT HORNS
Crust

1 cup (½ lb. cream cheese)
1 cup shortening (half veg. half butter)
2 cups all purpose flour
Pinch of salt
Nut Filling
2 cups finely ground walnuts
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ cup milk

For crust: Combine all ingredients of dough, using blender, and it will be on sticky side. Wrap in wax paper and chill. Remove one third of batch of dough at a time. Roll out on lightly floured board about thickness of pie crust or thinner. Cut into squares. Place nut filling or preserves in center of squares. Bring corners diagonally opposite together at the center and moisten with a bit of water to keep them from opening, or shape dough into horns. Bake on wax lined cookie sheet in 350 degree oven about 15 minutes. Cool and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

SPECIAL

AMERICA! — Season premiere. Robert Taylor hosts a 2-part tour of Washington, D.C., to the tune of original music by Nelson Riddle. In the 7 p.m., ch. 4 color opener, Taylor, his wife Ursula and their children see the "Friendship 7" at the Smithsonian, then stop at the Library of Congress, the White House, the Capitol and memorials to Jefferson, Washington and Lincoln.

WHITE PAPER — In an unprecedented 3½-hour news special, NBC examines U.S. foreign policy from 1945 to 1965, showing the successes, failures and future goals, and how events of the past two decades have affected the relationships between the U.S. and its wartime allies, and with its former enemies. Divided into three parts, the 7:30 p.m., ch. 4 documentary traces U.S.-Soviet relationships, looks at the world's new nations, and probes the growing conflict with Red China. Chet Huntley narrates, with Ray Scherer quizzing President Johnson on his views. Other U.S. officials interviewed will be Dean Rusk, George W. Ball, Walt Whitman Rostow and David E. Bell.

GEMINI NEWS Conference—It's Recovery-plus-11, and the debriefing of Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles (Pete) Conrad should be completed, permitting the post-flight press conference at the NASA center in Houston. All three networks will carry it live when the time is confirmed.

HOW GOES THE GOP.—Three top Congressional leaders join William H. Lawrence on "ABC Scope" in tackling questions of party reorganization, civil rights, Negro voters, extremism, splinter groups within the party and their charge of a lack of balance between the Executive and Legislative branches of government. Taking part at 10:30 p.m., ch. 7, are Sen. Hugh Scott (Pa.), vice chairman of the GOP Senatorial Campaign committee; Rep. Gerald R. Ford (Mich.), House minority leader; and Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.), chairman of the House Republican policy committee.

STRAWBERRY ALASKA

1 baked round 9" yellow cake layer
2 pts. strawberry ice cream
10 tblsp. granulated sugar
1 10 oz. pkg. frozen sliced strawberries, thawed, drained
5 egg whites

Bake the yellow layer cake day before using dessert. Let ice cream soften slightly then pile on center top of cake layer; make hollow in center of ice cream then fill it with drained berries. Place on foil-covered cardboard and freeze.

On day of serving: Beat, at high speed, the egg whites until frothy throughout, then gradually sprinkle in sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time, until stiff peaks form. With metal spatula, spread about ⅔ of this meringue over top and sides of the Alaska and use the remainder in a pastry bag to decorate, if desired. Return to freezer at least 1 hour.

Heat oven to 500°. With two wide spatulas lift Alaska to large cookie sheet and place in oven for 2-3 minutes or until meringue on top and sides is just tinged brown. Will serve 12.

BILLY GRAHAM CRUSADE — The evangelist's three-day Denver crusade is seen in hour-long tapes today, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., ch. 5. Topic of the program at Bears Stadium is "The Salvation in America."

ONCE UPON A TRACTOR — Third in the Xerox series about the activities of the UN is a comedy-drama starring Alan Bates and Diane Cilento, and featuring Buddy Hackett, Melvyn Douglas, Clive Revill and Albert Dekker. Filmed in Italy, the 8 p.m. hour, ch. 7, is set in several mythical European countries and deals with a man's persistent pursuit for justice and the inalienable right to a new tractor—through local and national governments, and up to the UN itself.

SOUND OF MOTOWN — It's like lend-lease. First we produce shows featuring the Mersey beat with British stars—sn now England films this hour of American "rock" music with U.S. stars in the sounds of the Motown label of Detroit (Motor Town). Featured in the 8 p.m. hour, ch. 11, are the Supremes, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, little Stevie Wonder, the Temptations, Martha and the Vandellas, Dusty Springfield.

ICE FOLLIES PREMIERE — Bill Burrud goes backstage at the L.A. Sports Arena at 9 p.m., ch. 13, to talk with Shipstad and Johnson stars, and with visiting celebrities attending the premiere performance.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON— In a 5-min. address, LBJ opens the annual United Community Fund drive at 10:55 p.m. on all networks.

Sports Today

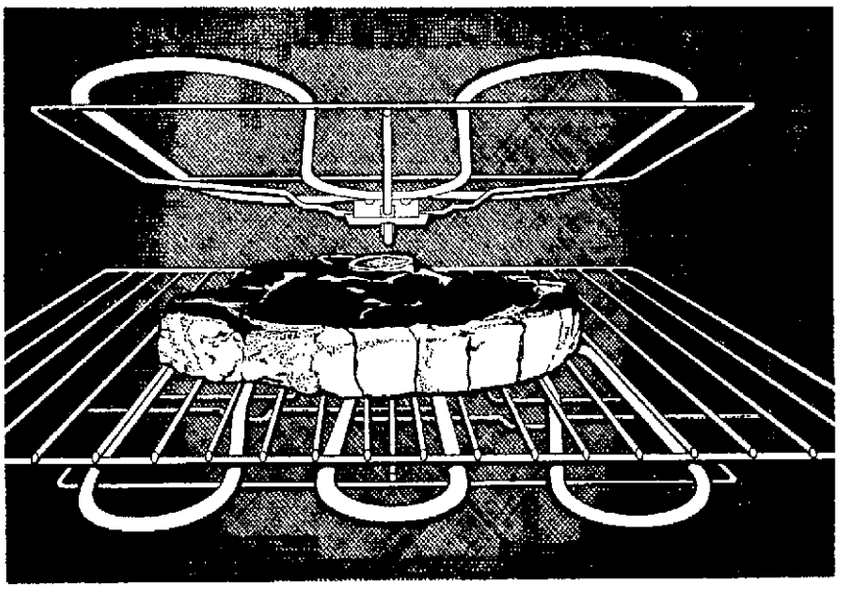

BOXING, 8:30 p.m., ch. 5, finds Dick Enberg at the Olympic for a 10-round heavyweight match between Manuel Ramos and Irish Wayne Heath, plus a 6-round semi-main between heavyweights Jimmy Harryman and John Henry Jackson.

NFL PRO BOWL Highlights, 10:30 p.m., in color, ch. 5, has tapes of the Jan. 10, 1965 East-West game at the Coliseum.

NO TURN SPEED-BROIL®

HERE'S THE MOST WELCOME NEWS IN ELECTRIC RANGE COOKING IN 50 YEARS...

Westinghouse LOADED with Features

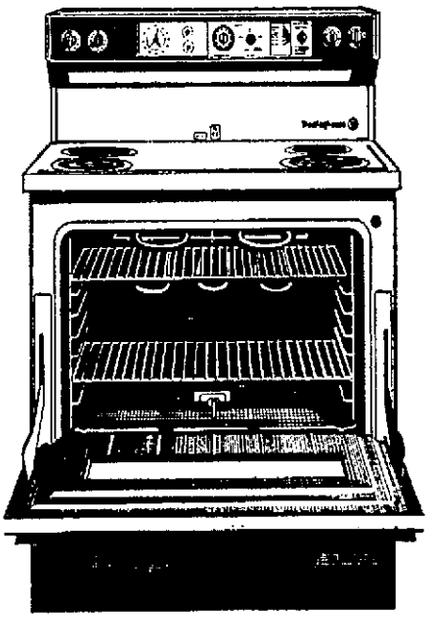

Now you can broil both sides of your meat at the same time—in only half the time it used to take and do it with NO SMOKE, NO SPATTER, NO FLAME-UP. You'll find you can broil time after time WITHOUT CLEANING THE OVEN! No Turn Speed-Broiling is done with two broiling elements—one above and one below the meat. This means your meat is fast-seared on both sides at once, sealing the juice and flavor in . . . making even well-done meat more juicy and more flavorful. And you never have to handle a hot broil pan to turn the meat.

THE Westinghouse CUSTOM IMPERIAL FLAMELESS ELECTRIC RANGE FEATURES THE NEW, EXCLUSIVE NO TURN SPEED-BROIL—PLUS:

SPECIAL

AMERICANS on Everest — The distinguished National Geographical Society turns its cameras to television in the first of a series of four color hours of exploration and discovery. Orson Welles narrates the 7:30 p.m., ch. 2 opener, relating the thrilling adventures of a team of 19 Americans and one Britisher who in 1963 risked danger and death to carry the U.S. flag to the 29,028-ft. summit of the world's highest mountain. Later telecasts in the series, to air Dec. 22, Feb. 18 and April 28, deal with a pretty scientist in the Tanzanian wilds, a round-the-world voyage by a famous sailing ship, and the underwater world of French explorer Jacques Yves Cousteau.

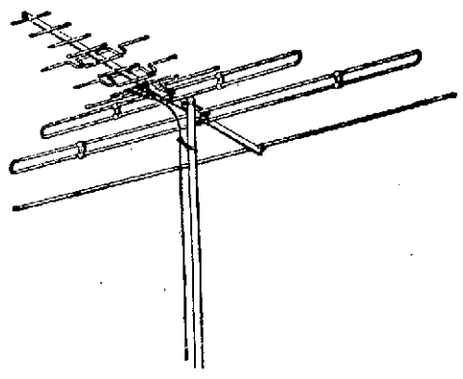

COUNTDOWN '65 — Semi-finals of the nation's first nationwide big beat rock band contest, featuring 30 bands, with dancers, from Southland schools, airs live from the Olympic Auditorium at 8 p.m., ch. 13. KRLA deejay Emperor Hudson will be on-the-air-host.

HEAD FOR THE HILLS— Dick Shawn narrates a tour of the vacation resort in the Catskill Mountains, happy hunting grounds for romance-seekers. Color hour locally preempts Jack Paar's finale, at 10 p.m., ch. 4.

VONDA KAY Van Dyke, reigning Miss America, will be on hand to crown her successor, Miss America 1966, on the "Miss America Pageant" from Atlantic City, N. J., at 7 p. m. Saturday on channel 2.

(First Prize)

INDONESIAN BEEF STEW

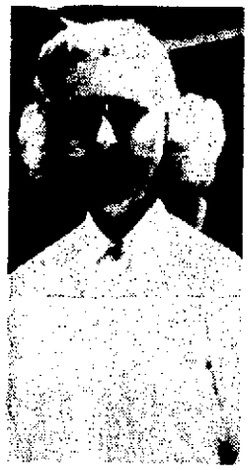

- 2 lbs. lean beef cut in chunks
- 2 cups vinegar
- 2 cups water
- Cooking oil
- 2 8 oz. cups strong black coffee
- 2 bouillon cubes
- 1 lg. onion coarsely chopped Salt and pepper mixed with water for to taste Cornstarch thickening Butter for sauteeing onions

Place beef chunks in a large bowl. Cover with the 2 cups of water and 2 cups of vinegar. Be sure all of the beef is covered with the liquid. Marinate, refrigerated 24 hours at least.

Pour off all liquid and discard. Dry meat using paper toweling, squeezing meat some to soak up most of liquid. Brown beef in a little oil a few pieces at a time until very dark in color. Use a dutch oven or large heavy pot. When all the beef is browned, add the strong coffee, bouillon cubes and enough water to cover all meat. Sautee the chopped onion in butter and add to beef along with salt and pepper.

Simmer, covered about 3 hours or until beef is nice and tender. When done thicken with cornstarch and water mix. Serve atop hot buttered noodles.

'SEQUEL-DRAMA' FOR DR. KILDARE

A New 'Looker' Joins the Cast

There's a "new look" and a new "looker" for "Dr. Kildare" this year.

Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey, in their fifth year as the heroes of Blair Hospital, are pioneering a fresh idea in story-telling technique. It's being referred to as "sequel-drama." And they're also introducing a new member of their cast, a young and pretty actress named Lee Kurty.

The new format and the new continuing player in the series will be seen in color on channel 7 Monday and Tuesday evenings, beginning Sept. 13.

* * * *

BOTH CHAMBERLAIN and Massey already have become staunch boosters for sequel-drama—and for Miss Kurty.

"This concept should mean better stories, and that's the secret of any show's success," declares the veteran Massey, who should know a good script when he sees one.

"Lee has amazing poise. She's a very talented actress," says Chamberlain, who should be able to recognize such qualities. In 132 hour shows filmed for "Dr. Kildare" during the past four years, he has worked opposite some 250 young actresses.

* * * *

MISS KURTY, the first player other than Chamberlain and Massey to be signed as a regular in the series, is an attractive blonde from Pittsburgh. She came to her role, that of Zoe Lawton, new young head nurse on Kildare's ward, from a Broadway stage run in "Absence of a Cello," a seven months tour of Australia in "Barefoot in the Park" and several seasons of summer stock.

"They tell me Zoe may have her eye on Kildare," Chamberlain comments. "It's just possible a romance may develop between them — we'll have to wait and see. Meanwhile, she'll have enough trouble as my head nurse."

* * * *

ACCORDING to Massey, the change to sequel-drama came about as a result of NBC's suggestion that "Dr. Kildare" be presented in half-hour programs twice a week during the new season.

"Norman Felton—he's our executive producer — liked the idea as long as it was understood there was no intention of turning the show into a soap-opera serial," Massey says. "He saw in it an opportunity to try something that hasn't been done on TV and to give writers greater freedom.

"Our writers now are being allowed to develop a story to whatever length is deemed best. If it takes six half-hour programs to tell it effectively, that's the way it is scheduled. Yet, each half-hour is being planned so that, we hope, viewers will be entertained by it alone.

"Last year, we had to reject several outstanding stories because we found they just couldn't be told properly in the one-hour format. That won't happen this season."

PRETTY LEE KURTY joins stars Richard Chamberlain (left) and Raymond Massey in the series' fifth year on television, airing in color two nights each week—Monday and Tuesday—beginning Sept. 13 on channel 4.

More Sexy Ladies on TV Next Season

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Possibly because of ABC-TV's "Peyton Place," or possibly because there is now so much sex in films that viewers have become impassive about it, there will be a good many sexy ladies in television series this season.

It wasn't always like this — not in the fairly recent days when the networks feared putting on too many glamor girls because it was felt their attractiveness might offend lesser-endowed and harder-working hausfraus who spend the shopping money.

* * * *

NOWADAYS, however, the afternoon soap operas provide more sex and suggestiveness for the average housewife than a year of old MGM movies. This comes in addition to the increasingly suggestive new movies. And even the television commercials are getting sexier.

Furthermore, the shortage of old movies for television means that newer ones will be shown soon in greater quantity — which means living rooms will be (and are now) getting the sort of stuff that was on view mainly at art film houses just a few years ago.

RUTH ROMAN

* * * *

ONE OF the female stars down the old prejudice who apparently helped break against glamorous women in regular video series was Inger Stevens, whose wholesome sexiness in Hollywood they used to call "clean sex" the ideal attraction) won popularity in ABC-TV's "The Farmer's Daughter."

This season, NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" will have a love interest, and so will the state congressman hero of CBS-TV's "Slattery's People."

EVA GABOR

EVA GABOR will star with Eddie Albert in CBS-TV's "Green Acres," about a couple that move from the big city to the country. Elizabeth Montgomery will be back in ABC-TV's "Bewitched." And Ruth Roman and Lana Wood (Natalie's younger sister) should provide some steamy moments in ABC-TV's "The Long, Hot Summer," a southern "Peyton Place."

½ tsp. chili powder
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup mayonnaise

To prepare pastry: sift flour with salt and chili powder into bowl. Cut shortening in, so that pieces are the size of coarse meal. Add water, a little at a time and toss with a fork. Shape pastry with hands and form into a ball. Chill while you prepare filling.

Cut chicken into small pieces and mix well with remaining ingredients. Roll pastry on a lightly floured board to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut into rounds using a half inch cutter. Spoon a little filling into each round and fold over, like small turnovers. Press edges together with the tines of a fork to seal. Prick top of each one. Bake on ungreased baking sheet 10-12 minutes in 450 degree oven. Makes 6 dozen tiny turnovers.

ALBONDIGAS
(Spicy Meatballs)

½ lb. chorizo or garlic sausage
1½ lbs. ground beef
1 clove garlic
1 tblsp. minced parsley
1 tsp. salt
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
2 tblsp. olive oil

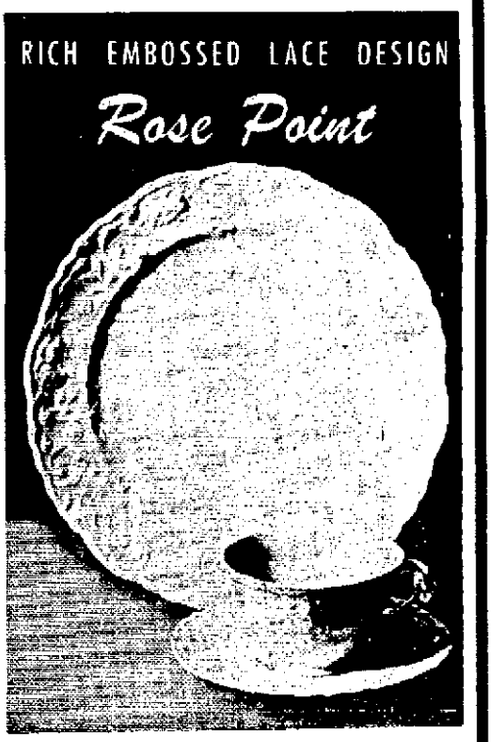

Put chorizo through food grinder and combine with other ground meat. Add grated or crushed garlic, parsley, salt, crumbs and egg, mixing well. Shape into 1-inch balls. Brown in olive oil, shaking pan to keep balls round. Cover and cook slowly 15 minutes. To serve as cocktail tidbits, keep hot in chafing dish, adding a small amount of sherry to keep from sticking. Makes 30 small balls.

RELISHES AND PICKLES

NITA L. PRUETER

(First Prize)

PICKLED CABBAGE

- 1 large or 2 small heads of cabbage
- 1 large onion chopped
- ⅞ cup of sugar
- 1 cup white vinegar
- ¾ cup salad oil
- 1 tblsp. salt
- 2 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. celery seed

Shred the cabbage and place half in large bowl. Shred the onion and sprinkle over the top of cabbage. Add the remaining cabbage and sprinkle the sugar over the top.

Heat the vinegar, salad oil, salt, sugar, mustard and celery seed. Pour over the cabbage. Cover quickly and keep in refrigerator at least 4 hours. Cabbage will keep as long as two weeks and will also freeze well.

Mrs. Nita L. Prueter
2046 Orange Ave.
Anaheim.

(Second Prize)

GREEN TOMATO RELISH

- 3 qts. green tomatoes
- 3 cups sliced onions
- 3 cups cider vinegar
- 1½ cups sugar
- 3 tblsp. salt
- 2 tblsp. mustard seed
- 1½ tsp. peppercorns
- 1 tsp. ground cloves
- 1 tsp. turmeric

Scald tomatoes, remove skins, and quarter. Place ingredients in kettle, bring to a boil and simmer 1 hour. Spoon into hot sterilized jars and seal immediately. Makes 12 half-pints.

Mildred M. Bazzell
20903 So. Nectar Ave.
Lakewood.

(Third Prize)

BREAD-BUTTER PICKLES

- 1 gallon medium-sized cucumbers
- 8 small white onions
- 1 green pepper
- 1 sweet red pepper
- ½ cup coarse medium salt
- cracked ice
- 4 cups sugar
- 1½ tsp. turmeric
- ½ tsp. ground cloves
- 2 tblsp. mustard seed
- 5 cups vinegar
- 2 tsp. celery seed

Thinly slice cucumbers. Add sliced onions and peppers cut in narrow strips. Add salt; cover with cracked ice; mix thoroughly. Let stand 3 hours; drain. Combine remaining ingredients. Pour over cucumber mixture. Bring to boiling. Seal in sterilized jars. Makes 8 pints.

Mrs. Lawrence C. Jenkins
1931 35th St.
San Pedro.

PLUM SAUCE

- 4 lbs. dark red plums
- 1½ lbs. sugar
- 1 tsp. cayenne pepper
- 1 tsp. ground ginger
- 2 pts. vinegar
- 1 tsp. cloves
- 1 tblsp. salt
- 2 oz. garlic or 2 lbs. onions

Boil all together 2 hours. Strain then bottle. This is similar to a ketchup and very tasty.

Mrs. H. M. Allebaugh
2516 219th St.

FRUIT RELISH SUPREME

- 3 lg. cooking pears
- 3 lg. peaches or 6 canned peach halves
- 3 small onions
- 4 med. sized tomatoes
- 1 green pepper
- ¾ cup sugar
- ½ cup vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- Dash of cayenne pepper
- ½ level tsp. cinnamon
- ½ level tsp. cloves

Peel fruits and vegetables; cut pepper in half, and remove core and seeds. Put all through a food chopper using medium knife. Add sugar, vinegar, salt and spices. Cook slowly about 2 hours, or until mixture thickens. Turn into clean hot jars and seal. Yield: 3 pints relish.

Dorothy Hill
775 Gardenia Ave.
Long Beach 13.

HORSERADISH MOUSSE

- 2 tblsp. cold water
- 1 envelope Knix gelatin
- ½ cup cream whipped
- ½ cup grated horseradish or prepared kind
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. lemon juice
- 1 tblsp. chopped onion

Soften gelatin in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Then cool. Whip cream, fold in remaining ingredients. Stir in gelatin and pour into mold and chill. Serves 6.

Mrs. Madge Zeman
666 Newport Ave.

BEET RELISH

- 3 cups peeled, sliced raw beets
- 2 tblsp. soft butter
- 1 tblsp. sugar
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch
- ¼ cup vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 cup water

Place all ingredients in blender at high speed about 6 seconds, until beets are shredded. Pour into sauce pan and cook over low heat 15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until beets are tender and juice is thickened. Chill and serve with roast beef. Makes about 2 cups.

Mrs. Donald Evans
9507 Glandon St.
Bellflower

The Week's Television Movie Tips

SUNDAY

WILD RIVER, 7:30 p.m., in color, ch. 9—Montgomery Clift, Lee Remick, Jo Van Fleet (1960). Elia Kazan film of the clash between the proud people of Tennessee and a federal agent ordered to clear them out for the TVA project.

THE VIKINGS, 9 p.m., in color, ch. 7—Kirk Douglas, Tony Curtis, Ernest Borgnine, Janet Leigh (1958). Son of Viking leader competes with a slave for the love of a lovely Welsh princess.

MONDAY

RED RIVER, 1 p.m., ch. 9—John Wayne, Montgomery Clift, Walter Brennan, Joanne Dru (1952). Story of a cattle baron and the empire he builds. Direction and acting are tops.

PRIDE & THE PASSION, Mon.-thru-Thurs. 8:30 p.m., in color, ch. 9—Cary Grant, Frank Sinatra, Sophia Loren, Theodore Bikel (1957). Stanley Kramer epic story of the Spanish war of independence in the Napoleonic era.

NO DOWN PAYMENT, 8 p.m., ch. 5—Joanne Woodward, Tony Randall, Jeffrey Hunter, Sheree North (1957). Postwar suburban problems, and the tragedy which touches four couples.

WEDNESDAY

ELEPHANT WALK, 9 p.m., in color, ch. 4—Elizabeth Taylor, Dana Andrews, Peter Finch (1954). Elephant stampede solves love triangle set on tea plantation in the Ceylon jungles.

FRIDAY

THE DETECTIVE, 8 p.m., ch. 11—Alec Guinness, Joan Greenwood, Peter Finch (British-1955). Guinness is delightful as Father Brown, a priest who fancies himself a top flight amateur detective.

MY COUSIN RACHEL, 10 p.m., ch. 9 (also Sat., 11 p.m.)—Richard Burton, Olivia DeHavilland, Nunnally Johnson (1953). Daphne du Maurier's suspense story of a woman who might be a schemer, a murderess, or simply in love.

SATURDAY

TALK OF THE TOWN, 3 p.m., ch. 13—Cary Grant, Jean Arthur, Ronald Colman (1952). Delightful comedy, loaded with social implications, about an outspoken man wrongly accused of murder.

BATTLEGROUND, 8:30 p.m., ch. 4—Van Johnson, John Hodiak, George Murphy, Ricardo Montalban (1942). Delightful comedy of the 101st Airborne is ordered to defend the French town of Bastogne.

ONCE MORE, WITH FEELING, 11:15 p.m., in color, ch. 7—Yul Brynner, Kay Kendall, Gregory Ratoff (1956). First run. Romantic comedy of woman who wants to divorce her symphony conductor husband, but can't. She's never legally married him.

POULTRY COOKERY

MRS. GENEVA KUHN

(First Prize)
CHICKEN LUAU

3 large fryers, cut up
½ cup pineapple tidbits, drained
2 tblsp. butter
2 tblsp. salt
1½ tblsp. corn starch
2 tblsp. pepper
Dash of cayenne, cinnamon, cloves
½ cup dried orange peel or marmalade
½ cup cooking sherry
¼ cup pineapple juice
2 tblsp. chutney
½ cup chopped celery and leaves
1 cup chicken stock or broth
½ cup blanched almonds

Saute pineapple in butter for five minutes. Add cornstarch and mix well. Add seasonings, then all other ingredients. Stir over low heat until thick. Pour over raw chicken. Bake in 350° oven 1-1½ hours, uncovered. May be served with rice pilaf. Serves 6 to 8.

COLOR TELEVISION

It's Really Here

By JOAN CROSBY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Several years ago, Henry Morgan looked directly into the eye of a television camera and said, "This show is being brought to you in color — for all you know."

Today if he were to say that, the people watching the 3,600,000 color sets now in use would know.

Bob Hope said that when the first western was telecast in color, the Indians stood still and the color ran.

Today, tuning in the new color sets is so simple a mechanical idiot can handle it. And color itself, which once left much to be desired, has improved to a point very close to perfection.

Hope also said, speaking of CBS, a steadfast color holdout: "They fought color longer than Alabama's Gov. Wallace." Then he added, "The first time Frank Stanton (the president of CBS) saw color, he sent for his television repair man."

* * * *

WHEN CBS opens its new season on Sept. 12, it will be colorcasting about 50% of its shows. It is a major capitulation, and a major triumph for RCA (NBC's parent) which pioneered color television.

Very definitely, the time has come to buy a color television set. If you have had any reservations, forget them. Prices have come down to a point where manufacturers have models available for $400 or a bit less.

* * * *

THE NEW television season will see an end to that. With the exception of two series (Convoy and I Dream of Jeannie), all NBC's nighttime programming will be in color.

CBS is tinting Lassie, My Favorite Martian, Ed Sullivan, The Lucy Show, Andy Griffith, Hazel (a color series when it was on NBC), Steve Lawrence, Red Skelton, Petticoat Junction, Beverly Hillbillies, Green Acres, Gilligan's Island, My Three Sons (moving over from ABC), Hogan's Heroes, Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., and the Thursday Night Movies.

ABC will be completely in color Sunday nights, beginning at 7 (Eastern time) with Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, and following that with The F.B.I. and Sunday Night at the Movies. Other color series for ABC are The Farmers Daughter, Gidget, The Big Valley, O. K. Crackerby, the King Family, Hollywood Palace, Lawrence Welk, Tammy and the Flintstones.

It's smart to build this fall—

Now—after the "Summer Rush"—you can get more pool value for your money!

We're in a dealin' mood. Let us prove that during our normally slower fall months we can offer a better deal than ever before...

■ Pools now cost less—We'll make you a price you can't pass up.

■ Best crews available—Our most expert crews, continuing through the fall; give each pool an extra touch of skilled perfection.

■ Discount prices on pool accessories—Our best equipment, manufactured and guaranteed by Anthony Pools, is available now at low "off-season" prices.

■ Swim during Christmas week. There are many warm days the year 'round when a heated Anthony pool is inviting. Plan a poolside Hallowe'en party or exotic luau. Enjoy your pool for a half-year free.

■ Landscape more leisurely. You can have the whole spring for your plantings. Your beautiful Anthony pool will add distinction to your home—and a new relaxed elegance to your way of life.

Your pool is an investment that continues to grow in value

Your pool is an asset to your home, and like your home it can be financed on very low payment terms. This makes owning a pool especially attractive to young families. It is important that your pool is dependably built with parts and service available in the future.

The fine reputation of Anthony Pools gives added value to your investment. Frequently, when fine homes are resold, the phrase "Anthony pool" is used in the real estate ads as proof of value.

Low monthly payments. Financing up to ten years. "No pay till May" is available on seven-year plan.

Price of pool	monthly payment 10-year plan
$1700	$22.33
2000	26.33
2500	33.00
3000	39.66
3500	46.33
4000	53.00

Reputation of the builder

For the first six months of 1965 in all of Southern California, Anthony built four times as many pools as any other single builder... an unmatched endorsement of Anthony's reputation for value and fairness.

Call the Anthony office in your neighborhood. They will work with you on prices and scheduling; work hard to keep you as a satisfied Anthony pool owner. Their old fashioned local service is backed by our own team of inspectors and our vast pool-building facility.

Financial back-up is needed for continuing service. Net worth of Anthony Pools is greater than any other pool builder in the world. Anthony Pools is listed on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges. Here is an example of the assets we have to assure you of completion and continuing service:

MRS. G. E. DULL

(First Prize)
ORANGE BLOSSOM PUDDING

1 bottle 7-Up (7 oz.)
½ cup milk
2 slightly beaten egg yolks
1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix (not instant) 3 oz.
1 3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
⅓ cup frozen orange juice concentrate
2 egg whites
¼ cup sugar
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, well drained

Combine 7-Up with milk and egg yolks. Prepare the pudding mix using the 7-Up mixture as the liquid. Add cream cheese and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Blend in orange juice concentrate; cool 10 minutes. Beat again until smooth. Beat egg whites to soft peaks, gradually adding sugar. Gently fold into pudding. Spoon into 6 sherbet glasses with the mandarin oranges.

(Second Prize)
HEAVENLY PINEAPPLE TORTE

¾ cup granulated sugar
4 tblsp. cornstarch
1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
1⅓ cups quick oatmeal
1 cup brown sugar
1½ cups white flour
½ cup soft butter
1 tsp. soda

Combine the sugar, cornstarch and pineapple in saucepan, and cook over medium to low heat, stirring constantly, until liquid thickens and becomes clear. Set aside. Put the oatmeal, brown sugar, white flour, butter and soda into mixing bowl and mix with hands until all ingredients become butter coated. Sprinkle half of the crumb mixture into a 9x13 pan and pat down lightly. Pour on the pineapple filling. Then sprinkle on the remaining crumb mixture, pat lightly and bake in 350 degree oven 30 minutes or until top becomes golden. Served chilled topped with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.

(Third Prize)
GRAPE CRUMBLY

4 cups seedless grapes
½ cup sugar
1 tblsp. lemon juice
Dash of salt
½ cup flour
1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup butter
Dash of nutmeg

Wash drain and stem grapes. Combine sugar, lemon juice, salt and nutmeg with grapes. Place in buttered casserole in a 375 degree oven 15 minutes. Sift flour, measure and mix with brown sugar; add butter and mix until a crumb-like consistency. Sprinkle over top of grapes and continue baking 25 minutes longer. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Serves 6.

CRANBERRY BAVARIAN

1 lb. can cranberry jelly
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
¼ tsp. salt
2 cups whipping cream
4-5 drops red food coloring (optional)

Soften gelatin in the cold water, then disolve over hot water. Mash cranberry jelly well or put it through a coarse strainer. Combine these cranberries, the dissolved gelatin, lemon juice and salt and mix well. Whip cream stiff, then fold it into cranberry mixture. Add 4-5 drops red food coloring to make a delicate pink. Spoon into a lightly oiled 1½ quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on round platter. Serves 8-10.

DUCHESS PUDDING

3 slices of white bread at least 3 days old
3 eggs
½ cup granulated sugar
½ tsp. salt
2 cups milk
¼ cup sherry wine
¼ tsp. nutmeg
¼ cup brown sugar, (dark)
¼ cup crushed graham cracker crumbs
1 tblsp. melted butter

Remove crusts from bread and cut into small cubes. Place bread cubes in a shallow pyrex baking dish 6x10. Beat eggs lightly add sugar, salt, milk, sherry and nutmeg, mix well together and pour over the bread crumbs. Set baking dish in larger pan with warm water in it (exactly as if to bake a custard). Bake at 350° for a little less than 1 hour or until it is nearly set in the center. Mix the brown sugar, graham cracker crumbs and melted butter and put this topping over the custard after you have removed it from the oven and it has nearly set. Return pudding to oven for another 5 minutes only. Cool before serving and serve with whipped cream.

APRICOT KUCHEN

2 tblsp. butter
1 pkg. refrigerator biscuits
Apricot jam
1 egg
½ cup sour cream
2 tsp. sugar
½ tsp. vanilla

Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in an 8x8x2 baking pan. Separate the 10 biscuits from the package; either plane or buttermilk biscuits can be used. Coat each with butter in the pan, then arrange in a single layer in the pan. Top each with a generous teaspoon of apricot jam. Bake in 450° oven 5 minutes. While biscuits bake, beat the egg slightly then stir in the sour cream, sugar and vanilla. Remove biscuits from oven, reduce heat to 350°. Spoon cream mixture over the biscuits; bake 20 minutes longer or until custard is set. Cut into squares and serve warm.

RHUBARB PUDDING

4 cups cut-up rhubarb
2 cups water
3 cups sugar
2 tsp. red food coloring
¼ tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. tapioca
4 tblsp. corn starch
½ cup cold water

Cook rhubarb, sugar and 2 cups water until it is soft. Put through a colander. Add red coloring, cinnamon and tapioca. Bring to a boil and stir in the corn starch which has been mixed to a paste with ½ cup cold water. When thick, pour into a bowl and sprinkle the top with sugar to keep a film from forming. Chill. Serve with cream which has been flavored with vanilla and

Hearst Castle, crowning a hill at San Simeon, rose under the direction of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst, who poured millions into its construction and furnishings. It is now the property of the State of California and open to visitors for a fee. One of the most imposing views on the castle grounds is from the 250,000-gallon Neptune Pool, pictured on Southland's cover. In background is a model of a Greco-Roman temple. The pool is flanked by a pillared colonnade. Tours of the castle have attracted some 300,000 persons annually, and the number is expected to rise to 360,000 this year. Thanks to a devoted group of Long Beach area residents, sightless persons may be able to "read" books that might never have come their way under other circumstances. The thanks go to volunteers who translate printed words into Braille—a tedious task, but one with uncounted reward in the hearts of the blind. The how, what, why, when and where of this story of unselfishness is related by Renee B. Simon in "Words at Their Fingertips" in next Sunday's Southland Magazine.

Outside House Painting Now Eliminated

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the homeowner . . . an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate exterior house painting for over 10 years. This remarkable textured coating is Fiberglass FLEXON.

BEST IN NATION

Homeowners are requested not to spend a single penny on painting their residence until they hear the FLEXON STORY. This remarkable material insulates, waterproofs and beautifies, and every Fiberglas FLEXON job is factory guaranteed for 10 full years against chipping, flaking or peeling.

Fiberglas, a product of Owens-Corning, brings to FLEXON its great strength, its wonderful insulating properties, its resistance to time, weather, and chemical attack.

PROVEN OVER MANY YEARS

FLEXON is one of the oldest, tried and true coatings now being marketed and has been applied on thousands of homes and commercial buildings. These buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 10 years exposure in all types of weather.

SHOT FROM A GUN

FLEXON is applied with special heavy duty spray equipment and is actually "shot from a gun" without muss, fuss or odor. FLEXON fuses itself to the wall and fills holes, cracks and covers building defects.

CITY OF LONG BEACH

Cal-Tex Improvements, Inc., is a licensed City of Long Beach Building Contractor. Most of the work now being done by Cal-Tex is in the greater Long Beach Area.

Cal-Tex has been selected as the exclusive franchised contractor of FLEXON in Southern Calif. You can obtain free information or have a free home demonstration without obligation. The low cost will surprise you and terms can be arranged to suit your pocketbook.

MARINE STADIUM'S MAJOR OPERATION NEXT

The Racy Lady's Last Fling

By BOB RUSKAUFF

—Author's Photos

Newest inboard racing class, Super Stock runabouts, above, will be among fleet racing craft in the "Last Fling Regatta" Monday at Long Beach Marine Stadium. Top, racer Bill DeLeenher and the Labor Day Regatta queen, Anita Driggs, look over air photo of stadium area, due for improvement.

OVER the famed but skimpy tidal bosom of Long Beach Marine Stadium there will be another major speedboat race Monday afternoon—then quiet. Big-time racing boat competition is due to depart—but not for too long; the reason, a major improvement of water strip and park sides is in the making.

Nothing world-stirring in the announcement of Monday's race meet, even though it's a big one—the 20th annual Labor Day Inboard Sweepstakes Regatta, sponsored by the Pilot Club, Long Beach chapter, service organization comprised of 29 ebullient business and professional women.

Marine Stadium West, as it is correctly but confusingly termed (since it lies on the extreme eastern extremity of Fourth Street) has been the site of events for 37 years; big ones, little ones, in-between ones.

IT BEGAN in 1928 when such water sports greats of the past as film star Dustin Farnum, comedy producer Al Christie and Long Beach's own first king of hydroplane drivers, Richard (Smiling Dick) Loynes, raced their boats on it.

In 1932, when competitive raceways were desperately needed, as they still are today, Marine Stadium was gussied up to offer a 2,000-meter rowing course. As a consequence eight-oar rowing races of the Xth Olympiad were held in Long Beach.

After this, though she never had quite the clothes for her roles, the skinny little water sprite became known for a while as Olympic Marine Stadium.

During the early 1930s, the Hearst Regattas, featuring outboard speedboats, were held here. In the 1940s, inboard raceboats took over also. For the past two decades, Long Beach has been home course for the 230-plus member Southern California Speedboat Club (conductors of the Labor Day races).

DRAG BOAT races, including national championships, have been held since 1957. In 1959 there was some more gussying-up, and Long Beach was host to the world water ski championships.

So, Monday afternoon, a long era will end temporarily. The distaff promoters are calling their race the "Last Fling Regatta." And, it's exactly that, but far, far from the end of the skinny sprite.

Marine Stadium is aged 37 and is going up for a long-needed major operation, including a face lift—a total of $1,383,000 worth not including cost of new bleachers. An estimated 10 to 16 months later the old gal will really debut, looking like Cinderella at the height of the ball.

During the construction period, day-to-day usage by skiers, rowers, Sea Scouts, et al, will continue, it is planned, but major sports events will be out.

THE ESTIMATED construction costs are actually well under the $1,790,000 maxium expenditure from the city's Tideland Oil Fund, which was authorized on Oct. 22, 1964 by the State Lands Commission.

To size up the final result Deputy City Engineer Tom Marchese, in going over plans, first asks: "What are we working with?"

The physical area totals 68 acres, including 48 acres of water surface, surrounded on three sides by 20 acres of land. The area is a fingerling offshoot, west-northwest of Long Beach Yacht Marina, with Appian Way along the ocean side and Colorado St. slanting past to the northeast.

Per the plans, drawn up by Moffatt and Nichol, Long Beach engineering firm, the utility system will be completely underground, thus affording best total use of all space.

The up-coming crosstown freeway, which approaches along Colorado St., then curves east to Highway 101, will nip a small portion off the northwest end. This will not affect crowd accommodations, though it is important that ingress and egress freeway ramps be strategic to the stadium.

ITEMS PRIMARILY important in the program include:

—complete landscaping. Turf planted will be rugged, designed to handle overflow parking for crowd events without damage.

—fully-paved area on both sides of the course.

—an 8,000-square foot building to house rowing shells on the east-north-east end.

—smallboat sailing haul-out at the east-south-east end and a larger concrete haulout for speed and pleasure boats to the west of it.

—a two-story concessionaire, announcers and officials building on the west-south-west (Appian Way) side.

—area at west-north-west end for Camp Sea Hawk (Mariner Scouts).

—two added comfort stations on the northeast side (to total six).

—4,000 semi-permanent, lock-type bleachers, southwest side; 7,000 portable bleachers (all can be dismantled for other use in non-racing season).

—ample (?) off-street parking—but this important last item may impose some problems. Single-line parking within the stadium will allow 484 cars. Using the landscape area and two other plots, plus stack-parking, and some 1,500 cars more can be added.

This is still not enough for crowds at major events, but other remedies are being studied.

Whatever, fans at the Labor Day Speedboat Sweepstakes may view with special interest, because Marine Stadium will never be quite the same again.

REFRIGERATOR DESSERTS, RUSSE, MOUSSE etc.

(First Prize)

ICE CREAM DESSERT

- 2½ cups rice krispies
- 1 cup coconut
- ½ cup chopped nuts
- 1 cube of butter
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 qts. ice cream

Melt butter on cookie sheet. Add rice krispies, coconut, and nuts. Blend well. Bake at 350° 15 minutes, stirring several times. Remove from oven and add ½ cup brown sugar; mix well. Cool.

Put half of this mixture in a 9x12 buttered pan. Cover with the ice cream that has been softened. Cover with remainder of mixture and freeze.

(Second Prize)

MINT SQUARES

- ½ lb. vanilla wafers, crushed or 2 cups graham cracker crumbs
- 1 cup crushed peppermint candy
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- 2 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup miniature marshmallows
- 1 pt. whipping cream

Lightly butter a 9" square pan. Sprinkle half of crumbs over bottom. Combine candy, marshmallows and nuts. Add flavored whipped cream. Spread over crumbs. Top with remaining crumbs and pat lightly. Chill overnight. Serves 12.

(Third Prize)

STRAWBERRIES JULIET

- 4 cups halved fresh strawberries
- 1 tblsp. lemon juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 pt. vanilla ice cream
- 1 cup strawberry yogurt

Combine strawberries, lemon juice and sugar, chill well. Just before serving, spoon berry mixture into sherbet glasses. Soften ice cream by stirring slightly, fold in yogurt just enough to give a marbled effect. Spoon ice cream sauce over berries. Use one big berry as a garnish. Serves 5 to 6.

CHERRY DELIGHT

- 12 graham crackers, rolled fine
- 1 cube margarine
- 1 lge. cream cheese
- 1 box. powdered sugar
- 1 pkg. large, dream whip
- Milk, as directed on pkg. of whip
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 can of cherry pie mix

Roll the graham crackers fine and add to the cube of butter. Spread or pat in bottom of 9" pie pan. Bake until done or brown then cool. Mix the cream cheese and powdered sugar and put into pie shell and refrigerate 15 minutes. Whip the dream whip and milk as directed on package and add the vanilla. Whip to a stiff peak and pour over the cheese in the shell and refrigerate for another 5 minutes. Pour the cherry pie mix over the dream whip mix then return to refrigerator until ready to serve. Blue Berries, strawberries or any fruit can be substituted.

Castle in the Sky

Twin Spanish towers crown main structure of the Hearst Castle.

La Casa Grande, built by W.R. Hearst at San Simeon, will be visited by 360,000 in 1965

By JIM McCAULEY

Sprawling over 123 acres of hill crest, the Hearst estate, now property of California, commands breathtaking view of coast. Aerial view above.

YOU DON'T have to live in a child's dream world to make a reservation at a castle in the sky.

The State Beaches and Parks Division in Sacramento will handle it for you—for a slight fee. The state wound up in the castle business in 1958 when it was deeded Hearst Castle.

The castle business in California has been booming ever since.

Some 300,000 persons a year take public tours through Hearst Castle. The castle gawkers are expected to exceed 360,000 this year.

And a California castle is such a top attraction, hundreds are turned away on holiday weekends and busy summer-vacation periods.

SOME FAMILIES—without reservations—wait hours for an opening on a conducted tour. The on-the-spot tours cost $2. However, you can arrange for a reserved tour for a specific time and day by mailing $3 to the Sacramento headquarters (P. O. Box 2390) of the State Beaches and Parks Division. Fees cover castle maintenance and guides.

If you also want to go upstairs, there is an additional $4 fee.

How can a castle in California's rugged and remote San Simeon—260 miles north of Long Beach—pull as many as 2,400 persons a day through the turnstiles?

The grandeur of Hearst Castle makes other castles look like pockets of poverty.

THE CASTLE majestically crowns The Enchanted Hill—five miles from the seaside village of San Simeon on State Hwy. 1. Guests reach the castle on a five-mile winding road.

The 100-room castle is on a 123-acre crest of the hill. An estimated $1 million a year was spent on the castle by the family of William Randolph Hearst for 50 years.

There are gardens, pools, fountains, Gothic fireplaces, rare tapestries, statues of a lion-faced deity chiseled in granite by Egyptians before Christ, and intricately paneled, carved and decorated ceilings.

THE BED of Cardinal Richelieu is at the San Simeon Hearst Castle.

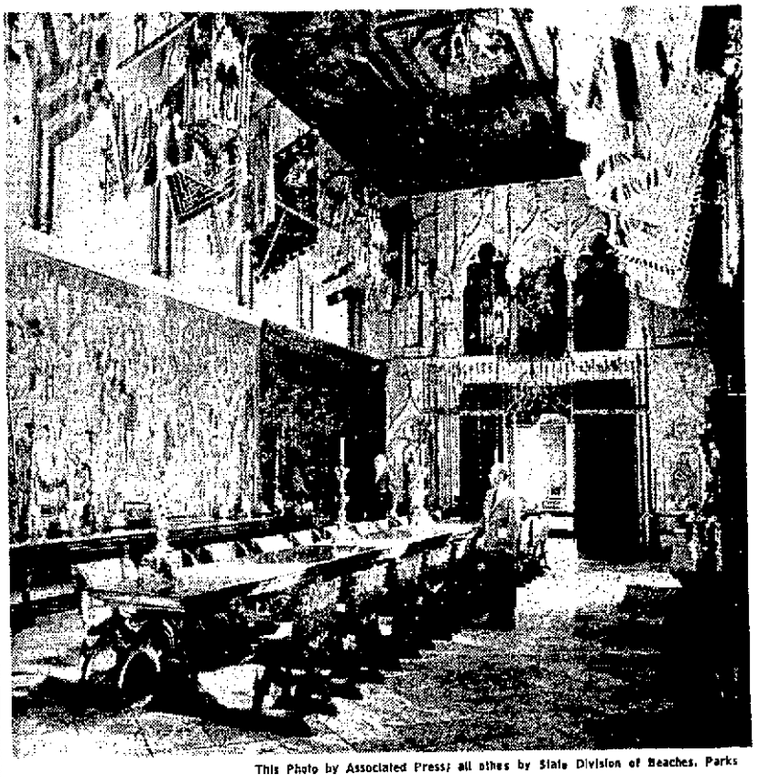

One of the most imposing views is from the 250,000-gallon Neptune Pool. In the background is a model of a Greco-Roman temple. The pool is flanked by a pillared colonnade.

The main structure, La Casa Grande, crowns the skyline with twin Spanish towers. There also are three palatial guest houses.

Till 1958, the castle could be viewed only from afar—by a coin-in-the-slot telescope in San Simeon. That was before the state went into the castle business.

As a result of the castle boom, new motels, restaurants and filling stations have opened nearby on Coast Hwy. 1. It pays to have a castle in your back yard.

GAME COOKERY

ELIZABETH DUFFIN

(First Prize)

CORNISH GAME HENS IN BLACK CHERRY SAUCE

- 4 Cornish Game hens about 1 lb. each
- Salt, pepper, ac'cent, garlic powder
- 3 tblsp. butter
- ⅓ cup chopped onions
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup chopped carrots
- ⅓ cup flour
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 #2 can pitted black cherries
- 2 tblsp. brown sugar
- 2 tblsp. burgundy wine
- 4 small onions

Heat oven to 300 degrees: Truss birds, tying back and wings. Season inside of hens with seasonings. Brown in frying pan in hot butter, turning to brown all over. Place small orange in each hen cavity. Place in baking pan with chopped vegetables and just enough broth to keep vegetables from burning. Add stock as needed. When hens are tender, (45 mins. to 1 hour), remove from pan and keep warm. Add balance of consomme, juice from cherries, brown sugar and burgandy. Thicken with flour. When desired thickness, strain and add cherries. Serve with wild rice. Serves 4.

(Second Prize)

SAVORY PHEASANT Au CHASSUER

- 1½ cups of cooked wild and regular rice
- 2 onions, finely chopped
- 1 cup of grated apple
- 1 cup of sliced almonds
- 1 pinch of nutmeg
- ½ cup sauterne wine
- Pinch of salt
- 1 egg beaten with 1 tblsp. milk
- ½ tsp. of Angostura bitters

Fill the pheasant cavity with the above ingredients, rub bird with butter, salt and grated orange peel. Truss bird with pins. Bake in shallow, uncovered pan until golden brown, wrap wings in foil. Baste with the following liquid.

- ½ cup orange juice
- ½ cup bourbon whiskey
- 2 tblsp. honey
- 2 tblsp. Cointreau

Cook 2½ hours at 375 degrees. Flame before serving with the Cointreau.

BRAISED DUCK A-la-ORANGE

- 3 oranges
- 1 6 lb. duck
- Salt and pepper
- 4 tblsp. butter
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup orange juice
- 1 tsp. cornstarch

Peel two oranges and quarter. Remove white inner pulp and cut peel in thin strips to make 1 tablespoon. Dress and clean duck, rub with salt and pepper and cook in butter in heavy pan until skin is browned. Add bouillon, orange quarters and peel. Cover tightly and simmer until tender (about 1½ hours). Remove duck and keep warm while making sauce. Add half cup of orange juice to pan and heat. Add cornstarch mixed with water and stir until slightly thickened. Pour over duck. Garnish with orange. Serves 6.

Two scientists find way to develop a

Garden in Space

Discovery hailed as an important step toward manned space stations

By LOU JOBST

TWO University of California scientists have developed a garden that a man can carry to the farthest reaches of space.

At the same time other UC scientists headed by Nobel Laureate Melvin Calvin are delving into the very processes of life including how it arises on a primitive, elemental world.

The extra terrestrial Eden is the work of Drs. William J. Oswald and Clarence G. Golucket at the Sanitary Engineering Research Laboratory at Richmond.

Called an Algatron, it is an important step toward manned space stations and sustained flights into deep space.

THE ALGATRON system, using a mixture of algae, bacteria and water to form a closed biological environment, creates a continuous supply of fresh air and water.

Science has not been able to employ the system in the past because the standard double-walled container proved too bulky, heavy and inefficient for use in space.

The UC researchers overcame this problem by an ingenious use of centrifugal force —or a spinning action—to keep a thin film of the mixture growing on the inside of a transparent plastic drum.

Not only is their system considerably more compact and lighter, it works better.

THIN FILMS, because they have more exposure to light and air than tank-grown cultures, grow at a faster rate and are therefore more efficient producers of oxygen and converters of waste products, their role in the process of photosynthesis.

Elimination of the second wall also makes possible unlimited and easy access to the culture.

Algatron, say the inventors, is small enough to be launched with available rocket power.

While the biological processes of Algatron are nothing new, the system represents important technological breakthroughs.

OSWALD, professor of public health, and Golucket microbiologist, determined previously that algae and bacteria, existing primarily on human waste products, could provide enough oxygen and fresh water to enable man to live indefinitely in space.

To prove their point they sealed a mouse inside a glass cylinder containing about three quarts of the algae-bacteria-water mixture and passed only food into the compartment. The rodent lived inside the device, named a microterella ("small little world"), for six weeks, or the equivalent of six years in human life.

The animal could have survived indefinitely, they say, or until the end of its natural lifetime.

Interdependence is the essence of the system. Bacteria breaks down the animal wastes. The algae, in turn, live off the waste from the bacteria, while at the same time absorbing carbon dioxide (produced by human respiration) and emitting oxygen (needed for human breathing).

THE WARM, oxygen-rich air of the Algatron would be drawn through condensers along the cold outer walls of a space vehicle, providing both water by condensation and cool air.

The system can produce up to 10 gallons of fresh water per day per man, more than is needed. The surplus can be used by the algae mixture.

While there is no theoretical limit to the size of an Algatron, present plans envision 10 4x1½-foot units, containing 60 pounds of mixture each, per man. The entire system would weigh about 1,000 pounds per man.

Sunlight would be used both to provide illumination for Algatron chambers and energy used to spin or motor the Algatrons when they are used in space.

Meanwhile, at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, chemist Dr. Melvin Calvin, who was awarded a Nobel Prize for his work with photosynthesis, and his associates, have discovered a chemical process whereby they can join together, under primitive earth conditions, relatively simple biological compounds called monomers into more complex chemicals called polymers.

USING THE PROCESS, the scientists synthesized polymers for the first time in a simulated primitive atmosphere.

The discovery provides Calvin and his team with a chemical mechanism which could have helped life develop on the primitive earth much more rapidly than was previously believed.

This need was created by the UC scientist, who, earlier this year, reported discovery of 2.7 billion year chemical molecules produced by living systems.

Until the discovery of these "dawn molecules," scientists widely believed life arose only in the last billion years.

Both feats are part of a two-pronged program at Lawrence to reconstruct the origin and trace the evolution of life.

Dr. Melvin Calvin and his UC team of researchers have discovered new earth life clues.

Artist's drawing above shows how an Algatron might be installed and used on a doughnut-shaped space station. Lower, Dr. William Oswald with "microterella" and attached model Algatron. Through use of Algatron, space voyagers could be provided with endless water, oxygen supply.

THE BIG SNOW JOB

California's Frozen Reservoirs

By BILL DUNCAN

NEXT TIME you take a long, cool drink of water think of snow. More than likely that's what you're drinking.

The water running from the taps at this time of the year is almost certain to be melted snow from California's frozen reservoirs. Sixty-two per cent of the Southland's summer water supply comes from this vast network of snow fields, covering some 21,000 square miles in the state's highlands. Any elevation higher than 5,000 feet can hold a water supply for summer consumption.

In April this frozen reserve of precious water begins to thaw slowly—a process that takes three months and nets approximately 14½ million acre feet of water. An acre foot of water, by formula, is an amount of water one foot deep spread over one acre of ground.

THE SNOW FALLS on California mountains from December to March. It freezes fast. This climatic condition, coupled with the topography of California, creates the frozen reservoirs and allows man valuable time to determine what the "water crop" will yield for the summer season. Both state agencies and private industry send teams of experts to survey the snow depth and compute the expected water yield.

These snow scientists—called hydrographers—have been forecasting the thaw for more than 40 years. The symbol of their trade is a long steel tube which they press into the snow to measure its depth, compaction and water content. Compaction is important to the computation of the water crop because eight feet of loosely packed snow will yield less water than five feet of tightly packed snow.

The snowmen, working in teams, trudge the white fields, sampling each mountain range where the snowpack holds for the winter. They measure the depth of the snow and cut vertical cores from the snowpack with tubes of such diameter that the difference in weight between full and empty tubes can be recorded directly as inches of water content.

THE AVERAGE DEPTH of the snow and its water content are multiplied by the distance in square miles of the snow course itself. The results are then added to, subtracted from and divided by, other factors such as runoff of the preceding year, the amount of snowmelt anticipated prior to the big thaw and the amount of water the ground is expected to absorb.

The first interest—in 1919—in how much water the snowpack held was not for water at all, but damage the water would cause when snowfed streams and rivers reached flood crest during the spring thaw. Subsequent sporadic studies of the snowpack were made to anticipate flood conditions.

By 1929, the demand was for more accurate knowledge and the state gathered together all agencies conducting surveys to set up a network of survey points. All the information was then compiled and analyzed at the state office.

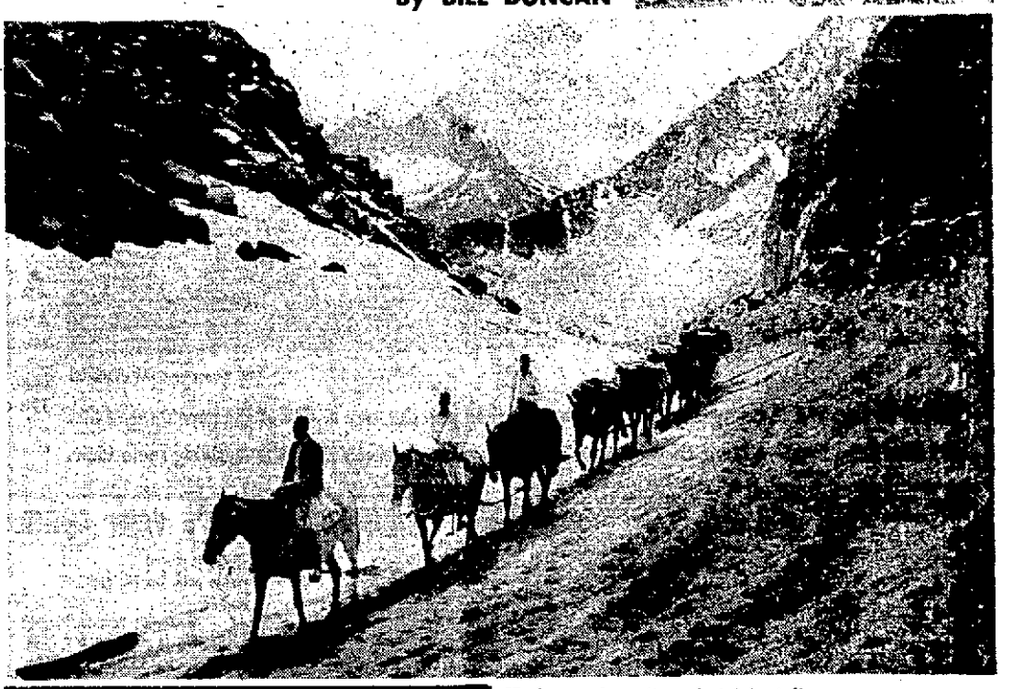

Following California's lead, 16 other Western states have set up similar programs, all of which are administered and coordinated by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. California administers its own program.

CALIFORNIA HAS also pioneered new and more accurate methods of learning nature's secrets in holding this water supply. Some 60 aerial snow-depth markers are in areas inaccessible by ground travel during winter months. These markers are photographed from low-flying fixed-wing aircraft and the icy photo-reconnaissance missions reveal depth data.

Precipitation storage gauges are located at remote spots and the water marks are checked in the summer months to learn exactly how much precipitation fell over a specific period of time.

Research over the years has shown that timber can be cut in the watershed area in such a way as to retard the runoff for a longer period of time, or speed it up, as demand may dictate.

HELICOPTERS are now used to fly surveyors to the higher elevations where the teams once climbed on foot on sampling expeditions that took from seven to ten days to complete. The men still trek through the back country at the more accessible lower elevations. Small cabins are spaced out a "snowshoe day's walk" along the circuit. The cabins are stocked with provisions, sleeping bags and a wood stove.

For the most part, today the snow surveyors are airlifted to the higher elevations and set down on the glistening white fields to make their studies. Ninety snow courses are measured in the state each February and March. In April, the last month before the thaw, all 300 courses in the state are measured to get the full picture. This is one-fourth of the number of snow courses measured in the entire United States.

Seventeen organizations, including utility companies, municipalities, counties, private water companies, irrigation associations and the state and federal governments participate in the snow survey. In addition, 30 organizations contribute funds to the program. The data gathered by all participating agencies is funneled into the State Department of Water Resources where it is compiled and published in a report.

THIS REPORT, according to William E. Warne, director of the state's water resources, becomes the water bible, particularly for the parched sections of Southern California.

"Our dependence on the snow surveyor's data to forecast water supplies accurately has grown steadily through the years," Warne asserts. "It increases more every day with the state's expanding population and growing water consumption."

The water that once ran rampant from the mountains to the sea carrying off with it valuable topsoil is now carefully channeled through a network of natural and man-made lakes and reservoirs where it is stored and doled out to meet the need in the summer. This is true conservation, the use of an otherwise wasted resource.

The water supply from nature's temporary storage is used for human consumption, farm irrigation, hydroelectric power and the surplus is stored in underground basins. In the state's Central Valley alone there is an estimated underground storage capacity of 130,000,000 acre-feet within 200 feet of the ground surface.

UTILITY FIRMS, such as Southern California Edison Co., whose own men help compile the report, can tell from the information how much water will be shed at spring-

APRICOT SALAD

- 2 pkgs. orange jello
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 No. 2½ can apricots, drained
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, drained and mashed well
- ½ cup miniature marshmallows

Dissolve the orange jello in the 2 cups boiling water. Combine juices from apricots and pineapple and add 1 cup to jello mixture. Place in refrigerator until partly set. Then add half cup each of apricots, pineapple and miniature marshmallows. Put back in refrigerator to set.

Topping

- ½ cup sugar
- 2 heaping tblsp. flour
- 1 cup drained fruit juice
- 1 egg well beaten
- 1 cup whipped cream
- 1 cup sharp cheddar cheese grated

Combine and cook together (except for cheese and cream) until well blended. Let set until cold then fold in cream and put grated cheese on top.

So They Gave Each Other a House

By STELLA GEORGE

—Staff Photos by CURT JOHNSON

Treasures acquired in many world travels were worked into the very design of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John Page—a home they gave each other as an anniversary gift. Above, living room view.

AS A WEDDING anniversary present, Mr. and Mrs. John Page, 4112 Country Club Drive, decided to give themselves a new home. Architect Richard Prior designed the house to luxurious and, at the same time, comfortable and functional living.

The residence is a tri-level. Steps lead to the front doors which open to the main living quarters which are on the second floor level. The doors open to a large entrance hall which might almost be called a foyer, with a floor of terrazo. Built-in planters with hanging lights above are on either side of the front doors. Straight ahead is a long, low chest with a mirror above. A hallway to the kitchen is to the left, stairways up and down to the right, and to the front left access is to the living room.

In their many world travels, the Pages have acquired many treasures from foreign countries. Prior designed the home to house these treasures in a most pleasing manner.

AT ONE END of the living room is a blue ice stone fireplace with a spinet piano at one side. Walnut paneling with shelves for knickknacks and cupboards below is at the other end. Filigreed sliding doors to the right can close off the dining room, if desired. Carpeting is blue-green, carried from the living room to the dining room, and is also used on the stairways leading to upper and lower levels.

The conversation grouping of the living room furniture is ideal. A champagne sofa faces twin sofas placed in an "L" fashion, meeting a drum table across the way. The coffee table in front of the long sofa, an object of conversation and admiration, came from China, as its intricate carving would indicate. The entire top of the oblong table is carved, telling a story with the raised wood figures. A glass top lends protection. Six small stools fit under the table, four customed to the corners and two fitting to the center.

BAKED CHICKEN ASPARAGUS

- 8 slices enriched bread
- 2 cups chopped cooked chicken
- 1 10-oz. pkg. cut asparagus, cooked
- 1 cup grated cheddar cheese
- 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of chicken soup
- ½ cup milk
- ¼ cup chopped pimientos

Trim crusts from bread. Arrange four slices on the bottom of an 8" square baking dish; top with half of chicken. Arrange cooked asparagus over chicken; spread remaining chicken over asparagus layer. Top with half of the grated cheese. Combine undiluted chicken soup, milk and pimientos. Pour half of this mixture over chicken. Cover with other four bread slices; sprinkle with remaining cheese. Pour remaining soup mixture over bread. Bake in a slow oven 325° 30 minutes. Serves 4.

Looking across the dining room, the camera views a built-in sideboard, then the dinette area and, in the far background, a very modern kitchen.

TREASURED pieces, both ornamental and functional, have histories of their own. Even the acquisition of the pieces is a story in itself since they were brought from so many foreign places. Some of the treasures include vases from Iran; carved figures from Africa; a carved figure from Indonesia; a tiny bird cage with two "singing" birds from Switzerland; a small and delicate screen from Japan; Delft porcelain from Holland; a hanging lamp from Cairo. There are many more.

The dining room suite is Duncan Phyfe. The china cabinet against one wall is of great interest since Mrs. Page painted several of the plates, cups, and saucers.

A formal dining room is separated from a dinette by a built-in sideboard which has storage below, open space and an upper cabinet that runs the entire width facing the dining room. The open space can be shut off with sliding doors above the buffet counter when desired.

THE DINETTE is separated from the kitchen with a low, tiled counter which has a stove in the center and work areas on either side. Counters and appliances are turquoise; papered areas of the wall are blue and green. Floor-to-ceiling walnut doors in the dinette open to movable shelves which provide storage for glassware, china, vases, candle holders, trays, and other miscellaneous items. A walk-in pantry is useful.

At the head of the stairs, walnut paneling lends charm. Practically speaking, there is a floor to ceiling cupboard for linen storage at this strategic place. A thick, white carpet in the hallway leads to the master bedroom suite. Accessories include pieces such as a marble table inlaid with semi-precious stones, a carved chest, avocado colored hanging lamps. Beyond the adjoining dressing room is the bath with a large pink bathtub at the far end. A shelf above the tub is adorned with pink flower bouquets and other carefully selected pieces.

NO PROBLEM presents itself when children and grandchildren come to visit. Downstairs there is a large bedroom with a private bath, also a large den-bedroom with a private bath.

The service porch, with all washing and ironing facilities is about the size of many kitchens. Nearby, a powder room is convenient for guests. Carpeting in this room is royal blue wool turf, rich and luxurious. The appointments are blue, wallpaper blue and gold.

A reverse view of the area pictured at top of the page, showing ample cupboard and drawer installations that service the convenient kitchen.

CHINESE PEPPER STEAK

- 2 lbs. round steak
- 4 tblsp. vegetable oil
- 1 tsp. salt
- Dash of pepper
- 2 small cloves garlic, finely minced
- 2 medium green peppers, coarsely diced
- 4 Cups coarsely sliced celery
- 3 tblsp. coarsely chopped pimiento
- ½ cup chopped onions
- 3 cups beef bouillon (bouillon cubes)
- 4 tblsp. cornstarch
- 4 tsp. soy sauce
- ½ cup water
- 1 5½ oz. can crisp Chinese noodles

Cut beef into rather small slices. Heat oil in large kettle. Add beef, minced garlic and chopped onions. Cook and stir until meat is browned, about 5 minutes. Add salt, pepper and bouillon. Cover and cook over low heat for half hour. Add green peppers, celery and pimiento and cook until vegetables are just tender (not overdone). COTTAGE BEEF

- 1½ lb. round of beef
- Flour
- Garlic salt
- Pepper
- 3 tblsp. bacon drippings
- ½ cup dry red wine
- ½ cup sliced green onions
- 1 envelope beef soup mix
- 1 cup boiling water
- 2 cups hot mashed potatoes
- 1 envelope sour cream sauce mix
- 2 egg yolks, beaten
- ⅛ tsp. nutmeg

BOOK REVIEWS

Writing Our Big Achievement

By VERA WILLIAMS
Southland Magazine Book Editor

IF YOU'RE feeling down in the dumps because you think the computer is beginning to dwarf homo sapiens, go up to the nearest brain machine and ask it what its breed has done remotely comparable to the invention of writing. J. Hambleton Ober, in "WRITING: MAN'S GREAT INVENTION" (Obolensky $7.50) makes you feel proud of being a member, however humble, of the human race.

Ober traces our alphabet to the remote age when pictures of things and of ideas were man's only records. His book is more than generous with illustrations of what he's talking about.

"Never," he writes, "was there a first man who could sit down and say: 'Now I am going to write.' That supreme achievement of man was the result of a slow and natural development over thousands of years."

Even the word alphabet itself "betrays its pictorial origin, for it is nothing more than a combination of the names of the first two letters in the ancient Greek alphabet, alpha and beta, which come from the Semitic letters aleph and beth. Aleph means ox "—in other words our letter a, which is a descendant of alpha and aleph, was at first the drawing of an ox's head."

And beta? The Semitic beth, ancestor of our b, was originally the drawing of a house. So you see how fascinating the story of writing can be, and J. Hambleton Ober's style and the drawings in the book make it doubly so.

ON THE DUST jacket of "CHARLES DARWIN AND HIS WORLD" (Viking, ($6.50) by Julian Huxley and H.B.D. Kettlewell, the great scientist stares with purposeful eyes over full flowing beard. Just as his worshipers swear by Mohammed's beard, so do Darwin's admirers (and who, at this late date, is not one of them?) swear by the prophet of evolution.

The co-authors of this book are Julian Huxley, a grandson of Darwin, and the noted geneticist Kettlewell. They offer a study of Darwin—man and ideas—that is actually exciting because it evokes the scientific battle that saw the theory of evolution through to acceptance. Sketches from Darwin's papers, living, breathing portraits of the men in both corners of the ring for and against Darwin's theories, contemporary cartoons make the book a lively one.

Dr. Kettlewell prepared for the book with a visit to the places Darwin saw in the famed voyage of HMS Beagle and thus the book makes us feel we too are accompanying Darwin on that expedition. You are truly there when you read this book.

WANT TO adopt a baby? Be careful when you are interviewed; Say "We" not "I"; indicate that you get on well with relatives but make it plain you aren't dependent on them; recognize illegitimacy but neither condemn nor condone it. Practical advice is offered in "ADOPTING A BABY TODAY" by Rael Jean Isaac and Joseph Spencer, legal consultant (Day, $5.95).

THOSE EARLY daredevil hot-rodders of the sky, who bounced about the country in their vagabond flying circuses after World War I, contributed little to aviation science but provided unmatched excitement, in their claptrap planes, to a thrill-hungry era. Until the government stepped in with safety rules to protect both fliers and spectators.

Martin Caidin, renowned authority on aviation and author of 53 books, recreates the exploits of the great—and often suicidal—stunt fliers in the documentary "BARNSTORMING" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce, $5.95).

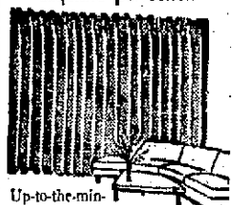

War aces, unwilling to adjust to routine peace life, got surplus Jennies and performed or gave rides wherever they could find anyone willing to pay. They formed gypsy-like troupes, looping, skimming trees and ground, their stunt men walking wings or switching planes in mid-air. Many were killed (especially the bat men), some fliers crashing into audiences.

Before he flew the U.S. mail, Charles Lindbergh was one of the barnstormers, forerunners to today's much-better-paid skydivers, and the daredevils who ride rocketed capsules into outer space.

EVAN CONNELL, editor of the literary magazine Contact, has an extraordinary diversity of talent and interests. "AT THE CROSSROADS" (Simon and Schuster, $5.50) brings together the most recent of his short stories, ranging from tragedy to high farce. There are fine stories about Muhlbach, whose life is dislocated by the death of his wife, and stories about Leon and Bebert, two talkative young men who substitute intense conversation about life for life itself.

MARTHA GRAHAM walks through the streets of Rome, going about her job at an American agency, haunted by the enigmatic spectre of her ex-husband. Constantly apprehensive, as if pursued by him, she takes a group of tourists to Venice, where she meets Jim Wilbourne and falls in love —a love touched by fear, sadness and loss. For in the midst of what could be happiness, she still lives with the pervasive phantom of the man she loved. Was Gordon really the man she imagines? The reader can decide. A sensitive novel, "KNIGHTS AND DRAGONS" by a sensitive writer, Elizabeth Spencer (McGraw-Hill, $3.95.)

Recipe of the Week

FLAVORFUL walnuts are featured in a recipe submitted by Mrs. Esther H. Lenden, Box 1191, Oakland, Calif. 94604, who wins $5 for her suggestion. The recipe:

Walnut Snacks

1 med. pkg. cream cheese
¼ cup ripe olives, finely chopped
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. paprika
½ tsp. worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. grated or minced onion (optional)
Walnut halves

Cream the cheese until light and fluffy; blend in the olives, seasonings, onion if used, then shape with the hands into balls. Roll in the cracker crumbs then place between two walnut halves, pressing together slightly to hold. Chill until ready to serve.

What's your favorite recipe? For each recipe published in this space, Southland will pay $5. Men are urged to submit their recipe along with the ladies. Send yours, with name and address to Recipe Contest Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801.

COIN ROUNDUP

$5 for Nickels

By Maurice M. Gould

PROBABLY the most famous coin counterfeiter of all times was Josh Tatum, who, with the aid of a jeweler friend, gold-plated the 1883 Liberty Nickels and was able to pass them off as $5 gold pieces, since the original had the same appearance and size of this piece.

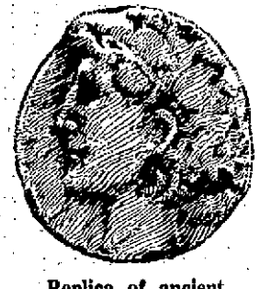

His scheme was to buy a five-cent item in a store, hand the merchant the "gold piece," and then accept the $4.95 in change which the merchant invariably gave him.

When Tatum was taken into court for fraud, the charges against him were dismissed because he had never asked for change. And it was because of his antics that the government changed the reverse of the nickel and replaced E PLURIBUS UNUM with the word CENTS.

Tatum made approximately $15,000 through this scheme—equivalent to quite a fortune during this period.

DOCTORS ARE getting a numismatic treat, thanks to a pharmaceutical manufacturer, Reed & Carnrick of Kenilworth, N. J.

Physicians receive seven coins in an attractive display folder; the first coin is given to the doctor by the company's detail man during an office visit. The other six coins are then sent through the mail over a period of several months.

Replica of ancient coin of Cleopatra.

The coins are all replicas, and each one comes with the history and background of the particular item.

Among the pieces are the ancient Egyptian coin of Cleopatra, Denarius of Marc Anthony, shekel of Tyre, Netherlands Siege coin, a two "real" Spanish piece of the Ferdinand and Isabella period, and others.

The purpose of this promotion was to dramatize the economy of a new product, which has just been marketed by the company.

The coins have received an excellent reception among the physicians, many of whom are coin collectors. A collection of this type will be of interest even to the novice, and if you mention your interest in coin collecting, no doubt your doctor will bring forth this interesting series for you to see.

And if he doesn't collect coins, why not express your interest in them?

ONE OF THE most important methods of collecting U. S. coins is by way of a Type Collection. This has become extremely popular due to the substantial cost of completing sets of dates and mintmark coins.

Type collecting consists of getting representative coins in the nicest condition possible, such as an Indian Cent, Lincoln Cent, Two-Cent Piece, Three-Cent Piece (silver) and (nickel), etc. A type set is both historical and informative, and shows the entire history of coinage of the United States.

As more and more of these coins go into permanent collections, they will be increasingly difficult to obtain and will show a steady rise in value. They are the finest potential for a well-rounded investment, as well as the real pleasure of numismatics.

One of each of the U. S. type commemorative fifty-cent pieces fit into this category, and make for a beautiful, historical collection.

An example of collecting types in the U. S. large cent category would be 1793, Chain Type; 1793, Wreath Type; 1793, Strawberry Leaf; 1793 to 1796, Liberty Cap; 1796 to 1807, Draped Bust, and many others in this important series.

Holiday Barbecue

WHAT could be nicer for the long holiday than fun-in-the-sun, and a barbecue. And what better menu would you want than Barbecued Chicken, with Pineapple Relish, Garden Potato Salad, Foil-Roasted Corn, and Iced Tea.

The recipes:

Juiciest Barbecued Chicken

3 broiler-fryer chickens, halved
3 teaspoons Ac'cent
Salt and pepper
¼ cup butter
¼ cup catchup
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Sprinkle each chicken with 1 teaspoon Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Melt butter in saucepan; stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil. Place chicken, skin side up, on grate; brush with sauce. Cook until tender, over medium heat with hood up, turning and brushing occasionally. Allow 45 minutes to 1¼ hours total cooking time, depending on weight of chicken and distance from heat. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should be fork tender. Yield: 6 servings.

The Dodger Who Pitches 1,000 Times a Week

By JEROME HALL

Dodger Photo

Beringer, on the bullpen phone, is one of the Dodgers' most important men, say teammates.

BEFORE the bulk of the crowd at Dodger Stadium has settled into the seats, long before the umpire calls "Play Ball," Carroll Beringer, a Dodger pitcher, has done his work.

Beringer, unknown to most fans—even the most ardent rooters—is the Dodgers' starting pitcher every game, the busiest man on the team, the man who pitches 1,000 times a week.

Beringer is the Dodgers' batting practice pitcher.

Most baseball fans, asked the ingredients that make up a winning team, would toll off (a) Pitching, (b) Hitting, (c) managerial effectiveness and go on to list speed, defense, desire, incentive, teamwork. But it isn't likely the expert in the grandstand, the armchair manager, would put on that list a batting practice pitcher.

BUT BERINGER, called "C.B." by the players, belongs high on the list, in the estimation of players, coaches and Dodger manager Walter Alston.

Says Alston: "C.B. probably does more physical work than anybody else on this club."

Says first baseman-outfielder Ron Fairly: "It's an important job, but not many realize that. C.B. does it the way it should be done. A bad batting practice pitcher can hurt a ball club and a good one can be a big help."

In a day of specialization and highbrow appellation (groundskeepers are called "field engineers" and ticket-takers are "traffic control specialists") the batting practice pitcher has been elevated from the depths to a place of importance.

WHILE MOST major league teams now have full-time batting practice pitchers, none, perhaps, are held in quite the high regard of the Dodgers'. When the team won the 1963 World Series, Beringer was voted a full share of the Series payoff by his teammates, the first time a batting practice pitcher ever was so rewarded.

Dodger field captain Maury Wills is another Beringer booster. "Hitting practice is the most important part of the warmup," Wills points out, "and time is quite limited." For home games the Dodgers get nearly two hours and Beringer has the help of former Coast League stars Clarence Maddern and George Vico, but when on the road trips the job falls to Beringer alone.

Beringer throws about 160 pitches in 25 minutes (6 or 7 days a week) which is about 40 more than the Dodgers' starting pitcher will throw even if he lasts the entire nine innings. "And C.B. doesn't just throw up fat pitches, either," injects Alston. "He was a pretty good pitcher in his own right a few years ago and he can give the hitters any kind of pitch they want to work on. He has the kind of stuff, curves, change-ups, fast balls—to make batting practice worth something more than just swing practice."

MOST ALL teams' batting practice pitchers are former moundsmen. (Beringer was in the Dodgers' minor league system from his signing out of high school in 1946 until he joined the parent team in his present capacity in 1961.)

Fairly recalls some of the past Dodger batting practice pitchers with a smile and a snicker—one in particular. "It was while we were playing at the Coliseum," says the Long Beach-reared Fairly, one of the major reasons the Dodgers have been a pennant contender this season. "We had a practice pitcher who couldn't remember he was on our side and he couldn't forget the days when he hated anybody swinging a bat.

"He used to move the ball around a lot, pitching to spots like he was trying to strike you out. If you wanted to hit some curve balls, he'd try to sneak some fast ones by. And if you hit one over the fence on him, he'd like as not throw one at your head the next pitch. Every day was a new challenge with him. I'll say one thing for him, he made some of the ball games seem anti-climactic."

BERINGER'S status has been lifted even beyond the lofty position of the modern-day batting practice pitcher. This season he was named bullpen coach, in charge of getting relief pichers ready to put out the fire, as they say on the sports pages.

"He's been a big help to us there, too," says Alston, "because I don't have to worry about having somebody ready." Beringer follows the game closely from his perch some 370 feet from home plate beside the left field bleachers. He knows when its time to warm up a reliefer.

Beringer plays as much of a chess game with his men as Alston does with the Dodgers on the field and in the dugout, though the results are never as apparent. Beringer has to decide how many warmup pitches a reliefer should throw before his entry into the game. Unless, of course, the entry is under emergency conditions.

Ron Perranoski, for instance, "needs only four or five pitches to get ready, and the same goes for (Bob) Miller," explains Beringer. Howie Reed and Jim Brewer, other mainstays of the bullpen, need longer. "A lot of relief pitchers leave their best stuff in the bullpen if they throw too many pitches out there," says Beringer. "Some games are on the edge of trouble all the way through and the guy who has been designated the No. 1 reliefer that night could throw almost as many pitches as the fellow who's out

EGGS AND WAYS OF PREPARING

(First Prize)

EGGS WITH SHRIMP SAUCE

- 8 hard boiled edgs
- 1 tsp. salt
- Dash of Worcestershire sauce
- ½ tsp. curry powder (can be omitted)
- ½ tsp. paprika
- ¼ tsp. dry mustard
- ¼ lemon, juice (1½ tblsp.)
- 2-3 tblsp. sour cream Shrimp Sauce
- 2 cups half and half
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 2 tblsp. butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pepper to taste
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 2 tblsp. sour cream
- 2 5 oz. cans shrimp

Cut boiled eggs in half lengthwise and scoop out yolks. Mash yolks with seasonings, lemon juice, moisten with sour cream. Fill egg halves with mashed yolks and press together. Place in greased baking dish. Heat half and half to scalding point, lightly brown the flour in butter and blend well, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth and thick. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire, cream cheese and sour cream and heat until melted. Stir in shrimp and pour sauce over eggs. Bake in 350° oven 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

Jeffrey Hunter stars as Murieta, legendary early California bandit, in Warner film.

MOVIES

Murieta Returns

MURIETA'S marauders thundered down from the Northern California hills to plunder and pillage their way into legend. The hectic story of the audacious Mexican bandit chief, Joaquin Murieta, who vowed personal vengeance on the rapacious adventurers who invaded the territory during the 1849 Gold Rush, is recounted in Warner Bros.' western motion picture adventure drama, "Murieta."

Jeffrey Hunter stars as Murieta; Arthur Kennedy portrays the American marshal who pursues him; Diana Lorys and Sara Lezana play the two women in Murieta's life. George Sherman directed "Murieta," which was filmed in wide-screen Eastmancolor from a screenplay by James O'Hanlon.

With "Murieta," Hunter returns to Warner Bros., where he recently starred in "Brainstorm."

Kennedy, who made his screen debut in 1940 as James Cagney's brother in Warner Bros.' "City for Conquest," has five Academy Award nominations to his credit. They include "Champion," "Trial," "Bright Victory," "Peyton Place," and "Some Came Running." He most recently was seen in "Cheyenne Autumn" for Warner Bros.

Hunter and Kennedy combine their talents in "Murieta" to etch vibrant character studies — Hunter as a man hounded into crime; Kennedy as the lawman who, while understanding the motives, must still pursue the bandit chief.

Director Sherman adds "Murieta" to his long list of western adventure films, including "Comanche Territory," "Battle at Apache Pass," "Chief Crazy Horse," "Border River" and "Treasure of Pancho Villa."

Arthur Kennedy portrays a territorial marshal who pursues Murieta in western movie.

MEDICINE AND YOU

Blood Loss Cited

By Ben Zinser

Southland Magazine Medical-Science Writer

A DROP attack—a sudden, abrupt fall that occurs without warning—is probably caused by a temporary lack of blood in the lower part of the brain stem, two doctors report in Archives of Neurology.

In a typical drop attack, there is a sudden loss of strength in the legs, and the victim tumbles to the floor. There is no alteration of consciousness, and vision, hearing and speech remain intact. Once the fall has occurred, the patient is able to get up alone and continue his previous activity.

Drs. Mark J. Kubala and Clark H. Millikan of the Mayo Clinic studied 29 cases of drop attack and found that about one-third were caused by sudden neck motions. In these instances, they say, subsequent attacks may be prevented if the patient wears a cervical collar.

THE TRANQUILIZING drug Librium appears to be the best medication for the management of the acute phase of alcohol withdrawal, two researchers report in the Quarterly Journal of Medicine.

The drug reduces agitation and tremor, relaxes muscles and makes essential rest and nourishment possible. Its anticonvulsive effect also inhibits seizures.

The researchers say the drug Sparine produces good to excellent results in 70% of patients. It acts more rapidly than Librium, reducing confusion, drowsiness and lack of muscular coordination. But it does not protect against convulsive seizures.

CERTAIN copper smelter workers are chronically exposed to arsenic trioxide, released when the ore is roasted at one stage of the smelting process. Scientists have long wondered if such exposure might not play a role in the development of cancer or heart disease.

It turns out that such exposure to the arsenic compound is so small, even over a long period of years, that it has no adverse effect.

The finding is that of Dr. Sherman S. Pinto, medical director of the American Smelting & Refining Co., Tacoma, Wash., and Dr. B. M. Bennett, assistant professor of the department of preventive medicine at the University of Washington, Seattle.

They analyzed the medical records of all active smelter workers and pensioners for the company who died between 1946 and 1960. There were 229 deaths during that time. The study showed no evidence that arsenic caused either internal cancer or fatal heart disease. The report is in Archives of Environmental Health.

WHEN FUMES of a fishing trawler's refrigeration system leaked into the forecastle, methyl chloride poisoning developed in the crew of 15, reports Nordisk Medicin, a medical journal published in Stockholm.

One patient died in the acute phase of poisoning. Mental depression developed in three, leading to suicide for two. Personality changes developed in four. Four of the men still complain of fatigue, profuse perspiration and tremor on exertion. One has been partly incapacitated by muscular atrophy (wasting). Fatigue and mental depression have caused 75% disablement in another.

(This column frequently reports advances in medical research and opinions of medical authorities not yet accepted in general practice.)

Drum Barracks to Live Again

By Isabel Dunwoody

FOR MOST who pass the old white, clapboard house at 1053 Cary St., Wilmington, it is just another two-story home, set apart, perhaps, because it is dresed with faded blue-green shutters. It is much more than that, though. The Williamsburg-type building is all that remains of what was once the Drum Barracks of Civil War days in California.

If nothing is done, the Drum Barracks will be demolished — ripped down to make way for a high rise apartment. But there are those who would save it. The dedicated Society for the Preservation of the Drum Barracks is trying hurriedly to raise $100,000 to insure that the building will be preserved as a historical monument.

As part of the society's effort, once again the clatter of horses' hoofs, tinkle of camel bells, sound of bugles and footsteps of a ghost cavalry will echo in and around the historic building. In a day-long ceremony, Sept. 11 and 12, the Ghost Patrol from Knott's Berry Farm will hold forth at the Barracks in an effort to alert Southland residents to the need for its preservation.

A WRECKING permit has been issued for destruction of the building. The society which would save it has won a brief reprieve to muster the $100,000 needed to buy and restore the old structure.

Southland visitors, even many West Coast citizens, are surprised to learn that the Civil War was actually at our doorstep. The issue of slavery was made clear by California when its terms of admission to the Union prohibited slavery, so it wasn't surprising that about 15,000 eager men in California enlisted in the Union Army at the outbreak of the Civil War. Soldiers varying in numbers from 2,000 to 7,000 were garrisoned at the Drum Barracks, named after Adjutant Gen. Richard Coulter Drum, for several years head of the Department of the West.

Ghost Patrol of Knott's Berry Farm, shown in ceremony above, will join Drum program.

The 14 identical high ceilinged, 20-foot-square rooms of the officers' quarters are empty now, but at its height they buzzed with activity. Fires crackled in the four large wooden manteled fireplaces. Quartermaster Winfield Scott Hancock, in charge of the supply and recruiting station, might be receiving telegraphed orders from over the wires strung across a hook just outside the upstairs window. This back window, one of many in the old house, also looked out across the parade grounds where tenacious Philip Henry Sheridan drilled his cavalry, never dreaming he would become a general immortalized for his 20-mile ride into Virginia.

LIGHTED HALL candles might pick out the quick flash of Lt. Edwin Beal's scabbard as he climbed the steep mahogany ballustrade to meet dynamic Phineas Banning, dressed in his Union blue, gold braided uniform.

Land on which the million dollar barracks was built was sold to the Government for the consideration of $1. Material for the buildings, all but the Powder Magazine (at present a Fibber Magee closet in a private home) was shipped from Massachusetts, around the horn, through the harbor to Banning's wharves. The barracks helped to assure the future of Wilmington as a new port for Los Angeles.

Most of the eager young officers went on to Civil War glory, but for one, taps sounded early. The only official death in the Army Register from the adjutant general offices, lists him simply: "Died—1st Lt. John Fitz-Gerald, 2nd Artillery at Drum Barracks in Calif. April 21, 1870."

A small, huddled group of graves, under a marker, in the center of a Compton Cemetery and a single grave in Wilmington give mute proof that there were others.

For a few moments these soldiers, including a young bugler boy, will come alive when the Ghost Patrol walks in their footsteps during the two-day re-garrisoning.

UNDER THE expert command of First Lt. Dennis Hoggarth, these dedicated men of the re-created E. Troop, 7th U.S. Cavalry, Gen. Custer's old unit at the Little Big Horn, will furnish the opportunity to witness the entire curriculum of a century-old cavalry. It will begin with the formal Color Raising Ceremony at 10 o'clock, followed by both mounted and dismounted drills, ending at 6 o'clock with the awe inspiring Retreat Ceremony. They will be garbed in their Union Blue uniforms, as issued by the Federal Government, refashioned authentically to the Civil War period by Ghost Patrol members. On their belts they will wear a small leather ammunition bag, used to carry cap and ball loaders.

Sharing the limelight with cavalry horses will be camels brought from Indio. These "hump-backed horses" as some unhappy cavalrymen called them, were once a familiar sight ambling in and out of the barracks compound.

Joining ranks, for the Preservation of The Drum Barracks, will be the event's co-sponsors, the local historical society and the California History Commission, the latter appointed by Governor Brown, and many other interested persons.

Foot soldiers (volunteer canvassers) armed with containers resembling drums, will march in Long Beach, Wilmington and San Pedro.

Los Alamitos, a rancho bearing the spell of a quiet history itself, will have an "open house" to help raise funds for the barracks.

Curator William Evans has taken time from his restoration work on the old Los Cerritos Museum, to set up an outstanding Drum Barracks exhibit. Wade Katell's Long Beach Historical Society Docents, a group of devoted persons who take turns sitting in the host and hostess seats on visiting days at the ranch, will answer questions.

Aside from a dress ball which will liven the old ballroom of the Banning House on Saturday evening, all other events of the program will take place at the barracks.

The Fort MacArthur 72 U.S. Army Band will give a concert at 1 p.m. Saturday, followed at 2 p.m. by the formal dedication of a plaque. A barbecue is scheduled Sunday afternoon.

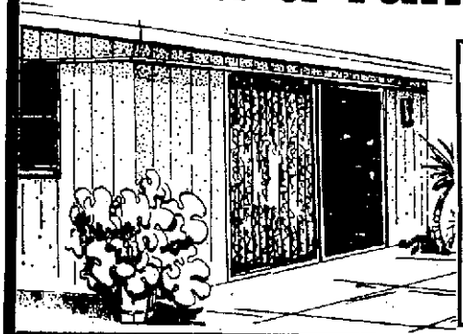

Then the "old house" will be empty again, with the sincere hope that it will soon become a national monument.

Drum Barracks once resounded to booted heels and bugles. A drive is under way to save it.

½ cup sliced onions
½ cup red wine
2 tblsp. flour
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. black pepper

Saute mushrooms in 2 tablespoons butter. Add half cup consomme. Simmer, covered 10 minutes. In separate pan, saute onions in 2 tablespoons butter. Add wine and remaining consomme. Simmer, covered 20 minutes. Blend flour with a little onion stock. Stir in with onions. Add mushrooms. Blend well. Season with salt and pepper. Serve over steak. Makes about 2½ cups.

WORKSHOP

Exercise the Fun Way

By Steve Ellingson

NEVER before has mankind known such mechanical marvels. Millions of push buttons save our time. Thousands of inventions save us work. The medical profession is prolonging life. But we're still operating with the same old "body model," it hasn't kept pace with our minds.

Every time we invent a new way to ride instead of using our legs, or an easier way to carry on a business sitting at a desk, or a new appliance to save homemakers from lifting and bending and stretching, we saddle our bodies with another handicap. We deprive ourselves of another source of exercise. It's no wonder that we become easily fatigued and worn out.

Of course, we could do calisthenics at home, but the very thought of it tires a person out. You already know why. Calisthenics are a bore. It's much easier when we can make a game out of our exercise. That's one of the reasons table tennis has become so very popular. It's not too strenuous, still it calls into action all of the body muscles.

THE TENNIS table shown here with actresses Carol Jean Lewis and Molly Bee is regulation size. When not in use, it may be folded to a mere 24 inches wide for storage. It's equipped with casters which make it easy to move. It may be used indoors in the winter and outside when the weather is good.

Building the table is no trick at all when you use the full size pattern. Just trace the pattern parts on wood, saw them out and put them together. Lots of pictures showing each step of construction are included with each pattern. Not expensive when you do-it-yourself.

To obtain the full size table tennis pattern No. 319, send $1 in currency, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, Southland Magazine Pattern Dept., Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

Deep Watering

Late-planted annuals that seem to be standing still, growing little if at all, can be sparked into shooting upward and outward by a deep, slow watering.

Use a perforated hose or, better yet, a soil soaker. In areas where water is restricted to the evening hours, fill a soaker and let it water during the night.

Planting Tip

If you have annuals growing in your garden in areas where you expect to use other types of plants next year, be certain to keep the dead flowers cut off the annuals. This not only makes them produce more blooms but also insures that no seedlings will pop up next year to ruin a new color scheme.

BARBECUE FOR A HOLIDAY

Pineapple Relish

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil 2 minutes.

Foil-Roasted Corn

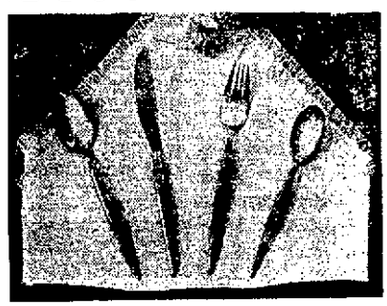

Remove husks and silk from ears of corn. Place each ear on double thickness of aluminum foil. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Wrap in foil. Place on grill on medium heat and roast 20 to 25 minutes, turning 2 or 3 times. Note: If desired, corn may be cooked in boiling water. Use ½ teaspoon Ac'cent for each 4 ears.

Garden Potato Salad

3 pounds potatoes (8 cups diced)
6 whole scallions, sliced
1½ cups diagonally sliced celery
½ cup sliced radishes
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
2 teaspoons salt
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon dried dill weed
Chopped parsley

Cook potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and dice. Add scallions, celery and radishes; sprinkle with Ac'cent and salt. Blend together mayonnaise sour cream and prepared mustard; stir in vinegar and dill. Add to potato mixture. Mix carefully with a fork, being careful not to break potatoes. Chill. Turn into serving bowl; sprinkle with chopped parsley. YIELD: 6 to 8 generous servings.

PET PARADE

You Must Train 'em Young

Training of large dogs, such as these Irish wolfhounds owned by the John Scheiner family of Woodland Hills, should be started early.

By Eleanor Avery Price

ARGUMENT often arises about the correct age at which to start a dog in an obedience class. Some say not before the dog is at least one year old. But, did you ever own a large, untrained dog of this age? If so, very likely you may have felt you should "get rid of it" before you had a lawsuit on your hands.

Look at it this way. A one year old dog is in age comparable to a 16-year-old human. Do you wait until a child is 16 before teaching him a few manners, to swim, play ball, ride a horse if his interest is in horses? Of course not. And he goes to school long before he is 16! (I graduated from high school at 16.) The novice obedience class is merely a dog's grade school.

You should start teaching a dog good manners as soon as you bring him home. And he can shortly learn to heel, sit, stay, and a few other lessons at an early age. Patience and kindness along with firmness are, of course, needed.

With cooler evenings on the way, and if your dog is 6 or 7 months old or older, you may find it a lot of fun to get out in the evening and go through his kind of grade school with him. If the puppy is shy or a biter, and you can find a trainer interested in him, the dog belongs out in a class even before 6 months. Training him may be his only chance, so don't fail him. Don't let him sit in the back yard or hide under beds. Get him out!

September usually has hot days, and the heat, with its intense sunlight, dry dust, and insects may give your pet eye trouble. There can be inflammation of the cornea, color part, or thin tissue lining of the eye and lid. A pet with sore eyes should be quickly isolated, and in a fairly dark, dustless place protected from flying insects.

A drop of mineral oil in each eye occasionally may help, or a boric acid solution of one teaspoon for eight ounces water. Methiolate eye salve is soothing, especially for what is called "dry eyes." And your veterinarian has at his disposal a number of eye medicines. He may also suggest cortisone and antibiotics. He may want to inject a special medical preparation under the lining of the eyelid, as this lasts longer than salve that washes quickly away in watering eyes. And only he can tell you if the condition is contagious to other animals and to humans.

SOUTHEAST Obedience Club has a licensed trial from 3 to 11 p.m. today at Lynwood City Park, Lynwood.

Western-Intra Valley Cat Clubs have a show at Rio Hondo Park, Pico Rivera, today and Monday.

Two events on Sept. 12 are: Northridge Obedience Club match at Northridge Park and German Shepherd Dog Club of Southern California match at Orcutt Park, Canoga Park. Los Angeles Poodle Obedience Club has a licensed show Saturday at Brookside Park, Pasadena.

Reservoirs

time to drive the hydroelectric systems located along snow-fed waterways. The amount of snowmelt determines how much fuel the utility company will need for its electric steam stations, such as the Alamitos Station in Long Beach.

The farmer uses the snow survey information to determine what crops he will plant. Crops that require large quantities of water are planted when the snow survey indicates a bountiful crop of water. Conversely, in years when the forecast is for a short supply, the farmer sows fast-maturing crops or those which have smaller water requirements.

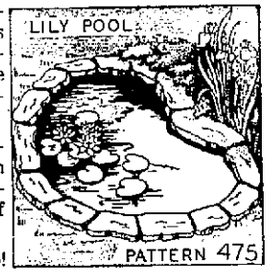

In Orange County, where the County Water District continually purchases surplus water to sink into its depleted underground basins, the district watches the results to plan for these purchases.

Nearly always 95% accurate, in 1956 the snowmen were a snowflake short—missing the actual yield of the melt by 1%.

And that's some snow job!

DUTCH BUTTER CAKE

- 2 cubes fresh butter
- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1½ tsp. almond extract
- ½ cup sliced almonds

Two hours before baking, soften butter at room temperature. Twenty minutes before baking, preheat oven to 350 degree.

In large bowl, add one cup of flour to butter and mix with wooden spoon. Then add sugar, remaining flour, egg and almond extract. Blend all ingredients then knead mixture until a nice soft ball is formed. Place dough in an ungreased 10" glass pie plate, cover with sliced almonds, pressed into dough. Bake 60-70 minutes until done. Test with toothpick for doneness. Cool before serving. Serves 16.

MRS. MIACHEL NAUTA

(Second Prize)

YUMMY COFFEE CAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 4 eggs
- 4 cups flour
- 2 tsp. baking soda
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 cups sour cream
- 2 tsp. vanilla

Topping

- ⅓ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup white sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Sift together flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Add to egg mixture alternately with sour cream. Add vanilla and beat well. Topping: blend together sugars, cinnamon and walnuts. Spread half of batter in greased and floured 10x13" pan. Sprinkle with half of topping mix. Spread rest of batter on top and sprinkle with remaining topping mix. Bake in 325 degree oven 40-45 minutes.

(Third Prize)

LITTLE ORANGE LOAVES

- 1 pkg. orange muffin mix
- ¾ cup whole cranberry sauce
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Prepare batter from muffin mix according to package directions. Stir in cranberry sauce and nuts. Spoon into six greased 6 oz. empty frozen juice cans. Bake in 375 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until done. Cool 5 minutes and ease out of cans with spatula (cut end out of can). Slices better the second day.

CHEESE DREAMS

- 1 lb. Old Engish cheese
- 1 cube butter or margarine
- 4 tblsp. cream
- 2 loaves unsliced white sandwich bread

With a fork, cream together the cheese, margarine and cream until the consistency of cake frosting. Do not heat cheese to melt it. Trim all crusts from bread and cut into pieces 1½x1½ x3. Frost all sides, but on (the bottom) with cheese mixture and place on cookie sheet in refrigerator overnight. When ready to serve, place at least 2" apart on cookie sheet or aluminum foil and broil until cheese starts to bubble and turn brown. Serve immediately. Makes 42 pieces. These freeze excellently. Remove from freezer half hour before broiling.

CORN'N CORN MUFFINS

- 1 pkg. corn muffin mix
- 1 cup cream style corn (8¾ oz.)
- 1½ cups shredded American cheese
- Dash of hot pepper sauce
- 1 egg, beaten

Combine all ingredients in large mixing bowl. Stir until blended. Fill large greased muffin pan ⅔ full. Bake at 425 12-15 minutes. Makes 10-12 muffins.

Mrs. Toni Allman

PINEAPPLE NUT BREAD

- 2 cups cifted all-purpose flour
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tsp. double action baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 cup raisins
- ½ cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
- 1 egg beaten
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 tblsp. melted shortening
- 1 cup crushed pineapple, not drained

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda. Add raisins and nuts. Combine beaten egg, vanilla and melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients. Add pineapple and juice to above mixture and stir until all ingredients are well blended. Pour into greased 8x4x4 loaf pan. Bake in 350° preheated oven one hour or until bread tests done. Cool on rack.

PUMPKIN SCONES

- 2½ cups sifter flour
- ¼ cup sugar
- 4 level tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 6 tblsp. butter or margarine
- ½ cup canned pumpkin
- 1 egg, well beaten
- ½ cup milk

Cream together margarine and sugar. Add pumpkin, then beaten egg and beat well again. Add flour, salt and baking powder sifted together. Mix lightly and knead gently 5 or 6 times. Divide into 3 rounds and pat each round out to ¾ inch. Cut into 4 but do not break apart before baking. Bake at 425° 10 to 12 minutes.

Mrs. E. Guy

CARROT BREAD

- 1½ cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup grated raw carrots
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- 2 eggs
- ¾ cup cooking oil

Combine all ingredients and mix 3 minutes at medium speed in mixer. Pour into greased small loaf pan. Bake at 350° approximately 1 hour. Cool. Slice thin and fill sandwich style with following:

- 1 6 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 3 tblsp. orange marmalade

Soften cream cheese and mix with orange marmalade until spreading consistency is right. Spread on one slice and top with another slice sandwich style. This freezes beautifully and is perfect with tea or coffee, lunch snacks or picnics.

QUICK PRALINE

1 pkg. butterscotch pudding mix
1 cup sugar
½ cup brown sugar, packed
½ cup evaporated milk
1 tblsp. butter
1½ cups pecans

In a medium size pan, mix pudding mix, both sugars, milk and butter. Cook and stir over low heat until sugar dissolves and mixture boils. Continue to cook gently, stirring frequently until a small amount tested in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat and beat until mixture begins to thicken. Add nuts and stir. Drop by teaspoon onto waxed paper. Let stand until firm.

CANDIES & NUTS

MRS. G. W. HUFFMAN

(Second Prize)

DATE NUT ROLL

1½ cups sugar
½ cup milk
1/16 tsp. cream of tartar
1 tblsp. butter
½ cup ground dates
1 cup walnuts or pecans

Combine sugar, milk, cream of tartar, and butter. Place over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Cook to 236° (soft ball in cold water), stirring occasionally while mixture cooks. Remove from heat, add dates and beat mixture until dates are dissolved. Add ½ cup nuts and beat until mixture has thickened. Spread remaining walnuts or pecans over a board and pour date mixture over them. Cool. When cool, shape into rolls and wrap in waxed paper. Allow to stand 24 hours, then cut into ½ inch thick slices. Makes 1 pound of candy.

Mrs. Vi Matthews

TOFFEE NUT CRUNCH

2 cups white sugar
1½ cups ground nutmeats
¼ tsp. baking soda
⅔ cup chocolate chips.

Grease cookie sheet. In heavy cast iron skillet, cook sugar over low heat, stirring constantly until melted. Sugar will become hard, brown and lumpy before it melts. Add soda and 1 cup nutmeats, stir, and immediately pour onto cookie sheet. With a buttered rolling pin, roll the brittle until about ¼" thick. Before the brittle becomes cool, mark into squares with knife. When cold, spread with melted chocolate. Sprinkle with the remaining nutmeats. When chocolate firms, break into pieces.

SUGAR PLUMS

1 6 oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate
2 tblsp. light corn syrup
½ cup orange juice
2½ cups crushed vanilla wafers
½ cup powdered sugar
1 cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate over hot (not boiling) water. Mix all other ingredients well. Add chocolate and mix well. Let stand for 30 minutes. Form into 1 inch balls. Roll in powdered or granulated sugar. Let ripen in covered container for several days. Makes 4½ dozen.

Velma C. Schieberl
5726 Lorelei Ave.

SEA FOAM

2½ cups brown sugar
½ cup white karo
½ cup water
2 egg whites
Pinch of cream of tartar

Beat egg whites until stiff, add cream of tartar, set aside. Boil sugar, syrup and water to firm ball (230°). Pour ⅓ of this into egg whites and mix well. Cook the remaining syrup until it spins a long thread (250°). Beat slowly into the egg whites and beat until creamy. Drop by teaspoonsful onto waxed paper.

PEANUT BUTTER FUDGE

2 cups sugar
⅔ cup milk
1 pt. marshmallow cream
1 cup chunk-style peanut butter
1 tsp. vanilla

Combine sugar and milk in saucepan and cook to soft-ball stage (234°). Remove from heat. In a warm mixing bowl, combine marshmallow cream, peanut butter and vanilla. Add cooked syrup and mix well. Pour into a buttered 6/1 inch pan. Cut into 2 inch pieces and serve.

½ lb. candied green cherries (cut in half)
½ lb. candied pineapple (chopped)
3 cups nutmeats (chopped)
1 lb. dates (pitted and chopped)
2 cans Eagle sweetened condensed milk
2 pkgs. tiny muffin liners (30 in pkg.)

Mix all together in a large bowl. Use tiny tea muffin tins, line with liners. Put in each muffin cup a scant tablespoonful of mixture and bake at 300° for about 4 minutes or until a little brown. Mixture may be made up in advance and kept in refrigerator until ready to use.

IT IS SAD, in a way, that the great philosophic poet Omar Khayyam lived and died long before the advent of pizza. Had he tasted this culinary gift from the Italians, he might have been tempted to write:

"A round of pizza, a jug of beer, and thou singing beside me in the wilderness . . ."

Admirers of the poet may never forgive me for paraphrasing his immortal words in that way, but Omar himself might, because he had a superb understanding of how well the flavors of certain foods and beverages go together. Such as pizza and light or dark beer. That combination is treasured by presidents, kings, queens, governors, secretaries, tightrope walkers and dog catchers—in addition, of course, to musicians and poets.

In short, everybody loves pizza, especially the way it's baked in super-hot ovens at Me-n-Ed's parlors, 4115 Paramount Blvd. near Carson Street Lakewood. Operated by Bob Baldwin, a tallish, friendly chap who enjoys a thriving trade, Me-n-Ed's is a modern, immaculate, air-conditioned place designed like a public house in olde merry England. Open Sundays and holidays, it is a family restaurant with gleaming, varnished picnic benches where mom, dad and the kids can spread out while enjoying the pizza delicacies. The varieties, priced from $1.20 to $1.45, $2.40 and $3.50, include sausage, peperoni, salami, linguica, mushroom, beef and onions, and several others. All are topped with six kinds of delicious cheese. The crust, which has a nut-like flavor, is easily one of the very best I've ever encountered.

WAFFLES, HOT CAKES, FRITTERS

(First Prize)

HOT CAKES, ORANGE SAUCE

2 cups bisquick
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. rum or brandy flavoring
Dash of salt
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. sugar or 1 tsp. powdered sugar
1 jigger of gin or vodka
1¾ cups of milk, to make a thin batter

Mix together in a large mixing bowl using the 1¾ cups of milk. The batter should be thin so if necessary, add extra ¼ cup milk. Bake on grill making small cakes about 4" or smaller in size. Serve with:

Orange Sauce

1 cube of butter
2 oranges, grated rind and juice
1 cup of sugar

Melt butter. Grate the orange rind and add the juice to the batter. Add sugar and cook over low heat about 15 minutes or until mixture thickens. Serve over hot cakes.

Nandina--the Heavenly Bamboo

By Joe Littlefield

NANDINA, (pronounced nan-dy'na) domestica, "heavenly bamboo" and some times called the "sacred bamboo," isn't a bamboo at all! It is a member of the barberry family, and its roots are not invasive as are many bamboos. What makes this shrub so desirable is its habit of growth. It doesn't develop that "middle-age" spread that some shrubs do, and fits nicely in oriental and tropical effect landscape plantings.

It's vertical, unbranched, cane-like stems grow to about five foot tall, have many small divided leaves that present an airy, graceful effect. It is excellent for narrow spaces between windows, in front of porch pillars, as background plants for ground cover planting, and as container plants, for patio or porch.

The added garden surprise occurs in the autumn when many of the leaves turn red. The plant is semi-deciduous in the winter. Leafage is mostly green if the shrub grows in much shade, tanning in full sun. Clusters of small white flowers appear in spring, and frequently red berries develop by fall.

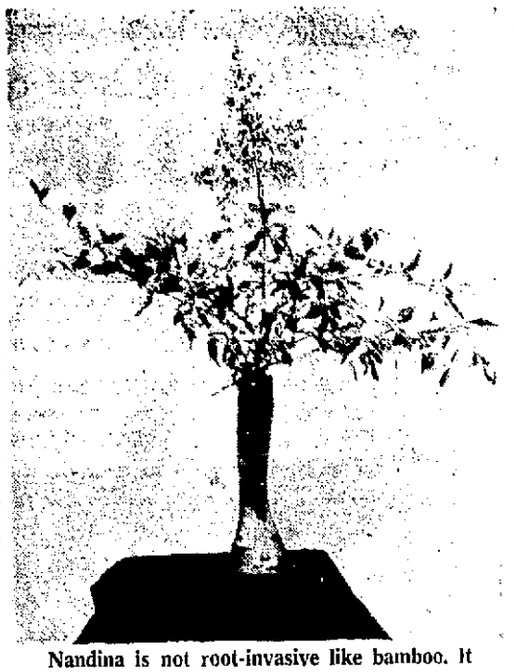

And you don't have to be an expert pruner to prune this shrub. Simply cut the old canes back to the base of plant to renew it. Flower enthusiasts prune back a branch or two, then cut the canes back to desired height for flower arrangements. Now don't be overly eager trimming nandina for arrangements, however; do it only as the shrub needs pruning.

SOW SWEET PEAS or set out young plants in plant bands available at nurseries. Ask six hobby gardeners whether sweet pea seeds should be soaked in water overnight, or a few hours before sowing the seeds, and probably two of the six will agree on soaking the seeds. The others will have their own pet systems of seed sowing. Several may prefer to sow the dry seeds in heavily soaked soil, then no more watering till seeds have sprouted through the soil. The rest work a little harder by keeping a cloth cover damp over the seeds.

After four or five days of such soaking, only the sprouted seeds are set out. The unsprouted ones are thrown away. This method insures an even planting.

Young plants should be protected from snails and slugs, and also birds. Baits control slugs and snails, but a wire cover shaped like quonset hut, should be put over the young plants till they've grown four inches or more and have hardened off so the birds won't like them.

We cannot emphasize enough the importance of not keeping sweet pea soil too moist. Too much moisture shuts off proper air soil circulation, causes a soggy condition, and the young plants start to rot off. Give them a good deep soaking, but not again till the soil dries.

Nandina is not root-invasive like bamboo. It is attractive as shrub, good for arranging.

Tips on Gardening

Garden tips for the week . . . The new Madonna lily bulbs are available at C.A.N. nurseries and should be planted now while they are dormant. The improved white variety produces fragrant chalice-like flowers 3 to 5 feet tall in June. Plant bulbs in a sunny location with one inch of soil covering them.

Dahlias should be watered regularly and deeply. Be sure to stake tall plants to keep them from toppling under the weight of their blooms.

Set out Michaelmas daisies from plant bands or cans now and you'll have a profusion of daisy-like flowers through fall. Choose from low, mounding types for edgings, medium-sized border plants and tall (to 6 feet) background ones. Best known for their soft, violet-blue shades, but available in pink, white, rose or dark red.

You can keep your summer annuals blooming well into October if you keep them well watered, remove faded flowers and spray them if necessary. Fuchsias and geraniums in full bloom, can be brought in for quick color now and will keep flowering for months.

Popular Ferns

Tree ferns are favorites with gardeners and justifiably so . . . few plants have such graceful habits. True show-offs, these giant ferns are best used as single specimens in the entrance garden, or in a large tub on the terrace.

Among the popular varieties, Australian Tree Fern is the largest. Mature plants of this species are to be found 14 to 15 feet high. The New Zealand Tree Fern is perhaps the best of the group for tub planting.

Dodgers

on the mound, just trying to keep ready."

SUCH STRATEGY does not show up in the box score or in the standings, but Alston claims it has been an important factor in the effectiveness of Dodger pitching.

Beringer, a 35-year-old Nebraska farm boy, figures he's got lots of pitches left in his strong right arm and he hopes for another 5 or 10 years of pitching 1,000 times a week.

"But if it wasn't for that $5 screen out there in front of me during batting practice I wouldn't take the job for $50,000 a year," says the quiet-spoken father of two who is paid an estimated $10,000 a season.

But Beringer has learned when to duck. If the pitch goes down the middle, he goes down behind the three-foot-high protective barrier. After about 150,000 pitches, he's only been struck by a batted ball once.

Back in 1962 outfielder Wally Moon whacked one back through the pitchers' box that was too hot for Beringer to dodge or duck. "Now when Moon comes up," smiles the Dodger batting practice pitcher, "this son goes down."

Garden Clubs

Flower arranging will be demonstrated for Belmont Heights Garden Club by Mrs. Jean Symons of Riverside, a blue ribbon winner in her specialty, at a meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Wesley Hall, 317 Termino Ave. Mrs. Muriel Oyaas will preside and tea committee members will include Remona Jones, Rose Berry, Nellie Brownell, Sophia Butler, Evelyn Jordan and Pearl Warren. Visitors will be welcome.

Dorothy Digs

If you want sweet peas for Christmas blooming, and live in a fairly frost-free area, it is time to plant your seeds.

Buy the early wintering type and follow directions on the package for planting. If the weather is real hot you may have to give them some protection from the sun until the days get a little cooler.

Be sure to protect the plants from birds and scatter both slug pellets and sow bug bait around your trench. All of these will eat your tender young plants if you do not protect them.

I like to fertilize every two or three weeks with an all fish fertilizer after the sweet peas are growing well and have been thinned out to about 3 inches apart.

There is a weatherproof vine available now to stretch out above the plants to give them an easy place to hook on to and grow.

Dahlia Show

Thousands of blooms, from dozens of exhibitors from San Francisco to the Mexican border, will be on display at a show of the Southern California Dahlia Society next Saturday and Sunday in Simms Park Auditorium, Bellflower.

Arrangements will include not only the individual bowl and vase type, but entire tables of blooms will be set up for the coveted "Most Artistic Display" awards.

Several other societies in the area will be represented. Anyone, whether or not a member of the society, may display their dahlias. Entries may be staged between 10 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

A donation of 50 cents for each adult (children under 12 free) is requested to help defray the cost of the show. Doors will open from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. All quality blooms will be given away at the door at the close of the show.

La Reina Rule

What Your Name Means

Write to La Reina Rule in care of Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801, for origin, meaning and brief genealogy, for reply only in this column.

MISS RULE: Please inform us on ADKINS, ADKISSON. — G.S., G.T., Long Beach; C.A., Bellflower

ADKINS, a variation of Atkins, is an early English innovation of the Biblical baptismal name Adam, meaning "man of the red earth." Adam, shortened to Ad, was joined with "-kins," producing "Adkins" or "son of young Adam." Adkin the Fuller, (a cloth-maker) lived in London in 1273. The Adkins armorial shield has two blue rampant lions on the top section of an ermine covered background. ADKISSON was formerly Adkinsson. This family's shield is ermine, with three silver arrows on a black band across the center.

MISS RULE: Would you inform us on BELTZ.—R.B., Long Beach

BELTZ of Germany was initiated in the Middle Ages as "Pelz," a dialectical term for the occupation of furrier. Pelz also could have evolved from "Pald," a name for "bold one." The Beltz armorial shield from Franconia is red, decorated with a large golden rooster standing on a gold hunting horn.

MISS RULE: Please give data on MUGICA.—R.,C.H., Anaheim

MUGICA began in Spain as a local term for "minor boundary line." This surname referred to the site of the Mugica ancestral home on a provincial boundary. The Mugica armorial shield from Guipuzcoa, Spain, is green, crossed by a diagonal gold stripe issuing at each end from a golden eagle head. Above and below the stripe are two small blue shields crossed by five vertical silver bars.

MISS RULE: Would like to know about BICKHAM, BICKFORD, BICKNELL. — R.B., Anaheim; C.G., Garden Grove; Z.B., Artesia

BICKHAM began in the Middle Ages in England as "Bican-ham," descriptive of "hewer's home at the river-meadow." BICKFORD was originally "Bican-ford" or "hewer's home at the river crossing." BICKNEL or "Bican-hall" referred to "hewer's manorial hall." The "Hewer" was an expert with an axe. Thomas Bickham married at London in 1748. the Bickford shield is silver, crossed by a black chevron between three black heraldic birds; that for Bicknell is also silver, crossed by two red bars, surmounted by a silver rampant lion.

MISS RULE. Please inform us on DE COURCY.—A.D., W.R., Lakewood

DE COURCY began as a locational name in the Calvados district of Normandy, France. In archaic French De Courcy portrayed "from the rural domaine or estate." The De Courcy lineage of the town of Courcy achieved a coat-of-arms at Paris. Their armorial shield is silver, crossed by a diagonal, scalloped-edge red stripe.

MISS RULE: Please analyze NAUSLER.—R.H., Long Beach

NAUSLER developed in Germany from Knauszler which, in the 1400s, indicated "proud and audacious one." An alternate name origin was the early German term "Chnuz," meaning "knot."

POOR MAN'S STEAK

4 to 5 lb. Seven Bone roast
Unseasoned meat tenderizer
Garlic salt
Pepper

Have coals burned down so fire is gone and coals are covered with grey ash. Sprinkle each side of roast liberally with tenderizer, then garlic salt and pepper to taste. Pierce well with fork on both sides. Place meat on grill over prepared coals. Grill exactly a half hour on each side, disturbing meat only to turn one time. Remove from grill to hot platter and slice to serve. Meat will be tender, juicy and medium rare. Serves 6.

Mrs. H. E. Kiper

CAKES

(First Prize)

ORANGE-BANANA CAKE

½ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs
1½ cups white sugar
2¼ cups all-purpose flour
½ tsp. baking powder
¾ tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt
1 orange rind, grated and juice
1 cup mashed bananas
¼ cup orange juice

Cream butter, eggs and sugar until light and fluffy. Add flour, baking powder, soda, salt and orange rind. Beat well. Add banana and orange juice. Stir the batter until well mixed and smooth. Preheat oven to 350°. Bake about 30-35 minutes or until cake springs back when lightly touched. Frost while still slightly warm with orange icing. Use a 13x9x2 inch pan.

Bonnie Nelson

Long Beach 8

(Second Prize)

VEILED PROPHET PARTY CAKE

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
¼ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs beaten light
½ cup thick sour milk or buttermilk
½ cup boiling water
2 squares bitter chocolate, melted
1 tsp. soda
1 tsp. vanilla

BONNIE NELSON

Grease and flour bottoms of two 9-inch layer pans. Sift flour once, add baking powder and salt and sift three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, cream until fluffy: add beaten eggs and beat well. At low speed in mixer, add flour mixture alternately with buttermilk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Blend well after each addition. Pour boiling water into the melted chocolate and mix quickly. Add soda to chocolate and mix until thick. Cool slightly before adding to cake batter. Mix well then add vanilla.

Turn batter into pans and bake at 350° 30 to 40 minutes. Cool; spread chocolate filling between layers and on top to within half inch of edge. Frost sides and top edge with Coffee-Butter Frosting or whipped cream.

Chocolate Filling

½ cup sugar
3 tblsp. cornstarch
2 squares bitter chocolate melted
1 cup coffee
1 tblsp. butter
¼ cup slivered almonds

Combine sugar and cornstarch in 2 quart saucepan. Stir in coffee. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick. Add the tablespoon of butter and the almonds. Cool before spreading on cakes.

Coffee-Butter Frosting

1½ cups confectioner's sugar
1 tblsp. dry cocoa
⅓ cup butter
1 tblsp. strong coffee

Cream the butter and add gradually the sugar and cocoa mixed together. Beat well. Stir in the coffee. Can be forced through a pastry bag to make ornamental designs.

(Third Prize)

ORANGE GLAZE CAKE

½ lb. butter
2 cups sugar
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup buttermilk
1½ tsp. soda
4 eggs
1 cup chopped walnuts
3¼ cups flour
½ cup orange rind grated
½ tsp. salt

Cream butter thoroughly. Add sugar. Stir until dissolved. Add eggs, one at a time. Add orange rind, dates and nuts. Sift flour, salt and soda together and add alternately with cup of buttermilk, beginning and ending with flour. Pour into a 10x14x2 inch pan. Bake 1 hour at 350°.

Orange Glaze

1 cup orange juice
2 cups sugar

Bring juice and sugar to a boil. Punch hot cake full of holes about half inch in diameter and pour glaze over cake. Serves 24.

Frances P. Edelman

PRUNE CAKE

3 eggs
1 cup vegetable oil
1½ cups sugar
2 cups flour sifted
1 tsp. soda
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg, cloves or allspice
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup cooked chopped prunes
1 tsp. vanilla

Blend sugar, oil and eggs. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Pour into buttered 9x13 pan. Bake 1 hour at 300 degrees. Remove from oven. While hot, cover with buttermilk icing. Serves 18-20.

Buttermilk Icing:

1 cup sugar
½ cup buttermilk
½ tsp. soda
1 tblsp. white syrup
¼ cup butter
½ tsp. vanilla

Cook about 7 minutes and pour over cake.

Mrs. Marian Warrick

BAKED MERINGUE SPICECAKE

2 cups flour
3 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. ground cloves
½ cup shortening
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 egg and 1 extra egg yolk
¾ cup milk

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices together. Cream shortening with sugar until fluffy. Add eggs and beat well. Add sifted ingredients, alternately with milk in small amounts; beat well after each addition. Pour into 7x12 rectangular greased and floured cake pan.

MERINGUE

1 egg white
½ cup dark brown sugar
¼ cup chopped nuts

Beat the egg white stiff. Beat in the half cup sugar gradually. Spread over cake batter and sprinkle with the chopped nuts. Bake cake at 350° 40-50 minutes.

Winnie Webber
3738 Fanwood Ave.
Long Beach 8

BLACKBERRY JAM CAKE

2 cups sifted flour (sift three times)
1 tsp. soda
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. cloves
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 cup sugar
½ cup shortening or margarine
3 eggs, separated
1 cup blackberry jam
¾ cup buttermilk

Sift dry ingredients all together. Cream shortening and sugar. Add egg yolks, jam and milk. Beat and mix well. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in last. Turn batter into two greased and floured 8" cake tins and bake at 350 degrees 30 to 40 minutes or until tested done. Spread with icing. Serves 10.

Mrs. Donald Smith

FRIED DUCK-MANDARIN SAUCE

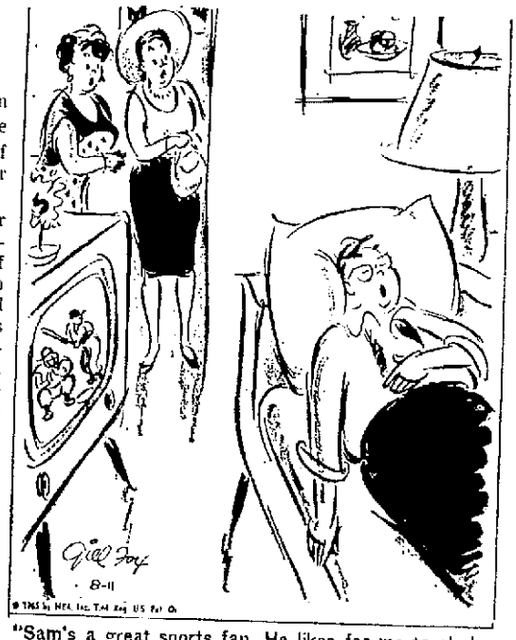

- 1 3½-4 lb. duck, cut in serving pieces
- Salt, pepper, flour for dredging
- 3-4 tblsp. cooking oil
- 1½ cups orange juice
- 1 small can Mandarin oranges and juice
- ¼ cup sherry wine
- 2 buttons garlic minced fine
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch

Heat oven to 350°. Season duck with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Heat oil in skillet and fry duck until nicely browned (quickly). Lay pieces of duck in single layer in roaster. Sprinkle each piece with bits of garlic. Add half cup orange juice and cover and bake 40 minutes.

Remove from oven, pour off all drippings and discard. Turn each piece of duck. Add sherry wine to balance of orange juice and juice from mandarin oranges and pour over duck and return to oven without lid. Lower heat to 325. Baste occasionally. Turn duck as it browns so all sides are nicely browned.

Remove duck to hot serving platter. Add cornstarch to make sauce. When bubbly add mandarin sections stirring gently to heat, then pour over duck.

Seafood Recipe Wins Cook Book Prize

By MILDRED K. FLANARY
I. P-T Food Editor

Our readers—both women AND men — have done it again . . . contributed several thousand recipes to our Eleventh Annual Cook Book. We put this edition to bed with a big sigh of relief . . . yet with a great deal of satisfaction, due entirely to your great response. Recipes came from afar this year, the States of Washington, Indiana and Florida included. Several of our first prize winners represent neighboring cities.

To Mrs. Robert J. Fair, 256 Lindero Ave., goes the grand prize. Her recipe for Seafood a la Newburg, using a variety of seafoods, serves 24 or 4. Entered under the "Quantity Cooking" classification, it can easily be reduced to "family size."

The mother of six children, ranging in ages from 11 to two, Mrs. Fair predicts some real "tall" cooking both in, and on, her new O'Keefe & Merritt Contempo Gas Range.

* * * *

MRS. LEIF LANDER, 13922 El Dorado, Seal Beach, was the recipient of an 8-speed Osterizer, second grand prize, for her Nut Torte with Fabulous Frosting recipe. Our sincerest congratulations to each of you, and to the first, second and third place winners in each category.

MILDRED FLANARY

We feel certain that many of our readers will want to keep this combination of outstanding recipes, for few cook books will provide them with such a wide variety.

This year we have added for your convenience, a "Table of Equivalents and Measurements"—"Can Sizes Servings"—"Oven Temperatures" and "Substitutes."

* * * *

AND, MAY WE ALSO call your attention to the many food advertisements that are carried in this Cook Book, all of them from outstanding firms who are helping make life in the kitchen much easier for the American housewife.

To each of you who entered the contest, may we say thanks for your remarkable and timely cooperation.

And to the clubwoman and those stalwart males who assisted in judging, a warmhearted thank-you for a job well done. The judging was entirely impersonal, with 37 women's clubs and three men's clubs of the city perusing them all, preparing, testing and tasting many.

We want to especially express our thanks to the Rossmoor Women's Club. We inadvertently failed to make either word or pictorial mention of this fine club in our Sunday, August 1 edition. We do humbly apologize.

* * * *

THE HOME ECONOMISTS who selected the final winners did a noteworthy job, for we assure you it wasn't easy. They, the following, deserve a big vote of gratitude.

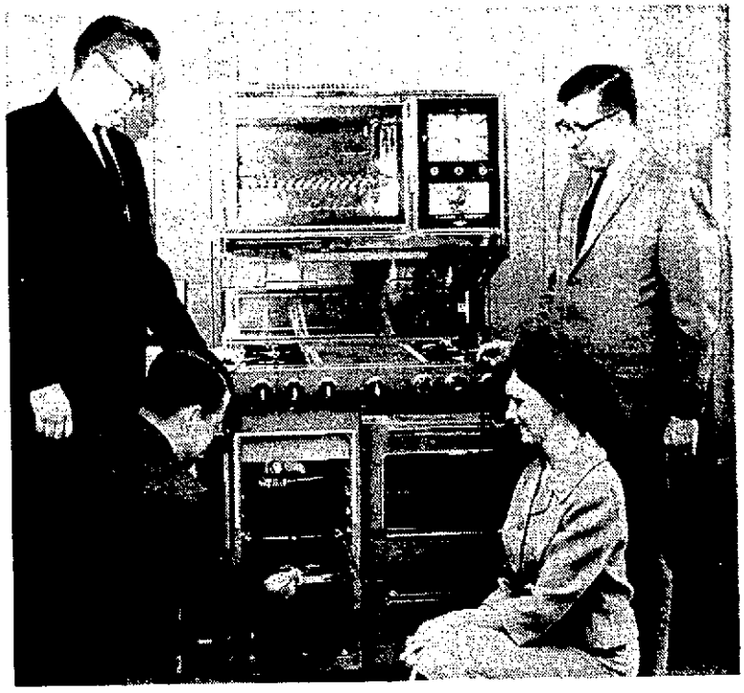

Miss Barbara K. Duffy, director of home economics, Southern California Edison Co.

Miss Marilyn Vandewarf, associate professor of home economics, California State College, Long Beach.

Mrs. Ruth Conrad Bateman, writer, food consultant and author "I Love to Cook Cookbook," Whittier.

Mrs. Beatrice Erickson, head of the department of home economics, Stephen White Jr. High School, Torance.

Mrs. Martha Kimball, supervisor of home economics, Western Research Kitchen, Los Angeles.

GRAND PRIZE WINNER

SEA FOOD a la NEWBURG

(Recipe as given serves 24. For family size, cut recipe by thirds.)

- 3 No. ½ cans lobster meat, drained, boned and "bite-sized"
- 3 No. ½ cans crab meat, drained, boned and "bite-sized"
- 3 5-oz. cans shrimp, drained and cleaned
- ¾ cup butter
- 4 cans frozen shrimp soup
- 4 cans cream of tomato soup
- 3 3-oz. cans sliced broiled mushrooms
- 3 cups milk
- 3 tblsp. brown sugar
- 1½ tsp. paprika
- ¾ tsp. nutmeg
- ¾ cup Sherry wine
- Water cress
- 1 cup Macadamia nut bits (if you're feeling real expansive.)

Saute lobster, crab meat and half the shrimp (reserve remaining shrimp for garnish) in butter in large frying pan until golden. Blend in tomato and shrimp soup, mushrooms and liquid in can, milk, sugar, paprika and nutmet. Heat slowly to boiling; reduce heat, simmer 10 minutes. Stir in Sherry wine and sprinkle with nuts, JUST BEFORE SERVING. Spoon in center of pimiento-rice ring. Garnish with water cross and reserved shrimp.

PIMIENTO-RICE RING

(Serves 24)

- 6 cups raw rice
- ¾ cup melted butter
- ¾ cup chopped parsley
- ¾ cup diced pimientos (about 2)
- Salt and pepper to taste

Heavily grease two 2-quart ring molds. Cook rice in large amount of boiling salted water (you will need two large kettles for this) cooking half the rice in about 6 quarts of water, without stirring for 20 to 25 minutes: drain. Season with butter, parsley, salt and pepper and pimiento. Place cooked, seasoned rice into ring molds. Bake 350° oven for 20 minutes. Loosen around edges with knife and turn out into heated platter.

TURKEY TRIANGLES

Fillings

2 cups diced, cooked turkey
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup chopped onion
1 cup cooked peas
2 tblsp. chopped olives
¼ tsp. paprika

Combine all ingredients and heat for a few minutes. Pace a small amount of filling on each square of dough. Fold over to make a triangle and seal edges. Prick surface with a fork. Bake in 400° 15 to 20 minutes or until delicately brown.

Dough

2 cups sifted flour
¾ cup corn meal
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup milk

Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles course crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on floured board to form a rectangle about 12x18 inches. Cut into six squares and place on a baking sheet.

SWEET & SOUR CHICKEN WINGS

2 lbs. chicken wings
½ tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
2 green peppers, chopped
3 stalks of celery, sliced
1 med. sized onion, chopped
½ cup crushed pineapple, including syrup
½ cup of catsup
½ cup of vinegar
½ cup of brown sugar

Cut off small end of chicken wings and discard, then place rest of wing in roasting pan, salt and pepper and bake in oven until brown and done, about ½ hour at 300°.

Sauce: Saute the green peppers, celery and onion until lightly browned. Stir into the sauteed vegetables, the pineapple, catsup, vinegar and brown sugar. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Pour over the chicken wings and return to the oven 30 minutes. Serves 4 generously.

SECOND PRIZE WINNER

Mrs. Leif Lander, winner of the second grand prize, is learning the virtues of her new Imperial VIII Osterizer, being presented to her by John A. Smith, west coast representative of the John Oster Manufacturing Co. A Nut Torte with Fabulous Frosting was her winning recipe.

This Nut Torte Is Winner of Second

NUT TORTE WITH FABULOUS FROSTING

2 cups finely ground pecans
4 egg yolks
1 cup sugar
2 tblsp. flour
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder
1 tblsp. orange juice or jamaica rum
4 egg whites
½ cup whipped cream with bit of grated orange rind
Fabulous Frosting
1 6 oz. pkg. semisweet chocolate pieces
½ cup commercial sour cream
Pinch of salt

Grind the pecans very fine. Beat the egg yolks until thick and light. Add sugar to eggs and then stir the flour, salt and baking powder into the eggs and sugar. Add the orange juice or rum, then the pecans. Beat the egg whites until stiff and fold into the above ingredients.

Grease two 8-inch layer pans and line with wax paper. Pour batter into pans and bake in 350° oven 25 minutes or until light pressure on cake leaves no dent. Remove from pan and remove wax paper. When cool put the two layers together with the whipped cream between. Melt the semisweet chocolate pieces over hot water but not boiling. Stir in the sour cream and a pinch of salt. Mix and spread over the cake and garnish with nuts.

The night before take:
- 4 beef shanks
- 1 onion, peeled and quartered
- 2 stalks of celery, leaves and all
- 1½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper

Place the above in pan, cover with water, simmer until meat is tender. Remove shanks and let cool then cut meat from bone and discard fat or gristle and chop meat in large chunks. Be sure to scrape marrow from inside bone and include with meat for flavor. Drain stock, discarding celery and onion. Place meat and stock separately in refrigerator overnight.

In the morning take:
- 1 large can tomatoes
- 1 onion, peeled and diced
- 1 apple, peeled and diced
- 4 large potatoes, peeled, diced
- 4 carrots, peeled and sliced
- 1 bouillon cube
- 1 tblsp. sugar
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 1 pkg. frozen mixed vegetables
- ¾ cup diced celery

Place meat in large kettle; skim fat from stock and add it. Add tomatoes and juice, add everything above except the frozen vegetables and celery. Cook until potatoes and carrots are done then add frozen vegetables and celery and cook until they are done. Cool and refrigerate one hour before serving then reheat. It is always bettter warmed up.

Alice Furgerson

BEAN SOUP

- 2 cups small white beans
- 1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
- 1 lg. potato diced
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 ham hock (2-3 lbs.)
- 1 onion chopped
- ¼ tsp. thyme

Soak beans overnight in 6 cups water. Put ham in large kettle cover with 4 cups of water and bring to boil; simmer 2 hours. Remove ham, add the can of tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, thyme, beans in the water in which they were soaked, the onion cut up. Simmer about 1½ hours or until beans are tender, then add the diced potato and diced ham. Simmer until potato is cooked, and serve. Makes about 6 quarts.

HOMEMADE BORSCH

- 3 lb. chuck beef, cut in slices
- 8 cups beef bouillon
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 tblsp. butter
- 2 carrots, sliced
- ½ med. cabbage, shredded
- 3 med. beets, shredded
- 2 potatoes, cubed
- 1 8 oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tblsp. parsley
- 1 tblsp. cider vinegar
- Dairy sour cream

To make bouillon: use either fresh, homemade or mix 5 teaspoons beef stock base with 8 cups cold water. Fine tasting bouillon is essential to this delicious soup.

Put beef in a kettle with bouillon. Add salt, pepper and bay leaf. Bring to a boil, skim, simmer, covered for a half hour. In a large skillet melt butter and saute onion, carrots, beets, cabbage and parsley for 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce and vinegar and simmer over low heat for 10 minutes. Add to stock and cook, covered, 30 minutes. Add potatoes and continue to simmer until meat is tender (about 30 minutes). Add more salt and pepper if necessary. Serve with sour cream. Serves 4.

CHICKEN BARBECUE FOR CROWD

- 6-8 whole fryers
- 1 cup bottled barbecue sauce
- 1 cup catsup
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- 1 tblsp. liquid smoke
- 3 tblsp. worcestershire sauce
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- ⅓ cup brown sugar

The day before, place the whole fryers on a large baking sheet. Brush well with melted butter or margarine, inside and out. Bake at 325 degrees 45 minutes or until done. When cool, cut into serving pieces, dip in sauce and pack in a bowl overnight to marinate. The next day, grill chicken pieces over moderately hot coals until thoroughly heated and nicely browned. In 15 minutes you have enough barbecued chicken to feed 20 people. Same procedure and sauce good for lamb breast too.

CLUB CHERRY-PINEAPPLE DESSERT

- 1 No. 2 can pitted red cherries
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup cornstarch
- 1 cup sugar
- Red food coloring

Crust

- 1 cup wheat cereal flakes
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ¾ cup melted butter
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats

For filling drain cherries and pineapple thoroughly. Combine the juices in saucepan and bring to a boil. Combine cornstarch and sugar and add gradually to juices, stirring. Cook, stirring, until juices thicken and clear, then add cherries and pineapple. Remove from heat and stir in a few drops red coloring. For crust, sift flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add cereals and sugar, then add butter and mix to a crumbly texture. Press half of crumbs into bottom of 9x13 inch pan. Cover with cherry - pineapple mixture and top with remaining crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees 20 minutes. Cut into squares and serve plain or top with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 12.

MEAL IN ONE BUNS

- 1 med. onion
- 2 green peppers
- 2 lbs. tillamook cheese, grated
- 1 7½-oz. can chopped ripe olives
- ⅔ cup chili sauce
- ½ cup salad oil
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. ground black pepper
- 24 large French rolls

Cut top from rolls and scoop out the inside of rolls. Cut rolls so there is more bread at bottom than top so the cheese will stay inside when melted. Grind the onion and bell peppers in food chopper. Grate cheese. Mix in large bowl the onion, peppers, cheese, olives, chili sauce, salad oil, salt and pepper. Fill the rolls with the cheese mixture, place the tops on each roll and then wrap each in foil. Place in upright position on oven grate in 325 degree oven and bake 20-25 minutes. Yields 24 cheese buns.

- 2 lbs. sliced onions
- 2 cups chopped green peppers
- 6 lbs. ground beef
- ⅓ cup salt
- 7 cups macaroni
- ½ tsp. pepper
- 1½ qts. canned tomatoes
- 1 qt. condensed tomato soup
- 5 lbs. frozen peas

Fry bacon until brown, pour fat into baking pans then put in vegetables, meat and seasoning. Brown on top of range, reduce heat, simmer one hour, stirring frequently. Cook and drain macaroni. Add tomatoes and soup to meat mixture then add to macaroni. Cook peas and add them with the bacon to mixture just before serving. Serves 55.

DUTCH APPLE CAKE

- ½ cup butter
- 1 cup flour
- ⅓ cup sugar
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 lemon, grated rind
- Drop of vanilla

Filling

- 5-6 lg. green apples
- ¾ cup currant jelly
- cinnamon
- Slivered almonds

Cream the butter and mix in the flour, sugar, egg yolk, grated rind and vanilla. Blend with hands until a smooth dough then press into bottom and sides of 9" springform pan, reserving strips of a lattice top. Filling: Slice the apples paper-thin and sprinkle liberally with sugar. Mix in currant jelly. Fill shell with fruit and cover with lattice work strips. Sprinkle strips with cinnamon and the visible fruit with slivered almonds. Bake in 400° oven 1 hour. Remove from pan and serve cake with vanilla flavored whipped cream or ice cream.

FAWORKI

(Swedish Crullers)

- 2 Whole eggs
- 2 egg yolks
- 2 tsp. melted butter
- 1 tblsp. brandy
- 1 tblsp. grated lemon peel
- ¾ cup powdered sugar
- 1½ cups sifted flour
- Powdered sugar

Beat eggs and yolks until light and fluffy. Add butter, brandy and lemon rind and beat again. Add sifted flour gradually, beating after each addition. Then add sugar. Turn onto floured board and knead to light elasticity. Allow dough to rest for 10 minutes. Roll dough as thin as is possible to handle. Cut into strips 2x1". Twist strip in center to give bow-know effect. Fry in deep fat turning until brown on all sides. Place on brown paper and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

ZUCCHINI ITALIANO

- 6 tblsp. olive oil
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 6 med. zucchini (Italian Squash)
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 lge. can, 2½ Italian tomatoes (pear-shaped)
- Parmesan cheese grated

Pour oil into frying pan when hot, add chopped onion and fry until golden brown. Slice unpeeled zucchini crosswise approximately ¼ inch thick, sprinkle slices with salt and add to frying oil. Using spatula, stir mixture to prevent sticking to pan and fry for five minutes. Drain juice from canned tomatoes, add to zucchini, cover pan, and cook over low heat for 10 minutes. Sprinkle parmesan cheese generously over entire top of mixture allowing it to melt before serving. Serves 4-6.

IRISH CASSEROLE

- 2 tblsp. margarine
- 1 lb. stewing beef, cut into 1 inch cubes
- 1 pkg. beef soup mix
- 2 cups water
- 1 9 oz. pkg. green beans
- 1½ lbs. small potatoes, pared and cooked
- 2 tblsp. margarine
- ⅔ cup shredded American cheese (3-4 oz.)

Melt margarine in skillet and add meat. Cook until browned. Remove from heat. Sprinkle soup mix over meat. Stir in water. Bring to boil, stirring constantly. Reduce heat; cover and simmer until meat is tender, stirring occasionally, for about 45 minutes. Add beans, bring to a boil then simmer for 5 minutes. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine. Dip potatoes into melted margarine, then roll in shredded cheese. Pour meat mixture into 1½ quart casserole. Arrange potatoes around edge. Bake in 375 degree oven until cheese is lightly browned, 15 to 20 minutes. Serves 4.

HUNGARIAN NUT HORNS

Crust

- 1 cup (½ lb. cream cheese)
- 1 cup shortening (half veg. half butter)
- 2 cups all purpose flour
- Pinch of salt

Nut Filling

- 2 cups finely ground walnuts
- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ cup milk

For crust: Combine all ingredients of dough, using blender, and it will be on sticky side. Wrap in wax paper and chill. Remove one third of batch of dough at a time. Roll out on lightly floured board about thickness of pie crust or thinner. Cut into squares. Place nut filling or preserves in center of squares. Bring corners diagonally opposite together at the center and moisten with a bit of water to keep them from opening, or shape dough into horns. Bake on wax lined cookie sheet in 350 degree oven about 15 minutes. Cool and sprinkle with powdered sugar.

SHRIMP WITH CRAB SAUCE

- 3 lbs. jumbo shrimp
- 2 cans King crab meat (7½ oz. cans)
- 2 tblsp. water with chestnuts minced
- 2 tblsp. bamboo shoots minced
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 lg. cloves garlic crushed
- ½ tsp. white pepper
- 8 tblsp. corn oil
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 2 eggs
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch
- ½ cup water
- 4 tblsp. scallions chopped

Chop crab meat and mix with water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, salt and pepper. In large heavy skillet saute crushed garlic in hot oil over moderate flame for four minutes. Discard garlic and add the crab mixture, chicken broth and shrimp. Cover and cook over moderate flame for ten minutes. Beat eggs with a little of the pan juices and add, stirring over low flame for two minutes. Combine cornstarch and water and add, stirring constantly for two minutes longer. Add finely chopped scallions and serve immediately with rice. Serves 6.

MUSHROOM MEAT ROLL

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ lb. mushrooms, diced fine
- ¼ tsp. black pepper
- ¾ cup onions, diced fine
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- 1 8 oz. can tomato sauce
- 2 tsp. oregano
- 2 tsp. worcestershire sauce
- 4 slices bacon

Mix meat, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and half the onions with sufficient tomato sauce to roll out nicely. Roll out on board to a moderately thick cake. Mix mushrooms, remaining onions, oregano, worcestershire sauce and enough tomato sauce to spread easily. Spread this mix on the meat cake and roll up. Fold in ends and punch to seal. Place the roll in a pan, pour rest of tomato sauce over it and lay the strips of bacon across the roll. Bake in 350 degrees about 1 hour or until done. Slice and serve. Serves 4.

BARBECUED BEEF RIBS

- 6 lbs. beef cross ribs
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper

Sauce

- 1 6 oz. can frozen lemonade
- 1 small can crushed pineapple
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 tblsp. vinegar
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch

Place ribs in pan with enough water to reach up half way, add the salt and pepper and cover pan. Bring to a boil, lower flame and simmer half hour. Drain ribs, save broth for soup. Prepare the sauce and pour one half of sauce over hot ribs in pan. When ready to bake, remove each rib and place side by side in large flat baking pan which has been lined with foil. Take remaining sauce and add to sauce left in the pan in which the ribs were cooked. Add 2 tablespoons of cornstarch and cook for about 3 minutes until warm. Spread this sauce over the ribs for a nice glaze. Bake ribs 1 hour at 375 degrees.

STRAWBERRY ALASKA

1 baked round 9" yellow cake layer
2 pts. strawberry ice cream
10 tblsp. granulated sugar
1 10 oz. pkg. frozen sliced strawberries, thawed, drained
5 egg whites

Bake the yellow layer cake day before using dessert. Let ice cream soften slightly then pile on center top of cake layer; make hollow in center of ice cream then fill it with drained berries. Place on foil-covered cardboard and freeze.

On day of serving: Beat, at high speed, the egg whites until frothy throughout, then gradually sprinkle in sugar, about 2 tablespoons at a time, until stiff peaks form. With metal spatula, spread about ⅔ of this meringue over top and sides of the Alaska and use the remainder in a pastry bag to decorate, if desired. Return to freezer at least 1 hour.

Heat oven to 500°. With two wide spatulas lift Alaska to large cookie sheet and place in oven for 2-3 minutes or until meringue on top and sides is just tinged brown. Will serve 12.

Baldness Is Not Hereditary, Says Scalp Specialist

Offers Free Examination and $2.00 Trial Treatment to Demonstrate Amazing New Methods (Next 8 Days Only)

How dandruff and a tight scalp can cause hair loss is explained by Trichologist S. I. Turoff. Turoff directs the large organization of Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts.

"You will find no medical proof for the popular belief that baldness is actually hereditary," says S. I. Turoff, Chief Trichologist of the Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts, when interviewed recently. "If this belief were true, why would a person start to lose hair rapidly, say at the age of 30? Why did the loss start then, rather than sooner—or later? You started losing hair at that particular time because some scalp disorder or systemic trouble was added to your inherited weakness.

Why Does Baldness Start on Top?

"Another question put to me very often is, 'Why does baldness start on top?' The reason for that is the crown of your head simply does not enjoy the same vigorous blood circulation as the sides. You get older, scalp tensions increase, dandruff and foreign matter pack the shrinking hair follicles—and your hair roots actually 'starve' for lack of blood.

Combining the knowledge of eminent scientific authority with new and startling discoveries, S. I. Turoff and his staff of highly experienced trichologists have developed a special treatment to normalize scalp tension, falling hair, dandruff, itchy scalp and thinning hair. These may be Nature's danger signals for oncoming baldness. Biochemistry, electrotherapy, physiotherapy, together with Turoff exclusive formula help restore your scalp to health and vitality.

Trichologist Turoff went on to say, "No matter what stage of baldness you have reached, your hair can be regrown if the roots are not dead.

"Professional examination of your scalp is the first step toward a healthy head of hair. Turoff trichologists do not prescribe treatment until such an examination has been made, nor will they prescribe treatment for systemic cases that cannot be benefited. Every scalp is an individual problem requiring special medication.

"We have found that because approaching baldness DOES NOT PAIN, people who are in urgent need of treatment are prone to keep putting it off until it is too late. To reach those people quickly, we are making a special offer all this week.

Money-Back Guarantee and $2.00 Trial Visit This Week

"If the free examination shows you can be helped, you can receive your first four Turoff Treatments on a money back guarantee all this week. If you decide to undertake treatment, your first treatment will cost you $2.00. You are guaranteed satisfaction on or about your fourth treatment or your money will be refunded in full."

OYSTER DRESSING

⅜ cup butter or margarine
1 lg. onion, chopped
½ cup celery, chopped
1 tblsp. parsley flakes
¾ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. sage
1½ qts. bread crumbs
1 pt. oysters chopped and the liquid

Melt the butter in a large skillet and add the other ingredients including the bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly then add the chopped oysters and the liquid. If frozen oysters are used, boil gently half hour in their own liquid before adding to dressing. This makes enough to stuff a small turkey.

CORNBREAD SAUSAGE SCRAMBLE

1 lg. bulk pork sausage
1 egg
1 cup milk
1¼ cups cornbread mix

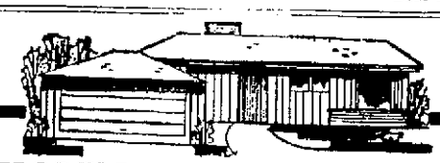

Place the sausage in a heavy skillet. Cook over medium heat until lightly browned, stirring with a fork to break up the meat. Drain the fat from the sausage as it browns and when meat is done drain on a paper towel. Combine in a bowl the egg, well beaten, and the milk. Mix well and add the cornbread mix. Blend until smooth. Return the browned sausage to the skillet and pour the mixture over it. Cook over high heat until golden brown, stirring frequently. When the cornbread mixture clings to the sausage and becomes somewhat done and quite lumpy, cover and reduce heat to low. Cook five minutes longer. Turn out on a serving plate and serve with warm maple syrup. Serves 3.

NO TURN SPEED-BROIL®

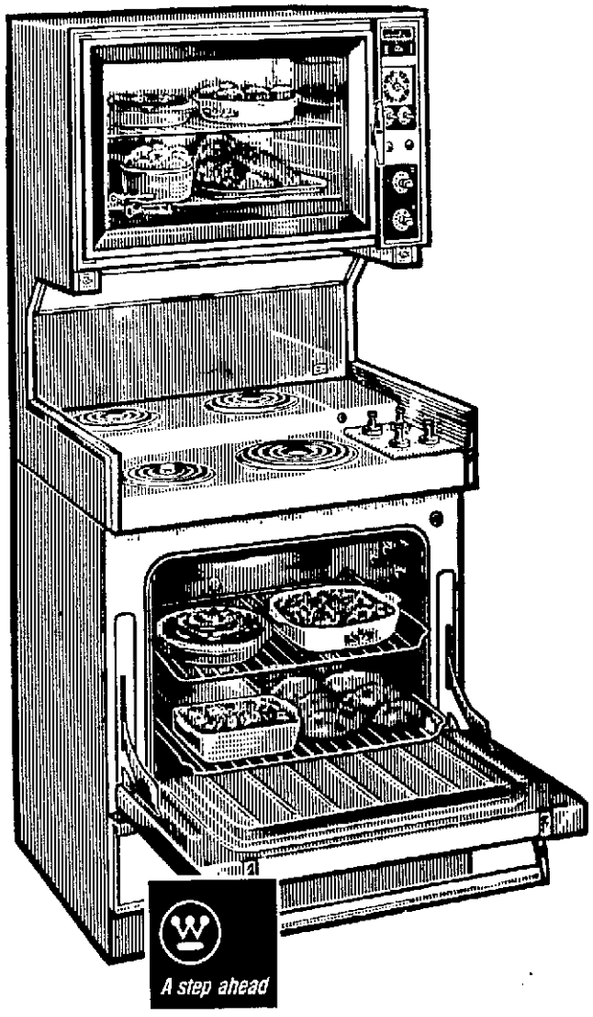

HERE'S THE MOST WELCOME NEWS IN ELECTRIC RANGE COOKING IN 50 YEARS...

Westinghouse LOADED with Features

Now you can broil both sides of your meat at the same time — in only half the time it used to take and do it with NO SMOKE, NO SPATTER, NO FLAME-UP. You'll find you can broil time after time WITHOUT CLEANING THE OVEN! No Turn Speed-Broiling is done with two broiling elements — one above and one below the meat. This means your meat is fast-seared on both sides at once, sealing the juice and flavor in . . . making even well-done meat more juicy and more flavorful. And you never have to handle a hot broil pan to turn the meat.

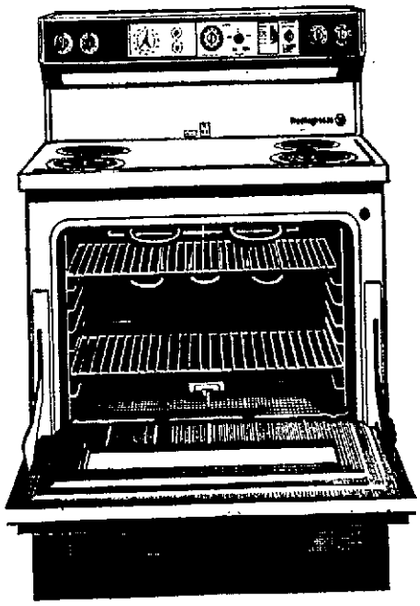

The Beautiful New Continental Double Oven

THE Westinghouse CUSTOM IMPERIAL FLAMELESS ELECTRIC RANGE FEATURES THE NEW, EXCLUSIVE NO TURN SPEED-BROIL—PLUS:

REMOVABLE CHROME OVEN PANELS — can be easily washed

CHILDREN'S FAVORITE DISHES

MRS. DON GILL

(First Prize)

"SILLY CAKE"

- 1½ cups sifted flour
- 3 tblsp. cocoa
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ tsp. salt
- 5 tblsp. cooking oil
- 1 tblsp. vinegar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup water (cold)

Put sifted flour back into sifter, add to it the cocoa, soda, sugar and salt and sift this right into a greased square cake pan, about 9x9x2. Make 3 holes in the dry mixture. Into one, pour the oil, into the next the vinegar, into the next, the vanilla. Pour the cold water over it all. Beat mixture with a spoon and beat it until smooth and the flour has been absorbed. Bake at 350 degrees 30 minutes.

CLOWN LUNCHEON PLATE

- 3 eggs, hard boiled
- 3 med. tomatoes, halved
- 6 slices of celery
- 6 olives
- 6 pickles, sweet gherkin
- 3 slices bread
- 3 slices luncheon meat
- 2 carrots, finely grated
- 6 cloves
- Marischino cherry

Slice eggs in half and place cut side down on plate. Use grated carrot surrounding the egg (head) for orange hair, 2 cloves form the eyes, a single piece of grated carrot is the nose and a slice of the cherry forms the smiling mouth.

Slice tomato in half and place cut side down on plate below egg, to form the body of the clown. Cut celery sticks into appropriate lengths and stick end of celery into stuffed olive for each arm and hand. Make open face sandwich of bread and luncheon meat and cut into strips for legs. Attach gherkin with toothpick to represent large shoes. Serves 6 delighted children.

MOCHA DIVINITY FROSTING

⅓ cup dark brown sugar, packed
⅓ cup granulated sugar
3 tblsp. strong black coffee
½ cup dark corn syrup
2 egg whites
1 cup confectioners powdered sugar
1 tsp. vanilla

Combine sugars and corn syrup in sauce pan. Bring to boil and cook for 6-8 minutes until the syrup spins a thread or 242°. Syrup will be quite thick and bubbly. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak. Pour hot syrup slowly in a thin stream into egg whites beating constantly. Add powdered sugar and beat until smooth. Add vanilla and beat until icing holds its shape. This makes enough frosting to cover sides and top of 9x14 loaf or fill and frost two 9" layers.

WALNUT COCKTAIL TURNOVERS

2 cups sifted flour
1 tsp. seasoned salt
½ tsp. chili powder
⅔ cup shortening
4-6 tblsp. cold water

Filling

⅔ cup chopped toasted walnuts
1 jar (5-oz.) chicken
2 tblsp. finely chopped canned green chilies
2 tblsp. finely chopped onion
½ tsp. chili powder
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup mayonnaise

To prepare pastry: sift flour with salt and chili powder into bowl. Cut shortening in, so that pieces are the size of coarse meal. Add water, a little at a time and toss with a fork. Shape pastry with hands and form into a ball. Chill while you prepare filling.

Cut chicken into small pieces and mix well with remaining ingredients. Roll pastry on a lightly floured board to about ⅛ inch thickness. Cut into rounds using a half inch cutter. Spoon a little filling into each round and fold over, like small turnovers. Press edges together with the tines of a fork to seal. Prick top of each one. Bake on ungreased baking sheet 10-12 minutes in 450 degree oven. Makes 6 dozen tiny turnovers.

ALBONDIGAS
(Spicy Meatballs)

½ lb. chorizo or garlic sausage
1½ lbs. ground beef
1 clove garlic
1 tblsp. minced parsley
1 tsp. salt
½ cup soft bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
2 tblsp. olive oil

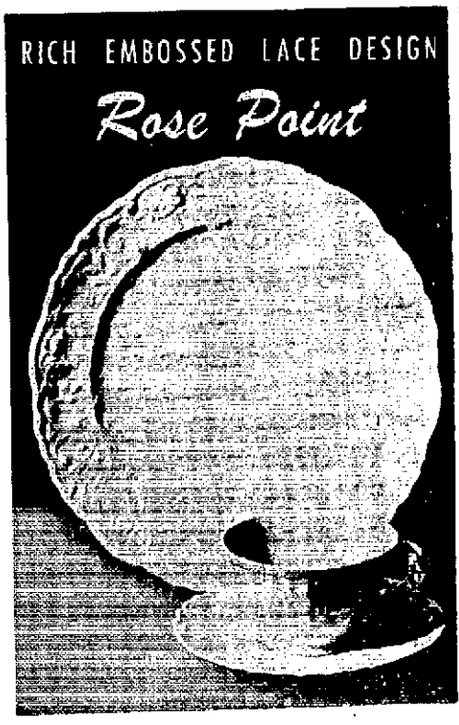

Put chorizo through food grinder and combine with other ground meat. Add grated or crushed garlic, parsley, salt, crumbs and egg, mixing well. Shape into 1-inch balls. Brown in olive oil, shaking pan to keep balls round. Cover and cook slowly 15 minutes. To serve as cocktail tidbits, keep hot in chafing dish, adding a small amount of sherry to keep from sticking. Makes 30 small balls.

RUSSIAN LOW CALORIE SALAD AND DRESSING

Chop any kind of cold cooked meat (chicken is best) with equal parts of cold cooked fish. To this add cold boiled carrots, green beans, beets, chopped green onions and any other favorite vegetable. Mix two hard-boiled eggs and a little very fine chopped celery with the following dressing.

- 2 tblsp. vinegar
- Pinch of salt & paprika
- ¼ tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. tomato catsup or worcestershire sauce

Combine ingredients and pour over the above salad.

Mrs. Emil Sarthou

HONEY RASPBERRY SHERBET

- 2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 qt. fresh or frozen red raspberries
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1¾ cup water
- ¾ cup honey
- 2 egg whites
- ⅛ tsp. salt

Soften the gelatin in the ¼ cup cold water. Press the berries through a sieve or ricer, or use blender. Add lemon juice to the berries and mix. Combine the water and the honey in a saucepan and boil 10 minutes. Remove from the heat and stir the soaked gelatin into this hot syrup to dissolve. Let the syrup cool. Add the sieved berries and mix to combine smoothly. Pour into refrigerator tray. Chill about half hour. Whip egg whites with the salt until stiff and they stand in peaks when the beater is withdrawn. Fold whites into the chilled berry mixture. Pour back into the refrigerator tray. Freeze half hour then beat well. Freeze three hours or more, beating the sherbet at half hour intervals. Beat again before serving. Serve it heaped in large wine glasses and garnish with a few whole berries and a mint leaf. Serves 5-6.

DUCK A L'ORANGE

4-5 lb. duck
1 tsp. lemon juice
1 orange
1 tblsp. bacon drippings
Salt, pepper to taste
1 cup white wine
Duck giblets, chopped
2 tblsp. flour
2 tblsp. butter
2 oranges, peeled and divided
Water

Rub duck inside and out with lemon juice. Peel orange and put peel aside. Place orange inside duck. Rub skin of duck with bacon drippings. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place in 450° oven 15 minutes, turning frequently until seared all over. Reduce heat to 350° and roast duck until tender. Meanwhile, cover orange peel with water in saucepan and cook 10 minutes. Drain and chop peel. Put wine and duck giblets in saucepan, add chopped peel and simmer gently 30 minutes. Brown flour in butter, add to giblet sauce. Bring mixture to boil and remove from heat. Add orange segments to sauce and serve with duck. Serves 4.

PIES AND TARTS

MABEL SMILEY

(First Prize)
PUMPKIN-MALLO PIE
Gingersnap Crust

1⅔ cups fine gingersnap crumbs (about 25 cookies)
½ cup soft butter or margarine

Blend together the crumbs and butter until mixture is crumbly. Lightly grease a 9" pyrex pie pan; press mixture on sides and bottom of the pan. Bake at 350° for 8 minutes. Cool.

Filling

1 cup canned pumpkin
2 pkgs. (10 oz. size) large marshmallows, quartered
1 tsp. cinnamon
¼ tsp. salt
½ tsp. rum extract
1 cup whipping cream

Cook in double boiler the pumpkin, marshmallows, cinnamon and salt until marshmallows are melted, stirring often. Cool thoroughly in refrigerator. Beat the chilled mixture with rum extract until smooth and creamy. Beat the whipping cream stiff, then fold into pumpkin mixture. Spoon into cold gingersnap crust. Refrigerate until set.

FUDGE PIE
Crust

1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
⅓ cup shortening
2 tblsp. butter
2 to 3 tblsp. water

Mix and line 8 inch pie pan. Bake at 450° 10-12 minutes.

Fudge Filling

1 pkg. 6 oz. semi-sweet chocolate chips
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup cream
2 tblsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites
1 cup whipping cream

In top of double broiler, put chocolate pieces, sugar, cream and butter and stir until mixture is smooth. Remove from heat, cool slightly, blend in egg yolks, one at a time and beat well. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in chocolate mixture, add vanilla. Spoon into cooled, baked pie shell. Whip cream, spread on. Chill 3-4 hours. Serves 8-12.

YEAST BREADS
(Rolls, Coffee Cakes, Doughnuts)

(First Prize)

CROWN COFFEE CAKE

1 cup milk, scalded
⅓ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
2 eggs, beaten
4 cups sifted flour

Add shortening, sugar and salt to hot milk. Cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast in warm water. Let stand 5 minutes. Combine milk and yeast mixture. Add eggs and half of the flour. Beat well. Add remaining flour. Turn dough onto a lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic. Place the dough in a greased bowl, cover and let raise until double in bulk.

Then take:

½ cup butter
½ cup nut meats, chopped
¾ cup sugar
½ tsp. cinnamon
1 cup raisins

Roll the dough half inch thick and cut into strips half inch wide. Then cut into pieces the size of walnuts. Form into balls. Place small amount of the softened butter on fingertips and roll each ball in this butter. Then roll balls in the sugar mixed with cinnamon and nut meats. Butter a 9-in. tubed cake pan. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Place a layer of balls in the pan so they barely touch. Sprinkle with raisins and add another layer of balls. Proceed until all the dough has been used. Cover and let raise until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a 350° oven 35-40 minutes. Remove cake, cool on rack and spread with a thin frosting of:

1 cup confectioners sugar
3 tblsp. milk
½ tsp. vanilla

To serve, break apart. Do not cut.

BUTTERSCOTCH TEA CAKE

1½ cups warm water
2 pkgs. dry yeast
⅔ cup sugar
1½ tsp. salt
⅔ cups soft shortening or butter
2 large eggs
1½ cups lukewarm mashed potatoes (not instant)
7½ cups flour

In a warm bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Stir in the sugar, salt, shortening, eggs and potatoes. Mix well. Stir in two to three cups of flour, and mix well with a spoon. Add the remaining flour until the dough is not sticky and is easy to handle. Knead until smooth and elastic (about 10 minutes). Place in a buttered bowl and lightly butter the top of the dough.

Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place 1½-2 hours. Punch down, divide the dough in half and fashion each half into a tea cake. To do this, make small 1 inch balls of dough, roll them in a well buttered Angel Food cake pan which has the butterscotch spread evenly on the bottom. Place the balls of dough about an inch apart and continue this until all the dough has been used up. By the time all the dough balls are in the pan, they should be stacked on top of one another in an orderly fashion and they should come up about ¾ of the way up the side of the pan. Let rise (covered) in a warm place until the dough is slightly above the top of the pan. It should be very light and puffy in appearance.

Bake at 375° 20-25 minutes. When it comes out of the oven, invert it on a large plate so that the butterscotch mixture will run down the sides. While it is still very hot, sprinkle the nuts heavily on the top and a few down the sides.

Butterscotch Mixture

1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup soft butter
2½ tblsp. light corn syrup
2 tsp. vanilla

Mix all ingredients with a spoon and then beat with a mixer until light and fluffy. Spread in the bottom of a well-buttered angel food cakepan.

Cinnamon Mixture

½ cup sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon

If you are going to make two Tea Cakes from the recipe, double the recipe for the Butterscotch and cinnamon mixture.

SATURDAY NIGHT BUNS

3 tblsp. sugar
1 pkg. dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
½ tsp. salt
1 egg
⅓ cup shortening
1 cup milk
3¼ cups sifted flour
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
¾ cup dark all-purpose syrup
¾ cup seedless raisins
2 tsp. cinnamon

Dissolve sugar and yeast in water. Blend in salt, egg, shortening and milk. Add flour, half at a time, and mix well. Cover with a clean towel and let raise until double in bulk (about 1½ hours). Roll out dough to a 14x12 rectangle. Dot with butter. Sprinkle with half of sugar (brown), syrup, raisins and cinnamon. Roll up from the 14" side. Cut into 9 pieces. Grease a 9" square pan. Sprinkle remaining half of brown sugar, syrup, raisins and cinnamon evenly on bottom. Place rolls in pan, cover and let raise until double in bulk again. Bake at 350° 40 to 45 minutes. Turn onto plate immediately. Serve warm. Makes 9 buns.

BUTTER HORN ROLLS

1 cake yeast
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter
3 eggs
1 cup milk, heated to lukewarm
½ tsp. salt
4 cups flour

Stir the yeast with 1 tablespoon of sugar until liquid. Add remaining sugar and eggs which has been beaten lightly. Add butter which has been broken into bits (not creamed), add milk and flour alternately first adding salt to flour. Let rise until morning, then knead the dough very lightly with a little more flour.

Divide into two parts. Roll each part about ½ inch thick and round as possible cut like pie. Roll each piece starting at broad side and rolling down to point. Place on greased cookie sheet and set aside to rise. Bake 25 minutes in 350° oven or until golden brown.

PINEAPPLE SWEET ROLLS

2 yeast cakes
1 tblsp. sugar
1 cup lukewarm water
1 cup scalded milk
6 tblsp. shortening
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
7 cups flour (sifted)
3 eggs, beaten

Scald milk and add shortening. Set to cool. Add beaten eggs and yeast that has been dissolved in cup of luke warm water, tablespoon of sugar and teaspoon of salt. Stir half-cup sugar and 3½ cups sifted flour into the mixture until smooth. Add remaining flour to handle easily (mix with hand).

Turn onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic (about 5 minutes), keeping dough as soft as possible. Round up in greased bowl, greased side up. Cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down and let rise until almost double.

Roll dough ¼ inch thick and cut with a biscuit cutter. Place on a greased pan and let rise until light. Press a hole in the center with two fingers and fill with the following mixture:

2½ can and 211 can crushed pineapple
3 tblsp. sugar
1½ tsp. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt

Place above ingredients in saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil 1 minute and fill the holes in the rolls. Bake rolls at 400° 12 to 15 minutes then cool.

NO RAISE APPLE CAKE

2 cups flour
1 cup shortening
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 yeast cake
1 tsp. sugar
2 egg yolks
sliced apples

Mix the flour and shortening as for pie crust. Dissolve the yeast, and sugar in warm water. Add the 2 egg yolks and let stand a few minutes. Mix the two ingredients together. Knead slightly.

Divide dough in half and roll out to place in an 8x8 square pan. Fill with sliced apples and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon to taste. Roll out other half to place on top of apples. Bake at 350° 45 to 60 minutes. Drizzle with plain icing while hot. Serves 6.

MRS. G. E. DULL

(First Prize)
ORANGE BLOSSOM PUDDING

- 1 bottle 7-Up (7 oz.)
- ½ cup milk
- 2 slightly beaten egg yolks
- 1 pkg. vanilla pudding mix (not instant) 3 oz.
- 1 3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- ⅓ cup frozen orange juice concentrate
- 2 egg whites
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges, well drained

Combine 7-Up with milk and egg yolks. Prepare the pudding mix using the 7-Up mixture as the liquid. Add cream cheese and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Blend in orange juice concentrate; cool 10 minutes. Beat again until smooth. Beat egg whites to soft peaks, gradually adding sugar. Gently fold into pudding. Spoon into 6 sherbet glasses with the mandarin oranges.

(Second Prize)
HEAVENLY PINEAPPLE TORTE

- ¾ cup granulated sugar
- 4 tblsp. cornstarch
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- 1⅓ cups quick oatmeal
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1½ cups white flour
- ½ cup soft butter
- 1 tsp. soda

Combine the sugar, cornstarch and pineapple in saucepan, and cook over medium to low heat, stirring constantly, until liquid thickens and becomes clear. Set aside. Put the oatmeal, brown sugar, white flour, butter and soda into mixing bowl and mix with hands until all ingredients become butter coated. Sprinkle half of the crumb mixture into a 9x13 pan and pat down lightly. Pour on the pineapple filling. Then sprinkle on the remaining crumb mixture, pat lightly and bake in 350 degree oven 30 minutes or until top becomes golden. Served chilled topped with whipped cream and a maraschino cherry.

(Third Prize)
GRAPE CRUMBLY

- 4 cups seedless grapes
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tblsp. lemon juice
- Dash of salt
- ½ cup flour
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup butter
- Dash of nutmeg

Wash drain and stem grapes. Combine sugar, lemon juice, salt and nutmeg with grapes. Place in buttered casserole in a 375 degree oven 15 minutes. Sift flour, measure and mix with brown sugar; add butter and mix until a crumb-like consistency. Sprinkle over top of grapes and continue baking 25 minutes longer. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Serves 6.

CRANBERRY BAVARIAN

- 1 lb. can cranberry jelly
- 1 envelope unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 2 cups whipping cream
- 4-5 drops red food coloring (optional)

Soften gelatin in the cold water, then disolve over hot water. Mash cranberry jelly well or put it through a coarse strainer. Combine these cranberries, the dissolved gelatin, lemon juice and salt and mix well. Whip cream stiff, then fold it into cranberry mixture. Add 4-5 drops red food coloring to make a delicate pink. Spoon into a lightly oiled 1½ quart ring mold. Chill until firm. Unmold on round platter. Serves 8-10.

DUCHESS PUDDING

- 3 slices of white bread at least 3 days old
- 3 eggs
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- ½ tsp. salt
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ cup sherry wine
- ¼ tsp. nutmeg
- ¼ cup brown sugar, (dark)
- ¼ cup crushed graham cracker crumbs
- 1 tblsp. melted butter

Remove crusts from bread and cut into small cubes. Place bread cubes in a shallow pyrex baking dish 6x10. Beat eggs lightly add sugar, salt, milk, sherry and nutmeg, mix well together and pour over the bread crumbs. Set baking dish in larger pan with warm water in it (exactly as if to bake a custard). Bake at 350° for a little less than 1 hour or until it is nearly set in the center. Mix the brown sugar, graham cracker crumbs and melted butter and put this topping over the custard after you have removed it from the oven and it has nearly set. Return pudding to oven for another 5 minutes only. Cool before serving and serve with whipped cream.

APRICOT KUCHEN

- 2 tblsp. butter
- 1 pkg. refrigerator biscuits
- Apricot jam
- 1 egg
- ½ cup sour cream
- 2 tsp. sugar
- ½ tsp. vanilla

Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in an 8x8x2 baking pan. Separate the 10 biscuits from the package: either plane or buttermilk biscuits can be used. Coat each with butter in the pan, then arrange in a single layer in the pan. Top each with a generous teaspoon of apricot jam. Bake in 450° oven 5 minutes. While biscuits bake, beat the egg slightly then stir in the sour cream, sugar and vanilla. Remove biscuits from oven, reduce heat to 350°. Spoon cream mixture over the biscuits; bake 20 minutes longer or until custard is set. Cut into squares and serve warm.

RHUBARB PUDDING

- 4 cups cut-up rhubarb
- 2 cups water
- 3 cups sugar
- 2 tsp. red food coloring
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. tapioca
- 4 tblsp. corn starch
- ½ cup cold water

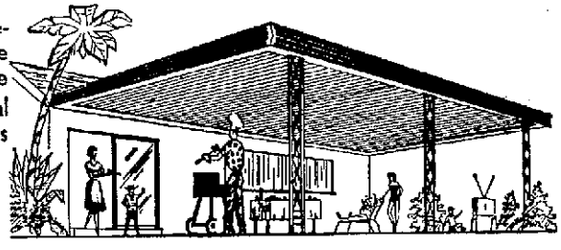

Cook rhubarb, sugar and 2 cups water until it is soft. Put through a colander. Add red coloring, cinnamon and tapioca. Bring to a boil and stir in the corn starch which has been mixed to a paste with ½ cup cold water. When thick, pour into a bowl and sprinkle the top with sugar to keep a film from forming. Chill. Serve with cream which has been flavored with vanilla and

Conquest of Everest

By ROBERT MUSEL
United Press International

Bill Unsoeld lost nine toes in the conquest of Mt. Everest. But the other day he strapped his climbing shoes on for the first time since he nearly froze to death on the roof of the world and took his two children to the top of Mount Hood and down again.

And although his feet were understandably tender after more than two years of resting—except the loyal little toe of his right foot—he took the time to disclose that an American expedition is planning perhaps the most perilous feat in mountaineering history.

It is asking the Nepalese Government for permission to try the "impossible" south face of the world's highest mountain — a breath-taking effort that will involve spending at least one night suspended from spikes driven into the sheer 8,000-foot wall of rock below the freezing summit.

"It will make the kind of climbing we have been doing look like kid stuff," Unsoeld said.

* * * *

BUT although he meant it sincerely Dr. Unsoeld, deputy Peace Corps administrator of Nepal, is being modest as the nation will be able to see for itself when CBS-TV screens "Americans On Everest," an hour-long color special presented by the National Geographic Society at 7:30 p.m. on channel 2.

This first of four National Geographical programs of exploration and discovery is the story of the selection, training and achievements of the great expedition of 1963 in which five Americans reached the 29,028 foot summit at the cost of one life and agonizing injuries to three other climbers.

Dr. Unsoeld was one of the three who suffered frostbite when they had to spend an unprotected night in 18 degrees below zero weather on the way down and whose lives were saved only because the savage winds suddenly died away. As it was they had to be carried down to lower altitudes on the backs of Sherpa porters and flown out by helicopter to Katmandu where a new drug rushed from the National Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md. helped avoid more severe amputations.

DICK VAN DYKE: 'Call Me Square'

By DICK VAN DYKE
Written for United Press International

HOLLYWOOD — You sometimes read in fan magazines that actors don't read what's written about them. Well, that isn't necessarily true.

I know, because occasionally I see articles about myself. And naturally I read 'em—if only to see if they spelled my name right.

And I want to speak up right now about something that turns up in a lot of those stories. Sometimes they hint at it and sometimes they come right out and say it: Dick Van Dyke is a square.

They explain this unusual state of affairs by pointing out I'm still married to my first wife, Marjorie. (We celebrated our 16th wedding anniversary in February). We have four children and we live in the suburbs in a rambling ranch type house.

* * * *

WE GO to church regularly. I spend most of my spare time with the family. We don't go to big Hollywood parties and we don't give them either. My oldest boy Chris, who's 15, enjoys surfing and I've tried it too. My wife and I play tennis. All this, the articles say, makes me a square.

And you know what? I admit it—and don't mind it. For one thing, "square" has a nicer meaning than it used to have. It once meant someone who didn't know what was going on around him.

Today it means a person who lives by the rules. And I've never found following a certain standard of conduct was any handicap. That's why when someone calls me a square, I take it as a compliment.

* * * *

ANYONE WHO looks at my random wanderings before I arrived in television might think I was anything but a square. I certainly didn't get where I am by any straight line up the ladder of success.

In fact, anyone who saw me peeling potatoes in the Army would never have picked me out as anything

GAME COOKERY

ELIZABETH DUFFIN

(First Prize)

CORNISH GAME HENS IN BLACK CHERRY SAUCE

- 4 Cornish Game hens about 1 lb. each
- Salt, pepper, accent, garlic powder
- 3 tblsp. butter
- ⅓ cup chopped onions
- ⅓ cup chopped celery
- ⅓ cup chopped carrots
- ⅓ cup flour
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 1 #2 can pitted black cherries
- 2 tblsp. brown sugar
- 2 tblsp. burgundy wine
- 4 small onions

Heat oven to 300 degrees: Truss birds, tying back and wings. Season inside of hens with seasonings. Brown in frying pan in hot butter, turning to brown all over. Place small orange in each hen cavity. Place in baking pan with chopped vegetables and just enough broth to keep vegetables from burning. Add stock as needed. When hens are tender, (45 mins. to 1 hour), remove from pan and keep warm. Add balance of consomme, juice from cherries, brown sugar and burgandy. Thicken with flour. When desired thickness, strain and add cherries. Serve with wild rice. Serves 4.

SAVORY PHEASANT Au CHASSUER

- 1½ cups of cooked wild and regular rice
- 2 onions, finely chopped
- 1 cup of grated apple
- 1 cup of sliced almonds
- 1 pinch of nutmeg
- ½ cup sauterne wine
- Pinch of salt
- 1 egg beaten with 1 tblsp. milk
- ½ tsp. of Angostura bitters

Fill the pheasant cavity with the above ingredients, rub bird with butter, salt and grated orange peel. Truss bird with pins. Bake in shallow, uncovered pan until golden brown, wrap wings in foil. Baste with the following liquid.

- ½ cup orange juice
- ½ cup bourbon whiskey
- 2 tblsp. honey
- 2 tblsp. Cointreau

BRAISED DUCK A-la-ORANGE

- 3 oranges
- 1 6 lb. duck
- Salt and pepper
- 4 tblsp. butter
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup orange juice
- 1 tsp. cornstarch

Peel two oranges and quarter. Remove white inner pulp and cut peel in thin strips to make 1 tablespoon. Dress and clean duck, rub with salt and pepper and cook in butter in heavy pan until skin is browned. Add bouillon, orange quarters and peel. Cover tightly and simmer until tender (about 1½ hours). Remove duck and keep warm while making sauce. Add half cup of orange juice to pan and heat. Add cornstarch mixed with water and stir until slightly thickened. Pour over duck. Garnish with orange. 'Emmy' Awards Next Sunday

Four television stars whose programs will not be on the 1965-66 network roster will join in a special quartet, during the entertainment portion of the 'Emmy Awards Show," next Sunday at 10 p.m. on channel 4.

The quartet will include Robert Coote of "The Rogues," James Franciscus of "Mr. Novak," Robert Reed of "The Defenders" and Shirl Conway of "The Doctors and the Nurses."

Musical accompaniment for the special number will be provided in New York by Skitch Henderson and the NBC orchestra. Other musical features of the award show will include Gary Lewis and the Playboys who will be in California, and the Ray Charles Singers in New York.

Additional presenters who will appear on the 90 minute program include Jimmy Durante, Dick Van Dyke, the King Family, Bert Lahr and John Forsythe. Previously announced presenters are Johnny Carson, Carol Burnett, Danny Kaye, Andy Williams, Garry Moore, Inger Stevens, Robert Vaughn, David McCallum and Mary Tyler Moore.

Sammy Davis will be the host at the New York Hilton and Danny Thomas will serve in the same capacity in the portion of the origination from the Hollywood Palladium.

"AMERICAN WHITE PAPER," a 3½-hour program discussing America's foreign policy and actions from 1945 to 1965, airs at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday on channel 4. Commentators include Chet Huntley, David Brinkley, Robert Goralski, Elie Abel, Ray Scherer and John Rich.

U.S. Policy 3½ Hour Show

NBC News White House Correspondent Ray Scherer will talk with President Johnson and will report the President's views on "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy," NBC News' three and one-half hour special which will be telecast at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on Channel 4.

* * * *

U.S. GOVERNMENT officials already interviewed for the examination of America's Foreign Policy include Dean Rusk, Secretary of State; George W. Ball, Under Secretary of State; Walt Whitman Rostow, Chairman of the State Department Policy Planning Council; and David E. Bell, Director of the State Department's agency for International Development.

Chet Huntley will narrate "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy." Special commentary will be supplied by David Brinkley. The unprecedented program will examine the development of America's Foreign Policy since the end of World War II and trace the sequence of events that has led to our active participation in the Vietnamese War.

Week's Top Shows

Sunday — "Sports in Action" looks at pro football's two most publicized freshman quarterbacks, Joe Namath and John Huarte of the New York Jets, and their one-year-veteran rival, Mike Taliaferro. Then at 6:30 p.m., ch. 4, in color, coach Weeb Ewbank names his number one choice for the job.

Monday—"Viet Nam Perspective: A Day of War" spends 24 hours in action with American and South Vietnamese units, condensed into a color hour at 10 p.m., channel 2.

Tuesday — "American White Paper: United States Foreign Policy" preempts all channel 4 programming from 7:30 until 11 p.m.

Wednesday—"ABC Scope" asks the question "How Goes the GOP?" of Sen. Hugh Scott (Pa.), Rep. Gerald R. Ford (Mich.) and Rep. Melvin R. Laird (Wis.). Host William H. Lawrence gets several answers at 10:30 p.m., channel 7.

Thursday—"Once Upon a Tractor" is an hour-long comedy-drama based on a theme suggested by United Nations files. Alan Bates, Buddy Hackett and Melvyn Douglas are among the stars at 8 p.m., channel 7.

Friday — "Americans on Everest" tells of 19 Americans who challenged danger to carry the U.S. flag to the top of the world's highest mountain. Color hour at 7:30 p.m., channel 2.

Saturday—"Miss America Pageant" comes live from Atlantic City's Convention Hall for a 2-hour telecast of the finals at 7 p.m., channel 2. Bert Parks is on-stage emcee with Bess Myerson TV hostess.

You'll See More Drama

(Editor's Note: Edgar J. Scherick is American Broadcasting Co. vice president in charge of TV network program. In this column, distributed by United Press International, he discusses thoughts about the 1966 season).

By EDGAR J. SCHERICK

NEW YORK—As everyone knows, the season beginning this month has been set since early February. We're thinking now in terms of September 1966 and even beyond. So to us, trend really is the question of what kind of show has a good chance of being popular when it debuts on the network more than a year from now.

The answer here again is always the same—the popular shows will be the good shows, the ones well conceived, well cast and well produced.

★ ★ ★

"THE MAN from U.N.C.L.E." was a big success for one of our competitors this year. It started slowly then really came into it own when it was moved from Tuesday to Monday night. It began what you could call a trend in way-out spy stories. After all, won't our Amos Burke become a secret agent this month?

But actually, Napoleon Solo and Amos Burke, and even James Bond, are really no different from Sam Spade. They only live in a different world just as Sam Spade's world differed from Nick Carter's.

This form of action programming, and a definite move to color programming are the two most evident trends for this coming season. But other movements are discernible which we think will make for more obvious trends in the seasons ahead.

SEPTEMBER 1966 will see more dramatic series on television. There will not be an overload of drama but there will be fewer situation comedies and some more dramatic hours or halfhours.

You can also expect, we think, the larger than life themes (such as the James Bond-type action) to diminish somewhat and be replaced by stories closer to reality. A pace-setter for that could be ABC-TV's "The Long Hot Summer" which has given us very high hopes for success.

A change also will take place in comedy. The past several years have seen this area dominated by what we call hard-comedies. "Comer Pyle" and "Bewitched" are newer hard comedies, shows which have as their base broad, outlandish situations. Before this form of comedy emerged as the major television comedy form, which probably began with "The Beverly Hillbillies" and "McHale's Navy," comedies were pretty much based around families and grew out of the characters of the members of the family. Examples would be "Donna Reed" and "Ozzie and Harriet."

It is probable that the future will see a greater number of "slice of life" comedies and a reduction in the number of hard comedies.

★ ★ ★

THERE ARE, of course, always exceptions to any rule. Lucille Ball was successful for years before the hard comedy developed as the dominant comedy form in video, and nobody ever called her comedy soft. The lesson she points out is that a great star sets his own trend or makes his own hits.

We think we have a chance for that happening with "O.K. Crackerby," an unusual comedy which we premiere this month starring Burl Ives. We are high on it because of the quality of the star and the uniqueness of the comedy.

★ ★ ★

THAT BRINGS us to a closing point.

No matter what you do, and let us assume that it is done well, uniqueness or at least a touch of singularity is an important requisite for the success of any new product.

Even if you are going to do something that has been done before, like a detective story or a Western, be sure that it is done from a different point of view, that it is current in today's American thinking and that it offers the viewer a new kind of entertainment excitement.

DON ADAMS, as Secret Agent 86, and his canine agent, K-13 (also known as Fang), will spy out the NBC programs for 1965-66 season at 7:30 p. m. Monday on channel 4. Adams will star as the dedicated but bungling agent Maxwell Smart in the series "Get Smart!" starting Sept. 18.

OLD PROS Still Hold Shows Together

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The juvenile audience and the juvenile-minded are the chief target of television entertainment in the new season, but the networks haven't forgotten that old pros often hold the show together.

ABC - TV's "Hollywood Palace," for instance, has Bing Crosby as host of eight outings, and Fred Astaire of four. Other hosts throughout the season include Joan Crawford, Frank Sinatra, Milton Berle, Kate Smith, Victor Borge, Ray Bolger, Phil Harris, Alice Faye and Judy Garland (Nov. 13).

Astaire, in addition, is reported set for a four-part story on NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" series, in which he would portray a pool shark whose daughter is a young nun with a dangerous illness.

Jack Benny, whose weekly series came to an end last season, will have several specials on NBC-TV, the first Nov. 3, with Bob Hope and Elke Sommer among the scheduled guests.

And Perry Como's pre-Thanksgiving broadcast on NBC-TV Nov. 22 will feature not only young pro Patty Duke but old pro Gertrude Berg.

There is talk that another old pro, Edgar Allan Poe, may have his works adapted for an hour-long 1966-67 series.

Sports Today

BASEBALL, 10 a.m., ch. 8 (San Diego), has the New York Yankees hosting the Boston Red Sox, Dizzy Dean mikeside.

OKLAHOMA CITY Open Invitational Golf Tournament, 1:30 p.m., ch. 9, has the last four holes in the $65,000 tourney from Quail Creek Country Club. Arnold Palmer is defending champion.

NBC SPORTS in Action, 6:30 p.m., in color, ch. 4, takes a pre-season close-up look at three young quarterbacks for the New York Jets—Joe Namath, John Huarte and Mike Taliaferro—one of whom will be named on the show by coach Weeb Ewbank as starter for next week's season opener (NBC colorcast) with the Houston Oilers. (Last show until after the World Series, when series moves to Saturdays.)

ASTRO DOME Story, 8:30 p.m., ch. 11, in color, repeats its tour of the new Houston stadium, where the Dodgers play today.

TROJAN HUDDLE. 9 p.m., ch. 11, has USC head coach John McKay and his seven coaches, introducing the entire Trojan varsity squad, in return of weekly series.

SPECIAL

LABOR DAY SPECIALS—In special programming for the occasion, "Opinion in the Capital" debates the controversial repeal of Section 14-B of the Taft-Hartley law at 9:30 p.m., ch. 11. Earlier ch. 7 at 2 p.m. airs a repeat of the AFL-CIO's film "When the Day's Work Is Done." NBC's "Meet the Press" at 6 p.m., in color, ch. 4, has George Romney, governor of one of the nation's leading labor states.

OUR MAN IN HONG KONG—David Brinkley looks at the British Crown Colony as a city of contrasts where luxurious merchant palaces overlook refugee hovels, and where grocers and doctors of the landbound community make their living on a floating city of sampans, seldom touching land. Reuven Frank-produced color hour is repeated at 5 p.m., ch. 4, during summer's final "Sunday Encore."

ICE FOLLIES: 30 Years & 65 Million People Later—An exploration of the world of the Ice Follies looks to its first show in 1936, and follows the backstage preparations for today's shows, the moving from city to city, auditions for the chorus line and films of the film stars in attendance at last year's L.A. opening night. Hour is in color at 7:30 p.m., channel 5.

MEATS (Chops, Roasts, Steaks, etc.)

(First Prize)

BEEF BRETONNE

3 lbs. round steak, cut 1" thick
Flour seasoned with salt and pepper
⅓ cup shortening
2 onions sliced thin
1 lb. mushrooms left whole
Dash of tabasco sauce
1 tsp. sugar
1 tblsp. worcestershire sauce
½ cup burgundy wine
½ cup strong black coffee
½ cup water
1 pt. sour cream
Paprika

Cut beef in 1" cubes, dredge with seasoned flour and brown on all sides in melted shortening. Add onions and mushrooms. Add all remaining ingredients except sour cream. Cover and simmer gently 1½ hours or until meat is tender. Add sour cream and heat thoroughly. Serve in heated chafing dish, garnished with sour cream and paprika. Serve over rice or noodles. Serves 8-10.

Mrs. Clara Zakavec
1508 E. 5th St. Apt. D
Long Beach 12

(Third Prize)

CHINESE PEPPER STEAK

2 lbs. round steak
4 tblsp. vegetable oil
1 tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
2 small cloves garlic, finely minced
2 medium green peppers, coarsely diced
4 Cups coarsely sliced celery
3 tblsp. coarsely chopped pimiento
½ cup chopped onions
3 cups beef bouillon (bouillon cubes)
4 tblsp. cornstarch
4 tsp. soy sauce
½ cup water
1 5½ oz. can crisp Chinese noodles

Cut beef into rather small slices. Heat oil in large kettle. Add beef, minced garlic and chopped onions. Cook and stir until meat is browned, about 5 minutes. Add salt, pepper and bouillon. Cover and cook over low heat for half hour. Add green peppers, celery and pimiento and cook until vegetables are just tender (not overdone). Blend cornstarch, water and soy sauce and stir into mixture, and cook and stir until slightly thickened. Spoon over Chinese noodles. Serves 6-7.

COMPANY POT ROAST

5 lbs. chuck roast
1 tblsp. wine vinegar
1 tsp. granulated sugar
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 pkg. dehydrated onion soup mix

CLARA ZAKAVEC

Sprinkle onion soup on large sheet of heavy-duty aluminum foil. Place meat on foil. Sprinkle sugar and vinegar evenly on meat. Spread mushroom soup on meat. Double fold foil and pinch together so that meat is completely sealed. Place on cookie sheet and bake in 325-degree oven 3½ to 4 hours.

Mrs. Henry Lahs
514 W. Bennett St.
Compton

VEAL CUTLET GORDON BLEU

1 lb. veal cutlets
4 slices Swiss cheese
4 thin slices of boiled ham
Bread crumbs
1 egg, beaten
Flour
4 oz. butter
Salt and pepper to taste

Divide veal into eight pieces and pound each piece very thin. Season with salt and pepper. Place one slice of cheese and one slice of ham on four pieces of veal. Top with second slice of veal. Beat edges of veal together to make a nice cushion. Roll each cushion in flour, then dip in egg and roll in bread crumbs. Saute in butter approximately 10 minutes. Serves 4.

Mrs. Donald O. Metcalf
2851 Petaluma Ave.

APPLESAUCE GLAZED PORK

3-4 lb. pork loin roast
1 tblsp. flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. pepper
Sauce
2 cups of sweetened applesauce
¼ tsp. cinnamon
Pinaapple rings
Spiced crab apples

Mix the flour, salt, mustard and pepper and sprinkle over the roast. Place roast in pan and roast 35 to 40 minutes in a 325-degree oven. An hour before roast is done, prepare the applesauce, cinnamon and pour over meat, and finish roasting. When ready for the table, decorate with rings of pineapple centered with spiced crabapples.

Mrs. W. S. Green
724 Orange Ave.
Long Beach 13

COTTAGE BEEF

1½ lb. round of beef
Flour
Garlic salt
Pepper
3 tblsp. bacon drippings
½ cup dry red wine
½ cup sliced green onions
1 envelope beef soup mix
1 cup boiling water
2 cups hot mashed potatoes
1 envelope sour cream sauce mix
2 egg yolks, beaten
⅛ tsp. nutmeg

Wipe steak with damp cloth. Sprinkle with garlic salt and pepper to taste. Pound flour into steak until steak is desired thickness. Cut steak into serving size pieces. Heat bacon drippings in large skillet. Add beef and brown well on both sides. Remove beef to hot warming platter. Lower heat and add wine to skillet, stirring to loosen browned bits. Add green onions. Add soup mix and boiling water. Bring to boil.

Return meat to sauce and simmer covered, about 1 hour, or until meat is tender. Prepare hot mashed potatoes. Stir in sour cream mix, egg yolks and nutmeg. Place meat mixture in large low sided casserole. Pipe a ruff of the mashed potatoes around the edge of meat, using a pastry bag and large tube or spoon the potatoes around the edge. Bake in 400° oven 5-10 minutes or until golden and bubbly. Serves 6.

Mrs. H. E. Kiper
3221 Curry St.
Long Beach 5

CHINESE RIBS

¼ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tblsp. margarine
2 tblsp. corn starch
2 tblsp. brown sugar
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup soy sauce
¾ cup pineapple juice
1 cup drained chunked pineapple
2-4 lbs. farmer style spare ribs
Salt and pepper as desired

Salt and pepper ribs. Place in an uncovered dutch oven and bake in 450° 20 minutes. Pour off all excess fat. Add prepared sauce and pineapple chunks. Place in 325° oven in covered dutch oven.

Sauce: Cook onions and green pepper with the margarine in small sauce pan until soft, but not brown. Stir in the corn starch, brown sugar until thoroughly mixed. Add all the liquid ingredients and cook until the sauce thickens. Serves 4.

Mrs. Wayne Flotree
1623 E. 56th St.

- 1 med. sized onion, chopped
- 1 sm. can water chestnuts, sliced
- 1 sm. can Japanese mushrooms, sliced
- 1 lb. ground beef
- ¾ cup catsup
- ½ cup milk
- 1 tsp. dry Sake or Sherry
- ½ tsp. monosodium glutamate
- ¼ tsp. each salt and pepper
- 1 pk. 8 oz. Chinese vermicelli or spaghetti
- 1 tsp. soy sauce and worcestershire (each)

Melt butter in a frying pan; add onion, waterchestnuts, and mushrooms and saute until soft. Add ground beef and cook, stirring until browned. Stir in the catsup, milk, soy sauce, worcestershire, sake, monosodium glutamate, salt and pepper. Simmer, uncovered, stirring occasionally about 30 minutes. Spoon over the cooked vermicelli. STUFFED MACARONI SHELLS

- 2 tblsp. butter or margarine
- 1 lg. onion cut fine
- 1 clove garlic, cut fine
- 2 4 oz. veal cutlets, thawed

Seasonings

- 2 bay leaves
- ½ tsp. rosemary leaf
- 1 tsp. Oregano
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- 1 can tomato paste
- 3 cups water
- ½ lb. large macaroni shells
- 1 lb. ground round or sirloin stuffing
- 1 egg
- 1 small onion, cut fine
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- ¼ lb. sharp cheddar cheese grated
- ½ cup cracker crumbs

Melt butter, mash cutlets with fork, add onion and garlic and simmer until brown. Add seasonings and water and simmer at low heat 2 hours. Cook the large macaroni (can be obtained at Italian food stores) 10 minutes and drain well. Mix the stuffing ingredients well and stuff shells with spoon or by hand. Lay side by side in large cake pan and cover with cooked sauce. Cover and bake at 350° 1 hour. Remove cover and sprinkle with grated cheese. Serves 8.

BONANZA'S BIG DADDY

Lorne's Happy in 'Rut'

By LORNE GREENE

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—"How can you go on playing the same role year in and year out without getting bored?"

I know I'm usually expected to answer that I'm going nuts. It seems people expect me to admit, "of course it's great that 'Bonanza' is still such a great success, but you know how artistically frustrating and on and on."

In other words, I'm supposed to moan and groan and yearn for more freedom.

★ ★ ★

WELL, TO BE perfectly honest, I can't indulge in griping sessions because for me they'd be completely phony. The truth is I can still play Ben Cartwright with enthusiasm and I still find myself trying to experiment with the role to find something new.

LORNE GREENE

I must admit, of course, there are many factors that make this possible for me which are not always enjoyed by members of the cast of many long running TV shows.

To begin with, we have a happy set. The relationship between Huss, Little Joe and me has developed into a warm, closely-knit one. As evidence, we have the same business manager; we share quite a few investments.

I'm lucky that the success of "Bonanza" has opened a continuing series of doors to me.

When I first started making personal appearances at rodeos and state fairs, I enjoyed the challenge of winning an audience and then holding it.

Then I found myself recording and this in turn gave me a wholly new and satisfying experience. I was fortunate enough to come up with a hit like "Ringo."

I faced a new challenge last spring when I made my debut in a supper club. They kept asking me what I could possibly gain.

Well, I played the Nugget at Reno, Nevada, for two weeks and with all modesty the offer they made me to play a return engagement next year must show that it came off pretty well.

It's the sum of these activities which permits me to return to the "Bonanza" set with batteries recharged just as though 'Ole Ben' himself had enjoyed a vacation.

Dick Van Dyke

but a troublemaker. Still, I never did anything wrong on purpose in the service.

* * * *

PEOPLE who read about my quiet home life and see me as a suburban commuter on "The Dick Van Dyke Show" are always a little surprised to learn that Marjorie and I were married on the "Bride and Groom" radio show.

To some, that's a prime example of being a square. But it made sense to us because we were so broke. Actually we were married in a little chapel on the grounds of the Los Angeles hotel where the show was broadcast. They didn't start holding actual weddings on the show until it went on television.

"Bride and Groom" paid for our license, wedding ring, furniture, silverware and appliances, as well as our honeymoon at a ski lodge at Mt. Hood, Ore.

* * * *

BY THE time our daughter Stacy was on the way, we'd had enough gypsy life and I went to work as host of a television variety show in Atlanta, Ga. I was doing a similar show in New Orleans in 1955 when I was called to New York for a CBS audition.

From the network I went into "Bye Bye Birdie" on Broadway, then into the Van Dyke Show, and then into movies, where I've done "Bye, Bye, Birdie," "What A Way To Go," and "Mary Poppins."

So if this is what you get for being square, I can only say: Be one. It's the only way to go.

Conquest of Everest

Flag on the highest spot on earth. The program includes the first motion pictures ever taken from the summit.

Unsoeld who climbed Mount Hood (11,245 feet) with his son Regon, 13, ("I was homesick for Oregon when he was born") and Nanda Devi, 11, ("named for a Himalayan peak") said that he was gradually breaking them in to the physical and philosophic pleasures of climbing.

They were in the Alps recently, he said, and while there he stopped off to see John Harlan, the only American ever to climb the dangerous north face of the Eiger Peak. Harlan, who makes his home in France, revealed his desire to tackle the south face of Everest and Unsoeld agreed to seek the necessary permissions from the Nepalese government.

* * * *

HE SAID the daring of the idea awed him at first. And he asked:

"But, John — where are you going to put your camp?"

Harlan replied coolly:

"We've simply got to get over thinking about traditional camps. We can hang from pitons (spikes) in hammocks."

Dr. Unsoeld, whose home is in Corvallis, Wash., is the first man to climb the west ridge of Everest (with Dr. Thomas Hornbein of San Diego) and the first to make a traverse of any Himalayan peak. He recognizes that man—because of his nature—will not rest with the conquest of Everest but will try to humble the mighty peak as the Matterhorn has been turned into a picnic jaunt in the 100 years since it was first climbed.

Pan and Fan

Why didn't the talented, 17-year-old Bruce Scott make his scheduled appearance on the Friday, Aug. 13 segment of "The Merv Griffin Show?"

He is a talented rock-and-roll singer who sets a good example for his profession as he was originally trained in the opera.

Linda L. Mino,
Los Alamitos

Bruce just couldn't make the Friday the 13th engagement and I don't know if it was true because he's superstitious or had another engagement to sing "Madame Butterfly" or either.

I do know he'll be appearing in the show within a week or so.

* * * *

What happened to "The Chucko the Clown Show?" He had a daily show on weekday mornings (channel 11).

My children liked him very much and were heartsick when he went off the air.

Mrs. Judy Kollen,
Lakewood

An increased schedule of personal appearances, including frequent performances at "Jungleland," made it difficult for Chuko to maintain a daily TV program.

SPECIAL

THE YOUNG SET — Premiere. Phyllis Kirk moderates a new daily hour-long discussion series at 11 a.m., ch. 7, with Sybil Burton Christopher as guest throughout the first week. Joining in today's show are Peter Lawford, with whom Phyllis co-starred in "The Thin Man," Helen Gurley Brown and Woody Allen.

NBC PREVIEW — Don Adams, in his role as Secret Agent 86 of the new "Get Smart!" series, has a hush-hush assignment at 7:30 p.m., in color, ch. 4—to get the lowdown on all the new and returning NBC programs for the season that begins next week. The mission is accomplished in his own unpredictable way.

SOUPY SALES — Premiere. Comedy in the grand slapstick style debuts in Soupy's new daily series to air at 7:30 p.m., ch. 11. Opener includes a 12-min. encounter between Soupy and Frank Sinatra, taped last season and shown only on WNEW-TV, New York, which includes one of the pie-throwing duels which have become Soupy's trademark.

VIET NAM: A Day of War — For the last hour in its 4-part series, five CBS news teams spent a 24-hour day of action with American and South Vietnamese units at Da Nang, Kinh Binh, Ton San Nhut Air Base and aboard the U.S.S. Oriskany, with Charles Collingwood recording the day of Gen. William Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam. Filmed in color, hour is at 10 p.m., ch. 2.

COOKING FOR TWO

FLORENCE HOWELL

(First Prize)

ALMOND BEEF HAWAIIAN

- ¼ tsp. ginger
- ½ tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. cornstarch
- ⅛ cup soy sauce
- ¼ cup water
- 1 tblsp. oil
- ½ clove garlic
- ½ lb. (¼ inch thick strips) sirloin
- ½ tblsp. oil
- ½ cup diagonally sliced celery
- ½ sliced onion
- ¼ cup cubed green pepper
- 3 halved cherry tomatoes
- ¼ cup toasted blanched slivered almonds

Mix the ginger, sugar, cornstarch, soy sauce and water. Heat the skillet with tablespoon of oil and quickly brown the garlic and the strips of sirloin, half at a time. Remove from pan and discard garlic. Heat in covered skillet in half tablespoon of oil, the sliced celery and onion. Add soy sauce mixture, beef, cubed green pepper, tomatoes and slivered almonds. Heat covered for 1 minute. Serve over rice garnished with ¼ cup of almonds.

(Second Prize)

BAKED SALMON STEAKS

- 2 salmon steaks
- Salt, pepper, flour
- 2 tblsp. butter
- ¼ cup white dinner wine
- ½ cup sour cream
- Pinch of dried dill
- 2 tblsp. chopped onion

Season salmon with salt and pepper, dredge lightly in flour. Brown both sides quickly in hot butter; remove skin. Add wine to salmon, cover and bake in hot oven (400°) 10 minutes. Blend all other ingredients and salt to taste. Remove lid from fish and top salmon with sour cream mixture. Continue baking, uncovered, until fish is done and topping glazed, about 15 minutes.

(Third Prize)

STUFFED PEPPERS

- 3 lg. green peppers
- 1 can (1 lb.) corned beef hash
- ½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
- ¼ cup barbeque sauce
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 tsp. oregano
- 1 tblsp. grated Parmesan cheese

Wash peppers; cut slice from stem end and scoop out cores and seeds. Parboil in salted water for 5 minutes and drain. Combine hash, grated cheddar cheese, barbeque sauce, garlic and oregano. Fill peppers. Sprinkle with grated parmesan cheese. Bake in 375° oven 30 minutes. Serves 2 generously.

"BACONY CHICKEN"

- 2 whole chicken breasts, split
- 6 strips of bacon
- ⅓ cup of butter or margarine
- 2 tblsp. worcestershire sauce

Split chicken breasts. Cut 2 slashes across each half of chicken breast and place one half strip of raw bacon into each slash. Cream butter and beat in worcestershire sauce. Spread mixture over chicken breasts. Bake at 375° 30-40 minutes or until chicken is tender and brown. Brush with pan drippings 4-5 times during cooking. Serves 2.

TROUT AMANDINE

- 2 cleaned fresh trout or 2 thawed, frozen rainbow trout
- Salt and pepper
- Milk
- Flour
- ¼ cup melted butter or margarine
- 2 tblsp. blanched sliced almonds
- Lemon wedges

Remove heads, but leave the tails on. Season cavities with salt and pepper. Dip trout in milk, then in flour. Saute in the melted butter until golden brown on both sides. Remove trout to a hot platter and keep warm. Melt 2 tablespoons of butter in the same skillet. Add 2 tablespoons of blanched sliced almonds and cook until almost brown. Pour the sauce over the trout. Garnish with lemon wedges.

PORK CHOPS SUPREME

- 2 thick Pork chops (butterfly cut)
- 1 potato, sliced about ¼" thick
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 carrot, diced
- Salt and pepper
- Butter

Brown pork chops. Place on a sheet of aluminum foil. Place remaining ingredients on top. Salt and pepper to taste. Dot with butter. Seal and bake on baking sheet about 45 minutes at 400°.

HAM STROGANOFF

- 1 cup ham (leftovers or even canned ham)
- ¼ cup onion, chopped fine
- 2 tblsp. butter
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1 4 oz. can mushrooms
- Hot cooked rice

Saute ham and onions in butter until tender, (not brown). Sprinkle flour over ham and cook until blended. Remove from stove and slowly stir in sour cream and mushrooms. Return to heat and cook slowly until mixture gets thick. Serve over hot rice.

PEACH COBBLER

- 4 halves canned, cooked or defrosted peaches
- Granulated sugar
- Cinnamon
- 1 egg yolk
- ¼ cup milk
- ½ cup flour
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 3 tblsp. granulated sugar
- 3 tblsp. melted shortening
- ½ tsp. baking powder

Quarter peaches; put in small (1 pint) buttered casserole; dust with a little sugar and cinnamon. Beat the egg yolk and add milk. Beat in the remaining ingredients. Pour over the peaches; bake 20 minutes in a 375° oven. Serve with cream.

VEAL SUPREME

- 1 tblsp. butter
- 1 tblsp. flour
- ½ cup chicken consumme
- ¼ cup white wine
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1½ tblsp. grated parmesan cheese
- 1 cup diced, cooked veal
- ½ cup asparagus tips
- 2 slices boiled ham, chopped
- ¼ cup slivered blanched almonds

Melt butter over low heat. Stir in flour until smooth. Add consumme. Blend thoroughly. Slowly stir in the wine, season with salt, pepper. Add cheese stirring until cheese melts. Arrange veal on bottom of greased casserole, cover with asparagus tips and ham. Pour sauce over all. Sprinkle with almonds. Bake in 350° oven until almonds are browned. Serves 2.

MOTHER OF 7 SAVED BY WASHER

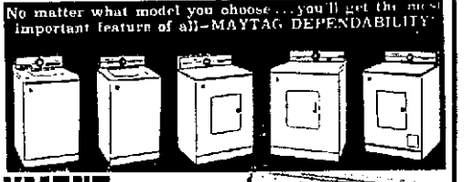

Smiling Maytag family of Mr. & Mrs. Roy Trevisan of Detroit, Michigan.

Credits Maytag with never taking a day off in 7 years

Actually, you don't have to have 7 energetic kids to appreciate that you've got a good thing in a Maytag Washer. But it helps to have a Maytag if you do. In the 50 years Maytag has been making washers, it has never skimped on quality. That's one reason why millions of Maytag Washers are still washing 15—many even 30 and 40 years later. Today, you get Maytag's basic dependability features on every washer Maytag makes—regardless of price!

Here are basic dependability features found on every Maytag made. Virtually indestructible pump. Rugged agitator drive, time-proven in millions of Maytags. Rust-resistant cabinets. Metered fill. Automatic water level control. Automatic water temperature control. Swirl-away draining action that removes lint and dirt from around clothes, not through them. Adjustable leveling legs. Rust-proof lid hinges. Safety lid stops action in seconds.

No matter what model you choose . . . you'll get the most important feature of all—MAYTAG DEPENDABILITY

Get the same dependability in Long Beach with NO DOWN PAYMENT AND TOP TRADE-IN ALLOWANCES NOW!!

AMERICA! — Season premiere. Robert Taylor hosts a 2-part tour of Washington, D.C., to the tune of original music by Nelson Riddle. In the 7 p.m., ch. 4 color opener, Taylor, his wife Ursula and their children see the "Friendship 7" at the Smithsonian, then stop at the Library of Congress, the White House, the Capitol and memorials to Jefferson, Washington and Lincoln.

WHITE PAPER — In an unprecedented 3½-hour news special, NBC examines U.S. foreign policy from 1945 to 1965, showing the successes, failures and future goals, and how events of the past two decades have affected the relationships between the U.S. and its wartime allies, and with its former enemies. Divided into three parts, the 7:30 p.m., ch. 4 documentary traces U.S.-Soviet relationships, looks at the world's new nations, and probes the growing conflict with Red China. Chet Huntley narrates, with Ray Scherer quizzing President Johnson on his views. Other U.S. officials interviewed will be Dean Rusk, George W. Ball, Walt Whitman Rostow and David E. Bell.

EGGS AND WAYS OF PREPARING

MRS. R. W. PILCHARD

(First Prize)

EGGS WITH SHRIMP SAUCE

- 8 hard boiled edgs
- 1 tsp. salt
- Dash of Worcestershire sauce
- ½ tsp. curry powder (can be omitted)
- ½ tsp. paprika
- ¼ tsp. dry mustard
- ½ lemon, juice (1½ tblsp.)
- 2-3 tblsp. sour cream Shrimp Sauce
- 2 cups half and half
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 2 tblsp. butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. salt
- Pepper to taste
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 3 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 2 tblsp. sour cream
- 2 5 oz. cans shrimp

Cut boiled eggs in half lengthwise and scoop out yolks. Mash yolks with seasonings, lemon juice, moisten with sour cream. Fill egg halves with mashed yolks and press together. Place in greased baking dish. Heat half and half to scalding point, lightly brown the flour in butter and blend well, stirring constantly. Cook until smooth and thick. Add salt, pepper, Worcestershire, cream cheese and sour cream and heat until melted. Stir in shrimp and pour sauce over eggs. Bake in 350° oven 20 minutes. Serves 4-6.

(Second Prize)

SCALLOPED BACON, EGGS

- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 2 tblsp. butter or margarine
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 1½ cups milk
- 1 cup shredded sharp processed American cheese
- 6 hard cooked eggs, sliced
- 1½ cups crushed potato chips
- 10-12 slices bacon, crisp cooked and crumbled

Cook onion in butter until tender, but not brown; blend in flour. Add milk. Cook stirring constantly, until mixture thickens. Add cheese and stir until melted. Place a layer of egg slices in 10x6x1½ inch baking dish. Cover with half the cheese sauce, half the potato chips and half the bacon. Repeat layers. Bake in 350° oven for 15-20 minutes or until heated through. Serves 4.

SPECIAL

BILLY GRAHAM CRUSADE — The evangelist's three-day Denver crusade is seen in hour-long tapes today, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., ch. 5. Topic of the program at Bears Stadium is "The Salvation in America."

ONCE UPON A TRACTOR — Third in the Xerox series about the activities of the UN is a comedy-drama starring Alan Bates and Diane Cilento, and featuring Buddy Hackett, Melvyn Douglas, Clive Revill and Albert Dekker. Filmed in Italy, the 8 p.m. hour, ch. 7, is set in several mythical European countries and deals with a man's persistent pursuit for justice and the inalienable right to a new tractor—through local and national governments, and up to the UN itself.

SOUND OF MOTOWN — It's like lend-lease. First we produce shows featuring the Mersey beat with British stars—so now England films this hour of American "rock" music with U.S. stars in the sounds of the Motown label of Detroit (Motor Town). Featured in the 8 p.m. hour, ch. 11, are the Supremes, Smokey Robinson and the Miracles, little Stevie Wonder, the Temptations, Martha and the Vandellas, Dusty Springfield.

ICE FOLLIES PREMIERE — Bill Burrud goes backstage at the L.A. Sports Arena at 9 p.m., ch. 13, to talk with Shipstad and Johnson stars, and with visiting celebrities attending the premiere performance.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON— In a 5-min. address, LBJ opens the annual United Community Fund drive at 10:55 p.m. on all networks.

Sports Today

BOXING, 8:30 p.m., ch. 5, finds Dick Enberg at the Olympic for a 10-round heavyweight match between Manuel Ramos and Irish Wayne Heath, plus a 6-round semi-main between heavyweights Jimmy Harryman and John Henry Jackson.

NFL PRO BOWL Highlights, 10:30 p.m., in color, ch. 5, has tapes of the Jan. 10, 1965 East-West game at the Coliseum.

SPECIAL

AMERICANS on Everest — The distinguished National Geographical Society turns its cameras to television in the first of a series of four color hours of exploration and discovery. Orson Welles narrates the 7:30 p.m., ch. 2 opener, relating the thrilling adventures of a team of 19 Americans and one Britisher who in 1943 risked danger and death to carry the U.S. flag to the 29,028-ft. summit of the world's highest mountain. Later telecasts in the series, to air Dec. 22, Feb. 18 and April 28, deal with a pretty scientist in the Tanzanian wilds, a round-the-world voyage by a famous sailing ship, and the underwater world of French explorer Jacques Yves Cousteau.

COUNTDOWN '65 — Semi-finals of the nation's first nationwide big beat rock band contest, featuring 30 bands, with dancers, from Southland schools, airs live from the Olympic Auditorium at 8 p.m., ch. 13. KRLA deejay Emperor Hudson will be on-the-air-host.

DUTCH BUTTER CAKE

- 2 cubes fresh butter
- 2 cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 egg, unbeaten
- 1½ tsp. almond extract
- ½ cup sliced almonds

Two hours before baking, soften butter at room temperature. Twenty minutes before baking, preheat oven to 350 degree.

In large bowl, add one cup of flour to butter and mix with wooden spoon. Then add sugar, remaining flour, egg and almond extract. Blend all ingredients then knead mixture until a nice soft ball is formed. Place dough in an ungreased 10" glass pie plate, cover with sliced almonds, pressed into dough. Bake 60-70 minutes until done. Test with toothpick for doneness. Cool before serving. Serves 16.

YUMMY COFFEE CAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter or margarine
- 4 eggs
- 4 cups flour
- 2 tsp. baking soda
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 cups sour cream
- 2 tsp. vanilla

Topping

- ⅓ cup brown sugar
- ¼ cup white sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Cream together butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Sift together flour, soda, salt and baking powder. Add to egg mixture alternately with sour cream. Add vanilla and beat well. Topping: blend together sugars, cinnamon and walnuts. Spread half of batter in greased and floured 10x13" pan. Sprinkle with half of topping mix. Spread rest of batter on top and sprinkle with remaining topping mix. Bake in 325 degree oven 40-45 minutes.

LITTLE ORANGE LOAVES

- 1 pkg. orange muffin mix
- ¾ cup whole cranberry sauce
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Prepare batter from muffin mix according to package directions. Stir in cranberry sauce and nuts. Spoon into six greased 6 oz. empty frozen juice cans. Bake in 375 degree oven 30 to 35 minutes or until done. Cool 5 minutes and ease out of cans with spatula (cut end out of can). Slices better the second day.

CHEESE DREAMS

- 1 lb. Old Engish cheese
- 1 cube butter or margarine
- 4 tblsp. cream
- 2 loaves unsliced white sandwich bread

With a fork, cream together the cheese, margarine and cream until the consistency of cake frosting. Do not heat cheese to melt it. Trim all crusts from bread and cut into pieces 1½x1½ x3. Frost all sides, but on (the bottom) with cheese mixture and place on cookie sheet in refrigerator overnight. When ready to serve, place at least 2" apart on cookie sheet or aluminum foil and broil until cheese starts to bubble and turn brown. Serve immediately. Makes 42 pieces. These freeze excellently. Remove from freezer half hour before broiling.

- ½ cup sugar
- 1 tsp. double action baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 cup raisins
- ½ cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
- 1 egg beaten
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 2 tblsp. melted shortening
- 1 cup crushed pineapple, not drained

Sift together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and soda. Add raisins and nuts. Combine beaten egg, vanilla and melted shortening. Add to dry ingredients. Add pineapple and juice to above mixture and stir until all ingredients are well blended. Pour into greased 8x4x4 loaf pan. Bake in 350° preheated oven one hour or until bread tests done. Cool on rack.

CARROT BREAD

- 1½ cups flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 cup grated raw carrots
- ½ cup chopped pecans
- 2 eggs
- ¾ cup cooking oil

Combine all ingredients and mix 3 minutes at medium speed in mixer. Pour into greased small loaf pan. Bake at 350° approximately 1 hour. Cool. Slice thin and fill sandwich style with following:

- 1 6 oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 3 tblsp. orange marmalade

Soften cream cheese and mix with orange marmalade until spreading consistency is right. Spread on one slice and top with another slice sandwich style. This freezes beautifully and is perfect with tea or coffee, lunch snacks or picnics.

'SEQUEL-DRAMA' FOR DR. KILDARE

A New 'Looker' Joins the Cast

There's a "new look" and a new "looker" for "Dr. Kildare" this year.

Richard Chamberlain and Raymond Massey, in their fifth year as the heroes of Blair Hospital, are pioneering a fresh idea in story-telling technique. It's being referred to as "sequel-drama." And they're also introducing a new member of their cast, a young and pretty actress named Lee Kurty.

The new format and the new continuing player in the series will be seen in color on channel 7 Monday and Tuesday evenings, beginning Sept. 13.

* * * *

BOTH CHAMBERLAIN and Massey already have become staunch boosters for sequel-drama—and for Miss Kurty.

"This concept should mean better stories, and that's the secret of any show's success," declares the veteran Massey, who should know a good script when he sees one.

"Lee has amazing poise. She's a very talented actress," says Chamberlain, who should be able to recognize such qualities. In 132 hour shows filmed for "Dr. Kildare" during the past four years, he has worked opposite some 250 young actresses.

* * * *

MISS KURTY, the first player other than Chamberlain and Massey to be signed as a regular in the series, is an attractive blonde from Pittsburgh. She came to her role, that of Zoe Lawton, new young head nurse on Kildare's ward, from a Broadway stage run in "Absence of a Cello," a seven months tour of Australia in "Barefoot in the Park" and several seasons of summer stock.

"They tell me Zoe may have her eye on Kildare," Chamberlain comments. "It's just possible a romance may develop between them — we'll have to wait and see. Meanwhile, she'll have enough trouble as my head nurse."

* * * *

ACCORDING to Massey, the change to sequel-drama came about as a result of NBC's suggestion that "Dr. Kildare" be presented in half-hour programs twice a week during the new season.

"Norman Felton—he's our executive producer — liked the idea as long as it was understood there was no intention of turning the show into a soap-opera serial," Massey says. "He saw in it an opportunity to try something that hasn't been done on TV and to give writers greater freedom.

"Our writers now are being allowed to develop a story to whatever length is deemed best. If it takes six half-hour programs to tell it effectively, that's the way it is scheduled. Yet, each half-hour is being planned so that, we hope, viewers will be entertained by it alone.

"Last year, we had to reject several outstanding stories because we found they just couldn't be told properly in the one-hour format. That won't happen this season."

PRETTY LEE KURTY joins stars Richard Chamberlain (left) and Raymond Massey in the series' fifth year on television, airing in color two nights each week—Monday and Tuesday—beginning Sept. 13 on channel 4.

More Sexy Ladies on TV Next Season

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Possibly because of ABC-TV's "Peyton Place," or possibly because there is now so much sex in films that viewers have become impassive about it, there will be a good many sexy ladies in television series this season.

It wasn't always like this — not in the fairly recent days when the networks feared putting on too many glamor girls because it was felt their attractiveness might offend lesser-endowed and harder-working hausfraus who spend the shopping money.

* * * *

NOWADAYS, however, the afternoon soap operas provide more sex and suggestiveness for the average housewife than a year of old MGM movies. This comes in addition to the increasingly suggestive new movies. And even the television commercials are getting sexier.

Furthermore, the shortage of old movies for television means that newer ones will be shown soon in greater quantity — which means living rooms will be (and are now) getting the sort of stuff that was on view mainly at art film houses just a few years ago.

RUTH ROMAN

* * * *

ONE OF the female stars down the old prejudice who apparently helped break against glamorous women in regular video series was Inger Stevens, whose wholesome sexiness in Hollywood they used to call "clean sex" the ideal attraction) won popularity in ABC-TV's "The Farmer's Daughter."

This season, NBC-TV's "Dr. Kildare" will have a love interest, and so will the state congressman hero of CBS-TV's "Slattery's People."

EVA GABOR will star with Eddie Albert in CBS-TV's "Green Acres," about a couple that move from the big city to the country. Elizabeth Montgomery will be back in ABC-TV's "Bewitched." And Ruth Roman and Lana Wood (Natalie's younger sister) should provide some steamy moments in ABC-TV's "The Long, Hot Summer," a southern "Peyton Place."

CANDIES & NUTS

MRS. G. W. HUFFMAN

(First Prize)

QUICK PRALINE

- 1 pkg. butterscotch pudding mix
- 1 cup sugar
- ½ cup brown sugar, packed
- ½ cup evaporated milk
- 1 tblsp. butter
- 1½ cups pecans

In a medium size pan, mix pudding mix, both sugars, milk and butter. Cook and stir over low heat until sugar dissolves and mixture boils. Continue to cook gently, stirring frequently until a small amount tested in cold water forms a soft ball. Remove from heat and beat until mixture begins to thicken. Add nuts and stir. Drop by teaspoon onto waxed paper. Let stand until firm.

TEENAGE SPECIAL

- 1 pkg. (6 oz.) butterscotch pieces
- 2 tblsp. honey
- 2 tblsp. dairy sour cream
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts

In a large skillet, combine butterscotch pieces, honey, sour cream and salt. Cook, stirring, over low heat until candy pieces are melted. Remove from heat. Cool until lukewarm, then beat until mixture starts to hold its shape. Add vanilla and nutmeats. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto buttered shallow pan. Chill until firm. Makes about 24.

WAFFLES, HOT CAKES, FRITTERS

(First Prize)

HOT CAKES, ORANGE SAUCE

- 2 cups bisquick
- 1 egg
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 tsp. rum or brandy flavoring
- Dash of salt
- ½ tsp. nutmeg
- ½ tsp. sugar or 1 tsp. powdered sugar
- 1 jigger of gin or vodka
- 1¾ cups of milk, to make a thin batter

Mix together in a large mixing bowl using the 1¾ cups of milk. The batter should be thin so if necessary, add extra ¼ cup milk. Bake on grill making small cakes about 4" or smaller in size. Serve with:

Orange Sauce

- 1 cube of butter
- 2 oranges, grated rind and juice
- 1 cup of sugar

Melt butter. Grate the orange rind and add the juice to the batter. Add sugar and cook over low heat about 15 minutes or until mixture thickens. Serve over hot cakes.

COLOR TELEVISION

It's Really Here

By JOAN CROSBY

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Several years ago, Henry Morgan looked directly into the eye of a television camera and said, "This show is being brought to you in color -- for all you know."

Today if he were to say that, the people watching the 3,600,000 color sets now in use would know.

Bob Hope said that when the first western was telecast in color, the Indians stood still and the color ran.

Today, tuning in the new color sets is so simple a mechanical idiot can handle it. And color itself, which once left much to be desired, has improved to a point very close to perfection.

Hope also said, speaking of CBS, a steadfast color holdout: "They fought color longer than Alabama's Gov. Wallace." Then he added, "The first time Frank Stanton (the president of CBS) saw color, he sent for his television repair man."

* * * *

WHEN CBS opens its new season on Sept. 12, it will be colorcasting about 50% of its shows. It is a major capitulation, and a major triumph for RCA (NBC's parent) which pioneered color television.

Very definitely, the time has come to buy a color television set. If you have had any reservations, forget them. Prices have come down to a point where manufacturers have models available for $400 or a bit less.

* * * *

THE NEW television season will see an end to that. With the exception of two series (Convoy and I Dream of Jeannie), all NBC's nighttime programming will be in color.

CBS is tinting Lassie, My Favorite Martian, Ed Sullivan, The Lucy Show, Andy Griffith, Hazel (a color series when it was on NBC), Steve Lawrence, Red Skelton, Petticoat Junction, Beverly Hillbillies, Green Acres, Gilligan's Island, My Three Sons (moving over from ABC), Hogan's Heroes, Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C., and the Thursday Night Movies.

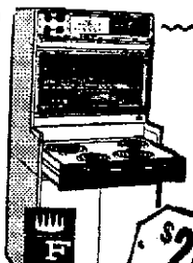

ABC will be completely in color Sunday nights, beginning at 7 (Eastern time) with Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea, and following that with The F.B.I. and Sunday Night at the Movies. Other color series for ABC are The Farmers Daughter, Gidget, The Big Valley, O. K. Crackerby, the King Family, Hollywood Palace, Lawrence Welk, Tammy and the Flintstones.

(Second Prize)

VEILED PROPHET PARTY CAKE

- 1½ cups sifted cake flour
- 1½ tsp. baking powder
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¼ cup shortening
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 eggs beaten light
- ½ cup thick sour milk or buttermilk
- ½ cup boiling water
- 2 squares bitter chocolate, melted
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. vanilla

BONNIE NELSON

Grease and flour bottoms of two 9-inch layer pans. Sift flour once, add baking powder and salt and sift three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, cream until fluffy; add beaten eggs and beat well. At low speed in mixer, add flour mixture alternately with buttermilk, beginning and ending with dry ingredients. Blend well after each addition. Pour boiling water into the melted chocolate and mix quickly. Add soda to chocolate and mix until thick. Cool slightly before adding to cake batter. Mix well then add vanilla.

Turn batter into pans and bake at 350° 30 to 40 minutes. Cool; spread chocolate filling between layers and on top to within half inch of edge. Frost sides and top edge with Coffee-Butter Frosting or whipped cream.

Chocolate Filling

- ½ cup sugar
- 3 tblsp. cornstarch
- 2 squares bitter chocolate melted
- 1 cup coffee
- 1 tblsp. butter
- ¼ cup slivered almonds

Combine sugar and cornstarch in 2 quart saucepan. Stir in coffee. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thick. Add the tablespoon of butter and the almonds. Cool before spreading on cakes.

Coffee-Butter Frosting

- 1½ cups confectioner's sugar
- 1 tblsp. dry cocoa
- ⅓ cup butter
- 1 tblsp. strong coffee

Cream the butter and add gradually the sugar and cocoa mixed together. Beat well. Stir in the coffee. Can be forced through a pastry bag to make ornamental designs.

It's smart to build this fall—

Now—after the "Summer Rush"—you can get more pool value for your money!

We're in a dealin' mood. Let us prove that during our normally slower fall months we can offer a better deal than ever before...

■ Pools now cost less—We'll make you a price you can't pass up.

■ Best crews available—Our most expert crews, continuing through the fall; give each pool an extra touch of skilled perfection.

■ Discount prices on pool accessories—Our best equipment, manufactured and guaranteed by Anthony Pools, is available now at low "off-season" prices.

■ Swim during Christmas week. There are many warm days the year 'round when a heated Anthony pool is inviting. Plan a poolside Hallowe'en party or exotic luau. Enjoy your pool for a half-year free.

■ Landscape more leisurely. You can have the whole spring for your plantings. Your beautiful Anthony pool will add distinction to your home—and a new relaxed elegance to your way of life.

Your pool is an investment that continues to grow in value

Your pool is an asset to your home, and like your home it can be financed on very low payment terms. This makes owning a pool especially attractive to young families. It is important that your pool is dependably built with parts and service available in the future.

The fine reputation of Anthony Pools gives added value to your investment. Frequently, when fine homes are resold, the phrase "Anthony pool" is used in the real estate ads as proof of value.

Low monthly payments. Financing up to ten years. "No pay till May" is available on seven-year plan.

Price of pool	monthly payment 10-year plan
$1700	$22.33
2000	26.33
2500	33.00
3000	39.66

4000	53.00

Reputation of the builder

For the first six months of 1965 in all of Southern California, Anthony built four times as many pools as any other single builder... an unmatched endorsement of Anthony's reputation for value and fairness.

Call the Anthony office in your neighborhood. They will work with you on prices and scheduling; work hard to keep you as a satisfied Anthony pool owner. Their old fashioned local service is backed by our own team of inspectors and our vast pool-building facility.

Financial back-up is needed for continuing service. Net worth of Anthony Pools is greater than any other pool builder in the world. Anthony Pools is listed on the American and Pacific Coast Stock Exchanges. Here is an example of the assets we have to assure you of completion and continuing service:

Our Cover

Hearst Castle, crowning a hill at San Simeon, rose under the direction of the late publisher, William Randolph Hearst, who poured millions into its construction and furnishings. It is now the property of the State of California and open to visitors for a fee. One of the most imposing views on the castle grounds is from the 250,000-gallon Neptune Pool, pictured on Southland's cover. In background is a model of a Greco-Roman temple. The pool is flanked by a pillared colonnade. Tours of the castle have attracted some 300,000 persons annually, and the number is expected to rise to 360,000 this year. For more about the castle and how you can arrange to visit this magnificent showplace, turn to Page 5.

Next Week

Thanks to a devoted group of Long Beach area residents, sightless persons may be able to "read" books that might never have come their way under other circumstances. The thanks go to volunteers who translate printed words into Braille—a tedious task, but one with uncounted reward in the hearts of the blind. The how, what, why, when and where of this story of unselfishness is related by Renee B. Simon in "Words at Their Fingertips" in next Sunday's Southland Magazine.

FRIED DUCK-MANDARIN SAUCE

- 1 3½-4 lb. duck, cut in serving pieces
- Salt, pepper, flour for dredging
- 3-4 tblsp. cooking oil
- 1½ cups orange juice
- 1 small can Mandarin oranges and juice
- ¼ cup sherry wine
- 2 buttons garlic minced fine
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch

Heat oven to 350°. Season duck with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Heat oil in skillet and fry duck until nicely browned (quickly). Lay pieces of duck in single layer in roaster. Sprinkle each piece with bits of garlic. Add half cup orange juice and cover and bake 40 minutes.

Remove from oven, pour off all drippings and discard. Turn each piece of duck. Add sherry wine to balance of orange juice and juice from mandarin oranges and pour over duck and return to oven without lid. Lower heat to 325. Baste occasionally. Turn duck as it browns so all sides are nicely browned.

Remove duck to hot serving platter. Add cornstarch to make sauce. When bubbly add mandarin sections stirring gently to heat, then pour over duck.

- 1½ cups (12 oz can) apricot nectar
- 1 cup cooked rice
- 1 6 oz. can evaporated milk
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- ½ cup sugar
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ½ cup seedless raisins

Scald apricot nectar, milk and rice together. Slowly stir into beaten eggs mixed with sugar and salt. Add raisins. Pour combined mixture into a buttered 1½ qt casserole. Sprinkle with nutmeg. Set casserole in pan of water filled about 1 inch deep. Bake in 350° oven about 50 minutes or until firm. Serve hot or cold with whipped cream. Serves 4 to 6.

Outside House Painting Now Eliminated

Another boon of the space age has been accomplished for the homeowner . . . an exterior wall coating so tough and durable that it is guaranteed to totally eliminate exterior house painting for over 10 years. This remarkable textured coating is Fiberglass FLEXON.

BEST IN NATION

Homeowners are requested not to spend a single penny on painting their residence until they hear the FLEXON STORY. This remarkable material insulates, waterproofs and beautifies, and every Fiberglas FLEXON job is factory guaranteed for 10 full years against chipping, flaking or peeling.

Fiberglas, a product of Owens-Corning, brings to FLEXON its great strength, its wonderful insulating properties, its resistance to time, weather, and chemical attack.

PROVEN OVER MANY YEARS

FLEXON is one of the oldest, tried and true coatings now being marketed and has been applied on thousands of homes and commercial buildings. These buildings have remained in perfect condition after more than 10 years exposure in all types of weather.

SHOT FROM A GUN

FLEXON is applied with special heavy duty spray equipment and is actually "shot from a gun" without muss, fuss or odor. FLEXON fuses itself to the wall and fills holes, cracks and covers building defects.

CITY OF LONG BEACH

Cal-Tex Improvements, Inc., is a licensed City of Long Beach Building Contractor. Most of the work now being done by Cal-Tex is in the greater Long Beach Area.

MARINE STADIUM'S MAJOR OPERATION NEXT

The Racy Lady's Last Fling

By BOB RUSKAUFF

—Author's Photos

Newest inboard racing class, Super Stock runabouts, above, will be among fleet racing craft in the "Last Fling Regatta" Monday at Long Beach Marine Stadium. Top, racer Bill DeLeenher and the Labor Day Regatta queen, Anita Driggs, look over air photo of stadium area, due for improvement.

OVER the famed but skimpy tidal bosom of Long Beach Marine Stadium there will be another major speedboat race Monday afternoon—then quiet. Big-time racing boat competition is due to depart—but not for too long; the reason, a major improvement of water strip and park sides is in the making.

Nothing world-stirring in the announcement of Monday's race meet, even though it's a big one—the 20th annual Labor Day Inboard Sweepstakes Regatta, sponsored by the Pilot Club, Long Beach chapter, service organization comprised of 29 ebullient business and professional women.

Marine Stadium West, as it is correctly but confusingly termed (since it lies on the extreme eastern extremity of Fourth Street) has been the site of events for 37 years; big ones, little ones, in-between ones.

IT BEGAN in 1928 when such water sports greats of the past as film star Dustin Farnum, comedy producer Al Christie and Long Beach's own first king of hydroplane drivers, Richard (Smiling Dick) Loynes, raced their boats on it.

In 1932, when competitive raceways were desperately needed, as they still are today, Marine Stadium was gussied up to offer a 2,000-meter rowing course. As a consequence eight-oar rowing races of the Xth Olympiad were held in Long Beach.

After this, though she never had quite the clothes for her roles, the skinny little water sprite became known for a while as Olympic Marine Stadium.

During the early 1930s, the Hearst Regattas, featuring outboard speedboats, were held here. In the 1940s, inboard raceboats took over also. For the past two decades, Long Beach has been home course for the 230-plus member Southern California Speedboat Club (conductors of the Labor Day races).

DRAG BOAT races, including national championships, have been held since 1957. In 1959 there was some more gussying-up, and Long Beach was host to the world water ski championships.

So, Monday afternoon, a long era will end temporarily. The distaff promoters are calling their race the "Last Fling Regatta." And, it's exactly that, but far, far from the end of the skinny sprite.

Marine Stadium is aged 37 and is going up for a long-needed major operation, including a face lift—a total of $1,383,000 worth not including cost of new bleachers. An estimated 10 to 16 months later the old gal will really debut, looking like Cinderella at the height of the ball.

During the construction period, day-to-day usage by skiers, rowers, Sea Scouts, et al, will continue, it is planned, but major sports events will be out.

THE ESTIMATED construction costs are actually well under the $1,790,000 maxium expenditure from the city's Tideland Oil Fund, which was authorized on Oct. 22, 1964 by the State Lands Commission.

To size up the final result Deputy City Engineer Tom Marchese, in going over plans, first asks: "What are we working with?"

The physical area totals 68 acres, including 48 acres of water surface, surrounded on three sides by 20 acres of land. The area is a finger-ling offshoot, west-northwest of Long Beach Yacht Marina, with Appian Way along the ocean side and Colorado St. slanting past to the northeast.

Per the plans, drawn up by Moffatt and Nichol, Long Beach engineering firm, the utility system will be completely underground, thus affording best total use of all space.

The up-coming crosstown freeway, which approaches along Colorado St., then curves east to Highway 101, will nip a small portion off the northwest end. This will not affect crowd accommodations, though it is important that ingress and egress freeway ramps be strategic to the stadium.

ITEMS PRIMARILY important in the program include:

—complete landscaping. Turf planted will be rugged, designed to handle overflow parking for crowd events without damage.

—fully-paved area on both sides of the course.

—an 8,000-square foot building to house rowing shells on the east-north-east end.

—smallboat sailing haulout at the east-south-east end and a larger concrete haulout for speed and pleasure boats to the west of it.

—a two-story concessionaire, announcers and officials building on the west-south-west (Appian Way) side.

—area at west-north-west end for Camp Sea Hawk (Mariner Scouts).

—two added comfort stations on the northeast side (to total six).

—4,000 semi-permanent, lock-type bleachers, southwest side; 7,000 portable bleachers (all can be dismantled for other use in non-racing season).

—ample (?) off-street parking—but this important last item may impose some problems. Single-line parking within the stadium will allow 464 cars. Using the landscape area and two other plots, plus stack-parking, and some 1,500 cars more can be added.

This is still not enough for crowds at major events, but other remedies are being studied.

Whatever, fans at the Labor Day Speedboat Sweepstakes may view with special interest, because Marine Stadium will never be quite the same again.

VEGETABLES

(First Prize)

SWEET, SOUR GERMAN CABBAGE

- 2½ lbs. red cabbage
- ½ tsp. salt
- ⅛ tsp. pepper
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 tart apples
- ½ cup vinegar
- ½ cup water
- 5-6 slices lean bacon
- 1 lg. onion

Slice cabbage fine and place in kettle. Add all other ingredients, except onion and bacon which should be cut in small pieces and browned. Pour off fat and add onion and bacon to cabbage. Cook slowly 1 hour. A few drops of red coloring may be used if cabbage needs more color.

(Second Prize)

SPINACH DELIGHT

- 2 pkgs. frozen chopped spinach
- 2 cups sour cream
- ½ pkg. onion soup mix
- 1 cup croutons, garlic or plain
- ¼ cup Parmesan cheese

Cook spinach according to package directions. Drain well. Mix in sour cream, onion soup mix, and croutons. Place in buttered casserole. Bake 30 minutes at 350 degrees. Sprinkle Parmesian cheese over spinach the last few minutes of baking time. Serves 5.

(Third Prize)

ELEGANT CARROTS

- 6 med. carrots
- ½ cup water
- ½ cup chicken broth
- 2 tsp. sugar
- ¾ tsp. seasoned salt
- Pinch nutmeg
- 2 tblsp. butter
- Pepper to taste
- 6 radishes, thinly sliced
- 2 green onions, finely chopped

Pare and coarsely shred carrots. Add water, broth, sugar, seasoned salt, and nutmeg. Cover and simmer until just tender, about 5 minutes. Add butter and pepper. Add radishes and green onions; stir only until butter is melted. Serve in sauce dishes with all liquid that remains. Makes 4 servings.

BAKED ONIONS WITH RICE AND NUTS

- 4 lg. onions
- 1 cup cooked rice
- ¼ cup chopped unblanched almonds
- ¼ cup chopped pecans
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- Salt and pepper to taste

Wash onions but do not peel. Put in pan and cover with boiling water and half teaspoon of salt. Simmer for half hour, drain and dry. Remove outside skin and scoop out center of onion, being careful not to break shell. Mix rice, almonds, pecans, eggs, salt and pepper and stuff onion cavities with this. Put in buttered baking dish, brush with melted butter and bake in 350 degree oven half hour.

ASPARAGUS SUPREME

- 2 tblsp. butter
- 2 tblsp. flour
- ¾ cup milk
- 3 egg yolks beaten
- 1 tsp. chopped onion
- ½ cup grated American cheese
- 1½ cups cooked asparagus
- 3 egg whites, beaten to hold shape
- Salt and pepper

Make white sauce of butter, flour and milk. Add egg yolks, onion and cheese. Stir well until cheese is melted. Add cut cooked asparagus and season to taste. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour into buttered casserole and bake 45 min. at 350° until center is slightly firm. Serves 6-8.

ZUCCINI SQUASH PATTIES

- 2 cups grated squash
- ½ cup finely chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped parsley
- ½ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese
- 1 egg well beaten
- 1 cup bisquick flour
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ¼ cup crisp bacon, broken up

Stir all ingredients together and make into patties. Place in hot, well greased frying pan, cover, brown, turn and brown other side. Serves 6.

Mrs. Ida Hershberger
2314 Golden Ave.
Long Beach 6

MUSHROOMS

- ½ lb. mushrooms
- Butter
- Salt and pepper

Wash mushrooms, place them on top of foil paper, then dot them with butter and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place them in a preheated oven of 350° about 15-20 minutes. They remain whole this way and they steam with their juices around them. Very delicious and easy.

Castle in the Sky

Twin Spanish towers crown main structure of the Hearst Castle.

La Casa Grande, built by W. R. Hearst at San Simeon, will be visited by 360,000 in 1965

By JIM McCAULEY

Sprawling over 123 acres of hill crest, the Hearst estate, now property of California, commands breathtaking view of coast. Aerial view above.

YOU DON'T have to live in a child's dream world to make a reservation at a castle in the sky.

The State Beaches and Parks Division in Sacramento will handle it for you—for a slight fee. The state wound up in the castle business in 1958 when it was deeded Hearst Castle.

The castle business in California has been booming ever since.

Some 300,000 persons a year take public tours through Hearst Castle. The castle gawkers are expected to exceed 360,000 this year.

And a California castle is such a top attraction, hundreds are turned away on holiday weekends and busy summer-vacation periods.

SOME FAMILIES—without reservations—wait hours for an opening on a conducted tour. The on-the-spot tours cost $2. However, you can arrange for a reserved tour for a specific time and day by mailing $3 to the Sacramento headquarters (P. O. Box 2390) of the State Beaches and Parks Division. Fees cover castle maintenance and guides.

If you also want to go upstairs, there is an additional $4 fee.

How can a castle in California's rugged and remote San Simeon—260 miles north of Long Beach—pull as many as 2,400 persons a day through the turnstiles?

The grandeur of Hearst Castle makes other castles look like pockets of poverty.

THE CASTLE majestically crowns The Enchanted Hill—five miles from the seaside village of San Simeon on State Hwy. 1. Guests reach the castle on a five-mile winding road.

The 100-room castle is on a 123-acre crest of the hill. An estimated $1 million a year was spent on the castle by the family of William Randolph Hearst for 50 years.

There are gardens, pools, fountains, Gothic fireplaces, rare tapestries, statues of a lion-faced deity chiseled in granite by Egyptians before Christ, and intricately paneled, carved and decorated ceilings.

THE BED of Cardinal Richelieu is at the San Simeon Hearst Castle.

One of the most imposing views is from the 250,000-gallon Neptune Pool. In the background is a model of a Greco-Roman temple. The pool is flanked by a pillared colonnade.

The main structure, La Casa Grande, crowns the skyline with twin Spanish towers. There also are three palatial guest houses.

Till 1958, the castle could be viewed only from afar—by a coin-in-the-slot telescope in San Simeon. That was before the state went into the castle business.

As a result of the castle boom, new motels, restaurants and filling stations have opened nearby on Coast Hwy. 1. It pays to have a castle in your back yard.

This Photo by Associated Press; all others by State Division of Beaches, Parks

William Randolph Hearst bed (left) and the refectory (above). The late publisher entertained many important guests in the vast hall, personages from many walks of life. The public now may take guided tours of castle.

TURKEY TRIANGLES
Fillings

2 cups diced, cooked turkey
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup chopped onion
1 cup cooked peas
2 tblsp. chopped olives
¼ tsp. paprika

Combine all ingredients and heat for a few minutes. Pace a small amount of filling on each square of dough. Fold over to make a triangle and seal edges. Prick surface with a fork. Bake in 400° 15 to 20 minutes or until delicately brown.

Dough

2 cups sifted flour
¾ cup corn meal
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ cup shortening
1 cup milk

Sift together flour, corn meal, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles course crumbs. Add milk, mixing lightly only until mixture is dampened. Roll out on floured board to form a rectangle about 12x18 inches. Cut into six squares and place on a baking sheet.

SWEET & SOUR CHICKEN WINGS

2 lbs. chicken wings
½ tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
2 green peppers, chopped
3 stalks of celery, sliced
1 med. sized onion, chopped
½ cup crushed pineapple, including syrup
½ cup of catsup
½ cup of vinegar
¼ cup of brown sugar

Cut off small end of chicken wings and discard, then place rest of wing in roasting pan, salt and pepper and bake in oven until brown and done, about ½ hour at 300°.

Sauce: Saute the green peppers, celery and onion until lightly browned. Stir into the sauteed vegetables, the pineapple, catsup, vinegar and brown sugar. Cover and simmer 10 minutes. Pour over the chicken wings and return to the oven 30 minutes. Serves 4 generously.

CHICKEN BREASTS IN WINE

10 chicken breasts
1 can cream chicken soup
1 can cream mushroom soup
1 can cream celery soup
¾ bottle of sautern wine

Brown chicken breasts and remove from pan. Pour off grease and add to the drippings the three soups and the wine. Simmer sauce slowly until well blended. Arrange chicken in casserole and cover with sauce. Bake at 350° one hour. Good served with wild rice.

Two scientists find way to develop a

Garden in Space

Discovery hailed as an important step toward manned space stations

By LOU JOBST

TWO University of California scientists have developed a garden that a man can carry to the farthest reaches of space.

At the same time other UC scientists headed by Nobel Laureate Melvin Calvin are delving into the very processes of life including how it arises on a primitive, elemental world.

The extra terrestrial Eden is the work of Drs. William J. Oswald and Clarence G. Golucket at the Sanitary Engineering Research Laboratory at Richmond.

Called an Algatron, it is an important step toward manned space stations and sustained flights into deep space.

THE ALGATRON system, using a mixture of algae, bacteria and water to form a closed biological environment, creates a continuous supply of fresh air and water.

Science has not been able to employ the system in the past because the standard double-walled container proved too bulky, heavy and inefficient for use in space.

The UC researchers overcame this problem by an ingenious use of centrifugal force —or a spinning action—to keep a thin film of the mixture growing on the inside of a transparent plastic drum.

Not only is their system considerably more compact and lighter, it works better.

THIN FILMS, because they have more exposure to light and air than tank-grown cultures, grow at a faster rate and are therefore more efficient producers of oxygen and converters of waste products, their role in the process of photosynthesis.

Elimination of the second wall also makes possible unlimited and easy access to the culture.

Algatron, say the inventors, is small enough to be launched with available rocket power.

While the biological processes of Algatron are nothing new, the system represents important technological breakthroughs.

OSWALD, professor of public health, and Golucket microbiologist, determined previously that algae and bacteria, existing primarily on human waste products, could provide enough oxygen and fresh water to enable man to live indefinitely in space.

To prove their point they sealed a mouse inside a glass cylinder containing about three quarts of the algae-bacteria-water mixture and passed only food into the compartment. The rodent lived inside the device, named a microterella ("small little world"), for six weeks, or the equivalent of six years in human life.

The animal could have survived indefinitely, they say, or until the end of its natural lifetime.

Interdependence is the essence of the system. Bacteria breaks down the animal wastes. The algae, in turn, live off the waste from the bacteria, while at the same time absorbing carbon dioxide (produced by human respiration) and emitting oxygen (needed for human breathing).

THE WARM, oxygen-rich air of the Algatron would be drawn through condensers along the cold outer walls of a space vehicle, providing both water by condensation and cool air.

The system can produce up to 10 gallons of fresh water per day per man, more than is needed. The surplus can be used by the algae mixture.

While there is no theoretical limit to the size of an Algatron, present plans envision 10 4x1½-foot units, containing 60 pounds of mixture each, per man. The entire system would weigh about 1,000 pounds per man.

Sunlight would be used both to provide illumination for Algatron chambers and energy used to spin or motor the Algatrons when they are used in space.

Meanwhile, at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory, chemist Dr. Melvin Calvin, who was awarded a Nobel Prize for his work with photosynthesis, and his associates, have discovered a chemical process whereby they can join together, under primitive earth conditions, relatively simple biological compounds called monomers into more complex chemicals called polymers.

USING THE PROCESS, the scientists synthesized polymers for the first time in a simulated primitive atmosphere.

The discovery provides Calvin and his team with a chemical mechanism which could have helped life develop on the primitive earth much more rapidly than was previously believed.

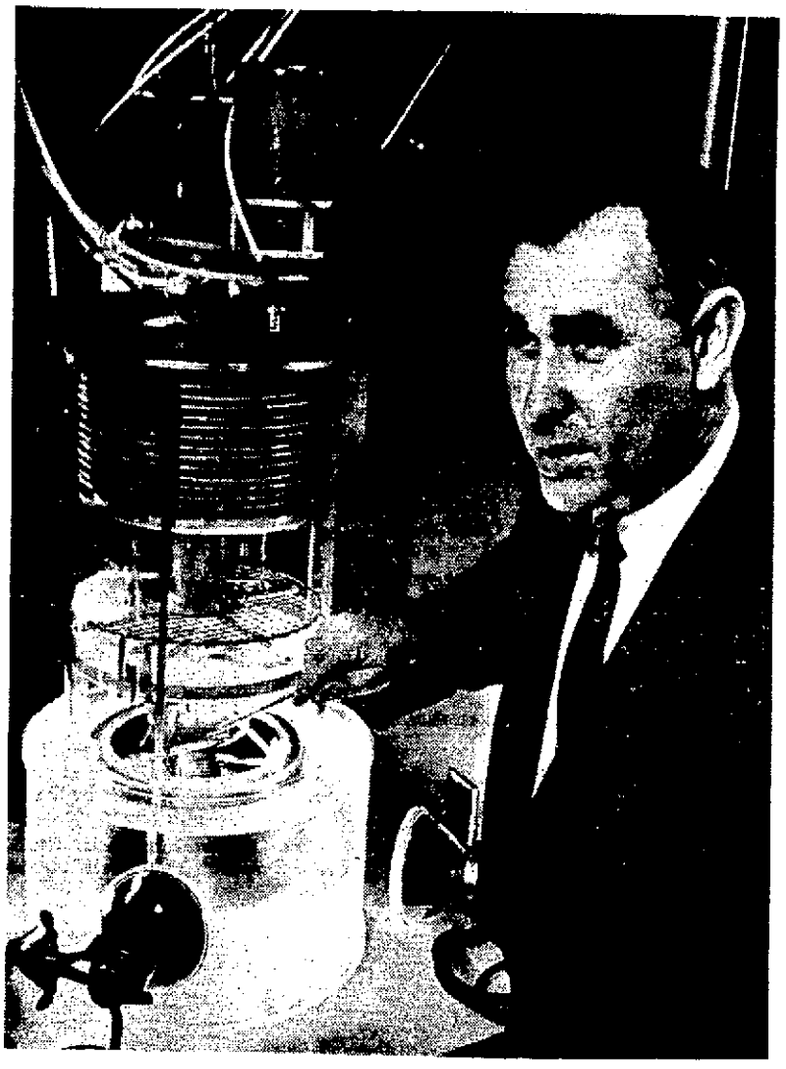

This need was created by the UC scientist, who, earlier this year, reported discovery of 2.7 billion year chemical molecules produced by living systems.

Until the discovery of these "dawn molecules," scientists widely believed life arose only in the last billion years.

Both feats are part of a two-pronged program at Lawrence to reconstruct the origin and trace the evolution of life.

Dr. Melvin Calvin and his UC team of researchers have discovered new earth life clues.

Artist's drawing above shows how an Algatron might be installed and used on a doughnut-shaped space station. Lower, Dr. William Oswald with "microterella" and attached model Algatron. Through use of Algatron, space voyagers could be provided with endless water, oxygen supply.

SOUPS

ALICE FURGERSON

(First Prize)
GRANDMOTHER'S SOUP

The night before take:

- 4 beef shanks
- 1 onion, peeled and quartered
- 2 stalks of celery, leaves and all
- 1½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper

Place the above in pan, cover with water, simmer until meat is tender. Remove shanks and let cool then cut meat from bone and discard fat or gristle and chop meat in large chunks. Be sure to scrape marrow from inside bone and include with meat for flavor. Drain stock, discarding celery and onion. Place meat and stock separately in refrigerator overnight.

In the morning take:

- 1 large can tomatoes
- 1 onion, peeled and diced
- 1 apple, peeled and diced
- 4 large potatoes, peeled, diced
- 4 carrots, peeled and sliced
- 1 bouillon cube
- 1 tblsp. sugar
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. pepper
- 1 pkg. frozen mixed vegetables
- ¾ cup diced celery

Place meat in large kettle; skim fat from stock and add it. Add tomatoes and juice, add everything above except the frozen vegetables and celery. Cook until potatoes and carrots are done then add frozen vegetables and celery and cook until they are done. Cool and refrigerate one hour before serving then reheat. It is always bettler warmed up.

(Second Prize)
SAVORY FISH CHOWDER

- 1 lb. fish fillets, or steaks (fresh or frozen)
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup light cream
- 1 cup crushed saltines
- ¼ cup bacon pieces
- 1 onion chopped
- ¼ cup celery, diced
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup diced potatoes
- ½ cup carrots
- 1 bay leaf
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- salt and pepper to taste

Let fillets thaw. Cut fish into bite size pieces. Mix milk, cream and saltines and set aside to soak. Cook bacon in large sauce pan until lightly browned. Add onion and celery and cook until vegetables are soft. Add water, potatoes, carrots and bay leaf. Cover and cook 10 minutes. Add fish, cracker and milk mixture and butter. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 8 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Season with salt and pepper. Serves 6-8.

716 Raymond Ave., Apt. 11

(Third Prize)
BEAN SOUP

- 2 cups small white beans
- 1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
- 1 lg. potato diced
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 ham hock (2-3 lbs.)
- 1 onion chopped
- ¼ tsp. thyme

Soak beans overnight in 6 cups water. Put ham in large kettle cover with 4 cups of water and bring to boil; simmer 2 hours. Remove ham, add the can of tomatoes, salt and pepper to taste, thyme, beans in the water in which they were soaked, the onion cut up. Simmer about 1½ hours or until beans are tender, then add the diced potato and diced ham. Simmer until potato is cooked, and serve. Makes about 6 quarts.

LENTIL SOUP

- 1 lb. soup meat (lamb shanks or beef) bones
- 1¾ cup lentils
- ¼ cup barley
- 2 carrots
- 1 onion
- 2 stalks celery with tops
- 1 tsp. rosemary
- ½ parsnip
- 5 qts. water
- Salt and pepper to taste

Boil meat and bones in water and skim surface. Add remaining ingredients and simmer for four hours. Serves 10 to 12.

Mrs. Joseph Lissak

HOMEMADE BORSCH

- 3 lb. chuck beef, cut in slices
- 8 cups beef bouillon
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 2 tblsp. butter
- 2 carrots, sliced
- ½ med. cabbage, shredded
- 3 med. beets, shredded
- 2 potatoes, cubed
- 1 8 oz. can tomato sauce
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1 bay leaf
- 1 tblsp. parsley
- 1 tblsp. cider vinegar
- Dairy sour cream

To make bouillon: use either fresh, homemade or mix 5 teaspoons beef stock base with 8 cups cold water. Fine tasting bouillon is essential to this delicious soup.

Put beef in a kettle with bouillon. Add salt, pepper and bay leaf. Bring to a boil, skim, simmer, covered for a half hour. In a large skillet melt butter and saute onion, carrots, beets, cabbage and parsley for 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce and vinegar and simmer over low heat for 10 minutes. Add to stock and cook, covered, 30 minutes. Add potatoes and continue to simmer until meat is tender (about 30 minutes). Add more salt and pepper if necessary. Serve with sour cream. Serves 4.

MEALINADISH SOUP

- 2 pkgs. vegetables soup mix
- 7 cups water
- 2 slices day old white bread
- 1 lb. veal shoulder, ground
- 1 egg beaten
- 1 med. onion minced
- ¼ cup minched parsley
- 2 tblsp. flour
- 2 tblsp. pkgd. dried bread crumbs
- 1 tsp. seasoned salt
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. worcestershire sauce

Soak bread slices in hot water to cover for 1 minute. Drain and squeeze dry. Combine with remaining ingredients in a bowl, mix well. Form into balls and place on waxed paper.

Place the vegetable soup mix in large saucepan and add the 7 cups of water and bring to a boil then turn heat low. Drop in meat balls and simmer, uncovered 15 minutes. Transfer to soup tureen, garnish with thinly sliced raw carrots, onion rings and scallions. Makes 6 servings.

HAMBURGER-VEGETABLE SOUP

- 2 tblsp. shortening
- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup diced potatoes
- 1 cup shredded cabbage
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- 1 cup sliced celery
- ½ cup rice
- 2 cans (1 lb. each) tomatoes
- 4 cups water
- ½ tsp. basil
- ¼ tsp. thyme
- 1 bay leaf
- Salt to taste

Brown the beef and onions in large kettle. Add the vegetables and rice with the water and seasonings. Mix well. Bring to boil. Cover and reduce heat. Simmer 1 hour. Serves 6-8.

CHEESE DISHES

CLARA POLINSKE

(First Prize)
CHEESE DELIGHTS

- 1 lb. hoop cheese
- ½ lb. cream cheese
- 2 cups of flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 2 tblsp. sugar
- 4 eggs
- ½ tsp. salt

Mash hoop cheese with cream chese. Beat egg well and add to cheese mixture. Mix well. Mix all dry ingredients and add to milk and cheese mixture. If more flour is needed for easy handling, add. Final mixture should be soft. Shape into balls a little larger than bite size. Bake on well-greased cookie sheet in 350° oven until slightly brown. Serve hot. These cheese delights can be frozen. When needed, place in tinfoil, well wrapped, and heat in oven for a half hour.

SPECIAL CHEESE DELIGHT

- 1 9" pie shell baked
- 1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
- 1 cup confectioner's sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- ½ pt. whipping cream
- 1 can (303) cherry pie filling

Bake pie shell and set aside to thoroughly cool while preparing the filling. Whip cream until quite stiff. Thoroughly mix cream cheese, confectioners' sugar and vanilla together. Fold the whipped cream into the cream cheese mixture and pour into the cooled pie shell, spreading evenly. Refrigerate 1 hour. Top with cherry pie filling. Return to refrigerator at least 4 hours before serving. Serves 8.

THE BIG SNOW JOB

California's Frozen Reservoirs

By BILL DUNCAN

NEXT TIME you take a long, cool drink of water think of snow. More than likely that's what you're drinking.

The water running from the taps at this time of the year is almost certain to be melted snow from California's frozen reservoirs. Sixty-two per cent of the Southland's summer water supply comes from this vast network of snow fields, covering some 21,000 square miles in the state's highlands. Any elevation higher than 5,000 feet can hold a water supply for summer consumption.

In April this frozen reserve of precious water begins to thaw slowly—a process that takes three months and nets approximately 14½ million acre feet of water. An acre foot of water, by formula, is an amount of water one foot deep spread over one acre of ground.

THE SNOW FALLS on California mountains from December to March. It freezes fast. This climatic condition, coupled with the topography of California, creates the frozen reservoirs and allows man valuable time to determine what the "water crop" will yield for the summer season. Both state agencies and private industry send teams of experts to survey the snow depth and compute the expected water yield.

These snow scientists—called hydrographers—have been forecasting the thaw for more than 40 years. The symbol of their trade is a long steel tube which they press into the snow to measure its depth, compaction and water content. Compaction is important to the computation of the water crop because eight feet of loosely packed snow will yield less water than five feet of tightly packed snow.

The snowmen, working in teams, trudge the white fields, sampling each mountain range where the snowpack holds for the winter. They measure the depth of the snow and cut vertical cores from the snowpack with tubes of such diameter that the difference in weight between full and empty tubes can be recorded directly as inches of water content.

THE AVERAGE DEPTH of the snow and its water content are multiplied by the distance in square miles of the snow course itself. The results are then added to, subtracted from and divided by, other factors such as runoff of the preceding year, the amount of snowmelt anticipated prior to the big thaw and the amount of water the ground is expected to absorb.

The first interest—in 1919—in how much water the snowpack held was not for water at all, but damage the water would cause when snowfed streams and rivers reached flood crest during the spring thaw. Subsequent sporadic studies of the snowpack were made to anticipate flood conditions.

By 1929, the demand was for more accurate knowledge and the state gathered together all agencies conducting surveys to set up a network of survey points. All the information was then compiled and analyzed at the state office.

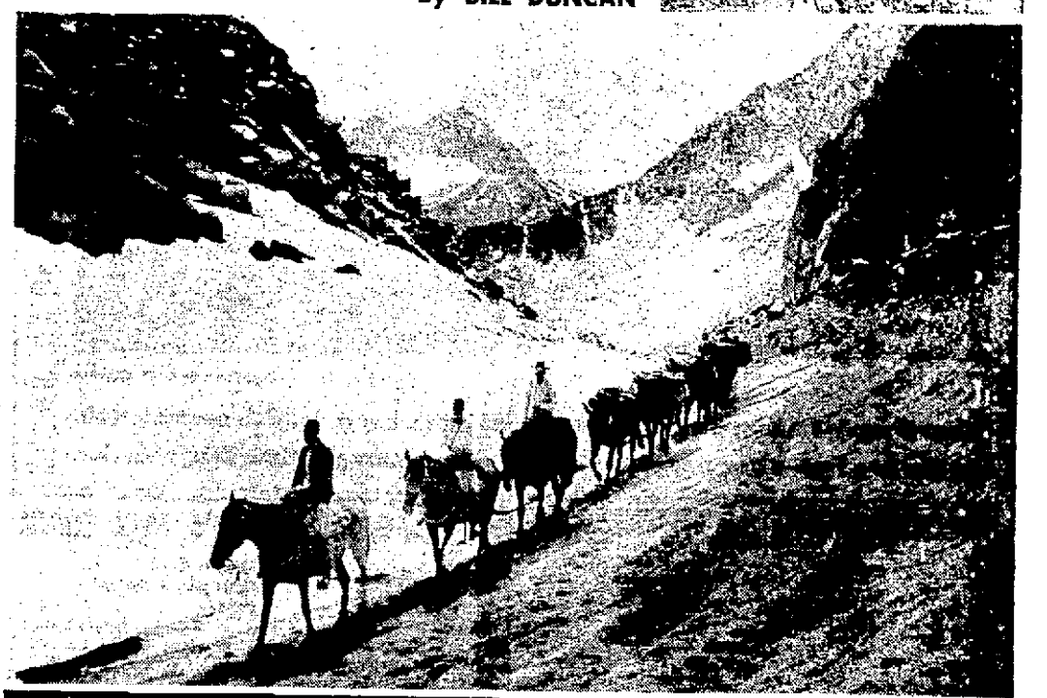

Following California's lead, 16 other Western states have set up similar programs, all of which are administered and coordinated by the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. California administers its own program.

CALIFORNIA HAS also pioneered new and more accurate methods of learning nature's secrets in holding this water supply. Some 60 aerial snow-depth markers are in areas inaccessible by ground travel during winter months. These markers are photographed from low-flying fixed-wing aircraft and the icy photo-reconnaissance missions reveal depth data.

Precipitation storage gauges are located at remote spots and the water marks are checked in the summer months to learn exactly how much precipitation fell over a specific period of time.

Research over the years has shown that timber can be cut in the watershed area in such a way as to retard the runoff for a longer period of time, or speed it up, as demand may dictate.

HELICOPTERS are now used to fly surveyors to the higher elevations where the teams once climbed on foot on sampling expeditions that took from seven to ten days to complete. The men still trek through the back country at the more accessible lower elevations. Small cabins are spaced out a "snowshoe day's walk" along the circuit. The cabins are stocked with provisions, sleeping bags and a wood stove.

For the most part, today the snow surveyors are airlifted to the higher elevations and set down on the glistening white fields to make their studies. Ninety snow courses are measured in the state each February and March. In April, the last month before the thaw, all 300 courses in the state are measured to get the full picture. This is one-fourth of the number of snow courses measured in the entire United States.

Seventeen organizations, including utility companies, municipalities, counties, private water companies, irrigation associations and the state and federal governments participate in the snow survey. In addition, 30 organizations contribute funds to the program. The data gathered by all participating agencies is funneled into the State Department of Water Resources where it is compiled and published in a report.

THIS REPORT, according to William E. Warne, director of the state's water resources, becomes the water bible, particularly for the parched sections of Southern California.

"Our dependence on the snow surveyor's data to forecast water supplies accurately has grown steadily through the years," Warne asserts. "It increases more every day with the state's expanding population and growing water consumption."

The water that once ran rampant from the mountains to the sea carrying off with it valuable topsoil is now carefully channeled through a network of natural and man-made lakes and reservoirs where it is stored and doled out to meet the need in the summer. This is true conservation, the use of an otherwise wasted resource.

The water supply from nature's temporary storage is used for human consumption, farm irrigation, hydro-electric power and the surplus is stored in underground basins. In the state's Central Valley alone there is an estimated underground storage capacity of 130,000,000 acre-feet within 200 feet of the ground surface.

UTILITY FIRMS, such as Southern California Edison Co., whose own men help compile the report, can tell from the information how much water will be shed at spring-

STRAWBERRY-SOUR CREAM JELLO MOLD

- 3 3-oz. pkgs. strawberry jello
- 3 cups boiling water
- 1 tsp. of gelatin
- 2 pkgs. frozen strawberries, regular size pkg.
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- 3 ripe bananas
- ½ pt. sour cream

Dissolve jello and gelatin in the boiling water. Cool until partially set. Then add the crushed pineapple, juice and all, the sliced bananas and thawed berries. Pour half of the mixture into a greased mold and refrigerate one hour until firm. Pour sour cream on top of firm jello and carefully pour remaining jello mixture over sour cream. Refrigerate overnight. A 10x3 pan is about right size. Serves 16.

CHICKEN SALAD FOR CROWD

- 4-5 lb. stewing chicken
- 8 oz. small shell macaroni
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 med. sized bunch of celery, chopped
- 2 boxes frozen peas, cooked and cooled
- 10 hard cooked eggs, chopped
- 2 heads of lettuce
- 1 #2 can pineapple chunks, drained
- 1 lg. bottle green stuffed olives, cut small

Simmer chicken until tender. Let cool. Remove from bones and cut into small pieces. Cook macaroni in well-salted water then drain and cool. Marinate several hours in 1 cup of mayonnaise. An hour before serving, add the chopped celery, cooked peas, hard boiled chopped eggs, pineapple chunks, and stuffed olives. Gently toss ingredients together adding as much mayonnaise as needed. Serves 24.

CAULIFLOWER & HAM

- 5 qts. cauliflower, separated into flowerets
- 1 cup quick cooking tapioca
- ⅔ cup butter
- 2½ tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper
- ½ tsp. paprika
- 2½ qts. milk, scalded
- 2½ lbs. chopped cooked ham
- 2¼ cups buttered bread crumbs

Cook cauliflower in boiling salted water until tender but not mushy. Drain, add tapioca, butter, salt, pepper, paprika to milk and cook over rapidly boiling water about 5 minutes, stirring frequently. Place layer of tapioca mixture on greased baking pan, then layer of cauliflower and ham. Repeat, finishing with layer of tapioca mixture. Sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in 350° 20 minutes. Serves 25.

QUANTITY RECIPES

MEAT BALLS FOR 50

- 50 slices of pineapple
- 9 lbs. ham
- 9 lbs. pork
- 9 cups cracker crumbs
- 9 med. onions
- 18 eggs
- 13½ cups milk
- 4½ tsp. salt
- 4½ tsp. pepper

Shape mixture into balls large enough to be set on a pineapple slice. Put side by side in a baking pan and bake a half hour.

Sauce:

- 9 cups brown sugar
- 4 tblsp. prepared mustard
- 2½ cups vinegar

Combine ingredients and pour sauce over balls. Bake an additional 1½ hours in low oven. Heat pineapple slices and put meat balls on top just before serving.

CHICKEN BARBECUE FOR CROWD

- 6-8 whole fryers
- 1 cup bottled barbecue sauce
- 1 cup catsup
- ¼ cup soy sauce
- 1 tblsp. liquid smoke
- 3 tblsp. worcestershire sauce
- 2 cloves garlic, crushed
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- ⅓ cup brown sugar

The day before, place the whole fryers on a large baking sheet. Brush well with melted butter or margarine, inside and out. Bake at 325 degrees 45 minutes or until done. When cool, cut into serving pieces, dip in sauce and pack in a bowl overnight to marinate. The next day, grill chicken pieces over moderately hot coals until thoroughly heated and nicely browned. In 15 minutes you have enough barbecued chicken to feed 20 people. Same procedure and sauce good for lamb breast too.

CLUB CHERRY-PINEAPPLE DESSERT

- 1 No. 2 can pitted red cherries
- 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple
- ¼ cup cornstarch
- 1 cup sugar

Red food coloring

Crust

- 1 cup wheat cereal flakes
- 1 cup brown sugar
- ¾ cup melted butter
- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- ½ tsp. salt
- 1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats

For filling drain cherries and pineapple thoroughly. Combine the juices in saucepan and bring to a boil. Combine cornstarch and sugar and add gradually to juices, stirring. Cook, stirring, until juices thicken and clear, then add cherries and pineapple. Remove from heat and stir in a few drops red coloring. For crust, sift flour, soda and salt into bowl. Add cereals and sugar, then add butter and mix to a crumbly texture. Press half of crumbs into bottom of 9x13 inch pan. Cover with cherry - pineapple mixture and top with remaining crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees 20 minutes. Cut into squares and serve plain or top with whipped cream or ice cream. Serves 12.

MEAL IN ONE BUNS

- 1 med. onion
- 2 green peppers
- 2 lbs. tillamook cheese, grated
- 1 7½-oz. can chopped ripe olives
- ⅔ cup chili sauce
- ½ cup salad oil
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. ground black pepper
- 24 large French rolls

Cut top from rolls and scoop out the inside of rolls. Cut rolls so there is more bread at bottom than top so the cheese will stay inside when melted. Grind the onion and bell peppers in food chopper. Grate cheese. Mix in large bowl the onion, peppers, cheese, olives, chili sauce, salad oil, salt and pepper. Fill the rolls with the cheese mixture, place the tops on each roll and then wrap each in foil. Place in upright position on oven grate in 325 degree oven and bake 20-25 minutes. Yields 24 cheese buns.

AUSTRIAN RAVIOLA

- 2 lbs. diced bacon
- 2 lbs. sliced onions
- 2 cups chopped green peppers
- 6 lbs. ground beef
- ⅓ cup salt
- 7 cups macaroni
- ½ tsp. pepper
- 1½ qts. canned tomatoes
- 1 qt. condensed tomato soup
- 5 lbs. frozen peas

Fry bacon until brown, pour fat into baking pans then put in vegetables, meat and seasoning. Brown on top of range, reduce heat, simmer one hour, stirring frequently. Cook and drain macaroni. Add tomatoes and soup to meat mixture then add to macaroni. Cook peas and add them with the bacon to mixture just before serving. Serves 55.

So They Gave Each Other a House

By STELLA GEORGE

—Staff Photos by CURT JOHNSON

Treasures acquired in many world travels were worked into the very design of the new home of Mr. and Mrs. John Page—a home they gave each other as an anniversary gift. Above, living room view.

AS A WEDDING anniversary present, Mr. and Mrs. John Page, 4112 Country Club Drive, decided to give themselves a new home. Architect Richard Prior designed the house to luxurious and, at the same time, comfortable and functional living.

The residence is a tri-level. Steps lead to the front doors which open to the main living quarters which are on the second floor level. The doors open to a large entrance hall which might almost be called a foyer, with a floor of terrazo. Built-in planters with hanging lights above are on either side of the front doors. Straight ahead is a long, low chest with a mirror above. A hallway to the kitchen is to the left, stairways up and down to the right, and to the front left access is to the living room.

In their many world travels, the Pages have acquired many treasures from foreign countries. Prior designed the home to house these treasures in a most pleasing manner.

AT ONE END of the living room is a blue ice stone fireplace with a spinet piano at one side. Walnut paneling with shelves for knickknacks and cupboards below is at the other end. Filigreed sliding doors to the right can close off the dining room, if desired. Carpeting is blue-green, carried from the living room to the dining room, and is also used on the stairways leading to upper and lower levels.

The conversation grouping of the living room furniture is ideal. A champagne sofa faces twin sofas placed in an "L" fashion, meeting a drum table across the way. The coffee table in front of the long sofa, an object of conversation and admiration, came from China, as its intricate carving would indicate. The entire top of the oblong table is carved, telling a story with the raised wood figures. A glass top lends protection. Six small stools fit under the table, four customed to the corners and two fitting to the center.

DISHES BY MEN ONLY

JAMES R. HEAPS

(First Prize)

SHRIMP WITH CRAB SAUCE

- 3 lbs. jumbo shrimp
- 2 cans King crab meat (7½ oz. cans)
- 2 tblsp. water with chestnuts minced
- 2 tblsp. bamboo shoots minced
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 lg. cloves garlic crushed
- ½ tsp. white pepper
- 8 tblsp. corn oil
- 2 cups chicken broth
- 2 eggs
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch
- ½ cup water
- 4 tblsp. scallions chopped

Chop crab meat and mix with water chestnuts, bamboo shoots, salt and pepper. In large heavy skillet saute crushed garlic in hot oil over moderate flame for four minutes. Discard garlic and add the crab mixture, chicken broth and shrimp. Cover and cook over moderate flame for ten minutes. Beat eggs with a little of the pan juices and add, stirring over low flame for two minutes. Combine cornstarch and water and add, stirring constantly for two minutes longer. Add finely chopped scallions and serve immediately with rice. Serves 6.

(Second Prize)

MUSHROOM MEAT ROLL

- 1 lb. ground beef
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ lb. mushrooms, diced fine
- ¼ tsp. black pepper
- ¾ cup onions, diced fine
- ½ cup bread crumbs
- 1 8 oz. can tomato sauce
- 2 tsp. oregano
- 2 tsp. worcestershire sauce
- 4 slices bacon

Mix meat, bread crumbs, salt, pepper and half the onions with sufficient tomato sauce to roll out nicely. Roll out on board to a moderately thick cake. Mix mushrooms, remaining onions, oregano, worcestershire sauce and enough tomato sauce to spread easily. Spread this mix on the meat cake and roll up. Fold in ends and punch to seal. Place the roll in a pan, pour rest of tomato sauce over it and lay the strips of bacon across the roll. Bake in 350 degrees about 1 hour or until done. Slice and serve. Serves 4.

(Third Prize)

BARBECUED BEEF RIBS

- 6 lbs. beef cross ribs
- 1 tsp. salt
- ½ tsp. pepper

Sauce

- 1 6 oz. can frozen lemonade
- 1 small can crushed pineapple
- ½ cup brown sugar
- 2 tblsp. vinegar
- 2 tblsp. cornstarch

Place ribs in pan with enough water to reach up half way, add the salt and pepper and cover pan. Bring to a boil, lower flame and simmer half hour. Drain ribs, save broth for soup. Prepare the sauce and pour one half of sauce over hot ribs in pan. When ready to bake, remove each rib and place side by side in large flat baking pan which has been lined with foil. Take remaining sauce and add to sauce left in the pan in which the ribs were cooked. Add 2 tablespoons of cornstarch and cook for about 3 minutes until warm. Spread this sauce over the ribs for a nice glaze. Bake ribs 1 hour at 375 degrees.

BEEF N' BEAN DISH

- 2 cups dried red beans
- 6 cups cold water
- 2 tsp. salt
- 2½ lb. chuck roast
- 1 yellow pickled chile pepper

Rinse beans; add to cold water. Let stand overnight. Add 1 teaspoon salt to beans, cover and simmer for one hour. Put pot roast on top of beans; cover and simmer for 2½ hours or until tender. Last half hour of cooking add chile pepper, another teaspoon of salt and more water if needed to prevent sticking. Serves 8.

PORK CHOP CORDON BLEU

- 4 double center cut pork-chops
- 4 thin slices cooked ham
- 4 thin slices swiss cheese
- 4 tblsp. bacon drippings
- 1 cup Chablis
- Flour
- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup

With small knife make hole into the fat side of chops. Roll slice of ham and swiss cheese and force into hole. Dredge chops into seasoned flour and slowly fry in heavy skillet until nicely browned on both sides. Add wine, cover and bake in oven until tender. Add small amount of water if necessary. Remove chops and keep hot. Meantime, combine soup, 1 cup of cooking liquid (supplement with water if needed) and bring to a boil. Serve pork chops on heated plate with gravy as a side dish.

Looking across the dining room, the camera views a built-in sideboard, then the dinette area and, in the far background, a very modern kitchen.

TREASURED pieces, both ornamental and functional, have histories of their own. Even the acquisition of the pieces is a story in itself since they were brought from so many foreign places. Some of the treasures include vases from Iran; carved figures from Africa; a carved figure from Indonesia; a tiny bird cage with two "singing" birds from Switzerland; a small and delicate screen from Japan; Delft porcelain from Holland; a hanging lamp from Cairo. There are many more.

The dining room suite is Duncan Phyfe. The china cabinet against one wall is of great interest since Mrs. Page painted several of the plates, cups, and saucers.

A formal dining room is separated from a dinette by a built-in sideboard which has storage below, open space and an upper cabinet that runs the entire width facing the dining room. The open space can be shut off with sliding doors above the buffet counter when desired.

THE DINETTE is separated from the kitchen with a low, tiled counter which has a stove in the center and work areas on either side. Counters and appliances are turquoise; papered areas of the wall are blue and green. Floor-to-ceiling walnut doors in the dinette open to movable shelves which provide storage for glassware, china, vases, candle holders, trays, and other miscellaneous items. A walk-in pantry is useful.

At the head of the stairs, walnut paneling lends charm. Practically speaking, there is a floor to ceiling cupboard for linen storage at this strategic place. A thick, white carpet in the hallway leads to the master bedroom suite. Accessories include pieces such as a marble table inlaid with semi-precious stones, a carved chest, avocado colored hanging lamps. Beyond the adjoining dressing room is the bath with a large pink bathtub at the far end. A shelf above the tub is adorned with pink flower bouquets and other carefully selected pieces.

NO PROBLEM presents itself when children and grandchildren come to visit. Downstairs there is a large bedroom with a private bath, also a large den-bedroom with a private bath.

The service porch, with all washing and ironing facilities is about the size of many kitchens. Nearby, a powder room is convenient for guests. Carpeting in this room is royal blue wool turf, rich and luxurious. The appointments are blue, wallpaper blue and gold.

A reverse view of the area pictured at top of the page, showing ample cupboard and drawer installations that service the convenient kitchen.

BOOK REVIEWS

Writing Our Big Achievement

By VERA WILLIAMS
Southland Magazine Book Editor

IF YOU'RE feeling down in the dumps because you think the computer is beginning to dwarf homo sapiens, go up to the nearest brain machine and ask it what its breed has done remotely comparable to the invention of writing. J. Hambleton Ober, in "WRITING: MAN'S GREAT INVENTION" (Obolensky $7.50) makes you feel proud of being a member, however humble, of the human race.

Ober traces our alphabet to the remote age when pictures of things and of ideas were man's only records. His book is more than generous with illustrations of what he's talking about.

"Never," he writes, "was there a first man who could sit down and say: 'Now I am going to write.' That supreme achievement of man was the result of a slow and natural development over thousands of years."

Even the word alphabet itself "betrays its pictorial origin, for it is nothing more than a combination of the names of the first two letters in the ancient Greek alphabet, alpha and beta, which come from the Semitic letters aleph and beth. Aleph means ox "—in other words our letter a, which is a descendant of alpha and aleph, was at first the drawing of an ox's head."

And beta? The Semitic beth, ancestor of our b, was originally the drawing of a house. So you see how fascinating the story of writing can be, and J. Hambleton Ober's style and the drawings in the book make it doubly so.

ON THE DUST jacket of "CHARLES DARWIN AND HIS WORLD" (Viking, ($6.50) by Julian Huxley and H.B.D. Kettlewell, the great scientist stares with purposeful eyes over full flowing beard. Just as his worshipers swear by Mohammed's beard, so do Darwin's admirers (and who, at this late date, is not one of them?) swear by the prophet of evolution.

The co-authors of this book are Julian Huxley, a grandson of Darwin, and the noted genetecist Kettlewell. They offer a study of Darwin — man and ideas — that is actually exciting because it evokes the scientific battle that saw the theory of evolution through to acceptance. Sketches from Darwin's papers, living, breathing portraits of the men in both corners of the ring for and against Darwin's theories, contemporary cartoons make the book a lively one.

Dr. Kettlewell prepared for the book with a visit to the places Darwin saw in the famed voyage of HMS Beagle and thus the book makes us feel we too are accompanying Darwin on that expedition. You are truly there when you read this book.

WANT TO adopt a baby? Be careful when you are interviewed: Say "We" not "I"; indicate that you get on well with relatives but make it plain you aren't dependent on them; recognize illegitimacy but neither condemn nor condone it. Practical advice is offered in "ADOPTING A BABY TODAY" by Rael Jean Isaac and Joseph Spencer, legal consultant (Day, $5.95).

THOSE EARLY daredevil hot-rodders of the sky, who bounced about the country in their vagabond flying circuses after World War I, contributed little to aviation science but provided unmatched excitement, in their claptrap planes, to a thrill-hungry era. Until the government stepped in with safety rules to protect both fliers and spectators.

Martin Caidin, renowned authority on aviation and author of 53 books, recreates the exploits of the great—and often suicidal—stunt fliers in the documentary "BARNSTORMING" (Duell, Sloan and Pearce, $5.95).

War aces, unwilling to adjust to routine peace life, got surplus Jennies and performed or gave rides wherever they could find anyone willing to pay. They formed gypsy-like troupes, looping, skimming trees and ground, their stunt men walking wings or switching planes in mid-air. Many were killed (especially the bat men), some fliers crashing into audiences.

Before he flew the U.S. mail, Charles Lindbergh was one of the barnstormers, forerunners to today's much-better-paid skydivers, and the daredevils who ride rocketed capsules into outer space.

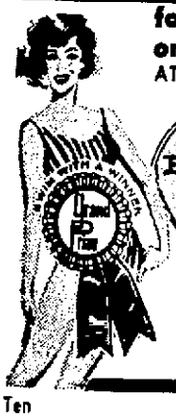

EVAN CONNELL, editor of the literary magazine Contact, has an extraordinary diversity of talent and interests. "AT THE CROSSROADS" (Simon and Schuster, $5.50) brings together the most recent of his short stories, ranging from tragedy to high farce. There are fine stories about Muhlbach, whose life is dislocated by the death of his wife, and stories about Leon and Bebert, two talkative young men who substitute intense conversation about life for life itself.

MARTHA GRAHAM walks through the streets of Rome, going about her job at an American agency, haunted by the enigmatic spectre of her ex-husband. Constantly apprehensive, as if pursued by him, she takes a group of tourists to Venice, where she meets Jim Wilbourne and falls in love —a love touched by fear, sadness and loss. For in the midst of what could be happiness, she still lives with the pervasive phantom of the man she loved. Was Gordon really the man she imagines? The reader can decide. A sensitive novel, "KNIGHTS AND DRAGONS" by a sensitive writer, Elizabeth Spencer (McGraw-Hill, $3.95.)

Recipe of the Week

FLAVORFUL walnuts are featured in a recipe submitted by Mrs. Esther H. Lenllen, Box 1191, Oakland, Calif. 94604, who wins $5 for her suggestion. The recipe:

Walnut Snacks

1 med. pkg. cream cheese
¼ cup ripe olives, finely chopped
½ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. paprika
½ tsp. worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. grated or minced onion (optional)
Walnut halves

Cream the cheese until light and fluffy; blend in the olives, seasonings, onion if used, then shape with the hands into balls. Roll in the cracker crumbs then place between two walnut halves, pressing together slightly to hold. Chill until ready to serve.

What's your favorite recipe? For each recipe published in this space, Southland will pay $5. Men are urged to submit their recipe along with the ladies. Send yours, with name and address to Recipe Contest Editor, Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801.

COIN ROUNDUP

$5 for Nickels

By Maurice M. Gould

PROBABLY the most famous coin counterfeiter of all times was Josh Tatum, who, with the aid of a jeweler friend, gold-plated the 1883 Liberty Nickels and was able to pass them off as $5 gold pieces, since the original had the same appearance and size of this piece.

His scheme was to buy a five-cent item in a store, hand the merchant the "gold piece," and then accept the $4.95 in change which the merchant invariably gave him.

When Tatum was taken into court for fraud, the charges against him were dismissed because he had never asked for change. And it was because of his antics that the government changed the reverse of the nickel and replaced E PLURIBUS UNUM with the word CENTS.

Tatum made approximately $15,000 through this scheme—equivalent to quite a fortune during this period.

Replica of ancient coin of Cleopatra.

The coins are all replicas, and each one comes with the history and background of the particular item.

Among the pieces are the ancient Egyptian coin of Cleopatra, Denarius of Marc Anthony, shekel of Tyre, Netherlands Siege coin, a two "real" Spanish piece of the Ferdinand and Isabella period, and others.

The purpose of this promotion was to dramatize the economy of a new product, which has just been marketed by the company.

The coins have received an excellent reception among the physicians, many of whom are coin collectors. A collection of this type will be of interest even to the novice, and if you mention your interest in coin collecting, no doubt your doctor will bring forth this interesting series for you to see.

And if he doesn't collect coins, why not express your interest in them?

ONE OF THE most important methods of collecting U. S. coins is by way of a Type Collection. This has become extremely popular due to the substantial cost of completing sets of dates and mintmark coins.

Type collecting consists of getting representative coins in the nicest condition possible, such as an Indian Cent, Lincoln Cent, Two-Cent Piece, Three-Cent Piece (silver) and (nickel), etc. A type set is both historical and informative, and shows the entire history of coinage of the United States.

As more and more of these coins go into permanent collections, they will be increasingly difficult to obtain and will show a steady rise in value. They are the finest potential for a well-rounded investment, as well as the real pleasure of numismatics.

One of each of the U. S. type commemorative fifty-cent pieces fit into this category, and make for a beautiful, historical collection.

An example of collecting types in the U. S. large cent category would be 1793, Chain Type; 1793, Wreath Type; 1793, Strawberry Leaf; 1793 to 1796, Liberty Cap; 1796 to 1807, Draped Bust, and many others in this important series.

STUFFED FILETS OF SOLE

- 2 tblsp. butter
- 2 4½ oz. cans shrimp, drained
- 1 4 oz. can mushroom, chopped and drained
- 1 lg. onion minced
- 2 tblsp. snipped parsley
- 8 filets of sole (about 3 lbs.)
- ½ tsp. salt
- Pepper and paprika
- 2 cans of mushroom soup undiluted
- ¼ cup water
- ⅓ cup sherry
- ½ cup grated cheddar cheese

In hot butter in skillet, saute canned shrimp, mushrooms, onion and parsley until onion is soft. Sprinkle both sides of each fish filet with salt, pepper and paprika. Onto one end of each filet, spoon some of the onion mixture, then roll up filet, fastening with toothpick. Place filets in 12x8x2 baking dish. In medium bowl, combine cream of mushroom soup, water and sherry; pour over filets; sprinkle with grated cheese and refrigerate for several hours. Bake at 400° about 30 minutes or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Serves 4-6.

Holiday Barbecue

WHAT could be nicer for the long holiday than fun-in-the-sun, and a barbecue.

And what better menu would you want than Barbecued Chicken, with Pineapple Relish, Garden Potato Salad, Foil-Roasted Corn, and Iced Tea.

The recipes:

Juiciest Barbecued Chicken

3 broiler-fryer chickens, halved
3 teaspoons Ac'cent
Salt and pepper
¼ cup butter
¼ cup catchup
¼ cup lemon juice
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Sprinkle each chicken with 1 teaspoon Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Melt butter in saucepan; stir in remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil. Place chicken, skin side up, on grate; brush with sauce. Cook until tender, over medium heat with hood up, turning and brushing occasionally. Allow 45 minutes to 1¼ hours total cooking time, depending on weight of chicken and distance from heat. To test for doneness, leg should twist easily out of thigh joint and pieces should be fork tender. Yield: 6 servings.

ORANGE NUT BREAD

1½ cups brown sugar
1½ cups granulated sugar
3 cups thick sour cream
3 eggs
1 tblsp. soda
3 cups chopped pecans
3 tsp. grated orange rind
6 cups flour, sifted
1½ tsp. salt

Sift together the flour, salt, soda and sugars. Add chopped nuts, grated orange peel, well beaten eggs and sour cream. Pour into 3 loaf pans and bake in 400° oven 45 minutes. Three loaves, cut 16 pieces each.

HERBED CORN BREAD

1½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 tblsp. sugar
4 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1½ cups corn meal
1½ cup chopped celery
1 envelope of dehydrated onion soup mix
2 tsp. sage
1 tsp. thyme
3 eggs, beaten
1½ cups milk
⅓ cup vegetable oil

Heat oven to 400°. Grease 13x9x2 pan. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt into bowl. Add cornmeal, celery, soup mix, sage, thyme and mix thoroughly. Combine eggs, milk and oil. Stir into dry ingredients and mix well. Turn into pan and bake 35-40 minutes. Cut into squares. Serves 12.

OYSTER DRESSING

⅜ cup butter or margarine
1 lg. onion, chopped
½ cup celery, chopped
1 tblsp. parsley flakes
¾ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
½ tsp. sage
1½ qts. bread crumbs
1 pt. oysters chopped and the liquid

Melt the butter in a large skillet and add the other ingredients including the bread crumbs. Mix thoroughly then add the chopped oysters and the liquid. If frozen oysters are used, boil gently half hour in their own liquid before adding to dressing. This makes enough to stuff a small turkey.

CORNBREAD SAUSAGE SCRAMBLE

1 lg. bulk pork sausage
1 egg
1 cup milk
1¼ cups coinbread mix

Place the sausage in a heavy skillet. Cook over medium heat until lightly browned, stirring with a fork to break up the meat. Drain the fat from the sausage as it browns and when meat is done drain on a paper towel. Combine in a bowl the egg, well beaten, and the milk. Mix well and add the cornbread mix. Blend until smooth. Return the browned sausage to the skillet and pour the mixture over it. Cook over high heat until golden brown, stirring frequently. When the cornbread mixture clings to the sausage and becomes somewhat done and quite lumpy, cover and reduce heat to low. Cook five minutes longer. Turn out on a serving plate and serve with warm maple syrup. Serves 3.

Baldness Is Not Hereditary, Says Scalp Specialist

Offers Free Examination and $2.00 Trial
Treatment to Demonstrate Amazing New Methods
(Next 8 Days Only)

How dandruff and a tight scalp can cause hair loss is explained by Trichologist S. I. Turoff. Turoff directs the large organization of Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts.

"You will find no medical proof for the popular belief that baldness is actually hereditary," says S. I. Turoff, Chief Trichologist of the Turoff Hair and Scalp Experts, when interviewed recently. "If this belief were true, why would a person start to lose hair rapidly, say at the age of 30? Why did the loss start then, rather than sooner or later? You started losing hair at that particular time because some scalp disorder or systemic trouble was added to your inherited weakness.

Why Does Baldness Start on Top?

"Another question put to me very often is, 'Why does baldness start on top?' The reason for that is the crown of your head simply does not enjoy the same vigorous blood circulation as the sides. You get older, scalp tensions increase, dandruff and foreign matter pack the shrinking hair follicles—and your hair roots actually 'starve' for lack of blood."

Combining the knowledge of eminent scientific authority with new and startling discoveries, S. I. Turoff and his staff of highly experienced trichologists have developed a special treatment to normalize scalp tension, falling hair, dandruff, itchy scalp and thinning hair. These may be Nature's danger signals for oncoming baldness. Biochemistry, electrotherapy, physiotherapy, together with Turoff exclusive formula help restore your scalp to health and vitality.

Trichologist Turoff went on to say, "No matter what stage of baldness you have reached, your hair can be regrown if the roots are not dead.

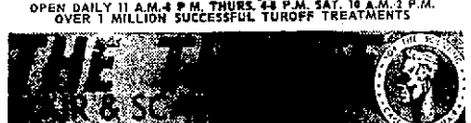

"Professional examination of your scalp is the first step toward a healthy head of hair. Turoff trichologists do not prescribe treatment until such an examination has been made, nor will they prescribe treatment for systemic cases that cannot be benefitted. Every scalp is an individual problem requiring special medication.

"We have found that because approaching baldness DOES NOT PAIN, people who are in urgent need of treatment are prone to keep putting it off until it is too late. To reach those people quickly, we are making a special offer all this week.

Money-Back Guarantee and $2.00 Trial Visit This Week

"If the free examination shows you can be helped, you can receive your first four Turoff Treatments on a money back guarantee all this week. If you decide to undertake treatment, your first treatment will cost simply $2.00. You are guaranteed satisfaction on or about your fourth treatment or your money will be refunded in full."

The Dodger Who Pitches 1,000 Times a Week

By JEROME HALL

BEFORE the bulk of the crowd at Dodger Stadium has settled into the seats, long before the umpire calls "Play Ball," Carroll Beringer, a Dodger pitcher, has done his work.

Beringer, unknown to most fans—even the most ardent rooters—is the Dodgers' starting pitcher every game, the busiest man on the team, the man who pitches 1,000 times a week.

Beringer is the Dodgers' batting practice pitcher.

Most baseball fans, asked the ingredients that make up a winning team, would toll off (a) Pitching, (b) Hitting, (c) managerial effectiveness and go on to list speed, defense, desire, incentive, teamwork. But it isn't likely the expert in the grandstand, the armchair manager, would put on that list a batting practice pitcher.

BUT BERINGER, called "C.B." by the players, belongs high on the list, in the estimation of players, coaches and Dodger manager Walter Alston.

Says Alston: "C.B. probably does more physical work than anybody else on this club."

Says first baseman-outfielder Ron Fairly: "It's an important job, but not many realize that. C.B. does it the way it should be done. A bad batting practice pitcher can hurt a ball club and a good one can be a big help."

In a day of specialization and highbrow appellation (groundskeepers are called "field engineers" and ticket-takers are "traffic control specialists") the batting practice pitcher has been elevated from the depths to a place of importance.

WHILE MOST major league teams now have full-time batting practice pitchers, none, perhaps, are held in quite the high regard of the Dodgers'. When the team won the 1963 World Series, Beringer was voted a full share of the Series payoff by his teammates, the first time a batting practice pitcher ever was so rewarded.

Dodger field captain Maury Wills is another Beringer booster. "Hitting practice is the most important part of the warmup," Wills points out, "and time is quite limited." For home games the Dodgers get nearly two hours and Beringer has the help of former Coast League stars Clarence Maddern and George Vico, but when on the road trips the job falls to Beringer alone.

Beringer throws about 160 pitches in 25 minutes (6 or 7 days a week) which is about 40 more than the Dodgers' starting pitcher will throw even if he lasts the entire nine innings. "And C.B. doesn't just throw up fat pitches, either," injects Alston. "He was a pretty good pitcher in his own right a few years ago and he can give the hitters any kind of pitch they want to work on. He has the kind of stuff, curves, change-ups, fast balls—to make batting practice worth something more than just swing practice."

MOST ALL teams' batting practice pitchers are former moundsmen. (Beringer was in the Dodgers' minor league system from his signing out of high school in 1946 until he joined the parent team in his present capacity in 1961.)

Fairly recalls some of the past Dodger batting practice pitchers with a smile and a snicker—one in particular. "It was while we were playing at the Coliseum," says the Long Beach-reared Fairly, one of the major reasons the Dodgers have been a pennant contender this season. "We had a practice pitcher who couldn't remember he was on our side and he couldn't forget the days when he hated anybody swinging a bat.

"He used to move the ball around a lot, pitching to spots like he was trying to strike you out. If you wanted to hit some curve balls, he'd try to sneak some fast ones by. And if you hit one over the fence on him, he'd like as not throw one at your head the next pitch. Every day was a new challenge with him. I'll say one thing for him, he made some of the ball games seem anti-climactic."

BERINGER'S status has been lifted even beyond the lofty position of the modern-day batting practice pitcher. This season he was named bullpen coach, in charge of getting relief pichers ready to put out the fire, as they say on the sports pages.

"He's been a big help to us there, too," says Alston, "because I don't have to worry about having somebody ready." Beringer follows the game closely from his perch some 370 feet from home plate beside the left field bleachers. He knows when its time to warm up a reliefer.

Beringer plays as much of a chess game with his men as Alston does with the Dodgers on the field and in the dugout, though the results are never as apparent. Beringer has to decide how many warmup pitches a reliefer should throw before his entry into the game. Unless, of course, the entry is under emergency conditions.

Ron Perranoski, for instance, "needs only four or five pitches to get ready, and the same goes for (Bob) Miller," explains Beringer. Howie Reed and Jim Brewer, other mainstays of the bullpen, need longer. "A lot of relief pitchers leave their best stuff in the bullpen if they throw too many pitches out there," says Beringer. "Some games are on the edge of trouble all the way through and the guy who has been designated the No. 1 reliefer that night could throw almost as many pitches as the fellow who's out

"SILLY CAKE"

1½ cups sifted flour
3 tblsp. cocoa
1 tsp. soda
1 cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
5 tblsp. cooking oil
1 tblsp. vinegar
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup water (cold)

Put sifted flour back into sifter, add to it the cocoa, soda, sugar and salt and sift this right into a greased square cake pan, about 9x9x2. Make 3 holes in the dry mixture. Into one, pour the oil, into the next the vinegar, into the next, the vanilla. Pour the cold water over it all. Beat mixture with a spoon and beat it until smooth and the flour has been absorbed. Bake at 350 degrees 30 minutes.

HORNS OF PLENTY

5 tblsp. powdered sugar
2½ tblsp. flour
2 eggs plus 1 egg yolk
2 cups heavy cream beaten until stiff
5½ tblsp. sugar
1½ tsp. almond flavoring

Beat the powdered sugar, flour, eggs and egg yolk with a rotary beater until thick and lemon colored. Grease and warm a baking sheet and drop mixture by teaspoon onto it. Spread each to a diameter of 2 inches and bake at 400° 4-5 minutes. Remove from sheet while hot and immediately roll into horns. Cool and fill with almond-flavored whipped cream. Makes 50 horns.

CLOWN LUNCHEON PLATE

3 eggs, hard boiled
3 med. tomatoes, halved
6 slices of celery
6 olives
6 pickles, sweet gherkin
3 slices bread
3 slices luncheon meat
2 carrots, finely grated
6 cloves
Marischino cherry

Slice eggs in half and place cut side down on plate. Use grated carrot surrounding the egg (head) for orange hair, 2 cloves form the eyes, a single piece of grated carrot is the nose and a slice of the cherry forms the smiling mouth.

Slice tomato in half and place cut side down on plate below egg, to form the body of the clown. Cut celery sticks into appropriate lengths and stick end of celery into stuffed olive for each arm and hand. Make open face sandwich of bread and luncheon meat and cut into strips for legs. Attach gherkin with toothpick to represent large shoes. Serves 6 delighted children.

Murieta Returns

MURIETA'S marauders thundered down from the Northern California hills to plunder and pillage their way into legend. The hectic story of the audacious Mexican bandit chief, Joaquin Murieta, who vowed personal vengeance on the rapacious adventurers who invaded the territory during the 1849 Gold Rush, is recounted in Warner Bros.' western motion picture adventure drama, "Murieta."

Jeffrey Hunter stars as Murieta; Arthur Kennedy portrays the American marshal who pursues him; Diana Lorys and Sara Lezana play the two women in Murieta's life. George Sherman directed "Murieta," which was filmed in wide-screen Eastmancolor from a screenplay by James O'Hanlon.

With "Murieta," Hunter returns to Warner Bros., where he recently starred in "Brainstorm."

Kennedy, who made his screen debut in 1940 as James Cagney's brother in Warner Bros.' "City for Conquest," has five Academy Award nominations to his credit. They include "Champion," "Trial," "Bright Victory," "Peyton Place," and "Some Came Running." He most recently was seen in "Cheyenne Autumn" for Warner Bros.

Hunter and Kennedy combine their talents in "Murieta" to etch vibrant character studies — Hunter as a man hounded into crime; Kennedy as the lawman who, while understanding the motives, must still pursue the bandit chief.

Director Sherman adds "Murieta" to his long list of western adventure films, including "Comanche Territory," "Battle at Apache Pass," "Chief Crazy Horse," "Border River" and "Treasure of Pancho Villa."

Arthur Kennedy portrays a territorial marshal who pursues Murieta in western movie.

Blood Loss Cited

By Ben Zinser

Southland Magazine Medical-Science Writer

A DROP attack—a sudden, abrupt fall that occurs without warning—is probably caused by a temporary lack of blood in the lower part of the brain stem, two doctors report in Archives of Neurology.

In a typical drop attack, there is a sudden loss of strength in the legs, and the victim tumbles to the floor. There is no alteration of consciousness, and vision, hearing and speech remain intact. Once the fall has occurred, the patient is able to get up alone and continue his previous activity.

Drs. Mark J. Kubala and Clark H. Millikan of the Mayo Clinic studied 29 cases of drop attack and found that about one-third were caused by sudden neck motions. In these instances, they say, subsequent attacks may be prevented if the patient wears a cervical collar.

THE TRANQUILIZING drug Librium appears to be the best medication for the management of the acute phase of alcohol withdrawal, two researchers report in the Quarterly Journal of Medicine.

The drug reduces agitation and tremor, relaxes muscles and makes essential rest and nourishment possible. Its anticonvulsive effect also inhibits seizures.

The researchers say the drug Sparine produces good to excellent results in 70% of patients. It acts more rapidly than Librium, reducing confusion, drowsiness and lack of muscular coordination. But it does not protect against convulsive seizures.

CERTAIN copper smelter workers are chronically exposed to arsenic trioxide, released when the ore is roasted at one stage of the smelting process. Scientists have long wondered if such exposure might not play a role in the development of cancer or heart disease.

It turns out that such exposure to the arsenic compound is so small, even over a long period of years, that it has no adverse effect.

The finding is that of Dr. Sherman S. Pinto, medical director of the American Smelting & Refining Co., Tacoma, Wash., and Dr. B. M. Bennett, assistant professor of the department of preventive medicine at the University of Washington, Seattle.

They analyzed the medical records of all active smelter workers and pensioners for the company who died between 1946 and 1960. There were 229 deaths during that time. The study showed no evidence that arsenic caused either internal cancer or fatal heart disease. The report is in Archives of Environmental Health.

WHEN FUMES of a fishing trawler's refrigeration system leaked into the forecastle, methyl chloride poisoning developed in the crew of 15, reports Nordisk Medicin, a medical journal published in Stockholm.

One patient died in the acute phase of poisoning. Mental depression developed in three, leading to suicide for two. Personality changes developed in four. Four of the men still complain of fatigue, profuse perspiration and tremor on exertion. One has been partly incapacitated by muscular atrophy (wasting). Fatigue and mental depression have caused 75% disablement in another.

(This column frequently reports advances in medical research and opinions of medical authorities not yet accepted in general practice.)

MOCHA DIVINITY FROSTING

- ⅓ cup dark brown sugar, packed
- ⅓ cup granulated sugar
- 3 tblsp. strong black coffee
- ½ cup dark corn syrup
- 2 egg whites
- 1 cup confectioners powdered sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla

Combine sugars and corn syrup in sauce pan. Bring to boil and cook for 6-8 minutes until the syrup spins a thread or 242°. Syrup will be quite thick and bubbly. Beat egg whites until stiff enough to hold a peak. Pour hot syrup slowly in a thin stream into egg whites beating constantly. Add powdered sugar and beat until smooth. Add vanilla and beat until icing holds its shape. This makes enough frosting to cover sides and top of 9x14 loaf or fill and frost two 9" layers.

IN MEMORY OF FORMER GLORY

Drum Barracks to Live Again

By Isabel Dunwoody

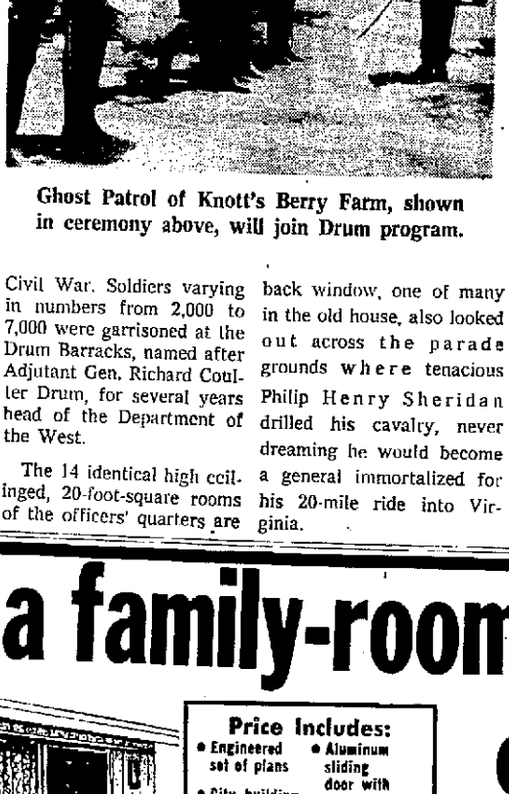

FOR MOST who pass the old white, clapboard house at 1053 Cary St., Wilmington, it is just another two-story home, set apart, perhaps, because it is dresed with faded blue-green shutters. It is much more than that, though. The Williamsburg-type building is all that remains of what was once the Drum Barracks of Civil War days in California.

If nothing is done, the Drum Barracks will be demolished — ripped down to make way for a high rise apartment. But there are those who would save it. The dedicated Society for the Preservation of the Drum Barracks is trying hurriedly to raise $100,000 to insure that the building will be preserved as a historical monument.

As part of the society's effort, once again the clatter of horses' hoofs, tinkle of camel bells, sound of bugles and footsteps of a ghost cavalry will echo in and around the historic building. In a day-long ceremony, Sept. 11 and 12, the Ghost Patrol from Knott's Berry Farm will hold forth at the Barracks in an effort to alert Southland residents to the need for its preservation.

A WRECKING permit has been issued for destruction of the building. The society which would save it has won a brief reprieve to muster the $100,000 needed to buy and restore the old structure.

Southland visitors, even many West Coast citizens, are surprised to learn that the Civil War was actually at our doorstep. The issue of slavery was made clear by California when its terms of admission to the Union prohibited slavery, so it wasn't surprising that about 15,000 eager men in California enlisted in the Union Army at the outbreak of the Civil War. Soldiers varying in numbers from 2,000 to 7,000 were garrisoned at the Drum Barracks, named after Adjutant Gen. Richard Coulter Drum, for several years head of the Department of the West.

Ghost Patrol of Knott's Berry Farm, shown in ceremony above, will join Drum program.

The 14 identical high ceilinged, 20-foot-square rooms of the officers' quarters are empty now, but at its height they buzzed with activity. Fires crackled in the four large wooden manteled fireplaces. Quartermaster Winfield Scott Hancock, in charge of the supply and recruiting station, might be receiving telegraphed orders from over the wires strung across a hook just outside the upstairs window. This back window, one of many in the old house, also looked out across the parade grounds where tenacious Philip Henry Sheridan drilled his cavalry, never dreaming he would become a general immortalized for his 20-mile ride into Virginia.

LIGHTED HALL candles might pick out the quick flash of Lt. Edwin Beal's scabbard as he climbed the steep mahogany ballustrade to meet dynamic Phineas Banning, dressed in his Union blue, gold braided uniform.

Land on which the million dollar barracks was built was sold to the Government for the consideration of $1. Material for the buildings, all but the Powder Magazine (at present a Fibber Magee closet in a private home) was shipped from Massachusetts, around the horn, through the harbor to Banning's wharves. The barracks helped to assure the future of Wilmington as a new port for Los Angeles.

Most of the eager young officers went on to Civil War glory, but for one, taps sounded early. The only official death in the Army Register from the adjutant general offices, lists him simply: "Died—1st Lt. John Fitz-Gerald, 2nd Artillery at Drum Barracks in Calif. April 21, 1870."

A small, huddled group of graves, under a marker, in the center of a Compton Cemetery and a single grave in Wilmington give mute proof that there were others.

For a few moments these soldiers, including a young bugler boy, will come alive when the Ghost Patrol walks in their footsteps during the two-day re-garrisoning.

UNDER THE expert command of First Lt. Dennis Hoggarth, these dedicated men of the re-created E. Troop, 7th U.S. Cavalry, Gen. Custer's old unit at the Little Big Horn, will furnish the opportunity to witness the entire curriculum of a century-old cavalry. It will begin with the formal Color Raising Ceremony at 10 o'clock, followed by both mounted and dismounted drills, ending at 6 o'clock with the awe inspiring Retreat Ceremony. They will be garbed in their Union Blue uniforms, as issued by the Federal Government, refashioned authentically to the Civil War period by Ghost Patrol members. On their belts they will wear a small leather ammunition bag, used to carry cap and ball loaders.

Drum Barracks once resounded to booted heels and bugles. A drive is under way to save it.

Sharing the limelight with cavalry horses will be camels brought from Indio. These "hump-backed horses" as some unhappy cavalrymen called them, were once a familiar sight ambling in and out of the barracks compound.

Joining ranks, for the Preservation of The Drum Barracks, will be the event's co-sponsors, the local historical society and the California History Commission, the latter appointed by Governor Brown, and many other interested persons.

Foot soldiers (volunteer canvassers) armed with containers resembling drums, will march in Long Beach, Wilmington and San Pedro.

Los Alamitos, a rancho bearing the spell of a quiet history itself, will have an "open house" to help raise funds for the barracks.

Curator William Evans has taken time from his restoration work on the old Los Cerritos Museum, to set up an outstanding Drum Barracks exhibit. Wade Katell's Long Beach Historical Society Docents, a group of devoted persons who take turns sitting in the host and hostess seats on visiting days at the ranch, will answer questions.

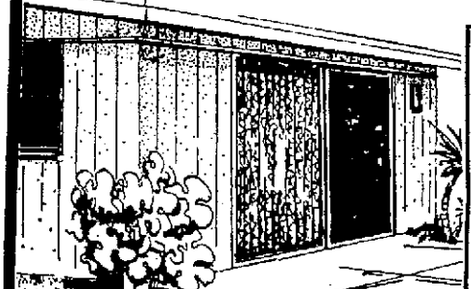

Aside from a dress ball which will liven the old ballroom of the Banning House on Saturday evening, all other events of the program will take place at the barracks.

The Fort MacArthur 72 U.S. Army Band will give a concert at 1 p.m. Saturday, followed at 2 p.m. by the formal dedication of a plaque. A barbecue is scheduled Sunday afternoon.

Then the "old house" will be empty again, with the sincere hope that it will soon become a national monument.

BLACK FIG JELLY

- 4 cups coarsely chopped figs (packed)
- 4½ cups water
- 1 box pectin
- ½ cup lemon juice
- 6 cups sugar

Combine the figs and water and bring to a boil and simmer gently an hour. Line a strainer with 3-4 thicknesses of cheese cloth and pour in figs. Allow to drip over large bowl. When fruit is cool enough, squeeze any juice from pulp. Makes 3¾ cups. Place in a large pan with the pectin and stir well. Add the lemon juice and bring quickly to a rolling boil. Add 6 cups of sugar and stir until dissolved. Continue cooking over high heat until it again reaches a rolling boil and covered with foam. Boil exactly 2 minutes. Remove pan from heat and let settle. Skim off foam and pour jelly into hot sterilized jars or glasses and seal. Makes 7 cups.

TOMATO MARMALADE

- 4 qts. peeled, chopped ripe tomatoes
- 6 cups peeled, chopped sour apples
- 4 lemons, quartered and sliced (not peeled)
- 1 lb. seedless raisins
- 1 oz. stick cinnamon
- 1 oz. whole cloves
- 4 tblsp. powdered ginger
- 4 lbs. sugar

Combine tomatoes, apples, lemons and raisins. Tie spices in cheesecloth and drop into tomato mixture. Bring to a boil then simmer until reduced one third (about 1 hour). Remove spice bag. Add sugar, continue to simmer until it jells when a spoonful is spread in a saucer (about 2½ hours). Seal at once in sterilized jars. Makes 6 pints.

UNCOOKED STRAWBERRY JAM

- 2 cups finely mashed strawberries
- 4 cups sugar
- 1 pkg. pectin powder
- ¾ cup cold water

Combine strawberries and sugar. Let stand 20 minutes. Stir often to dissolve sugar. Dissolve pectin powder in cold water. Then bring to a rapid boil over high heat. Boil 1 minute at full rolling boil. Then remove from heat and stir in berries. Stir constantly 2 minutes. Pour into freezer boxes or jars and let stand until jellied (about 24 hours). Store in freezer.

PLUM JELLY

- 5 lbs. ripe tart plums
- 1½ cups water
- 1 box (2½ oz) powdered fruit pectin
- 7½ cups sugar

Crush plums thoroughly, (do not peel or pit). Add water, bring to boil and simmer, covered 10 minutes. Put in jelly bag and squeeze out juice to make 5½ cups. Combine with pectin in kettle and mix well. Bring to hard boil over high heat, stirring. Add sugar. Again bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1 minute, stirring. Remove from heat, skim off foam and pour into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ⅛ inch hot melted parafin. Makes 12 6 oz. glasses.

WORKSHOP

Exercise the Fun Way

By Steve Ellingson

NEVER before has mankind known such mechanical marvels. Millions of push buttons save our time. Thousands of inventions save us work. The medical profession is prolonging life. But we're still operating with the same old "body model," it hasn't kept pace with our minds.

Every time we invent a new way to ride instead of using our legs, or an easier way to carry on a business sitting at a desk, or a new appliance to save homemakers from lifting and bending and stretching, we saddle our bodies with another handicap. We deprive ourselves of another source of exercise. It's no wonder that we become easily fatigued and worn out.

Of course, we could do calisthenics at home, but the very thought of it tires a person out. You already know why. Calisthenics are a bore. It's much easier when we can make a game out of our exercise. That's one of the reasons table tennis has become so very popular. It's not too strenuous, still it calls into action all of the body muscles.

THE TENNIS table shown here with actresses Carol Jean Lewis and Molly Bee is regulation size. When not in use, it may be folded to a mere 24 inches wide for storage. It's equipped with casters which make it easy to move. It may be used indoors in the winter and outside when the weather is good.

Building the table is no trick at all when you use the full size pattern. Just trace the pattern parts on wood, saw them out and put them together. Lots of pictures showing each step of construction are included with each pattern. Not expensive when you do-it-yourself.

To obtain the full size table tennis pattern No. 319, send $1 in currency, check or money order to Steve Ellingson, Southland Magazine Pattern Dept., Box 2383, Van Nuys, Calif. 91409.

Deep Watering

Late-planted annuals that seem to be standing still, growing little if at all, can be sparked into shooting upward and outward by a deep, slow watering.

Use a perforated hose or, better yet, a soil soaker. In areas where water is restricted to the evening hours, fill a soaker and let it water during the night.

Planting Tip

If you have annuals growing in your garden in areas where you expect to use other types of plants next year, be certain to keep the dead flowers cut off the annuals. This not only makes them produce more blooms but also insures that no seedlings will pop up next year to ruin a new color scheme.

Pineapple Relish

1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon ginger
⅛ teaspoon salt

Combine all ingredients. Place over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Boil 2 minutes.

Foil-Roasted Corn

Remove husks and silk from ears of corn. Place each ear on double thickness of aluminum foil. Dot with butter or margarine and sprinkle with Ac'cent, salt and pepper. Wrap in foil. Place on grill on medium heat and roast 20 to 25 minutes, turning 2 or 3 times. Note: If desired, corn may be cooked in boiling water. Use ½ teaspoon Ac'cent for each 4 ears.

Garden Potato Salad

3 pounds potatoes (8 cups diced)
6 whole scallions, sliced
1½ cups diagonally sliced celery
½ cup sliced radishes
1 teaspoon Ac'cent
2 teaspoons salt
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup sour cream
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 teaspoon dried dill weed
Chopped parsley

Cook potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and dice. Add scallions, celery and radishes; sprinkle with Ac'cent and salt. Blend together mayonnaise sour cream and prepared mustard; stir in vinegar and dill. Add to potato mixture. Mix carefully with a fork, being careful not to break potatoes. Chill. Turn into serving bowl; sprinkle with chopped parsley. YIELD: 6 to 8 generous servings.

CELERY NUT LOAF

- ½ cup sliced celery
- ½ small onion
- ¾ cup nutmeats
- ¾ cup tomato juice
- ½ tblsp. grated yellow cheese
- 1 tsp. vegetable salt
- 1 tblsp. vegetable oil
- ⅔ cup wholewheat bread crumbs or crumbled shredded wheat biscuit
- 2 fresh eggs, well beaten

Put the celery, onion, and nutmeats through the medium knife of a food grinder. Add all the ingredients except the eggs and mix well. Add the beaten eggs and mix in lightly. Pack into a loaf pan prepared with 2 teaspoons of vegetable oil and a thick layer of crumbs (2 or 3 tablespoons) evenly sprinkled on the bottom. Bake in 375° oven 35 minutes until thick enough to be turned out. Garnish with wedges of ripe tomato and a generous sprinkling of chopped parsley.

RUSSIAN LOW CALORIE SALAD AND DRESSING

Chop any kind of cold cooked meat (chicken is best) with equal parts of cold cooked fish. To this add cold boiled carrots, green beans, beets, chopped green onions and any other favorite vegetable. Mix two hard-boiled eggs and a little very fine chopped celery with the following dressing.

- 2 tblsp. vinegar
- Pinch of salt & paprika
- ¼ tsp. dry mustard
- 1 tsp. tomato catsup or worcestershire sauce

Combine ingredients and pour over the above salad.

HONEY RASPBERRY SHERBET

- 2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- ¼ cup cold water
- 1 qt. fresh or frozen red raspberries
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1¾ cup water
- ¾ cup honey
- 2 egg whites
- ⅛ tsp. salt

Soften the gelatin in the ¼ cup cold water. Press the berries through a sieve or ricer, or use blender. Add lemon juice to the berries and mix. Combine the water and the honey in a saucepan and boil 10 minutes. Remove from the heat and stir the soaked gelatin into this hot syrup to dissolve. Let the syrup cool. Add the sieved berries and mix to combine smoothly. Pour into refrigerator tray. Chill about half hour. Whip egg whites with the salt until stiff and they stand in peaks when the beater is withdrawn. Fold whites into the chilled berry mixture. Pour back into the refrigerator tray. Freeze half hour then beat well. Freeze three hours or more, beating the sherbet at half hour intervals. Beat again before serving. Serve it heaped in large wine glasses and garnish with a few whole berries and a mint leaf. Serves 5-6.

PET PARADE

You Must Train 'em Young

Training of large dogs, such as these Irish wolfhounds owned by the John Scheiner family of Woodland Hills, should be started early.

By Eleanor Avery Price

ARGUMENT often arises about the correct age at which to start a dog in an obedience class. Some say not before the dog is at least one year old. But, did you ever own a large, untrained dog of this age? If so, very likely you may have felt you should "get rid of it" before you had a lawsuit on your hands.

Look at it this way. A one year old dog is in age comparable to a 16-year-old human. Do you wait until a child is 16 before teaching him a few manners, to swim, play ball, ride a horse if his interest is in horses? Of course not. And he goes to school long before he is 16! (I graduated from high school at 16.) The novice obedience class is merely a dog's grade school.

You should start teaching a dog good manners as soon as you bring him home. And he can shortly learn to heel, sit, stay, and a few other lessons at an early age. Patience and kindness along with firmness are, of course, needed.

With cooler evenings on the way, and if your dog is 6 or 7 months old or older, you may find it a lot of fun to get out in the evening and go through his kind of grade school with him. If the puppy is shy or a biter, and you can find a trainer interested in him, the dog belongs out in a class even before 6 months. Training him may be his only chance, so don't fail him. Don't let him sit in the back yard or hide under beds. Get him out!

September usually has hot days, and the heat, with its intense sunlight, dry dust, and insects may give your pet eye trouble. There can be inflammation of the cornea, color part, or thin tissue lining of the eye and lid. A pet with sore eyes should be quickly isolated, and in a fairly dark, dustless place protected from flying insects.

A drop of mineral oil in each eye occasionally may help, or a boric acid solution of one teaspoon for eight ounces water. Methiolate eye salve is soothing, especially for what is called "dry eyes." And your veterinarian has at his disposal a number of eye medicines. He may also suggest cortisone and antibiotics. He may want to inject a special medical preparation under the lining of the eyelid, as this lasts longer than salve that washes quickly away in watering eyes. And only he can tell you if the condition is contagious to other animals and to humans.

SOUTHEAST Obedience Club has a licensed trial from 3 to 11 p.m. today at Lynwood City Park, Lynwood.

Western-Intra Valley Cat Clubs have a show at Rio Hondo Park, Pico Rivera, today and Monday.

Two events on Sept. 12 are; Northridge Obedience Club match at Northridge Park and German Shepherd Dog Club of Southern California match at Orcutt Park, Canoga Park. Los Angeles Poodle Obedience Club has a licensed show Saturday at Brookside Park Pasadena.

Reservoirs

time to drive the hydroelectric systems located along snow-fed waterways. The amount of snowmelt determines how much fuel the utility company will need for its electric steam stations, such as the Alamitos Station in Long Beach.

The farmer uses the snow survey information to determine what crops he will plant. Crops that require large quantities of water are planted when the snow survey indicates a bountiful crop of water. Conversely, in years when the forecast is for a short supply, the farmer sows fast-maturing crops or those which have smaller water requirements.

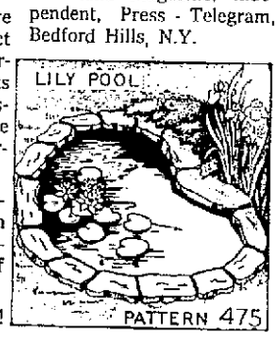

In Orange County, where the County Water District continually purchases surplus water to sink into its depleted underground basins, the district watches the results to plan for these purchases.

Nearly always 95% accurate, in 1956 the snowmen were a snowflake short—missing the actual yield of the melt by 1%.

And that's some snow job!

Gingersnap Crust

1¾ cups fine gingersnap crumbs (about 25 cookies)
½ cup soft butter or margarine

Blend together the crumbs and butter until mixture is crumbly. Lightly grease a 9" pyrex pie pan; press mixture on sides and bottom of the pan. Bake at 350° for 8 minutes. Cool.

Filling

1 cup canned pumpkin
2 pkgs. (10 oz. size) large marshmallows, quartered
1 tsp. cinnamon
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. rum extract
1 cup whipping cream

Cook in double boiler the pumpkin, marshmallows, cinnamon and salt until marshmallows are melted, stirring often. Cool thoroughly in refrigerator. Beat the chilled mixture with rum extract until smooth and creamy. Beat the whipping cream stiff, then fold into pumpkin mixture. Spoon into cold gingersnap crust. Refrigerate until set.

NO BAKE PEACH PIE

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
4 tblsp. corstarch
⅛ tblsp. salt
1 tblsp. butter
3-4 cups fresh peaches
Yellow food coloring
1 9" baked pie shell or graham cracker shell

In a saucepan, combine all ingredients except the food coloring and peaches. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear looking. While still hot, add a drop of food coloring, blend quickly and add the peaches immediately. Pour into the pie shell. Chill and serve topped with ice cream. Serves 8.

Butterscotch Rasin Cream

2¼ cups milk
¾ cup light brown sugar
3 level tblsp. cornstarch
3 eggs, separated
1 tblsp. butter
½ cup rasins
1 tblsp. vanilla
1 baked pie shell

Scald two cups of the milk in a double broiler. Mix the sugar with the cornstarch and moisten this mixture with remaining ¼ cup of milk. Beat egg yolks slightly and add to this mixture and blend. Pour this mixture into the scalded milk in double broiler, stirring constantly as it cooks until it is thick and smooth. Add rasins, butter and vanilla and remove from heat. Pour into pieshell, cover with meringue and brown in oven slightly. Serves 6 to 8.

FUDGE PIE
Crust

1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. salt
⅓ cup shortening
2 tblsp. butter
2 to 3 tblsp. water

Mix and line 8 inch pie pan. Bake at 450° 10-12 minutes.

Fudge Filling

1 pkg. 6 oz. semi-sweet chocolate chips
½ cup sugar
⅓ cup cream
2 tblsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites
1 cup whipping cream

In top of double broiler, put chocolate pieces, sugar, cream and butter and stir until mixture is smooth. Remove from heat, cool slightly, blend in egg yolks, one at a time and beat well. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in chocolate mixture, add vanilla. Spoon into cooled, baked pie shell. Whip cream, spread on. Chill 3-4 hours. Serves 8-12.

RHUBARB DESSERT

1 cup flour
½ cup margarine or butter
2 tblsp. sugar
Pinch of salt
2 cups sugar
4 egg yolks
4½ cups rhubarb, cut into small pieces
4 tblsp. flour
⅔ cup cream or milk
4 egg whites
4 tblsp. sugar

Combine first four ingredients and mix until you have small crumbs. Pat into 9x13 pan. Bake at 375 25 minutes or until brown. While this is baking, combine next five ingredients in a sauce pan. Cook about 10 minutes over medium heat, stirring to prevent sticking. Pour over baked crust. Top with meringue made from the egg whites and sugar. Return to oven 15 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned. Serves 12.

IT IS SAD, in a way, that the great philosophic poet Omar Khayyam lived and died long before the advent of pizza. Had he tasted this culinary gift from the Italians, he might have been tempted to write:

"A round of pizza, a jug of beer, and thou singing beside me in the wilderness . . ."

Admirers of the poet may never forgive me for paraphrasing his immortal words in that way, but Omar himself might, because he had a superb understanding of how well the flavors of certain foods and beverages go together. Such as pizza and light or dark beer. That combination is treasured by presidents, kings, queens, governors, secretaries, tightrope walkers and dog catchers—in addition, of course, to musicians and poets.

In short, everybody loves pizza, especially the way it's baked in super-hot ovens at Men-Ed's parlors, 4115 Paramount Blvd. near Carson Street, Lakewood. Operated by Bob Baldwin, a tallish, friendly chap who enjoys a thriving trade. Men-Ed's is a modern, immaculate, air-conditioned place designed like a public house in olde merry England. Open Sundays and holidays, it is a family restaurant with gleaming, varnished picnic benches where mom, dad and the kids can spread out while enjoying the pizza delicacies. The varieties, priced from $1.20 to $1.45, $2.40 and $3.50, include sausage, peperoni, salami, linguica, mushroom, beef and onions, and several others. All are topped with six kinds of delicious cheese. The crust, which has a nut-like flavor, is easily one of the very best I've ever encountered.

Milk and soft drinks are available for the children. Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights, the place hops, jumps and bounces to the music of pianist Dorothy Connors and banjoist Tommy Gripp.

SUNDAY TREATS — Although Nik's Coffee Shop and Viking Room will be closed Monday for Labor Day, they'll be open today and the rest of the week as usual, serving top notch foods at far less than top prices. Located at 3400 Cherry Ave and Wardlow Road, Nik's has an amazingly versatile menu which caters to appetites of all sizes and interests. You can dine in the coffee shop for as little as $1.25 or $1.40. Or enjoy a gourmet repast in the Viking Room with entrees in the $2 to $3 range.

YEAST BREADS
(Rolls, Coffee Cakes, Doughnuts)

(First Prize)
CROWN COFFEE CAKE

1 cup milk, scaled
⅓ cup shortening
¼ cup sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 cake compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
2 eggs, beaten
4 cups sifted flour

Add shortening, sugar and salt to hot milk. Cool to lukewarm. Crumble yeast in warm water. Let stand 5 minutes. Combine milk and yeast mixture. Add eggs and half of the flour. Beat well. Add remaining flour. Turn dough onto a lightly floured board, knead until smooth and elastic. Place the dough in a greased bowl, cover and let raise until double in bulk.

Then take:

½ cup butter
½ cup nut meats, chopped
¾ cup sugar
½ tsp. cinnamon
1 cup raisins

Roll the dough half inch thick and cut into strips half inch wide. Then cut into pieces the size of walnuts. Form into balls. Place small amount of the softened butter on fingertips and roll each ball in this butter. Then roll balls in the sugar mixed with cinnamon and nut meats. Butter a 9-in. tubed cake pan. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Place a layer of balls in the pan so they barely touch. Sprinkle with raisins and add another layer of balls. Proceed until all the dough has been used. Cover and let raise until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Bake in a 350° oven 35-40 minutes. Remove cake, cool on rack and spread with a thin frosting of:

1 cup confectioners sugar
3 tblsp. milk
½ tsp. vanilla

To serve, break apart. Do not cut.

(Second Prize)
BUTTERSCOTCH TEA CAKE

1½ cups warm water
2 pkgs. dry yeast
⅔ cup sugar
1½ tsp. salt
⅔ cups soft shortening or butter
2 large eggs
1½ cups lukewarm mashed potatoes (not instant)
7½ cups flour

In a warm bowl, dissolve the yeast in the warm water. Stir in the sugar, salt, shortening, eggs and potatoes. Mix well. Stir in two to three cups of flour, and mix well with a spoon. Add the remaining flour until the dough is not sticky and is easy to handle. Knead until smooth and elastic (about 10 minutes). Place in a buttered bowl and lightly butter the top of the dough.

Cover with a cloth and let rise in a warm place 1½-2 hours. Punch down, divide the dough in half and fashion each half into a tea cake. To do this, make small 1 inch balls of dough, roll them in a well buttered Angel Food cake pan which has the butterscotch spread evenly on the bottom. Place the balls of dough about an inch apart and continue this until all the dough has been used up. By the time all the dough balls are in the pan, they should be stacked on top of one another in an orderly fashion and they should come up about ¾ of the way up the side of the pan. Let rise (covered) in a warm place until the dough is slightly above the top of the pan. It should be very light and puffy in appearance.

Bake at 375° 20-25 minutes. When it comes out of the oven, invert it on a large plate so that the butterscotch mixture will run down the sides. While it is still very hot, sprinkle the nuts heavily on the top and a few down the sides.

Butterscotch Mixture

1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup soft butter
2½ tblsp. light corn syrup
2 tsp. vanilla

Mix all ingredients with a spoon and then beat with a mixer until light and fluffy. Spread in the bottom of a well-buttered angel food cakepan.

Cinnamon Mixture

½ cup sugar
2 tsp. cinnamon

If you are going to make two Tea Cakes from the recipe, double the recipe for the Butterscotch and cinnamon mixture.

SATURDAY NIGHT BUNS

3 tblsp. sugar
1 pkg. dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
½ tsp. salt
1 egg
⅓ cup shortening
1 cup milk
3¼ cups sifted flour
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
¾ cup dark all-purpose syrup
¾ cup seedless raisins
2 tsp. cinnamon

Dissolve sugar and yeast in water. Blend in salt, egg, shortening and milk. Add flour, half at a time, and mix well. Cover with a clean towel and let raise until double in bulk (about 1½ hours). Roll out dough to a 14x12 rectangle. Dot with butter. Sprinkle with half of sugar (brown), syrup, raisins and cinnamon. Roll up from the 14" side. Cut into 9 pieces. Grease a 9" square pan. Sprinkle remaining half of brown sugar, syrup, raisins and cinnamon evenly on bottom. Place rolls in pan, cover and let raise until double in bulk again. Bake at 350° 40 to 45 minutes. Turn onto plate immediately. Serve warm. Makes 9 buns.

BUTTER HORN ROLLS

1 cake yeast
½ cup sugar
½ cup butter
3 eggs
1 cup milk, heated to lukewarm
½ tsp. salt
4 cups flour

Stir the yeast with 1 tablespoon of sugar until liquid. Add remaining sugar and eggs which has been beaten lightly. Add butter which has been broken into bits (not creamed), add milk and flour alternately first adding salt to flour. Let rise until morning, then knead the dough very lightly with a little more flour.

Divide into two parts. Roll each part about ½ inch thick and round as possible cut like pie. Roll each piece starting at broad side and rolling down to point. Place on greased cookie sheet and set aside to rise. Bake 25 minutes in 350° oven or until golden brown.

PINEAPPLE SWEET ROLLS

2 yeast cakes
1 tblsp. sugar
1 cup lukewarm water
1 cup scalded milk
6 tblsp. shortening
½ cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
7 cups flour (sifted)
3 eggs, beaten

Scald milk and add shortening. Set to cool. Add beaten eggs and yeast that has been dissolved in cup of luke warm water, tablespoon of sugar and teaspoon of salt. Stir half-cup sugar and 3½ cups sifted flour into the mixture until smooth. Add remaining flour to handle easily (mix with hand).

Turn onto lightly floured board; knead until smooth and elastic (about 5 minutes), keeping dough as soft as possible. Round up in greased bowl, greased side up. Cover with damp cloth and let rise in warm place until double in bulk. Punch down and let rise until almost double.

Roll dough ¼ inch thick and cut with a biscuit cutter. Place on a greased pan and let rise until light. Press a hole in the center with two fingers and fill with the following mixture:

2½ can and 211 can crushed pineapple
3 tblsp. sugar
1½ tsp. cornstarch
¼ tsp. salt

Place above ingredients in saucepan and bring to a boil. Boil 1 minute and fill the holes in the rolls. Bake rolls at 400° 12 to 15 minutes then cool.

NO RAISE APPLE CAKE

2 cups flour
1 cup shortening
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 yeast cake
1 tsp. sugar
2 egg yolks
sliced apples

Mix the flour and shortening as for pie crust. Dissolve the yeast, and sugar in warm water. Add the 2 egg yolks and let stand a few minutes. Mix the two ingredients together. Knead slightly.

Divide dough in half and roll out to place in an 8x8 square pan. Fill with sliced apples and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon to taste. Roll out other half to place on top of apples. Bake at 350° 45 to 60 minutes. Drizzle with plain icing while hot. Serves 6.

Nandina--the Heavenly Bamboo

By Joe Littlefield

NANDINA, (pronounced nan-dy'na) domestica, "heavenly bamboo" and some times called the "sacred bamboo," isn't a bamboo at all! It is a member of the barberry family, and its roots are not invasive as are many bamboos. What makes this shrub so desirable is its habit of growth. It doesn't develop that "middle-age" spread that some shrubs do, and fits nicely in oriental and tropical effect landscape plantings.

It's vertical, unbranched, cane-like stems grow to about five foot tall, have many small divided leaves that present an airy, graceful effect. It is excellent for narrow spaces between windows, in front of porch pillars, as background plants for ground cover planting, and as container plants, for patio or porch.

The added garden surprise occurs in the autumn when many of the leaves turn red. The plant is semi-deciduous in the winter. Leafage is mostly green if the shrub grows in much shade, tanning in full sun. Clusters of small white flowers appear in spring, and frequently red berries develop by fall.

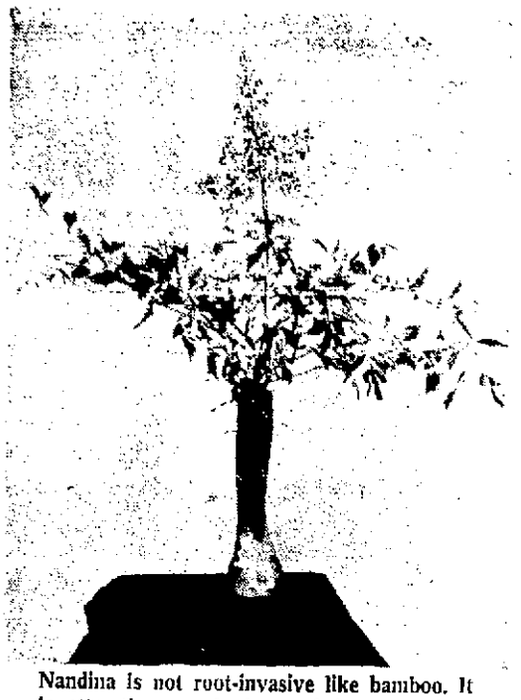

And you don't have to be an expert pruner to prune this shrub. Simply cut the old canes back to the base of plant to renew it. Flower enthusiasts prune back a branch or two, then cut the canes back to desired height for flower arrangements. Now don't be overly eager trimming nandina for arrangements, however; do it only as the shrub needs pruning.

SOW SWEET PEAS or set out young plants in plant bands available at nurseries. Ask six hobby gardeners whether sweet pea seeds should be soaked in water overnight, or a few hours before sowing the seeds, and probably two of the six will agree on soaking the seeds. The others will have their own pet systems of seed sowing. Several may prefer to sow the dry seeds in heavily soaked soil, then no more watering till seeds have sprouted through the soil. The rest work a little harder by keeping a cloth cover damp over the seeds.

After four or five days of such soaking, only the sprouted seeds are set out. The unsprouted ones are thrown away. This method insures an even planting.

Young plants should be protected from snails and slugs, and also birds. Baits control slugs and snails, but a wire cover shaped like quonset hut, should be put over the young plants till they've grown four inches or more and have hardened off so the birds won't like them.

We cannot emphasize enough the importance of not keeping sweet pea soil too moist. Too much moisture shuts off proper air soil circulation, causes a soggy condition, and the young plants start to rot off. Give them a good deep soaking, but not again till the soil dries.

Nandina is not root-invasive like bamboo. It is attractive as shrub, good for arranging.

Tips on Gardening

Garden tips for the week . . . The new Madonna lily bulbs are available at C.A.N. nurseries and should be planted now while they are dormant. The improved white variety produces fragrant chalice-like flowers 3 to 5 feet tall in June. Plant bulbs in a sunny location with one inch of soil covering them.

Dahlias should be watered regularly and deeply. Be sure to stake tall plants to keep them from toppling under the weight of their blooms.

Set out Michaelmas daisies from plant bands or cans now and you'll have a profusion of daisy-like flowers through fall. Choose from low, mounding types for edgings, medium-sized border plants and tall (to 6 feet) background ones. Best known for their soft, violet-blue shades, but available in pink, white, rose or dark red.

You can keep your summer annuals blooming well into October if you keep them well watered, remove faded flowers and spray them if necessary. Fuchsias and geraniums in full bloom, can be brought in for quick color now and will keep flowering for months.

Popular Ferns

Tree ferns are favorites with gardeners and justifiably so . . . few plants have such graceful habits. True show-offs, these giant ferns are best used as single specimens in the entrance garden, or in a large tub on the terrace.

Among the popular varieties, Australian Tree Fern is the largest. Mature plants of this species are to be found 14 to 15 feet high. The New Zealand Tree Fern is perhaps the best of the group for tub planting.

Garden Clubs

Flower arranging will be demonstrated for Belmont Heights Garden Club by Mrs. Jean Symons of Riverside, a blue ribbon winner in her specialty, at a meeting at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Wesley Hall, 317 Termino Ave. Mrs. Muriel Oyaas will preside and tea committee members will include Remona Jones, Rose Berry, Nellie Brownell, Sophia Butler, Evelyn Jordan and Pearl Warren. Visitors will be welcome.

Dorothy Digs

If you want sweet peas for Christmas blooming, and live in a fairly frost-free area, it is time to plant your seeds.

Buy the early wintering type and follow directions on the package for planting. If the weather is real hot you may have to give them some protection from the sun until the days get a little cooler.

Be sure to protect the plants from birds and scatter both slug pellets and sow bug bait around your trench. All of these will eat your tender young plants if you do not protect them.

I like to fertilize every two or three weeks with an all fish fertilizer after the sweet peas are growing well and have been thinned out to about 3 inches apart.

There is a weatherproof vine available now to stretch out above the plants to give them an easy place to hook on to and grow.

Dahlia Show

Thousands of blooms, from dozens of exhibitors from San Francisco to the Mexican border, will be on display at a show of the Southern California Dahlia Society next Saturday and Sunday in Simms Park Auditorium, Bellflower.

Arrangements will include not only the individual bowl and vase type, but entire tables of blooms will be set up for the coveted "Most Artistic Display" awards.

Several other societies in the area will be represented. Anyone, whether or not a member of the society, may display their dahlias. Entries may be staged between 10 p.m. Friday and 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

A donation of 50 cents for each adult (children under 12 free) is requested to help defray the cost of the show. Doors will open from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 12 noon to 6 p.m. Sunday. All quality blooms will be given away at the door at the close of the show.

Dodgers

on the mound, just trying to keep ready."

SUCH STRATEGY does not show up in the box score or in the standings, but Alston claims it has been an important factor in the effectiveness of Dodger pitching.

Beringer, a 35-year-old Nebraska farm boy, figures he's got lots of pitches left in his strong right arm and he hopes for another 5 or 10 years of pitching 1,000 times a week.

"But if it wasn't for that $5 screen out there in front of me during batting practice I wouldn't take the job for $50,000 a year," says the quiet-spoken father of two who is paid an estimated $10,000 a season.

But Beringer has learned when to duck. If the pitch goes down the middle, he goes down behind the three-foot-high protective barrier. After about 150,000 pitches, he's only been struck by a batted ball once.

Back in 1962 outfielder Wally Moon whacked one back through the pitchers' box that was too hot for Beringer to dodge or duck. "Now when Moon comes up," smiles the Dodger batting practice pitcher, "this son goes down."

What Your Name Means

Write to La Reina Rule in care of Southland Magazine, 604 Pine Ave., Long Beach, Calif. 90801, for origin, meaning and brief genealogy, for reply only in this column.

MISS RULE: Please inform us on ADKINS, ADKISSON. — G.S., G.T., Long Beach; C.A., Bellflower

ADKINS, a variation of Atkins, is an early English innovation of the Biblical baptismal name Adam, meaning "man of the red earth." Adam, shortened to Ad, was joined with "-kins," producing "Adkins" or "son of young Adam." Adkin the Fuller, (a cloth-maker) lived in London in 1273. The Adkins armorial shield has two blue rampant lions on the top section of an ermine covered background. ADKISSON was formerly Adkinsson. This family's shield is ermine, with three silver arrows on a black band across the center.

MISS RULE: Would you inform us on BELTZ.—R.B., Long Beach

BELTZ of Germany was initiated in the Middle Ages as "Pelz," a dialectical term for the occupation of furrier. Pelz also could have evolved from "Pald," a name for "bold one." The Beltz armorial shield from Franconia is red, decorated with a large golden rooster standing on a gold hunting horn.

MISS RULE: Please give data on MUGICA.—R.,C.H., Anaheim

MUGICA began in Spain as a local term for "minor boundary line." This surname referred to the site of the Mugica ancestral home on a provincial boundary. The Mugica armorial shield from Guipuzcoa, Spain, is green, crossed by a diagonal gold stripe issuing at each end from a golden eagle head. Above and below the stripe are two small blue shield's crossed by five vertical silver bars.

MISS RULE: Would like to know about BICKHAM, BICKFORD, BICKNELL. — R.B., Anaheim; C.G., Garden Grove; Z.B., Artesia

BICKHAM began in the Middle Ages in England as "Bican-ham," descriptive of "hewer's home at the river-meadow." BICKFORD was originally "Bican-ford" or "hewer's home at the river crossing." BICKNEL or "Bican-hall" referred to "hewer's manorial hall." The "Hewer" was an expert with an axe. Thomas Bickham married at London in 1748. the Bickford shield is silver, crossed by a black chevron between three black heraldic birds; that for Bicknell is also silver, crossed by two red bars, surmounted by a silver rampant lion.

MISS RULE. Please inform us on DE COURCY.—A.D., W.R., Lakewood

DE COURCY began as a locational name in the Calvados district of Normandy, France. In archaic French De Courcy portrayed "from the rural domaine or estate." The De Courcy lineage of the town of Courcy achieved a coat-of-arms at Paris. Their armorial shield is silver, crossed by a diagonal, scalloped-edge red stripe.

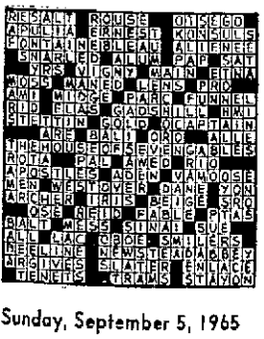

MISS RULE: Please analyze NAUSLER.—R.H., Long Beach

NAUSLER developed in Germany from Knauszler which, in the 1400s, indicated "proud and audacious one." An alternate name origin was the early German term "Chnuz," meaning "knot."

Q. Who owns Artanis Productions? Is it true that film company plans a motion picture on the life of Sam Giancana, the Chicago mobster?—F. R., Gary, Ind.

A. Artanis—Sinatra spelled backwards—is owned by Frank Sinatra. The company has no rights to Giancana's life story, would probably never make such a film since Sinatra's association with Giancana is what led to the relinquishing of his gambling interests in Nevada.

Q. Can you tell me how much Nat King Cole's daughter, Carol, is getting under her contract from Columbia Studios?—Ellen Foster, Los Angeles, Calif.

A. Carol Cole, 20, is receiving $150 a week as an actress.

Q. Is it true that Senators Robert and Edward Kennedy are determined to recapture the White House? —A. T. G., Buffalo, N.Y.

A. Many politicians suffer from presidential aspirations.

Q. I read recently that Sybil Burton, 36, married Jordan Christopher, 24, just to spite her ex-husband Richard Burton. Is this true?—Carol Ann Andrews, Columbia, S.C.

A. Not true. Sybil Burton is not a spiteful woman. Despite the age discrepancy she fell in love.

Q. I understand that the late Ernest Hemingway's son, Pat, is one of the outstanding game hunters in Africa. Is this so?—Vi Mackenzie, St. Louis, Mo.

A. He was but now teaches game wardens at the College of African Wildlife Management out of Nairobi, Kenya.

Q. I would like the truth. Why was Dr. Jonas Salk replaced as head of his own Institute of Biological Studies in San Diego? — T. R., La Jolla, Calif.

A. Salk dismissed himself because he is more researcher than administrator.

Q. When Errol Flynn died he left a fabulous yacht, the Zaca, moored in Majorca. Is it still there? Does his last wife Pat Wymore still sail it?—Ardis Bickmore, Marblehead, Mass.

A. The Zaca was sold for $75,000 to British sportsman Fred Tinsley. On her first voyage under Tinsley's ownership, the schooner broke down while sailing from Palma to Cannes, had to be towed to a near-by port.

Q. I hear that Arthur Schlesinger's book on Kennedy, A Thousand Days, will sell for $50. Can that be true? —Allen Browne, Ardmore, Pa.

A. A specially bound, limited autographed edition will sell for $50. The regular edition will sell for $8.50.

Q. Which city in the U.S. has the highest crime rate? —Val Janss, San Luis Obispo, Calif.

A. According to the latest statistics compiled by the FBI, Las Vegas, Nev.

Q. Would you let me know how much Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor were paid for The Sandpiper?—V. L., Richardson, Cincinnati, Ohio.

A. $1,750,000.

Q. Who is the author of the following: "It is in spending oneself that one becomes rich."?—Leona Knox, Peoria, Ill.

A. The late Sarah Bernhardt, actress.

Q. I hear that Francoise Sagan's new book is her best since Bonjour Tristesse. What is it called? What is it about? Is it true that Sagan lives with men?—F. T., Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

A. Francoise Sagan's new book, to be published in Paris next week, is entitled La Chamade, which is a drum signal declaring the capitulation of a beseiged city. It's the story of a 30-year-old woman who leaves a 50-year-old lover for a man of her own age. The man has little money, so eventually the girl goes back to her elderly lover, convinced that money does buy happiness. Of late Miss Sagan has been seen on her Normandy estate in the company of a former husband, press agent Bob Westhoff.

Q. A pair of questions about the late Adlai Stevenson: How much money did he leave? Who was the lady with him at the time of his death, and their relationship, please?—Frederic E. Painter, Lake Forest, Ill.

A. The Stevenson estate is worth between $500,000 and $600,000; most of it goes to his three sons. The lady in question was Mrs. Marietta Tree, an old friend of the Stevenson family, a United Nations delegate, wife of Ronald Tree, one-time Conservative member of the British parliament.

Q. "Chance favors the prepared mind." Who said or wrote that?—J. L. Donleavy, Pocatello, Id.

A. French scientist Louis Pasteur.

SHOW BUSINESS PERSONALITIES PLUNGE INTO POLITICS

by LLOYD SHEARER

Actor Ronald Reagan, who wants to be Republican candidate for governor of California next year, is shown (l. to r.) with wives number 1 and 2, actresses Jane Wyman and Nancy Davis. Approximately 1 out of every 10 Americans now lives in California, which makes the government of California second largest after the federal government. The basic question is whether an actor without any previous political experience but who possesses a pleasant and instantly recognized image is capable of administering such a government.

HOLLYWOOD.

Actor James Stewart (Princeton '32) for President of the U.S.A. His running mate on the Republican ticket for Vice-President: actor John Wayne. Opposing them on the Democratic slate: Jack Lemmon (Harvard '46) for President, Burt Lancaster for Vice-President.

"Preposterous"? you say. "Wild, absurd, impossible, fiction and nonsense"?

That's pretty nearly what most people in the film colony would have said ten years ago had you suggested, "George Murphy as U.S. Senator from California."

But today Murphy is the junior U.S. Senator from California, alert, dutiful, conscientious and industrious; and the feeling here in many quarters is that if George, a washed-up Hollywood hoofer, could do it, then public image is more important to the voter than political qualifications.

The result is that more film and TV stars are now plunging into politics, running for office, speaking out on heretofore avoided controversial issues than ever before.

Prime example is Ronald Reagan, 54. Like George Murphy, a Democrat-turned-Republican, Reagan, star of the Death Valley Days TV series, is working intensely to become the Republican candidate for governor of California next year.

A recent poll shows that he is currently the first choice of rank and file GOP members among a field of six men considered in the running.

Again, like Murphy, Reagan has never held political office in his life, has never quite made it to the top as a film star, is considered passé as a screen attraction—but as a red-hot political candidate he generates affability, warmth, sincerity, wholesomeness, and a pleasant personality.

He offers the same type of genial personality which won Wendell Corey, veteran actor and registered Republican, a recent seat on the Santa Monica city council with the largest plurality of all 12 candidates. And it is the same kind of agreeable personality which helped George Murphy oust Pierre Salinger from his Senate seat last November.

Established Image

One of the men from Spencer-Roberts & Associates, a firm founded in 1960 on a capital of $1,000 which manages campaigns for Republican politicians, declares: "What Reagan has working for him is what most popular actors have, an instantly recognized name and face. In his case he has the ability to project the already established image of being a good guy. One of the reasons we're handling Reagan is because we think we can win with him.

"Most of the money we'll have to spend—and I might add money will be no problem. He's got much of the money behind him which sponsored Barry Goldwater in this state—will go to television and radio, because in those media, Ronnie projects his image best. He started out as a radio announcer. He talks beautifully, and of course, he's tremendously photogenic."

Six feet tall, with cow-licked brown hair, myopic hazel eyes, and a trim, athletic 175-pound body, Reagan is a handsome man endowed with the physical qualities necessary to capture the female vote, that is, if females as so many politicians believe, vote primarily on the basis of a candidate's image rather than his political philosophy.

Reagan's 1940-48 marriage to actress Jane Wyman and their subsequent divorce has understandably been played down in his autobiography, Where's the Rest of Me? (a title derived from a line in King's Row, a film which the actor considers his best) and his current and successful second marriage to actress Nancy Davis played up.

Born in Tampico, Ill., a varsity football player at Eureka College, captain of the swimming team and a lifeguard during the summers, Reagan looks like the solid all-American, both-feet-on-the-ground reliable family man who's never strayed. "He has the very great advantage," says Dr. Wayne Minnick, head of the speech department at Florida State University and author of The Art of Persuasion, "of exuding sex appeal and also of knowing how to present his case. Many women don't vote on the issues. They vote on the candidate's looks. I believe that's what in part hurt Pierre Salinger against George Murphy, Nixon against Kennedy, and Goldwater against Johnson. Each had a faulty TV image.

"I think Goldwater had much more physical appeal," Dr. Minnick continues, "than Johnson. But what ruined him in my opinion is that he aroused fear in the voters. Early in the campaign he gave the impression that he was a man who impulsively shot from the hip. He just couldn't live that down. The

"With Nixon and Kennedy, Kennedy was much the more handsome. He had a boyish, good-natured quality, a young maturity, a lot of sex appeal, a class image. Nixon on the other hand, seemed opportunistic and at times waspish.

"As for Salinger and George Murphy, Salinger is short, dark, stocky, divorced, and overweight. He speaks too quickly and not clearly enough. Murphy is tall, thin, trim, offered a nice and neat appearance, projected an image of calm, warmth, and understanding. Both men were inexperienced in terms of holding previous political office, and Murphy won. How much of his victory can be attributed to his TV image—certainly he had much more TV exposure owing to his old films than Salinger—is difficult to tell, but it surely was considerable."

Strangely enough when I recently asked Salinger, now a motion picture theater executive, why he thought he had lost to Murphy, he answered quickly: "For a combination of reasons: (1) My stand on Proposition 14 [a proposition which would have permitted Negroes to buy and rent homes in any neighborhood]. (2) Mr. Murphy's effective use of the carpetbag issue against me, even though I'm a native-born Californian, and he is not, and I was raised, educated and lived here most of my life. (3) The divisions within the Democratic Party. (4) The figures of voter registration in California are deceptive. A lot of registered Democrats vote Republican. They voted for a Democratic President in 1964 and wanted to salve their consciences by voting for a Republican senator. (5) The TV networks hurt me by keeping voters away from the polls in the final hours of the election day by saying the election was as good as over."

Poor on TV

Nowhere in his assessment did Salinger attribute his defeat to a poor TV image until I revealed to him a few answers provided by voters in a PARADE poll on the questions: "Will you vote for George Murphy or Pierre Salinger?" "Will you tell us why?"

Explained one woman in La Jolla, Calif.: "I will never vote for a man who has a space between his teeth. That's why I didn't vote for Thomas E. Dewey, and that's why I won't vote for Salinger. It's the Lord's sign of evil." Said a housewife in Riverside: "George Murphy simply looks more reliable to me." A filling station operator in Pomona: "Most of the trouble in this world is caused by little guys. Look at Hitler, Mussolini, Stalin, all shrimps. Salinger's too short for my vote."

The one-time White House press secretary then agreed that "A favorable TV image is probably becoming a political necessity for candidates these days. And it's regrettable, because we're going to be deprived of the services of some very excellent men, qualified men, competent men who just aren't handsome enough. I wonder how Abraham Lincoln would have projected on television? I wonder if TV had been a major factor in his time, if he could have been elected? I doubt it. TV does play a key role in elections today, and now that you bring it up, I guess I didn't project too favorably. I was overweight. Men who are accustomed to the TV medium, who project a good image have a decided advantage.

"Lamentably, if Ronald Reagan gets the Republican nomination for governor, I think he's going to be a very tough opponent for Pat Brown [the incumbent]. Today, I'd say that Reagan will probably get it."

Senator George Murphy, the man who started the big move of actors into politics, poses with son and daughter.

Although George Murphy, Wendell Corey and Ronald Reagan are the only three show business figures currently holding or running for political office, there are many others waiting in the wings—Steve Allen, Eddie Albert, Dan Blocker of Bonanza, Richard Widmark, and Robert Vaughn, The Man from U.N.C.L.E.—mulling over the pros and cons.

Veteran film actor Eddie Albert, star of the upcoming TV series, Green Acres, has long been urged by Democratic Party bigwigs to run for congressman from California.

"You can't miss," a politico recently told him. "You've not only got a great image—the friendly, average, decent American—but you've got a wife who was born in Mexico [the actress, Margo] which means you'll get the Mexican vote hands down. But even more important, you know how to play a guitar. Ronnie Reagan doesn't know how to play a guitar."

Says Albert: "A man's got to decide what he wants to do in life. If he's an actor and his career is in full flower, full-time political office must take a back seat. If he can't make it as an actor, or his career wanes, and then he wants to run for political office, that's another thing. But I feel strongly that such men must be responsible, equipped, educated, and well-qualified for office. Otherwise there's a danger that government will end up in the hands of popular TV images but unqualified office-holders."

Years ago when a handful of movie dictators controlled Hollywood, most of the film stars under studio contract feared political involvement. The studios were run for the most part by tyrants who ruthlessly and completely dominated the public and private lives of their players in whom they stifled all political independence.

Today the studios control practically no stars. Moreover, contemporary actors and actresses are a different breed. Well-read, well-educated, less fearful than their predecessors, they feel strongly that they are entitled to the expression of their own individual political beliefs, the espousing of causes no matter how unpopular.

Two cases in point are Dan Blocker of Bonanza and Robert Vaughn of The Man from U.N.C.L.E. Both actors are liberal Democrats who campaign openly for their party without fear of reprisal by sponsors or networks. Both hold M.A. degrees, both are studying for Ph.D.'s, both regard political office as logical and ultimate extensions of their acting careers.

Blocker vs. Hopper

Vaughn labored as campaign manager for Pierre Salinger last year and chairman of the Democratic Party speakers' bureau in California. Blocker recently took on Hedda Hopper, a Goldwater Republican, at a banquet paid for by General Motors, his TV sponsor. He hopes one day to represent his home state of Texas in high political position.

Steve Allen is another show business figure who's been mentioned prominently as a potential public office-holder. The Democrats wanted him to run for U.S. Senator from California in 1962, but he turned it down. Allen has written nine books, his last being A Letter to a Conservative in which he attacks the extremist right for constantly espousing "negativism," without explaining what its members really advocate.

The climate of political involvement has had an energizing and beneficial effect on Hollywood. It has become contagious so that stars who once maintained a strict political neutrality, who were afraid of antagonizing sponsors or pressure groups, no longer are.

Bob Hope, who for years straddled the line, keeping his contributions to the Republican Party a private affair, recently sent off a telegram to Dean Rusk, urging that the U.S. end all aid to any country dealing with the Viet Cong.

Marlon Brando and Burt Lancaster have no fear of speaking out on behalf of Civil Rights. Walt Disney doesn't care who knows about his support of George Murphy and Ronald Reagan. John Wayne, Jimmy Stewart, Fess Parker, Randolph Scott, and Dale Robertson are proud to support the Republican Party just as Charlton Heston, Janet Leigh, Gene Kelly, Jimmy Durante, and Gregory Peck make no secret of their Democratic leanings.

The long-standing unwritten law of Hollywood that performers must play it politically safe no longer holds true.

In much the same way that men of wealth and generals of military accomplishment once used their wealth and battle victories to win public office, so now are actors taking advantage of their public images to achieve the same objective.

In the first paragraph of this article I suggested a possible future national ticket for the Republican Party—Jimmy Stewart and John Wayne. Don't you think these two men, if candidates, would have fared much better at the polls than Goldwater and Miller?

The day may not be far off when the White House is occupied by a former actor.

"You've not only got a great image—the friendly, average, decent American—but you've got a wife who was born in Mexico [the actress, Margo] which means you'll get the Mexican vote hands down. But even more important, you know how to play a guitar. Ronnie Reagan doesn't know how to play a guitar."

Says Albert: "A man's got to decide what he wants to do in life. If he's an actor and his career is in full flower, full-time political office must take a back seat. If he can't make it as an actor, or his career wanes, and then he wants to run for political office, that's another thing. But I feel strongly that such men must be responsible, equipped, educated, and well-qualified for office. Otherwise there's a danger that government will end up in the hands of popular TV images but unqualified office-holders."

Years ago when a handful of movie dictators controlled Hollywood, most of the film stars under studio contract feared political involvement. The studios were run for the most part by tyrants who ruthlessly and completely dominated the public and private lives of their players in whom they stifled all political independence.

Today the studios control practically no stars. Moreover, contemporary actors and actresses are a different breed. Well-read, well-educated, less fearful than their predecessors, they feel strongly that they are entitled to the expression of their own individual political beliefs, the espousing of causes no matter how unpopular.

Two cases in point are Dan Blocker of Bonanza and Robert Vaughn of The Man from U.N.C.L.E. Both actors are liberal Democrats who campaign openly for their party without fear of reprisal by sponsors or networks. Both hold M.A. degrees, both are studying for Ph.D.'s, both regard political office as logical and ultimate extensions of their acting careers.

Blocker vs. Hopper

Vaughn labored as campaign manager for Pierre Salinger last year and chairman of the Democratic Party speakers' bureau in California. Blocker recently took on Hedda Hopper, a Goldwater Republican, at a banquet paid for by General Motors, his TV sponsor. He hopes one day to represent his home state of Texas in high political position.

Steve Allen is another show business figure who's been mentioned prominently as a potential public office-holder. The Democrats wanted him to run for U.S. Senator from California in 1962, but he turned it down. Allen has written nine books, his last being A Letter to a Conservative in which he attacks the extremist right for constantly espousing "negativism," without explaining what its members really advocate.

The climate of political involvement has had an energizing and beneficial effect on Hollywood. It has become contagious so that stars who once maintained a strict political neutrality, who were afraid of antagonizing sponsors or pressure groups, no longer are.

Bob Hope, who for years straddled the line, keeping his contributions to the Republican Party a private affair, recently sent off a telegram to Dean Rusk, urging that the U.S. end all aid to any country dealing with the Viet Cong.

Marlon Brando and Burt Lancaster have no fear of speaking out on behalf of Civil Rights. Walt Disney doesn't care who knows about his support of George Murphy and Ronald Reagan. John Wayne, Jimmy Stewart, Fess Parker, Randolph Scott, and Dale Robertson are proud to support the Republican Party just as Charlton Heston, Janet Leigh, Gene Kelly, Jimmy Durante, and Gregory Peck make no secret of their Democratic leanings.

The long-standing unwritten law of Hollywood that performers must play it politically safe no longer holds true.

In much the same way that men of wealth and generals of military accomplishment once used their wealth and battle victories to win public office, so now are actors taking advantage of their public images to achieve the same objective.

In the first paragraph of this article I suggested a possible future national ticket for the Republican Party—Jimmy Stewart and John Wayne. Don't you think these two men, if candidates, would have fared much better at the polls than Goldwater and Miller?

The day may not be far off when the White House is occupied by a former actor.

The big news as PARADE announces its 11th annual college football forecast is a return of the game to the most freewheeling style it has known. Whole "platoons" skilled in either offense or defense will flow on and off the field this season. And the gridiron specialist will overshadow the hard-nosed, 60-minute workhorse.

Coaches now are free to send in men to do special jobs—place-kicking, pass-catching, returning punts, whatever they wish. And they can make unlimited substitutions any time the ball changes hands.

Teams with depth of personnel to take full advantage of the freedom to use specialists and entire fresh platoons will be stronger this year. PARADE therefore selects the Nebraska Cornhuskers as most likely to capture the mythical national championship.

Big Eight champion last season, Nebraska will have 25 experienced lettermen back in action. Its leading rivals should include Notre Dame, Syracuse, Southern Cal., Penn State, Arkansas, Texas, Purdue, Alabama and Michigan.

Football's rules-makers relaxed substitution restrictions last season. This year, they've let the bars all the way down to their level of the early 1950's. Supporters of free substitution argue that it produces a better brand of football. Over-all team performance is improved, they point out, the players in the game are fresher and more boys are enabled to play. Opponents contend that a team's best 11 all-around players should be on the field and that many colleges don't have a sufficient number of good men to make up separate offensive and defensive units.

At any rate, more proud parents will be able to point out Junior on the field this season, and scorecard sales should leap as fans try to keep track of who's in the game. For the colleges, wide-open platooning will mean larger player squads, bigger coaching staffs to develop the boys in their specialties and fatter budgets for football.

There's been plenty of action on the gridiron scene since the last crowd roars died away last fall.

A few college players shocked fans by signing pro contracts before bowl play. Then pros promised that in the future they will not meddle with collegians scheduled to play in holiday games. At the Air Force Academy the cribbing scandal involving 100 cadets gutted the football squad, and Notre Dame made a futile effort to bench John Goldfarb, a football movie farce that wasn't worth all the attention. Arizona State forfeited 11 games after catching six key players cheating in the classroom.

The Big Ten told TV networks phony time outs for commercials no longer will be tolerated, a move certain to please the ticket-buying fans. Virginia Tech withdrew from the Southern Conference, hoping for an eventual berth in the more prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference. Tulane announced it was withdrawing from the Southeastern Conference as of June 1966.

Penn finally decided victory was desirable even in Ivy League football. A loser for years, the school hired alumnus Bob O'Dell and promised him recruiting help from the old grads. Nine other major schools have new coaches: Indiana, John Pont; UCLA, Tom Prothro; Texas A. and M., Gene Stallings; Virginia, George Blackburn; Navy, Bill Elias; Yale, Carmen Cozza; Oregon State, Dee Andros; Holy Cross, Mel Massucee; and Wichita, George Karras.

Here's how football 1965 shapes up:

EAST: Syracuse and Penn State are shopping for the same indispensable man—a varsity quarterback. With luck in this department both will rank among the best, but there's no runner at Penn State to match Syracuse's Floyd Little, a worthy successor to Jimmy Brown and the late Ernie Davis. Veterans will anchor Army's defense, and Navy is rebuilding under a new coach. Harvard is ready to challenge Princeton, undefeated Ivy Leaguers of 1964, with its best backfield in years.

MIDWEST: Notre Dame may outshine even the best in the Big Ten this fall. The Irish, minus passer John Huarte, will excel on defense. In the Big Ten, Michigan has awesome power, but an untested quarterback. PARADE's title choice is Purdue, a school that has yet to make the Rose Bowl trip. Pushing Michigan, the defending champion, and Purdue will be Ohio State, Minnesota and Iowa, the latter having the flashiest offense in the league. Michigan State is completely unpredictable. Illinois lacks balance. Indiana, Wisconsin and Northwestern bring up the rear.

MIDLANDS: Nebraska, the Big Eight king, is still chasing that elusive goal—an undefeated season. The Cornhuskers return 25 lettermen. Missouri, led by Gary Lane, is a constant threat. Oklahoma will be better in Gomer Jones' second year as head coach. Colorado and Oklahoma State are much tougher in a league that now has good balance. Tulsa, even without passer Jerry Rhome, is a Missouri Valley Conference favorite.

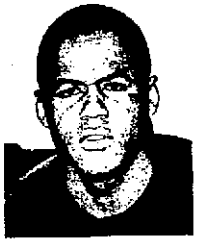

FAR WEST: Southern California, the team that spoiled Notre Dame's 1964 season in the last two minutes, is the top choice. The Trojans have everything except an experienced quarterback. Under John Ralston, Stanford has Rose Bowl hopes, too, with quarterback Dave Lewis showing the way. Washington, rebuilding its defense, and Oregon are the class of the Northwest. Tom Prothro's progress at UCLA will be closely watched. In the Western Athletic Conference, Wyoming has a thin edge on New Mexico, Utah, Arizona and Arizona State. Utah State, often overlooked, is a strong independent.

SOUTHWEST: It's more of the duel between Texas and Arkansas, only major team to win 11 consecutive games last season. This time Texas is a slight favorite, Arkansas needing linebackers and experience at quarterback. Baylor's case rests with passer Terry Southall. Texas Tech has Don Anderson, finest runner in the league. The others are also-rans, but don't ignore Texas A. and M. under rookie coach Gene Stallings. Houston, the top independent, may have its best team ever, and will unveil a fleet sophomore, Warren McVea.

SOUTH: Conference coaches picked talented Louisiana State as the SEC champ. Long shot players like flashy Kentucky, but the conservatives stick with Paul Bryant's defending titleholder at Alabama. Florida and Ole Miss also qualify as authentic challengers. Maryland and Duke are the top contenders in the Atlantic Coast Conference. West Virginia is a shoo-in for Southern Conference honors. Among the independents, Florida State again has an exceptional defensive team, Miami will be much better, Georgia Tech will move up with a lighter schedule.

WHAT'S RIGHT WITH TODAY'S YOUTH

SOME RIOT; OTHERS DO GOOD DEEDS. THE VICE-PRESIDENT LOOKS AT OUR CONTROVERSIAL YOUNGER GENERATION.

by HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

WASHINGTON, D.C.

Young Americans give their lives for freedom in South Vietnam, while other young Americans demonstrate against our involvement there. Some young people rip apart seaside resorts, others work night and day to repair the flood-ravaged dikes of the Middle West. Our universities turn out the brightest, best-educated graduates in history, but at the same time we face a problem of school dropouts.

Which is the true picture of the younger generation? Are more and more young people finding their release in rioting, protests and crime? Or is the trend upwards toward honor and achievement? Will they send America into decline, or will they build a greater, more dynamic nation?

I believe the latter is true, and I can back up my belief with facts and personal experience. This is no reason for complacency. For we cannot allow even a fraction of our youth to squander themselves while we, who like to boast that we are older and wiser, stand by lamenting.

My interest in youth is by no means academic. As the father of four children (three still in school), I am concerned at the increase in juvenile crime not only in the slums, where there is the goad of dismal poverty, but among children who have never known want, children who should know better.

Like any other father of my generation, I have my share of skepticism about Beatle mops and dances like the Swim, the Frug and the Watusi. But then I find myself asking: Was there ever a young generation that didn't have crazes, and was there ever an old one that approved of them? What of the flappers of the Roaring Twenties, many of them now sedate grandmothers? What of the grandfathers who once sported Rudolph Valentino sideburns and those wide trousers known as Oxford bags? What about the Black Bottom and the Charleston? But we grew out of them.

I do not condone the excesses of youth. I don't mean the fads; I mean the rioting, violence and crime that cause us worry in our society. But again, I must ask how much we, the older generation, are responsible for the startling increase in juvenile lawlessness?

The war broke up families and reduced parental discipline. Then came the postwar years of the "fast buck" with an inevitable eroding of morality and family responsibility. Children were left to bring themselves up while their parents made up for lost time.

Now we are in a period of unprecedented prosperity, and I cannot help feeling that prosperity is a more severe test of character than adversity. Hard times, as I remember from my own youth, bring families together. In good times, it is all too easy to drift apart. Though the young people today enjoy luxuries never known to their parents, they are also exposed to pressures and frustrations their parents never encountered.

MORE PEOPLE THAN JOBS

Our youth are quite conscious they live in a world that has the capacity to destroy itself and that the detonators are in the hands of the older generation. They are also conscious of the fact that, in our affluent society, there are more people of their age than there are jobs to go around. The number of workers 18 and 19 years old is expected to increase by half a million this year—twice the increase of last year! Before 1970, more than 3 million young people will swell the labor force each year.

Those without training and skills will face a bleak future. The unemployment rate for the young already is more than three times as high as for older workers. We are past the time when a living, even a humble one, can be made without anything but willing hands.

Our country does not owe anybody a living, but it does owe its youth at least the opportunity to work. Government and private industry are now alert to this problem, and we are doing everything we can to help these young people. There are Youth Opportunity Centers, the Poverty Program, the Job Corps, the Neighborhood Youth Corps, the Community Action Programs.

Of course, youth must be willing to work, and most of them are. I have spoken to thousands of young people at Job Corps camps and other training centers. Many come from broken homes; many are barely able to read and write. Almost all have been bitterly disappointed in their short lives. Yet most are determined to pick up their second chance, acquire new skills and face the world with hope.

Even more impressive are the thousands of young Americans who have an acute conscience about their own generation and want to help the less fortunate. They are intelligent, courageous, well-informed young people, willing to work long hours for little or no pay to correct what they feel is injustice.

Some of the student protests, picketing, marches, sit-ins have caused dismay among us older folk. Frankly, I have shared it because some of the issues, in my view, have been false. But I must admit that America today might be a better place if the people of my generation had shown the same awareness. Fiery speeches and angry placards on the campus are to my

But I must admit that America today might be a better place if the people of my generation had shown the same awareness. Fiery speeches and angry placards on the campus are to my mind far less dangerous to the nation's future than the silence that stifles new ideas. Age in itself is no guarantee of wisdom. In a world changing as rapidly as ours, there can be as many old fools as young fools. Young Americans who get into trouble, who kick against the established order, are often the most alert.

Who of our older generation has not been a rebel? I have been one, and so has our President. Lyndon Johnson was a school dropout who left his native Texas to work with his hands in the fields of California. But he returned to enter college and begin his career as a teacher in a Mexican-American public school. His former students still remember him as a man who gave them knowledge and encouragement to face a world that all too often seemed stacked against them.

Lyndon Johnson held his first Presidential appointment at 27, his first political office at 29. He has said: "No one knows better than I the fires that burn in the hearts of young men who yearn for the chance to do better what they see their elders doing not well . . . or not doing at all."

FAMOUS BEATNIKS

Today's young people—as students, as citizens, yes, even as demonstrators—are showing that they, too, want to do better. Of course, we have our beatniks. There have been beatniks in every age. Some of them are now listed among the world's leading artists, writers and musicians. Gauguin was a beatnik. So were Van Gogh and Edgar Allan Poe.

But I am less concerned with the eccentricities of genius, which can flower in the most unlikely soil, than I am with the mass of our young people today. I don't find them a "beat" generation at all, and I have met them by the thousands across this great country.

Our young people are a healthy and wholesome generation, less hypocritical, more frank than we were at their age. They speak more openly about sex, religion, politics and other subjects that used to be taboo. In the age of computers, satellites and almost instant communications, they are also more intelligent and competent. For this is the age of excellence.

Not long ago, I visited the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise and was amazed to find boys under 20 manning consoles of multimillion-dollar radar equipment. They were responsible for the safety of American pilots and million-dollar aircraft miles away at sea. At Loring Air Force Base, I talked with a grease-stained enlisted man whom I found working under a jet plane. "I understand you are pretty good," I said, "at keeping these planes in tiptop shape."

"No, Mr. Vice-President," the GI replied. "We're not pretty good. We're the best." His commanding officer, Brig. Gen. Frank Elliott, completely agreed. "I have been in the Air Force a long time," he said. "This crop of youngsters is the best yet. They are more responsive and responsible."

Humphreys and sons: the Vice-President's three boys, Douglas (left), Robert and Hubert III, all are students.

Teenagers dance the Frug, frowned upon by their elders. Mr. Humphrey asks, "Was there ever a young generation that didn't have crazes and was there ever an old one that approved of them?"

No fewer than one-quarter of the members of our armed services are under 20. Our generals and admirals agree they are the finest young fighting men this country has ever produced, as tough as their fathers of World War II and Korea, more alert and adaptable and so more fit to use the complex weapons of the space age.

If I had to give the younger generation a label, I would call them, as the President has, Volunteer Generation. I may not always agree with the causes they serve, but I must always admire the spirit with which they fight. It could shame some of us older people who pride ourselves on being concerned citizens.

HOW FAR?

For example, a poll in a national news magazine asked American students how far they would go—beyond mere talk—to support a cause in which they believed. Some 93 per cent said they would sign a petition; 72 per cent had already done so. Some 87 per cent said they would contribute money; 58 per cent had already done so. An amazing 43 per cent were even ready to go to jail!

More than 10,000 young volunteers are now serving in the Peace Corps. Another 3,000 have already returned after tours of duty. But most significant, more than 100,000 have asked to take part in this bold and idealistic experiment. When VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America—the domestic Peace Corps) was launched, more than 3,000 inquiries were received from young people on the first day of business.

When PARADE's own editor, Jess Gorkin, had the inspired idea to ask the young people of America to "Work a Day for JFK," the response was staggering. They went out by the thousands to mow lawns, clean cars, run errands, sell cookies and lemonade so they could donate their earnings to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library. There was no compulsion such as is brought by the Commissars in a Communist society. It was merely a suggestion in one magazine for young people to accept or reject.

All it takes to rouse today's young people is motivation. They need to know that their contribution has a purpose. I grew up when it was important to help the family. It was important that we dug vegetables out of the sand and stored them in the root cellar. It was important that we earned money to help feed the family. Now in our prosperous suburbs, it is no longer important for young people to contribute to the livelihood. They are inclined to look upon the daily chores as merely an exercise in discipline.

I have complete faith in our young generation. Whenever I am weary or worried, I seek out young people. Many times, I have walked out of a meeting, depressed and discouraged, looking for some teenagers. I have found them to be a tonic; they rekindle my spirit and sharpen my wits. I am able to go back refreshed and revitalized.

We parents expect the young to learn from us and from their teachers. But this holds good only if we are prepared to learn from the young—to probe their problems and to admit, as history has proven time and again, that the "follies" of today can be the truths of tomorrow.

mind far less dangerous to the nation's future than the silence that stifles new ideas. Age in itself is no guarantee of wisdom. In a world changing as rapidly as ours, there can be as many old fools as young fools. Young Americans who get into trouble, who kick against the established order, are often the most alert.

Who of our older generation has not been a rebel? I have been one, and so has our President. Lyndon Johnson was a school dropout who left his native Texas to work with his hands in the fields of California. But he returned to enter college and begin his career as a teacher in a Mexican-American public school. His former students still remember him as a man who gave them knowledge and encouragement to face a world that all too often seemed stacked against them.

Lyndon Johnson held his first Presidential appointment at 27, his first political office at 29. He has said: "No one knows better than I the fires that burn in the hearts of young men who yearn for the chance to do better what they see their elders doing not well . . . or not doing at all."

FAMOUS BEATNIKS

Today's young people—as students, as citizens, yes, even as demonstrators—are showing that they, too, want to do better. Of course, we have our beatniks. There have been beatniks in every age. Some of them are now listed among the world's leading artists, writers and musicians. Gauguin was a beatnik. So were Van Gogh and Edgar Allan Poe.

But I am less concerned with the eccentricities of genius, which can flower in the most unlikely soil, than I am with the mass of our young people today. I don't find them a "beat" generation at all, and I have met them by the thousands across this great country.

Our young people are a healthy and wholesome generation, less hypocritical, more frank than we were at their age. They speak more openly about sex, religion, politics and other subjects that used to be taboo. In the age of computers, satellites and almost instant communications, they are also more intelligent and competent. For this is the age of excellence.

RAISIN COOKIES

1 cup seedless raisins
2¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon baking soda
1½ teaspoons cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup soft shortening
1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons water
2 cups rolled oats (quick or old-fashioned, uncooked)

Heat oven to 375°. Cover raisins with boiling water; let stand 10 minutes; drain. Mix and sift flour, salt, baking soda, cinnamon and nutmeg into bowl. Add shortening, sugar, egg and water. Beat until smooth, about 2 minutes. Stir in oats and raisins. Chill several hours. Work with ¼ of dough at a time, keeping remainder in refrigerator. Roll out on lightly floured board or canvas to ¼-inch thickness. Cut with floured 3-inch round cutter. Place on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 375° for 10 to 12 minutes. Makes about 2½ dozen cookies.

MEASURIN measures out aspirin relief up to 8 hours!

Sleep relieved of pain...wake up relieved of pain

Measurin — proved effective in medically supervised clinical tests.

Now, after years of research, a way has been finally found to make a form of aspirin that gives long-lasting pain relief . . . up to 8 hours. Yes, Measurin ends the need to take aspirin every 4 hours.

With new Measurin, you can get fast relief. And, you get up to 8 hours of temporary relief of minor aches and pains due to fatigue, neuralgia, or the common cold... simple headache... the minor aches and pains of arthritis or rheumatism.

You can now work, sleep, or be active... relieved of pain for up to 8 hours from a single dose. And, if you suffer from arthritis or rheumatism, Measurin provides even better relief of early morning pain and stiffness than a bedtime dose of regular aspirin.

Each Measurin tablet is made up of about 6,000 tiny aspirin capsules compressed in a small tablet. Measurin works much like a tea bag. Your stomach fluids diffuse into the aspirin and then, for as long as 8 hours, aspirin relief is scientifically measured out, into your system.

For years, doctors have recommended regular aspirin as a pain-reliever more than any other medicine — especially for sufferers with the minor aches and pains of arthritis or rheumatism.

Now, with new Measurin—pain sufferers can get effective aspirin relief in a form that lasts up to 8 hours. Use new 8-hour Measurin — and get both prompt and prolonged aspirin pain relief.

Physicians: For literature on the efficacy of Measurin, write Director of Professional Services, Chesebrough-Pond's Inc., 485 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

ONE OF THE BEST LITTLE COLLEGES —HERE'S WHY

by SID ROSS & R.H. HUBBARD

SALEM, W. VA.

"I just got lazy in my senior year and my grades went down. I graduated with a 'C' average and didn't do well in my College Board exams."

"I know I've got the ability to do good college work. I just didn't apply myself in high school."

"I was sick during my sophomore and junior years, so I didn't wind up with grades that were too good. My College Boards were pretty poor, too."

These are familiar words. Thousands of high school graduates have similar problems; they seem to be capable of doing college work, but their records make it almost impossible to get into a decent college. At best, they have the slim hope of entering on probation, which means they'll be under greater pressure than the average student.

But that's not the way it will be for Bill Killingsworth, Oliver Letts and Karen Lutz, the three youngsters quoted above. In spite of their poor high school records, they all have an excellent chance of entering college this fall without being on probation. What's more, they'll already have as many as six hours of credit, which will lighten the load in their freshman year.

COLLEGE BOUND

Bill, Oliver and Karen are among some 175 students who have just finished a new kind of summer school at Salem College here. Called the "College Bound Development Program" by its originator, dean of admissions Dale Dickens, the eight-week session not only gives students with poor high school records a chance to show they can do college work, but it provides a "basic training" course in study and work methods.

Dickens started the program when he found many youngsters being denied admission to college, even though tests showed they had the ability to do the work. Others with good records had been poorly prepared in high school and soon found themselves hopelessly behind. "As educators, we didn't want to point-blank eliminate kids with poor records," Dickens points out. "We felt the important thing was to find out if they had real potential and then give them a chance to make good. And we also felt that there were many young people whose marks were adequate for admission, but who needed help in making the transition from high school to college work."

COLLEGE BOUND

Bill, Oliver and Karen are among some 175 students who have just finished a new kind of summer school at Salem College here. Called the "College Bound Development Program" by its originator, dean of admissions Dale Dickens, the eight-week session not only gives students with poor high school records a chance to show they can do college work, but it provides a "basic training" course in study and work methods.

Dickens started the program when he found many youngsters being denied admission to college, even though tests showed they had the ability to do the work. Others with good records had been poorly prepared in high school and soon found themselves hopelessly behind. "As educators, we didn't want to point-blank eliminate kids with poor records," Dickens points out. "We felt the important thing was to find out if they had real potential and then give them a chance to make good. And we also felt that there were many young people whose marks were adequate for admission, but who needed help in making the transition from high school to college work."

When word went out that this small liberal arts institution—which opened its doors in 1888 and boasts national and state leaders in government, education and industry among its distinguished alumni—was offering a new kind of summer course for entering freshmen, about 275 applications were promptly received from students in West Virginia and surrounding states. Most were recent high school graduates with marginal records, but a number had been out of school a year or more, working or in the service. Some had already been accepted at Salem and at other colleges, but seized the opportunity to sharpen their skills and get used to college before actually beginning in the fall. The applicants were given special tests, and their high school guidance counselors were consulted. No one was accepted who didn't show a potential for doing college work, and about 100 were rejected.

Key to the Salem program is its stress on adjustment to college life. Even students whose high school records are excellent sometimes turn out to be woefully incapable of picking up the techniques of note-taking, preparing assignments, budgeting time, preparing for examinations and writing research papers. Without these elementary skills, many promising students fall by the wayside in college; for the marginal freshman such a lack is usually fatal.

SPECIAL HELP

The first three weeks of the Salem program are devoted primarily to concentrating on these areas along with special help for those who have reading problems. Crucial to this period, too, is intensive individual counseling for each student.

During the second phase of the "College Bound Development Program," each student takes two stiff academic courses for a total of 20 hours a week. "There's no physical education or badminton in this curriculum," Dickens emphasizes. "Students can choose from six subjects—English, history, psychology, sociology, math and speech. And they go to class five days a week, too."

The courses are demanding, and students have to make a "C" or better—higher than the "C-minus" average required of regular freshmen. "It's a real heavy load, but we don't pull any punches," says Miss Elizabeth Whipple, co-ordinator of the program. "Our preliminary testing indicates that these kids can do the work, and since we've started this program I've checked out some of the highest grades I've ever seen here at Salem."

If students "survive" the rigorous eight-week program, they will be accepted as full admissions, and they'll already have six credits toward a degree. If they don't make it, Salem won't accept them at all—not even on probation. However, by the end of the course, counselors know their students so well that they can suggest suitable work and study areas for them, such as vocational, industrial or office training.

"We feel that if a youngster doesn't show the motivation and desire to work hard here, maybe he should drop college—for a year or two anyway," Miss Whipple says. "But as for the rest, we have high hopes that the heavy concentration of individual counseling and evaluation, the repair of bad study habits and other academic roadblocks, will make it possible for these young people to really go places in college."

The "College Bound" program costs a flat $400, covering tuition, room and board, testing and incidental fees. But it's worth every penny to the students.

"When I came here I needed help in my reading skills, and I had to learn how to use my time properly," Karen Lutz said. "I wouldn't have been able to go to college without this course. I've always wanted to be a teacher, and now I'll be able to do just that."

Remedial reading is part of Salem program. Specialist Mildreth Compton helps Tammy Wolf, Bill Werrleln.

Individual counseling is given by trained staff. Here, dean of men Gerald McNamee chats with Bill Downing.

Do we want a DIVORCE from God... in the name of "Separation of Church and State"?

Thoughtful people of all faiths are concerned by the trend of our times in church and state relations.

For it is now clear that the Christian concept of "a nation under God" is under massive attack. Its aim is not merely to prevent the ascendancy of one denomination over another, but to root out of our government all vestiges of our Christian ideals and traditions.

The long history of Christianity is filled with tragic examples of what happens when either the state or the church crosses the thin line that separates their proper spheres . . . when men forget Christ's clear command to "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's" (Matt. 22:21).

It is not our purpose here to debate the merits of such things as the prohibition of prayer in public schools, legal actions to compel removal of the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance, or the question of federal aid to private education.

Anyone, in fact, who wants a clear understanding of the issue of separation of church and state must go far beyond these points of current controversy. For the problem has been with us since the earliest days of Christianity, and has been the subject of discussion by the Church, by revered scholars of various eras, and by kings, emperors and dictators.

Intelligent people of all faiths . . . and those with no faith at all . . . will find intellectual satisfaction in reading our new pocket-size pamphlet entitled "Man's Two Cities." It is a graphic historical survey of the question of separation of church and state. It is not a defense of the Church, but an objective presentation of the controversies over this question from the times of the Caesars to the arrogant era of Hitler and Mussolini.

We'll be happy to send you this highly-interesting pamphlet free of charge and without obligation . . . in the hope that it will help you better to understand the present-day debates on this vitally-important question. This is not merely a matter of denominational interest, but one of vast importance to the moral and social well-being of our society. So, please—write today . . . ask for Pamphlet No. PR-49. Nobody will call on you.

Scientific medication works quickly, for hours, to break "itch-cycle" ...stop itching

even embarrassing itching

Now you can get fast, blessed relief from itching, chafing, rashes, dry skin eczema, even embarrassing membrane itching (feminine and personal).

LANACANE'S scientific medicated formula quickly calms irritated nerve ends, stops itching medicinally . . . stops urge to scratch, thus breaks the vicious "itch-scratch-itch cycle".

And LANACANE soothes raw, inflamed tissue, checks harmful bacteria growth, helps speed healing. Greaseless, vanishing, pleasant to use. Don't suffer. Get LANACANE today. At all drug stores.

When word went out that this small liberal arts institution—which opened its doors in 1888 and boasts national and state leaders in government, education and industry among its distinguished alumni—was offering a new kind of summer course for entering freshmen, about 275 applications were promptly received from students in West Virginia and surrounding states. Most were recent high school graduates with marginal records, but a number had been out of school a year or more, working or in the service. Some had already been accepted at Salem and at other colleges, but seized the opportunity to sharpen their skills and get used to college before actually beginning in the fall. The applicants were given special tests, and their high school guidance counselors were consulted. No one was accepted who didn't show a potential for doing college work, and about 100 were rejected.

Key to the Salem program is its stress on adjustment to college life. Even students whose high school records are excellent sometimes turn out to be woefully incapable of picking up the techniques of note-taking, preparing assignments, budgeting time, preparing for examinations and writing research papers. Without these elementary skills, many promising students fall by the wayside in college; for the marginal freshman such a lack is usually fatal.

SPECIAL HELP

The first three weeks of the Salem program are devoted primarily to concentrating on these areas along with special help for those who have reading problems. Crucial to this period, too, is intensive individual counseling for each student.

During the second phase of the "College Bound Development Program," each student takes two stiff academic courses for a total of 20 hours a week. "There's no physical education or badminton in this curriculum," Dickens emphasizes. "Students can choose from six subjects—English, history, psychology, sociology, math and speech. And they go to class five days a week, too."

The courses are demanding, and students have to make a "C" or better—higher than the "C-minus" average required of regular freshmen. "It's a real heavy load, but we don't pull any punches," says Miss Elizabeth Whipple, co-ordinator of the program. "Our preliminary testing indicates that these kids can do the work, and since we've started this program I've checked out some of the highest grades I've ever seen here at Salem."

If students "survive" the rigorous eight-week program, they will be accepted as full admissions, and they'll already have six credits toward a degree. If they don't make it, Salem won't accept them at all—not even on probation. However, by the end of the course, counselors know their students so well that they can suggest suitable work and study areas for them, such as vocational, industrial or office training.

"We feel that if a youngster doesn't show the motivation and desire to work hard here, maybe he should drop college—for a year or two anyway," Miss Whipple says. "But as for the rest, we have high hopes that the heavy concentration of individual counseling and evaluation, the repair of bad study habits and other academic roadblocks, will make it possible for these young people to really go places in college."

The "College Bound" program costs a flat $400, covering tuition, room and board, testing and incidental fees. But it's worth every penny to the students.

"When I came here I needed help in my reading skills, and I had to learn how to use my time properly," Karen Lutz said. "I wouldn't have been able to go to college without this course. I've always wanted to be a teacher, and now I'll be able to do just that."

Remedial reading is part of Salem program. Specialist Mildreth Compton helps Tammy Wolf, Bill Werrlein.

Individual counseling is given by trained staff. Here, dean of men Gerald McNamee chats with Bill Downing.

Do we want a DIVORCE from God . . . in the name of "Separation of Church and State"?

Thoughtful people of all faiths are concerned by the trend of our times in church and state relations.

For it is now clear that the Christian concept of "a nation under God" is under massive attack. Its aim is not merely to prevent the ascendancy of one denomination over another, but to root out of our government all vestiges of our Christian ideals and traditions.

The long history of Christianity is filled with tragic examples of what happens when either the state or the church crosses the thin line that separates their proper spheres . . . when men forget Christ's clear command to "Render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's, and to God the things that are God's" (Matt. 22:21).

It is not our purpose here to debate the merits of such things as the prohibition of prayer in public schools, legal actions to compel removal of the words "under God" from the Pledge of Allegiance, or the question of federal aid to private education.

Anyone, in fact, who wants a clear understanding of the issue of separation of church and state must go far beyond these points of current controversy. For the problem has been with us since the earliest days of Christianity, and has been the subject of discussion by the Church, by revered scholars of various eras, and by kings, emperors and dictators.

MY FAVORITE JOKES

by David Burns

EDITOR'S NOTE: David Burns, a native New Yorker in his early 60's, has long been recognized as "the funniest man on Broadway." A veteran comedian who's appeared in Hello, Dolly!, The Music Man, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, and dozens of other hits, Burns is an ace character actor, famed for his inventiveness and imagination. Widely loved by fellow performers and deeply respected, Burns is currently appearing in Hello, Dolly! on Broadway. He is wanted for half a dozen different TV series, but the stage has always been his first love. Each weekend when he finishes on the Great White Way, he catches a bus to East Stroudsburg, Pa., where he lives on a 40-acre farm with his wife, the former Mildred Todd of Cleveland. Burns has acted in more than 50 films both here and abroad and boasts a career which began in 1923. He has the kind of face thousands of fans recognize but cannot name. Herewith some of his typical funnies:

A man and his wife—they'd been married 25 years—took a trip to Europe. In Ireland they visited a wishing well. The husband dropped a penny in and made a wish. The wife did the same but lost her balance and fell into well and drowned. The husband turned to an attendant. "I see," he said in pleasant surprise, "that it really works."

Two ladies were gossiping in the beauty parlor, and one said to the other, "I won't say Mary has large teeth, but the last time she used her electric toothbrush, she blew every fuse in the house."

A well-known screen star was so excited about her daughter's future marriage that she announced the details to all of Hollywood.

"The top designer in America will create her wedding gown. Three thousand orchids will be flown from Hawaii. Meyer Davis and his orchestra will play. Champagne is being flown from the wine cellars of France. Maxim's of Paris is catering the food."

"Gosh!" exclaimed her neighbor. "You're really going all out, aren't you?"

"Why not?" the actress announced. "It's something a girl experiences only five or six times in her life."

I know a husband who's eaten so many TV dinners that nowadays before he can speak to his wife, somebody has to hold up a cue card.

A fading film star received a call from her agent. "Sweetheart," he cried. "Good news. Metro wants you to test for a role immediately."

"Test?" she repeated sarcastically. "After I've made 103 films? What do they want to find out—if I'm still alive?"

In New York I always dine at the Rainbow Room, 65 floors above the city. It offers a magnificent view from the majestic height. The other day a group of tourists from Nepal, a mountain kingdom in the Himalayas, were diners. I walked over and asked their reaction of the view.

"It's a wonderful panorama," said their spokesman, "but where we come from, this would be considered the basement."

The other day I stopped an old pal of mine on Hollywood Boulevard. "Pete," I said, "whattya doing now? Who you workin' for?"

He smiled resignedly. "Same people," he said, "the wife and five kids."

A pal of mine, Jerry Hausner the actor, just returned from a trip to Paris. "It's a great city," he explained. "I just wish I'd gone there 20 years ago."

"You mean," I said, "when Paris was Paris?"

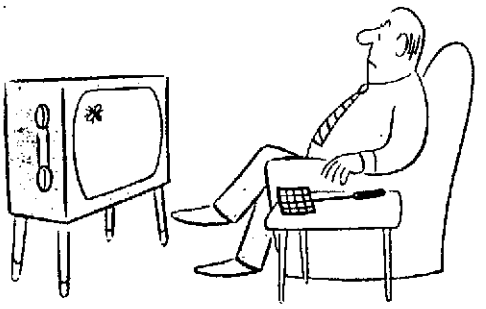

"No," he said, "I mean when Hausner was Hausner."

Anecdote of the Week

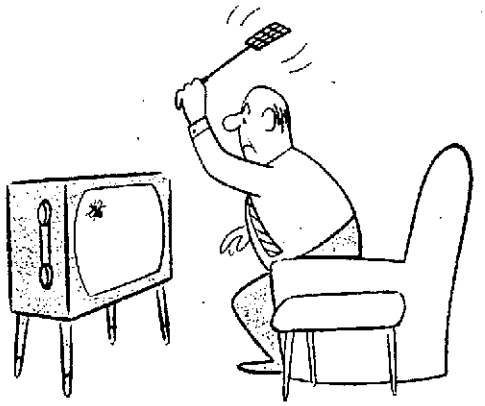

■ Hedda Hopper, the movie columnist who wears large, beautiful hats, attended a recent preview, in the course of which she turned to the man sitting behind her. "If my hat's in the way," she said, "I'll be happy to remove it."

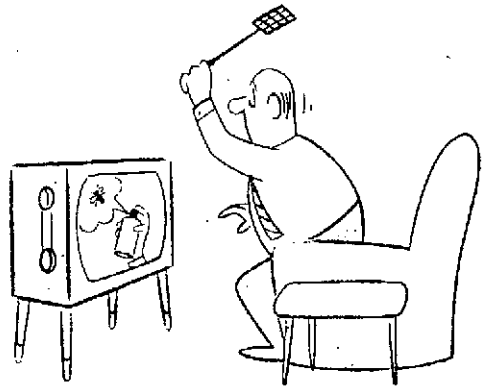

"Please don't," the man replied. "Your hat's much funnier than the picture." ■

PARADE'S SPECIAL

INTELLIGENCE REPORT

WASHINGTON POWER ELITE. Although Abe Fortas, newest U.S. Supreme Court justice, is no longer with his old law firm, Arnold, Fortas and Porter, it is still regarded as the most powerful in Washington, largely because it has done so much personal work for Lyndon Johnson in the past. Others in the top echelon are Covington & Burling (the Dean Acheson outfit) and Hogan & Hartson. Individual lawyers particularly potent on the persuasion front are Tommy "the Cork" Corcoran, one of F.D.R.'s New Dealers, and Clark Clifford, a Harry Truman appointee and another personal friend of L.B.J.'s. When the nation's largest corporations have legal work in the capital, these are the men and law firms they pay handsomely to do it.

ERNEST BORGNINE & FRIENDS IN McHALE'S NAVY.

WORRIED SPONSORS. This month TV sponsors will offer at least ten series, most of them funny, about life in the Army, Navy, Air Force, and prison camps. In addition to the old stand-bys, McHale's Navy, Gomer Pyle and Combat, we'll have Mr. Roberts, Hogan's Heroes, Wackiest Ship in the Army, Mona McCluskey and others. The sponsors of these shows are justifiably worried about the war in Vietnam. If it escalates further, if more and more men are drafted, if casualty rates grow, their programs under such circumstances will appear funny to practically no one.

GAMBLING PROFITS. Modern postwar gambling was founded in Las Vegas, largely by several hoods and gunmen, foremost of whom was the late Bugsy Siegel, a handsome psychopath later murdered in Beverly Hills. The basic reason the underworld entered gambling is that it is immensely profitable. The scrupulously honest Golden Nugget, one of the few publicly held gambling casinos in Las Vegas, recently reported that it netted about 12¢ on every dollar spent for food and gambling. Last year Nevada casinos reported a gross $295,441,515. How much they grossed which went unreported for tax purposes is the guess of the Internal Revenue Service. Gambling is now strictly regulated in Nevada where several casinos have been closed for cheating the customers. There is no reason or rule, however, which tells the gaming-owner how he must regulate the pay-out of his slot machines. Some pay out 90% of what they take in; others pay out practically nothing. Almost always, the house wins.

Fastest ASTHMA Relief

Known to Doctors...

Brings relief in less than a minute!

Now—asthma relief that goes to work 50-100 times faster than tablets...faster than any oral medication you can buy... brings relief from attacks night or day, whenever they occur.

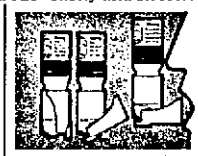

The fastest asthma relief known to doctors is "inhalation therapy"—the breathing in of a specially medicated mist through the mouth, directly to the lungs, where it brings relief split-seconds fast. The terror of the choking attack is stopped almost before it gets started. Relief comes in less than a minute. Prompt use often prevents a more severe attack from developing. Nothing compares with the speed of this method in reaching passages narrowed by mucous plugs, releasing trapped air, letting you breathe again—in and out—easily and effectively.

Now, this direct-to-the-lungs relief is available in its most convenient, easy-to-use form...AsthmaNefrin Automatic Aerosol Mist. Compact, leakproof, this patented aerosol can be carried in your pocket, or purse, ready for use any time, anywhere —day or night...quickly bringing the medicated mist directly to the lungs. No waiting. Flip open, press and breathe. Relief in less than a minute.
